WEEK TO CLOSE WITH FLOURISH OF ACTIVITIES

Commencement Proves Brilliant Affair for Graduating Class.

ALUMNI DAY

"The Beginnings" Fills Afternoon with Interest and Pageantry.

The busiest week-end of the year has been arranged for the finals of commencement week with the commencement ceremony, the pageant "The Beginnings," and alumni affairs occupying the prominent places.

Friday morning the seniors graduate students, members of the faculty, state board of agriculture, and the speakers, led by the band, paraded from the front of the library to the commencement scene in the new armory.

Members of the graduating class marched in order of divisions.

At the armory the commencement exercises were opened with a number by the college band followed by invocation by Rev. N. A. McNamee. Olive Edson Henkel accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Curtis offered two solos.

The commencement address was delivered by the Honorable Simon D. Fess, United States senator from Ohio, who spoke on "Some Problems Before Us." Senator Fess gave a most enlightening talk on present day affairs which should prove of value not only to the graduating class but to all who heard it because of its practical application.

Following the talk by Senator Fess, 334 seniors and graduate students marched across the platform where the various degrees were conferred.

This afternoon the elaborate historical pageant, "The Beginnings," was presented by the members of the senior class as one of the major events of the 20th anniversary celebration of the founding of the college. The drama illustrates the progress of education in Michigan prior to the advent of Michigan State College.

The day will close with the largest social event of the week when President Butterfield will give a reception in the Union building. The reception will be followed by the alumni ball.

Group and class reunions will have an important place on the Saturday program as the closing events of the week. Class breakfasts and reunions will be at 8 a. m. Alumni registration (Continued on page 2)

COLOR FEATURES 'ROBIN HOOD'

Sherwood Forest Is Pictured as Center of Outlaw Ac- tivity.

Situated in the Forest of Arden, one of the most picturesque beauty spots on the Michigan State College campus, the senior class presented Thursday night their commencement week play "Robin Hood."

With a natural background of the tall campus pines, transformed into the legendary Sherwood Forest of Old England, the laughter and shouting of Robin Hood and his merry men rang out, while the flash and clatter of the sword play in the battles between the outlaws and the men of the plotting sheriff of Nottingham sent thrills through the dusk-enshrouded spectators seated in the natural amphitheatre.

Black cowled monks, soldiers in clanking armor, graceful outlawed woodsmen, ladies in velvets and fine laces, passed and re-passed across the evoked stage. The tipping Prior Tuck evoked much laughter with his drunken antics and humorous speeches.

The interest of the crowd was held in the meshes of the plots dramatized by the unprincipled Guy of Gisborne and his uncle the scheming high sheriff. However in the end the return of King Richard set all matters right with the pardoning of Robin Hood and his men and the return to her rightful place of Maid Marion.

LAY PLANS FOR FRESHMEN WEEK

Girls Plan Welcoming Events for Newcomers Next Fall.

Freshmen Week resumes next September this coming fall term. Extensive plans are under way by means of which it is hoped the new class can easily settle into college ways. The Women's Self-Government Association in cooperation with the other campus organizations, sponsors all of the activities to be presented the first days before upper classmen registration.

Girls will be appointed to meet the freshmen coming in on trains Wednesday and Thursday, September 14 and 15, and take them to their rooms Thursday afternoon, W. A. A. giving them a sports program. The freshmen will be divided into small groups for them to get acquainted easily. A volleyball game, forward pass, baseball throw for accuracy and distance, and relay races are some of the events listed. Individual points are awarded to the winners. Blue, red, and white ribbons given to the freshmen participants will indicate their accomplishments, as above average or below. Perhaps a humorous prize such as some kind of a cup, will be given to the high point individual winner. Each new class will wear a badge on which her name is written, and the upper classmen leaders will wear recognition ribbons.

Friday afternoon, September 16, Y. W. C. A. and Sphinx are planning a hike up the river for a steak roast. Songs, accompanied by ukuleles, will insure a jolly time. Saturday afternoon the Home Economics club is giving a tea.

In each envelope containing college information sent this summer to the girls intending to come here will be enclosed a letter written by some freshman.

REPORT CHANGES IN INSTRUCTORS

Vacancies in Staff Filled by New Instructor and by Grad- uates.

