PERVERSE

Those students who must take excess credits in order to bring their total up to a point commensurate with time spent in college find themselves confronted with a situation of "perverse elasticity" regarding the additional work which is a serious hindrance, forcing infirmity cases in extra term of school or loss of a degree.

According to present rulings, those with a "B" average may take more than the usual amount of work, while students having a "C" average are permitted to carry only the regular amount. It is evident that the majority of students having the higher grade have less need for the excess work than those with the lower. Still, the "C" average student is not allowed to undertake the attempt of bringing his amount of credits up. It would seem that anyone in college having this grade, especially those in the liberal arts division where there are few laboratory classes, would have the ability and time to take at least 20 credits of work.

A special committee of the faculty passes judgment on those petitioning for excess credits. It is to be hoped that they have at their command statistics which prove that a "C" student cannot do satisfactory all-around work and that recognition is given of exceptional situations. We have in mind, however, one case in which the student legislator against could most certainly have carried at least 24 credits.

It is wise that students should not be allowed to attempt more than the possible but in some cases where ability is plainly manifested and circumstances account for the lack of a "B" average, it would seem proper that the committee allow extra work.

CO-EDS CHARACTERIZE DETENTION AS "MISTAKE"

Detective Making Arrest Is Reprimanded by Detroit Judge.

Characterizing the whole incident as "just a mistake" Marjorie Lawson and Edna Kempster are back in classes after being released by Judge Frank H. Murphy of recorder's court, Detroit, where they were held on simple larceny charges administered a severe rebuke to the detective making the arrest because of the circumstantial evidence of the case. They were charged with taking merchandise from a Detroit store valued at $94.

It is reported that the girls in indignity walked from one counter to another with a far expression in their possession while contemplating its purchase. It was then that the arrest was made.

Failure of the courts to hold sessions over the weekend is given as the cause of the delay in securing the girls' release.

EASTERN SCHOOL EXTENDS LIBRARY HOURS TO MIDNIGHT

Princeton, in the interests of the students, has ruled that the library be kept open from eight in the morning until midnight. It is believed that no other college library in the country remains open so long, and Princeton itself in the last course of its existence has never before had such regulations. The adoption of the four-course plan with the additional individual research work required, has necessitated this change.

Man Riled by Rivals' Time Claims

Rutherford, N. J. March 9, 1927.

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: I am sure get some riled when I see where some fellow is crowing over the fact that being older, and having run into Edgeworth sooner than I, a less fortunate compatriot, he challenges the world as the champion long-time member of the Edgeworth Club.

He doesn't deserve any medals. He got his reward in the enjoyment of his smoking for the added number of years. He was just lucky in starting earlier than I.

However, if you care to delay into ancient history, look up when the first started to pull down the old Grand Central Station in New York. You add at least six months to that and you will arrive at the approximate time when I first joined the club.

I have smoked at least one pack of every other tobacco I have ever advertised, sometimes through necessity, but most of the time to please myself that I have been right in sticking to the old blue tin.

Yours truly,
H. M. Wittridge.

MINNESOTA PLANS ANNUAL VISITING DAY FOR MOTHERS

Minnesota students will be hosts to more than five hundred mothers who are expected to attend the annual Mothers' Day program which will be held this year May 12. Mothers of the students are guests of the various campus organizations on this day and are introduced to the different aspects of college life. More than ten thousand invitations are to be sent out.

Alpha Chi Omega had charge of the first program of campus girls' assembly last Sunday morning. Clara Wilson gave a vocal solo and Mrs. N. A. McConne talked on "College in Florence and Rome."

Professor L. B. Mayne of the college English department delivered a short talk on the subject of the short story at a gathering of the members of the Historical club in the Lansing Women's clubhouse this afternoon.

FARRELL AND MARY ASTOR

The human background provided by a thousand men is used for the love story in "The Rough Riders." Paramount's great drama which reaches the State today.

With Charles Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack both competing for Mary Astor, there is constantly behind them the shifting scenes, the retelling here of a body of men who have come down in history to fame for their spirit, gallantry, and picturesque qualities during the Spanish American war. The use of the beloved regiment as a background for a romantic love story is something new made effective through Victor Fleming's splendid direction. Always in the tender moments of the lovers one senses the pulse of a mighty armed unit in motion, the tramping of horses' hoofs, the thud of saber against saddle and the joyous resonance of the voices of men bound for war. The personal supervision of R. P. Schuchart, associate Paramount producer, in this glorious pageant, is something to be commented upon. The story is by Hermann Hagedorn, Theodore Roosevelt's official biographer.

