

The Blarney Stone

PICTURES
Sunday morning nearly everyone in college had his or her picture taken at least some resemblance of it. Clear for the yearbook. Some of them once, some twice, and some four or five times. There was a more or less strained look noticeable in some of those posing before the camera possibly due to the fact that the picture was setting the house back five bucks and a half.

SO WE HEAR
Last week the excusing office distributed an assignment of "cuts" none about the campus and a few of them found their way into the hands of several individuals on the campus. Although of course, they were sent in the way of expressing kindly congratulations of the day, they mean just what they say, that you have been edited with so many "cuts" and that these kinds of breach of campus etiquette mean a negative credit.

JUST ONE
After the completion of this edition, the reading public will be troubled with just one more wave of the more commonly called Blarney Stone. You of the aforesaid reading public will undoubtedly be relieved to greater extent than the promoters of this bi-weekly column, and so after this Friday we can all draw a long breath and rest in peace for a while.

BULLETIN
Along with other improvements indicated in the Union we find a bulletin conspicuously placed. All events are placed in the Union within the hour are posted on the board, and to it, we won't have to scratch heads at a late hour in search of news for the Campus Calendar.

WE MISSED IT
We forgot to announce for the benefit of our readers with the more or less human tendencies that Sunday, March 17 was none other than the day of our patron saint, St. Patrick. With the official notice, however, we noticed that those so inclined appeared with bits of green and Shamrock in conspicuous places. It's bad we haven't a statue of old St. Patrick on that lonely spire on campus.

SPOT NEWS
Phoenix, Ariz.—(By Special Wire)—"Bucky" Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, announced late afternoon that the Tigers would leave the American league pennant. His reasons are that George Macier and Max "Whitey" Johnson refused to sign contracts and to a bush league up in Michigan.

OPTIMISTIC US
Although you may be down in the dumps and blues as the spring draws to its close, finding you behind in outside reading, leaving the home stretch with but a prayer and a rabbit foot for guide—cheer up. You'll come next term and it will be spring again start all over again getting behind in outside reading and have ten weeks before you'll have to worry about the triennial blue books that goes with it. HORT DEPARTMENT PROFS WRITE ILLUSTRATED TEXT

Messrs. Alex Laurie and J. B. Edwards of the department of horticulture are the authors of a new 147 page text entitled "Fertilizers for Greenhouse and Garden Crops," just published by the A. T. DeMarate Co. of New York city. It is the only book that we have on this subject and brings together much material that is new. It is written in popular style and is intended alike for florists, truck farmers and amateurs who are interested in the production of garden and ornamental plants.

STATE BOARD TO PRESENT AWARDS FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Call Convocation to Award Honor Students and Present Election Candidates.

CONVO IS TOMORROW

The state board of agriculture will award the Michigan State college scholarships to the men and women students who at the close of the junior year have shown the best scholastic record considered in its broadest sense regardless of the course pursued at the special convocation scheduled for Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in the gymnasium. Several special prizes will also be awarded at the convocation, at which time the candidates for campus offices will also be introduced to the student body.

It is expected that the entire board of agriculture will be on the platform for the convocation, while the awards themselves will be presented by the various heads of the departments in which the recipients are enrolled.

Morris J. Blivin, 29, of Hastings, electrical engineer, will receive one of the college scholarships amounting to $100, and Erma G. Holmes, 22, of Lansing, home economics, will receive the $100 award for women. Ralph H. Fry, 29, of Lansing, chemical engineer, and Marian A. Dammon, 28, of Lansing, liberal arts, will receive the second prizes amounting to $50.

The Ellen B. Judson scholarship, amounting to the interest from $1,000, will be awarded to Helen I. Worth, 30, of Lansing, a home economics student. This scholarship is awarded to the student attaining the highest and best standing in needlework at the close of her sophomore year.

The Marjitha Judson scholarship, amounting to the interest from $1,000, will be given to Marjorie Zenne, 30, of Caro, who is a home economics student. This scholarship is awarded to the student attaining the highest and best standing in domestic science at the close of the sophomore year.

The Applied Science scholarship prize will be given to Ogden F. Edwards, 31, of Leelanau, an applied science student. This scholarship is given annually to the sophomore student in applied science who, during his freshman year, has made the best progress.

