CANDIDA PLAYED BY THETA ALPHA PHI AT STATE TONIGHT

VOLUME 20

TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1928

Number 48

COOPERATE

announcement of our new plan of organizing a news-gathering machine, a plan of cooperation on the part of the college and faculty departments of students and faculty is greatly desired. Due to the great number of news items on the campus, it is difficult to have in charge of reporters to cover all of the things which are going on. When representatives of the news staff would be appreciated if they could be of the past or future of the news staff. This is a very important part of the various departments. A number of people are interested in the news staff. At present there are some organizations, active and inactive, on the campus, all of whom are doing some or another something. Many times these things are done unintentionally, merely because of the difficulty of keeping track of the number of groups. Informal activity will gladly be reported by phone or otherwise on Sunday, Wednesday, or Thursday morning from eight to ten-thirty at the News office on the fourth floor of the Union building.

A NEED

one of the many groups which are doing some or another thing on the campus are without, reminds us of the urgent need of the campus for a central bureau for the news staff. Meetings, future events, which are scheduled, and similar data should be taken up last winter by the news staff and the student council should be carried to a point of finalization. It is obvious. It would eliminate many of the difficulties which are now being met. It would probably result in a greater attendance of news conferences on the part of all interested parties. Steps to be taken along this possible should be taken for the benefit of all concerned.

ANCIENT

celebrations cease to be a thing of the past. It is that once again, the ancient and the modern are being combined. Many long weeks have passed since the white and black stream of the river, warring and empty for the first time. They grow older and the river grows younger. We are almost a green thing for the first time. That sort of a thing didn't happen since the facial desiccation of the ancient person.

FESTIVAL OF CARNIA

million first established on the campus in the spring, deserves to be considered as a book at present because of its regard to the management of the festival. It is somewhat of an orphan. If a student organization does not take up the cause, it would seem proper that the department assume the responsibility of putting on this all-around festival of these spring nights.

man who appeared to be a general was observed in the army. The other medals were in the other medals. It is shown that it was only a man who had forgotten to remove his medals from his new uniform.

HORSE SHOW TO BE HELD HERE ON DECORATION DAY

Men of Prominence Secured as Judges; Site Not Yet Selected.

SOCIETY TO ATTEND

With the naming of the judges, arrangements for the annual R. O. T. C. horse show are rapidly nearing completion, according to Prof. J. P. Horton, general chairman. The show will be held on May 29 and 30 as in past years.

C. C. Harris of Lexington, Ky., will act as judge of saddle horses and ponies, while Louis Keith of Middleburg, Va., will officiate over hunters and jumpers. Major T. J. Johnson, commander of the R. O. T. C. and at Colver military academy, will judge the contestants of the local military department. Definite plans concerning the latter demonstration have not yet been formulated, according to Lt. Col. T. J. Sherburne, but it is understood that the cadets will play quite an important part in the program.

The horse show is yearly becoming one of the important events of Michigan society, receiving the patronage of prominent people from all over the state. Last year, horses were entered from the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, Detroit Riding and Hunt Club, Bloomfield Hills Riding and Hunt Club, and several other exclusive organizations.

PHILOSOPHY BEST TAKEN AT OXFORD

Tells of Advantages Rhodes Men Have in Study at English School.

In connection with the selecting of outstanding American students for the Rhodes scholarships in the 1928 competition next September, Prof. L. E. Plant, chairman of the local committee, has received the third of a series of articles on educational opportunities at Oxford University from the point of view of the American student.

Discussed by B. Blatchford, a Rhodes scholar and at present senior life professor of philosophy, Swarthmore college, the subject of philosophy at the English school is taken upon the following:

In the mind fields of academic study there is some time distinction which stands out above all the rest. It is philosophy it would not be surprising to find Hopkins in education, Columbia in commerce, and Harvard in engineering. The question here is, what is the best place for philosophy and the question could go where it would be in the English-speaking world. The answer, I think, would be Oxford.

There are several reasons for this answer. For one thing, philosophy holds the central place in the course which is general in the best of the course in the liberal arts. It is the course in the liberal arts which is the most interesting and the most important. It is the course in the liberal arts which is the most interesting and the most important. It is the course in the liberal arts which is the most interesting and the most important.

