SENIOR CLASS PERFECTS PLANS FOR FINAL WEEK

Entire Senior Class to Take Part in Pageant Commencement Night.

STUDENTS AS SPECTATORS

Lantern Night and All-College Sing to Come Off Same Evening.

Final plans for commencement week have been completed and now are in the hands of the registrars. Many events are scheduled which will make the week days, June 2 to 11, eventful for the seniors, students, and returning alumni. Probably the most interesting event of the ten days will be the pageant given by the members of the senior class as a special event in the anniversary program of the college. This play, "The Beginnings," will be a historical sketch of the founding of Michigan in Michigan and general history of interest in the growth of the state. This play will be given on Friday and Saturday afternoon, in the demonstration hall, June 10 and 11. The whole senior class has been asked to play this pageant and they have responded with wholehearted cooperation that is very satisfying to the seniors. A large sum of money is being spent to make this affair a real event. The first rehearsal was held Tuesday evening.

The regular benevolent service is to be held in the People's church this morning and should be a very beautiful service due to the improved settings. Monday will also see the inauguration of a new project, the all-college lantern night which will be held in the People's church on Tuesday night. The most notable thing of this year's commencement over all previous years is the fact that all events are coming off during the time school is in session. This new plan will allow the student body to see how it is done. Following is the completed program for the ten days: Tuesday, June 2, Cap night ceremony on the Cavalry field at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday, June 3, Water carnival on the Red Cedar river at 7:45 p. m.

MUST SIGN FOR YEAR OF DATES

Union Board Recommends Fall Term Selection of Year's Parties

A recommendation that all parties in the Union ballroom next year should be signed for at the beginning of the fall term was offered at the last meeting of the Union board on Wednesday night. According to this suggestion, parties being placed for the whole three terms of college year must be signed for at that date. Parties so signed for cannot be changed as to dates. At this meeting the board introduced resolution honoring Dr. O. W. Hodson of the college and thanking him for his past services to the Union. Dr. Hodson has been a member of the Union board since its inception, but not offering himself for reelection in his many other campus activities. His report was had on a Union Review manuscript. Entries are slow and the committee had no report to submit.

College Club to Hold Concert in Connection With College Orchestra

The Michigan State College club and college orchestra offer a joint concert on Thursday, May 13. The program will consist of humorous and light music. Besides the array of specialties and variety stuff, a number of vocal and instrumental solos will be presented. Ticket sales have started and a remarkably low price of the past years is expected to fill the hall.

Bright Brass Buttons Shine on Campus; Don Gets New Uniform

No. 100, that was with the brass buttons and the bright brass buttons on an admirer. He is not from our own campus yet. You see, Don got a new uniform this week and it was to show it to his admirer. The building and grounds department did not get a new uniform for Don, so it is rumored that a number of the cool school boys of the campus will be in a hot driver's seat to their own.

BLUE KEY WANTS SENIORS HOLD ROOTER SECTION ANNUAL PARTY

Offers Special Inducement to Roseland Serenaders to Play at Men Who Form Spring Term Open Party.

The Roseland serenaders are returning with an extra special orchestra to play at the senior party, held in the Union ballroom. This organization made their name on the campus by the music of the spring term. Campus popularity has brought them over from Battle Creek again. Extended hours have been granted women living on campus for that night. Opening will be the hours between 9:30 and 12:30 and the costs will be paid and a check to return to their homes. Dances delighted by the athletes of the senior class will feature the evening from time to time. The party committee originated this unique idea as one of the features of the last open party to ever be given by the class of '27. Members of the party committee are: James Rindstedt, Walter Morosky, Margaret Lindner, Robert Reynolds, and James Robinson.

SCANDAL FLAMES AT WASHINGTON U.

Subscription Campaign Extended for One Individual, Co-eds Charge.

