

The Blamed Stone

REWARD OF EFFORT

Keep up the fight, members of the National Military Training League. When you have an opportunity, shout, "kick!" After all if the pen and paper are more powerful than the sword, the many man's weapon in the present war is easier to carry.

What difference will a couple of million more dead doughboys make in the next war, due to lack of training and appalling ignorance in military tactics, as long as we have plenty of some other king?

But keep your facts straight, show that you say and when you say it, make it if you are wise, determined and work hard enough, you can do anything you can see in life, when you are next war.

VITAL STATISTICS

We regret that we have no summary of births and deaths or account of vital statistics for the week ending this date when the report of the city health officer came in. These figures would have been interesting if it was nearly had to make the city with our restaurant atmosphere.

COMPETITORS

Just a lot of society girls and the military, said our editor, when he talked to read the features on the magazine.

We wonder if these competitors appeared at the theater's performance, whether the stage door detectives would be waiting outside with cameras of their own.

However, we haven't heard anything about the societies' making their own direction with the help of people and if they did where would they look out?

INFORMATION

A sophomore on the staff with the editorial board that the freshmen have established an information service on campus leaving Lansing during the week-end. Perhaps they come to get them and search for enough copies to put up a resistance during the rush.

UNNECESSARY EXPENSE

We really feel that we should have a list of our Christmas presents. If it had been had, it would have been a picture for the year and a reminder.

STUDENTS MAKE ECONOMIC STUDY

The other day a student of the business school was given a task to study the economic conditions of the city with the help of the department of the college and the department of the city.

Well, answered the question, "I had not considered either one of these. The Economic is the one that has appealed to me."

COMPLETE MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN FALL MONTHS

Building and Grounds Officials Make Numerous Changes on Campus.

STEAM LINES ENLARGED
East Lansing Will Begin Central Relief Sewer in Near Future.

Construction of new steam lines, complete rebuilding of the former line to the gymnasium, construction of a new sewer along the north bank of the Red Cedar, laying of an electrical transmission line to the new Demonstration hall and new sidewalks are among the improvements recently completed by the college building and grounds department. The laying of a central relief sewer across the campus will be started soon by the city of East Lansing, it is now planned.

The former steam line running from the power house to the gym was replaced by six inch high pressure line. A new steam line and tunnel was constructed in the Demonstration hall from the gym. This is a five inch diameter line with a three inch main and four inch return to the power house. The removal and installation of the present line from the old building to the gym to an additional line was also effected. The new steam line improvements amounting to $42,000 according to A. H. Ames, superintendent of buildings and grounds. This installation will require a partial supply of steam for the gymnasium and the new armory.

These improvements were started about a year ago and will be complete in two weeks.

Involves $92,000

The building of an interceptory sewer in East Lansing is now being worked on by the city. This sewer starts from a large street east of the old city hall and runs along the north bank of the Red Cedar river to the gymnasium where it crosses the river just west of the athletic bridge. It then runs diagonally across the campus and ends at Harrison road where the new sewage disposal plant is to be built by the college and East Lansing, Mich. This interceptory sewer will be completed by the end of the year.

The interceptory sewer line is a solution to a long standing problem. The city of East Lansing is now in a position to connect the sewer lines of the city with the interceptory sewer. This line will be a five inch diameter line with a three inch main and four inch return to the power house. The removal and installation of the present line from the old building to the gym to an additional line was also effected. The new steam line improvements amounting to $42,000 according to A. H. Ames, superintendent of buildings and grounds. This installation will require a partial supply of steam for the gymnasium and the new armory.

College Queens Start Strenuous Season to Prepare for Contest

The beautiful queens of the campus are in training for the big beauty contest in November, which promises to be one of the most stupendous affairs of the year. All measures possible are being taken to insure the "excellent condition and beauty of State's queens who will enter the big contest."

No one could hope to find a more democratic spirit than that which is held by these beauties. They are ready and willing to be seen and admired and it is rumored that several newspapers have sent photographers to obtain pictures of the local queens.

