

VARSITY PARTY ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETE

Well-Known Orchestra Secured; Identity to Be Kept Secret Until Night of Party.

TO USE J-HOP SETTING

Tickets Nearly Sold; Committee Announces Guests and Patron List.

With the announcement of all of the details of the Junior Hop complete, comes from the committee in charge of the Michigan State Varsity party, which each year follows the Junior Prom under the same setting the following night to complete the social week-end of the college with all of the plans for the city club ball.

Each year the Varsity club affair is in coordination with the Hen and people dispute that it is the only party in every respect. According to the plans, headed by the committee in charge of the party, headed by Fred Green, and Paul Anderson, a year's prom will be no exception to the rule.

The orchestra for the occasion has been secured and although the identity of the band is being kept a secret the party, those in the know are not hesitant in declaring the intention to be one of the finest and most exciting parties ever to play at Michigan State College social time. The band was procured for the occasion by the committee by a stroke of unusually good luck and its caliber is beyond question and musicians are better than any band ever to play in the past.

The party will be held in the same setting which will prevail for the Junior Hop, all of the decorations have been procured to complete the details and are not revealed until the evening of the party but the committee is confident in vouching for their quality.

Tickets are now on sale in the hands of Varsity club members and according to all reports no little demand is being shown for them. An attempt will be made to limit the sale of tickets that they overpowered the facilities of the ballroom.

HARVARD PROFESSOR TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Hansert Lyman Clark, noted biologist and lecturer of the Amesbury college, Cambridge, Mass., has been selected as the speaker for the evening of Feb. 23 by the zoology and biology departments. He will address student body and general public in the auditorium of the Hort building upon the subject of the "Tortoise and the great Australian barometer."

Clark was sent into that region in 1914 by the Andrew Carnegie Trust of Washington, D. C., and he will qualify to talk upon animals in the region between Australia and New Guinea. His lecture will stress the marine forms which he is recognized as an expert. His talk will be illustrated and holds promise of interest to student body, outside of the two departments most immediately concerned.

The alumni club of Owosso held a meeting last Monday night at which meeting Stewart, alumni field secretary, delivered an address. The club appropriated funds with which to purchase the Wolverine and the State News for Shawasssee County High School libraries. They also made plans to entertain M. S. C. students and alumni of Shawasssee county at a picnic sometime in June.

European Universities and Student Life Described

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles on the experiences of Dr. H. J. Stafseth on his travels in Europe last year when he was an exchange professor from Michigan State College to the University of Hungary. This series of articles is being written by Donald Kline, '27, editor of the Agriculturalist.

By Donald Kline, '27

Most universities and colleges in continental Europe do not have a president, declares Dr. H. J. Stafseth, exchange professor from Michigan State to the University of Hungary last year.

The head of the university is the rector, who is a member of the faculty. This man acts as sort of a chairman of the faculty and is elected for a term of two years. He may be re-elected. The rector has no power over the faculty but is only a representative figure in the college.

A faculty is elected by each of the departments. He may even be in touch with the office of the rector. The rector is generally elected by the faculty professor of the faculty.

When a man becomes a professor, says Dr. Stafseth, he is appointed on a permanent basis. A European professor has no definite term of service and is not an employee of the state. He is a member of the faculty and is elected by the faculty.

Union Holds Important Place. At the University of Hungary, says Dr. Stafseth, the student is interested in the latest findings of science and is not interested in the old.

What may be established as a union in Hungary will be held next Saturday night in the Union building. The party will be held in the Union building and will be a very successful one.

Chief Executive Calls Sophomore Handsome Man and Is Rebuked

Not many college sophomores can say that they were called a handsome young man before a group of several hundred people by the governor of the state, but Bud Stearns, a sophomore electrical engineer at State, can boast this honor.

The annual Zach Chandler banquet, held in the Prudden auditorium last Friday night, was well under way when the college military band, directed by Carl Kuhlmann, had just left the stage.

The also club began to assemble. Bud, for the reason that he is a member of both band and also club was the only one in military uniform and so stood at the left of the group.

Governor Green had stepped to his feet. He had looked at Bud, then looked at the crowd and then looked at Bud. He had looked at Bud, then looked at the crowd and then looked at Bud.

FAST PROGRESS ON NEW ARMORY. Plan to Honor Memory of First State Man Killed in World War.

Structural steel for the new armory has arrived and the steel construction of the building is rapidly assuming form due to concentrated efforts of the workers who have returned after a short military tour.

A big steel beam is expected to arrive from Flint to place the huge beams and their cross members, sometime this week. Lack of the engine has delayed the placing of the heavier pieces at the top of the framework.

Now that building of the structure is being pushed rapidly forward plans for the dedication and furnishing of the armory have assumed a new impetus. Many interested centers in the town have taken an interest in the building of the armory.

Definitive plans for a fund to be raised among the students of the college for the placing in memorial hall of a tablet in memory of William Hiker, a student who was killed in the world war, is under the direction of J. L. Lill, director of the William Hiker Post of the American Legion.

