MISDEEDS AND PENALTY

During the past few days, there has been created a situation on this campus which is a direct result of the methods followed here in enforcement of traditions and so-called discipline of the first-year men. It is not unusual for us to have found through experience that to be expected. The relationship between the two lower classes has approached such a state that prompt and decisive action must be taken immediately to preserve the name of the college from becoming disreputable.

Sophomores have been given from time to time the responsibility of training the new students in the ways of this campus. Having just been released a few months ago from their own period of instruction, they have turned up the indignity of direct supervision and diligently exercised it. As is always the case, these not capable of leading up under the influence of their superior. They are so full of self-importance that they have become arrogant and subsequent suffering of their members who have played the same game according to the spirit.

At the present time the condition existing on this situation is absolutely intolerable both from the viewpoint of the administration and the student body. Second-year men who need only be far from representative of the class have exceeded all bounds in their enforcement proceedings. It should have been kept in mind that only when traditions are violated with discipline in any way justifiable. Talking men from the door of class rooms, seizing them on the campus, carrying them from the door of the library merely because they wear a green cap must not and will not be tolerated.

On the other hand, the freshmen have been sufficiently informed concerning campus conventions and must observe them. For their own good, it is expedient that they obey. Protection will not be afforded to those who insist on forgetting that they also have taken upon certain responsibilities upon entrance into school here.

Because of incidents occurring last week, the student council has been forced to adopt a rather strict policy concerning freshmen-sophomore relationship, and undoubtedly complaint of a proved unjustified attack will result in a recommendation for expulsion from college of those concerned.

THE M. S. C. FRATERNITY

An all too unique story comes from Michigan State college at East Lansing to the effect that the fraternity men and women at that school have had higher standards than the independents during the past school year. A close inspection shows that the fraternity men had marks of 2.125 points as against 2.065 for non-fraternity men, while women had 2.000 as against 2.046 for non-fraternity women.

The average college fraternity is no bean to behold. The teacher in the faculty who is supposed to look after its academic welfare turns up at meetings only to shake hands and murmur a few platitudinous words of advice. The home orchestra, which ranges all the way from one pinhead to the whole works, drummer and all practices whenever it likes except at study period and study period is just the time of evening when every student who can wants to get out to a movie or dance. There is the continuing crowd always starting out to watch the team practice, the conducting conversation, the general air of encouragement to passing and stopping which seem inseparable in fraternity circles.

Against these usual handicaps, to say the least, the fraternities and societies at Michigan State college seem to have made a miraculous and successful feat. Either they possess some of the administration and the student body. Second-year men who need only be far from representative of the class have exceeded all bounds in their enforcement proceedings. It should have been kept in mind that only when traditions are violated with discipline in any way justifiable. Talking men from the door of class rooms, seizing them on the campus, carrying them from the door of the library merely because they wear a green cap must not and will not be tolerated.

By asking for rides on the east side of Abbot entrance into the car, may be obtained while they are standing still waiting for the green signal.

"BUMMERS" ASKED TO STAND ON EAST SIDE OF ABBOT ROAD

In order to eliminate chances of an accident to those securing rides to Lansing on the corner by the Abbot block, Chief of Police Hackett has requested students to stand on the east side of the street on the same side of the road as the green and red lights. The green and red lights are on the east side of Abbot road and have been reached the sudden stop to permit students to get in a car to result in an accident with Hackett.

REV. N. W. KUNKEL TAKES STUDENT DIRECTOR POST To Teach College Credit Courses in Religious Education as Listed in Catalog.

Rev. Norman W. Kunkel, M.A. from Columbia and B.D. from Union Theological seminary, Chicago, succeeds R. Bennett Weaver as the new student director of the Peoples church in addition to his work with the students and their church organizations. Mr. Kunkel will teach the credit courses in religious education as listed in the college catalog.