A number of changes in the faculty for next year were reported by the administration recently. Quite a number of new instructors are being brought in and several of the faculty are leaving.

Among those leaving are: Barrett Evans, instructor in the English department; Miss Margaret Miles of the modern languages department; and Miss Margery Hamstra, library assistant. Professor Johnston and his son Manfred plan to leave for Europe Monday, but Professor Johnston will return this fall to take up his duties again as head of the English department.

The new instructors signed up to date include: B. E. Lawrey and C. E. Jacobs, full-time instructors in the mathematics department; Elwood P. Lawrence, instructor in English; and Miss Marion Lewis, Miss Lois J. Munn and Miss Catherine Miller, instructors in home economics.

Several graduate assistants are also being added to the faculty. Those named so far are: Chas. S. Gibbs, bacteriology; D. B. Mayer, animal husbandry; Leonard W. Lamb, dairy; Doris Bernier, zoology; Ernest A. Walker, botany; M. Ames, botany; and H. L. Kobil, farm crops.

The annual banquet of the college band was held Thursday night at Hotel Olds, with 60 members in attendance. Several addresses were given, including a talk by Prof. Clark, former director of the band, giving the main address of the evening, and awards of blankets to juniors in the organization were made.

John Ott, leader in the band and chairman of the function, was introduced by the retiring president, Charles Lewis. The spokesman for the freshmen was E. S. Jackson, and Jimmy Hanks, the veteran drum major of the organization, who will graduate this spring, gave a report that he regretted leaving his post. "I will never forget my two years in the band," he said, "I will always remember the thrill which ran up my back and the cold sweat on my forehead as we formed M. S. C. at Cornell and the thousands of people stood up in the stands."

Ken Lyle, also graduating this spring, gave the next talk, commenting on the great band staff, which he had experienced all through his years in the organization. The retiring president, Chuck Lewis, then introduced President-elect Frank W. Hopp, who thanked the men for their cooperation during the past year and expressed a hope that next year would see an even greater M. S. C. band.

In the main address of the evening, Professor Clark said that he wished that all the bandmen could see the old bandroom and the old band alumni from many years back who would drop into his office and recall old memories.

He mentioned a former student here and member of the band who was called from Annapolis. His only regret was that he could not be back playing in the band at M. S. C.

Professor Clark congratulated the men on the fine record for the year. He said: "You have done the job well. I am not interested in just a college band, I care only about the best band in the country. This organization has done more for the college, given more unselfish service than any other group on the campus."

You will always remember your happy experiences in the band. Though we will all leave, this organization will go on. The thrills we get now in the band are great, but in the future,

PREXY TO GO TO COR- NELL FOR SON'S GRAD

Will Leave Sunday for Com- mencement Ceremonies of Youngest Son.

After withering the commencement exercises here today and the end of the many activities of the week-end President and Mrs. Kenyon L. Butterfield will board a train Sunday and hurry to Cornell to be present at another.

At Cornell their youngest son, Victor, will receive his bachelor's degree this year, the ceremonies of which they are going east to see.

ORGANIZE NEW DISCUSSION BODY

Headed by George Macier, Student Congress Body Is Re- organized.

Organization of a student faculty congress made up of students and members of the faculty of Michigan State College took place at the college Tuesday night with the election of George Macier of Richmond as president and Dorothy Robinson of Muskegon as secretary.

This group is the outgrowth of the faculty-student relations committee appointed last January by President Butterfield for a more full cooperation between student and teacher. The results of the work of the temporary committee were so beneficial that the congress was organized as a permanent body.

The group will be initially in the nature of a student body and faculty body such as changes and additions in curriculum, manner of teaching and student life will be taken up for consideration. Suggestions emanating from the congress will be placed before the administrative board for action.

The congress will not become active until next fall since so short a time remains of this school year. In order to obtain the greatest amount of discussion and consideration of problems the membership is limited to 12 students selected from next year's college and post-graduate classes and 8 members of the faculty.

The membership is as follows: Students: W. Macier, A. E. Carly, B. McConch, Walter Sailer, W. D. Spruill, D. D. McLean, A. K. Woodworth, Elmer Williams, Dorothy Robinson, and Frances Harvey. Faculty: J. P. Kirby, D. L. Archer, A. A. McNamee, W. F. Mueller, Helen Francis, Mattie Rose, Pauline Mason, Lucille D. C. Huston, Prof. J. T. Cassell, Miss Helen Grams, Prof. Norman Rosenbaum, Miss John P. Thelen, Dr. Frank E. Powell, Dr. John Hall, President Kenyon L. Butterfield.

