2 HURT, 4 HELD IN M. S. C. RIOT

An afternoon edition of the Lansing Capital News carried the above three-column headline in a prominent part of the front page Wednesday and followed with a story of the "riot," referring to the "four arrested," "two students," and other high lights of Wednesday night's celebration over the Michigan baseball victory.

Such a story as this, given the publicity that it was and with such a general misunderstanding of facts, is a disgrace to the college and to the students.

There was no riot as reported by that sheet, neither were there four arrests. It is true that there were two arrests reported by the East Lansing police department, one of these being a student. The charges of drunkenness reported by the downtown paper were true but according to the official records of the police department, the arrests were made at 12:50 a. m. Wednesday morning, two hours after most of the students were home in bed. The statement that two were arrested for disorderly conduct is absolutely false.

Since when has Michigan State college boasted an enrollment of 7,800 students? This statement is no more far fetched than any other statement of the whole story—it being only a matter of enlarging of facts and giving to sensationalism that has proved a loss to the college.

The state troopers and Lansing policemen that are alleged to have been called were not called by college officials and neither were they called to quell a mob or riot but only as a preventive measure in case the bad dreams of the Lansing paper should have come true.

A small crowd numbering less than 100 people did gather in front of the State theater and try to force an entrance. This was composed almost entirely of East Lansing high school students and college freshmen who know no better. It was not an organized attempt at the theater, as the absence of leaders will testify.

The "huge" bonfire that the Capital News states was built on Grand River avenue and "congested traffic for two hours" was another dream. A small number of exuberant freshmen had their little fire but so small was it that the fire department let the students have their fun and made no attempt to quench it.

Two students were apprehended for throwing eggs at the theater but no arrests were made as the Capital News stated.

The "thorough investigation" that the Capital News gives President Shaw credit for promising to make, has developed more into contempt for the sensational story written concerning the affair than any rebuke for the student body.

In reading the story we picture flying squadrons of troopers, sirens shrieking, and their sudden arrival upon a scene filled with gang warfare, mailed and flying fists, and after the use of night clubs and drawn guns, the mob of "7,800" is finally overpowered and order once more restored where chaos and destruction had reigned a few minutes previously.

President Shaw, in commenting on the affair, said: "I was very well pleased with the manner in which the students conducted themselves in celebrating the victory. The dance in the Union was very orderly and a credit to the college and I have nothing but praise for the student body."

LOCK YOUR DOORS

Three society house robberies have occurred during the week with losses totaling over $200. The Thursday robbery Tuesday night brings the total number of houses entered to seven during the year. No measures have been taken to stop this business other than attempting to apprehend the thieves. Protective measures have been made.

In talking with society house members, we learn that there is only one house on the campus that makes a regular practice of locking its doors. With 30 houses here, it leaves 29 easy prey for anyone who wants the "loot" for the taking.

Society houses are absolutely unprotected at night and after 2 o'clock in the morning thieves could back a moving van up to any of these houses and move off with the entire contents without anyone knowing the difference.

It is high time that the societies took measure to put a stop to this night marauding. A window is as easy access as a door. But locks on them both are not used.

WE CAN'T AFFORD IT

Ned Tuesday, Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, dean of the law school at the University of Indiana, and prominently mentioned as a possible successor to President Clarence Cook Little at the University of Michigan, will speak at convocation.

Convocations, as they are being offered here, are opportunities we can't afford to miss. The administration is putting itself out to secure worthwhile speakers and the student body will naturally respond by putting itself out to attend them.

A packed gymnasium should greet this speaker next Tuesday morning. Such opportunities as these should be safeguarded by the student body in turning out en masse in response to them.

The only relatives we can pick out are our wives and then we oftentimes go wrong.

BYRNE AND HIS CHAMPIONS

It took a mighty senior, by the name of Jerry Byrne, just exactly 10 hard minutes Tuesday to put away the champions of the Big Ten conference and at the same time making his name a household word among 2000 students on the campus.