Decision by the college fathers as to whether they will be allowed to compete in the national contest has not been rendered as yet, and meanwhile students are taking advantage of the visiting hours, which are after 5 p. m. every day and all day Saturday and Sunday.

GROUP OPPOSES COMPULSORY SIDE OF R. O. T. C.

Active opposition to compulsory military training was seen in the organization of the Optional Military Training League Thursday following the Open Forum letter published in the last issue of the State News.

According to rumor the group is composed of men students who are interested in seeing the question of college militarism brought to a point where the entire student body will voice an opinion on it.

Individuals composing the league are unknown, although it has been ascertained that the author of the public letter was Gilbert Vandermere of Grand Rapids, a sophomore. Due to an error, his initials were omitted from the article.

Vandermere states that the organization is drawing up a constitution and will hold election of officers within the next week. He points out that the league is not opposed to the R. O. T. C. in any way, but merely desires to promote sound thought and discussion on the question of whether or not military science should be compulsory.

The league is similar to organizations in several other colleges such as Penn State, California, Northwestern and Washington.

MANY ATTEND SENIOR SMOKER

Nearly two hundred senior men attended the first smoker of the year at the Union building last night. An interesting program of speeches and songs was arranged and much interest was manifested.

J. C. Shields, prominent Lansing attorney gave a splendid talk in which he told the smokers that they were now in the most interesting and useful year of their college career. He admonished against overconfidence after graduation and warned them against some of the destructive modern tendencies.

President Kenyon L. Butterfield complimented the seniors on their splendid spirit of cooperation during the past three years and hoped that it would continue throughout the coming year.

Jimmy Hesseman also gave a short talk commending the seniors for their initiative in starting a series of get together smokers.

Various members of the class were called upon for short talks. Those responding were George Mueller, C. Blankenship, Art Carls, John Kelly, Tommy Thompson and Clyde Olin.

Last evening's affair is the first of a series of senior get together smokers, designed for the express purpose of allowing the senior men to become better acquainted with each other and to promote a spirit of fellowship. A second smoker will be held in the near future and it is hoped that there will be a much larger attendance at the next affair. Ward Bates and Fred Pierce were in charge of last evening's smoker.

GRADUATE SINGS IN CHURCH CHOIR

Stewart Bair, who graduated from Michigan State college last June, is singing in the choir of a large Chicago church. Eric DeLamar, director of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has become much interested in Bair's voice, and has offered to pay him for his work in the choir or to procure for him a scholarship with one of the best vocal instructors in Chicago.

Mr. Bair, whose home is in Grand Lodge is well known on the campus, being a soloist in the glee club and a member of the mixed quartette in the choir at the Peoples church. For the last four years Mr. Bair has been a pupil of Prof. J. S. Taylor of the music department, and an outstanding man in all of the musical entertainments on the campus, being featured in the "Lucky" chorus in "That's That" the Union production given last year. He also sang with the Thursday Night Serenaders.

His many friends were greatly pleased last Wednesday night when they heard his exceptionally good performance which was broadcasted from K.W. Chicago, under the direction of Mr. DeLamar of Chicago Symphony fame.

CO-EDS MUST HURRY TO AVOID PENALTIES

All co-eds are to be in their respective homes no later than fifteen minutes after any college function.

This new ruling has been introduced to insure the continued lateness of many girls who do not try to get in as soon as possible after special college affairs.

It is believed that it will not be difficult for all co-eds to follow this ruling strictly. Perhaps more late privileges will be granted if this ruling can be easily enforced. The W. S. G. A. asks the entire support of the co-eds upon this new ruling.

All students wishing their State News to be delivered at the Union or Washburn's Smoke Shop, kindly fill in the blank and leave at the Union desk. Also the people not receiving the paper at all fill in the address that you wish the paper sent to and leave at the Union.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

"I desire through each student of the college who is fortunate enough to entertain his father or his mother, or both on Parents' Day Saturday, to extend a word of welcome and greetings, that I should like to present personally, if that were possible. It is fine for the home folks to have a glimpse of the college for the first time and a second or third look usually does no harm."

