SPACE

If we wish to free attendance at basketball games from pain and embarrassment, it should be apparent to all, following the Notre Dame embargo, that state needs more gym room.

The officials turned away many from the doors during the evening, and a lot of Farmers' week visitors had to miss the great event.

We have more students engaged in work in the gymnasium than we have seats for other courses on the campus. All those who are physically fit must report for training. No other building on the campus is so popular with the student body, yet improvements in that building seem hardest to get.

SURGERY

Most of the trouble about cuts is due to carelessness. We neglect a scratch, a bruise, an infection, and develop the serious aspect of a "cut." Enough neglect in this line often calls for complete amputation.

MONOTONY

Now that Union revue has finished its run at the State theatre, many fair and gallant collegians must return to the common herd, remove their hats and shoes, and on their "go to those over shoes."

DUCK!

With the requisition of an international unknown vocal teacher by Michigan State College, the newspapers state that the eyes of the musical world have turned upon us. Pull your ducks under!

OH DOCTOR!

Latest reports have it that research work will be carried on in the matter of Thursday night's anti-militarism against. An attempt to originate a melody for the pacifists, as it were.

STOP

The advantages of education immediately become apparent when one considers that East Lansing, a college town, has the good sense not to install any of traffic lights. Judging from the shape of the lights in a number of other towns, we would say that this strange good taste is not indulging in the excess of adornment.

PROTECTION

We were considering the refereeing of Friday night's game, that our court was bound to carry side arms and walk in with the matmen.

FORECAST

We will have a green winter next year, at least, when our town ship will see our men blossom out in regalia and bougainvillee.

PREPARATION

From the appearance of the Red Cross over it must be nearly time to get ready for the water carnival. We suggest a Hawaiian theme and costumes of crossed point.

TREED

And that the swimming pool has reached business, we would like to hear if the authorities found the germ that Wood had was lurking near the filter.

PUFF!

Union tradition received a terrible blow when the visitors of Farmers' week were allowed to enter the gymnasium and briars in the path of the holy dignity of our class. They did cast their butts in our innumerable waste baskets. The noxious odor sprang up everywhere, and we know that our fathers do things that we don't.

CAUTION

The president is leaving for Europe. Those nice who figure on a "M" of exercise while authority vacates should do better to hibernate.

FAMOUS ARTIST COMES HERE TO HEAD SINGING

Louis Graveure, Noted Vocalist, Author, Teacher, to Teach in Vocal Department.

TO ARRIVE IN SEPTEMBER

Marks Another Step Towards Making Campus Music Educational Center.

Louis Graveure, lecturer, author, baritone of international fame, and considered to be one of the most authoritative vocal instructors before the public today, will come here next fall to take charge of the vocal department, it was announced by Lewis Richards, head of the music department, Saturday.

The bringing of Mr. Graveure to the campus will center the attention of the musical world upon the college. How ever it was not for this purpose that the artist was sought, and secured states Mr. Richards. Richards came here with the understanding that the music department would slowly be built with some of the best talent in the country. It was his dream to secure someone for the vocal department who would appreciate the unusual opportunities here for musical instruction in peace and quiet and in addition have access to courses in the languages so necessary to singing. Mr. Graveure, who has never before made connections with any institution, appreciated these advantages and it is expected that a large number of his private pupils will follow him to East Lansing.

The expense of procuring Graveure as a member of the musical faculty will not fall upon the college, but has been guaranteed by outside sources which are not disclosed. The noted artist will bring one of his most noteworthy assistants with him to aid in the work. The assistant will have charge of the voice classes while Mr. Graveure is on campus.

Digitally, these pupils of the artist, who are to be admitted to the college as an intellectual authority on vocal art, he is without equal. He has probably contributed more towards right thinking regarding the art of song through his lectures and books on the subject than any other present day vocalist. No school or college in Michigan has ever had a more distinguished person in this field.

