a day of ceaseless activity leading for the famous fall "feed" classic. Second men and yearlings were gathered from all morning class-ses to form wood-gathering gangs to construct the huge bonfire that is one of the traditional features of the "peace party." An audience of 4,000 is expected for a program that includes the bonfire, an outdoor ceremony, and all-college dance.

President Robert S. Shaw is scheduled to be the main speaker of the evening, while Keith Humebaugh will act as master of ceremonies. The program will be followed by a banquet on the platform to pass the traditional hatchet of peace to James Mitchell, the new elected president of the college organization, under the name of "Peace" Rhinehart, has been elected to eliven the gathering with the inevitable musical performances for at least 4,000 people occupied the committee charged feeding the vast throng that will gather in front of Demonstration immediately after the ceremony ended. A group of 15 men will be the task of serving the audience one of the greatest collections of food gathered on this campus.
Over 4,000 and 5,000 buns, 1200 pounds of meat and 500 gallons of beer will be the extent of the feast provided for the evening.
Last minute warning was issued to student body members and the tance to the barbecue proper. It is advised to form lines leading into the wing of the hall immediately after the culmination of the outdoor program, then the line will lead up the inside court and directly across the hall to the dining hall.

The use of the inside court and easy method of distribution been initiated to eliminate the necessity of a large number of outlets beginning at a o'clock and continuing until midnight. Nate Fry's "Good-

LARGEST NUMBER OF DEAN CALLS IS SENT TO YEARLING CLASS

Reason Is That Largest Freshman Class In History of College.

When one freshman meets another these days, the following conversation is invariably exchanged:
"First freshman—Did you get a dean call?"

Second freshman—"Did one another."
The answer to that one is "yes." We haven't the statistics, but if we did have them, they would probably show that more dean calls were issued this week than ever before at least to the freshman class. We don't know why this is unless it's because there are a few hundred more freshmen than usual.

All the dean calls that have ever been issued by the college were to be issued on top of each other, they would make a swell bonfire. And we don't know one of two things: why the freshman class is so large and why the dean calls are so numerous.

Dean calls are a bit on the fair face of nature, they are an insult to the mainman who has to carry them, they are a cruel disappointment to the man who opens one, thinking that it's a letter from the girl he left behind him.
They spread desolation around them and with follow hard on their wake. Indeed, they are all of these things and more, why the college keeps on sending them out is beyond us.

President Robert S. Shaw is scheduled to be the main speaker of the evening, while Keith Humebaugh will act as master of ceremonies. The program will be followed by a banquet on the platform to pass the traditional hatchet of peace to James Mit-

With the arrival of the first copy of the 1930 Wolverine yearbook, and copies of the new yearbook, the display at the College Book Store starting Monday was made in Harbor B. Meno editor of the 1930 edition.
Elaborate plans have been made for the publication of this year and the students can get a good idea as to what the new book will be by examining the dummy copy which will go on display Monday. A very appropriate announcement has been worked out and this year's book will be larger in size than ever before. This is the first time that a copy of the yearbook has been put on display before it was published. Meno wants to acquaint the students with the type of book which he plans to publish before they buy.

Several additional features, some of which have not been announced as yet, will be included within the new annual. The 1930 Wolverine will be published about June 1st.

Any student who has not subscribed for the 1930 Wolverine publication should examine the sample copy. Or-
store by paying $2 down.

HARRIERS MEET BUTLER RUNNERS

Undeclared Cross Country Team to Meet Staff Competition On Saturday.

Coach Mort Mason and his crack cross-country squad left this morning for Indianapolis, Ind., where they will meet the Butler university harriers in a dual meet Saturday afternoon.
which will finish between halves of the Butler football game. State has been undefeated in cross-country since 1926 and has vanquished Notre Dame and Michigan in dual meets this fall.

In Joe Strack, Butler has a star runner. Strack is the only man who has beaten Lauren Brown in this three years of varsity competition. Last year he won the Central Inter-Collegiate meet held here. Brown and Strack put up a real battle for first place, but after a hard sprint, the Wolverine was put by a narrow margin. State, however, won the team championship easily.

