INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN

Woodwind Symphony to be Added Feature at Peoples Church.

An internationally noted artist in metropolitan orchestral ensembles, will open the college course in the auditorium of the Peoples church tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. Louis Gravure, tenor, Lewis Schuster, harpichordist, Alexander Gravelle, cellist, and the Woodwind Symphony are billed to appear on an evening concert that is attracting attention all over central Michigan. The opinion of upperclassmen and members, newcomers at State, is an opportunity to witness the finest musical treat that has been presented on this campus. The all-college family given in convocation some two weeks ago, when State's famous staff band assembled, still lives in the memory of many who were here at that time.

Gravure, called by eastern America's greatest tenor today, is the most outstanding star of the college vocal department. Still famous for his singing from a baritone to a soprano in order to sing operatic roles, he holds a unique position in the field. His appearances abroad fall to develop into an ovation packed houses in this part of the state.

DEBATE GROUP MEET IN UNION TO PICK SQUAD

Seven Veterans Come Out for the Squad; Final Tryouts to be Held on Oct. 23.

About 20 candidates turned out for the men's debate team, at a get-together meeting held in the Union last week. Seven of these were on the debate squad are Joseph E. Kidder, 31, Lansing; Joseph E. Killer, 31, Lansing; William Pratt, 31, East Lansing; Richard Hutchison, 32, East Lansing; Edward Green, 31, Lansing, and Morris Huberman, 31, Detroit. Others who were on the squad last year but failed to get into any of the debates are Horace Stone, 32, and Harry Skornia, 32.

The debate squad is especially fortunate in that it lost only one man from the last year's team, Howard Carroll being the man. Last year Richard Hutchison and William Pratt represented Michigan State college at the national forensic contests at Wichita, Kas. Nearly 90 teams participated in this contest.

The personnel of the squad this year will be determined at the tryouts which will be held at Room 1, Woodshop Thursday, Oct. 23. The 20 men will be placed on teams of two, and they will each have four minutes for their constructive speeches and three minutes for rebuttal.

It is not too late to come out for the tryouts and any men who are forensically inclined are urged to come out for the team. Several trips are planned for the squad, and debates with various outstanding universities have been arranged. Prof. J. D. Menchhofer is enthusiastic over the prospects of the squad and would like to have a greater representation of the sophomores and freshmen out for it.

NEW GREENHOUSES BEING CONSTRUCTED

New York Corporation Breaks Ground for Two Ranges of Buildings.

In answer to a standing request covering some 15 years, Dr. Bessey at last has the satisfaction of observing through the rear windows of his office, the King Construction Co. of Tonawanda, N. Y., rapidly laying the ground work for two ranges of experimental greenhouses.

The structure, which is being erected at a cost of $19,000, is expected to be finished by the beginning of winter term. The plumbing and wiring is to be done by the college buildings and grounds department.

Dr. Bessey explains that the new building will not be used as an ornamental feature of the campus, being designed solely for experiments in plant pathology and plant physiology. Blueprints for the new laboratory reveal plans for two glass houses 22 feet by 60 feet connected by a head house 23 feet by 28 feet. The glass houses will be divided into three or four sections to prevent the spread of diseases. The head house is to be used for storing soil, bulbs, dormant plants, pots and basins, and as a laboratory for experimental studies.

The "Three C's" Gave State a Winner in Football

Michigan State College achieved signal recognition in football by beating Colgate University Saturday after waging an uphill battle for many years. Our athletes in other major sports have gained national fame, but last week was the first time that a college gridiron team from East Lansing has startled the nation's sport critics. Michigan State has provided track and cross-country stars who have ranked with the best in the country and Spartan basketball teams have swept aside some of the strongest opposition. Our baseball teams have been highly successful for the past few years, especially when we won the state collegiate championship last spring, and now we can boast of a powerful football combination which upset the giant Maroon team that previously led the nation's teams in scoring and was rated as one of the most feared elvens in the east.

State's last football victory over a major opponent was scored in 1918 when we defeated Notre Dame, 13 to 7. Our gridiron team was not outstandingly successful that year, as we bowed in defeat to three Western Conference teams. Although it is no disgrace, Michigan, Purdue and Wisconsin scored victories over our gridirers that season.

It is necessary to go back into records for the 1915 season to discover a significantly important football victory. That was the year we swamped the University of Michigan eleven, 24 to 0. Captain Blake Miller, L. L. Frimodig, Del Vandervoort, "Brownie" Springer and Blacklock were some of the stars of this famous team. J. F. Macklin was the coach in 1915 and George F. Gauthier was his assistant.

State made a credible showing against Michigan, our most bitter athletic rivals, in 1925 and held the Wolverines to a 7 to 0 victory and in 1928 we limited the Michigan eleven to a 3 to 0 win.