Acquisition of Mr. Graveure is especially gratifying in view of the fact that in the past five years his services as instructor in the art have been sought by some of the leading institutions of the country, two of whom are endowed with millions and it does seem to me that it is a very useful sign for the future of music in this country to realize that the faculty of the music department may be slowly and surely built up through the procurement of outside sources, said Mr. Richards.

Graveure will sail for Europe next Thursday on a concert tour and will return in May to his native France where he will have charge of a master class. He will be on this campus with his family in the fall of 1928, the beginning of school next September.

Graveure is a 57-year-old Belgian vocalist. He is the husband of Ethel Dainton, popular musical comedy star on Broadway who started her first act in 1904.

RESUME UNION PARTIES FOLLOWING REVUE LULL

Following the annual revue, the committee has arranged for a series of parties to resume on the campus. The first of these will be a dance on Friday night, Feb. 10, at the Peoples Church. This will be followed by a party on Saturday night, Feb. 11, at the same place. The committee has also arranged for a party on Sunday, Feb. 12, at the Peoples Church. These parties are being given to give the students a chance to relax and enjoy themselves after the strain of the revue.

NEBRASKA HITS ODD SOCIAL HONORARIES

Find Little Justification for Jumble of Orders.

Louis Richards, head of the music department, has received a letter from the Nebraska State Board of Education, asking for a list of the social honoraries given to students in the music department. Richards has replied that he has no such list, and that the honoraries are given to students on the basis of their achievements in the department.

BRINGING GRAVEURE TO CAMPUS

Important Step for Music Here

Bringing of Louis Graveure, artist and lecturer, to the campus marks an important step forward in the project of making Michigan State College the music educational center of the United States.

With a noted array of artists on the music faculty it is confidently expected by the college authorities that students from all parts of this country will flock to East Lansing in order to receive the benefit of the unexcelled school which is in process of development.

Already the department counts among its teachers, artists of great note. Arthur Farwell, head of the theoretical department, is nationally known as a composer, and chorus director. Phillip Abbas has acquired international fame as a soloist, while Leonard Falcone is reputed to be one of the best band directors in the country.

Lewis Richards, head of the department and the person responsible in a great way for the unusual progress in the development of the department, is considered to be the leading exponent of the harpsichord in the world and a pianist of note. He has appeared in many of the royal courts of Europe and played in the White House on the personal invitation of Mrs. Coolidge. It was principally through the influence of Mr. Richards that Madame Schumann-Heink was prevailed upon to teach here next fall, giving students the benefit of her remarkable talent and experience.

Further marks of the work of the new music department is the concert course which it is planned to bring here next year, fees for which will come before the student body at the special election, Feb. 15. This course will include artists of the type and reputation of Mr. Graveure and, through the influential connections of members of the music department, will be financed by a very small sum of money.

COUNCIL DIRECTS POLICY OF LAKE FOREST PAPER

Says That Student Sheet Should Be Record of Events.

Lake Forest, Ill. (New Student Service). While an occasional editor now is kept busy trying to explain to a critical community why the college paper limits itself to campus happenings, the editor of The Stentor of Lake Forest College, has tried to explain to the student council why he doesn't restrict his paper to the campus exclusively.

The editor, Fred Genschmer, who gently ignored the council's first summons to discuss the paper's policy, was informed that he is only an appointee of the council and subject to its will. As reported in The Stentor:

"The council point of view was epitomized by Mr. Mackin who stated that the students were not interested in literary and technical matters appearing in various columns; that more time of local interest should be covered, and that the news should be written down to the interest of the readers. The student council further contended that not enough space was being devoted to important student activities, such as the junior prom, athletic events, etc. In answer to these arguments the editor pointed out the growing tendency in modern colleges to outgrow provincialism; that it is far easier to fill up a paper with accounts of events with which every reader is already acquainted, than news articles were purposely condensed so as to get a wider range of subjects; and that the students might value their opinions in letters appearing in the paper. The council, however, contended that the school paper should be a record of events with which every student is acquainted, and that the editor should be more of a reporter than a commentator.

