THE UNION OPERA

For the next two weeks over a hundred students will be practicing daily in an effort to make this year's Union opera a success. An outside director is on the job, the cast has been picked, rehearsals have started, and it won't be long before "Spanish Moon" will be ready.

A plan is made to all State students to support this production. It is an all-college affair and the best talent on the campus will be represented. The student body should get behind and aid those who are working to make the production a success. The Union is an all-college institution and all proceeds from the ticket sale will go to the Union. It is hardly fair for a few hundred of the students to do all the work with the benefit accruing to all.

Every student ought to get his ticket for "Spanish Moon" early so that the committee in charge will know that the college is behind them. It is hoped to make "College Night" a big success this year and it should be the duty of every loyal Spartan to see that this opera goes over big both in the line of entertainment and in the line of financial success.

PHELAN ATTENDS MEET OF COLLEGES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Dean John Phelan left early last week to represent Michigan State College at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges held at Atlantic City on Jan. 12 and 13 and returned on Sunday.

The association discussed the problems of college administration and the whole of the M. S. C. U. of D. game Friday night.

By the way, I wonder who'll be the first to start the fad for winter tennis.

NOTABLE ART ON EXHIBITION

Pictures by Woodhouse and Gabriel Loaned to College.

Students and faculty who are interested in art will be pleased to learn that the art department of the college has secured a loan of two remarkable pictures, now in the hall of the library. These pictures are "A Study Against Light" by Harry V. Woodhouse of Detroit and "Grimpen Hills" by Herman Gabriel. Mr. Woodhouse's picture is loaned to the college by the artist and Gabriel's picture was obtained through the kindness of the Michigan State fair.

The "Study Against Light" is especially interesting as it is a very well executed canvas and a difficult subject. Mr. Woodhouse painted the picture while studying in Munich under Prof. Carl Murr and Paul Naumen, more than 20 years ago. Upon his return to this country, Mr. Woodhouse enjoyed a lucrative portrait practice for a number of years. Although he is now in business, he still finds time to fill an occasional portrait commission and to paint at least one picture a year for the annual exhibition at the museum. He values the picture which now hangs in the library at $750.

Both of these pictures will be on exhibit for two or three months and "Grimpen Hills" may be here for a year. They are well worth the careful study of any student who finds himself possessed of a few spare moments in the library.

Who said girls weren't good sports? Perhaps you didn't notice the large number of crowds who stood up for the whole of the M. S. C. U. of D. game Friday night.

By the way, I wonder who'll be the first to start the fad for winter tennis.

Recalls Speech of Historian At Graduation Back in 1869

Are Early Marriages Desirable?

The speaker for the negative cleared his throat and began to expound a number of good and sufficient reasons why youth should shun the adventure of marriage. What he said is of little interest, he knew practically nothing about the married state, but he might be accepted as an authority on youth. He felt quite the beau this evening. (Beau was the word then.) His slim grey trousers tapered elegantly, and were striped under his shining boots. In the audience to which he spoke so passionately on the evils of early marriage were gentlemen dressed like himself, and ladies in hospiquets, or in the slimmer skirts—ugly things which were just beginning to come in.

For all this occurred on the 18th of June, 1869, on the occasion of a Public Discussion between the Junior and Senior classes of Michigan State College. The subject for the evening's discussion included those burning questions, "Ought Michigan to Adopt a Compulsory System of Education?" "Shall We Have a Protective Tariff?" and "Ought Women to Be Enfranchised?"

The young man who spoke against early marriage on this evening six years after the close of the civil war was Frank Stewart Kozdie, a student at the little one-building Michigan Agricultural College. He has since become Dr. Kozdie. In his office at 200 Kedzie hall the past of Michigan State lives and links the little three-story building of the Michigan "Agricultural school to the 1500-acre campus of today.

Dr. Kozdie has himself seen the growth of the college. The month of whom we speak vaguely as "old alumni" of the class of eighteen and so on were his schoolmates, 1863, when there was no graduating class because all the seniors and juniors went to the civil war, was just before his time here as a student, and he knew the fall of 1867, when the first pair peddled seeds, were admitted to the newly formed course in home economy.

