SENIORS AND JUNIORS RENEW ANCIENT FEUD

Both Sides Win Black Eyes and Bruises in Traditional Fight.

Upperclassmen battled Wednesday night. As a result, local clothes stores enjoy good business for some time to come.

The slaughter started about 11:15 when the juniors broke down the door of the seniors' domain.

Somebody wrapped a chair around the neck of John Anderson, junior class president, and at the present writing he is cutting four stitches.

The juniors returned, however, by 11:30 and they were the better for it.

UNION MANAGER TO LEAVE SOON

R. J. McCarthy to Terminate His Work Here at End of Month.

Resigning from his position as assistant secretary and manager of the Union building, Robert J. McCarthy announced yesterday that he would terminate his work here at the end of this month.

McCarthy presented his resignation to the Union Board last June to take effect in September, but postponed it at their request as long as possible.

During his tenure as secretary of the Union and manager of the Union building, McCarthy has worked with the old house of faculty and taken up its share in the present structure.

McCarthy assumed his duties in 1927. For three years previous to that he was city editor of the Starburst newspaper in New Haven, Connecticut.

McCarthy was prominent in the Union while in school, being a member of the Wolverine Board, sports editor of the Union and vice president of the Michigan Y. M. C. A.

ANNIVERSARY DAY

The day the college will take the day off to commemorate the immigration seventy-one years ago of the founding of the first agricultural college in the United States. A special program beginning at ten o'clock has been arranged starting with a convocation at which Notre Dame's famous coach, Knute Rockne, will be the principal speaker. A demonstration by the military department and a baseball game with Bradley Tech take place in the afternoon with the occasion ending in the evening with an all college dance.

We will witness this program in surroundings vastly different from those which were present at that time when this institution was initiated. In the year 1857 some pioneers of Michigan broke ground in a thick forest several miles from a railroad, and constructed three buildings which were to form the nucleus of the Michigan State College of 1928. They included Saint's Rest, a dormitory, Old College Hall, where the first classes were held, and a barn to house the livestock. Upon completion of preparations, a small crowd of far-sighted men and women met in the college chapel and celebrated the opening of the new institution.

With this small start, we have become one of Michigan's finest educational institutions. The forests have given way to a beautifully landscaped campus; the first three buildings have been replaced by some twenty-five or thirty modern structures; the faculty includes some three hundred trained men; and partaking of these conveniences and advantages is a student body of about twenty-five hundred.

Each year we meet for the special purpose of looking back to those first days and recalling the progress that has been made since, regarding ourselves with the evolution made in our own educational system, with the superior and more complete knowledge which we have today.

It is to be wondered however if we

SUCCESS IN MINOR SPORTS

The question has been raised as to whether minor sports are successful enough at M. S. C. to be continued on our athletic program. We wonder if the student body is in accord with those who propose the limiting of the minor sports program.

The current opinion seems to be that the student body should not suffer by a handicapping of minor sports. The program should be one of expansion rather than one of retardation. Minor sports exemplify the most widely known maxim, "Athletics for All."

The hockey schedule was interrupted by varying weather conditions but on a whole was very successful. Lack of ice in our outdoor rink handicapped the performance of the team as they were forced to play their games without sufficient practice. The University of Michigan is fortunately situated to be able to play on the Olympia Rink in Detroit. We find, however, that the Universities of Illinois and Notre Dame have found it necessary to spend immense sums to furnish adequate facilities for the continuation of this sport.

Little need be said about Cross Country at M. S. C. as our championship team of the past years are evidence enough of this. It is also the basic foundation for the shorter distance runs on our regular track and field program.

Fencing under the present coach is a universal sport. This is evidenced by a co-ed member of our varsity fencing team. It is rapidly becoming a popular minor sport both for co-ed and men students. The fencing teams of the past have been very successful and we see a bright future in store for them.

Tennis is also a popular sport both with the co-ed and men students. The best advertisement of this sport is George Lott, an M. S. C. student who ranks among the first ten leading tennis players of America. We think it safe to say that with added impetus it will become more popular in the future.

Under our present coach of the past two years in wrestling an enviable record has been established. Victories over Chicago, Notre Dame, Ohio University and the victories of the State matmen in winning the two A. A. U. state championships over the University of Michigan indicates an achievement of unusual success. Our present coach, Ralph Leonard, is recognized as one of the three best coaches in America and was appointed referee to the Western Conference Championship meet this year. Why should the students of Michigan State College suffer from the loss of the services of such a nationally known wrestling authority as it was announced in the newspaper of several days ago?

Summarizing minor sports as a whole, we find that hockey at Princeton, Yale, and Harvard, is a major sport. Wrestling in the east is as equally important and in the middle-west is rapidly gaining prominence. We ask in all sincerity if one would throw a monkey wrench in a smooth running machine? Why handicap minor sports by eliminating competent coaching?