In Race For Business Manager

Joe Retter

Joe Retter, a graduate of Adrian high school, has been assistant business manager of the State News for the past year and is now a candidate for the office of business manager. While in high school he was connected with the business staff of the Adrian Daily Telegram and was business manager of his high school annual.

During his three years at State he has been quite active in campus activities, being chairman of the tickets committee for the 1929 Union Revue and a member of the advertising committee for the 1928 Union Revue.

Retter has had charge of the Union desk for the last two years. He is a member of Eclectic society.

NOTICE

Varsity and freshman swimming team pictures for the Wolverine will be taken on Wednesday at the gym.

Ray Jennings

Ray Jennings, candidate for business manager of the State News in the present all-college election, graduated from Lansing high school, where he served as vice-president of the junior class, president of the student council, and as a member of the business staff of the school annual.

He has served on the business staff of the News for the past two years, spending the last year as advertising manager.

Jennings has taken an active part in college affairs, being treasurer of the junior class, chairman of student relations committee of the Union board, chairman of the J-Hop finance committee, and a member of the Military Ball committee. For the past three years he has been closely connected with the Union productions, and during the last year managed the program advertising and assisted in the production of "The Twelve Mile Limb." He is a member of the Union Literary society.

Student Officers for Coming Year to Be Selected Thursday

POLLS TO BE IN UNION

The heaviest vote in the history of the college is expected to be made at the polls in the Union building Thursday when student officers for the coming year will be selected, according to Verne Dickson, president of the student council.

Previously there has been a somewhat light vote cast in comparison with the size of the student body. This year interest has been high in the selection which is to be made. "Because of the necessity of choosing the proper representatives to carry on the advancement which has been made in the various student activities during the past year, we hope that every student will appear at the polls Thursday and express their choice of candidates," says President Dickson.

Paramount among the offices to be chosen will be that of editor and business manager of the Michigan State News. The editorial candidates are Joe Porter and Paul Troth, while the choice of business manager rests between Ray Jennings and Joe Retter. All four men have had considerable experience in their respective fields.

Attention has also been centered on the student council race, especially the selection which is to be made by the junior class. From the three men who are to be chosen, next year's president of the council will be selected. This office, however, will not be filled until next term when both the old and new council will make the choice. Those in this race include Leland Cribbs, John Gould, Harold Hannah, and Henry Morse. The sophomores will have two men as their representatives from Douglas Carruthers, John Knight, Charles Ladd, and Roy Sample.

Due to the discovery this morning of the ineligibility of Russell Swanson, freshman candidate for student council, a last minute change was necessitated in the freshman ballot. The next highest man in the class eliminations, Kenneth Lafavette, was substituted. The other candidate for this position is Dale Vaughan.

Candidates will vote on the president of the W. S. G. A. the candidates for which include Dora Anderson and Winifred Kalkthaler. Also the vice-president, treasurer and secretary are to be chosen. Candidates for W. A. A. president are Frances Lamb and Shirley Miller.

For the first time in several years the co-ed editor of the State News will be chosen by the entire student body.

RUSH WORK ON COLLEGE ANNUAL

Work on the final stages of the Wolverine is being materially hampered by the failure of seniors and sophomores to keep picture appointments, says Lewis Snider, editor of the college year book, who is making an urgent plea for student cooperation in this matter. Snider also said that he is setting the first day of the spring term as the deadline for final payment on the Wolverine fee.

All members of the senior class who have not been allotted a picture appointment should notify Roselle Wrisley, Kappa Delta house, before the middle of next week in order to insure being included in the class pictures. Appointments for the sophomore class have been closed according to Snider, and the proofs of members of that class must be returned immediately.

The first day of the spring term has been designated as the date on which members of the student body must make the final payment on their Wolverine fee. As a convenience to students who do not intend returning to school in the next term, Snider has arranged to get their copy to them provided they have paid the entire fee before leaving, plus the postage rate.

AT THE POLLS THURSDAY

All day Thursday, the polls for the all-college election will be open in the lobby of the Union building, when the student body will have the opportunity to indicate their choice of office holders for the coming year.