Brown hopes to average last year's loss by a victory tomorrow. He is in fine shape and has been in top form all season.

Coach Mason took the following men on the trip: Capt. William, Brown, Chamberlin, O'Connor, Roosen, and Read. If the boys are not too tired after the run they will return Saturday evening. Otherwise the return trip will be made Sunday.

FOOTBALL TEAM GIVEN SENDOFF

Over a Thousand Students See Team Off for Mississippi Game Tomorrow.

Over 1000 Michigan State students turned out Wednesday evening to give James H. Crowley and his Spartan football squad a rousing send-off as they stepped aboard the train in Lansing bound for Jackson, Mississippi, the scene of their inter-sectional game with Mississippi A. & M. eleven on Saturday. The pep meeting sponsored by the Blue Key was the largest held in several years.

The cheering students led by the corps of Michigan State college cheerleaders gathered about one-half hour before the train left and the team and the coaches previous to their departure.
The Swartz Creek band led by Rhinehart furnished the music for the occasion.

Coach James H. Crowley gave a short talk at the station and expressed his appreciation of the spirit shown by the students in turning out for the team's departure. Referring to the game the coach said: "The team is going down to Mississippi to win and I am sure they will bring home the baccon." Capt. Dickson and Coach Carberry also spoke. A cheer was given also for Capt. Danziger who is lying in college hospital as a result of an injury he received in the Adrian game.

BRIGHT HUED SLICKERS LEND NEEDED COLORS TO DRAB, DAMP CAMPUS

Observer Finds Decorations On Student Raincoats Lack Originality

The recent advent of wet weather has again brought to view those so-called rain-shedding garments, the slickers. One sees them everywhere and in every conceivable shade and hue.
Like the ancient and colorful raincoats, they brighten the campus where they are.

Although the grand old art of slicker decorating has somewhat faded out, there are still here and there exponents of it, and they furnish the color among the masses of dull trenchcoats and black lumberjacks. The favorite design seen on State coats-of-arms with a large "S" and a close rival is the large block "M. S. C." A few adventurous souls, however, refuse to be bound by convention, and they surge through the crowd with their raincoats decorated with comic page heroes and hermes, rather blarneyed advertisements, and the like, and they

SPIES AT ANN ARBOR, BUT IN EAST LANSING—

After last week's sensational expose at Ann Arbor with the suspension of five fraternities, the finding of a liquor "cache" in a university dormitory, and the appearance of an editorial in the Michigan Daily condemning the university officials for an alleged spy system in regard to the liquor question, it makes us here at a neighboring school look up and reflect upon our own situation and how it compares with the one at the down state institution.

In the first place there is no spy system sponsored by the faculty either officially or non-officially. This statement is an absolute fact and must tend to make us realize that the faculty does not consider its students a flock of irresponsible and untrustworthy fledglings but on the other hand recognizes the constitutional rights of full grown men and women, trusting them without finding it necessary to resort to underhanded methods in enforcing faculty laws.

There is probably consumption to some degree of liquor on this campus but the question does not resolve itself into whether there is drinking or not but into a comparison with the liquor situation in other schools. Drinking here, for a school of its sizes, is probably at a minimum, nor has it been brought about through a faculty spy system.

As a result of this more or less cooperative spirit between the faculty and student body no wild stories have been broadcast concerning the evils of liquor at East Lansing or wild debauchery that some critics would have permeating every college campus in the country.

We are not saints, we know, but still we have much to point to with pride when other schools are considered.

The "Fiddler Crab" is so called because the male has one brightly colored claw of immense size, which, when he runs, he waves as if he were playing a tune on a violin.

A REAWAKENING?

Wednesday night nearly a thousand enthusiastic students saw the team off for Mississippi in the largest pep meeting seen here in years. Team members were heard to remark, "We can't lose that game after this" and "What's happened to them? We never saw this before."

After the demonstration Wednesday it surely points to a reawakening of spirit at this institution. Not that we have been lacking entirely in that article but the awakening of a new kind of spirit—a spirit that goes out and does things.