Seattle, Wash. (AP)—Scandal is having its day at the University of Washington. The trouble started when the business management of the Tyce held a subscription drive, the winner of which was awarded a trip with all expenses paid to Oakland, Calif., to attend the Husk Bear regatta on April 9. The announced winner was Pat Gilmont. Two co-eds who also worked for the prize charged that the manager of the drive, Marshall Crawford, secretly extended the time of the drive twenty-four hours, letting only Gilmont know of the change and that Gilmont made the most of the opportunity to secure enough extra subscriptions to place him first in the lists. The charge was verified by an investigation conducted by the student council. The council also found that Gilmont had had two others working for him, supposedly in their own names, but turning their subscriptions over to him, against the rules of the contest. As a result the council recommended that Gilmont be deprived of his trip or its equivalent in money, since the trip already had been taken, and that Crawford be removed from all student activities for the remainder of the school year.

M. S. C. SURPRISED WITH ELOPEMENT OF STATE COUPLE

Norval E. Tyrrell and Peggy Green Culminate Romance by Marriage in Ohio RETURNED TUESDAY

To Take Up Residence in East Lansing and Will Finish School Year.

Following a spectacular and thoroughly surprising elopement through southern Michigan and into Ohio where marriage vows were taken at Bowling Green, and their parents, independent Norval E. Tyrrell, prominent Michigan student, returned with his young wife, Gemery, Miss Peggy Green, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Fred Green, to Lansing where they were received by the state executive and his wife and plans were made for the future. The return of the happy young couple excited no little interest on the part of Michigan State College students to whom both parties to the spectacular venture are well known. Tyrrell was editor of the 1926 Wolverine college yearbook, manager of the Union League for 1925, member of the Executive, honorary campus fraternity, and Phi Delta Epsilon, national honor society, and the fraternity. At the present time he has charge of the water carnival for this spring. Mrs. Tyrrell is a sophomore at Michigan State College in the liberal arts and is pledged to the Alpha Phi sorority. As to the plans of the young couple, all that is definitely known is that they are planning on finishing out the school year at Michigan state. They will take up their residence in a modest apartment in East Lansing and resume the usual routine. The young pair seem glad to be back in Lansing once more away from inquiring reporters and insistent camera men. They radiate a rather happy atmosphere, smiling about arm in arm. The marriage seems to have culminated an unusually happy romance, which, with the exception of one or two Saturdays and Sundays, during which time the young bride was away, has not been broken for a single day since its beginning, according to the young couple.

CAMPUS SOCIETY HOLDS INITIATION

Alpha Zeta Swings Out with Four New Men Granted Membership.

Alpha Zeta finished its regular initiation and held the swing-out Wednesday morning. Four new men were taken in by this honorary, which is the highest honor given to the men in the agricultural division. The following men finished the initiation after passing the high scholastic standard set up by this society: Larry Watkins, William Robinson, Claire Nelson, Verne Stockman. The regular banquet followed the finish of the initiation and was held in the Union building Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. J. L. Meachum acted as toastmaster and the following men spoke: Arnold Bonn, president of the society; L. M. Watkins, for the new men, and Professor Lorse of the faculty. A large crowd attended the banquet in the evening.

SENATOR FERRIS WILL SPEAK HERE TO FERRIS CLUB

Legislator and Educator to Be Honor Guest at Annual Banquet May 11.

STUDENTS SPONSOR EVENT Banquet to Be Open to All Alumni and Former Students of Institute.

Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris, governor of Michigan for two terms and well-known educator and originator of the Ferris Institute, will be the honor guest of the Michigan State Ferris association at their May banquet in the People's church on May 11. Secretary H. E. Hallday, an alumnus of the Institute, will act in the capacity of toastmaster. A host of campus professors and officials who attend the school of Senator Ferris will be present. Several prominent downtown men will present themselves to hear a talk given by their former educator. The banquet will be open to all former Ferris Institute students, who, also, have the privilege of bringing their families or some friends. Beginning at 6:30 when the banquet will be served, an entertaining program will fill the evening. Several of the college officials will talk. Miss Pauline Gibson, well known community speaker, will give two readings. Music will be furnished by Kirk's S. C. L. orchestra. The banquet hall will present a striking spectacle with be-ribboned posts and arches of green and gold streamers. At least 100 people are expected during the evening. Letters are being issued to all alumni in or about town and the presence of the senator is expected to draw large numbers. Senator Ferris represents the democratic party in Michigan, is a widely known orator in educational circles, and an authority on vocational psychology. From a country pedagogue he rose to prominence as head of his institute at Big Rapids, Michigan through sheer pluck and endeavor. His political record represents nothing of fort over a long span of years. Satisfying to a great extent along any certain line of events, the treatment, nevertheless, have proved that they have a well balanced mind, not stirring any one particularly, but fairly good.