In previous years it has been found that an average of only about 50 per cent of the students deposit their selections in the ballot box on election day. In other words, only half of them are sufficiently interested in the positions at stake to help choose those who will govern them.

Although this surpasses somewhat the average in election of public officials, students of a college are a much more compact group where a closer relationship exists. A correspondingly greater interest in group affairs should be present.

These offices to be filled are of sufficient campus importance to require the attention of everyone. Upon the men elected to the positions will devolve the responsibilities of maintaining and developing student government, furthering the progress toward ultimate independence. The quality of both contemporary and future student government must in a great measure rely upon them.

It behooves each student to use the franchise and to have a voice in the election. Let every one vote.

COUNCIL PASSES HAZING RULES

Dickeson Signs Regulations Governing Freshmen-Sophomore Relations.

The student council of Michigan State college in its last business meeting passed the following regulations governing the conduct of hostilities between the freshman and sophomore classes.

"The practice of hazing is now discarded in most of the leading schools of the country. The student council of Michigan State college calls to your attention the following regulations:

"1. Any student guilty of hazing a freshman other than for the purpose of entering an acknowledged tradition will be brought before the student council for action.

"2. Any freshman guilty of flagrant violation of traditions, or of inciting a member or members of any other class, will be brought before the student council for action.

"3. Inasmuch as the reputation of Michigan State college must be preserved, any cases of rowdiness not covered by these regulations will be dealt with severely.

"4. The foregoing resolutions, as adopted by the student council, shall not be construed as removing from the sophomore class the duty of policing the freshman class for the enforcement of campus traditions.

"We respectfully request your cooperation in bringing the standards of Michigan State college up to a high level.

Soph Prom Marks Close of All-College Formal Parties

Arresting the attention of campus society during the past week-end the Sophomore Prom has very successfully climaxed another winter term's social season. An annual affair, it is certain that this year's Prom has been enjoyed by no previous event of its kind for never before has a Sophomore Prom committee attained such unique or elaborate effects. Those who attended the party agreed that it marked another never-to-be-forgotten evening in their lives with an affair which may easily be classed among the brilliant parties of the year. A great deal of credit must be given to Frank White as general chairman, and to Claude Streb for his very creditable work as chairman of the decorations committee.

Entertaining their guests in the Union ballroom Saturday evening, the members of the sophomore class had a very effective and charming setting for their one big party of the year. The decorations were attractive, and the music was excellent. The party was a great success, and the Sophomore Prom committee is to be congratulated for their efforts.

The novelty-favor programs, which were distributed at the party, were of a futuristic design carrying out the main color theme of blue and gold. The party started at 8:30 and lasted until 12 o'clock.

Patrons for the affair included Maj. and Mrs. Thomas-Stahle and Prof. and Mrs. Harry G. Kipke, while the guests of honor list were the names of President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, and Mrs. H. H. Halladay and Dean Gabrieli Conrad.

Saturday evening was the date for the formal dinner dance of the Ero Alumnus society which was held in the Wisteria room of the Hotel Olds. The menu was laid for 50 couples at tables which were very attractively decorated with spring flowers and tapers. Bob and Betty Cotton Pickers played for the dancing from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. The dance favors were in the form of cigarette humidor.

Col. and Mrs. T. L. Colburne and Mrs. Colburne were on the patron list, while honor guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Nelson. The Union Literary society also held a formal dinner dance Saturday evening in the main ballroom of the Hotel Olds. Very popular was VanDuren's orchestra from Holland, which, in its appearance in campus events, has quite a sensation. Betty Fairbanks appeared with it in several special numbers. About 50 couples dined at tables decorated in red and white. Among the patrons were Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Hinwood and Mrs. P. H. DeVries, and Mrs. B. F. VanAlstyne, while the guests were Harry Burris, and Sutherland of Plymouth, and Spencer of Holland. Return alumni included Monty Hood, Clyde Mickey, Coan, P. J. Dendel, Prof. Gallagher, L. W. Rothberg, and Blackmer of Monroe. Program very charming in the form of a book compact decorated with a fraternity seal.