DEBATERS START SEASON'S WORK

Question Received from Pi Kappa Delta; Many Veterans Back on Squad.

Receipt of the question for intercollegiate debates this year from the national office of Pi Kappa Delta initiates the season's work for the orators.

Debaters will argue upon the following questions: Resolved that the United States should cease to protect by armed force capital invested in foreign lands except after formal declaration of war.

Tryouts for both men and women are scheduled to take place during the next two weeks. Women will work out October 20 in the Little Theatre at 7:30, while the men will have their tryouts October 25 in the same place.

Those intending to take part are urged by debate coaches, Blake and Moulthrop, to sign up at the debate office in the woodshop. Literature on the question has been placed in cabinet A in the library. Tryouts will consist of five minute, argumentative speeches on either side of the question.

Teams to take part in the debates during the coming season will be built around a nucleus of veterans of last year. Experienced coaches who will be on the squad are Mary Riechmeister, Thelma Estelle, and Virginia Dell. Veterans of the men's squad are Thomas Ramsdell, Ralph Boylan, Lawrence Gleason, Don McPherson, Harry Smith, Lee Miller, Leon Greene, Laverne Roberts, and Wilford Sewell.

PICK COMMITTEE FOR R. O. T. C. BALL

The general arrangements committee for the 1928 R. O. T. C. ball has been organized and preliminary work will soon begin. Subcommittees will be organized by the general arrangements committee, composed of the following men: Fred Wargowsky, Paul Hiron, Wm. Starbuck, Bud A. Lee, Pasquale, Grand Rapids, Francis Lang, Haverford, and Herbert Phoebe, Grand Lansing. Each one of these men will be chairman of a subcommittee and will be empowered to pick his own committee.

The ball will be held in the new gymnasium on Friday night, Oct. 27, and it promises to be one of the biggest social attractions of the year. Many innovations are planned this year, according to John Lewis, Grand Lansing, who is general chairman of the affair.

COLLEGE RADIO AGAIN ACTIVE

Basketball Games to Broadcast on Regular Program.

Full term of the radio school program of W. R. A. the college station will commence Oct. 24 and will continue 24 weeks, according to a resolution of the radio committee which met recently.

The program will be similar to that followed last year, with some expansion. Programs and lectures will be broadcast five nights a week, from 7:15 to 8 o'clock, the first 10 minutes devoted to liberal arts, and the remainder to applied science, and home economics divisions, and the second term will run for 16 weeks commencing Jan. 2. Farm crops, animal husbandry, dairy, horticulture, entomology, poultry, and agricultural engineering departments will be represented in the programs. A catalog will be ready soon containing full announcement of the school.

Every Wednesday night from 8 to 9 o'clock, musical programs will be featured starting about the first week in November. Lewis Richards, new head of the music department, will be in charge.

J. D. Willard, chairman of the radio committee, will appoint a committee to study on the question of cooperating with the department of education in broadcasting educational programs for Smith-Hughes schools. Basketball games will also be broadcast this year, it was decided.

PREPARE PLANS FOR CONDUCTING CLASS BATTLE

Student Council Outlines Regulations and Points for Each Event.

Attention of sophomores and freshmen is centered on preparations for the annual class battle Saturday morning, both classes holding meetings and working out their organizations.

In former years there have been many attempts to give the freshmen leaders a long ride in the country the night before the "rush" in order to keep them from completing their plans. Two years ago 30 to 40 freshmen were confined in an old barn near Bath for the night, but escaped when some nearby farmers came to their aid.

Sophomores are given an edge over the freshmen due to their familiarity with each other and their better organization. However, it is thought that the sophomores' superiority in numbers will make the fight hot in many of the events.

Complete regulations for the conducting of the class battle have been arranged by the student council and a committee has been chosen from the junior class to work with the freshmen in organizing their men for the event which will take place on the old athletic field tomorrow.