We have been making rapid progress in football since engaging James H. (Sleepy) Crowley, one of Notre Dame's mythical "Four Horsemen," as head coach two years ago. Last year the Spartans made history by running over Mississippi A. & M. 33 to 19 to win their first game on a foreign field in many years. Coach Crowley was handicapped last season by not having the advantage of spring football practice, but developed a team that was not soon forgotten by our opponents.

The "Three C's"—Crowley, Carberry and Casteel—have given Michigan State a winning football team this year through their untiring efforts and the masterful way in which they handle their men. Head Coach Crowley is a thorough student of psychology and deals with his players intelligently. Glen (Judge) Carberry, another Notre Dame star, has schooled the line-men well in close-in play. Miles W. (Mike) Casteel, a valued member of our coaching staff, has been very active in assisting Coach Crowley in training the Spartan backfield men. Coach Casteel must be given much credit for the complete way in which he scouted Colgate and taught the Spartans the most effective defense against the Maroon formations.

We have a football squad this year of which we can justly be proud. Every man who was given a chance to play against Colgate Saturday staged the best performance of his career and the gridirers were heart and soul in their task. The men who were on the sidelines, particularly those who have opposed the varsity in practice, did much more toward the victory than the average fan believes. The two injured Spartans who were unable to play, as well as Captain Harold Smead, had the pleasure of watching a well played game. It behooves the students to back their 1930 team to the utmost, because it is one of the best ever developed here and our gridirers have the courage and confidence to beat opponents with a higher rating, as evidenced Saturday.

State has had a highly successful football season thus far, thanks to the fighting spirit with which Coach Crowley has imbued his charges, and we hope for a clean sweep over our remaining opponents. This should be achieved with the proper student support behind our crack team.

State made a credible showing against Michigan, our most bitter athletic rivals, in 1925 and held the Wolverines to a 7 to 0 victory and in 1928 we limited the Michigan eleven to a 3 to 0 win.

National Extension Agent in Conference This Week

BULLETIN

Michigan State's victory Saturday was one of great satisfaction to the coaches and team as well as the entire student body. The celebration Saturday evening was very commendable. However, the occurrences Monday morning were very unfortunate, although the council realizes that the incident incurred was the work of a few unthinking students who failed to realize the seriousness of their act.

The mass meeting held in Lansing in the afternoon was highly successful and the council is very well satisfied with the conduct of State students while in the neighboring city.

The council asks that if such an emergency arises in the future that the students report their request to the Student Council—for in reality the council is the connecting link between the faculty and the student body.

ROAD SHOW PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

Mammoth Exhibition to be Held Oct. 28, 29, 30; Statewide Delegation.

Plans are at present nearly completed for what is promised to be the largest road equipment show ever to be held in the State of Michigan. The demonstration will be held October 28, 29 and 30, under the auspices of the Michigan Roads Association in the new armory. Mr. Hannah of Lansing is chairman of the event with Mr. McKinley of Grand Rapids as business manager. In addition to the large space afforded by the demonstration hall, a large tent erected nearby will exhibit the latest in road equipment.

JUDGING TEAM TAKES TROPHY

State Group Are Awarded First Place in Jersey Contest.

Competing with 25 teams from the leading dairy schools in the country at the National Dairy Show held at St. Louis, Mo., Coach George Taylor's judging team took first place in Jersey cow and to bring the circulating trophy awarded by the American Jersey Cattle Club to the campus for the second time. The trophy will come into permanent possession of the first school to win it three times.

Laurel Kest won sweetest in judging all breeds, while Kenneth Parish was beaten for first place in the Jersey contest by one point, the winners scored a total of 393 points to Parish's 392. The American Jersey Cattle Club awards a $600 scholarship annually to the student standing highest in this contest.

Laurel Kest, Kenneth Parish, and Charles Davis made up the trio that used for honors at St. Louis, while Russell Waste made the trip as alternate.

The team took an indirect route in order to make a circuit of the leading dairy herds in the midwest. At each stop Prof. Taylor gave his charges a workout in practice judging.

The first halt in the journey was at the University of Wisconsin at Madison where Coach Taylor's party was joined by the teams from the state colleges of North and South Dakota. A few days later, the Purdue and the University of Wisconsin teams were added to the group. By Monday morning, Oct. 13, 25 teams had arrived at St. Louis to compete in the biggest judging event of the year. Starting at 8 a. m., the contest persisted until 8 o'clock in the evening. Announcements of placings and the presentation of awards were made at a banquet sponsored by the American Dairy Science association.