The meeting ended in a deadlock and the editor is still grazing in foreign pastures.

FARM VISITORS SET NEW MARK

Campus Given Over to Agrarian Meetings and Convocations.

The annual meeting of the Michigan State College Agrarian Society, which was held on the campus of Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich., on Saturday, Feb. 6, set a new mark in the history of the college by drawing a record number of visitors.

The speaker for the commencement address will be Dr. Davenport and Emerson are named as commencement speakers.

To the Students of Michigan State College and Farmers' Week Guests:

On behalf of the student council and the student body of Michigan State College, I wish to severely condemn those who were responsible for the underhanded methods used to prejudice guests against compulsory military training during the recent Farmers' Week.

It is granted that the freedom of speech is the right of every citizen of this country and every student of this college. But this liberty does not license any persons to take upon themselves the falsifying and misquoting of so-called student opinion warped to fit their own misconceived views; nor in the dispensing of this opinion to resort to trickery, falsehood, and deception in the realization of their selfish ends. We care not what opinions students may hold. We do not demur when they air these views, right or wrong, in daylight argument; but when they resort to bolshevistic methods of circulating misleading propaganda under the guise of authentic student expression, we find it our duty to censure their efforts as un-Spartan and un-American.

To those among our Farmers' Week guests who may give this false and un-official literature credence in the belief that it emanated from reliable and reputable sources, we would extend our deepest regret. We assure our future guests that hereafter we will do all in our power to prevent a repetition of such an unsportsmanlike and regrettable occurrence.

CLYDE J. OLIN, President Student Council, Michigan State College.

STUDENT VESPERS TO BE BROADCAST

Beginning on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, and continuing for ten successive weeks, the Peoples Church will broadcast a student vesper service over Michigan State College radio station, WKAR, according to announcement made this week.

The vesper service will be held at the Peoples Church from 5 to 6 o'clock every Sunday evening during the ten weeks, and it is expected to prove very popular with the students. The regular evening service, which has heretofore been given over to students will be moved forward and merged with the vesper service.

Music is scheduled to play an important part in these services. With Mrs. B. I. Sholl, organist at Peoples Church, and the vocal music being furnished either by a quartet or chorus, speakers are to be drawn from the student body according to present plans.

PONDER CHANGE FROM TERM TO SEMESTER PLAN

Committee from Student Faculty Congress Studies Question.

TO HAVE STUDENT VOTE

List Advantages of Both Systems; Desire Student Opinion.

Are we to have semesters or terms? That is the question that may be decided in the near future if the present plans of the Student Faculty Congress mature. A committee of faculty and student members appointed by the president, George Maier, and headed by Professor L. C. Emmons, has been investigating the subject for sometime and has made a report on the subject, stating the line points that they find in either plan.

It is planned to submit the proposition to a student vote in the near future to learn which plan may be the more popular.

The advantages of the semester plan as submitted by the committee are:

1. The semester plan will fit in better with the work of other colleges and universities since most of them have semesters and hence a student changing schools will meet with much less difficulty in making the change and will be less apt to lose credits.

2. The high schools of the state are all on the semester plan and a great many students graduate at the middle of each year. These students go to other schools than M. S. C. because they can start at the beginning of a semester. Many would come to M. S. C. if they could enter immediately after graduation.

3. The semester plan would introduce more two and three credit courses and thus permit of carrying excess credits without having to carry twenty credits.

4. The semester system saves money for the college in such things as clerical help, supplies, schedule printing, etc.

5. Semester system saves time of class work because of the lost motion at the start and at the end of each term.

6. The semester system saves clerical work. Two schedules a year instead of three two sets of grades to record and send out, two classification periods.