Jerry's name flashed across the campus with all the glory and splendor of a victorious general.

Pitching two consecutive wins over U. of M. in as many years is a task that has never before been accomplished by a state pitcher, until Byrne did the trick Tuesday, yielding only six hits to the Maize and Blue.

The time boys that played the ball game on this memorable day played the game like veterans, heads-up every minute. State should be proud of every one of these boys.

Congratulations, Jerry Byrne, Jabbie Bernard, Max Crall, Capt. Mary Egan, Bob McCauley, Knisel, Tony Warner, Bud Gibbs, Al Smith, and the work John Rob.

WE DANCE

One of the quietest ways of celebrating the big victory Tuesday, but still the most effective from more angles than one, was the Blue Key dance organized and played by President Shaw directly after the game. One of the biggest crowds ever assembled in the Union ballroom gathered for the dance and cheerleading. All members of the big ball team were in great demand, cheer after cheer being sent up through the roof for individual members of the team. Byrne was hoisted into the air on one of the big yells, but the highlight was too much for him.

THIEVES SAVE OUR SHACK

A special guard was organized late Tuesday to protect the remaining bleachers, saved from a previous Michigan victory, from fire. Attempts were made to penetrate the lines of defense by various individuals but apparently without results. All equipment usually stored in the structure was quickly removed after the game.

NO RUEL

Temper that Grouse, looked the Michigan fan that he was not to be surprised with in his decisions which they protested so vigorously.

The Amb (Arbit) boys were still protesting after the game had gone down over the diamond.

Why not admit defeat and at least be sportsmanlike about it?

HEROES ALL

Bob McCauley, pitcher three times, earned a place as a hero of the day when he led the game up in the Union house, with a double. He followed around the short field and a beautiful catch over second base was worthy of great mention. Let's give him a real hand.

That college, sensational, sophisticated, sophisticated played a game in a game in the Union house in the first and second halves. It was Grouse who did it in the winning run. Michigan fans work O'Hanlon.

Max Crall, pitcher first baseman, made a beautiful one-handed catch of a high ball that he didn't even know about the first time he saw it.

He was credited with 10 points and signed himself 10 points around the Union house. A fine catch Max.

At home played a sparkling game in the last half, accepting every chance without an error. You played a great game, Al.

Jerry, what can be said about you that everyone knows already—your work was beyond words.

IND. REPRESENTATIVE FORUM INITIATES MON.

Ten Members Taken in Banquet at Hotel Oida.

The annual initiation banquet of the Independent Representative Forum was held at the Hotel Oida on Monday evening, May 29. Ten initiates were welcomed into membership at the banquet.

C. H. Otto, secretary of the Lansing chapter of committee, was the main speaker on the program. H. M. Olson acted as toastmaster while A. H. Laxson, 29, welcomed the new men. L. L. Leavelle, J. Zerkle and P. Riebel, about 40 were present at the banquet.

CAMPUS FORUM

The Campus Forum is a column in this paper open to contributors from all students. In this column students can at all times express themselves on subjects related to student affairs. It is yours to use. Each article must have full signature of writer.—The Editor.

approval of the measure, saying, "Such a move would be a distinct step backward for student government, being an admission, in fact, that the student council could not carry out the responsibilities of the offices to which they were elected."

Carl Felt, senior member of the council, stated that a representative of the student body duly elected by popular vote, I am surprised that the signers of this petition did not see their own reflection in the student body rather than forcing it upon the public in so disgraceful a manner. Thomas Ramondelli, the remaining member, expressed himself as in favor of the move, stating that there was opportunity for improvement in elections as he had viewed the situation during his four years of campus activities.

DEBATES CHANGE FROM WINTER TO FALL TERM

Schedule Calls for Dual Debates with Alma and Olivet.

Couch J. Menchhofer of the men's debating team announced Wednesday afternoon that beginning next fall term the intercollegiate debates would be scheduled in the fall instead of in the winter term as has been customary in the past.