The fund will be one of such nature which will encourage the student body to contribute to the fund. The fund will be one of such nature which will encourage the student body to contribute to the fund.

Campus Forum

So far as I know there are few instances in the history of a general upheaval in the affairs of college students throughout the country. Questions arise which cause a very heated controversy among a particular group of colleges or among the colleges of some section of the country, witness the present crisis in the relations of Harvard and Princeton and the recent clash between Albion and Alma that involved the whole M. I. A. A. But seldom does a question arise which is of such national interest to college students as the question of the country's controlling in a meeting of representatives from the colleges in to discuss the question of the question of student body cooperation in an effort to secure better and more representative student government and to furnish means for joint discussion of such questions as the honor system, the possible re-organization of some parts of the curriculum, the proper balancing of school work and outside activities and many other questions that affect the student body as a whole.

This meeting of representatives from student bodies which I mentioned above was the meeting of the National Student Federation of America which was held at Ann Arbor during the Christmas vacation last past. The minutes of the meeting have been published in the pages of the Michigan State News. It is interesting to note that it is both complete and complete.

Campus Forum

Two articles have appeared recently in the Campus Forum rebuking the fact that "Furnish" was not allowed to be presented here. I am of the opinion that the writers of these articles are wrong.

I know little about the play "Furnish." So let it be known clearly I am not contesting the point of which is about this play should be produced. What I am arguing on is the issue presented in the discussion.

The two Campus Forum articles on this subject both contend that we ought to be allowed a broadmindedness in dealing with the suggestiveness of this play. They hint that all sorts of life should be dealt with openly. If any suggestiveness at all is put on the stage, why not put it all on? Certainly the writers of the articles would not advise that, but they say that we are broadminded enough to escape injury from suggestiveness as it follows that we are broadminded enough to see more than mere suggestiveness and to note the worse however authorities agree that the latter is harmful; so we may rest assured that suggestiveness cannot be overcome by broadmindedness, and is therefore harmful. Now the real cleavage issue seems to be this: Shall the college produce plays that border dangerously on the harmful line? I feel very emphatically that the college as a whole should have no hand whatsoever in lowering the moral standard of the most intelligent student on the campus! How let us keep away from suggestive plays. There are surely enough plays which can offer interest without being harmful and that there is no happy medium between such ideas' being harmful or not harmful. (Continued on page 3)

Much has been said about the beauty of our campus; it is beautiful, it is true, but who can appreciate the beauties around us when one has to watch every step he takes in order to keep himself from stepping into a puddle of water which may completely engulf his dainty pedal extremities.

There has been quite an opinion voiced upon the need of new buildings on our campus. The legislators have appropriated large sums of money for this purpose, but the thing which strikes me as being perhaps more useful at present at least is not the need of new buildings, but the need of some method of reaching those which we already possess. Some little while ago, quite a stretch of new sidewalk was put in, and as side walks go, it is a pretty good one. But why put it below the water line? Why couldn't it have been laid so as to be properly drained when the thaws occurred? Why can't we get along for a while at least without some new building and build some decent means of access to the buildings we already possess?

I've noticed this condition for the better part of four years now, and as yet have seen very little improvement in the situation.

with approximately 100 athletes representing the Green and White. The occasion was the most illustrative of the year concerning the number of men who are participating in varsity athletics at this college. In addition to that phase, Michigan State students should realize that the name of their school was impressed in seven schools of the west, and the publicity for State from those mediums cannot be measured.

The actual competitors who were in line at State engagements the past week-end are represented by the following compiled figures of the athletic department: Varsity track at Western Normal, 30; varsity basketball at the University of Detroit, 9; varsity hockey with the U. of M. here, 10; varsity swimming at the University of Cincinnati, 15; varsity wrestling with Notre Dame here, 7; varsity fencing with Ohio Wesleyan here, 8; freshmen basketball with Battle Creek college here, 17.

EVERY SPARTAN New Swimming Coach PERFORMS WELL IN DUAL EVENT

Wylie Upsets Dope by Beating Morrow in Pole Vault; Hack- ney Wins Half Mile.

By Dale B. Stafford
Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 15.—Western State Normal's crack track team showed little competition for Michigan State College here Saturday and the Spartans emerged a 96-5-6 to 44-1-6 victor.

After Wastons had won first and second in the 40 yard high hurdles, the opening event, State went into the meet with a lead of 100 yards.
As the meet progressed the lead of the green and white thrifolds became greater and greater.

McAtee Wins

In indoor track surroundings are devised to give the home team at least a 20 per cent advantage. Had Western met State in the East Lansing gym, the score undoubtedly would have been far greater.

Probably the biggest feature of the day was the winning of the pole vault by McAtee. State's star, "Mac" rose to the height and cleared 12 feet 2 1/2 inches to beat Morrow, Western Normal star. This was the first time Morrow has ever lost to a Spartan in this event.

As was freely predicted, the distance events decided the meet. In the half mile Hackney beat State's star and came out with a time of 2:06. The record for the State gym is 2:09. Hackney clearly won the opposition and started far ahead of the field. A. J.
Rosenman, another State's man, second in the half mile.