TERM SYSTEM ADVANTAGES

The advantages of the term system as found by the committee are:

1. We have it with us and hence would not have to upset everything to make the change.

2. Certain courses fit in well with the seasons of the year and would not work so well in the semester plan.

3. Students finding themselves in an undesirable course would not have to remain so long.

4. The Christmas and Easter vacations fit in well with the term plan.

5. Some of the largest institutions are inaugurating the four term plan and it is predicted that this is the coming scheme.

7. In the semester plan one would probably carry more subjects and hence scatter his interest more.

7. The end of semester breaks into basketball season, thus causing loss of some athletics in middle of season.

It is wished by the committee to secure student opinion on the subject. Any more arguments for either side of the question will be appreciated. Comment should be sent to the State News.

CHAIRMAN PROMISES GALA SENIOR FORMAL

Shirley Maier, chairman of the general arrangements committee for the Senior ball, announces that the affair this year should rank along with the J-Hop and the Varsity party as the leading formal of the year. The committee has secured a top notch orchestra and favors and programs will be unique and distinctive.

The ball this year is the only mid-week formal of the season and this should prove an interesting factor. Tickets will be allowed late permission for the ball because of the fact that Washington's birthday follows and is a holiday.

Tickets are now on sale and can be procured from any member of the committee. All seniors or people who started with the class of 1928 are eligible to attend. Thus far the ticket sale has been promising and it is expected that a goodly attendance will be present.

At the Union

Tickets for the party this week-end should be purchased before the final half hour. It will save you waiting at the desk.

New books are constantly being added to the Union library. In the fall of 1928 it was started with fifty volumes. There is now a total of 300 and included in the list is practically every book which has been among the best sellers during any part of the last year.

The Union paid to student help $11813 during the calendar year ending December 31, 1927, an increase of more than $500 over the similar previous period.

If you use the Union you can increase an efficiency besides gaining an advantage for yourself.

Lose Titian Tinted Canine Near Armory Hot Dog Stand

Personal. Will the gentleman in the blonde overcoat who so loudly bemoaned the loss of his favorite canine, call at the lunch counter in the military ballroom by members of the Farm Crops judging team and learn something of advantage both to himself and said canine.

Such an ad might have appeared in the State News during the last week, and in fact, almost did. It came about thusly:

A crossbreed canine, whose coat was a cross between a marmoset, a sorrel and a titian, whose excess bounciness in the shape of fat was so large that it would be impossible for a flea on one rib to spot a neighbor on the next, apologetically limped into the new armory one day during this week. He cringed into the military ballroom and began inspecting the exhibits. He cocked an ear at the honeybees that were buzzing in their glass hive; he listened to the baby chicks that were mournfully peeping in their respective incubators; and was generally enjoying himself and regaining his lost confidence in life when a harsh, guttural bark with an exceedingly low forehead emitted a series of terrifying noises that ended up in "Squid!"

The titian-tinted canine scattered, in fact, he scattered very thoroughly, and was making good time getting towards the door when a benevolent looking lady spotted him. "Poor dog," said the benevolent looking lady. The poor dog heard her, halted in his mad flight, and stilled up to the pitying woman. She looked at his ribs, was aghast at his undernourished condition, and went up to the lunch counter.

"Give me a roll for this dog," said the matronly philanthropist and debated said roll to an astonished and grateful quadruped. Another gentleman, also possessing philanthropic tendencies, threw a dime to the waitress.

"Give me a hamburger," he said to the waitress, and on receiving it, also threw it to the surprised dog. The dog was sure he had found friends, but he didn't get the matter straightened out, and thought it was the members of the Farm Crops team and W. A. A. who were so kind to him. He lunged close to the counter, got inside and tried to make off with some more hamburger. An Alpha Zeta of overpowering men saw him and expressed him brutally in the ribs with the toe of his boot. Again the dog fled howling into the vast windy wilderness that surrounds the armory.

