

The Blarney Stone

EPIDEMIOLOGY
A lot of two thousand young women fighting for a chance to give fifty dollars each to give any true Swastika magazine the most civilized magazine world of the continent. Undoubtedly students figured up last night could be bought with contribution on Tuesday. The article displayed the attitude of the "big little men" of the continent and depicts the students from running to get to the head of the parade.

ANTICIPATION
I look forward to a big fall. The fall is the best time of the year. It is the time when the leaves are falling and the air is crisp. It is the time when the sun is shining and the sky is blue. It is the time when the world is beautiful and the life is good.

WHERE IS IT?
I am looking for a place where I can be happy. I want a place where I can be free and where I can be with people who are like me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me.

COURAGE
I am looking for a place where I can be brave. I want a place where I can be with people who are brave and where I can be with people who are for me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me.

IT
I am looking for a place where I can be with people who are like me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me.

CONGRATULATIONS

ALL JOIN IN
I am looking for a place where I can be with people who are like me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me.

CHAOS
I am looking for a place where I can be with people who are like me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me. I want a place where I can be with people who are with me and where I can be with people who are for me.

Assigns Full Time Correspondent to Cover College News

NOTICE

With the opening of the winter term there are several vacancies on the State News staff. Men and women are needed to complete the personnel and any and all students interested in journalism are asked to take a flight at this work. State News work is interesting and instructive and several awards will be made to staff members as an added inducement to reporters. A meeting of all prospective new members of the staff will be held at the State News office in the Union building Tuesday, January 10th at 5:00 o'clock.

The regular members of the staff will meet Monday at 5:00 o'clock in the State News office. All staff members, men and women are asked to be present.

ENROLLMENT FOR WINTER TERM EXCEEDS RECORD

Registration Figures Mount to 2,518 Friday Morning as Classifying Continues

CONGESTION FORCES WAIT
Heavy Snow Keeps Many from Arriving on Registration Day

The registration figures for the winter term of 1928 show a record enrollment of 2,518 students on Friday morning, January 5, as classifying continues. The figures are the highest since the inauguration of the present administration. The enrollment includes both day and night students and is a reflection of the increasing popularity of Michigan State University.

The importance of campus news is shown by the assignment of a full-time correspondent to cover college news. This position is one of the most important in the news service and is held by a student who is well qualified to handle the duties of the office.

RESOLUTIONS

The New Year is the time for resolutions and good intentions. Nearly everyone sat down New Year's day and highly resolved to mend his ways and to avoid various and sundry bad habits and temptations that had assailed him during the past year. Now on Jan. 6, it is safe to say that nearly everyone of the above mentioned resolutions have gone into the discard and the resolvers have gone the way of all flesh.

The dignified senior who resolved to attend every class this term and keep his record free from cuts has already fallen into his old path of lassitude and inertia and has spent his morning class periods in peaceful slumber. Pretty little freshmen coeds who thought that college was one grand round of parties, dances, or what have you, and who were rudely awakened about Dec. 30, had resolved to date only on week-ends. But—the urge must have been too strong, for these fair ones have been out every night since they have returned. There are countless numbers of examples of broken resolutions and shattered intentions, but they are too numerous to mention.

These resolutions that are broken so easily are personal affairs. But there are a few resolutions that State students ought to make concerning themselves and their college that should not be broken so easily. Every student ought to resolve this year to become an integral part of college life by entering into campus activities and supporting all college functions and movements. We all ought to resolve to assist Michigan State whenever we can and to work for the betterment of the institution. State is beginning what promises to be the greatest year in the history of the college. Let's get behind and do our share.

Michigan State College holds a vocational congress every year. This is said to be one of the most effective agencies of bringing students to the school, as it brings them very well the value of college training.

Finds Tobacco for "Breaking In" a Pipe

Columbus Ohio March 15
Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:
Two years ago my wife gave me an expensive pipe. I smoked it a great deal for two or three weeks, but finally I began smoking it again. This time it was very strong. Veterans told me that it had been smoked too hard for a new pipe and should be put away.
The pipe was laid away again. A short time ago I got it out and smoked one of the common brands of tobacco in it. The results were disappointing. I told the druggist of my experience with it. He asked if I had tried Edge worth. I told him I never had. I followed his suggestion, and I am fonder when I say that it has restored the sweetness to the pipe, and has made me wonder: Was it the pipe of the brand of tobacco that caused me to lay it away for the long period of time?
As a novice, I prefer Edgeworth. I am going to stick to it, as I feel satisfied that there is none better on the market.
Sincerely yours,
Philip C. Shera

YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ON RECENT WESTINGHOUSE JOBS

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

motor cars create an entirely new need for tunnel ventilation. Yet even when the Holland Tunnel is filled to capacity, and 2000 motor cars are passing through it in each direction, the air is fresh and pure.