STATE RADIO MEN HEAR TRANS-ATLANTIC TALK

Listen in on Long Distance Phone Call to England.

Do they use the trans-Atlantic tele phone service? Ask Duke Norris, the radio host who makes night talks from Wells Hall. Duke has the habit of tearing down his set at least once a week, and last Friday, after putting it together, he found that it didn't function as it ought. In fact, he seemed to be connected with a telephone line, but he would get only one side of the conversation. Finally, from the long talk of the operator, he deduced that that time the man on the wire called for Manchester, England. Duke then set up and took notice. He was able to pick more than a dozen messages from across the pond, which was cheap amusement for him and his friends, especially as it cost the principal $2.00 a minute. Duke says that if he were a millionaire, he would tell her to "be" with him on the 24th and arrive on the 26th. She didn't seem to understand.

How long it is, Duke says. The phone messages are sent over the Bell wires in the night when they are transmitted by radio and picked up on the other side. They are the same thing over there, but Duke says his radio set was broken, and he was unable to get any message of the story. The explanation is, however, in a very low wave length, far beyond the normal range of household sets, so only an amateur set like Duke's can pick up the broadcast. What has surprised Norris most is that anything else is not to be said, but he is not back to his state since he has it fixed for regular broadcast.

SPARTANS ENTER ANNUAL RELAYS

22 Men to Represent State in Annual Relays at Columbus April 21.

Michigan State has selected its team for the 47th Annual Relays at Columbus, Ohio, which will be held Saturday, April 21. The team consists of 22 men, and will represent the state in the 100, 200, 400, 800, 1,600, 3,200, 5,000, 10,000, 20,000, 50,000, and 100,000 yard relays, and in the 400, 800, 1,600, 3,200, 5,000, 10,000, 20,000, and 100,000 yard relays, and in the 400, 800, 1,600, 3,200, 5,000, 10,000, 20,000, and 100,000 yard relays.

Energy Pervades Campus as Eds and Co-Eds Feel Athletic Urge

W. S. G. A. members are spending their time at baseball and taking a lot of rest during the spring season for the season from two dollars a week to four and a half. Great is the intention. Whether to take on a new sport, which is much more enjoyable and pay one's $5 like a man, or which is to be economical and take up archery, with bows and arrows furnished by the college? Tennis, and golf are also being considered. It is a great problem.

TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR KIPKE-M. S. C. BANQUET

Tickets for the banquet on Kipke M. S. C. night being given by the Leo Radiator club on Thursday evening of this week in honor of state's coach, which may be secured at the office of the gymnasium at one dollar a plate. The banquet is to be held in the Leo Radiator house and will begin at 7:00 p. m.

CANDIDA MINGLES PHILOSOPHY AND LIGHT COMEDY

First Spring Term Play of Theta Alpha Phi Takes Place Tonight.

PLAY AMUSING

A drama showing the mingling of George Bernard Shaw's deep philosophy with the light comedy of life will be the feature of "Candida," Theta Alpha Phi's opening spring term play tonight.

The play contains many intense philosophical moments, interwoven with the light comedy of life. It is a play which is both amusing and thought-provoking. The play is being produced by the Theta Alpha Phi club.

BUTTERFIELD TO AID NEW PROJECT

Selected to Head Committee of Prominent Educators to Found Institute.

Selected by National Murray Institute of Education, Butterfield will head a committee of prominent educators to found an institute. The institute will be devoted to the study of education and the training of teachers.

W. S. G. A. PRESIDENTS ATTEND CONVENTION

Thomas Parham, spring president of the Women's Student Government, and other W. S. G. A. members attended the convention of the National Association of Women's Student Governments at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

SENIOR ENGINEERS TO INSPECT FORD PLANT

Seniors in the mechanical engineering division will leave East Lansing early Friday morning for Detroit where they plan to visit the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company. They expect to spend the afternoon at the Ford airport if there is sufficient time. They will return late Friday night.

This is one of a series of inspection trips to some of the leading industrial plants. The Olds Motor works and the Consumers Power company have already been visited, while the Lansing Motors Park power plant is to be inspected on April 27.

Seniors May Order Invitations Only Until Wednesday

Wednesday is the last day on which seniors may order invitations for commencement. Orders may be placed at the Union desk. Cash must be paid at the time the order is placed.

