THEY CALL IT BROWNING—

There is nothing more contemptible in our minds than the student who tries to get himself through college by working himself into the position that we called "teacher's pet" in grammar school days. They call it "browning" on this campus. But we do object to the extent to which this thing has been carried.

At the present time it is scarcely possible for a student to repose to common courtesy toward his professors without being dubbed a "browner." One cannot walk across the campus with his professor from one building to another, or talk to an instructor after class, without exposing himself to the jeers of fellow students. We have even known students, not over-clever in their work, who have refrained from asking questions in class because they have been afraid of "browning." In such cases our respected custom becomes a detriment and nothing else.

We object to this sort of sentiment among the students. For there are too many who absolutely need the personal help of their instructors, who need the friendship of older persons, and who need faculty advice on certain matters. This thing called "browning" also has its harmful side among the faculty, for we know certain professors who are quite evidently afraid of being "brownered."

We therefore urge a more sensible attitude among both faculty and students as regards this thing called "browning," and what we ask is a feeling of less restraint and a higher degree of friendly cooperation.

ILLEGAL BUMMING—

Some question has arisen of late concerning the new East Lansing traffic ordinance in regard to bunning. Several students have been fined for this practice, and have raised objections.

Section 43 of the new ordinance states: "It shall be unlawful for any person to stand in any roadway and solicit a ride from the operator of any private vehicle." According to our understanding this does not make it unlawful to stand on the curb and wait to be picked-up. However, the driver of any car must park against the curb and in a lawful place before picking up any bunnings, otherwise he too, is subject to arrest and fine.

Under the list of penalties is included, "Standing in roadway and soliciting ride from private vehicle, $1.00." Students are therefore warned to abide by the law when bunning.

AN EVIDENT DESIRE—

The turnout for the convocation was evidence of a desire for convocations. The students were not all in attendance indeed, but the program was not of a sort to be attractive to all. Those in attendance, however, were a good representative body.

In as much as students have turned out in large number for the college artists' course lectures, and in as much as many were on hand Thursday for a not especially enthusiastic program, we feel that they manifest a desire for more convocations.

We would like to have good speakers brought to the campus. And we feel assured that with good live programs, not lacking in punch and enthusiasm, such convocations would be a success, and draw from one time to another an ever increasing crowd.

WAKE UP—

"The more alive you are, the more eagerly interested you are in what you're doing." These were the words of Henry Ford, uttered during a recent interview with the publisher of a well known magazine.

Perhaps the trouble with a great many college students is that they are not alive enough. If the truth were known, we would find quite a percentage of them "dead." These "dead" ones are those who are constantly complaining that the world is all wrong, and that nothing ever goes right: They are the ones who spend their time grumbling about this and about that, instead of spending a little time waking up.

Many times we have been reminded that an interest in one's work is a pre-requisite of success. Now then, can half-alive persons expect to make a success of their work at college unless they wake up and become keenly interested in what they are doing? A great many of them do not give their professors or their courses a chance. They rationalize and excuse themselves by saying that certain courses are "dead," and that it isn't their fault that they fail to get along in them; when, in reality, they themselves are the "dead" ones, and the ones on whom the blame should be placed.—Syracuse Daily Orange.

Music -- Art and Drama

TUESDAY—Theta Alpha Phi presents Goldoni's "Mistress of the Inn" at the State Theater at 9 o'clock.

"Mistress of the Inn," Goldoni's excellent Italian play will commence the winter term productions of Theta Alpha Phi college dramatic society at the State Theater this evening. The colorful native Italian costumes will add brilliance to this production, which is a classical drama in three acts, this being the first time in several years that special costumes have been used. The cast is unusual in that there are only six characters, which should be conducive to an especially fine performance, since this gives more time for individual drill and attention can be paid to the finer details.