The team is going to win that game down at Starkville tomorrow and when it returns from the southland Monday morning with another football to add to the trophy room, every student should be at the depot to let them know we appreciate it.

A better kind of spirit usually is productive of a better team but in this case the tables have been reversed—a better football team has been conducive of a better spirit. The team, with Crowley at the helm, has gone out and made a successful season out of a mere nothing with only mediocre school spirit at its back. The team and the school are both to be congratulated.

Let's meet the team Monday, every one of us!

Girls at William and Mary college can not have dates unless they are over 80. In their studies, of course. Girls over 80 get few dates.

The Kalamazoo gent who shot his son-in-law for a rabbit may have known the boy pretty well, as that.

Talented Norma Terris Sings Initial Fox Movietone Role

That charmingly talented Broadway star, Norma Terris, who is co-featured with J. Harold Murray, another Broadway favorite, in "Married In Hollywood," Fox Movietone talking, singing and dancing Viennese love song, is a direct descendant of Martha Washington. Her famous relatives also include the late Mrs. Sidney Drew who was her cousin. In fact, it was Mrs. Drew who induced her to study for a stage career.

Miss Terris' first stage experience was in the chorus of Ziegfeld's "Midnight Frolic." After that she went into vaudeville and following this, toured the country in "Little Nellie Kelly" in which she played the leading role.

Other engagements followed and finally the Shuberts signed her to play the lead in "A Night in Paris" and "A Night in Spain." Then came her big break, the leading role "Magnolia" in "Show Boat," which she played for 72 straight weeks on Broadway.

"Married In Hollywood," which comes to the State theater next week, is based on the play by Leopold Jacobson and Bruno Harden-Warden. The book lyrics and music were written by Harlan Thompson, with added music by David Stanger. This production boasts of a chorus of 100 voices and 60 trained dancers in addition to a cast composed of many stars of the stage and screen including Walter Catlett, Tom Patricia, Irene Palastya, Lennox Pawle, Lela Kammely, A. Douglas Gilmore and Gloria Grey.

Edward Royce directed the dance ensembles. The picture was transferred to the screen by Marcel Silver.

RECORD CROWD VISIT MICH. STATE PARKS

Thirty-Nine Per Cent Increase Over Total of 1928 Season.

Lansing, Nov. 6.—The state parks of Michigan were visited by 7,454,741 people during the season just closed. This is an increase of 39 per cent over the number of visitors in 1928 and represents more than twice the population of the entire state.

These figures are contained in a report prepared by P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of state parks, and are based on actual attendance records submitted by the superintendents of the 53 state parks that were open to the public during the season of 1929. The total represents only those visiting the parks before October 1, when completion ceased.

During the season of 1929, 138,308 men, women and children camped at the state parks, representing an increase of 85 per cent over last year. They built 40,181 camps. Of these camps 32,013 were those of Michigan residents and 8,168 were of residents of other states.

Every state in the Union was represented at the state parks. Campers from one foreign country, Transvaal, South Africa, registered.

BLUE RIBBON STOCK AUCTIONED AT STATE AMID GREAT UPROAR

Scenes in Livestock Pavilion Are Compared to Recent Stock Market Panic

From Ag hall Wednesday afternoon issued sound and commotion not unlike a congregation of brokers during the recent stock slump—that is, such a gathering as conceived by one who has never been in a congregation of brokers, slumped none. Every once in a while someone burst into curses, interspersed with figures.

No. 1 Professor King's class in platform speaking merely a public auction to relieve the college barns of an excess of blue-ribbon stock.

From the livestock pavilion echoed the stentorian voice of Dr. Hutton of the veterinary department as "blue-ribbon" colts and horses, paired up and down before critical buyers.

Seventy-five sholl give me eighty? Robbery at a hundred—wholl give me eighty? Eighty, eighty, seventy-six—a blue ribbon colt. Going at seventy-five—all through gone. And another horse departed from the college stables, making room for progress, improvement, and better breeding.