HUGE PARADE, MASS MEETING ON CAPITOL LAWN CLIMAXES VICTORY DAY DEMONSTRATION

Unofficial Evacuation of Classrooms, Parades and Impromptu Dance in Morning Reflects Student Enthusiasm.

CELEBRATING Michigan State's recent football victory over the highly touted Colgate university grid machine, the student body yesterday spent part of the day in staging a giant demonstration in honor of Coach James H. (Sleepy) Crowley and his "Fighting Spartan Gridirers." Beginning in the morning at 8 o'clock, an unofficial walk-out from classes was organized, led by an impromptu band, a dance was held in the Union ballroom from 8:30 to 10, and a mammoth pep meeting held on the capitol steps in Lansing at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon were the high spots of the day.

OLD GRADS' DAY ATTRACTS 5,000 TO ALMA MATER

Bedecked Society Houses, First Snowfall, Colgate Victory Feature Day.

Another Homecoming has come and gone, leaving in its wake the pleasant memories of renewed friendships, hilarious welcoming of "Old Grads," the old college town decked out in her best holiday dress and a great deal of the unforgettable sight of a fighting State football team making history with a brilliant motion picture finish. Early Friday, the hordes of visitors began to arrive. With the prospects of one of the biggest games in the country to spur them on, it is estimated that the crowd of alumni and visitors swelled to near the 5,000 mark by 10 a. m. The spirit of past years was recalled as the former campus leaders, athletic stars, journalists, actors, musicians and general "big shot" met together in reminiscences of their own college days at State. Despite the fact that the inclement weather made the task of decorating the exterior of society houses a hazardous undertaking, a considerable number were gaily decked out in brilliant garb. The two schools' colors were extensively used in the many unique and beautiful decorative effects. Because of the beauty and appropriateness of the Lambda Chi Alpha decorations, a committee composed of Dean Elizabeth Conrad, Prof. H. W. Jones, H. H. Plouffe and Prof. C. R. Hallinan awarded the Interfraternity Council loving cup to them. The Delphics and Phyleans were awarded honorable mention. The game was the highlight of the day.

TROOPERS RADIO UNIQUE IN PLAN

Forty-One States and Territories Receive WRDS in Tests.

East Lansing can now boast the only State police radio station in the United States. After several weeks of testing, the apparatus is now ready for duty. In fact, it has already been used in the combat with crime and has proved itself very effective. The work of installing receiving sets in the police cars and in the sheriff's offices is going ahead rapidly and when completed, should furnish the "cops" with a very efficient system of communication.

OFFER NEW TROPHY FOR FLOWER SHOW

Officials of Lansing State Journal To Present Cup to Best Chrysanthemum.

The State Journal is this year offering a beautiful silver cup for the best case of 12 snow white chrysanthemums shown at the annual show of the Michigan State Florists' association Nov. 7, 8 and 9, at the new armory at Michigan State college. This cup is to be won three years in succession to come into permanent possession. The new class is numbered 119 in the premium list and is creating considerable interest among the flower growers of the state. It is expected that nearly every member of the association who grows any of this variety will make an entry. Some of the growers have been feeding their plants special foods in an effort to get as large size as possible in the flowers.

HONORARY HEAD AT BIENNIAL CONCLAVE

Plans to Extend Professional Organizations to Several Cities Throughout the State.

"Deak" Atkinson, president of the professional honorary Alpha Chi Sigma, attended the Biennial Conclave held near Minneapolis from June 17 to 21. Representatives from 46 collegiate chapters, 10 professional chapters, and four professional groups were there. Fraternity legislation was the theme of the meetings. Here, also, the Michigan State chapter was awarded the all "A" rating for collegiate chapters out of the 13 competing.

Last year the Alpha Chi Sigma sponsored the Chemistry Show during "Pumpkin Week" and plans are already being made to back one this year.

STOP AND THINK!

In times of misunderstanding the best policy is usually to stop, think and then draw your conclusions. When the student is excited over some issue, it is almost impossible for him to analyze correctly his feelings on the subject. Thus the Michigan State News believes that Michigan State students should not be too hasty in forming their opinions concerning the difficulties which has come up this week.

Perhaps some of our student groups were at fault, perhaps the student body as a whole; but anyway the best and most profitable method of procedure would be to have the students think over the situation and act rationally. Unthinking students at times are extremely irresponsible—STOP AND THINK!

THANK YOU, LANSING

Monday's giant demonstration held in front of the State capitol building in Lansing was staged with much success due to the united co-operation of the friends of Michigan State among the neighboring city's leading business men. Perhaps these men at times feel that the Michigan State students fail to appreciate their interest at the college, but in behalf of the entire student body we wish to thank the city of Lansing for making possible our victory celebration mass meeting in that city.