This is a type of engineering undertaking with which young men in an organization of the size of Westinghouse frequently are brought into intimate contact. Opportunities to work on the stupendous, the never-before-undertaken, are not rare here. Hence young men of capacity, of enterprise, of genius, find much to challenge their imaginations and abilities.

A battery of 56 fans driven by Westinghouse motors pump fresh air into, and foul air out of, the Holland Tunnel. Twenty-eight more Westinghouse-motored fans are a reserve. Westinghouse planned the lighting system in the tunnel; also the system of remote control.

The Holland Tunnel

THE HOLLAND TUNNEL is one of engineering's greatest triumphs, because—— it is twice the size of any tunnel ever bored beneath the bed of the Hudson River.
— it is over a mile and a half long.
— it is designed for automobiles to use. Because they generate poisonous carbon monoxide gas, stupendous, the never-before-undertaken, are not rare here. Hence young men of capacity, of enterprise, of genius, find much to challenge their imaginations and abilities.

SOCIETY

Union Party Saturday Opens Busiest Campus Social Season

Only the one open party at the Union scheduled for tomorrow starts off the winter term social calendar. The basketball game with Ohio Northern on Tuesday evening drew a large crowd of returning students and the one with Hillsdale college tomorrow night will give additional entertainment for the pleasure seekers. The dull days of Christmas vacation were enlivened for the students remaining during the recess and the East Lansing residents at the winter party held at the gymnasium by the building and grounds department. This was held the night before New Year's and just before Christmas foreign students were entertained.

The proper State Blue Blowers party for the party at the Union. This will be the first of several open parties held during the term. Each one will be of the same good quality in substance and special features.

Plans for the Union Vandeville "social season" are now being held. The first will begin soon for Institute and production of its performance the week in February at the State Theatre. Many fraternities and sororities are holding initiation this week and are ordinarily last a week and are completed by a formal banquet.

Winter term is the most socially prominent of the year. Besides the several open houses, formal dinner dances and other events is the "main" social event at which the girls have charge. The military ball will be held this month, and a Hop followed by the varsity party come along in the latter part of the term.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS DEPARTMENT HOLDS PARTY

The monotony of vacation was somewhat relieved Friday evening, Dec. 30 for about 300 East Lansing residents and students when the building and grounds department staged their annual winter party in the gymnasium. Plenty of entertainment and refreshments were served for every one.

The first part of the evening was taken up by cards and moving pictures and Mr. Sinclair of the Res. proved himself to be an expert entertainer as a juggling artist. Modern and old-time dance music vied until sometime in the small hours of Saturday morning, just when some of the oldtimers were at their best. Roy Kimball acted as chairman.

BASKETEERS TAKE EARLY LEAD CONQUERING OHIO NORTHERN

Display Improved Brand of Basketball Over Adrian Game.

VAN ZYLEN LEADS SCORING

VanAlstyne Uses Twelve Men in Fray, Substituting Entire Team.

By virtue of an early lead the Michigan State basketball five easily routed the Ohio Northern cagers in a game on the Spartan court Tuesday evening. State winning 39-25.

Displaying a vastly different brand of basketball than was shown in the opening game with Adrian, the Spartans piled up a lead of 25-11 in the first half. State led throughout the contest and with the exception of the first few minutes in the second half when the visitors staged a desperate rally, the Michigan State cagers were not pushed.

Captain Van Alstyne used 12 men during the fray. Starting with only two veterans in the lineup, Colvin at guard and Dickenson at forward, the State coach put a fast combination on the floor. VanZylen, a sophomore small state player, played forward opposite Dickenson. DenHerder, also a sophomore, was at center and Russo, who played a few games for State two years ago, held down the guard post opposite Colvin.

Near the end of the first half, after the starting lineup had gained a commanding lead, an entire new team was substituted which played Edred and Sheathelm at the forward positions. Fell at center and Schau and McGill ended at guards. The lineup played a careful game and the visitors failed to make any great headway against them. Totten was sent into the game in place of Fell while Head took the place of Edred just before the half was over.