Absence of Team Fails To Slacken Social Program

Despite the fact that Michigan State's football team is in London, Miss., and many students have gone home for this weekend, the campus will have a crowded social calendar. Principal among the campus activities will be the annual barbecue given by the Sophomore class. The burying of the hatchet and the program will be followed by an all-college dance in the ballroom of Demonstration hall. The Gold Diggers have been engaged to play for the dancing. The Women's building has chosen tonight to hold their annual Fall Term party. Committees have been working for several weeks and every-thing points for the best party in the building in several seasons.

Elaborate decorations and clever programs will feature the party. The Gold Diggers will furnish the music for dancing while the patron list will include Dean Elisabeth Conrad, President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and Mrs. J. A. Clark. Mrs. Cora and Mrs. J. A. Clark. The general chairman of arrangements is Gertrude Merkel. Her committee includes Ruth Schaffer, decorator, Elizabeth Lee, program, Bertha Smith, refreshments.

The Faculty Folk club held their monthly meeting this afternoon in the club rooms in the Women's building. Mrs. Arthur Farwell gave readings during the afternoon which were very well received. Mrs. Kappa Delta party will be held Saturday evening in the Little Theater with Bruce Fawcett's orchestra playing for the dancing. The patrons are Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Olin, Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Hall and Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Fabian.

Two sororities plan to hold their fall term parties this weekend. The Phi Kappa Delta party will be held Saturday evening in the Little Theater with Bruce Fawcett's orchestra playing for the dancing. The patrons are Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Olin, Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Hall and Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Fabian. The Masonic Temple will be the scene of the Sesame party Saturday night. The Play Boys are to furnish the music for the dancing while the chaperons selected are Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Hoppert and Prof. and Mrs. R. Pettigrove. Guests of the party are Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Dean Ross Doe, Miss Helen Grimes, Mrs. Linda Landon, Mrs. Zoe Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle.

ALUMNI GROUP PLAN MEETING

Chicago Alumni Association Set
Date for Reunion At Stevens Hotel On November 13.

On Wednesday noon, Nov. 13, a Michigan State alumni meeting will be held in Chicago, Ill., at the Stevens Hotel. The meeting is sponsored by the Chicago Alumni club, which is probably the strongest alumni club outside of Michigan.

The meeting is being held at a very opportune time, since all of the land grant colleges in the United States are holding a conference in Chicago at that time. The college usually sends eight or nine representatives to each meeting. This list includes the president, the deans of the various departments, the director of extension work, the director of the experiment station, and the secretary of the alumni association. It is not certain that all of these people will attend, but it has been the custom in the past.

The most significant fact is that Michigan State, the oldest institution of its kind in the world, has supplied more leaders, that is, presidents, deans, and directors to the colleges of the United States than any other land grant college.

All of these leaders will be in Chicago at the time of the conference. In view of this, the Chicago Alumni club decided to hold a special meeting. President Shaw will be one of the main speakers. The remainder of the program has not been decided upon.

NEW BUILDING UNDER CONSTRUCTION HERE

Workmen are busy on a new building in the rear of the woodshop. The building will join the pattern making and machine shops. It will be a one-story brick structure with about the same dimensions as the woodshop.

Cement and concrete testing will be carried on in the new building as well as automobile testing. The building will also allow the machine shop to make an expansion.

The new building replaces an old wooden structure which was erected in 1918 as an army mechanics training school. It was a very busy place during the World War when the government was in urgent need of trained automobile mechanics. Over 600 men were enrolled at one time in the training school. They were taught all the features in repairing and building motor and chassis. After the war the building fell into disuse.

LANDSCAPE CLUB PETITIONS COUNCIL

Hold Meeting to Seek Official Recognition; Prof. Halligan Gives Address.

The Landscape club held a meeting in the hort building Nov. 5, the main object of the meeting being to draw up a constitution and sign a petition to present to the student council in order to gain recognition. Prof. Halligan gave an interesting talk on the ideal city, which is being planned and built near Cincinnati, Ohio, under the nation's best architects. All new landscape students are urged to attend the next meeting, Nov. 19, at which H. L. Chapman will talk on the Kew gardens in London.