H. R. CARROLL TO SPEAK AT ORATORICAL CONTEST

Michigan State College has another opportunity to win laurels Saturday night when Howard H. Carroll, '29, its representative in the state oratorical contest competes with seven other contestants for the right to represent Michigan at the semi-finals of the Fourth National Intercollegiate Oratorical contest.

Last year the state contest was held at Ypsilanti and although it was well conducted and attended, greater interest is shown in this year's meet. The finalists in the 1927 National Intercollegiate oratorical contest were from N. C. State Agricultural College, the University of Southern California and Northwestern University.

FOR GRADUATING SENIORS
An Opportunity for College Graduates in the "Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

WHAT are you going to do after graduation? If you have not decided—or if you have made a snap decision—just read over the rest of this. It presents the case for life insurance as a career. It is worth thinking about. The choice of a career is important. Life insurance is most desirable and satisfactory as a permanent calling.

And why?

Money
Reports of college graduates who have entered business indicate that life insurance holds first place as a source of income. One John Hancock agent describes his work as "the best paid hard work in the world." He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business.

Advancement
In the second place, advancement depends entirely on your own effort and ability. This is no fairy tale of success. It is the sober and proved fact. The Vice President of a great life insurance company who began his career as an agent has this to say to seniors who are about to graduate from college:
"If you love work and desire to pursue an honorable, useful and lucrative mission in life, this is the business for you to take up. Life insurance salesmanship offers a fine field for the energies of the splendid young men in our colleges."
That this is true is demonstrated by those college men who have taken up life insurance, for they have shown that the college man is fit for this kind of a job and that the job also is fit for the college man.
The work of the life insurance salesman is distinguished by independence and opportunity for directing his own activities. It gives all possible opportunity for individual initiative and a chance to make an ample income at an age when most fellows are struggling on a wage pittance."

REASONS WHY

- Life insurance is founded on high ideals.
- It is capable of yielding a good income and the satisfaction of accomplishment.
- It offers opportunities for real leadership.
- It brings you in close association with business and business men.
- It requires you to become familiar with business methods, law and finance.
- It is a field for workers, not shirkers.
- It is an alluring and practical calling for men of dynamic energy.

Satisfaction
But all the pay and all the advancement possible are not going to wholly satisfy the intelligent college graduate. Life insurance offers further satisfaction. It is one of the great factors in the modern world making for security, peace of mind, increase of confidence, and the building up of credit for individuals, businesses and institutions.

The life insurance agent is indispensable to the conduct of modern affairs, and in a particularly satisfactory way. He is an active force in increasing the sum of human happiness, prosperity and security.

Your Company
Now is the time to consider what you are going to do after graduation. If you are ambitious, willing to work hard, and are interested to know about a life insurance career, you owe it to yourself to examine the opportunities afforded by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. It is a national institution with a country-wide service, of great financial strength—one of the large companies of the world.

STATE THINCLADS CLASH WITH NOTRE DAME SATURDAY IN ANNUAL MEET

Alderman Will Attempt to Break 250 Yard Record Made by Marchion in 1924.

KEEN COMPETITION

Michigan State will meet the University of Notre Dame in its fourteenth annual track and field meet at the stadium, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. State won the first and last meets of the series, the meet in 1905, and the one last year. State will undoubtedly give the Irish a good race for winner's honors this year, having about an even chance to win in every event except the high jump, broad jump and both hurdle races in which the Irishmen are admittedly stronger.

Frank Alderman, captain of the Spartans' track team that won from Notre Dame last year, will attempt to break the world's record for the 250 yard dash, which was made by Loren Marchion in 1924. The record is 2:17 seconds. The former Spartan, "Flying Cloud," has been covering the 250 yard stretch in less than record time in practice. Bernard Otto, former speed demon at Ypsilanti Normal, William Howell, formerly of the Chicago Athletic Association and possibly Robert Robb, graduate student at the University of Michigan, will compete in the open 250 yard event, also. Howell expects to enter Michigan State next fall. He held records of better than seven min. in both 100 and 250 yard dashes. Robb broke Paddock's record for the 175 yard dash last week. His time was 1:2 seconds. Otto ran the 175 yard dash in 1:5 second last Saturday in an exhibition race at Ypsilanti. The 250 yard event will be held sometime toward the close of the meet. Charles Brennan, president of the Michigan A. A. E. expects to be present at the meet in order to compare any records that may be made.

STATE RECEIVES WOEFUL DEFEAT

West Virginia Overwhelms Spartans 21-1 in Hard-Hitting Exhibition.