'THE BEGINNINGS' HOLDS SPOTLIGHT JUNE 10 AND 11

Costumes to Depict Period Exact- ly and Historically Authentic.

HUGE STAGE ERECTED

Special Seating Arrangement Pro- vided in New Armory for Huge Throngs.

With the arrival of costumes, the construction of the enormous stage, the erection of stage properties, and the completion of a seating system, everything is in readiness for the first presentation of "The Beginnings," the 20th anniversary pageant which the seniors are producing in the new armory, the afternoon of June 10-11.

Members of the Blue Key, the campus organization, are acting as usher at the first and second presentations. Other usher are also being pressed into service to take care of the great seating throng.

Perhaps the most striking thing about the pageant is the interesting costumes worn by the players in the three epochs of the play. Each costume is correct as to time and detail.

In the first epoch, that of 1482, called "Inspiration," appear the uniforms of French, British and American soldiers. The French are dressed in the ornate costumes worn during the reign of Louis XIV, and carry the flag of France, bearing the golden fleur-de-lis. The British soldier is dressed in red uniform and bear the flag known as the Union Jack, the buffed American revolutionaries display the thirteen-starred flag of the first congress.

TO THE GRADUATES

Three hundred and thirty four Michigan State College seniors participated in their last event as active members of the Michigan State College student body this morning when they took part in their own commencement exercises. We dedicate this editorial in recognition of their contribution to life and activity on the campus for the past four years. For four years they have entered into the work and the play of Michigan State with a will and it is a certainty that when next fall draws near some familiar faces will be sorely missed. However, the seniors have reached a turn in the road a turn which leads them into another field. The "cold, cold" world as we so often hear it called, still has its joys and its hardships and we do not fear for the ability of the seniors to match their field. We offer our most heartfelt wishes for their continued success.

CLASS ELECTIONS AND MEETINGS

Yesterday was set by the sophomore and freshman classes as the day to hold election of officers for the coming year and the Union was appointed as the place in which they were to be held, enduring through the entire day. Stage plans had been formulated by these two classes after that fashion the elections were held as originally designed. The theory behind the elections as far as the two classes were concerned was that more members of the classes would participate in the voting and the selections would be certain to be more of a popular choice with the class which he represented. This theory is perfectly correct, an end much desired in class elections.

However, the student council was directly opposed to holding the election and had not plans been completed none would have been held in the Union. Their opposition was based on one theory, that in itself the election was defeating its own end, a greater interest in class elections and activities. One of the biggest problems of student activity is stimulation of interest in class affairs. Often hardly a quorum is present at a class meeting and growing which crops out the next day is invariably from the delinquent classmen. Methods of sponsoring greater interest in class affairs are ever pertinent to the student council and the class officers. Then along comes the two classes with plans for holding an all-day election in the Union. This, although greater results may be obtained in the present election, is favoring the traditional weakness and destroying the possibilities of any interest in class affairs. The student council passed a resolution to the effect that all elections in the future will be held in the class meetings and, rather than favor this weak spot, individuals must hustle to get everyone out to class meetings, moved to a sense of responsibility in class matters.

ANOTHER YEAR

Another year in the history of Michigan State College is nearing its end, one of the most remarkable in the long history of the school. Along academic lines we have advanced by leaps and bounds. In student activity the most successful of years has been the experience of the twelve months. In athletic endeavor we have achieved national recognition. We wish to leave Michigan State this spring with a vision of another year before us, another year to come to wait for. The strides we have made this year have did a great deal to mark Michigan State as one of the finest educational institutions in the country. We hope that every student leaves anxious for his return to the Spartan stronghold, continuously overflowing with the Spartan spirit. High school students need only to be caught in the spirit of the institution and it is for the student body to carry them away with the pep.

Goodbye until next fall and with our wishes for a pleasant and profitable vacation.

In character if not in body the members of the first faculty and first student body were back on the campus to day. In their rough homespun and their absolute dress suits, these men presented a somewhat ludicrous though impressive effect. To speak frankly, we judged them by external appearance, which is quite just in a way, for society expects everyone to observe the moieties of dress.

