BEAT MICHIGAN!

Michigan State's fighting football eleven left today for the annual grid engagement with the University of Michigan team to be played at Ann Arbor tomorrow afternoon. The Spartans will try to break a 14-year-old tradition by producing a victory over the Wolverines.

Coach James H. (Sleepy) Crowley and his Spartan gridders have been working hard for the past three weeks in preparation for the game with State's oldest and most feared foe. The 1936 team is a clever outfit and will win tomorrow if sheer courage and fight has anything to do with the final outcome.

State fans have a duty to perform in the stands at the Michigan game. Our team will be playing on a foreign field against favored opponents who have the edge on the Spartans in former contests and will need all the moral support that the loyal Green and White fans can give. Get behind our fighting gridders and help defeat Michigan!

CUT OUT THE RED TAPE—

Just after a period of registration it is plausible to stop and consider the large amount of red tape that is entailed in registering and classifying at Michigan State. During the past few days many have heard to remark concerning the numerous delays in arranging their schedules, paying their fees, etc. When the faculty have asked for co-operation the student body has always attempted to respond in the desired fashion. Why not help out the students when they need help?

The most bothersome troubles that the students are complaining of at present is the long waits that are necessary in order to see deans and department heads. Could this not be remedied in some way? The appointment system at least would save many hours of time for the students and might make the faculty member's life a trifle more pleasant.

Surely it is not necessary to wait a day or longer, as some people have, just to get a classification slip, which takes only about two minutes to procure once the inner reaches of the dean's sanctum is gained.

Help "Beat Michigan" by going to Ann Arbor Saturday for the annual State-Wolverine grid game.

The Campus Cynic

Voices to the right of them,
Voices to the left of them
Tackled and stumbled,
Stormed at with shock and yell
Bodily they fight and well
All through a game of hell
All that is left of them
The Spartans undaunted.
(Most profane apologies to Tennyson.)

The poetry may be forcible, but it's the sentiment that matters. Michigan will meet an inspired team Saturday. Practice this week has produced an attack diversified, powerful, and enthusiastic. Crowley's team will be very near its peak. A Michigan victory will be well earned.

The racket down town rates the Kipemen a ten to two favorite. The champion is always the favorite. Howard went into the ring at Toledo back in 1918 with seven to one odds against Dempsey, the comparative unknown. He came out on a stretcher. Let me not Longfellow you (if I may coin an expression.) Do your own moralizing.

A fraternity has sent its curtains to be laundered. (Believe it or not.) It was the second day that the house had been unveiled. In the morning the following note arrived from the sorority across the street.

"Dear Sirs:—May we suggest that you procure curtains for your windows. We do not care for a course in anatomy."

The chap who left his shaving to read the note answered:
"Dear Girls:—The course is optional. (From the Montreal Star.)
No complaints have reached the Olympics from across the way.

Louis Gravenre is innovating something entirely new. He is advising his music students to take up fencing. It will promote poise, increase grace, and more highly develop the sense of rhythm. At that rate we recommend that the course be made a requirement for all Ag students and Chi Omegas. (These societies are getting entirely too much publicity in this column.)

Which reminds us of the excellent device a much heekled brother invented. In replying to one of his numerous creditors: "At the end of each week I gather all my bills and place them in a basket. Then I close my eyes and pick out one at random. This one I pay. And if I receive any more impertinent correspondence from you I will take you out of my raffle."

Being rushing season this one is pertinent. (We must get this stuff off our chest. And this rhetorical "We" grips our modest soul.) A fraternity invited a freshman, who had been recommended by an alumnus to a rushing dinner. Shortly after his arrival the brothers came to the conclusion that he wasn't all that was desired. He was completely ignored. At the termination of the second course he rose, reached into his pocket, produced a dollar, and said: "This will pay for the meal." He made his departure in a profound silence.

INTERFRAT BODY BANS PLEDGING

pledge a man before the second Monday after the registration of upperclassmen. This means that pledging this year will start on October 6—actually, midnight of Sunday, Oct. 5.

Most of the fraternities have been rushing actively since the beginning of Freshman week, and Monday morning will see pledge buttons on the lapels of many of the first-year men.

In connection with pledging, Stanley Cswait, president of the council, reiterated his advice of Freshman week. He warned the first-year men again that a pledge is a solemn thing, and to choose wisely before taking the step. "Don't rush into it with your eyes shut," he admonishes the yearlings. "Take time to consider carefully the men you will be associated with, and make certain that they will be congenial. Your fraternity will be a great influence on your college career, and in justice to yourself, be sure that it is a good one."

A committee was appointed to take charge of the details of this.

It was also decided to secure a new fraternity scholarship cup, the former one having passed into the permanent possession of Theta Kappa Nu, who have won it three years in succession.

