IRRITATING
A blow in Tuesday and almost but thanks to a downtown paper creating a new lease of life publication in an afternoon by reporting the rumor that the editors were to receive the axe somewhere between the head and the body for their noble and blossomed forth with a second an only satisfied the hungry waiting with outstretched arms of the publication.

Editors are still in school, there are no reported resignations and members, and to date we had no report of suicides in any of our sorority houses.

HANDS OFF
Bi-annual itch Eczema permeates the campus Tuesday and all an editorial in a Lansing paper. It is quite evident that the spread rather rapidly. We find several suggesting rather forcibly editors be immediately ejected from school. Inasmuch as the authorities have taken no official regarding the publication, it is an outsider to refrain from opinions on subjects quite of his own circle. The administration has always been found very in handling disciplinary cases unsolicited advice.

A CHOICE
Present facilities provided in reading room of the library for keeping, we suggest that either a book be provided or else a large number of field glasses be placed in the end of the room. The present wouldn't make a decent watch for a canary bird. Perhaps the editors of Eczema will buy a book for the college out of the obtained on the publishing of paper.

HANDICAPPED
The year the University of Detroit team came to town and a football game winning by like three touchdowns. In station over their team's success, Detroit supporters took part in hand and applied a liberal of red paint on and around stage. A committee called to last night to discuss plans for using the State victory this year but on the best feasible plan remains the compliment. Inasmuch as the area of the Detroit business district is slightly larger than that boast here, no official action on the painting plan.

MAKING THE WAY EASIER
Steps to a college education are being reduced here so that there will be no excuse for anyone in college. With miles of sidewalks installed, improved no ban on automobiles, the of student life are being Of course there will be few who will need the aid of service on the campus, and clocks that can't be turned off down out the window. They have all been noted and they sent requests to start the dean and discuss the situation.

CHOOSE ARTISTS APPEARING ON CONCERT COURSE

Five Members, Including Musicians of International Note, Announced by Richards.

FIRST NUMBER JAN. 8

Announcement of the artists who are to appear on the new Michigan State Concert course, being instituted for the first time this year, was made this morning by Lewis Richards, dean of the music department. Five members have been scheduled and include musicians of international note. The concerts will be given in Demonstration hall.

The first number of the series coming January 8 will be the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, an organization which provided Demonstration hall on its first appearance here last fall. Victor Kozak is to conduct in place of Oestp Gabriellovich, who was in charge last year but who has been given a leave of absence for a year. Soloists on this program will be Michael Press, head of the violin department of the Music Institute, and world known concert violinist.

Madame Florence Austral, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company will be presented January 24. She is to be assisted by John Amato flautist. Madame Austral has achieved notable success in Wagnerian soprano roles and is considered one of the leading artists on the stage today. Her appearance as soloist with the Detroit Symphony orchestra last year was one of the outstanding events of the season in Detroit musical circles.

Following Madame Austral comes the Pro-Arte String Quartette of Brussels Belgium, a prominent European musical group. They are now playing on the continent, arriving in this country in January and appearing here after two concerts in Chicago. This group was brought to the United States by Mrs. F. S. Coolidge noted music patron of this country to appear at the Washington Festival of Music.

On March 19 Lewis Richards, director of the Michigan State Institute of Music and internationally known harpist and pianist, will appear with Philip Abbas, cellist in the department in a sonata recital. This concert will be of a somewhat novel character, not only because of the fact that both of the artists are members of the department here, but also in the program to be given. The first part of the program will consist of the harpichord and viola de gamba, predecessors of the piano and cello, while the last half (Continued on page 3.)

A joint meeting of alumni and friends of the University of Michigan and Michigan State college will be held at a banquet in the Union building, Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. Tad Wieman head football coach at the university has been asked to attend and Harry G. Kipke, Spartan grid mentor will also be present. Both coaches will speak along with Edward Shields and Glenn Stewart, secretary of the Michigan State Alumni association.

Committees for the banquet representing the university are Wilbur Seeley, George Donnell and Victor Patterson. Arthur Lyons, Plummer Mifflin, Fred Jensen and William Greagley will represent Michigan State.

The general public is welcome to attend this banquet and ladies are especially urged to attend. It is hoped by those in charge of arrangements to make this event an annual affair just prior to the yearly annual between the two leading schools of the state. It being carried out with a view of establishing friendlier relations between alumni of the two schools as well as the respective student bodies. A similar meeting will probably be held next year in Ann Arbor.

One of the women students at the University of Michigan who was active in successfully completing the campaign for the new Women's League building now under construction at Ann Arbor has been invited to speak at this convocation and relate her experience in the work. Dean Conrad also will take part in the meeting. Attendance will be taken.

"THE PATSY" TO BE STAGED SOON

Josephine Merrill and Bill Muller Play Leads in Second Production of Term.

