SPARTANS DOWN ALBION MONDAY WITH NEW LINEUP

Methodists on Short End of 9-1
Score in Easy Game.

KAHL PITCHES THRUOUT State Improves Hitting with Ten Hits; Gibbs and Pevic Star.

The Michigan State baseball team downed Albion in an easy battle Monday when the Spartans defeated the Methodists, 9-1.

Kahl again pitched all the way for State, setting the visitors down with six strikes and striking out four. Albion used two hurlers against State, but failed to hold the Spartans.

State's hitting has improved considerably since their slump, the team scoring ten hits off the incoming pitcher. Gibbs led the Spartans' batting with a single and a triple in three trips to the plate. Pevic followed with a single and a double in four times up, getting a double to his credit.

The Albion aggregation, although they made only four errors, played a game of ball and went wild at various times.

A rejuvenated line-up went on the diamond Monday for State. Crall played at the premier sack, with Watkins in second and Pevic at third. This combination looked well. Jerry Byrne was stationed out in left field.

Excitement was added to the game in the second when Albion made a double killing by tossing Byrne out at second and catching Bernard at first in the fifth. The Spartans stopped a possible run by making a double play.

The Methodists only run was brought in the ninth when Zimmerman connected safely for two bases. He stole third and came home on a passed ball. A strikeout and two plays to first ended the game.

TO THE CO-EDS

For some time the women students here have enjoyed the use of the women's lounge in the Union. This lounge was originally provided by the alumnae and is one place on the campus that belongs entirely to the co-eds. The room has been used a great deal by the women students and little thought has been given to it by them except the fact that it was there and open to their use.

Now a rumor is afloat that the co-eds may lose the use of the lounge. Not because it is needed for some other purpose or that anyone wishes to take away a good thing, but solely because the co-eds are said to have abused the privilege and have not been careful in the use of the room.

The lounge is a perfectly appointed one, restful, and certainly worth any effort to keep it for the women students. It is easy to use a room properly if one takes into consideration the fact that it exists only through courtesy of the alumnae and is not a matter of course handed down from class to class. If the co-eds are to keep the room they must be more considerate of it and not abuse the privilege extended by people who seldom use the room themselves but have been kind enough to allow co-eds to benefit by its existence.

DISCOURAGING TO THEM

If there is one man in East Lansing who is keenly hurt by the showing of the baseball team, that one man should be and is John Kobs, baseball coach. Kobs has banked on a winning team. Certain men who were standbys on last year's nine have not come up to the expectations of their coach. Some of these men who were hitting a fast pace in the spring training, have withered and fallen by the wayside. If there was ever an organization on the campus that needed the whole-hearted support of the student body in such a crisis as this it is John Kobs and his baseball team.

John Kobs has turned out championship teams here. He is a proven quantity. His present aggregation is potentially a fine team. He has an ace in Jerry Byrne, as good a catcher in Faber Barnard since the time of Perry Fremont. In Al Sachs and Bud Gibbs he has two fine outfielders who if given a break are better than 300 hitters. Gibbs is just at that figure and Sachs, who is the most natural hitter on the team, is well below the 200 mark. Knutzel hit around 400 on the southern trip and fielded like a veteran. Although still leading the team it is not because of his recent hitting.

Bob McAuley was one of the best hitters on last year's team. To date he has four hits and his mark is far below .275. His hitting has been at times sensational but he has not approached his peak. Captain Eggert has been a disappointment at second in recent games but still he is hitting over .300. Mary is a good second baseman when in his stride.

Kobs is doing all in his power to correct the mechanical errors of the team but it remains for the student body to give the team the needed support to correct the mental hazards which apparently is the one big thing in the way of the team.

When we make a mistake in front of one or two people we know how low we feel but put yourself in the place of a baseball player who commits a "lousehead" in front of fifteen hundred people and you may have some indication of how "down in the mouth" the Michigan State baseball team is at present.

AMBITION

A member of the class of 1930 of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, has announced that he will run for governor of that state in ten years. A club has been formed which will back him during his campaign, and it already has more than one hundred members. In short, it is merely a case of an ambitious youth who wants to make himself a governor, and who has the bright idea of making his name before the public eye early in the game.

As one might expect, however, there are already men who have become his enemies, and some of them are on the campus of his own university. "Cannot one start something new—something which promises to bear fruit—unless someone becomes jealous or skeptical and begins to oppose him?" The answer is, by virtue of the experiences of the ages past, he cannot. Such opposition may be justified in case the starter of the new idea is absolutely wrong. In the case mentioned, however, the youth himself, according to reports, is capable and worthy. The only reason for the opposition, then, is that some of his classmates are inclined toward jealousy when they see another of their number forge ahead and do things.

Jealousy is an enemy that ambition must combat no matter where or when it makes itself shown. Perhaps the Creator put in that element to make the way harder for the ambitious youth, thereby affording a greater appreciation of his deed when it is finished. Nevertheless, for a good reason or not, opposition is there in all cases, and must be fought. The truly ambitious youth should, then, fight all the harder when he meets it—Purdue Export.