Scene of the Sesame party Saturday night. The Play Boys are to furnish the music for the dancing while the chaperons selected are Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Hoppert and Prof. and Mrs. R. Pettigrove. Guests of the party are Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Dean Ross Doe, Miss Helen Grimes, Mrs. Linda Landon, Mrs. Zoe Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle.

Departure from their custom of holding Union parties on Friday night, the girls this weekend will be given on Saturday evening. An Ann Arbor orchestra has been engaged and a large attendance is expected.

Swartz Creek Band Gives Grid Team Send-off at Union Depot

We all got school spirit Wednesday night, and went down to see the team off for Mississippi. The air was filled with huzzas and the Old Gray Mare, as rendered by Swartz Creek band, and altogether it was very merry and inspiring.

Everybody shouted, and Peachy Phinehart went through his own particular contortions in front of the band, which in the fervor of the occasion did itself seem more proud than usual. The team seemed properly impressed. Crowley gave a talk, and the cheerleaders jumped up and down, and everyone had to be a true hot-pot.

We always feel sorry for the few lone wayfarers standing about waiting for trains in the midst of these college exuberances. There's no place for them to go, and they don't much care whether we rub our head Mississippi or not. They simply stand about looking bored and being stepped on by enthusiastic Spartan rooters. Send-offs, on the whole, we conclude are after attending both are much more effective than welcome-home celebrations. The team is so to speak, where it belongs when it belongs there. The last one of these meetings we attended was the big haul-to-the-victors one put on a couple of years ago when the team came back from Cornell. The train was due at five o'clock in the morning, and all the loyal Spartans were waiting at the station, feebly waving green flags in the rain. Then the train was two hours late, and the team asleep when it pulled in. And a hero isn't a hero, really, staggering off a train rubbing his eyes.

But a hero is quite a hero standing on the train steps looking noble while State's clown band tips out the college songs and everybody is all in ebullience. And after all, you need good heroes to get really enthused over a game three days off in Mississippi. But our heroes were grand, everyone got all worked up, and as we said before, huzzas and the Old Gray Mare adequately filled the

All State Conference for Vocational Home Economics in Session.

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week, Nov. 7, 8, and 9, the All State conference for vocational home economics in Michigan is being held in Lansing and East Lansing. This meeting is called by Miss Ruth Foregard, the state supervisor of home economics, in cooperation with Michigan State college, Michigan State Normal college, and the Lansing public schools.

There are four objectives of the conference. How to interest part-time students in child training and care, how to make contacts through home practice, how projects and home visiting, and means of making these effective.

All new landscape students are urged to attend the next meeting, Nov. 19, at which H. L. Chapman will talk on the Kew gardens in London.

SPARTANS WORK OUT IN JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI THIS AFTERNOON IN PREPARATION FOR SATURDAY TILT

Determined Bunch of Gridders Primed for Intersectional Clash With Southerners; Crowley and Carberry Hopeful As Charges Wait for Opening Whistle.

AMES H. (SLEEPY) CROWLEY and his squad of fighting Michigan State football men arrived in Jackson, Mississippi early this morning and are working out on the foreign gridiron this afternoon in preparation for their intersectional clash with the formidable Mississippi A. & M. eleven tomorrow afternoon. The Spartans left Lansing early Wednesday evening after going through an inspired final practice session.

Determined to win back some of the prestige lost by Michigan State football teams in the past five years, the Crowleysmen are restlessly awaiting the kickoff of tomorrow's game in hopes that they will be able to overwhelm the fast traveling "Dixie" boys and break the away-from-home jinx that has been following the Spartans. Michigan State won its last victory on a foreign gridiron in 1924 when they beat the University of Detroit at Detroit, 2-0.

With the exception of Capt. Danziger and Dill, both lost for the season, and Carl Nordberg, who was injured last week and is out of the southern game, the Michigan State squad is in fine condition. When they left Lansing the team was in high spirits and anxious to get into action against the southerners. Following the improvement that the "Fighting Spartans" have shown in the past three weeks in swamping Adrian, North Carolina State, and Case, Michigan State is conceded better than an even chance to score a win Saturday.