However, is there not a special significance in their reappearance on this date of our seventieth anniversary? First of all they remind us of the traditions which the college carries of our origin from the first stock of hardy pioneers. That is something which we never can and never want to erase. We like to think that there will always be something hardy, something virile about our college which will live forever.

Secondly, they set one thinking about the years, their achievements, and their success. In our mind's eye we see these first three buildings, with their lack of the bare necessities of life and of all conveniences. We compare that day with ours and revel in our present modernities and beauty. Such thoughts are not good for us. Let us never live in what we have already accomplished.

Thirdly, and best of all, these pioneers make us humble. They remind us that at one time there were no accomplishments to look back upon, that at the time when the fight was bitterest, the greatest work was done. It is always when people diverge from simplicity to vainness that they are in greatest danger.

Let us all hope that State will always retain its pioneer spirit, look forward as did our "Beginnings", and build simply and honestly for our next seventy-fifth anniversary, strong in fight but humble in victory.

 when we sit up in the stands and see the band march out on the field, we will get a greater thrill because it will be our organization.

Ex-president "Chuck" Doche then awarded blankets to the patrons in the organization—John Brisson, Raymond Cook, Ernest Ruchardt, Willard Stockney, Fritz Taylor, Ross and Graham Eddy, Jim Hands and John Ott, although members of the band only two years, were given the award for their unusual work.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Special meeting June 8.
 It was moved and seconded that henceforth dates for the class nominations and elections of class officers be set by the student council at the beginning of the spring term and that said nominations and elections be held in class meetings and further that the nominations and elections for the three lower classes be held on the same days, carried.

Meeting adjourned.
 Respectfully submitted,
 ROBERT A. McINNIS
 SECRETARY

SENIOR NOTICE

In an announcement released today, Manager McCarthy of the Union expressed the plea to all seniors, who are receiving their degrees today, at the 69th annual commencement exercises in the new armory, to leave their addresses with the record at the Union.

"The college alumni sheet," "The Record" keeps a complete record of all the alumni of the college as near as that is possible, and every senior is urged to keep in close touch with this agency.

The many requests of classmates and friends of graduates for addresses explains the urgent need of this information and Mac stated that every senior ought to make it a point that his name is registered at the office, whether he subscribes to the Record or not.

PLAN MODERATE IMPROVEMENTS

State Board Has Not Appropriated Funds for Changes Contemplated.

During the summer months, many new improvements will be made on the campus. Due to the fact, however, that the State Board has not yet appropriated the funds, a complete list of the construction work cannot be given out at this time.

Work that has been definitely decided on is: An electric line coming from the southern end of the stadium that will be connected with Demonstration Hall, a steam line, running from the Power House to the Demonstration Hall, sidewalks to the new Chemistry building.

"THE BEGINNINGS" HOLD SPOT—EIGHT JUNE 10 AND 11

The motivating clue. An example rarely, rarely, rarely of the appeal of this choice is found in the appeal of the music as the New England immigrants took on their voyage to the new lands. This symphony will recall many of the old folks and the young folks will be familiar to the audience. Southern melodies and famous folk songs will add entertainment to the program furnished by the college orchestral department and consist of pleasing arrangements of folk songs and tunes so as to create an out-of-doors effect. The instrumental officials began the playing and arranging of this material Wednesday afternoon.

Motivating the play and furnishing the chief historical interest are the characters of famous pioneer leaders, such as Stephen Thompson Mason, the boy governor of Michigan, played by Gerald Reynolds, Joseph Williams, first president of the college, presented by John Ott. Emily, sister of the boy governor, played by Eleanor Rainey, and Isaac Cray, first congressman from the state, carried by A. McLeod Fern.

First dress rehearsal was held last night, and every stage of the drama promises real success. An especial appeal has been made by every known medium to the public, asking them to attend the affair which has been especially prepared for them.

President Keaton E. Battenfield has characterized the program as "the greatest spectacle ever offered to the people of central Michigan."

SOPHOMORE WINS LAWSON PRIZE

Carlton H. Murray's "Philosophy of the Forest" Takes Essay Award.

The 1927 Lawson Prize Essay contest was awarded to Carlton H. Murray of Grand Rapids, it was announced Thursday by Prof. A. H. Nelson, of the college English department. Murray received the $25 award in return for the best essay submitted in the contest, entitled "Philosophy of the Forest."