Time elapsed, a gentleman in a blonde overcoat came up to the lunch counter and inquired as to the whereabouts of his dog. "I lost saw him going inside this lunch counter after some meat, and I want a statement as to his present whereabouts and condition." The gentleman was in a rage, he seemed quite angry and determined upon news of his dog. An elderly lady, consuming a hamburger, choked, turned yellowish-green, and fled; several other customers put down their food and cringed away. In vain did the troubled Alpha Zeta of the powerful boot try to explain that he had ousted the dog; the troubled gentleman in the blonde overcoat refused to believe and left, howling execrations and anathemas.

That was the trouble. But the dog has returned, and the embarrassed Alpha Zeta is keeping him tied up at the lunch counter, carefully explaining that it is not raw material, he is merely being kept until the owner calls for him.

OPINIONS

Michigan State College students should consider themselves extremely lucky. It has been ascertained over the past week-end that the students possess a distinctly unorthodox appointed spokesman. No one knows where this certain student received his authority to speak for the entire student body, but the fact remains that he issued a lot of statements purporting to be a student opinion. One of our group of intelligent, free thinkers, loud speakers, or what have you, distributed several thousand copies of a circular that attempted to show student opinion on military at Michigan State to the members of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Free speech is the right of every American citizen and it is also the right of every student at Michigan State. As long as students air their own opinions and suggest policies, their utterances will be respected. But a few of our free thinkers have overstepped the bounds. They have issued their grievances against military training in a manner that might lead others to believe that theirs was an expression of the opinion of the entire student body. Our propagandists decided to tell the world that the students of Michigan State thought that compulsory military training was dragging this institution deep into the mire of militaristic inquiry. They did with the result that a lot of Michigan taxpayers and voters left East Lansing with a false idea of student opinion on military.

Friday night's fiasco shows just how far a few radicals will go in their efforts to put something across. It is about time that the student body wakes up and realizes the consequences of such an act. If this thing is allowed to pass unchecked a few more free thinkers will advertise the student opinion on some other subject with the result that campus affairs will become muddled and a few reformers will take charge of campus thought.

This military question has been hanging fire long enough. It is a known fact that a great majority of the student body favors compulsory military training and a few people tell the world that Michigan State is a pacifist college. The right of free speech in this case has been stretched to the breaking point. Now is the time for the student council to call for a showdown. The leaders in this movement are known, but their motive is not known. If they are truly thinkers and opponents of warfare and militarism, we can respect their opinions, but if they are pacifists and nonbelievers of some pacifistic or communist organization, their aims should not be Michigan State. Let's investigate.

FROSH TO MEET FLINT JUNIORS

Squad Gets First Chance to Show Skill Here Tuesday Night

Michigan State's frosh basketball five will play its first game of the season on Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, when they meet the Flint Central Junior college team in East Lansing.

Much interest has been aroused over the Froshmen squad this year because of the large number and caliber of the men who turned out. Over 100 candidates turned out at the first call but Coach Barney Traxton has now got his squad cut down to about 20 men.

On Tuesday afternoon, the State Frosh journeyed to Lansing where they played the Lansing high school team. The "Big Reds" have a fine team this year but were defeated by Coach Traxton's men by a score of 28-23. Traxton started Grove and Barnard at forwards, Baker at center, and Hagan and Peary at guards. This combination was slow to get started so Traxton sent in Peary in place of Barnard. Still the State team did not show very much. With a small lead at the beginning of the second half the State coach substituted an entirely new team and made various changes in this line-up. This combination failed to make any appreciable headway against the high school lads but did not lose the lead.

In the final quarter, the Spartan coach sent the team that played during the second quarter go back in. It was at this time that the Froshmen showed the most speed. Grove, Prendergast and Peary began to work together and along with occasional long shots by the guards, were able to pile up a lead of five points as the game ended. The Spartan freshmen this year look very fast but have not begun to work together as yet. Coach Traxton is working hard with his squad this week trying to get them ready for the initial game on the schedule.