Just before the Spartan team left Wednesday they went through a long hard scrimmage against a fresh eleven armed with "Dixie" plays. Sending his first string line-up in at the start

Michigan State football fans will have an opportunity to watch the play-by-play account of the Michigan State-Mississippi A. & M. game played at Jackson, Miss., on the grid-graph at the Michigan State gymnasium Saturday afternoon. The game is scheduled for 3 p. m.

Coach Crowley was pleased with the powerful attack the Spartans showed. While on offense the State eleven quickly shoved eight touchdowns over the goal lines with fast clicking aerial and end running plays. With the big Green and White line opening holes on every play, the State ball carriers ran wild over the fresh team in one of the most inspiring practices of the year.

Later during the session Crowley ordered the fresh to be given the ball on the State five yard line. Repeated tries to score by the fresh Mississippi team failed to dent the big powerful Spartan line. Time after time the big forwards broke through to smear the

FROSH GRIDDERS MEET GR. RAPIDS

Furniture City Junior College Next
Foe for Husky Kobsmen
Monday Afternoon.

Coach John Kobs and his squad of fresh gridmen will leave Monday morning at 9 o'clock for Grand Rapids where they will meet the Grand Rapids Junior college varsity in the afternoon. In what promises to be a mighty struggle for the Green and White eleven, with more than a good chance of the score.

Coach Kobs was pessimistic as to the outcome of the clash as the yearlings have not been up to snuff in their recent practice sessions. Another thing which is far from cheerful to the coach is the fact that the Junior college squad has not lost a home game this season, vanquishing several tough clubs in the course of their winning streak.

The yearlings have been intensively drilled this week on their formations, their seasons lasting long after nightfall. New plays have been drilled into the boys until each lad has had his fill of football. Dummy scrimmages plays way behind the line of scrimmage. Crowley used both his first team and reserves against the opponent's plays so the Spartans are thoroughly acquainted with the Mississippi formations.

When he left, Crowley expected to use the following men to start the Mississippi game tomorrow: Fog, left end; Ferrari, left tackle; Gross, left guard; Smead, center; Hayden, right guard; Radier, right tackle; Lewis, right end; Grove, quarterback; Chail, left halfback; Capt. Dickson, or Green, right halfback and Duke Schall, fullback.

FROSH VICTORS IN CLASS MEET

Yearlings Win Annual Interclass Handicap With Total of 93 Points; Sophs Second.

By placing men in each event the freshmen easily won the annual interclass handicap track meet held this week and finished last night with a total of 93 points. The sophomores took second with 28 points while the juniors ranked third with 11. No seniors placed in the finals. The meet was one of the most successful held during the past five years, and unearthed a wealth of material which will be very useful in turning out future varsity teams for the Green and White.

Handicaps, based on past performances of the athletes, were given in all events. It was arranged as nearly as possible to give all contestants an equal start. This meet culminates the fall track activities for the year. Indoor track will start at the beginning of the winter term.

All first places were very impressive, and other performances as well looked very encouraging to the coaches. The number of freshmen who turned out also was pleasing to the coaches, who see in these men material for teams of the future.

Kobs is not sure of his starting line-up, but he will make his choice from the following list: left ends, Arneski and Gotta; left tackles, Brunette and Dietz; left guards, Bowen, Bernhagen and Boughner; centers, Fatchett, Byers and Ketch; right guards, Hackbart and Collins; right tackles, MacDowell and Sweeney; right ends, Vandermere and Goodrich; quarterbacks, Meiers, Hill and Swartzberg; left halves, Monnet and Kennedy; right halves, Kautz, fullbacks, Kowatch, Wood and March; A. & S. Kowatch, Wood and March. Arneski and Gotta are both on the injured list, and one or both of them may be unable to enter the fray. This will be another serious handicap to the Green and White gridders.

This game is one of the big features on the Armistice Day program at Grand Rapids. The frosh will make the trip by bus, the band accompanying them.