Honorable mention was given to Everett Peterson, Crystal Falls, for a dissertation on "Theories and Poetry of Carl Sandburg." Among the other essays submitted this year were: "American Catholics," "Joseph Conrad," and "Christ, the Man."

Judges were Chester F. Kuhn, of Detroit City College; N. W. Rowley, professor of English at Kansas State Agricultural College; and Dr. Edwin W. Bishop, of the Plymouth Congregational church, Lansing.

The essay contest was the only literary competition open this year, the usual poetry and short story contests having been temporarily discontinued. Next year it is planned to renew them, and to continue the Lawson contest as usual.

TEMPLAR HORDES ASSEMBLE HERE

The friendly Masonic invasion of the Michigan State campus, characterized by the regalia of the planned knights and the maneuvering of their ranks, was accomplished Wednesday afternoon.

Estimated at 6,000 people, the crowd made an inspiring audience for the drill of the Knight Templars. It was composed of friends, relatives, and brother knights who had arrived too late or were too tired to march in the main ranks.

Detroit Commandery number one with its series of bewildering formations, and Demosens number 42 with its creation of the famed cross brought cheers and shouts from the stands. The chariot-commanders ranked high with an impressive showing.

The review was witnessed by an impressive array of officers from all over the state. They expressed no public view on the comparative showing of the various commanderies.

Batting Averages

A perusal of the batting averages for the season shows the reason why the ball artists coached by Mr. Kols are so widely feared by all rival battlers. Not in vain have they been called "murderers' row" by sport writers throughout the state.

Records show that the team is hitting at something like a .345 clip this season, a remarkable record for a college ball team. Capt. Fleser leads the stick men with an average of .447, with the following men close on his heels: Zimmerman .403, Baynes .375, Rinehart .372.

In regard to runs scored, Del Zimmerman showed the way to his teammates with a total of 17 times across the plate. Rowley was close behind with a total of 14, followed by Baynes and Rinehart with 10 apiece. Del also led the base stealers for the season with 12 safely pilfered sacks. Rinehart stole a few less for a total of 9, with Eggett third with 7 stolen bases. In the matter of sacrifice hits, Carl Baynes led the Kolsmen in advancing the runner, with five hits of that variety, followed by Eggett with four and Rowley with three.

Team averages for the season are as follows:

Player	A	B	R	H	RBI	SB	SA	SH
Wood	1	4	3	0	0	0	7	0
Snider	3	1	2	2	0	0	3	0

their order, the military carriage of the marchers, and the splendid training of numerous divisions, the knights created an impression that will linger long and strongly on the minds of their hosts and spectators.

LAY PLANS FOR FRESHMAN WEEK

man this spring. This year's freshman English classes agreed to the women's council suggestion that letters be written from a freshman to a freshman to welcome the newcomers and give them an idea of the pleasantness of Michigan State College.
Big Sister Week has been definitely set aside. It is requested that if overclassmen return during Freshman Week, they stay off the campus. With all the freshmen, the group leaders do not want confusion in their schedule which newcomers would create.
Another new feature in starting the

UNION COMPLETES WOMAN'S LOUNGE

Beautiful Pieces Donated by Jackson Women Helps Materially.

Another step toward the completion of the Union has been taken with the completion of the woman's lounge on the first floor just off of the main lobby. The finishing of this room is only one of the many steps that will be taken this summer and next fall as the funds come in toward the real complete building.

This new lounge, was furnished completely by the women alumni of Jackson, Michigan, and is a very beautiful spot for any weary, or otherwise, coast to spend a pleasant hour.

The floor is covered with a rich green rug only found in the best of hotels and theatres. The rug only goes to within a few feet of the wall where the beautiful flags of stone stand out distinctively. The fittings are of good wood.

There are 18 pieces of furniture, two divans, a fine velvet cabinet, three floor lamps, seven chairs, four small tables, and one large table comprise the articles that grace this room.

SPECIAL AWARDS MARK STRONGEST BASEBALL SEASON

Southern Trip Mars Record of Otherwise Brilliant Season.

FIVE MEN GRADUATE

Records Show Reason for Wins in Errorless Ball, and Strong Hitting.