FRESH TRACK MEN MUST WORK TO OBTAIN NAME

Coaches Insist on Exceptional Work Before Awarding Coveted "State Fresh."

"STATE FRESH." When you see this in white letters across the blue track shirt of a freshman, you can make up your mind that he is a member of the "Fresh" squad.

In order to get one of these shirts, certain requirements must be passed. They are not too stiff, but they do show that the coaching staff has an idea that anyone who can pass these requirements has possibilities as a track man. It is a hard job to equal or better a record with the coaches' advice, but may be better fitted. Records must be equalled or bettered on at least two different days, thus showing consistency of performance. To be certain that candidates are in at least fair condition, they must report daily for practice three weeks before permitted to try out for the freshman track team.

KAZOO GAME MAY PROVE DIFFICULT

M. I. A. A. Champions Bring Hurler of Repute; Byrne to Start for State.

After getting away to a 4-0 win over Adrian college last week, the Michigan state baseball team will play the Kalamazoo college against one here on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. This game may be the most important of the season, as it will be played on Saturday of last week, but owing to cold weather, the game was postponed.

The Kalamazoo baseball club has a team which is to be feared, according to reports. Last season this bunch of ball players captured the M. I. A. A. championship and the biggest share of the team are again wearing the Kalamazoo 2 colors. The biggest item which they have is a hurler by the name of Watson. This man won a good share of his games last season and is expected to come out on top in the majority of his games this year.

The team as a whole is strong enough to give the Kalamazoo some trouble. In fact, the Kalamazoo nine meets the Notre Dame university team in the Irish stronghold.

Each Kibb has been giving his men some stiff workouts lately in an effort to smooth out the rough spots of several men who reported for practice late, some making bids for 1900 five mile, some making bids for 1900 four mile, but as yet the infield has remained about the same. However, Caruso and Pevic are fighting it out at the receiver's post, while Mary Eggert and Doug Watkins seem to be about even on the base for the second sack job. Hainsington is going fairly well at the initial bag while Chad is still converting around on the third sack. Wood and Maceo, along with several others, are trying to make it hard for the first and third sackers to hold their positions, while Mary's only at short seems to be a fixer. In the outfield the situation appears to remain about the same, with Rinehart and Davis, veterans, almost sure of jobs while a mighty scramble for the centerfield job is going on.

It is expected that the big right hander, Byrne, who did so well in the opening game and on the southern trip, will start the game against the Kalamazoo nine. Byrne, it will be remembered, hit a homer into the field last week besides pitching a most terrific ball throughout the contest. It like a lady.

EDITORIAL EARNS SUSPENSION FOR STUDENT EDITOR

Roscoe Bloss, Editor of "The Student," Suspended Monday Following Slanderous Statements.

ATTACKS STATE BOARD

Acting President Robert S. Shaw announced Monday the indefinite suspension of Roscoe Bloss, Lansingville managing editor of "The Student," (unofficial literary publication) for attacks on the college and state administration, published in an editorial entitled "After All," in the April 13 issue.

Bloss, who assumed complete responsibility for the editorial, was suspended for making publicly unjustifiable charges of corruption and graft against the college and the state administration, according to Dean Shaw.

Commenting upon his action, Dean Shaw said Monday: "I am absolutely in favor of freedom of speech, providing the spoken or written statements are true bearing no libel or slander."

Attacking the administration, Bloss said: "For it took After All two years to conclude that this was not a college at all, but a political playground where the college presidency is a bait for party electioneers, a state institution for governments to practice economy upon to cover up grafts elsewhere in the machine, a beautiful park with sidewalks and buildings, where taxpayers' sons and daughters may wait four years for that whiteness, education, a glass which covers defects, a sensor which can be pushed."

Such a condition was shocking to After All, who had always respected the authority of the state and the government, and had believed in the sincerity of the state in offering him a line of education and a term cheaper than out of state students could get it.

But now After All wonders just what can be expected from such a condition where graft and corruption reign, and he understands how one could not expect to find many students here of an intellectual nature, since

NOTED SCIENTIST TO LECTURE HERE

Phi Sigma Biological Society Sponsors Russian Plant Physiologist.