AN UNFINISHED DEDICATION

Since the University of Michigan came to East Lansing in 1920 to dedicate the new Michigan State football stadium, some of the finest gridiron squads in the country have swept back and forth across its green turf. Today, six years after that famous dedication day, the Spartan stadium has yet to be officially named.

It appears that as far as official action is concerned the field is to serve its lifetime unnamed. As far as we know, no effort has ever been made to give the plant a title that will evoke memories of the Spartan "fighting spirit," becoming famous today in the middle west.

It is time that some student action be taken on the matter. Other colleges can point to such titles that have become hallowed by memories of past gridiron glories. State may have those memories, but they never can have that personal appeal if applied to a mere pile of cement and steel. Never can our stadium be given that personality by procrastination. The time to start is NOW.

Our plea is that M. S. C. HAS an enviable and ancient reputation for fighting teams. The name of the stadium should embody that spirit. Whether it be called after some of famous stars of the past, after men who have sacrificed themselves for State's athletic success, or after the spirit of M. S. C. itself, it is something for earnest consideration and immediate action.

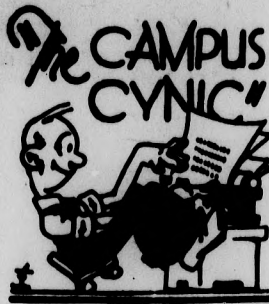

"THE MOST BRILLIANT MAN"

REMEMBER, the brain doesn't function alone. The most brilliant man of the senior class takes advantage of the added mental stimulus that comes from a strong, healthy body.

Shredded Wheat adds to your thinking prowess by building up your physical reserve. It supplies the essential body fuel in the most delectable and easily digestible form. If you want your mental wheels to whirl in double quick time keep your physical machinery in perfect condition. A bowl of Shredded Wheat with whole milk every morning will do wonders to increase your intellectual caliber.

SHREDDED WHEAT

By JOHN TATE, Jr.

It appears that when youth wants to dance, it invariably dances.

Many students cannot understand why the pep meeting yesterday afternoon had to be held down town. Neither can we.

Today's True Story

One of our fair sororities moved into a new home this year. Due to some kind of carelessness on the part of the committee in charge of selecting the new home, a grievous error was made. A course of fully apparelled the first night the porch was occupied by the various members and their respective swains. (Notably the latter.) Immediately in front of the house stands an unusually brilliant street lamp. Now the Thetas are well known on campus for their progressive policies. Instead of being dismayed they put their coffers together and decided on a course of action. The next evening no unwelcome light pervaded the calm reaches of the spacious veranda. It was all concentrated on the roadway. Expense item: Black paint—$1.00.

We wonder if the W. C. T. U. was a little previous in praising the aridity here, there have been rumors to the effect that some liquor was in evidence Saturday night.

A sorority on the campus seems to have the habit of moving every year. Each year for the last three, at least, they have forsaken their home and obtained a new one. This has caused a great deal of comment, and many have hazarded guesses as to the reason why. Why not try paying the rent?

Gertrude Voicer has joined the gym club, we suppose that Joe Blow will soon make the band.

The band is to be commended for its performance at the Colgate game. They certainly deserve that trip to Georgetown. It was suggested to the revolving students Monday morning that their chances of getting it would be considerably enhanced if they returned to class. The statement appeared to the students' sense of fair play.

The victory over Colgate was a pleasing and highly acceable sensation. Crowley and his team are the idols of the campus. But the aftermath was not so pleasant.

For excellence of execution we have never seen a play that surpasses the one on which Monnett scored the winning touchdown. Every man on the Colgate line was taken out of the play, and a wide hole opened for Monnett to gallop through. Only three men had a chance to get him, and two of them were partially blocked. It was a tribute to the thoroughness of Crowley's methods, and a terrible shock to Colgate.

"Not a Bathing Beauty Contest," Says State Theater Manager

Who is M. S. C.'s most beautiful co-ed? The Michigan State Florists' association is anxious to know for it desires to have that ravishing bit of pulchritude as the queen of the Annual Fall Flower show to be held Nov. 7, 8 and 9.

Howard Sweet, manager of the State theater, is working in conjunction with the association to choose the most handsome girl for this honor. He is helping to sponsor the contest which will be held at the State theater. The contest is to be in the form of two preliminaries and a final. The first preliminary will be held on Sunday night, Nov. 7, at which time five girls will be selected. This will be repeated on Tuesday night, Nov. 8, with the selection of five more girls. On Thursday night, Nov. 9, the final contest will be held and one of the ten girls will be chosen to act as queen of the Flower Show. The other nine girls will act as the show's court of honor during the show. Plans are being made to have a national beauty expert here to do the judging.