Agrarians Leave Social Events As Fraternities Sponsor Parties

The campus once more resumed its social appearance when the guests of Delta Gamma left Friday. The Notre Dame game drew out a record crowd of 1,500 fans. The second performance of the Union musical revue accompanied by the Union orchestra was held at the Delphi fraternity house after the game. Bob McPherson and his orchestra played for the dance and the patrons were Capt. R. E. Larson and Mrs. Larson and Prof. E. A. Johnson and Mrs. Gee.

Friday night, Fraternity formal dinner was held at the Hotel Kears. Herndon Hicks' orchestra played for the party and See H. H. Holladay and Mrs. Holladay and Mr. L. C. Green and Mrs. Green were in charge. Harry Brooks of Birmingham, who piloted Mrs. Lind back home to Mexico City, was the guest of honor. The favors presented to the guests were black enamel handkerchiefs with the Herndon crest stamped upon them.

While the Bennell's orchestra entertained at the Fraternity dinner dance in the ballroom of the Hotel Olds. Here the favors were small glass perfume bottles with the Fraternity crest of silver stopper. Pres. K. J. Butterfield and Mrs. Butterfield, Prof. M. W. Gray and Mrs. Gray, Prof. H. B. Jones and Mrs. Jones, Prof. J. C. Emmons and Mrs. Emmons, and Mr. H. E. Pugh and Mrs. Pugh acted as patrons.

Alpha Gamma Rho entertained at their formal party in the Wisteria room of the Hotel Olds, with Satterly's band playing. Prof. J. T. Caswell and Mrs. Caswell and Prof. J. F. Pugh and Mrs. Pugh were in charge. Little enamel bracelets with the fraternity crest were the favors given at this party. Alumni who returned for the party were Luke Able, 25, of Sand Lake; Carl Bittner, 26, of Battle Creek; and Alfred Darrance, 27, who is waiting for Cornell this week where he is doing graduate work.

The Eta Chi Alpha Fraternity held its annual house last week. Doctor Darrington and Mrs. Darrington were patrons for the party. The guests of the evening were Harold Barkley and Earl Barkley of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosecrans of East Lansing.

TYPE OF ENTERTAINMENT

Monday Greenwald of the stars of the East Lansing will go with about Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture "The City Gone Wild" when it arrives at the theatre Friday and Saturday. He goes on to say that Meighan's latest is one of the new type productions which Paramount is featuring this year, pictures of the type of "The Way of All Flesh."

Miss Helen Wootch of Ann Arbor was the guest of Ruth Andrews over the weekend.

COMING TO THE STATE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Thomas Meighan and Ruth Andrews in "The City Gone Wild."

Wery Athletic Ada

Yes, children here we are back again! Isn't it enough to discourage anybody? It surely does us, when we reflect how many more weeks there are in the term, and how soon we begin to blink. Yes, college would be perfect if there wasn't so much study to do. Well, to get down to the business of business, her engagement to Ames. The latter's investigations suddenly disclosed a fact that has a fatal bearing on his life. Ames discovers that Nadia's father is really the uncrowned king of the underworld. Both he and John realize that to prosecute Winthrop will mean the end of their friendship with Nadia. Winthrop catches up with what is going on and Ames is shot that night in a theatre.

Then, but see "The City Gone Wild." Thomas Meighan is said to have the best role of his career as the criminal lawyer who later turns district attorney in an effort to revenge his friend Marietta Miller, the Viennese beauty who was Tom's leading woman in "We're All Gamblers" appears as Nadia Louise Brooks has an important part as "Fool Koller's" daughter, and Winthrop Standing is Ames and Charles Hill Maize Winthrop, "Gunboat" Smith, Nancy Phillips, Duke Martin and King Zeno are in the supporting cast.