CAMPUS HOST TO JUDGING CHAMPS

1,000 Boys and Girls, Winners of Local Contests, End Annual Meeting Today.

With the arrival Thursday of over 1,000 young agricultural experts, local champions of agricultural high schools, the campus became a scene of decorated cars, crowds of boys and girls, and in fact was almost a replica of the annual fair. The annual two-day meeting of the vocational high school student began its full schedule of activities Thursday morning with judging contests in the Agricultural building, and sight-seeing trips about the campus. In the afternoon the annual singing contest was held to determine the high school champions of Michigan. This was followed by a touring parade in scores of ribbon bedecked cars which took the visitors to the state capital and the Red Motor Car company. After the tour the visitors returned to the campus where they were the guests of the athletic association at the baseball game with Hope college. Thursday evening the high light of the conference was held, the annual banquet taking place in the People's church where they were addressed by Gov. Green, President Butterfield, and Coach Young. E. E. Gallup, state supervisor of agricultural education, introduced the program. State's nationally famous relay team was also introduced to the boys and girls by Coach Young.

At the Union

Due to the spring term being so short, the Union parties are very limited, therefore everyone should take advantage of the few parties that are given in the Union Ballroom. Dates or information about the parties can be had by asking at the main desk. New books are being purchased for the Union library every week; any book that you would like to have the Union order please leave the name of the book at the desk, in care of Harold Marsh. An organization is under way now by the name of the M. S. C. Union, whereby they may have an organization within the building stimulate co-ed activities at the Union. The organization is to be similar to the women's leagues at other colleges and universities. You will find the soda grill a wonderful place to get that cold drink and get cooled off this spring when the days get so hot you can hardly stand them. The activities committee of the Union is planning a mixer and a dance this spring, with a very small admission fee. The date will be announced later.

MOTHERS' DAY

Sunday is Mothers' day. On that day all of America will do homage to the mothers of the world and to the memories of mothers who no longer are of the world. White roses will mingle with red. The white are the stamp that testifies of purity and devotion, and the red are the badge of courage and honor, attesting to suffering and pride of memory.

In the everyday humdrum of existence we are apt to forget the significance of those red roses, to forget that we may arise some morning to find that our white ones stained with crimson during the night. There are many of us to whom mothers have become a memory, still in the world but not of our world. Perhaps the greatest sorrow that can come to any mother is that of being forgotten.

On this, her special day, every mother in the land will expect some recognition and the best recognition of all is a letter or a telegram, a message of love and of cheer, a word of understanding. We cannot conceive of a love so great and so deep that a few words on paper can bring to it tears of happiness. Such is a mother's love, and for us who have so many things to ask of her, so many things to explain, it is lucky that it is such.

To most of us, our mothers are idols. We set forth into the world to bring back treasure and happiness and lay them at their feet, to envelop them in our own glory and give them of our riches. But mothers don't want those things; for pet and glory are as dust and ashes to hearts which have given so freely of love and service and are asking in return only honest men and women, and remembrance. There is the love that binds a restless world together but cannot always hold their children to their homes. Surely such love commands remembrance.

May no one ever say that men and women of Michigan State College have been slow to recognize their debts nor to pay tribute to their ideals. Let's offer recognition today for by this time next year thousands of roses will have turned crimson, and on Mothers' day the crimson flood will be strengthened only with the wash of memories.

CAN YOU ANSWER THEIR QUESTIONS?

When our old grads return on Founders' day, we wonder what a lot of us are going to say in answer to questions about the paths worn across our campus, the promiscuous smoking this side of the river, and the scarcity of green pots. To those men at least, campus traditions are still alive.