As college historian, he has kept track of his old friends. Ask him where any man or any of the earlier classes now is, and what he is doing, and after a glance at a record kept handy on his desk, he will tell you that a W. Garfield who was graduated in 1870, has a plant nursery at Grand Rapids, or that Henry Haigh, who was in his class, is living in Detroit and Dearborn, this he knows.

Old Christmas Cards Convey Aid to Foreign Missionaries

What did you do with the Christmas cards you received this year? Look at them once and throw them away? So did we. But the cards of some of the members of the Peoples Church here are now causing excitement and wonder in the minds of the yellow babies in Pekin, or brown children in the South Sea Islands, or even misson children in the northern parts of our own country.

Cards brought in to the church are turned over to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Browne, who introduced this work here. With great patience and skill every bit of writing is carefully removed, with fluid from the front of the card, and if it happens to be a post card a piece of paper which fits perfectly is pasted over the back. When finished the cards show no signs of ever having been used. Now the church sends them, with those of other churches engaged in this work, to their various missions.

Little John Smith, as he may have been christened at the South Sea Islands mission, where small natives are cared for by trying to understand the story of the three Magi. But his hard going for John. The teacher says for instance that the three kings rode on camels. Now what pray queries the little native, is a camel? Is it like the goat of his father? No, says the teacher, and makes odd bumping motions. But it remains vague to John, unless the teacher is able to produce from her store of reinvented Christmas cards one of those thousands which annually present the wise men riding their stately beasts in the wake of the Star.

Then there is Abdul, who lives in

Wery Athletic Ada

We recently attended a meeting of the new honorary swimming club for coeds, namely the Green Splash. Some of the uninformed may think that we have a new society on the campus, but they are mistaken. It's merely the old Women's Life Saving Corps given a high hat. They thought that the common herd was getting into their exclusive circle too easily, so they stuck in a few more requirements, renamed themselves, got a new emblem, and there you are. There have been lots and lots of great things on the campus, but they don't seem to last, they either die (as witness the Green club) (Note the Green Key). So the club (or are changed into something like Green Splash, has hopes of doing like what a national swimming society is in the process of formation and Green Splash hopes to affiliate when it materializes. So the only things on the campus that we are sure will remain green are the freshmen.

Well this is a prelude. We attended a meeting of the Green Splash and they spent so much time talking over their prospects that there was no time to swim for some of the members who had to leave early. The others got slightly damp and then retired. Next time they hope not to have so much to talk over, for it would be horrible for an honorary swimming club not to devote any time to swimming.

Green Splash however, means to do good in the wicked world. The first item on its program is forcible reformation of the showers. All showers will be made to observe union hours, and the hot water will be hot instead of lukewarm, and the cold water will not be too cold. If Green Splash ever accomplishes this night deed, we will appear before Congress in person to demand the Congressional Medal for this society.

Even the great have their troubles. Green Splash can't go in swimming if there has been an excess amount of the Christmas cards. Are these trees then grown in America, instead of the tall palms and figs of their own countries? It is very amusing.

The cards are sent at all times of the year and pictures of Easter, Thanksgiving and merely geographical or famous landscape scenes, also add to the geographical and folklore knowledge of John and Abdul, and to that of all their little yellow and brown and black and white brothers and sisters in these missions.

Feature Roadside Market

Featured in the annual horticultural show this year will be the new roadside market which won the stipend prize during the past season, conducted by Nell Harse of Naugatuck, home of the prize.

This market will take place of the regular "hort store" and will offer for sale the products usually carried by that institution.

Green Splash can't go in swimming if there has been an excess amount of the Christmas cards. Are these trees then grown in America, instead of the tall palms and figs of their own countries? It is very amusing.