Points to take part in the battle are: Debate, relay race, eight men will compete either team, running over a mile course.

The obstacle race will carry 15 points. The winner will follow over the same plan as last year, with five men competing on either team, each team ending with its members in the hands on back position.

All members of the class will participate in the football rush. Five balls will be tossed in the air by the officials, and the contest will continue for a period of 12 minutes, each ball forced across the goal line counting 10 points, and each ball over the ten yard line counting five. Balls out of bounds will be back to a point 10 yards from where it crossed the boundary line.

Fifteen men will compete either tug-of-war team. The sophomores have the privilege of choosing their position, but prescription such as pits or foot-balls may be made before hand, but the men may have five minutes to give in case where the contest starts. Neither team may use hands or any other artificial means to assist in their position. Punting shall last for a period of seven minutes at the end of which time the team having the most punts shall be declared the winner of 25 points.

Rules for the flag rush call for a flag being on a wire 10 feet above the ground between two posts, each less than 25 feet apart. The freshmen will drop themselves about the poles, but may not touch the wire holding the flag. The sophomores must form outside of a distance of 30 feet from the freshmen, and may not attack in any way. The freshmen may use their feet to trip the sophomores, but may not touch the wire holding the flag. This contest carries twenty five points to the winner.

The following members of the student council will have charge of the respective events: Robert Melnick, relay race; Leon Green, obstacle race; Max Goodwin, tug-of-war; Fred Pierce, football rush; Arthur Curtis, flag rush.

From the juniors the following men will officiate: Relay race, Elgin Henschel; obstacle race, Bob Platt; tug-of-war, John VanAiken; football rush, Al Barber; and the flag rush, Harvey Harris.

Among the freshmen the chosen leaders are: For the relay, Franklin Wheeler; obstacle race, Kenneth Fitz; tug-of-war, Andrew McHenry; football rush, Alton Norberg; chairman of the freshmen class, and flag rush, James Corcoran.

The day will begin at 9 o'clock on the old athletic field with the events taking place in the following order: Relay race, obstacle race, football rush, flag race, and flag rush.

AT THE UNION

The Union fee can be reduced if all members take advantage of the services offered by the organization.

Odd hour lunches are served at the soda fountain beginning at 1:30 each morning. The fountain is closed at 10 o'clock each evening except Friday and Saturday when it is open until midnight.

All of the latest fiction, biography and other books of recognized literary merit or popularity may be purchased through the Union by applying at the main desk. Coupon book discount will reduce the cost by eight per cent.

"Pat" Grimson when not busy presiding over the sessions of the Union board or taking part in football practice aids Paul Smith in conducting the affairs of the Union in the main desk.

CLASS SPIRIT

Tomorrow over a thousand freshmen and sophomores engage in the traditional class rush. In the average operation, the class rush will look like a miniature war, but to the State college student, the rush will be a magnificent test of sportsmanship between two organized classes. Of course there will be the inevitable struggle between individuals that may result in a blood-bath and momentary hard feeling but this is to be expected in such occasions.

The present sophomore class has had the advantage of participation in one class rush as well as the advantage of a more organization.

Freshmen will be numerically superior but their organization and leadership will be somewhat inferior. This is the case year after year and the rush is always a hard fought, evenly matched battle. Usually the winner is not decided until the last event. We sincerely hope that this year's rush will be as hotly contested as in other years, and that the strongest class may win.

We have no favorites but we desire to see fair play. There is plenty of opportunity for dirty work in such games as the football rush and the flag rush but a general spirit of fair play has always governed the parties in the past and we should expect the same this season. There will undoubtedly be plenty of hard knocks given and taken in the heat of battle. Some tempers will flare up and some individuals are liable to lose their heads, but we hope that every freshman and sophomore will remember to play the game to win fairly and squarely.