There are a good many sore feet dragging slowly and painfully up and down the steep stairs of the various buildings on campus, the owners are would-be chorus girls with light hearts and lacking limbs. During the afternoon's strenuous rehearsal of dance routines, powder and rouge begin to disappear and the well-bred poised coed undergoes a gradual metamorphosis into a high-stepping, hard-working chorus girl.

The short chubby man in plus-fours, ultra-collegiate when seen on the street in racoon coat and black hat, is Mr. John W. Judd, his home wherever he parks his hat, headquarters in Fokema Ohio. Mr. Judd has had extended practical dramatic experience, having played such roles as Old Man Guppy in "Cappy Ricks," Sammy in "Tupp to the Right" and the male lead in "The Misleading Lady." He has also rehearsed and directed 115 shows in 37 different cities, and has traveled over 41 states and Canada in the course of his work. Among the most important of his productions in Michigan was the production in Jackson last year for the republican celebration. It is surprising to learn that he formerly taught high school, holding the assistant principalship and served in the army during the World War. "The Prince" bids fair to be an excellent production under his very capable direction.

Louis Graveure, actor and Louis Richards, harpist, are expected to return from New York after Tuesday or Wednesday. Their final rehearsal given last Saturday evening in Carnegie Hall was a huge success. They were recalled for encores after encores by the applause and praise of the enthusiastic music lover who filled the largest and most exclusive of the New York auditoriums.

Professor Michael Price is also expected to return to the same time from Battle Creek, where he has been cooperating from his recent illness. Two carloads of his pupils and friends drove over to visit him Saturday and report that his health is again improved.

Two new music organizations have been formed this term, the first a trio, Sakina Henderson, soprano; Maxine East, contralto; and Pauline Sandham, pianist. The second is a string quartet composed of Jane Solomon, first violin; Zilpa Leach, second violin; Harper Stevens, viola; and Irene McKee, cello.

The Press Association was entertained at their annual banquet by the Union Trust and several other societies by the Herald-Bank and Banner-Brook. The Michigan Trust will also pay for the best student performance of Thursday.

According to J. Backus, director of the extension department, a new course in law being offered in winter and summer terms at M. S. C. is a course covering the history, organization, methods, purposes, powers and opportunities of extension work.

Campus Flashes Emulate Ziegfeld Folly Chorines

Perhaps you have noticed some of our campus bright lights limping about town and incidentally giving a fair imitation of the battle of the Marne. They may easily be detected by an extremely slow and cautious gait and a marked aversion for flights of start-up stairs to one of them and he will probably collapse.

All of which is rather puzzling until one reflects that try-outs for the dancing choruses of the Union Opera are in full swing and the pun intended, and lame are the followers thereof—very lame. They now take twenty minutes to get to class instead of the usual ten. But this little affliction doesn't seem to discourage such would-be chorines and gentlemen-of-the-evening, for they haunt the Union by day and practice their shuffling by night. Unfortunately a few security sisters and fraternity brothers fail to appreciate such sacrifice in the name of Art.

Step! Slap! Step! Kick! Left front foot out! Right foot! You can even make it work if you try long enough. First you watch the director do it. Oh, how simple it does seem. Then you try. It's still quite simple, but you seem to need another foot. Either that, or you have one too many. Let's see, which way did he turn? Nope, you'll break a leg that way. You furiously watch your neighbor. He doesn't seem to grasp it either, he is making the odd-saw stairs to one of them and he will probably collapse.

The director demonstrates again and another try you are convinced that he is a second Ted Shawn in comparison to your futile efforts. But this time nobody is fooled by appearances. The chorus settles down to the real work of getting that step. The mental strain is terrific. You wish that your parents had sent you to a dancing school at the tender age of three. That mistake seems the best of the worst order. Step, kick, step, kick, slap! Slap! Slap! Slap! Good night! Suddenly you realize with a start that you are actually watching the director check up on watching the director. You! No fooling! Well, whaddya know about that?

M. S. C. SONG BOOK TO BE PUBLISHED

Sphinx Decides to Compile Edition; Co-eds Are Requested for Committees.

