PRESIDENT SHAW ADDRESSES LARGEST FRESHMAN GATHERING IN HISTORY OF MICHIGAN STATE

College Prexy Announces Compulsory Freshman Convocation for Fall and Winter Terms; Heavy Schedule of Freshman Week Activity Outlined.

With the largest freshman class in the history of the institution registered and classified in the several divisions Wednesday, a varied freshman week program is to be attended by the first year students the remainder of the week.

Robert S. Shaw, president of the college, addressed the class in the gymnasium this morning and although he confined his remarks mainly to future plans, several important things were taken up by him. He emphasized the invocation of compulsory freshman convocations which are to take place during the fall and winter terms.

During these convocations, the president stated, points of interest to the student from the standpoint of the administration will be taken up. Attendance is to be checked at these meetings and reported absences will be handled through the office of the president rather than through the customary excusing office.

President Shaw introduced the members of the State Board of Agriculture and the heads of the divisions present at the address of welcome.

Afternoon was to be taken up with divisional assemblies when the heads of the divisions were to meet with their division continuing until 5 p.m. when a Y. W. C. A. picnic was planned for the women students.

Friday Morning, Sept. 20

At gymnasium. President Shaw, Arthur Farwell, deans of music.

Prof. E. L. Austin, new head of the education department, will give his views on the Michigan State college campus in a talk to the freshmen tomorrow morning.

Prof. Austin was dean of men and professor of education at the State Teachers college at Muncie, Ind., before coming here. The new department chief has been teaching education for 17 years and holds five degrees from such prominent colleges as Purdue, Indiana, and Cornell.

Already the new administrator has made changes in his department. Mrs. Mabel Beyer succeeds Miss Minnie Irons as associate professor of home economic education. She has been a supervisor at the East Lansing high school and doing part time work here at the college. Miss Irons is to leave here Oct. 1, when she will take up new work in Missouri.

Miss Mabel C. Rogers, formerly supervising teacher at the Walter French junior high, succeeds Mrs. Mabel Beyer at East Lansing high school. Prof. Austin, in an interview Tuesday, commended E. L. Grover, of the department upon the fine work which he completed this summer along the study of educational psychology. Mr. Grover finished his necessary work for a masters degree at the University of Michigan this summer along the line of tests and measurements on educational psychology. Prof. Austin commended. This is good evidence of professional improvement for members of our staff.

The department is to offer a new course this year to be given by the new department head himself. It is called principles of education and is for beginning students in education.

Miss Melba Hitzel, department of health, and Miss Hattie Lucas, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Frances Davis, woman's athletic association mixer, president.

Is President of Student Council

Harold Hannah

Harold Hannah, president of the Student Council, in an interview in the State News office yesterday morning said, "The Student Council extends welcome to the class of 1933 and hopes that they will feel themselves a real part of Michigan State college."

"It is our desire that those of the incoming class who find it possible will take part in the outside activities of the college, as it is one of the finest ways possible to meet other people and make friends on the campus."

Hannah is not in favor of a man going out for too much, however. He said, "Tell the athletes to stick to athletics, the literary men to stick to literature, and those with executive ability to work on the councils and boards."

The council president stated that he would probably call a meeting sometime in the middle of October for the freshmen at which time they will select their class officers.

Hannah will address the men of the freshman class in convocation in the gymnasium Saturday morning, when he will present to them some of the college traditions.

FROSH ASKED TO ADHERE TO RUSHING RULES

President of Pan-Hellenic and Inter-Frat Council Voice Opinions.

GIRLS START ON MONDAY

Penalties for Violations of Rules To Be Strictly Enforced.

Fraternity and sorority rushing will get into full swing next week with the return of the upperclassmen and will be carried on with strict regard for rushing regulations according to opinions set forth this week by the presidents of the governing organizations of the sororities and the fraternities.

Miss Francis Davis, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, who will address the freshmen girls in convocation tomorrow afternoon, said when interviewed Tuesday, "It is most important that the freshmen girls carefully read the constitution and rules of Pan-Hellenic in order that they may better understand and follow the formality of sorority rushing. Since there are so many freshmen, it will be a great help to Pan-Hellenic if they will ask their hostesses and house mothers the proper procedure."

Harry Burris, president of the Inter-Fraternity council, said yesterday when approached on the subject of rushing, "I want the freshmen to keep their eyes open and not rush into anything that they may later be sorry for. When a freshman goes into a house, I want him to feel free to ask about it."

Miss Davis said that sorority rushing will start on the twenty-third and continue for eight definite rushing dates coming on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday for two weeks. Following the last rush date there will be a week of no rushing.

Miss Davis explained, "I wish you would call the freshmen girls attention to that change. In concluding rushing will be followed and both freshmen and seniors must abide by the rules."

Burris will address the freshmen men in Saturday morning and explain to them something about fraternities. He said, "Fraternities are allowed to rush all freshmen, but no man can be pledged until ten days after the beginning of classes."