Two dual debates will be given. One is scheduled with Olivet college and another with Alma college. The question for debate will be decided by the national forensics fraternity, Phi Kappa Delta, but announcement will not be made until next fall.

Questioned as to his stand, William Muller, senior class president, said, "As I understand the situation, this petition is a direct attack upon the honesty of the members of the council. I refuse to believe that such an attack was motivated by the signers of the paper but I do believe that this movement was originated and directed by a small group of students who have failed to express the real interests motivating their actions."

PI DELTA EPSILON SWINGS OUT YESTERDAY MORNING

Six Men Are Initiated into Honorary Journalistic Fraternity.

Phi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, swung out Thursday morning the initiates selling the usual scandal sheet, Ezema. Ezema was noticeably mild in comparison with previous editions and drew much favorable comment from the faculty although its lameness considerably hampered the volume of the sales.

The sheet featured razzes of prominent campus figures, the student council, military department, and interfraternity council.
Tip initiates are Edward K. Ellsworth, Harold Meno, Ray L. Jennings, L. N. Ritter, J. A. Porter, and Jack Stenberg. Formal initiation is planned for next week with a banquet following the ceremony.

hopes of scoring further when Crall grounded to second.
Defiance scored one in the first, one in the fourth and the final tally in the fifth. Displaying a well clicking combination and a heady pitcher, the Ohio team extended the Spartans somewhat.

The witness of the diamond caused the play of both teams to be slightly erratic at times, but as a whole the work of the teams in the field was commendable.

Jumbo Kahl hurled all the way for the winners. Although touched for seven hits in five innings, the big right-hander held the visitors at bay with the good support of his infield which caused seven men to die on base, Jim Hayden wound behind the plate for the Spartans.

ENGINEERING RESEARCH MAN MAKES STATE TOUR

J. L. Rothgery, research assistant in engineering, who has been connected with the extension work of this school during the past three years, is now making a six weeks' tour of the counties of the lower peninsula. On this tour Mr. Rothgery is visiting the various county seats where he will address township officials on the improvement of the township road systems. During the summer months, he plans to carry the extension work to the counties of the upper peninsula.

REGIONAL THINCLAD WINNERS MEET HERE

Come to Campus to Determine State Championship.

The winners at eight regional track meets held throughout the state last week-end, representing 179 schools, will assemble on the campus Friday and Saturday of this week for the Michigan High School Athletic association championship meet. L. I. Primodig, in charge of the meet, announces that about 800 high school athletes are enrolled.

Four classes are recognized to allow the schools to compete on an equal footing as possible. This year's enrollment is the largest in the history of the association. Mr. Primodig announces. Preliminaries will be run Friday afternoon while the finals will take place Saturday afternoon.

To Men Graduating this Year

With graduation almost at hand, your first step into the business world will be a determining factor in the rapidity and substantial character of your progress. In this connection, it may be well to consider the desirability of becoming associated with the automotive industry, on account of its dominant position and the corresponding opportunity it offers to men of ability. . . . The Spark Plug is an automotive necessity, with an annual replacement market of 300,000,000 units. Only one-fifth of this potential market was satisfied last year. The fact that Defiance Spark Plugs gained third place last year indicates that the market is an open one. . . . Defiance has made this rapid advance by virtue of high quality of product, an unusual marketing plan, aggressive merchandising and selling, national advertising, and thorough training of salesmen. . . . College men now associated with Defiance in managerial and sales capacities have gone forward rapidly through their intelligent study and application of sound merchandising to their particular markets. . . . Defiance offers, in addition to the possibility for an unusual immediate income, an opportunity for more rapid advancement because it is now in a period of growth and expansion. . . . If your schooling has been in business administration, advertising and selling, and you have decided to enter upon a business career, write to the address below, giving merely your name, age, college and address to which we may forward further information.