Behind the scenes with Columbus
THERE is a forgotten chapter in the life of Columbus which in its way had as much to do with the discovery of America as the voyage itself. We refer to the years spent in preparation before he set sail—years filled with painstaking study, planning his voyage with the aid of what crude maps and geographical data he could procure. In telephone, too, the success of each new development depends on the years of intensive research and careful planning that precede actual construction. Bell telephone men are continually mapping out the course of this great industry for years to come. The true telephone pioneer is he who brings vision and initiative to his work as supervisor, engineer or executive—and who backs this up with the painstaking study needed to crystallize the dream into the reality.

SPARTANS ROMP OVER UNIVERSITY IN FASTEST GAME OF CAGE SEASON

Game Runs Into Five Minutes of Overtime Scoring Plays.

VANZYLEN SCORES HIGH

Huge Crowd Watches State Cagers Snatch Last Minute Victory.

In the first overtime game of the season in the Spartan gymnasium, the Michigan State cagers defeated the University of Detroit basketball team Friday evening after being the score in the last 15 seconds to play. The tying point was made from the free throw line by Carl Felt, State center, after he had been fouled by Dowd, Titan forward. In the overtime period that followed, a field goal by Verne Dickenson and free throws by Felt and Colvin put the game on ice.

The biggest crowd of the year saw the battle Friday evening. Every seat was filled and many stood up to see the thrilling tilt. Although both teams were rather wild in passing, the game was all that could be wished for from a spectator's standpoint.

The Spartans scored first when VanZylen tossed one in from ahead in the first few minutes of play. VanZylen also dropped two more field goals and one free throw during the remainder of the half while Dickenson was held scoreless by the close guarding of the Titan guards. Red Colvin scored the other three State points from the free throw line. At the end of the half Coach VanAlstyne's men held a 10-3 lead.

The University of Detroit five scored their three points late in the half by a free throw from the penalty line and a long shot by Brazil.

With the opening of the second half the Titan guards began to watch VanZylen closely as well as Dickenson. Soon, however, VanZylen slipped away from Brazil and scored a field goal which gave State a total of 12 points to Detroit's 6. Then the visitors began a rally which could not be denied. Free throws by Butcher and Brazil and a field goal by the latter cut the Spartans' lead to but one point. State called time out and talked over the matter. At the resumption of play the Spartans also staged a rally when Red Colvin, veteran guard, dropped two field goals through the meshes. This gave State a 16-11 lead. Butcher then made three points, but Duke Schau for State tossed a field goal and a free goal to keep the Spartans in the lead by five points. Then Felt came through with a free throw to make it 20-11, State.

The visitors then came to the front when the Spartans could not play the stalling game effectively. Butcher scored one field goal and Dowd two to tie the score at 20 all. This was the first time that the Titans had been even with State. Dowd again engaged a field goal to put the visitors in the lead. There was six minutes to play. Carl Felt then dropped in a free throw and VanZylen followed with another point by the same route a minute later to tie the score, 22-22.

With the crowd in an uproar, Butcher registered a free throw to put the Detroiters in the lead once more. State called time out with but 40 seconds to go. When the play was resumed the Spartans fought desperately to gain possession of the ball and tried to score several times. With less than 15 seconds to go, Felt was fouled by Dowd. Detroit captain Coady Felt took his place at the penalty line and dropped in the tying point just as the regulation time was over.

Referee Jerpe announced that a five minute overtime period would be played and the game was on. Now determination of both teams to win was clearly shown. State, however, got possession of the ball and by a set passing worked it down into scoring territory and Verne Dickenson scored his first basket of the evening to give the Spartans a two point lead. A little later Colvin was fouled by a Detroit player and added another point to State's total. Just as the light sounded, Felt was fouled and added the last counter.

Brazil, right guard for the visitors, was the main cog of the Detroit court machine. His fast floor work and commendable guarding were features of the game.

Finds Right Tobacco for the Tropics

October 6, 1926

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va., U. S. A. Gentlemen:

Most all well-known tobaccos smoke well in a cold or temperate climate, but very few in a tropical climate. They are mostly too heavy, don't seem to be blended right - at least that is my opinion gained from practical experience.