In recognition of a banner season in baseball, it has been decided by Coach Ralph Young to award all monogram winners with a gold baseball in addition to their usual award of a sport letter.

This season has unquestionably been the best baseball year in the history of Michigan State College. After a rather disastrous southern trip, in which State won by two games, they settled down and hit their stride for the remainder of the season. Coach Kobs trained out the rough spots which cropped out in the early games, and after a few starts the team proved to be followers of the sport that it was of real championship caliber. The record for the team exclusive of the southern trip is ten games won and two lost, a remarkable record in view of the fact that the two lost were with Michigan and Notre Dame, and we also won from them in the season.

It is a remarkable season indeed when a baseball team will go through the season without the loss of one or more games, and this season's record can be considered remarkable in view of the fact that the team has only two defeats, and those against teams of outstanding ability.

With but one game remaining to be played, State has run up a total of 95 scores against a total of 32 for the opponents, which speaks for itself in regard to the scoring ability of the team. The Spartan batsmen have proven themselves to be heavy hitters without exception, and are regarded as one of the strongest hitting aggregations in collegiate baseball. Coach Kobs seems to have a knack of building up a powerful hitting team out of mediocre talent, although at the start of the season he had a few men who had already stamped themselves as slugging sticks.

In regard to holding the Spartans have a defensive strength that is without peer in most collegiate circles. The infield has proved itself as one that takes delight in squelching the most dangerous hitting teams. It seems that the hardest they are hit, the better the short gardeners, like them they have redoubled efforts to a minimum, turning into a fielding team to gladden the hearts of the most critical of coaches. The outfielders have a unique record of not making an error in the regular lineup in all games played this season, an enviable mark.

The team loses five regulars: (1) one, Bremer, Bowler, Esser, Zim, position and Rasmus. These men have positions which will be hard to fill, but from the talent which has sprung

Captain Hendershott, of the State at the invitational meet at Western State Normal, recently won first place in the 110 relay. At the State meet here, Hendershott and Farleman won the state doubles title.

Lacrosse, which has been recently started here at this institution, is proving to be an interesting sport. Workouts are held regularly by those interested. The men, 24 in number, are rapidly learning the rudiments of the game. State college is the first western college to take up this most exciting of sports.

According to Coach Ralph Young, this is the greatest athletic year in the history of the institution. State has this year enjoyed better wrestling, swimming, hockey, baseball, fencing and track teams than ever before in the records of the school. The basketball team was also the best to represent State for a period of six years.

Harold McAtee, State's stellar vaulter, is now ranked as one of the nation's best at this feat. He is fourth ranking pole vaulter in the country, which speaks volumes for what he should accomplish in the two years of competition remaining to him. Only three men this year have propelled themselves higher with the hammer than has McAtee.

Stacking of percentages and atention to detail, McAtee has increased the height of his vault in the past year something like 10.59 inches. His freshman year he made 41 ft. 8 in. and this year so far, his record stands at 43 ft. 3.59 in. Improvement such as this is not accomplished by wishes, but by real hard work day after day, which is all that makes athletes.

The State freshmen have broken these records in their outdoor season. The new records are as follows: one mile, 4:32.8, by Elmer Boossien; two mile, 10:02, by Loren Brown; four mile, 19:11, by James Hayden.

In their only two dual meets of the outdoor season, the State freshmen outwaded both Alma and Mt. Pleasant Normal schools. The Alma meet was won by a score of 87 to 4, while the Mt. Pleasant bunch fell by a 71 to 60 score. This speaks well for the strength which will be added to the varsity next year.

At the rate he has been going, he should by his senior year make Sabin Carr look like a decrepit old man taking an attempt at high jumping.

FOUR SPARTANS SENIORS AMASS GO TO CHICAGO MANY POINTS

Three Track Captains and Pole Alderman, Grim and Severance Vaulter Expected to Star.

The National Intercollegiate meet will find four Spartans entered, all with a splendid chance of winning high honors. Grim, Alderman, Wylie and McAtee are the State representatives at this classic, and should acquire themselves well. Awards are given for the first six places, and all the Spartans should come back with trophies of their efforts.

Grim has never shown much in the National Intercollegiate, but this year finds him in rare company with a great chance to place. Wylie showed himself to be of championship caliber when he earned seventh in the national mile last year. This year he has defeated Judge of Notre Dame, the National title holder, no less than three times. This gives some estimate of the worth of the Spartan miler, and it is hoped that he will be in there fighting for the lead next Saturday when he again faces the starter's gun.