Heads Women's Governing Body

Winifred Kalkthaler

Winifred Kalkthaler, president of the Associated Women Students, in an interview yesterday evening in the parlors of the Woman's building said:

"As officers of the Associated Women Students we are very glad to know the members of the class of 1933."

"We are very glad to have you here for two reasons. First, because we know that the college with its campus and all the opportunities it affords can do something for you, and second, because we believe that you as newcomers on the campus can bring something to the college."

Miss Kalkthaler with Helen Mursdock as the two senior representatives to the Associated Women Students, are working together in the Woman's building this term where they will come in close contact with the freshmen girls.

The president of A. W. S. stated that she hopes to complete the organization of dormitories and houses very soon, and have the girls working under their own house officers.

Miss Kalkthaler will address the girls of the freshman class in convocation in the Little Theater tomorrow afternoon at which time she will explain some of the workings of campus organization.

INFLUX OF FIRST YEAR STUDENTS SURPASSES ALL PREVIOUS MARKS ACCORDING TO REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Number of Bona Fide Freshmen Reaches 947, Surpassing Record Established in 1927; Registrar Estimates That Number Will Total Approximately 1200 to 1300 New Students.

Surpassing any previous enrollment, freshman registration figures received at 10 o'clock this morning indicated a new record for all time. At that time the count showed 947 bona fide freshmen, excluding post graduate and transfer students.

Comparing this number with the total freshman registration for the entire fall term of last year, there is already an increase of 131. It is conservatively estimated that the total for this term will range between 1000 and 1050. Including post graduate and transfer students, the record can be expected to tally between 1200 and 1300.

Certain erroneous reports were circulated yesterday that the registration figure was over 1150. This rumor was based on the number of prospective students who had forwarded their entrance credits. It can be noted that certain individuals also sent their credits to other schools and finally decided not to enter M. S. C.

In comparing the present record with those of the past three years, the steady growth of the state is very apparent. In 1926 the total number of bona fide freshmen for the entire term was 799. There were 225 transfers and 32 post graduate students, making a total of 1049 new students for the year.

In 1927, when the enrollment record up to the present time was made there were 438 freshmen, 30 transfers, and 20 post graduates, making a total of 488 new students for the year. Last year there was a slight drop, being 16 freshmen, 22 transfers, and 43 post graduates, giving a total for the year of 1986, a decrease of 25.

Figures up to the present time do indicate a total of approximately 1200 to 1300 new students, the division being estimated as follows: Bona fide freshmen, 1000; 1050; 200 to 220 transfers; and 30 to 40 post graduates. This of course is the new record for all time but college officials expect an even greater entering class next year.

ARMY CHIEF TO ARRIVE SUNDAY

Colonel E. Davis Displaces Sherburne; Captains Assume New Duties.

Colonel Edward Davis, who is one of three military officers to make their initial appearance on the campus, is due to arrive next Sunday. Colonel Davis replaces Lt. Col. T. L. Sherburne who has been transferred to the Army college at Washington. Two new captains who are to assume duties in the infantry department are Capt. Stanley G. Blanton and Capt. Edwin B. Crobb.

Col. Davis, a native of Illinois, was born in 1874. He is a graduate of Cornell university, having received a B. S. degree in 1896. A holder of the Distinguished Service Medal, his record is a brilliant one. He was a first lieutenant of cavalry in 1901, a captain in 1904, a major in 1912, a lieutenant colonel in 1916, and a colonel in 1928. Col. Davis last post was that of military attaché in Belgrade, the capital city of Yugoslavia. He is married and will make his home in East Lansing.

Capt. Blanton, late of Fort Benning, Ga., replaces Capt. John as head of the infantry division. Capt. Crobb, whose last post was with the 30th Infantry Brigade at San Francisco, succeeds Capt. Blanton.

LIBRARY ADDS NEW ASSISTANT TO STAFF

One new member has been added to the library staff for this year according to an announcement made early in the week by Mrs. Linda Landon, librarian of the college.

Miss Marjorie Himebaugh, a graduate of the University of Detroit, who is in charge of the assigned reading room in the Michigan State library, is to take up her new duties as library assistant.

Miss Himebaugh is a sister of Keith Himebaugh, 27, who is now connected with the publications department of the college.

Librarian Explains Use of Building For Freshmen

Every member of the freshman class should become acquainted with and learn to efficiently use the college library as part of his early college training according to Mrs. Linda E. Landon, librarian of the college.

Mrs. Landon said, "We expect students to use the library and they must not be afraid to ask questions, that is their privilege and the pleasure of the library assistants."

When asked how the freshman could learn to use the library, Mrs. Landon replied, "Freshman can call at my office for a copy of the Hand Book of the library. It contains all of the information regarding the use of the building and the location of the various books and periodicals. We are trying to put a copy of the Hand Book in the hands of each new student on the campus."

The assigned reading on the main floor of the library building is kept for the books assigned by professors and instructors as required work. Books in that room are called for by title and author at the desk, and they must not be taken from the room as other students may be waiting to use them.

The librarian's office is down the hall to the left and Mrs. Landon says that she is always ready to meet any student whom she may be able to help.