However, Edgeworth is the same in any climate. Again that is my opinion gained by practical experience.

I cannot get the same pleasure out of any brand of tobacco that I can out of Edgeworth, and I have tried many - and paid fancy prices, too. It costs nothing to import tobacco from the States, but the import duty is very high. Anyway, we cannot have anything we would like in these countries, so we had to go to all the little pleasure points. Now you know why I smoke Edgeworth.

Yours respectfully,
R. C. King

Coach VanAlstyne's five all deserve praise for the fight they displayed. Although the passing was wild in places, the Spartans held possession of the ball in most of the first half and at most all of the overtime period, while Detroit had the ball only about half of the time in the second half. This possessing the ball was a valuable help in holding down the visitors' scoring chances. The State coach used eight men in the game. VanZylen and Dickenson started at forward, Carl Felt at center, with Red Colvin and Duke Schau at the guard posts. In the middle of the first half Totten was sent into the fray in place of Felt and remained in the game until after the Detroit made its first rally early in the second half. At this stage of the game Coach VanAlstyne again called on Felt to take up the pivot duties. Den Herder saw a few minutes' service when VanZylen was pulled into the second half to rest up. VanZylen was sent back into the game when the score stood at 20-11. With but 40 seconds to go Russo was sent in to take Colvin's place, with orders to try his eye on some long shots. At the beginning of the overtime period Colvin got away to score any field goals. His cool-headed work at the free throw line at critical periods was a large factor in State's victory. At the guarding posts Red Colvin and Duke Schau excelled. "Red" played a speedy offensive game, while at the same time did some clever guarding. His teammate Schau again played a fine game at back guard. His clever outbiting the opposing forwards was one of the features of the tilt.

MANY YEARLINGS WORK ON COURT

Twenty-nine Survive First Cut in Squad of 100.

Of more than 100 candidates for the freshmen basketball team of the Michigan State College, only 29 survived the first cut according to an announcement made by Freshman Basketball Coach Barney Traynor.

Several practices were held before the Christmas vacation and the coaches were pleased with the material which was displayed. With the beginning of this semester many new faces were seen on the floor during practices and as a result the coaches this year are keeping more men on the squad than last year. The fresh candidates have shown in practices that they will form a fast aggregation and much enthusiasm has been displayed in practice sessions thus far.

The men who survived the first cut are: Baker, Barker, Barnard, Bayard, Brown, Brown, Clark, Cook, Cook, DeWeerd, Gagner, Gibbs, Grose, Hagg, Hamler, Kozelko, Lisch, Loyd, Nollberg, O'Connor, Penry, Prudenberger, Scott, Sully, Turkington, VanAntwerp, VanZyden, Warner.

The first game on the freshmen basketball schedule is set for Feb. 7 in East Lansing against the fast Flint Junior college five. University of Detroit Freshmen, Alma college, Grand Rapids Junior college are other opponents who will meet the State Freshmen.

The games arranged to date are:
Feb. 7, Flint Junior college at East Lansing.
Feb. 14, Grand Rapids Junior at East Lansing.
Feb. 14, Alma college at East Lansing.
Feb. 18, University of Detroit Freshmen at East Lansing opening.
Feb. 22, University of Detroit Freshmen at Detroit.
Feb. 25, Flint Junior college at Flint.
March 2, Grand Rapids Junior college at Grand Rapids.

glining of the overtime period Colvin got back into the game.