When these returning alumni see what wonderful sofa sharks our freshmen are becoming through their freedom at late hours, the freshmen nauticals on the water towers, and the freshmen popularity at the Women's building, there isn't much that we can say. Nor will we be able to explain our own contempt for college traditions. When they see us smoking in front of Wells or back of the Ag building, when they see the scars on the campus grass and get pushed off the sidewalk by a first year man and his girl friend, then who can blame them for being cynical about our respect for those who have gone before and laid down those traditions?

Perhaps there is something in this talk about the college man's inability to look after his own problems. Why not turn the enforcement of these rules over to our faculty? At least they have authority and are going to maintain it freely. At least they have respect for old customs and usages which they have watched other classes maintain through the previous years. Yes, we're 70 years old. Have we decayed?

BE A SPARTAN

Whenever Michigan State attends athletic events away from home, the travelers tell themselves hoarse, had weather, worse seats, or even defeat cannot chill their spirit or dampen their enthusiasm. Every man is there to back the team, and back it he does to the full extent of his lungs, aided by his hands and feet.

Now Blue Key is organizing our sessions so that we will have real cheering everywhere, away or at home. An organization so limited in numbers as the B.K. cannot hope to do our cheering for us. They need support, support from hundreds of Michigan State backers who are going to be at the games, full of fight and zip.

Opportunity is knocking for a lot of underclassmen who would like to have the pick of seats at future games and be part of a great rooting machine. These men will be the pick of State's supporters and the flower of college spirit. In victory or defeat, they will keep up the fight, chatter, and songs of their striving teams. The fellow who preserves his throat or is afraid of having his girl see him stand up and grab the fellow next to him when Green and White is pouring down the field won't be there. Blue Key wants men with pep and fight, and Blue Key knows that we have them.

STUDENTS OBSERVE RULES OF HEALTH SERVICE HOURS

The way in which the students are cooperating in the matter of office hours is very much appreciated by the hospital, according to Dr. Olin Severson. He says that patients are cared for daily in a very efficient manner. The hours are 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. and 1:00 to 3:00 p. m. on weekdays and 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. on Saturdays.

The Thursday night sessions started the hospital Thursday night. The patients enjoyed the entertainment greatly.

Turn on the sunshine

WHEN Greek or calculus gets you into a tight corner, tie a tin to trouble—a tidy red tin of Prince Albert! Tamp a load of this really friendly tobacco into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Watch the sun crash through the clouds with every puff!

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat, no matter how fast you feed it, because the Prince Albert process gave Bite and Parch the air at the start. Cool as a Laplander's lap. Sweet as apple cider. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert!

One pipe-load invites another. And . . . you can hit P. A. from morning till midnight and it won't hit back. Don't put off to tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. and turn on the sunshine . . . now!

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in 16 and 20c tins, pound and half-pound tin, humidors, and pound crystal glass humidors with change moisture up. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

SPARTANS START ON JOURNEY TO MEET NOTRE DAME SQUAD

Kohsmen Eager to Engage Catholics in Tilt for Laurels.

HOPE FALLS SOFTLY

Bremer Relieves Davis and Holds Hope to One Run.

The Spartan ball tossers, under the guidance of Coach John Kobe, embark this evening for Notre Dame, where they are going to unlimber their bats in hopes of adding further laurels to their crown and incidentally fattening their fattening averages at the expense of whatever Notre Dame finger is un-bucky enough to get the mound assignment.

Of late the Kohsmen have been championing at the bit figuratively speaking, because there were not enough games scheduled to give them an opportunity to mail some pitcher into an unrecognizable condition, a procedure which they have been going through with startling regularity of late.

The team is hitting well and they welcome any opportunity to add to their already robust averages, so as to fatten them to an unprecedented state of roundness.

The regular line-up will no doubt remain unchanged, although Folles will probably receive the nomination to do the hitting. Caruso has been showing up well of late, both with the stick and on the defense, and Kobe will probably start that young man at the receiving end of the battery. The infield has been going at a good pace.

Thursday's game was not altogether a one way bout, but State managed to tick the till away on the winning side of the percentage column, due mainly to the holding discrepancies of the Hope college team. The young men of the aforementioned institution may have practical baseball a lot, but this did not show in their attempts at infield put-outs in the fore-and-aft game.