This is not a bathing beauty contest. The girls will wear their street clothes thus putting the contest on a high plane and relieving the contestants of possible embarrassment. With the honor of being selected queen will go a number of very worthwhile prizes. Mr. Sweet states that the list is not yet complete, but that about $400 worth of merchandise has been subscribed already.

Entry blanks will be found elsewhere in this issue. All girls wishing to enter are asked to fill in a blank and turn it in at the office at the State theater.

HOMECOMING ATTRACTS 5,000 TO ALMA MATER

week-end and served as the greatest drawing power. The west stands were thronged with students of other years who had come back to cheer on their own "under-dog" team against the invasion of a formidable foe from the East. The breath-taking last minute dash to victory made an impression that sets this Homecoming in a class by itself and will be remembered long after most other things are forgotten.

The numerous parties and open houses Saturday night reflected the "kick" that the alumni got out of the game. While there was no reports of rowdiness or of carrying the celebration of the victory too far, the spirit that the game engendered did put the relations over in a manner that will be hard to duplicate in subsequent Homecomings.

Small Number of Co-eds Came Out for Debate Meet

Only Two Veterans are on Squad; Final Tryouts Scheduled for October 28.

Six co-eds appeared at the get-together meeting of the debate squads in the Union last week. It was announced by Prof. J. D. Menchhofer, debate coach. Many girls are invited to come out as plans were made for a two member squad to practice for stellar roles.

Mildred Patterson, 32, and Ethel Lyon, 33, are the only two co-eds with varsity experience back. The squad led by Edna Pasch, of the crack debate team of last year, through graduation. The last year's team was very successful placing second in the national forensic contest at Wichita, Kan. Prof. Menchhofer hopes to continue the success of his teams. This can be done only by a more enthusiastic response to his call for more candidates.

If any co-ed is interested in debate she may call at Prof. Menchhofer's office at Room 7 Woodshop, and there make an appointment for a tryout. The tryouts are scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 28 at the Woodshop.

Ten Co-eds Are Initiated at W. A. A. Meeting

Routine Business is Considered; Official Adoption of Regalia Made.

W. A. A. held its first general meeting of the fall term in the Little Theatre, Thursday evening. The chief business of the meeting was the initiation of ten new members, and the discussion on the adoption of an athletic jacket.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Annie Laurie Becker. After roll call, the president reminded the association that late unexcused absences from meeting caused the membership to be dropped from the roll.

New members who were initiated last night were Mabel Dunn, Alonzo Riddle, Elsie Roberts, Margaret Pratt, Barbara Peck, Rheta Hollinger, Helen Caruthers, Alice Blumrich, Elvane Come, Fern Forman, and Vivian McGraw. Another initiation will be held for girls who were not able to attend last night, any Thursday at 8 o'clock if the girl will present herself before the board in the W. A. A. office.

The hockey manager reported that 125 girls had been on during the past week. It was announced by the hockey manager that the late had not yet been set for the annual cross country hike. The hike is to be 10 miles for which 25 points will be given. The date of the hike will be posted later in the gymnasium.

The concession manager announced that during the hockey show to be held in the armory soon, W. A. A. is to sell candy. A poster will be placed on the bulletin board and girls who are willing to help are urged to sign up.

The green jacket which had been selected by the board was shown to the association. The jacket may be purchased and worn by those having earned 500 points. The small size is to be worn on the right hand pocket, the large size, amounting for 1000 points, is to be worn across the pocket with the other award received. The motion was made and that the jacket be accepted as the official W. A. A. jacket with the above conditions.

Members were urged to make use of the W. A. A. cabin. Arrangements can be made by calling the athletic office. No charge is made for W. A. A. members who besides the cabin have the use of the blankets, mattresses, fireplaces, dishes, Victoria and many other facilities. The next general meeting will be held in two weeks, the first Thursday in November.

HUGE PARADE MARKS VICTORY CELEBRATION

Following the gathering of a crowd of nearly 500 students at the entrance of the campus near the postoffice early Monday morning, the line of march consisted of a parade across the campus to Ag Hall. Then the students marched to the Union building where nearly 2000 members of the student body participated in a celebration dance in the ballroom. At approximately 10 a. m. James H. Crowley, well-known football coach, appeared on the balcony and urged the students to return to classes immediately. His appearance was greeted with applause and the group broke up as quickly as it had gathered, the students directly going to classes.

At 11:25 President Robert S. Shaw issued the following proclamation: "At the request of Coach James H. Crowley, classes will be dismissed at 3 p. m. for the purpose of holding a celebration of Saturday's football victory. The celebration will be held before the copitol building in Lansing. Arrangements are being made by Louis Burgess, representing Lansing friends of the college."