Michigan State received the worst beating which has been administered to them in several years when the West Virginia University baseball team stopped in East Lansing Wednesday afternoon to cross bats with the Kobsons. When the last man was out in the final inning it was announced that the visitors had won a 21-1 victory over the Spartans.

The game Wednesday was a case of two much hard hitting by the Mountaineers. The West Virginia aggregation in all collected twenty-three hits which were good for 36 bases. Included in this bag of hits were two triplets, one home run, one double, many doubles along with a bunch of singles. These drives were made possible because the best pitched trio of pitchers which were used by Coach Kobs in an attempt to stop the slaughter.

Jerry Byrne, who has pitched several games already this season, was first called to the mound when it was found that Capt. Tolles had a sore arm which would prevent him from pitching. The visitors got to him for four hits which by aid of an error accounted for four runs in the first frame. The second inning wasn't so bad when the visitors only pushed one run across the plate. The West Virginia boys continued to add to their total by ones and twos until the sixth when Byrne succeeded in setting them down in order. This was the only inning when the visiting nine failed to pile up some runs.

In the seventh frame Byrne began to get into trouble and the State coach sent Bullard, a right hander, onto the slab. Bullard stayed in until the mid side of the eighth when Bullard replaced him at the hurling post. Bullard finished the game although he was touched frequently for hits.

State scored its lone tally in the first inning when Rinehart connected with a circuit drive with two men out. In the sixth Coach Kobs substituted Hayden for Caruso at the position behind the plate. Watkins for McCauley in the infield. Mader for Hastings at first base. It looked like State was going to score again. After Byrne had fished out, Hayden connected with a nice bangle going second on a bangle by Watkins. The Irish hopes subsided again when Eggert attempted out and Rinehart fouled out to the catcher, thus retiring the side. During the stretching session the Spartans made their only other bid to score when Davis got on base on an error with one out. Then Mader drove out a hard single putting Davis on second. Crall and Byrne were put out in order so the rally didn't do any good.

Runs for the visitors pitched fine ball all the way. The bespectacled right hander from West Virginia allowed the Spartans but six hits in the entire game. Hand, centerfielder, started for the visitors in the field by collecting eight flies. Phillips led the hitting with a perfect record. This visiting shortstop fattened his average considerably when he connected for a home run and four singles out of five official trips to the plate. On two other occasions he was given free transportation to first base.

In every event State will find strong contenders from Notre Dame. Boy, the Irish pole vaulter, will give McAtose a run for first place. Both men have a run better than 13 feet. These two men tied for first place at the Indoor Central Intercollegiate meet last winter at 12 feet 6 inches.

Elder, an Olympic prospect from the Indiana institution, will probably win the 100 yard dash. He ran the century in 9.8 seconds at the Drake relays. Henson ran the 100 in 9.7 seconds last year at the State Intercollegiate meet and he will push the Irishman to the limit. It is expected that Henson will reach the tape ahead of Elder in the 250 yard dash.

The 400 yard dash will be a dual between Kelly of Notre Dame and Kroll. Kroll won this event in the Central Intercollegiate Indoor meet last winter. Hackney, Michigan State's half miler, will have to step along in order to beat Abbott of the Irish. The latter has run the 800 in less than two minutes. Hackney's best time is 2:01.5. Captain Wylie and Clark will fight it out in the mile run against W. Brown of Notre Dame. Wylie won from Brown at the Central Intercollegiate Indoor meet last winter. Brown and Wilmarth, State 2 mile men, will find a fast contender in J. Brown.

The Spartans will have Paul Smith

Quality sent P.A. to the head of the class

YEARS ago, P.A. showed a clean pair of heels to the field of smoking-tobaccos. It has maintained its lead ever since—putting more distance behind it every year. There must be a reason why P.A. is the world's largest-selling brand.

There is! Open a tidy red tin and get a full breath of that class-by-itself fragrance. Then tamp a load into the bowl of your pipe and light up. The first pull tells you why more men smoke P.A. than any other brand. Cool and smooth and mellow and mild—not for one pipe-load, but always. Try this long-burning tobacco, Fellows. You'll say so!

BROWN DEVELOPS NEW PLAN FOR COLLECTING CLASS DUES

among those who are out for the team. There are six remaining meets to be played by the State players, four at home and two away.

The schedule:
Saturday, May 12 University of Detroit, at Detroit.
Thursday, May 17 Detroit College of Law, at Detroit.
Monday, May 21 Grand Rapids Junior College, here.
Tuesday, May 22 Flint Junior College, here.
Friday, May 25 University of Detroit, here.
Tuesday, May 29 Detroit College of Law, here.

Brown has developed a new plan for collecting class dues. Those members who do not pay their dues in the allotted time have bills sent to their homes for payment. Each bill will contain the amount due and a complete statement of the purpose for which the money is being collected.

Weigh some people and they will be found wanting in everything but weight.