The elusive baseballs seemed to be an object of great curiosity to them, to such an extent that they were wont to hold it closely and fondle it lovingly whenever they were lucky enough to get their hands upon it. Indeed, to the uninitiated observer it would seem that they were practicing some parlor pugling stunt and having finished with the attempt, were not quite sure what to do with the object of their concentration.

Davis pitched the first innings of the game, and while he had no startling success, he held the opposing team to a limited number of runs, but seemed to be troubled a bit by being unable to locate the home plate. Bremer relieved Davis in the sixth and held Hope to one run, although he was in some tight pinches at times.

State played a very good brand of ball, although they kicked across with more bobbles than usual, probably because they took the game a little too lightly. It soon came to light that the game would prove to be anything but a walkaway, and they settled down to full stride.

Their work with the war club was very satisfying on the whole as they collected 12 safe blinges in all, while they were smothering their seven runs. Trovley featured in the work with the tick by coming through with some timely hits, although he wobbled afield. The infield kicked across with a double play at a most opportune time, pulling the pitcher out of what looked like a bad hole as one of the best fielding stunts. Hope's rightfielder delivered with several sensational catches.

Box score:
Hope 111011000 5 9 4
State 02220001x 7 13 4

Batteries: Hope, VanLinda and Espugno; State, Davis, Bremer and Caruso.

STATE VIES WITH CITY COLLEGE IN FIRST DUAL MEET

Spartans Doped to Take All Shorter Distance Runs.

ALDERMAN MAY TRY 440 Weight Contests to Be Close; De-troit's Strong in Hurdles and High Jump.

The Spartan track team enters in to the first dual meet of the outdoor season next Saturday, when they oppose the City College of Detroit. It is what promises to be an exciting encounter.

The local boys are doped to come away with virtually all honors in the shorter distance runs, with Glenn Alderman and Lang able to bear the brunt of the burden of the 100 and 200. City College is not blessed with any exceptionally speedy men, but ad- vanced dope might prove to be wrong if the breaks should happen to be against the Spartans.

Zuber of City College is a stellar weight man, and he will oppose Smith and Tillotson in the strong man events. Deberts is another man who might give the Spartans a taste for honors in the weights as he is one of the most versatile of athletes. He also is considered the high jump as State has developed no man capable of coming close to the City College start at what is probably his favorite event.

McAtee Conceded Vault
Harold McAtee, long-jumped vaulter, should have no difficulty in taking his favorite event. If weather conditions are right, McAtee may surprise followers of the sport by going to greater heights than he has yet attained. In Olson sophomore vaulter, State has an other vaulter capable of better than 12 feet, and can not be discounted when competition starts. It is possible that he may place second to McAtee, but should undoubtedly place in the meet.

The hurdles should provide no stiff competition for Spencer, Flashy Under-topper of City College. There has been a dearth of really stellar hurdlers at State, but in Wareham, Kenyon, and Ransom in the lower and Franklin and Wareham in the higher State has a few prospects who may develop into championship caliber with a season more of competition.

Alderman May Try 440

State track followers may be surprised to learn that the meet if Freddie Alderman decided to enter the 440 yard dash. Coaches from various parts of the country have advanced the opinion that Freddie was capable of cracking the world's record if he could get under the right conditions. He may decide to give his personal debut in a 440 yard dash Saturday, and if he does, spectators are due for a rare treat.

In the longer distances, Coach Mason has several men to enter in search of first honors. In Henry White, State has a miler of championship caliber, and he should give a fair account of himself in that event next Saturday, running along with Meredith Clark, another runner who has shown great ability at that distance. Williams, Rossman, Wilmerth, and Zimmerman are the men who will receive the bid to uphold State's honor in the half mile, and while they are not as yet proved to be exceptional men over the route, they can nevertheless be counted upon to score points for State at that distance. The four men who will be designated to run the one mile next Saturday and will meet stiff opposition in range of City College.

Judging Team Plans Tryouts for Saturday

Next year's judging and exhibit agriculture and forestry exhibits contest is being set for the International at Livestock judging team will meet in room 205 Agricultural building, 201 North Michigan at 7:30 p.m.

Some preliminary work will be taken up in consideration for more intensive judging practice next fall. It is planned to use the subject's knowledge from work