One hundred per cent participation should be another objective. It looks bad to see freshmen and sophomores hastening away for the week end when the rush is scheduled. They may have legitimate business but it looks pretty bad. The rush is a test of strength and courage and if a man hasn't spirit

TEAMS TRAVEL TO DAIRY SHOWS

Team Judging Dairy Products Accompanies Cattle Judges.

Michigan State College will be represented in all the large dairy judging contests in the country this year, according to plans announced Wednesday. Two teams of three men each will represent Michigan State at the National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn., starting Saturday. Here they will be competing against dairy cattle and dairy judging teams from colleges all over the country.

The dairy cattle judging team is composed of Wilbur Haskins, Owosso; Charles Craper, Spring Arbor; and Richard Oelmecke, Milwaukee, with Prof. J. E. Burnett as coach. O. F. Reed, head of the dairy department, will also go to Memphis where he will officiate as one of the two judges in the student judging contest.

The dairy products judging team, with Prof. P. S. Lucas as coach, consists of the following members: Harold J. Foster, River Junction; W. R. Clark, St. Clair; and H. L. Barney, Waterford. Two classes in each of the four breeds— Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires—will be judged by the team Saturday.

The dairy products team will judge butter, milk, cheese and ice cream on Monday. Foster, a member of the team, won a $100 scholarship at the National Dairy show held in Detroit last year, which he expects to use for his second semester, 1928, at the University of Minnesota.

and groups of people, from the royal family of Graustark down to the band of Robin Hood outlaws, who furnish the main action in his new story of "The Inn of the Hawk and the Raven."

The setting is in the mountains along the borderland of McCutcheon's romantic country, a region wild and impenetrable. Here, with his robber band and his daughter Gerane, lives Jonifer Davos, a genial Robin Hood, whose custom of swooping down on unsuspecting travelers and carrying off their possessions has earned for him the name of "The Inn of the Hawk and the Raven." As a just, Jonifer commits an especial act of daring when he kidnaps Colonel Starcourt of the Graustarkian Dragons, and carrying him off thru the mountain passes, presents him to Gerane as a birthday present.

So the stage is set; swiftly the two-fold story of romance and adventure develops. And the climax, with Gerane and Starcourt watching the mountain passes as the Graustarkian Dragons invade the retreat of the robbers, is as brilliant and full of color as any of the thrilling chapters which have made McCutcheon's Graustarkian stories distinctive.

Horatio Winslow has done well for us in the higher field of fiction in "Singing Banjo." His very attractive pocket tale is the reading world that is a bit of a novel of life's biggest thrill.

In youth is pleasure. In youth is pleasure. So young Hungary Hooper the poet when he was a little, idealized old man of twenty-two. Yet though he imagined his heart had at last become a soulless bit of machinery it still broke into double time whenever he thought of Gerane, of Queen Gerane whose real name was Gerane and who emerged from the obscurities of West Waugette, Wisconsin, to learn the Higher Strategy from Hungary himself; an avowal which enabled her to leave Mr. Hooper distanced and desolate in the receding landscape. Gerane, her name was like music, Willet Gunn decided. And Gerane's royal progress led her through and beyond the affections of Willet and up to the point where her adventures and plumes and maiden dreams lay before her. All maiden Gerane had to do was to stretch out her diminutive little hand to take possession of her kingdom. And then, while she was indulging in a pretty little preliminary gloat, something unexpected happened.

If your reading closely about this curiously human great great grand daughter of Becky Sharp, you may find yourself choking a bit and looking for a handkerchief, before the final chuckle, because the story is as curiously human as its characters.

More good news for those collectors of the better eye-sight is that hereafter the Union Library will receive weekly shipments of the newest and best books of all types of literature instead of monthly orders. Many members of the Union itself are liking some of its books so well that again we plan to

YOU KNOW ONLY SO MUCH AS YOU REMEMBER. Your mind will stay you just in proportion to the requirements you place upon it. If you give it a chance, you can always remember if you train your mind to serve you when and as you want it to serve. You can think and talk fast and clearly, even reasoning that will take but a few minutes of your time. Prof. M. V. Award, formerly of the N. Y. Parents Day Will Introduce Week-end of Many Activities

Many fathers and mothers will visit our college tomorrow and Sunday. The annual class rush and the Cornell college-State football game Saturday will form the main entertainment. Students are to have their parents register at the Union desk for complimentary tickets to the game.