The day's program was climaxed last night with an unofficial dance held in the Union ballroom with a pick up orchestra furnishing the music.

State Defeats Colgate

SPARTANS KICK DOPE BUCKET BY TURNING BACK POWERFUL MAROON GRID COMBINATION

Bob Monnett's 62-Yard Run on Perfectly Executed Play Late in Game Yields Winning Touchdown and 14 to 7 Victory Over Highly Touted Eastern Team.

STATE's fighting grid eleven emerged from a bitter snowstorm Saturday afternoon one of the greatest Spartan football teams of all times when it threw back a mighty Maroon avalanche to win in sensational fashion a 14 to 7 victory in the Spartan stadium.

The brilliant victory over Colgate came as a tremendous climax to a very bitter battle that was waged between the eleven from Hamilton, N. Y., and the white jerseyed men of Crowley. Saturday's victory was the first in history over Andy Kerr's men and the first major Spartan triumph in 12 years. The epic battle will go down in history as one of the greatest games ever engaged in by a Spartan eleven.

Every member of the Spartan team was fighting against terrific odds in weight, but every Crowleyman covered himself with glory in holding down his position and in meeting the bruising attack of their heavier opponents. Bob Monnett and Roger Grove put up a superb exhibition of football playing and were the two Spartans to race across the supposedly invincible Maroon goal line.

Buddy Meiers, former Muskegon star, and Ralph Brunette, burly Spartan tackle, proved more than equal to any Maroon linemen and repeatedly mugged up the Colgate attack. The Maroon armada time and time again was riddled by the irresistible charges of the Spartan forward wall.

Colgate's brilliant star, Captain Les Hart, was effectively squelched by punishing Spartan tacklers who evidenced no regard for an "All American prospect."

Hart, Macaluso, Throton and Bud Handy kicked off for Michigan State with a beautiful boot, the pigskin sailing behind the Colgate scoring stripe. Hart scooped up the oval only to be smeared on his own 12-yard line. Jake Fase sunk Terry when he tried the Spartan right end. State was off-side and received a 5-yard penalty. Macaluso mammoth Maroon fullback, crashed through his left tackle for a first down on his 24-yard stripe. The Maroon captain then showed his dazzling speed in running his right end for another first down. Terry and Hart collected four more yards in two tries at the ends. Macaluso battered through left tackle for 22 yards and another first down. Terry collected five. Macaluso went out of bounds. Hart made three yards at right end only to receive a five-yard penalty for a team-mate being off-side. The Maroon captain hauled a pass which Monnett knocked down. It was State's ball on their 40-yard line.

Monnett and Nordberg failed to gain and "Rog" Grove got off a perfect punt that spiraled deep into Colgate territory. The Maroons advanced the ball to their 31-yard line.

On the next play the slippery pigskin coaxed through Les Hart's fingers and Buddy Meiers fell on it on Colgate's 24-yard line. Kowatch and Monnett failed to gain through the Maroon wall. Colgate was set back five yards for off-side. Grove tossed a lateral pass to Carl Nordberg and the St. Joseph star raced to the five-yard line. Monnett added three yards. Nordberg and Kowatch failed to gain. Colgate then intercepted a Spartan pass.

Scoring Attempt Fails. The Maroon captain then got off a pretty spiral that rolled out of bounds on State's 33-yard line. Monnett ripped off 16 yards for a first down on the 44-yard line. Nordberg was stopped dead and Kowatch collected two yards which the Maroon captain dropped and Bud Handy fell on it at the 18-yard line. Joe Kowatch added two yards and Monnett failed to gain as the period ended.

The second quarter opened with a successful pass from "Rog" to Bob for a first down on the Maroon seven-yard line. Monnett added three yards as did Nordberg. Joe hit the line for two more. The Spartan put everything he had in an effort to score, but he advanced the ball only 30 inches—just six inches short of a touchdown.

The rest of the period was spent in see-sawing up and down the field with no formidable scoring chances appearing.

The second half opened when Handy again booted behind the Maroon uprights. Les Hart took the ball from his 20-yard line and skirted right end for 15 yards. Macaluso gathered three more at left tackle. The Colgate quarterback Antolini fumbled on the next play and Rog Grove made a spectacular catch to catch 36 yards for the first score against the former "point-a-minute" team. Monnett booted the extra point.

Maroons Score. Handy kicked off again and the Maroons began a deadly drive for the Spartan uprights. Led by their brilliant captain and mighty fullback the Kermens showed the form that had won them national recognition. Les Hart began to scintillate around the ends and Macaluso again and again took to the air for yardage. The result was inevitable and Hart finally knifed through for a touchdown and Macaluso booted the extra point.