Playboys furnished the music for the dancing at the Upsilon formal dance Saturday evening. The party was held in the Wisteria room of the Hotel Olds with Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Huston and Prof. and Mrs. B. R. Bergquist acting as patrons. The party was a great success, and the Upsilon fraternity is to be congratulated for their efforts.

SET HORT CLUB BANQUET FOR WEDNESDAY EVENING COMPLETE PLANS FOR CO-ED PROM

Interesting Program Planned for Unusual Event; Several Speakers Listed.

The Horticultural club will hold its annual banquet Wednesday, March 20, in the Union building at 6:30 p. m. The main talk of the evening will be given by H. P. Gaston, marketing specialist of the horticultural department, who has had many interesting experiences in his studies of marketing of fruits and vegetables.

Mr. Gaston has recently published a bulletin entitled "Roadside Marketing in Michigan." At the present time he is studying markets in Detroit. Other speakers will be Prof. V. R. Gardner, F. C. Bradford, R. H. Kelly, and Alex Laurie of the horticultural department. Irwin Klein will act as toastmaster for the evening.

This banquet is usually held during the spring term. It is being held early in this year because several seniors are graduating this term. The committee on arrangements consists of J. B. Richards, Leslie Zeman, and Oscar Dowd.

Annual "Manless" Party Set for Friday Night, March 22; Stunts to Feature.

Plans for the "Co-ed Prom," the annual "manless" party have been completed under the chairmanship of Miss Jessie Castle, and now it remains only for the co-eds to do their best to make the party a success. In the past, the "manless" party has been a very successful one, and many stunts and games have been planned. The party will be held in the Old Armory on Friday night, March 22, from 8:00 until 12:00.

The decorations for the affair are to be of a modernistic character, and the party will be quite unusual. They will be centered chiefly on the platform for the evening.

FORESTERS SELECT DATES OF ANNUAL EVENTS

At the annual foresters' elections, April 27 was the date selected for the annual foresters' field day, with the yearly shindig winding things up in the evening.

At the elections, Ray Bower became chief forester, Leonard Beltz his assistant, and Al Sump chief of records and accounts.

Prof. F. C. Strong gave an illustrated talk on blisters, rust, white pine, while P. W. Robbins told of the progress of the Dunbar Forest experimental station, located near Sault Ste. Marie.

It is rumored that, next Friday evening, the campus is to be assailed by a gang of convicts, each with a striped suit, ball chain, and everything.

Lock the doors? Oh, no, don't bother. They won't be particularly likely to break in. For the convict stunt is merely that of one of the societies for the Co-ed Prom, and the balls attached to the ankles of these hardened cases will bounce lightly along as they walk. They'd have to be balloons, it might somewhat complicate dancing to have a 20-pound weight on one's ankle.

The convicts will be followed and surrounded, if our co-ed prom observations hold true this year, by chorus girls, ladies and gentlemen dressed as everything from Napoleon to Salome, and an entire zoo of white rabbits, teddy bears, and creatures never seen on land or sea, but fondly believed to be ostriches, zebras, and what not.

Dangerous Dan McGrew will dance with Little Eva and the Queen of Sheba will be led out by Buster Brown, while Solomon sits one out across the room with Mary Queen of Scots.

All in all it's quite a party—and not a man in the place! It's the one "manless" party, and the one costume party on campus of the year. Here the co-ed and oftentimes, too, the dignified faculty member or dean, acts as ally as she pleases for one night in every three terms.

The prom won't be complete unless it's crashed, of course. Sometimes they get in and sometimes they don't. Last year they didn't. The youth of the campus seems consumed with the desire to see its girl friend in prison suits, tramp overalls, and whatnot.

We may have rustic costumes at this year's prom. Almost everything else connected with the party is that way. Decorations are modernistic, oddly-angled posters are slapped all over the campus, announcing to all and sundry that the co-ed prom will take place on Friday, and all together there's a lot of modernism, not to mention futurism, connected with it.

And we, personally, like it that way.

JIM VAN ZYLEN TO CAPTAIN 1929-1930 BASKETBALL AGGREGATION

Grand Haven Man Chosen at Meeting of Court Team Monday Night.