"The Patsy" a sparkling comedy by Barry Conner, which will be presented at the State theatre sometime during the first week in December will be the second student production to be staged in East Lansing this term. The play is being sponsored by the campus dramatic society and is under the direction of Prof. E. S. King, head of the dramatics department.

An exceptional cast has been selected for the play and the story is such as to allow great opportunity for clever acting. The leading role is taken by Josephine Merrill in the part of Patricia Harrington who is the younger sister of Grace. Bill Muller, who took a leading part in the senior play last spring will take the leading part in the role of Tony Anderson. The parts of Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, who are typical home people, are taken by Alice Stewart and Tom Ramsdell. Ramsdell appears on the stage in the role of a grocery salesman. Grace Harrington, the snob of the family is played by Margaret Stephens. Lewis Studer who has also appeared in several Theta Alpha Phi productions, will play the part of Billy Caldwell and a smaller part will be taken by Josephine Flynn as Sadie Buchanan.

The story of the play is filled with light humor and romance combined with the quiet home life of the Harringtons, and the struggle of Patricia to win Tony Anderson from her more snobbish sister holds one's constant interest.

This play will probably be staged two weeks following the presentation of "Andrews." He Who Goes Staggered which will be presented on Tuesday evening, November 20th. The leading roles in this story of circus life are being taken by William Montgomery and Alice Teel. The entire casts of both plays is made of students, many of whom have had past experience before the footlights.

Since the Wright Players have left Lansing the college dramatic society is the only group within the vicinity of Lansing to stage plays and a large group of Lansing and East Lansing people are expected to attend as well as many students.

Two Marine Paintings Added To Library Art Gallery Exhibit

Two marine paintings were added this week to the exhibit in the gallery of the library. The two paintings were done by Professor Arnold G. Scheele, head of the art department, during his stay at Rockport, Mass., this summer. The larger of the two paintings was done in collaboration with Parker Perkins, a well-known marine painter who has studied the sea for nearly forty years, and who is ranked by some of the critics on a level with Frederick Waugh whose work has been shown here in special exhibits.

The larger of the two pictures is entitled "The North Atlantic" and because of the work that Prof. Scheele and Mr. Perkins did together on the painting it is signed with the initials of the two men. The painting catches the massiveness of the sea and the rocks and the urge of water. It tells a story of strength and the interpretation of shadows on the water creates a feeling of somberness which casts the entire setting in an atmosphere of dignity.

FIVE ARE NAMED TO INVESTIGATE CAMPUS SHEET

President R. S. Shaw Appoints Committee to Report on Eczema.

TO DETERMINE POLICY

A committee of five members was appointed by President Robert S. Shaw Wednesday to investigate and report on type of material which may be included in future issues of "The Eczema" publication of the initiates of Pi Delta Psi, national honorary journalistic fraternity.

This year's issue of "Eczema" brought forth much criticism, both from faculty members and students, and the object of the committee will be to come to a satisfactory agreement on the course to be pursued by future issues of the sheet.

Report of investigation and execution from school of the five men concerned in the publishing of last Tuesday's editions, which appeared in a Lansing paper Tuesday, was noted by President Shaw, who said that the article was the result of a misunderstanding.

Additional development in the situation was the appearance of a notice in the postoffice Wednesday morning excluding the publication from the mails as it was "considered inadvisable under section 450 of the postal laws, and therefore prohibited from being placed in the mails either sealed or unsealed" because violating the prohibition against being liable to fine or imprisonment.

Formal initiation into Pi Delta Psi of the men who published and sold the paper as a swindler was held Tuesday evening at the Union, following which a banquet was held. The men taken in included Harry Burris, Scott Ste. Marie, Meredith Clark, Voltaire, Herbert Hendry, Rodford, J. Wallace Clark, Rockford and Oscar Schuster, Manistowic.

Prof. A. H. Nelson of the English department heads the investigating committee with Robert A. McInnis, editor of the Michigan State News, M. W. Avery, president of the Y. M. C. A., Harry Burris, editor of the Wolverine and James H. Hasselman, director of publications, forming the remainder.

HUGE HORT SHOW TO START TODAY

Many Exhibits to Feature Show of Flowers, Fruit and Vegetables.

A feature of the vegetable show will be the "Five Vitamin Road to Health," in which a vegetable train will be set on a road containing five stations, each representing one of the vitamins. Vegetables containing the respective vitamins will be exhibited at each station, according to plans of the officials.

The Hort show has usually been held during Farmers' week in January but this year it was decided to hold it in connection with the fall flower show staged by the Michigan State Florists' association and other state floriculture societies.

It is expected that the flower show will be one of the most elaborate and extensive ever staged, according to Prof. Alex Laurie of the department. The affair will be the scene of the affair and work of decorating the building and arranging the shows was to begin this morning.