The Spartans took new courage and fought harder after Colgate's touchdown drive and the Maroons were checked for the remainder of the period.

The final period opened with both teams striving hard for victory, although Spartan fans were hoping for State to hold. The Spartans were not found wanting and the Kermens were growing more desperate as each succeeding minute passed. Rog Grove was doing exceptionally good punting deep into enemy territory.

In desperation Captain Hart started heaving passes, one of which was snared by Grove which was the first time in history that such a calamity had befallen the highly touted Hart. The Crowlemen, however, were unable to gain through the Maroon line and Grove was again forced to punt.

Passes Fall Colgate. Time was getting short and the battle was being waged in midfield on even terms. Again the men from Hamilton resorted to passes in a last desperate effort to score. Again the redoubtable Hart got off a pass which was gathered in by Buddy Meiers on State's 36-yard line. Bob Monnett then gained three yards around right end. On the next play the Bucyrus flash, aided by perfect interference, slipped through a hole at his left tackle and giving an unsurpassed exhibition of broken field running, sprinted 62 yards for a touchdown and a Spartan victory. He then

A Welcome Victory. A Spartan football team imbued with a confidence and fighting spirit which is somewhat new to Michigan State athletes, acquitted itself well in beating Colgate Saturday. Every man who played performed creditably and had a major role in the dramatic outcome. We believe that we are safe in extrapolating the congratulations of every undergraduate to the coach staff and members of the squad for the honor which they have brought to this college.

Statistics. Statistics on the game Saturday bring out several interesting facts, including that Colgate gained more ground than State, but it must be remembered that touchdowns win football games, and not first downs. Colgate made 12 first downs to six for State and gained 393 yards from scrimmage as compared to State's 165. State attempted six forward passes and completed two for a gain of 20 yards and Colgate tried 11, completed three and had two intercepted. Grove punted 11 times for States, had one kick blocked and averaged 36 yards on each punt. Hart punted 10 times for an average of 38 yards. Both teams were penalized equally, being set back 45 yards for infractions of the rules.

Recognition. Sports critics throughout the country are now aware that State has a football team to be reckoned with and one capable of upsetting the well known dope bucket. Several sports writers reviewed Saturday's games as bringing forth three big upsets and mentioned the downfall of Carnegie Tech, Penn and Colgate. This gives the Spartan eleven a place alongside of Notre Dame and Wisconsin in upsetting pre-game dope.

Strong Opposition Ahead. Two of State's future gridiron opponents came through Saturday's game with a clean slate and rank with 45 teams in the country who are as yet unbeaten or untied. Colgate had a similar record before invading East Lansing and also held the distinction of leading the nation's teams in scoring. North Dakota State and the University of Detroit are teams ahead of the Spartans who as yet have unblemished records.

Plugging Did It. To use the words of Coach Miles W. Miller, Castle, who by the way was busy scouting Georgetown Saturday and missed the Colgate game, the winning play flashed by the Spartans "just goes to prove that if every detail of a formation is carefully worked out and practiced faithfully some time it is going to click and then it bodes no good for our opponents." This is just what happened Saturday and our gridiron took advantage of this situation to unlock the winning play. Every man performed his task faithfully or else Bob Monnett would not have scored.

Successfully booted the ball between the uprights for the extra point.

Once more Crowley's men kicked off and again the Maroons resorted to a desperate aerial attack but every pass was thwarted and the game ended with Coach Jimmy Crowley's men in possession of the ball in midfield.

Roger Grove and Bob Monnett were the stellar performers of the day with their brilliant field generalship and ball carrying ability. The veteran Spartan quarter was at top form and his punting ability brought forth unlimited praise. The Bucyrus sophomore played like a veteran and exhibited the class that had made him a sensation in Ohio scholastic football. Carl Nordberg playing his first full game of the year proved that he still retains his former speed and ability. "Bullet" Joe Kowatch hit the line for consistent gains and ably filled the cap left by the injured Ellowitz.

Jake Fase Cecil Fogg and Merv "Red" VanderMeer held down the flanks in excellent shape and held in check the flashy Maroon captain.

Ralph Brunette and Don Rieder, giant tackles, although matched in weight were not outclassed in fight or ability. In the middle of the line Bud Handy and Milt Gross were more than a match for their highly touted opponents. Buddy Meiers and Claude Streib also gave a fine exhibition and proved important cogs in the Spartan defense.

Plays Hero Role Against Colgate

Bob Monnett. Monnett, flashy sophomore back who played the hero role Saturday when State beat Colgate. The Bucyrus O. back carried the ball across when he was given perfect support by his teammates.

How It Happened

By HARRIS COATES, Sports Editor.