The starting lineup was again inserted into the game at the beginning of the second half.

LACK OF MATERIAL HURTS WRESTLING TEAM

Places Must Be Filled by New Men During Season.

With two men of varsity experience returning to the fold at Coach Ralph Leonard's call for wrestling candidates, the chances for another team of last year's caliber is rather meagre.

Langbein in the 135 pound class and Kerkie, football halfback, in the 175 pound class, are the only returning veterans. Places on the team that must be filled from the new material reporting to Coach Leonard are the 115, 125, 145, 155 and heavyweight divisions. This will be no small task for the Spartan mentor, although he has a heavy backlog of men reporting to him each night in the gym.

Fresh wrestling will start next week, according to Coach Leonard, and it is hoped that a large number of men will report for the sport. All freshmen who do so regularly will be excused from the regular physical education classes.

There is also a need for a new wrestling manager and anyone interested in trying for the job can either report to Coach Leonard or Malone, varsity manager.

CAGERS TURN TO HILLSDALE GAME

Expect Visitors to Bring Strong Lineup for Saturday Game.

Fresh from their 39-25 victory over the Ohio Northern basketball five the Spartan cagers are now turning their attention to the next game that appears on the State schedule. It will be played on the Michigan State floor on Saturday evening. The game will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m. This new starting hour has been adopted for all athletic events which will be held in the gymnasium this winter, according to announcements made recently.

The State five have won two victories out of three games played. The first game of the season was won from Adrian college 39-25. Then the Spartans dropped a game 23-43 to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. The last game which was played on Tuesday evening was won by the Michigan State cagers from the Ohio Northern five.

Hillsdale college is known as the "dark horse" in the M. I. A. A. basketball circuit this season and will be all probability, bring a strong lineup to put up against the Spartan Varsity in the game Saturday night. The State lineup is still rather doubtful and probably several different combinations will be tried out before the contest is over.

The game will be broadcasted by the college broadcasting station, WKAR. Jimmie Hasselman, well known college sports announcer will be at the microphone. This is the first basketball game to be broadcasted this season.

RIFLE TEAM

Members of last year's rifle team and all members of the Rifle club who are interested in competitive shooting are requested to attend a meeting in the new armory, Friday afternoon, at 5:00.

Wery Athletic Ada

All the deer coats are back from their strenuous vacation and are as athletic as ever. You should see the records they break in getting from the Hart to the Gym when the temperature is about zero, and as for the speed with which they can accept an invitation to a dance, my dear, it's positively astounding! We really didn't mean to get sarcastic, but our calm and placid nature got warped by standing in line in front of the old library, waiting for the college to give us the privilege of paying about fifty bucks to hang around their drafty campus another term. Lord, what fools we mortals be! That isn't original, but it's none the less sincere.

To get in the realm of athletics, the sports for the coming term are listed and "conf" reigns. A good many only go out for one major, and one minor sport in a season. No Excuse! A major sport has nothing to do with the R. O. T. C.; it is one which is supposed to take more technical skill than a so-called minor one. For instance, according to the gym department, it takes more skill to drown oneself in the swimming pool than to break one's neck by skating. Don't mention it, we could think of a lot more clever examples if we were not so tired out from vacation. Well, confusion is still reigning (no pun intended) because the sports everyone wishes to go out for are majors, and they can only go out for one. The state board of health helped matters out a lot when they said that only 40 people per diem could go in the pool until someone shelled out and got some new chlorinators, and that shifted that sport automatically over to spring term. If they get some chlorinators, they are offering title this term to that prospective title, they may not care, but under a handicap.

We understand though, that since the armory has been shifted to that spacious structure on the Arctic circle, good enthusiasm is waning. The poor dears simply can't make the enormous distance there in the tremendous cold, even for the sake of learning to fire shots that may be heard around this state and several others.

There are other sports, too, such as basketball, football, fencing, biking etc., but the flesh is frail, and Ada can write no more today.

You never can tell. The fellow who knows it all may really know some thing after all.

Varsity Baseball Candidates Hold First Meeting

The first meeting of the varsity baseball candidates was held in the gymnasium room last Wednesday afternoon. The schedule for the coming spring season is one of the hardest the college has tried for sometime and the team will have to be a good one to see it through. Regular winter practice for the battery men will start in the new armory some time next week.