VanZylen was the high point scorer by the free throw route. Patton's more engaged four field goals and two free throws for a total of 10 points. The outright guarding of Brazil and Roney held him down in the second period as it did Dickenson during the entire game. Red Colvin was second high with two field goals and four free throws. At center Felt played a good game although he could not get away to score any field goals. His cool-headed work at the free throw line at critical periods was a large factor in State's victory. At the guarding posts Red Colvin and Duke Schau excelled. "Red" played a speedy offensive game, while at the same time did some clever guarding. His teammate Schau again played a fine game at back guard. His clever outbiting the opposing forwards was one of the features of the tilt.

from the foul line to put the visitors in the lead. Opening up with a fast passing and accurate shooting attack the Spartans began to run up the score. Dickenson tossed in a field goal and a free throw in quick succession. Den Herder, who was substituted for VanZylen when the score was tied, then got his first basket of the game by hitting the ball in after a try for a free throw by one of his teammates. A few minutes later DenHerder, Colvin and Felt threw field goals, and the score stood 19-9. Being fouled in the act of shooting the latter basket, Felt again showed his ability from the free throw line by dropping in two more gift shots.

State kept up an accurate passing attack and brought the score up to 23-9 before the first half ended. Just before the first half ended a free throw by Schroder and a basket by Otto gave the Spartans a 25-12 lead.

Coe opened the scoring in the second half when Capt. Hubbard tossed a free throw. State then scored a field goal to even up things. Otto, substitute for Schroder in the first half for Coe, then made two difficult shots from the side of the court. A few minutes later with the score standing 29-19 Felt was removed from the game by way of the personal foul route and Totten went in. With a good lead the Spartans then began to play a slower and safer game to insure their victory. Cleary passing was displayed and Dickenson scored State's next tally from the free throw line. Schroder for Coe was fouled while securing a field goal and made good one out of the two. Colvin then scored a goal and Schroder again retreated by shooting a basket from about mid-court. Capt. Hubbard then scored the last point for the visitors. Hubbard's field goal and DenHerder's free throw was also the last scoring done for State. With three minutes to go, Den Herder, Dickenson, Schau, and Colvin were removed from the game and Russo came in to form a team with Totten at the pivot position. With orders to stall the substitutes displayed a fine passing game, only allowing the visitors to touch the ball once or twice during the last minutes of play.

The State team, as a whole, looked much better than in previous games. A steadiness was present in the Spartans attack Monday night which has been lacking in the past two games. The passing was accurate and fast. The guarding was good and the visitors had a hard time to break through for close shots.

Coach VanAlstyne had a strong combination on the floor Monday evening. Dickenson and VanZylen started at forwards. Felt started the game at the much disputed center post, while Schau and Colvin started at the guard post. VanZylen went up to his top and from Monday evening and was pulled in favor of DenHerder after about five minutes of the first half was over. Totten went in to take Felt's place in the scoring with ten points each while DenHerder rung up nine. Schau played another wonderful game of guard duty.

State has a strong five this year and have two away from home games booked for this week. On Friday evening the Spartans will meet the Loyola University cagers at Chicago while on Saturday night they will engage the Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

STATE MATMEN DOWNS LAWRENCE

In the next match, which was the 15th round class, Benn for State, a runner-up in the Michigan A. T. tournament last season, won over Lawrence, Michigan State, 35 sec. had passed. Benn used the biggest variety of holds of any of the wrestlers during the evening's matches. He used good handwork and almost pinned his man to the mat by use of body scissors and half-nelson. Failing in this, Benn secured his victory by use of half-nelson and single-arm hold from the front. This victory gave State 5 more points for a total of 25 points.

The 175 pound class match turned out to be the most evenly matched of the evening's program. Kurrle of State won a decision over Barfell of the visitors with a time advantage of 8 min. 13 sec. Barfell had lots of strength which caused Kurrle plenty of trouble. By hard wrestling the Spartan grappler won his match but could not get a fall on his opponent. Kurrle was also a runner-up at Flint last year. The decision added 3 more points to State's total.

In a special 175 pound match between Karris of State and Humphrey of Lawrence, the Spartan wrestler won by a fall. Karris worked carefully and won his match handily. The State wrestler used a half-nelson and front croch hold to win.

The final match of the evening was the heavy weight (contingent) event. Karris of State was outscoraged by Kohn of Lawrence, but put up a good showing and won by a referee's decision with a time advantage. Ferris of Michigan A. T. heavy weight championship at Flint last year. He put up a good fight in his match on Saturday evening, although