STATEWIDE AUTO INSPECTION MAY 20

A statewide inspection of automobiles will be carried on between May 20 and June 20, according to an announcement by the Michigan Safety Council. All cars will be inspected and approved by official stations appointed by the council.

Following a campaign which was staged last summer to make safe all the automobiles on the Michigan highways, it was decided to continue the work this year. The inspection of cars will take place during the campaign period and those who fail to have their automobiles checked and made safe will be liable to arrest and fine for violating the state vehicle law.

A "certificate of inspection" will be placed on all cars which pass the safety requirements. All motorists are asked to cooperate in having their cars checked during the early part of the campaign.

CAMPUS FORUM

May 13, 1929

Editor Michigan State News

Dear Sir:

In behalf of the senior class I wish to make public statement that any affront suffered by the class of '30 due to the ignoring of their arch during senior weeknight was entirely unintentional.

Due to the massing of the crowd of cheerleaders, both to the side and in back of their position, it seemed impossible to take advantage of their courtesy and still end with the class of potential graduates in the required position before the speaker's stand. In deference to the numerous complaints received from prominent campus people, the class of '29, through medium of the Campus Forum of Michigan State News, wishes to the foregoing explanation. In view of the fact that I privileged to lead the cheerleaders, I wish to accept all consequences of this error personally, and to take opportunity to make public apology.

Sincerely,
BILL MILLER,

They gave the express rider a good start

Henry Wells, developing the mail and express business of Wells Fargo, knew the necessity of careful preparation and alert management. Communication was more than the picturesque racing of pony express riders; behind the scenes there was always the systematic planning of routes, the watchful inspection of outposts and men. Communication today is immeasurably faster than it was then, thanks to electrifying. A vastly greater degree has the work of preparation behind the scenes become important.

In the Bell System, management must constantly look ahead to provide the service of voice against growing public demand—and men must be mobilized to extend and keep open the lines of communication.

BY WAY OF SUGGESTION

Just by way of suggestion it might be a good idea to lay down a few parties of the hilarious due that play have with the eyes along the various highways and byways on the campus with the increase in spring traffic. Since the price of parking on the campus runs too high there ought to be some kind of decisions made whereby one could walk on the campus with both eyes open.

NOT OUR WEEK

Last week appears to have been a bad one for all branches of activity on the campus. Between the auxiliary demonstrations and the Notre Dame ball game we had a ripped old one on the campus. However the track team lost a meet to Notre Dame Saturday that did not bring discredit to it. The tennis team went down to defeat before the Western State Teachers.

The ball game Friday was a sorrowful exhibition to behold, even though the first five innings promised a real contest. Jerry Byrne pitched good ball but a pitcher can't win on that alone. The entire team went haywire in the sixth inning when three runs crossed the plate. After substituting for Pevie was the sensation of the day which was one-handed stab of a lone fly which was tumbled for the creek. His outstanding playing of the past two games has been a redeeming feature of the team's play.

However we must admit that the playing of the Notre Dame nine was far superior to State's playing—the aggression was too great.

We shall see what the ensuing week shall bring forth.

USE THE FORUM

One is continually running up against mummies during the course of the school week. That type of mummy who is always complaining about the condition of affairs of the student body and its improvement, but never has any real constructive ideas to offer on improvement, nor does he attempt to make things better. This person certainly isn't doing a bit of good to the college and those people with whom he comes in contact.

To prevent this type of person from becoming too prominent, there has been established a means by which the mummy can be quieted down somewhat. That is through the Campus Forum column of the State News. This column is too seldom used by the student body. It should be used for good, sound constructive thought on lines concerning student problems as well as those of the school.

AN EYE-SORE

Speaking of appropriations for the college improvements it might be a idea to rid the campus of an eye-sore which is very prominently situated behind the Union building. It is the show frame structure called the economics building.

DISINTERESTED STUDENTS

It is a regrettable situation indeed that in a college with a student enrollment of 2000 only 300 of these would attend a convocation commemorating the 22nd anniversary of the founding of Michigan State college. Such, however, was the condition of affairs yesterday morning.

Interest in the college should show out more students to these assemblies, let alone the two hours of expected classes which they enjoy.

A Founder's day program here should include the entire student body in various degrees. Those not participating in the actual ceremonies should be on hand as an attentive audience.

This is, and should be, a genuine tradition on the Michigan State college campus.

ness in life. Following the annual tradition, Miss Frances Ayres gave a vision solo, "Grief's To Spring."

Mr. John Blodgett, the principal speaker on the program, spoke on "Whatever Things Are Lovely." She traced the higher educational institutions for women from the very earliest times to the present status of women's education, as exemplified by Vassar college. She showed the modern trend is not to keep women's knowledge in the abstract as formerly, but to make practical application of knowledge to the home and social life. A new course offered at Vassar is called "Vassar college of which Mrs. Blodgett is a recent Mrs. Blodgett is well known for her work along educational and philanthropic lines, and her welcome here was a hearty one.

The program was brought to a close by a vocal solo by Clara Wilson, Burleigh's "Little Mother of Mine."