As for the director, who directed "The Wild Man who made "Old Ironsides" and "The Covered Wagon." Inidentally, James Cruze also directed Tom's preceding picture "We're All Gamblers." Charles and Jules Furthman wrote "The City Gone Wild" as an original for Meighan.

the day, we have been indulging in this new game of pinball, and it really is rather interesting. It seems to our unmedicated eyes, to be a cross between basketball and tennis with the agonizing features of each removed. To begin with, the field is divided into two zones, having in the middle of each a circle about two feet in diameter with three pins, not safety pins, common pins, or coupling pins, but ten pins which are protected by three guards. Three forwards able around and try to knock over the pins with a basketball two points being given for each pin knocked over by a forward, and one when a guard does it by accident. The points awarded by the accidents are the ones most frequently given, and the team whose guards have the biggest feet is out of luck.

The position of center is one offering great sport and quite a little recreation. The term "roving center" is the one assigned because the center roves all over the floor, and sometimes, all on the floor, it all depends on the way you look at it. Well the fact of the matter is that the center is not bound by ordinary boundaries, she meanders all over the place, and sometimes gets out of breath doing it, but it's great sport especially if you weigh over one hundred fifty pounds net.

The forwards have great sport playing their little game all by themselves, they throw the ball back and forth, trying to rattle the guards sufficiently so they will step back and knock a pin over giving them one point, they could get two by doing it themselves, but why put themselves to the trouble? Sometimes they get fooled though. They happen to knock the pin over in spite of themselves and get two points anyway. Isn't it just too bad? And occasionally they get fooled another way. The guard gets hold of the ball, passes it down to her roving center who shoots it on to the forward, and perhaps gets another poor little pin laid out flat on the floor. No use talking; it is a cruel game, especially on the pins.

SPARTANS WHIP IRISH 26-16 FOR FIRST TIME IN SIX YEARS

VanAlstyne's Latest Combination Downs Highly Touted Notre Dame Five.

SPARTANS GET REVENGE State Secures Sweet Revenge for Overtime Defeat Last Week.

After six years in which the Notre Dame basketball teams have proved superior to the Spartans, the Michigan State five were able to conquer the Irish on Saturday floor, 26-16, Friday evening. The State victors avenged the many defeats handed coach VanAlstyne's men in the past few years and more than made up for the three overtime period game of a week ago at South Bend in which the Spartans were defeated.

The State five, displaying an impregnable defense only allowed the Irish cagers chances to make field goals from inside the free throw line twice in the entire game. This close guarding by Schan, Russo and later McGillicuddy caused the Notre Dame five to resort to long shots, by which method the Irish scored eight points of their total. On the offense the State team at times appeared to be wild in passing and instead of several easy shots, but were able to get by the Notre Dame defense without much trouble. Every one of the men deserves praise for his work in the game but the score book indicates that Russo and Felt led in the point getting. Felt at center, scored two field goals and six free throws while "Cappy" Russo, scored three field goals and one gift shot.

For the first few minutes both teams seemed to feel the other out, neither being able to break through to score. Russo, Irish forward who tied up the game at South Bend in the last few seconds to go a week ago, drew first blood for the visitors when he caged a pretty long shot. Felt opened up matters for State with a jump shot and then Notre Dame jumped into the lead by three points with a free throw and field goal. DeLande's two free throws and Russo's gift shot were sufficient to tie up the score again and then State began to pile up its lead. With the exception of DeLande's one shot just before the period ended, the Notre Dame five were unable to score again while the Spartans were caging seven points. Thus the half ended 12-7 in State's favor.

Holding a lead at the beginning of the second half Coach VanAlstyne's men began to play carefully. Felt's free throw was all that the Spartans were able to score, however, while the visitors accounted for two field goals, thus bringing the score to 13-10, still in State's favor. Russo increased the Green and White lead to five points by a "long tom" and then the Irish rattled and tied up the score by two short shots, the only ones the Irish scored and a free throw. State called time out and then began a scoring spree which netted them 11 points while the Notre Dame five were obtaining one during the remaining 13 minutes to go. Don Heider and Ros-

A. A. U. TRACK MEET HERE FRI.

Michigan Athletes to Gather Here for Meet-State to Defend Title.