The third Union party of the year takes place tomorrow night with Hod Draper's band playing. A feature dance will be a special entertainment, while numerous balloons strung around will decorate the ball room. Kenneth Bonner is chairman of the committee which sponsors the party.

Triomega fraternity is the only society holding an open house tomorrow night. Prof. M. M. Cory, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Emmons, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dirks are acting as patrons. The party is held especially for the pledges and the alumni returning for the football game.

The girls who are spending the first four weeks of the term at the Prindle house entertained with a tea Wednesday afternoon from four to six for the freshmen girls who are in Miss Gross' classes in orientation.

A color scheme of pink and green was carried out by means of flowers and ferns. Miss Mildred Perry Proctor acted as hostess, and Miss Wilene McDonald poured.

CORNELL SURE TO OFFER HARD BATTLE FOR SPARTANS

Iowa Squad Turns in Record That State Coaches Fear.

FOUR STATE MEN OUT Fast Passing Combination Comes Here for Saturday Game; Won from Beloit.

Cornell college of St. Vernon, Iowa, will meet Coach Ralph Young's Spartan squad in what should be one of the best games from the spectators' viewpoint of the present season. With an impressive record behind them, the Spartans will invade the Green and White stronghold prepared to add another midwest victory to their growing string.

After taking Beloit into camp last Saturday 3-7, the invaders leave it to the doubt as to their ability to make things interesting for the Spartans when Coach Young's "Pirates" and Cornell will contest with the task of putting away a third victory of the season in the bag.

Four Injured

Walt Foster, Dickson, Wilson and Schick out of an team account of injuries, the Spartans that have carried at the kickoff Saturday will undoubtedly find several positions filled by new men. A few were removed early in the Michigan game when an old injury forced him to the sidelines. It is doubtful if he will be in service in three weeks. Schick will probably be kept on the sidelines as may Dickson and Wilson. Dickson and Wilson are troubled with "shinny" injuries, but are gradually responding to treatment and will get into the lineup if their services are needed.

Kerr, McCosh and Peason are being groomed to fill the backfield and fullback berths. All three men are action against Michigan and give a healthy good account of themselves. If McCosh is added to the backfield it will give State an extra punch at at least equal ability as Captain Smith, Kerr and McCosh are available in a running attack with Peason as a most available. John Neudham, who has earned his name in the State football roster for several seasons past, may find himself in a double berth at the kickoff. The coaches have been given a great deal of attention this week and it looks as if he will be the groomed to fill the fullback by Foster, Kerr and Peason are also available for the job.

Christianson-Hornbeck at End Christianson and Hornbeck are certain starters at the flanks. Christianson played a whistle of a game at Ann Arbor and Hornbeck won't have to face the same line interference that the Wolverine did at Ann Arbor. Jack turned his plays in at Michigan but they were too many for him.

Peason is a clutch to start at one tackle with Pat Getman and Bill Hitch.

age at the guards. Pat Ross, the Spartan iron man, will find himself at the place job at the initial whistle. Captain Paul Smith will undoubtedly start at quarter with the remainder of the backfield only a matter of conjecture. A safe bet would probably find Dickson and Wilson at the halves and either McCosh or Kuhlke at full.

Cornell Passing Team

Cornell completed 9 out of 10 attempted passes in its stampede against Beloit last Saturday and will probably give the fans plenty of thrills through the aerial game. State must solve this attack and take more advantage of its repeated passes than it has in the past. State will probably play a running game with Paul Smith's punting playing a major part of the offense.

Cornell won three out of seven games played last year. The Cornell Yankees won from Beloit 17-0, Ripon 7-2 and Knox 7-0. They were top rated by Wisconsin 38-0, the 3-0, Monmouth 17-0 and Carlton 6-0, scoring 37 points against the opponents 72.