Russian plant physiologist will present an address on the subject "Cellular State of Substances in a Necessary Condition of Life" at the new national annual convention on Friday, April 29 at 8 o'clock. Dr. Lepeshkin will speak in the annual program of the Phi Sigma Biological Society which is offering an opportunity for everyone interested in the field of biological plant physiology to hear this eminent plant physiologist.

Dr. W. W. Lepeshkin was born at Moscow, received his bachelor's degree at the Chemical Engineering College of St. Petersburg in 1915. The following year he continued his studies at the University of Zurich, where he received the degree of doctor of philosophy in 1919.

At the present time Dr. Lepeshkin is professor of the natural department of the Russian Peoples University at Prague and a member of the professorship committee for teaching Russian students of Czechoslovakia.

This year Dr. Lepeshkin is visiting America. The first half of the year he was at Washington University of St. Louis, Mo., and the latter part is visiting professor of plant physiology at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Lepeshkin, who is recognized as one of the foremost plant physiologists of the day, is probably the greatest authority on protoplasm and is author of many publications on this subject.

Phi Sigma consider it a great honor to present Dr. Lepeshkin to M. S. C. and trust that everyone interested in plant and animal life will find his address of great value.

This address is open to the public and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

At the Union

There will be another Union party next Saturday evening. Make your arrangements now to attend a real affair. A hearty welcome is extended to all returning alumni or guests in town for the "Chicago" game.

If you are having trouble in securing books for any or all of your courses, hurry over to the Union and browse around our used book shelf until you find what you need. We have several hundred volumes of used texts that are offered to students at reduced prices. Also if you have any used text books that are in good shape, bring them around and the Union will sell them for you.

Have you tried our fairly new soda fountain lunches? They are just the thing for mid-afternoon and Sunday evening snacks.

If you see the Union at all it will pay you to buy a coupon book. These coupons will purchase anything in the building from Union party tickets to hair color and will enable you to save eight per cent on each purchase.

FREE SPEECH

Free speech is one of the great privileges of American citizens. Upon it democracy is based. Through the use of it in addresses, articles, and newspapers great reforms have been effected or at least brought to the attention of the public.

Perhaps it is most noticeable in the talks of the street corner socialists and in newspapers. This latter great medium of public expression has been left uncontrolled by the government in so long as it has kept its columns free from the indecent and is under the control of law only in so far as libel is concerned. Those in charge of the management have accepted their responsibility in such a manner that cases arise where the privilege has been really abused.

Free speech is merely an evidence of the individualism which is characteristic of our advancing civilization. Earlier ages did not permit it because the education of the people did not allow them to see the groups relation to the individual. As ignorance disappeared, the rights of each person became more powerful but always there has been necessary some kind of restraint, since it is inevitable that the innate egotism should sometimes color the frankness of the good of the social order as a whole.

This week a situation has arisen on this campus where free speech went larger number. It has ever been thus and always will be.

Additional freedom will always bring more responsibilities to those partaking of them. Continuance of the greater privileges can be obtained only through the proper use of them. If violated they must be taken away.

However, even in the face of the violation, we are assured that free speech will be upheld "providing the spoken or written statements are true, bearing no libel or slander." We believe this exceptionally fair.

PHILOSOPHY BEST TAKEN AT OXFORD

Ethics, then with the intellectual muscle produced by this somewhat heavy gymnastic, he goes on to a rapid tour of moral philosophy and a strong-winded plunge into logic.

This is the kind of work which in Oxford leads to a B. A. and the American who wants a typically Oxonian regime is well advised to take it. But if it seems to bristle too thickly with classes, he has an excellent alternative before him. Most Americans and many Englishmen have felt a little reluctant to spend so much time on the ancients and in answer to the increasing demand, Oxford has established a "modern greats" which attempts for the modern period what the traditional course does for the ancient. This new course covers history, economics and politics besides philosophy but it is philosophy still that carries the greatest prestige and at any rate, since these subjects are all philosophically studied, it is the men who are most at home in reflective analysis that finally lead the lists.

But the advanced philosophical student may want to work at his subject exclusively, and if so, he is free to do it. If he is only of moderate advancement, he will work for the degree of B. Litt. if he can convince his tutors that he is about to burgeon philosophically blossoms and fruit, he will be allowed to read for a D. Phil. These degrees are both taken by thesis, with a public oral examination at the end.