Wylie Easy Victory

In the mile race H. W. Wylie, State's star, had a fine opposition in Southwestern Michigan's runner, Wylie.
Wylie staged his initial sprint on the last lap and secured a winner by a good margin.

Wylie also ran in the two mile where he took third. In the two mile race the runner-up was a top. Western Michigan's runner-up was expected to win this event, but was defeated by a second.

State secured its heaviest win in the 220 yard run where Alderman, Green and Long finished in the order named. Alderman ran the distance in 2:28, the fastest he ever registered in the distance. Alderman and Green finished one two in the 40 yard event.

Near Slam in Shot

In the shot State's men were better than they look better than the 1926 Westerners had to offer. Tillman took first with a put of 43 feet 4 inches.
Smith was second and Morrow, Western star, took third.

Each star won both hurdles races. The home team captured the 400 yards in fairly good time. Had not Kent, State man, stumbled in the first hurdle event State would have undoubtedly won second.

The winners offered a fitting check for the day. In the high event State was favored and the lead went back to the home team. Alderman, runner-up, beat the home team and led the Normal runner by a good margin. In the half mile event Green won the day for State when he gave away from the Western man who was leading.

All in all this was one of the finest exhibitions offered in a State track team. These were tracks of course, but they were fairly even.

Atties, who followed the team, in the colors of the Western team in declaring the Green and White team one of the best ever put out at East Lansing.

STATE MATMEN WIN FROM NOTRE DAME BY 36 TO 0

Irishmen Unable to Gain a Mo- ment's Advantage; State Gets Four Falls.

Allowing their opponents not a single minute of time advantage, Spartan wrestlers fought their way to a 36-0 victory over Notre Dame here Friday night. The Spartans had the battle in their hands practically all the time and showed again a return of the old State night spirit. Every man went in determined to beat his opponent. From here "Beane" Mc-Donald beat Abold Bean in a match 15 pounds over his weight.

The Irishmen remained upon the defense all the time but were inable to stem the tide that Coach Leonard's powerful and carefully trained men hurled upon them.

The 125-pound class was forfeited to State since Notre Dame was unable to enter a man in this event.
This prevented Avery from sharing in the spoils of the evening. Mc-Donald's regular sparring partner, of course, entered the 150-pound division and it could be seen that he knew his job. Having been with a best he succeeded in 1-25.

Bill Hudson, in his second appearance this season, justified it by working on Verstegen of Notre Dame and taking a fall in 7-54.

Captain Bergquist opposed Ronecke, who adopted defensive tactics, from the moment he entered the ring.
Bergquist worked upon him for a fall in six minutes 32 seconds.

Black was again made State's entry in the 158 lb. class and he speedily fulfilled his obligations. Mc-Donald appeared quite afraid of Black, but after chasing him for a few minutes, Ben caught him and tossed him to the mat with such great vigor that he was rendered unconscious. This rightfully conceded the match to Black by a foul but Coach Leonard consented to having the bout finished after the next one.

Harry Kurlie outclassed Vegle in the 175-pound class to a great extent and gained a time advantage of 8-40.
Harry was shorter and lighter than Vegle and consequently was unable to get a fall. At this time the Notre Dame coach decided to forfeit the 158-pound match rather than continue with Black. Mc-Donald was not hurt but he was temporarily "hors de combat" and was quite willing to remain out of the ring with Black.

Freddie Barratt toyed with Spel-er of Notre Dame all through the bout but was unable to get him to the mat and take a fall. He finally won a time advantage of 4 minutes 50 seconds.

An extra bout between Beane of State and Hutchings of Notre Dame was put on at this time to make up for the two forfeits.

Michigan State College met Cincinnati University in swimming Friday night and made one of the best showings ever made by a State team. Almost all the Michigan swimmers were in the State team. Coach Brown and Coach Sierra Brown and Thomas, basketball star, Coach Brown came here from the University of Illinois, and his specialty is the advancement of swimmers for the fine way in which he handles the State swimmers.
Thomas is a sophomore and holds the state record in the backstroke.

PITT TO OPPOSE STATE HOCKEY STATE IN GAME SIX LOSES 2 TO 1

Eastern Team One of Few That Has Taken Measure of Michi- gan During Past Season.

Preparations were begun Monday evening by the Michigan State College hockey team for its game with the University of Pittsburgh, here Friday night.

The Spartans were dropped by the University of Detroit at the Dynamic City Saturday night 9-28. The home team scored the same number of goals but lost because of the difference in the line combinations.

In Pittsburgh, State is meeting a strong team. Michigan's star line-up. The attack was built upon the line-up of most of the strong line-up in the game played in the last season. Lines of a star line-up will vary slightly.

Coach Van Aken is expected to use Ethel and Dickson in the forward line of attack and Green and Prest in the defense.

Division of the Pittsburgh hockey game was seen on the road with the University of Michigan defeated State 2-1 Saturday afternoon.

State's strongest line-up in the game all the way but a lot of luck, present at the time, has helped State to practice. With a team of lettuce hockey men, State's line-up is stronger than the yellow and blue will be again in the line.