A special feature of the game will be the fact that it will be Parents day and several hundred parent guests are expected at the game.

HARRIERS WILL HOLD FIRST RUN OF YEAR

The first annual cross country event will be the novice run Saturday. All men are eligible except those who have won nationals or cross country nationals.

About 30 men will probably start. Three cups and twelve medals will be given for the first fifteen places. Entries from the following are expected in practice the time this year should be better than those made last year if weather conditions are favorable.

Clark, Willoughby, Baker, Trapp, Brown and Board will be the main competitors for first place. These men will probably be pushed by Wilson, Walt, Price, Peason and several others. The runners will be watched closely by Coach Mason as this will be the first time he has had a chance to see who the new varsity candidates are capable of doing in competition. Write with the race last year with Brown and Roberts finishing second and third.

Many of the students of the college are not receiving and have not received their State News. This is very unfortunate. The delays in the mailing of the paper are not due to the staff, but to the many changes which the staff has encountered which it could not overcome without the help of outside forces. These forces have proven very slow at times and the paper has been delayed in the delivery of mail due to these things. If the people who take the paper will consent to help the staff by turning in the correct addresses of the people that are not at the present time receiving the State News, it will help to a very great extent in making an efficient service.

GYM CLASSES BEGIN PROGRAM OF SEASON

After a long delay, due to an inadequate supply of hot water, physical education classes got under way last Monday. This year the students are being taught something about the technique and fundamentals of soccer.

It is thought that this will be of far more benefit to the boys than the usual line of gymnasiums and at the same time some good material may be developed for the new sport.

BASKETBALL MEN

All basketball candidates are asked to report at the gym at 4:45 Monday afternoon for the first practice of the season. The student who wishes to join on the team is asked to report. Candidates will be listed at this time for all members of last year's squad and incoming freshmen.

Charles H. F. VAN ALSTYNE, Student Body Basketball manager can discuss any matter to report at the gym at 4:45 Monday.

There are styles and styles, but when it comes to stadiums Coach Yost has evolved a style of his own. After seeing the huge double decked horse-shoe at Ohio State, the wooden bleachers that entirely enclose the playing field of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Yost's stadium is somewhat disappointing from the outside. It seems to be only a curved back wall on the side of a hill, but after one climbs to the top of the wall he changes his mind. Far below him is the playing field around which countless rows of seats rise in mathematical precision to the top of the wall. It is impressive in its simplicity, and we are glad that we have in the state of Michigan a stadium that can be classed with the finest in the country.

Even though our team was beaten Saturday, we are proud of the game they played against the conference champions of last year. We also might add a word of caution to Michigan, that unless they exhibit more punch in the rest of their games, we will wager that when the season comes to a close the state of Minnesota will be boasting of their conference champions.

According to the dope Muskegon is out for the state high school championship this year. The only thing that might spoil their chance is over confidence. If the boys from the lake town can keep their feet on the ground and their heads on their shoulders they stand a good chance of cleaning up the state this fall.

A new javelin throw of 69.88 meters or 229.21 feet was recently made by Penttila of Finland. They evidently do something besides run over there.

Each Yankee gets a world series beans of $5.52.17 and each Pirate $3.728.11. A pretty nice present we should say.

Babe Ruth has set a new world's record in home runs this season. He hit 60 during the season and two in the series. This brings his home run total up to 120.

We wonder some times, in this mania for setting new records in everything from hitting home runs to setting on flagpoles, when the time will come, that no more records will be broken? Anyone's guess is as good as his roommate's in this case.

We hear sometimes that athletes are worthless after they finish school. But that as it may, the New York Times is the authority for the following: "Charles Sikes, former Michigan back has signed a contract to sing with the Chicago Civic Opera company this coming season."

Why God Made Hell

Do you know why? If you don't you should know NOW at once. One reviewer has said: "When Dante went to Hell he must have stood clear of the roasting apparatus.