TEN MEN RECEIVE LETTERS

James H. Van Zulen of Grand Haven, who has served two seasons as a forward on Coach Ben Van Alstyne's court squad, was elected captain of the 1929-30 quintet by his teammates, Monday night. This blonde basketballer has been a mainstay for two seasons. Awards for both the varsity and freshman squads were announced Saturday.

After spending some time on the bench at the close of the season just passed because of an injured leg, he made a final drive in the Marquette game and collected 11 points to bring his total up to 91 which clinched second place to Art Hahn in the scoring honors for the season. The latter gathered 90 points.

Van Zulen's floor work and eye for baskets have been a real asset to the Spartans cage force. He will be well fitted to lead the Van Alstyne coached team through a winning season.

Those who were given the "S" for basketball were: Capt. Carl R. Felt, Vern C. Dickson, Leroy G. Russo, Fred J. Don Herder, Don B. Grove, James H. Van Zulen, Edward C. Taylor, Art J. Hahn, Roger R. Grist and Edward W. Scott. Valda R. Anderson was given a managerial letter for his three years of stick on the squad.

Freshmen to be awarded with numerous in basketball were: Randall D. Dees, Harold S. Culbertson, Henry DeHann, Harold R. Green, Lee W. Pimble, John Vanderploeg. Service credits went to Raymond A. Bredin, Clifford A. Carlson, Edward J. Killoran.

M'ATEE, BROWN STAR AT RELAYS

Hackney Places Third in Half Mile for Spartan Thinclads.

Two Spartan track men captured two individual places at the 19th annual Illinois indoor relays at Champaign, Ill., Saturday. Harold M'Attee, State mile runner, went over the bar at 13 feet 4 inches for second place to Tom Warner of Northwestern who leaped 13 feet 7 3/4 inches for a few worlds indoor record for the pole vault with a dirt approach. The two-rod run saw Lewis Hackney, Spartan half-mile runner, lose to Michigan and M'Attee of Kansas State Teachers to the top for third place. The Green and White four mile relay team was just outside the winning column in fifth place.

Only an injured wrist caused M'Attee to slip at the height he did for the easily cleared 13 feet 4 inches to score. Because of his wrist he landed and landed this giving him a severe cut. Last Saturday's jump broke the Spartan vaulters' varsity record by 1.8 of an inch. It is thought that when M'Attee gets outside this spring he will come close to 14 feet.

The Spartan four mile relay team composed of Clark Chamberlain, Lauren Brock, Theodore Willmarth and Meredith Clark, who ran in the order named, were lodged in fifth place by the Indiana record breaking quartet who were pushed by Indiana's squad Notre Dame and Wisconsin also came between State's squad and first place. The winning time was 17:53 3-10.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR FENCE MEET

44 Entries Received for Statewide Fencing Tournament March 23.

The Spartan Fencers' club is making final preparations this week for the statewide fencing tournament to be held in the home gymnasium March 23. Forty-four entries had been received by the committee in charge of registrations at the end of last week, while a few more are expected to come in before Saturday.

The tournament should be highly interesting in view of the fact that four classes of weapon artists will compete. The senior class includes fencing coaches and fencers of high reputation who have a similar amount of experience make up the junior class. All women fencers are included in the ladies class, while freshmen and others who lack experience fall in the novice group.

Three famous fencers, Duisterhof, Sauer and Joseph Waffa, who are the only entries in the senior class at the present time, will give the spectators a few thrills when they clash Saturday. Duisterhof and Sauer are expected to put up one of the prettiest foil battles to be seen anywhere. Duisterhof received the degree of Master of Fencing in Holland while Sauer was three-weapon American champion in 1916.

Kalamazoo will be represented by Duisterhof, senior Ashby and Badford, juniors. Mrs. Ashby, a very prominent woman fencer, Miss Crumm, and Miss Sheekleton, ladies class. University of Detroit will depend on DeFeuer and Schmitter, both in the novice group. The Detroit Fencing club is sending Miss Mary Houstoy. The Spartan representation will be the largest on the floor, including Coach Waffa, senior, 6 juniors, 8 girls, and 8 novice fencers.