ESTIMATE 5,000 SPARTAN FANS TO INVADE ANN ARBOR

line crossed by opposing players. Play- ing on that memorable State team was George E. "Carp" Julian, without a doubt one of the greatest football men ever to don the Spartan colors.

Coach Crowley's men this year will enter the game favored for the first time in many years by advance dope. The comparative scores of last Saturday if taken as an indication of the strength of the two teams gives State an edge on paper. Michigan had great difficulty in eking out a 7 to 6 win over Ypsilanti, while in spring football practice the Spartan gridders completely outclassed the Normalites in every department of the game.

State's first battle this year with Alma, M. I. A. A champions, resulted in a 28 to 0 win. Coach Jimmy Crowley is not paying much attention to comparative scores in the opening games. He is not optimistic because of Michigan's initial game but has been whipping his team into shape to meet a regenerated Wolverine team tomorrow afternoon.

In the Alma game State used only four plays which will be greatly augmented in the game tomorrow when Crowley opens his bag of tricks against Michigan.

All this week the varsity has been going through long signal drills and scrimmages so that when they trot out on the field tomorrow they will be in the pink of condition. Throughout every practice this week special emphasis has been laid on forward passes. State's defense against passes was a glaring weakness last Saturday against Alma and the strenuous concentration to improve this fault has helped the State defense remarkably.

The Spartan team tomorrow afternoon will present about the same lineup that appeared against Alma. This lineup has been bearing the brunt of the practice sessions this week and most likely will be Coach Crowley's starters. Roger Grove will be at quarter. Able Elowitz at full, Bob Monnett and Jerry Ewen at the halves. The line will find Bud Mores at center. Gross and Claude Stroh at guards. Don Riddle and Brunette at tackles. Cecil Pegg and Myrt Vandermere at the flanks.

It was thought that Carl Nordberg, sensational Spartan ball carrier, might be able to get into the Michigan game but that remote possibility has been almost eliminated. Nordberg was in a uniform several nights this week limbering up and trying to get into shape but his injured knee necessitated his absence from the rougher going. Jake Pace, who was injured in the Alma game has fully recovered from his injury and will be ready for service against Michigan tomorrow. Don Riddle, one of the bulwarks of the Spartan line has fully recovered from his illness of last week and should prove a powerful cog in the Spartan grid machine tomorrow. The team will not be lacking in good reserve material as Crowley has plenty of backs and linemen. Don Warren, Sammy Stutzberg and Joe Kowatch may see duty in the backfield, while Lester Ego, Jake Pace, Harold Ham, Elwyn Fatchett, Pop Warner and others may be called upon for line positions.

Both Pocket and Desk Pen Now in One
Only Parker Duofold Offers This Combination
SAVES PRICE OF A SECOND PEN
PEN GUARANTEED FOR LIFE
As a Pocket Pen
Getting the Parker Duofold is now like getting two Pens at the price of one. Attaching a tapered end converts it into a Desk Set Pen. Removing the taper restores it to a pocket Pen.
Either way, you save the price of a second pen. You have only one Pen to fill instead of two. And whether you write at your desk or on the go, you always have your favorite point.
You have a non-breakable Permalite barrel that holds 17.4% more ink than average, size for size—that is jewel-like in lustre, color, and beauty. And most of all—the famous Duofold Bonus point that writes with Geo. S. Parker's 47th improvement—Frictionless Touch.
Same Pen Converted
Even at higher prices, other makers have been unable to match this classic. Now that it takes the place of a special pen for the pocket and another for the desk, its sales are soaring beyond all previous heights.
Go and ask the nearest dealer to show how the Duofold is changed back and forth from a Pocket to a Desk Set Pen. If you own a Parker, take it with you. If not, go anyway and see this revolutionary invention.

★ Point- Smiths Paid a Bonus
Given meritorious inspections are given each Parker Duofold point. Then we pay a bonus to our point-smiths who made it. Points are rejected if they fail even one inspection, and the point-smith pays us a bonus. Yet, 7 out of 8 points earn a bonus, because we limit each man to a given number a day.

Quiet Social Weekend Anticipated As General Exodus to Michigan Game Draws Campus Interest

Student Council Mixer, Blue Key Pep Meeting Aid in Raising Grid Interest; S. A. E., Pi Kappas, Trinitra Plan Open Houses; List Summer Marriages of State Students

THE GLAMOUR of the approaching Michigan game surges over the campus dispelling pangs of homesickness and scholastic despair. The spirit of revelry pervaded the campus last night, when the whole school turned out to have its enthusiasm brought to a pitch at the all-college pep meeting, and danced away the earlier hours of the evening at the mixer held in Demonstration Hall.

Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Casteel were guests at the dance, and the Play-Boys furnished the music. Every one got mixed up in fine fashion, the freshmen getting the usual rush from the stag lines.