It is only common sense to say that there is a reason behind everything. This was significantly true of the play which enabled Michigan State to score a victory over Colgate Saturday in the football game played here Saturday. The play was perfectly executed and employed at the proper moment. For the benefit of those who may not have noticed the detail and are interested, we will endeavor to reconstruct the circumstances.

Milton Gross, left guard and Buddy Meiers, center, noticed that the Maroon guard was drifting in an attempt to meet State's right formation, but was hitting the line for his own good, thus leaving a hole between left guard and tackle. Gross and Meiers called this to the attention of Roger Grove and he experimented and found a hole there. He kept his opening in mind. Once or twice Monnett broke through there for stubble ground running as high as 20 yards, when ground was direct needed.

Finally the big moment was at hand. State had the ball 10 yards from the east sideline in their own 30-yard line. Grove called for a punt to the right, bluffing the Colgate line and secondary defense that he was planning a right end run. The guard started over to the far again, giving Gross a wonderful target with his shoulder.

The ball went direct from under Monnett, who faked as though he were the ball to be Kowatch for the right end run. He hovered behind the ball that he still held. Once Fase State left end and Ralph Brunette, left tackle, let the Colgate line run free into the hole. He passed Monnett in pursuit of Kowatch the down, then the Bucyrus Ohio sophomore lumbered for the hole. Gross had perched the guard down out of the way. Monnett flashed across the line and Brunette blocked the Maroon fullback end of the play and Fase was racing ahead to smash down Les Hart, the Colgate captain, playing right halfback. Fase halted Hart's advance long enough to give Monnett a clear path until he reached Antolini. Colgate safety man who was trucked and the two sophomore back side-stopped the Maroon player and lunged across the goal line for the winning score.

CHAMBERLAIN MAKES RECORD

State Runner Lowers X-Country Course Mark in All-College Run.

Despite the cold weather and the furries of snow that swept the course last Saturday morning Clark Chamberlain, Michigan State's cross country captain, turned in the most brilliant individual performance that has ever been seen in Spartan runner annals when he romped the five miles in the time of 25:06.8, 39 seconds faster than the former record set by Lauren Brown in 1927.

Starting 60 seconds behind the field, Chamberlain made up the handicap before he had gone two miles, and after that time was never headed although Don Conrad, a sophomore, gave him a hard run. Bunched fairly close behind these two leaders were Wildschel a junior stonnie, a senior Ponce, a freshman Elliott, sophomore and Ponce junior. After that the men finished in this order: O'Connor, Gale, Jesse, Frisbie, Fullerton, Russell, Wasserman, Burgess, Stanton, Grandy, Watson, Zimmerman, Strickler, Hyatt, Gerke and Trvon.

Saturday Oct. 25 should see some of the greatest running the Spartan course has ever known when Joe Strick Baker flash matches strides with Chamberlain. Last year it will be remembered Strick took the measure of both Brown and Chamberlain when the two teams met at the Hoosier course. This summer however Chamberlain made up for that defeat when he finished ahead of the Butler man in the international meet with Great Britain.

The race Saturday will be run between the halves of the case game.

SPARTAN FRESHMEN DEFEATED AT YPSI

Coach Kobs Uses All Six Teams Against Normal Eleven; State Loses, 25-7.

The Michigan State freshman football team was beaten 25 to 7 by the Michigan Normal varsity eleven at Ypsilanti Saturday morning. Coach John Kobs used his entire squad of 68 men and tossed aside his chances of scoring a victory in order to use all of his yearling griders in action.

The Ypsi flash took the lead in the second period but the State men in the third period when Troy hooked a punt and Simmons recovered for a touchdown and Gates added the extra point. Substitutes were sent into the fray freely and the Normal yearlings rushed over three more touchdowns.

McNitt at fullback proved a real find for Coach Kobs but as a general rule the boys were not in the game long enough to do much starting. Jones at half, Juppura and Newberry at quarterback, Young, Koss, Simmons and Brady at end, Barnes and Hodges at center, Ryan and Schiller at full, Hartman, Troy and Harris at tackle, and Jay, Ferrari, Van Hoesen and Kuehik all showed promise.

The results of this week's play in the inter-intramural bowling tournament with team total and high men follow:

Hesperian 2124, Scott 212, Phi Delta 1938, Barnard 206, Eumonian 1896, Gamma 201, Lambda Chi Alpha 1915, Pi Kappa 171, Phi Sigma 242, Monroe 242, Phi Kappa 2107, Chi Beta 193, Delta 2071, Kappa 192, Phi Kappa Tau 232, Gamma 196.

Scores for Trimoura and Aethon teams not available.

The Lakett Myers Tobacco Company has offered a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes to the winning team each week.