At the last regular business meeting Thursday evening Sphinx decided to publish a Michigan State College Song Book and to give a series of teas during the ensuing term.

Several attempts have been made to give to the student body a collection of our college songs, but until now efforts have been futile. Sphinx hopes by the cooperation of the student body to make this a complete project. Sophomore and junior girls are urged to sign their services on committees for the compilation of the song book and the arrangement of the afternoon teas. It is called to the attention of those girls who hesitate to sign up for these committees because of a feeling of incompetence due to inexperience that there will be something on these committees for them to do as well as for those girls who have had experience. Co-eds wishing to give their services to Sphinx in this manner and to receive activity points, are requested to see Helen Murdoch or some other member of Sphinx society.

"HALLELUJAH" COLORFUL PICTURE OF NEGRO LIFE

Hunting his actors in night clubs, New York negro theaters, and on the streets of Memphis, his locations in three southern states in the Mississippi delta region, and working out from his own personal knowledge and experiences, one of the most dramatic and human stories ever depicted on the screen, King Vidor, famous director of "The Big Parade," has at last achieved the dream of a lifetime.

It is embodied in "Hallelujah," first all-talking, all-negro drama of the screen, one of M-G-M's biggest productions in years, which comes to the State theater tomorrow and Thursday.

Early in his career as a screen director, Vidor wanted to stage a negro drama and had in his head the very story of "Hallelujah," which he based on his own experiences. Finally, with the coming of the talking picture, he was given his chance. M-G-M decided that, with the rich field of negro music, blues and spirituals to augment the drama, it would be one of the marvels of the season.

Vidor at once started work on adaptation, and Wanda Tuchock, scenarist, and then set out to find his story, with Richard Schayer, cast. It required a cast of perfect actors for principals, his extras he decided to choose on location along the banks of the Mississippi.

PICTURE PROOFS MUST BE RETURNED IMMEDIATELY

Students who have had appointments for pictures for the 1930 Wolverine should return their proofs to Le Claire's studio at once if they wish to have their picture in the annual. According to Harold B. Memo editor of the book, all proofs must be in by Friday, Jan. 31.

Because of the large number of students who have failed to return the proofs, there may be some pictures lacking when the book is published. Memo states that he hopes the students will cooperate by returning the delinquent proofs at once.

SPARTANS MEET HOPE TONIGHT VICTORIOUS IN ROUGH CONTEST WITH DETROIT QUINTET, 21-18

Dutchmen to Present Rangy Team; Scott Makes Winning Tally in Titan Game Saturday Night; Roger Grove and Art Haga Lead in Scoring.

THE MICHIGAN STATE college basketball team will meet the rangy Hope college quintet in Demonstration hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock and Friday evening will entertain the strong Marquette university cagers. It will be a case of Coach Ben Van Alstyne's Spartan basketballers relying upon their speedy maneuvers to cope with the six footers representing Hope.

State defeated the University of Detroit, 21 to 18, in a rough-and-tumble game played in the state metropolis Saturday evening. It was the second win of the season over the Titan cagers, the first game resulting in a 26 to 20 win for the Spartans. Plenty of thrills were provided for the fans who saw State score her seventh victory over Detroit in eight starts.

Detroit displayed a strong defense to give State a hard battle. None of the Spartan speedsters were able to break away with any regularity, but Haga, due in some measure to the fact that the Titans employed football tactics without having the officials even register surprise. Roger Grove and Art Haga shared the high scoring honor with six points each.

State got away to a comfortable lead in the second half and the Titans maintained their offensive and within five minutes the score was tied at 12 all. Field goals by Don Grove and Haga and a free throw by Haga enabled State to pull ahead, but the Spartans' total was matched, the score board read 18 to 18 with four minutes to play. At the juncture Wayne Scott stepped into the picture to win the game for State. He got loose under the basket to score a field goal and was fouled in the act of shooting. Scott was apparently hurt in the melee and failed to tally on his six attempts. He soon attempted to repeat his feat, but failed to score from the court and sunk a free throw. State successfully stalled on this lead to win the game.