Track, Field Athletics One of Most Popular Sports Says Young

Track and field athletics is one of the most popular sports at Michigan State college, judging from the records made by the teams during the past three years, and the number of participants in the sport at the present time," according to a statement given out by Coach Young, head track coach.

"Continuing," he said, "Track runs throughout the year at Michigan State. At fall track and cross country are held during the fall term. The distance runners go out for cross country, and men participating in the other events go for fall track. Nine to three men participated in cross country and fall track last fall term. The indoor varsity squad had 55 on it, and the indoor freshmen track squad had 60 men. At the present time there are 49 on the varsity squad, and 62 on the indoor squad. This makes a grand total of 225 men who have a chance of participating in track and field events at some time during the year. This total does not allow for the duplication of men who compete in the sport for two or more terms.

There are 15 events in track and the minimum number who may start in any meet are three men in each event. If fresh men were to be used in all events, the track team would be composed of 45 men, but due to the fact that men double in two or more events, the number of men actually competing in a meet ranges from 25 to 30.

Track is one of the oldest forms of sport. The survival of the fittest man was due to his ability to run fast and far, jump high and long, and to throw missiles accurately. Track was recognized as a major sport in the colleges about 1850. The Eastern Intercollegiate Track association is holding its 25th annual track and field meet this spring.

Each year many good track men are made by the coaches in combination with the persistent effort on the part of the individuals. It is an old axiom that track men are made and not born. Fred Alderman is a shining example of the above statement. In high school he never won a first place, yet in his senior year at col lege he was one of America's most outstanding sprinters. He won the 100 and 200 in the National Col legeiate meet. Another example is Harold McAtee in the pole vault. His present record is 13 feet, 3 5/8 inches. He made this record last year when he was a sophomore. His best record in high school was 10 feet 5 inches. Another example is Captain Henry E. Wylie in the distance runs. He holds the college mile record, both indoor and outdoor. His best record is 4:24.9. His record for the mile in high school was 4:59 and for the 880, 2:12.

Michigan State college was one of the first institutions to recognize that it took four to eight coaches at most colleges to coach the seven different positions in football; it necessarily would take more than one to coach the men for the 15 events in track, and hence I have two very able assistants in Milton F. Mason, who takes charge of the distance men, and Miles W. Gaster, who has charge of the four mile and jumpers. This division of labor by the coaches is possibly one of the reasons for the fine success that the Michigan State college track teams have had in the past and are having in the present.

The varsity track squad's first meet is the Ohio Relays at Columbus, Ohio. Events are to be held this week for the mile relay, the 880 relay, and possibly the four mile relay. Kroll, Henson, Lang, Kenyon, Knutson, Salmson, Henderson, Lord, Forsythe, Maddison, Wall and Rossmann are the contenders for positions on the mile and 880 relay teams. It is almost certain that Lang, Kroll and Henson will make this team. Who will be the four mile team? Wylie, Clark, Rosson, Brown and Willmarth are the likely men for the four mile relay team. The Ohio Relays and the Fresh Soph meets are April 21.

TENNIS SQUADS START PRACTICE

Large Group of Tennis Men Report to Coach; Fresh Trials Completed.

As far the largest group of tennis men reported to Coach C. De Ball this spring than has previously reported for spring practice. The Fresh tennis squad was chosen after a series of trials held last Thursday and Friday. Nearly all varsity men who are eligible reported for practice again this year.

At present the varsity squad is made up of about 15 men, while due to the limited number of courts available for daily practice, it was found necessary to limit the Fresh squad to 12 men. Many men who reported for practice, and did not make the squad, showed ability as players but only a limited number could be chosen. Since the outside courts have become available for use the varsity practice has revealed evidence of very good tennis material in all all positions this year.

Games scheduled to be played on the home courts are with Detroit City College, L. of Notre Dame, Marquette University, Ann Arbor Tech., and with Western State Normal college. Out of town games are with University of Michigan, Hillsdale State Invitational meet, and with Detroit City College. In addition, the Intercollegiate State meet will be held here May 24, 25 and 26. The schedule is fairly complete and the tennis enthusiasts here will have an opportunity to see the varsity team in action in a majority of the games this season.

Both the varsity and fresh squads report for practice at 4:00 o'clock each afternoon. Previous to this week practice has been conducted in the new Armory.