His previous experience of the new director fits him well for the work here in the college city. During his undergraduate days at Union Theological seminary, he directed the boys' work at the Madison Square church house. Mr. Kunkel was the director of religious education at the Indiana Presbyterian church at Columbus, Ohio, where he came in contact with many Presbyterian students of Ohio State university, and before this position he held a rural pastorate in Iowa. His service in the army gave him a varied experience. In Baltimore he served four months as a government inspector of munitions, and then went to Camp Dix, Camp Meade, and Camp Taylor where he was commissioned. After a few days at Camp Jackson, South Carolina, he spent six weeks in the course in heavy field artillery at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

To The Seniors of M. S. C.:

We are glad to have you back—the Underclassmen need your advice. Don't forget your dignity.

OLD GOLD bats 1000% as Hornsby takes the Blindfold cigarette test

ROBERT HORNSBY... capable manager of the Boston Braves... captain of the 1927 New York Giants... manager of the 1926 St. Louis Cardinals... who won the World's Series.

Mr. Hornsby was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, comparing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

What gives OLD GOLD this winning charm? Here is the answer, in three words: heart-leaf tobacco. No coarse, heavy top-leaves of the tobacco plant... for they irritate the throat. No withered ground-leaves... for they are lacking in aroma. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves... golden ripe... can give Old Golds their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can tell them in the dark.

First Week-end of Fall Term Replete With Social Activities

The first week-end of the term was filled with parties which gave a flying start to the social activities of the fall season.

On Friday night the Students' Christian Union sponsored the first of a series of social events which they plan to hold each Friday night at the Peoples club.

PROF. GROVE REPORTS ON WORK AT MATH MEET

Dr. V. G. Grove, associate professor of mathematics, was among those who were selected to present a short report on certain research work at the meeting of the American Mathematical Society held from September 27 at Amherst college, Massachusetts.

More than 150 delegates from the United States and Canada were present at the assembly and of these 70 were asked to present reports. Dr. Grove reported on "Some Contributions to the General Theory of Transformations of Sets."

Professor Sherman of the College of the City of Detroit in the mathematical department, presented a paper on "The Theory of the Invariant of the Borel Measure and Its Application to the Theory of the Measure of a Set."

Dr. Grove also was present at the meeting of the Mathematical Association of America which was held at the college on September 3 and 4.

Major Thomas Stagle and Mrs. Thomas Stahl, Dr. M. M. McGold and Mrs. McGold will act as patrons of a Phi Kappa Tau open house Saturday night.

The coming week-end promises to be a very busy one with the Alpha Gamma Rho, the Phi Kappa Tau and the Union Literary society among those who have already planned open houses.

56 GET DEGREES IN SHORT SESSION

Six Hundred Enrolled in Summer School; Several Conferences Held

The summer school session at the college also went under the direction of Prof. L. C. Emmons of the mathematics department.

More than 600 students were enrolled in the courses offered in the various departments of liberal arts, sciences, economics, applied sciences, agriculture, engineering and veterinary medicine.

EXPECT RECORD NUMBER AS REGISTRATION GROWS

Registration for the fall term, 1928, shows promise of setting another record-breaking attendance at the college, with late registrations still coming in and with registrations still open for special courses.

At noon yesterday the total of 2754 registrations showed the number enrolled to be only 46 less than that for the entire fall term a year ago.

W. A. A. Hikers Enjoy Breakfast and Pep Meeting Saturday

About fifty freshmen girls turned out for the hike and breakfast that was given for their benefit by the W. A. A.

The breakfast took place at a mile and a half out of college lanes on the site of the new cabin that is to be built solely for the girls.

A meeting was held after a satisfying breakfast, and the managers of the hike, soccer, dancing, tennis and bowling teams, respectively, gave short talks on their games and how they were played.

A pep meeting for the afternoon game ended the hike.

CROWD BREATHELESS AS 100-POINT DEMAND SWEEPS FIELD

During the second half there wasn't much excitement in the stands and the boys scouts did most of the yelling until the last quarter.

There was as much enthusiasm over whether the score was going over a hundred, as there usually is over whether there's going to be any score at all.

We ought to show up Michigan at the game," loudly remarked one youth upon leaving.

It was about 7:30, admittedly, his companion had had better be here in time to see the game.

SPARTAN ELEVEN STARTS SEASON BY ANNIHILATING KALAMAZOO 103-0

State Backs Gain 600 Yards to Score 16 Touchdowns in Odd Contest.