UNION PRESIDENT WELCOMES FROSH

Crittenden Hopes New Members Will Make Use of the College Union.

Addressing a statement to the new class of 1933 in an interview yesterday, C. B. Crittenden, president of the Union, said:

"In representing the Michigan State College Union, I welcome you to the campus. Inasmuch as all of you are new members of the Union, I sincerely hope that you will take advantage of the building and use the many facilities it offers."

President Crittenden expressed his appreciation yesterday to the faculty for its work in registering the freshmen students within the building, saying that it enabled the new student to get a first hand idea of the Union and its purposes.

The freshmen, upon completing their registration of the Union, became members of the Union and were duly united with the green and white emblem.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN

This is the time of season when old friendships are being renewed by the upperclassmen as the students continue to pour onto the campus but to you members of the first year class it is a bit different. You are here, for the most part probably, in entirely strange surroundings and your friends and acquaintances at this moment are probably few. It is for this reason that the Michigan State News takes this opportunity of extending to you members of the Freshman class a mighty big welcome and a big handshake, hoping and knowing that your days of being unaccustomed to this campus will be few and that before it is hardly realized you have become as much at home in this place as we are.

ACTIVITIES FOR FRESHMEN

Activities in college is a subject both applauded and frowned upon by faculty, students, and the public at large. Activities have been found by the men and women who have gone into them not only a pleasing diversion but a productive and laudable undertaking that has had much to do in making their college lives more successful.

We come to college to study. That is primary without a doubt but there is time in college for other things than study. There is a job waiting for everyone, whether he be athlete, journalist or politician. In fact all three have at times combined by men and all three have been dispatched in a successful manner.

There is danger of undertaking too much. Too many irons in the fire will not only lower the scholastic standing of the student but will surely weaken the final result in any one of the activities entered into.

Pick yourself a campus job. Make up your mind that you are to reach the heights in this one line and stick to it. Your chances should be good.

GET TO KNOW YOUR PROFS

There is one thing that the average freshman usually fails to grasp until it is too late, a thing that can go more than a little way in smoothing the difficulties of a college life—getting to know your professors.

There are some who entirely ignore the faculty. Those who do either do not care to know the members of this group or they are afraid of being accused of making use of a personal acquaintanceship for purposes of better grades only. The first group is not as foolish as the second for at least the members of the first group are not losing themselves.

Both groups are however losing a decided advantage in college life. Cultivation of friendships with men and women who have the broad education and experience in life that these people have acquired is indeed to be encouraged. There is hardly a professor or an instructor on the campus who does not fully enjoy having a student dropping into his office for a friendly chat or a brief discussion of some topic encountered in the classroom.

Have something to ask and if they can answer it, have no fear of it not being done by any member of the faculty of this college.

of music, will be on hand when college officially opens on Tuesday, Sept. 24. Prof. Lewis Richards, head of the music department, and Louis Grove, internationally famous as a tenor and now head of the college vocal department, spent part of the summer in northern Minnesota. Michael Pross, head of the violin department, visited in Berlin, Germany, during his vacation.

Two new artists will be added this fall to the faculty in the music department. Alexander Schuster of Berlin, Germany, comes direct from abroad to assume the responsibilities as head of the cello department. This artist is a famous European cellist who has been the first cellist in the Philharmonic orchestra in Berlin, and also has been the cellist in the famous Huberman Trio.

Zinovy Kogan, from the Imperial Conservatory of Moscow, will take up the duties of assistant to Michael Pross, violin department head. Kogan will also take charge of the mixed chorus and will teach the viola. Having completed choral work in Russia, Mr. Kogan will be a valuable addition to the Michigan State faculty.

FRESH GRIDDERS START WORK

Many Candidates Report as Coach Kobs Calls Early Sessions of Yearlings.

More than 70 candidates reported Monday afternoon for the initial practice session of the Michigan State freshman football team. Additional men are reporting daily and it is expected that over 100 yearlings will be working out before the week is over.

Getting into shape the freshman ran signals, caught passes, and had some tackling practice during the first two days out. On Wednesday a combination of the first year men were sent against Coach Crowley's varsity eleven in the initial scrimmage session for the season. In the near future a regular schedule of work-outs with the varsity will make up part of the program laid out for the freshmen.

the freshmen this year. Michigan Normal freshmen, Grand Rapids Junior College, and the University of Detroit gridgers. Freshmen may turn out for the team by reporting at the practice field across the Red Cedar river.

The initial tilt will be played at home on Oct. 26 when the Michigan Normal freshmen meet the Spartans as a morning feature of Homecoming day program. On Nov. 11 the State fresh will meet the Grand Rapids Junior College at Grand Rapids while on Nov. 16 the U. of D. yearlings will accompany the varsity here to meet the State first year men in a morning tilt. The scheduling of three games this year is the most ambitious card that has been attempted here in recent years. Coach Kobs, Van Alstyne, and Schultz are in charge of the yearling gridgers. Freshmen may turn out for the team by reporting at the practice field across the Red Cedar river.