Following the tournament a dance will be held in the gymnasium annex in honor of the visiting fencers. During the evening medals will be awarded to the winners in each class.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL TITLE DECIDED IN SPARTAN TANK

National Champs Swamp Field; Compete for Class B Title First Time.

Highland Park, national high school swimming champions, carried off the Class A state championship for the second successive time in the Spartan natatorium by an overwhelming score. The high school swimmers snatched every record on the boards. Ballard of Detroit Northern who broke both the 50 and 100 yard free style records, was the only double winner of the meet. The Highland Park mermen annexed all the remaining first places including both relay events.

The point scores finished in the following order: Highland Park, 51; Detroit Northern, 29; Detroit Northwest, 17; Bedford, 11; Detroit Central, 3; Southwestern, 2; Flint Central, 2; Kalamazoo Central, 1.

The Class B title, in competition for the first time, was captured by Ypsilanti Roosevelt with a total of 51 points. East Grand Rapids took second with 18 points, and Fordson, Wyandotte and Coloma finished in that order. Since this was the first time the B swimmers were in competition all their marks are State records.

W. A. A. ATHLETES GIVEN HONORS

Irene Chapin and Phyllis Trautman Make Honor Roll while 12 Girls Receive "S."

Awards of honor were presented at the luncheon which was served to the Women's Athletic association Saturday noon in the Woman's building. Florence Bonham, president of the association, acted as toastmistress and introduced a short program of addresses and music.

Miss Jane Darland, dancing teacher of the physical education department, gave an introductory talk on "Orchestra," a dancing society the slogan of which is "the promotion and development of expression in the individual through art." Sailor Gets This Tobacco in Far Port

Buenos Aires, Argentine, Jan. 4, 1928.

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va., U. S. A. Gentlemen:

I'm a seafarer, and as such of course travel quite a lot. Right now I am in the Argentine, and am glad to say that I can here purchase your beloved Edgeworth Tobacco, of which I'm so very fond.

It is indeed a pity that one can't find this good smoke in every place of the seven seas. While recently in Germany, my home-country, I tried in vain to come upon one of these little blue tins. I'm not saying too much in mentioning that I would outwalk that famous mile, hunting up dear Edgeworth. I dare say there is no other tobacco like it, and am convinced that Edgeworth cannot be improved.

Let me know when you contemplate ceasing to make Edgeworth so that I may lay in a goodly store to last till I'm seventy.

May Edgeworth never change! I'll always remain Sincerely yours, Willie Schmokies

Edgeworth Extra High Grade Smoking Tobacco

Walter Worthley Goodhue, 31, civil engineer of Grandville, N. H., will be given the Tau Beta Pi prize.

At the convocation the candidates for State News editor, State News business manager, student council, Michigan State Union board, and W. S. G. A. officers will be introduced from the platform by Vern Dickson, president of the student council.

Psychology Instructor Discusses Defects of Liberal Education

"Too much emphasis is placed upon remembering things up to the time of the tests. After that they may be forgotten," says Wayne Dennis, instructor in applied psychology, in a discussion on the various defects of a liberal education.

Two other things are nothing definite to work for. The courses are too general. If more stress were placed upon reasons why a student should remember things offered to him, a much broader knowledge would be carried away from the classroom.

"The great variety of courses offered in a liberal education are of no value except where a transfer of training takes place. This happens only when an identical element occurs in later life, which is far too seldom. Thus a course in mathematics is of no value to a lawyer, for he is interested only in presenting his case while a mathematician is interested in the truth," Dennis avers.

"The trouble with language courses in a general college education is that they stress no purpose. Languages are a person like a profession. As yet we should be offered to prepare the student with a knowledge of a language needed in some special field. In some universities, courses are being given to teach a reading knowledge of the language, which is a step for the better."

Excuses for the policy of liberal education pursued in advanced schools can be summed up in three statements. First, a need for social prestige. This is not wrong for most of us need all we can get. Second, to get a person's intelligence measurement. If one can survive the rigors of a college career he has a good chance to succeed in later life. Third, to be able to turn your hand to a great number of things as they may come up later. This is more perfect in theory than in practice.

"Theoretically, in a thousand years we can train any individual in any way that we wish. We will be able to make a person like a profession. As yet we have no practical way."