It is planned to build a roadside market as one of the displays. Prizes are being offered for both professional and amateur growers. Amateur entries will be made by students of the Michigan State Agricultural High School of the state.

It is also planned to have a home show in connection with the other exhibits. A great deal of interest is being shown by participants in the fruit show which is one of the phases of the horticulture exhibit. Entered in the fruit-vegetable contest are 27 high schools throughout the state, represented by teams with three persons on a team.

Prizes with a total value of $500 are being offered. Some of the prizes are in such and others are in the form of tree, farm journals, fruit sprays, implements, and other appropriate articles. Most of the prizes have been donated by the Michigan State Horticulture society and Lansing merchants.

These different kinds of fruit will be in the show apples, grapes, and pears. The affair is being held under student management with Oscar Dowd as general chairman and Professor Laurie as faculty advisor.

VARSIETY TO MEET STRONG TITAN TEAM TOMORROW

Kipke Finishes Week of Hard Drill in Preparation for U. of D.

LINEUP CHANGES

Leaving for Detroit Friday morning, the Michigan State football squad will go through a workout in the University of Detroit stadium this afternoon to finish their preparation for the annual tilt with the strong U. of D. aggregation which will be played at Detroit Saturday afternoon starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Interest runs high among the Spartan supporters as game time nears. According to the athletic department about 1,500 State rosters have ordered tickets for the game Saturday. The Michigan State 75 piece military band will leave early Saturday morning for the metropolis where it will "strut its stuff" before the game and between schools.

State hasn't had a victory over the University of Detroit football machine since 1923 when Coach Young took an under-rated eleven to Detroit and in a sea of mud the Spartans came out of the tilt with a victory by means of a safety scored in the initial quarter.

Detroit has had strong teams for the past five years and the Spartans have been unable to successfully gain against the Titans. Last year the metropolitan eleven came to East Lansing to be the feature in a Homecoming game. The Titans, with a powerful offensive drive, put four touchdowns over while the Spartans obtained but one, the score being 27-7. With many of their last year's squad again in uniform the Detroit team has gone through the season thus far undefeated. Five teams have gone down to defeat at the hands of the Detroit crew this year. As Coach Kipke's men have no such record behind them, naturally the Titans are favored to win. However, every loyal Spartan knows that a fighting team will be on the field for the honor of the Green and White and will be playing to win.

For the past two weeks Coach Kipke has been pointing to the Detroit game which is expected to be one of the hardest of the year. Hard practice has been on the board all week for the Spartan gridgers and the entire squad with the exception of possibly one is in the pink of condition. Duke Schau, regular Spartan fullback, returned to scrimmaging this week after a two weeks layoff because of injuries. His return is expected to bolster up the team on defense as well as offense.

REPRESENTATION

According to the announcement of the athletic department there has been about fifteen hundred tickets sold for the University of Detroit game tomorrow at Dimeen Field. The great majority of these purchasing were members of the student body.

This means that about half of Michigan State college will move into Detroit Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, many remaining until Sunday. With this group will go the responsibility of upholding the reputation of this college not only in matters of sportsmanship at the game but also, and most important, in conduct afterwards.

It is the way of the world that the actions of but one member of a group of this nature if laws of conduct are violated, will be taken by the city of Detroit as representative of Michigan State college and its students. This vagary of public opinion is unfortunate but true. Its attitude toward this institution can have a most beneficial or harmful effect on the future welfare and progress of the college.

Editor of the Forum:

Any person or agency, be it a news sheet or what not, is to be commended for taking a definite stand on a question of importance and putting forth that stand in a straightforward manner.

The State News did that thing in a recent editorial and certain members of a Smith for president group bitterly protested. I presume they would have our editorials devoted to a full and frank discussion of the weather.

At Smith has good characteristics of course or he would not have been nominated for the highest public office in the United States. It seems that commencing and emphasizing these characteristics would have produced more votes for Smith than criticizing an editorial policy.

It would be interesting to know who our students are that the great United States principle of freedom of the press does not apply to.

Finally, every journalist delivers up from his editor or his paper that does not back opinions or feature opinions in too weak to give expression to them.

"Making a blindfold test is like conducting a movie tryout. But in this competition I found my star 'right off the reel.' I named Old Gold for the lead part the moment I tasted its thrilling flavor and its soothing gentleness to the tongue and throat."

Dick Barthelmess

RICHARD BARTHELMESS endeavored to smoke a cigarette over for his superb acting in such First National pictures as "The Patent Leather Kid," "The Name" and "Out of the Blues."

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

MR. BARTHELMESS was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, slapping his face with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

Why you can pick them

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves, rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the heart-leaves are used in OLD GOLD.