Apart from the tradition of Oxford, there are three other factors that make it philosophically pre-eminent. One is the method of teaching. As everyone knows who has tried, you can't learn philosophy from lectures, from the process that Carlyle described as sitting like a pitcher and being poured into. You learn to think as you learn to run, by trying and being coached; and that is the Oxford notion of teaching. You are given a tutor or supervisor for whom you write frequent papers, and you must discuss and defend these propositions in the privacy of his room. Directly confronted with a practiced mind, your own and your hidden failings of manner and matter coming painfully but most instructively to light.

Again, at Oxford philosophy is actually discussed. The place in term-time seethes with talk, some hot, but much of it is good; and that power to thrust and parry is highly prized. The average English student with less knowledge, perhaps, than ourselves, prizes one as having his views, opinions, particularly better in hand, and he maintains his views with more readiness, adroitness and resource. And the meetings, formal and informal, philosophical, political and literary, at which the intellectual game is played are without number.

The worst thing in the world to try to find is a good pipe tobacco that is well within the reach of everybody, and at the same time does not taste like it had just come out of the cabbage patch.

I have been smoking a pipe for two years and have just this month started to smoke a real smoke, Edgeworth. If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Believe me, I tried for two years, but finally success is more than mine.

I have just been looking around, and have found to my delight that I can get Edgeworth practically anywhere. I even found it out at the lake near Dallas where I go fishing. Oh boy, what a combination—a perfect day; a can of good tobacco, and your pipe.

I always thought these ad letters were the bunk, but this time I know somebody is wrong and that is me.

Here's to old Edgeworth.

Do you ever notice how much a man's mind and body are affected by the quality of the tobacco he smokes? It's a fact, and it's a fact that you can't ignore. If you're looking for a good pipe tobacco, you've got to look for a good pipe tobacco. It's a fact, and it's a fact that you can't ignore.

Parties and Fraternity Events Entertain During Week End

The campus calendar continues to be filled with a long list of social events which began the first week of spring term. The "Bad Luck Party" was held at the Union Friday night while the annual Pan-Hellenic party surpassed all previous ones. The Collegiate Country Life Association also held a dance at the old armory on Friday evening. Triompha and Pi Kappa Phi entertained at open houses. Along with these activities were the formal initiations held by Alpha Gamma Delta, Eumonian, Hermitan, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Pan-Hellenic party on Saturday evening was attended by many couples who will long remember the occasion. The orchestra played for the dance and the guests included Dean and Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Sec. and Mrs. H. H. Hildray, Mrs. Clara Powell, and Dean Jean Krueger. Clever programs enlivened the party.

Prof. and Mrs. L. C. Emmons were hosts for the Triompha open house on Friday evening. About twenty couples danced and refreshments were served. Stetler's Black Jacks played on the Pi Kappa Phi open house on Friday evening. The patrons were Mrs. and Mrs. A. J. Laurie and Mrs. L. N. Field while E. J. Sprague of the class of '28 returned to the party. H. O. Sprague was chairman of the committee which made arrangements for the occasion.

The freshman class party will be held in the new armory on Friday evening of this week. The music for the party of the yearling class will be furnished by Pat Dollahan and orchestra from Flint.

The guests of the party will be: Robert A. McInnis, Artie Anderson, Harold Hannah, Max Goodwin, Paul Smith, Max Goodwin, Max Goodwin, and George Meyer.

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Mary A. Marshall and Francis G. Dressel Granted M. S. C. Scholarships.

The 1927 awards of the M. S. C. scholarships have been granted to Mary A. Marshall, Detroit, and Francis G. Dressel, both students are in the class of '28 and are in the Science Division.

The award is set aside by the State Board of Agriculture and is granted to the man and woman student showing the best scholastic record at the close of their junior year. A committee consisting of the president, registrar, and the deans of the resident educational divisions is in charge of the disposition of the awards.

Francis G. Dressel has also been awarded the University of Michigan scholarship for one year following his recommendation by the local committee in charge of scholarships. This scholarship is offered by the University of Michigan to graduates of the various colleges of the state. Charles Armstrong of the class of '25 is now holding the scholarship of the University and is doing work in the mathematics statistics department.