Alderman has placed before in the meet, having won third in both the hundred and 220 last year. McAtee, being a sophomore, has not had a chance to display his wares, but his record of 43 feet 3 and 5.8 inches is not to be discounted when figuring the winners of the vault. McAtee has been greatly developed this year by his coaches, having added 19 and 5.8 inches to his best effort of his freshman year. At the rate he has been going, he should by his senior year make Sabin Carr look like a decrepit old man taking an attempt at high jumping.

SPARTAN TRACK SQUAD MAKES GREAT RECORD

Strongest Team in History of State Featured by Sprinters.

Men that make history might well be the title for a story of the achievements of the Spartan track team for the past season. Without doubt, this year's group of thin-clads form the strongest aggregation that has ever run under green and white colors. It was thought last year that State had a banner track team, but this year's achievements far out rank anything accomplished by last season's group of slender athletes.

The feats of the Spartan gladiators have stamped themselves on the tongues of track followers the country over. It is old history in the minds of rival sport followers of the accomplishments of the runners. Coach Young has sent to all parts of the country. Without question, Spartan relay teams have made track history for years to come to emulate or attempt to.

The indoor season only hinted at the achievements to come, although State teams showed themselves to be of championship caliber, but the most optimistic of track enthusiasts would not stared in high school except in local meets, as neither one had ever won an interscholastic run in their high school careers. They were developed by careful coaching until now they are two of the four outstanding dash men in intercollegiate circles. Grim was awarded the Michigan A. A. U. prize this year as the greatest all around athlete in the state. Alderman's achievements rank high, numbering a tie for the world's indoor 400 record at 31.2, collegiate record holder of the hundred at 55, and is one of the first three men in the 440 this year. He is perhaps the best 440 and 220 man in the country. Grim holds a tie for the world's record over the 22 yard dash, state Intercollegiate record of the 100, and also of the 440.

All three have been captains of sport. Grim was track captain in 1926, Alderman in 1927, while Severance was cross-country captain last fall. Severance illustrates the saying that track men were made and not born. Coming here with virtually no experience in running, through sheer stick-to-it-ness, he developed into a stellar two miler and cross-country man. His greatest feat was a victory over Michigan's best man in the dual cross-country run last fall.

Grim and Alderman had never have hoped for the success enjoyed by the Spartan thin-clads.

For the first time in history, State won the Michigan A. A. U. track meet, and followed this by a cleanup of our own relay carnival over some of the strongest relay teams of the middle west. Indoor dual meets were won over Western State Normal and Marquette by big margins. In addition, at the Illinois relay carnival, State's relay teams won more first places than any other institution represented.

First to fall to the Spartan lot were the Texas relays. The State team garnered the 440 and 880 relays, and when the Rice relays rolled around, they copped first honors in the same events. In those four relays, the Spartans set new records in all events. It had been the first time in the records of either relay meet that a college had romped away with two relay events in one meet.

Again at the Ohio relays State dashed to victory in the 880 relay. As there was no 440 relay listed in the class State was obliged to enter, they entered in the mile relay to show their versatility. Due to being in a slow heat which they were not extended to win, State was forced to bow to Syracuse, but finished ahead of all western schools. Syracuse was but a small margin ahead of State, and had a record of having won the Eastern relay events.

At the Pennsylvania relay meet, State again wrote national history in athletic endeavor by taking two national relay championships, in the 880 and mile relay events. This gained them national recognition, all the more sweet because the second was run a bare half hour after the first victory. It was at this meet that our star pole vaulter, McAtee, tied with Sabin Carr of Yale for a place. This relay victory marked the first time in history that a western team had taken a win in the 880 relay.

Dual meets were won this year again City College of Detroit and Notre Dame, both strong aggregations. It was the first time since 1905 that a Spartan team had defeated Notre Dame in track. The State Intercollegiate meet and the Central Intercollegiate meet also fell to the Spartans' lot to add further laurels to an already overburdened record.

Great credit is due to the coaches for the development of this sterling track team which has served so well to establish the name of Michigan State along intercollegiate track lines. It is due to their efforts that these runners of such great caliber have been developed, and no little praise is due them.