Cultural Trend Eclipses Social Affairs This Week

Interest of the student body has been centered in politics this past week rather than in society. Highway Handlers Would Be Organized in Manner

Every year statistics show hundreds of people flock to Broadway and try to beat it. Some achieve their ambition but more of them do not. The use of their names in electric signs flashing along the world famous mile is just as effective a magnet to them as it is to those of the opposite sex who migrate to Hollywood in quest of screen fame.

Pipe Convert Ends Agonizing Tobacco Hunt

Laura & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:

I started smoking on cigarettes, but after smoking a going lady for whom men who smoked pipes had a greater charm, I promptly switched to one.

Then my aging began. I tried one brand of tobacco after another, all were smoking to me, but they that the more you paid for tobacco, the better it would be.

I tried imported special mixture. I paid as much as fifty cents a ounce. All to no avail.

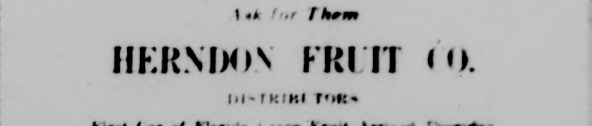

Then came the day I tried Edgeworth. It was at a bad game. I had run short of the certain brand I was smoking, and a casual acquaintance offered me a pipeful from his pouch.

Imagine my delight when after the first few puffs I did not feel the old familiar bite. I puffed on, making the delightful aroma and my boy! It was sweet right down to the bottom.

Nothing has separated me from my pipe, or my pipe from Edgeworth, since then.

Yours very truly signed, David Friedman, Jr.

Edgeworth Extra High Grade Smoking Tobacco

Due to the many requests which have come to the music department for reserved seats, a number of sections will be reserved, although there will be plenty of unreserved seats both on the first floor and balcony of the Music Institute where the concerts are to be given.

Prices to be charged for reserved seats for the entire season will be students, day seats, faculty, $1.00 and the public, $1.50.

That this concert course has aroused much attention is shown by the fact that even previous to the announcement of the program, requests have been received from musical organizations in various cities of the state for seats.

The board of directors of the Music Institute, who added Lewis Richards in choosing the numbers for that it can be compared very favorably with any other concert list in the country. The course is unique in the varied program offered as it gives numerous phases of music to the students.

In commenting on the series, Lewis Richards stated that "this is only one of the many cultural advantages which the Music Institute wishes to achieve for the student body of Michigan State College."

STATE INTERCOLLEGIATE X-COUNTRY IS SATURDAY

The annual State Intercollegiate cross country run will be held over the Michigan State college course Saturday morning. Ypsilanti, champions last year, Detroit City college, Western State Normal and all M. I. A. A. schools are entering teams.

Ypsilanti is hoped to repeat last year's victory. Last week the Ypsilanti Teachers took the first five places in the M. I. A. A. cross country meet.

Michigan State is not allowed to enter its varsity team in this meet, so Coach Mason is entering a reserve team but does not expect his runners to cut much figure in the scoring.

VARSITY TO MEET STRONG TITAN TEAM TOMORROW

(Continued from page 1) George Ferrari, veteran tackle who has been out of the game all season on account of injuries, is again ready for an assignment and mixed into the practices this week will be a sample of the form he displayed in bills last season. Injured is the possible exception so far as injuries go.

The regular State center suffered a broken nose in the Mississippi game and has been out of scrimmage most of the week. However, it is expected that Inwood will be able to get into the game again Saturday.

Freshmen teams trotted out against the varsity each night during the past week to give the Spartans scrimmage drill. Detroit plays executed by a picked group of the frosh gave the green and white men a chance to look over the Titan play. At the same time another frosh team was put on defense while the Spartan offense was allowed to try out and polish up their running, punting, and passing attack. Charles VanderVoort and Willson also gave the line men plenty of blocking and blocking practice in the early stages of the drills each day while the backfield men practiced the cutting of punts.

When the starting whistle blows tomorrow afternoon at Detroit it is expected that Coach Kipke will have a different combination on the field than has started in the previous games. In the backfield a shakeup has been made owing to the return of Behau. Duziger will be at the fullback post while it is expected that Behau will be at right halfback position. Grove will be at left half and will do the punting duties as usual. Carl Nordberg will again call signals for the Spartans. The placing of Duziger and Behau in the backfield at the same time will give the State ten ma backfield averaging about 175 pounds. This added poundage will help when the team is on defense as both men are good at backing up the line. Also it will give Kipke two passers, Behau and Nordberg. With Grove to do the punting and Nordberg the brunt of the end running the Spartan backfield should be well fortified in all departments. The line will be intact except at one post. Present indications are that George Ferrari will assume his right tackle position for the first time this year. Last year Ferrari played regularly at tackle but his injuries early in the season, Captain Hornbeck and Archie Christensen will start at the flanks while the guards will be taken care of by Mosler and Hinchings with Bill in readiness to be put in if either should be needed. Inwood will take care of the pivot position. This line will average around 198 pounds.