The Michigan-Michigan State alumni will hold a banquet in anticipation of tomorrow's game, tonight in the Union building. J. W. Sexton will be toastmaster and Lee Bancroft, songmaster. Judge C. D. Collingwood, Pres. R. S. Shaw, Prof. James Crowley, Mr. Bavard, Mr. Reinke and T. Hawley Tapping, University of Michigan alumni secretary, will give short talks. Music will be furnished by Frances Ayers and Fred Smith.

The college branch of the Michigan

State club held a steak roast at Potter Park Wednesday evening. The committee consisted of Winifred Tomblom and Marie Mercier.

The State College club had its first meeting of the year in the form of a luncheon in the dining room back of the club rooms in the Union Wednesday noon. Prof. L. C. Emmons, vice-president of the organization, presided, and Pres. R. S. Shaw welcomed the new members of the faculty who were present. About 30 men attended the luncheon. These are weekly affairs, and will hereafter be only for the members of the club.

Because of the Michigan game, very few societies are holding parties this week-end. The Pi Kappa Plus, however, will have an open house on Friday evening. Prof. and Mrs. L. N. Field and Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sholl will be the patrons. A Fayerweather orchestra will play for the dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. VanAlstyne will act as patrons for the Phi Kappa Tau open house on Friday evening. The Playboys orchestra will furnish the music.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is also making plans for an open house this Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Mort Mason and Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson will be the patrons. Frye's Gold Dinger will play.

A Fayerweather orchestra will play for the Trinitra open house Friday

Offer Hockey As Major Sport In Co-ed Meeting

W. A. A. Board Makes Changes in Activities; Golf and Bowling Made Minor Sports

The W. A. A. board held its first meeting yesterday to make plans for fall term sports and activities. At the meeting it was decided that hockey would be offered as a major sport, and golf and bowling as minor sports. For individual sports there will be hiking and riding.

All practices will start on Monday, Oct. 6. For each sport except golf 10 practices are required. For golf five games of nine holes each must be played and the card placed in the W. A. A. box the following day.

The golf tournament is scheduled to be held from Nov. 1 to 8. The bowling tournament will take place between Nov. 10 and 15, and the hockey games will be played off during the week of Nov. 15.

For membership on a first team a girl will receive from W. A. A. 100 points, for second team membership 50 points, and for completion of the required number of practices 25 points. Receiving 100 points entitles a co-ed to her class numerals and membership in W. A. A. For 500 points she receives a small "S" and for 1000 a large "S". The highest honor is the placing of a girl's name on the honor roll as an award for 1500 points.

For further information, the bulletin board in the gymnasium may be consulted for posters, or athletic managers questioned. The managers of sports are: Hockey, Doris Streeter; golf, Evelyn Bradley; bowling, Betty Baker; and hiking and riding, Kate McAlvey.

Co-ed Dormitories and Society Houses Show Improvement

Womens' Building and Abbott Hall Are Redecorated; Societies Move

Redecorations, rearrangements, and major improvements have been completed in the Women's building, Abbott Hall, and many of the societies over the summer months. Extensive work on the women's dormitories, under the supervision of Dean Elizabeth Conrad and Dean Marie Dye has included the painting of the corridors and rooms and the refinishing of the floors of the Women's building. All of the rooms in Abbott Hall were repapered and the floors refinished.

Among the societies who have improved on their property are the Alpha Chi Omegas who have had their lot landscaped, new walks laid, and the Alpha Phi's who built an addition to their house to accommodate six additional girls, and had their present quarters redecorated.

The basement of the Chi Omega house was refinished into a dining room and kitchen where a new boarding club is in progress, and the sun parlor and outside of the house was painted. Eta Alphan painted the exterior of their house, and the Sigma Kappas list on their improvement program the redecoration of the interior and painting of the exterior of their residence. Sesame installed a new furnace.

Several societies have moved to new quarters. Among these are Delta Alpha who are located at 319 Albert with accommodations for 15 girls. Their quarters were redecorated and painted. Kappa Alpha Theta has moved to 113 Albert, and the Themas are living at 314 Foregreen with accommodations for 17 co-eds.

First Year Co-eds Prefer Swimming to Gym Classes

Of the four women's physical education classes, swimming seems to be a marked favorite, especially among the freshman co-eds. Compared to dancing, hockey and individual gym, swimming has a total of 188 while the others have 144, 138, and 60 members, respectively. Included in the latter class, however, are a few co-eds other than freshmen.

The sophomore girls are classified as 33 in hockey, 30 in dancing, and 12 in swimming. More freshmen "took to the water" than upperclassmen because the former were assigned to swimming classes if they had no vacant hours. Miss Josephine Garvin, in charge of tank, states that the upperclassmen will have their chance next term.

There are two instructors in hockey, Miss Ann Kuehl and Miss Dorothy Parker, due to the large number of participants and the nature of the game. The individual gymnasium class is taught by Miss Hazel Jones.