Michigan State this week will play host to the fifth annual Michigan A. A. U. Indoor Track and Field Championships. The preliminaries in the 40 yard dash, 10 yard high hurdles, and all field events will be held at 3 p. m. Friday while the finals will be held on Friday evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Michigan A. A. U. awarded the college meet for the second year in succession because of the large crowds which attended the meet here last year. It is hoped that the students will turn out again this year as well as last year so as to make it meet a success. The college students will be charged an admission fee of 25 cents and their student ticket book. This money will be turned over to the American Olympic fund.

Enthusiasm over the coming meet for Friday is heightened by the fact that last year the Michigan State college team ran away with high honors and several State stars set new records. The three meets previous to this however, the Michigan State National held the high honors. Great last year set a new record for the 40 yard dash while Alderman set a record in the 300 yard dash. These two men graduated last year but McVee, holder of the pole vault record, will participate for State. Ten of the record holders are expected to be in East Lansing for the meet, so lively competition may be expected.

so each accounted for a field goal and then "Cappy" was ruled out of the game by the personal foul route. McGillicuddy, who played the entire game against the Irish a week ago, was sent into the fray. The remainder of the scoring was done by the Spartan center, Carl Felt. He caged five free throws and a field goal while the visitors' lone tally was made by Brian's substitute guard, from the free throw line. Felt's work from the penalty line this year has been exceptionally good and has several times saved the Spartans from defeat.

Nearly 3,000 fans were packed into the State gymnasium, which was filled to its utmost capacity. At 6:45 one hour before game time there were several hundred people in line waiting to get into the gym, while one half hour before the game, all available seats were taken and most of the standing room was occupied. Several industrious fans betook themselves to the staff offices to watch the interesting contest.

STATE MATMEN LOSE TO MICHIGAN

Coach Leonard's Men Beaten in Hard Fought Meet at Ann Arbor 22-5.

Coach Leonard's wrestling team suffered another defeat at the hands of a Western Conference school, when the University of Michigan grapplers took the Spartans into Ann Arbor Saturday, Michigan winning 22-5. State's five points were the result of a well earned victory of Storer over DeLude in the 135 lb. class by a fall. Michigan won two falls and five decisions while State only won one match which was won by a fall. The score, however, does not truly indicate the difference between the two teams. Michigan has won six other matches this season, but for which State has won two out of three other meets.

Heider of Michigan threw Schan in the 175 lb. class while Sabowsky was thrown by Kallies of Michigan in the 125 lb. class. The other matches with the exception of the 135 lb. class were also won by Michigan, which was hard fought.

Re-discovers His Favorite Tobacco

Charleston, W. Va., March 4, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: I stopped in a little village that consisted of about nine houses and a small hotel, which I entered. A little old man wearing a skullcap was seated in a rocking chair smoking an enormous pipe. I had come to buy a can of Edgeworth, but when I caught a whiff of the tobacco he was smoking I changed my mind. The aroma of that tobacco was so delightful that I made up my mind right then and there that I would smoke some of the same brand, regardless of cost.

I began to beg your pardon, sir, but I came in to buy a can of tobacco, and I would like the same brand you are smoking if you don't mind telling me. He looked at me for a moment, grasped my pipe with one hand and said: "I'm smoking Edgeworth. Would you like some?" Of course I did, and I secured a supply from the old fellow. The joke, of course, was on me, but I went on my way rejoicing.

Yours very truly,

Stoner for State secured the quick-est fall of the evening when he threw DeLude, Michigan's 135 lb. representative, in 1 minute and 36 seconds. Stoner has won all four of his matches thus far this season in his class, although this is only his first year in varsity competition. The Spartan wrestler almost pinned his man to the mat in the first two minutes on the mat but his opponent bridged and wiggled off the mat. DeLude is reported to be a strong Western Conference contender for the championship in the 135 lb. class this year because he eliminated Captain Watson in the I. of M. preliminaries and thus was placed on the team in place of Watson. Watson last year was Western Conference champion.