WRESTLERS TO HOLD OLYMPIC REGIONAL TRYOUTS WEDNESDAY

Grapplers to Gather from All Parts of State to Participate in Tournament.

START IN AFTERNOON

Plans are about complete for the Michigan A. A. U. wrestling tournaments and Olympic regional tryouts which are to be held in the Spartan gymnasium here Wednesday afternoon and evening. According to Ralph Leonard, State wrestling coach, two matches will be held at the same time during the preliminaries which will be run off beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, while only one match will be held at a time during the finals in the evening.

A large group of wrestlers from all parts of Michigan are expected to compete in the tournament because of the proximity of the National Olympic tryouts which will be held in Grand Rapids July 4-5. The winners of the different classes here tomorrow will be eligible to compete in the national tryouts and thus a great deal of interest has been aroused around the state.

According to reports, there will be ten teams of wrestlers here from the University of Michigan, Jackson, Y. M. C. A., Grand Rapids, Y. M. C. A., Flint, I. M. A., Detroit, Athletes club, Albion college, Michigan State Teachers' college, and Albion college besides several independent wrestlers who will compete. Along with these athletes will be about 20 Michigan state grapplers who will try for the championships. Of this group Michigan university will probably send 15.

ALL-COLLEGE TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BE COMPLETED

All-college tennis tournament which was interrupted last fall due to an unfavorable weather conditions will be completed this term according to the plans of the intramural sports department of the college.

Several matches are still to be played and those men who are still in the running are asked to be on the alert for notice of their matches in order that the tournament may be run off smoothly and on time.

strongest team. Three 1927 Western conference champions and one 1928 champion will be among the grapplers representing the Wolverines. From Grand Rapids will come a former Michigan wrestler, Geis, who is said to be the only man who ever threw Leonard, who is now representing the university in the 158 lb. class. Also the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. is reported to have a strong heavyweight contender.

As for the chances which the Michigan State men will have in the tournament, Coach Leonard was rather undecided owing to the loss of five or six good men who he expected to come through in good shape. Captain Landburg leads this list. This plucky grappler is definitely out of the running because of sickness. Martinkewicz, a man who was expected to come through in good shape in the 191 lb. class was unfortunate enough last season to injure his knee while attending the cavalry class at the army.

This accident puts another good grappler out of the tournament. Arnold, however, did not stay out for wrestling and likewise will not be available for the meet. It is rather doubtful whether George Ferrari will be able to do his best in the Wednesday contests because of illness which has been bothering him for the past few days. Stephenson in the 175 lb. class is also on the sick list.

All in all, Coach Leonard is handicapped more than ever before. However, he will have about 16 men in competition. Shuler and H. Miller will be the entries in the 112 lb. class; Schush will be in the 123 lb. class; T. Roberts, Stoner, Lynch, Lamphers, in the 134 lb. division; H. Morse, W. Haskins, C. Fike, L. Spencer, in the 145 lb. class; Peck and VanZanden will defend Michigan State in the 158 lb.; Kurrie, Karns, Martens, and Stephenson will be entered in the 175 lb. class; Ferratt and Ferrari will probably be the only wrestlers from State in the 191 lb. class, while Joslin and Schulenberg will compete in the heavyweight class.

It has been announced that Michigan State students can gain admission to the tournaments at the gymnasium by presenting their student books and 25 cents. The reason for the extra charge is that the proceeds of the meet will not go to the college but will go toward paying the expenses of the Olympic wrestling team when they go to the Olympic games later this year.

Tobiason, former captain of the Iowa State wrestling team and now a resident of Detroit, will officiate at the tournament. Fitness, Olympic wrestling team coach, will be on hand and will help do some of the refereeing.

they have all been scared away by the political bugaboo and the unwholesome atmosphere.

Continuing the war against military training, Bloss suggests to the state board of agriculture. "When that august body begins to realize war is something to be feared as a compulsory means of instilling sterling qualities of manhood and patriotism in the college youth, the ill-effects of football has always proved more popular than war." He recommends that two years of Science and Tactics of Football replace the present two years of compulsory military courses, and that there could be a secret society of "Plaskin and Too" for the good-looking students.

Bloss said Monday "I am where I made my mistake. I cannot not be able to prove what I said. I still think it is so but I can't prove it."