RESERVES GET CHANCE

Michigan State's football eleven, playing for the first time under the watchful eye of Harry G. Kipke, former all-American halfback and now head coach of the M. S. C. gridlers, completely crushed the Kalamazoo college aggregation, Saturday, by an overwhelming score of 103-0. Only twice before in the history of State's football career has this feat been bettered. In 1912 Hillsdale college was defeated 104-0 while in 1929 the then-called "Aggies," another rival, with touchdowns and won 108-0.

The season's opener Saturday, designated as "Harry Kipke Day" drew the largest opening day crowd ever had at the Spartan stadium, some 15,000 fans being present.

The Michigan State college athletic association was host to several hundred Boy Scouts, who journeyed from all parts of the state to participate in the fifth annual Boy Scout day held each year in conjunction with the opening game. Between halves the Boy Scouts, keeping time by the music of their own bands, formed a parade on the track in front of the stands. A large crowd of Lansing and East Lansing school students, also the guests of the college, were in attendance at the game. Another feature during the intermission between halves was the presentation of the traditional snake dance in which the freshmen class participated.

Sixteen touchdowns and seven goals kicked after touchdowns counted for the 103 points scored by the Green and White machine Saturday against Kalamazoo. Statistics show that the Spartans gained over 600 yards in making 31 first downs while their opponents made but four first downs and gained 40 yards. Two of Kalamazoo's first downs came as a result of penalties inflicted on the State team while the other two were made when two of their various long passes were completed.

State scored early in the first quarter after Smud kicked off to Burrows, who returned the ball 184-45-5 to

ALUMNI PRESENT GIFTS

Harry G. Kipke, new Spartan grid mentor, was presented with two fine gifts in honor of his first appearance in East Lansing as coach of the Michigan State college football team. his 27 yard line and then tried a long pass in the first play which was intercepted by Nordberg. Schau and Grove in succession cut the ball on the Kalamazoo 8 yard line and then Nordberg slipped off left tackle for the first touchdown of the game and year. Grove kicked the try for place kick. Two other touchdowns and a point after touchdown was the extent of the scoring for State during the remainder of the opening quarter.

In the second quarter, with an entirely new line-up in the game for the Spartans, it was the same story when Crall carried the ball over the line twice while Kurrle scored once. These three touchdowns and two goals counted for 20 more points for the Green and White.

During the last half Coach Kipke used his first string men only during the third quarter in which time thirty-seven points were scored. Coach Kipke then used members of his second and third teams and the Kalamazoo line was punched for four more touchdowns.

Various weaknesses were evident to the Spartan coach although the team performed remarkably for an opening game. On the most part the blocking and tackling spoke well for the line coaches who have been taking the line men in hand all fall, but now and then a mistake would occur and opposing men would get into the State backfield in time to break up plays. The forward passing for State didn't function properly and this will probably be worked on during this week's drills. Out of a half a dozen attempts to complete passes none of them were successful. Also the kicking of goals after touchdowns was weak. Only seven of the 16 chances were made good.

Hard Running Backs Feature
The aggressiveness of the forward wall and the hard running of the backfield men deserve honorable mention. This hard running of the backs and the hustling of the linemen were contributing factors to the easy win of State.

On the line Hittchings at right guard.

Dares Fate for Favorite Pipe Tobacco

Darby, Pa., November 12, 1929.

I have a mania for crawling through a number of unexplored caverns between the towns of Woodstock and Mt. Jackson in the Shenandoah Valley. One cave was exceedingly dangerous with its tight passages, etc. I spent three hours in this cavity, groping blindly with a "dead" flashlight and a severed guiding string.

Then my story short, I was finally rescued by a searching party after a terrible experience. It was a wonderful thing my friends that I would not go back in there for love nor money. I meant it—until I reached for my can of Edgeworth. It was gone and I recalled dropping something during the excitement in the cave.

It is queer what a man will do when his favorite tobacco is concerned. I realize that without my tobacco I would be as bad as being lost in the cavity, so I crawled back.

It was a grand and glorious feeling as I came in contact with the Agent of Tobacco.

Yours very truly,
Joseph P. Fink, Jr.