The lineup and summary: Michigan State (21) FG FT TP PP. Don Grove 1 2 0 4 3. R. Grove 1 2 0 6 3. Ben Hester 0 2 2 2 1. Scott 1 1 1 1 1. Haga 3 0 0 0 2.

STATE SKATERS SHUT OUT 7-0

Michigan Hockey Team Runs Past Spartan Sextet; Pevic Proves Star.

Coach John K. Kist's Spartan hockey team fell before the University of Michigan skaters 7 to 0, here Saturday afternoon. The Wolverine pack showed flashes of speed on the ice and their accurate passing was too much for the State skaters to cope with.

The splendid work of Pevic, State goalie, was all that saved the Spartans from an even more stinging defeat as he made at least 30 sensational stops. Jones and Straff were the outstanding players for State.

The lineup and summary: Michigan State (7) Goals Pevic. Defense Warner. Forwards Burns. Coach Kist. Captain Hartz. Joseph Wing. Clark. Snyder Winger Jones.

Score by periods: Michigan State 2 2 3 7. Spartan State 0 0 0 0. Goals: Joseph 2, one on assist by Langdon, Hart 2, Simpson, Bryant and Winger.

FINAL CUTS IN FRESH CAGERS

Remaining 17 Are Put Through Paces in Preparation for Games

The final cut having been made, Coach Carl Pelt has taken the remaining men who are out for fresh basketball and divided them into intensive drill. As arranged there are seventeen men composing the squad.

A. is the custom of most coaches. Pelt is reluctant to say much about his prospects of doing anything extraordinary. They are far according to him and might be whipped into a team through hard work.

The section have no announced schedule. Games are requested as the season progresses. Coach Pelt is trying to arrange a game for this week, but as yet, nothing definite has turned up. The Alma freshmen may be scheduled to meet the Green and White from some time in the near future.

FROSH TRYOUTS BREAK RECORDS

Numbers and Material of Track Candidates Show Much Promise.

More freshmen appear to make the track team this year than ever before in the history of the college. Sixty-one first year men are practicing nightly in the gym for the indoor track season which opens next month. Many of the third-years have won laurels in intercollegiate competition and show much promise.

M. Merritt, Dowagiac, a former Western State Normal athlete and M. Fairhall, Daville, Illinois, are considered for honors in the mile and 1/2 mile. The best Union City and N. Smith, Newaygo, are two other capable men in this event.

In the high jump, I. Lewis, former Detroit Eastern track star, leads the field. In 1929 Lewis won the high jump at the National Intercollegiate meet held at Evanston with a leap of six feet one and three-fourths inches. Other prospective high jumpers include J. Kistebush, Arcene, and K. Bull, Bailey.

R. Jensen, Escanaba, leads the freshmen hurdlers. Jensen last year led the intercollegiate high hurdle championship of the upper peninsula. Other hurdlers who show promise are F. Hall, former Miles star; R. Steele, Detroit; O. Adler, Niles; B. Hutter, St. Louis, Michigan.

CO-EDS ARE ACTIVE IN ALL ATHLETICS

About 300 Girls Take Part in Winter Term Sports.

There are approximately 200 girls signed up for sports this term. This means a large percentage of State girls are playing an active part in athletics. The two major sports offered winter term are basketball and swimming. There are 90 girls out for basketball and 75 attending swimming. This term offers has drawn the interest of many co-eds and as a result many are indulging in this minor sport.

Eighty-six girls are attending volleyball practices. Two individual sports are offered, skating and hiking, the latter being a year-round activity.

STATE FENCERS DEFEATED

Michigan State fencers lost the first meet of the season Saturday when Michigan swindman defeated them at Ann Arbor, 8 to 4. State fencers put on a brilliant exhibition in the meet but went down before a stellar Michigan team. Capt. Bauer scored all 11 but one of State's points in foil, sabre, and epee.
