PROFESSOR OF FORESTRY DIES

A. K. Chittenden, Veteran Head of M. S. C. Forestry Department, Passes.

Professor Alfred K. Chittenden, head of the forestry department at Michigan State college, died early Saturday morning at a local hospital following several weeks' illness. He was 61 years of age and had resided at 419 Greenwood street, East Lansing. He came to Michigan State college in 1914 after having spent several years in the United States Forestry service and had been vice director of the Michigan State Forestry station and was a past president of the Ohio Valley section of the American Forestry association. Professor Chittenden was also well known as the author of many technical works. He is survived by the widow, Lila W. Chittenden, and the father, Russell H. Chittenden. Mr. R. H. Chittenden arrived here Sunday from New Haven, Conn., preparatory to taking the body to New Haven for burial. A local funeral service was held late Monday afternoon.

ORGANIZATION OF CLUB IS PLANNED

History and Political Science Students to Hold Meeting Wednesday.

All Michigan State college students interested in forming an International Relations club are invited to attend an organization meeting in the Union on Wednesday at 7 p. m. This group will be sponsored by the History and Political Science departments. The purpose is to study and discuss international relations. The club will be associated with the Carnegie Foundation and the State Association of International Relations clubs. In the spring term this club will cooperate with other clubs in putting on a model League of Nations Assembly to be held in Hillside.

Spartan Band Wins After Program at Arlington Cemetery

The best band I ever heard of is the compliment paid the Michigan State college military band by Captain A. L. Bowling, commander of the band, after observing the band at Arlington Cemetery last Friday morning. Captain Bowling heard the band play over the grave of the Unknown Soldier at the national burying ground while the officials placed a wreath in the memorial. According to his statement, expressed both to newspaper men and to Leonard Falcone, band director, he has heard most of the high-school bands in the country, but that he had yet to find one that compared with the State outfit. The band and team were received by President Hoover at the White House.

THEMIANS SOON TO GO NATIONAL

Record Number of Students Sign Up for Short Course

When 41 short course students straggled in the first-day class last Monday, and if some back to the second-day work, the total number of registrants exceeded all previous records except the high mark of 102 when 41 students reported. For the first time in several years, B. W. Tenny, director of short courses, found it necessary to divide his beginning class into two groups, in spite of the fact that a rather small enrollment was expected due to the business depression. Short course classes started Tuesday. The first-year students taking a prescribed course in general agriculture. The second-year students have a wide range of electives in the several phases of agriculture in which they are most interested.

Injured Student Reported Well on Way to Recovery

Word received here this week by the family of John Williamson, former State student, who was almost fatally injured in an auto accident last spring, indicates that he is well on the road to recovery, though still fighting an uphill battle against the incipientism suffered during the summer. While still confined to his bed, Williamson is said to be making rapid steps toward recovery, and appears to have practically regained the consciousness that he had lost in the auto accident. It is suggested that campus friends of his might help him in his recovery by writing him at his home, 280 Lowell street, Chicago, Ill.

Union Minion of Law Proves to Be Statistician and Census Taker

Fred Hicks, Union cop, believes that he has missed his vocation. He should have been a census taker, and to satisfy this suppressed desire, he keeps statistics on every item of interest that has occurred in the Union since time began there. Beginning with the first of February, 1928, he has kept track of every letter that he has mailed up to the first of October, 1930. One finds that the total is staggering—altogether 70,296 letters. Fred intends to keep up the count until he has reached a hundred thousand, when he will knock off work and leave his records to anyone who desires to apply for them. Another thing he has kept track of is fruit cans. He finds that he has opened 1,168 cans for Union cooks, though his figures are lacking on how many times he tore a thumb nail on the

A PROTEST?

Although at noon today President Robert S. Shaw had not received a formal request from Governor Fred W. Green concerning the proposal of promoting the University at Detroit-Michigan State clash as a charity football game to be played in the Michigan bowl at Ann Arbor on Thanksgiving day, strong student sentiment in opposition to the plan has been manifested on the State campus.

The Michigan State News realizes that charity is a noble and worthwhile work but in weighing the advantages and disadvantages of changing the date and place of the annual Titan-Spartan clash we feel that the disadvantages far surpass the advantages of such a plan. Surely some better plan to relieve the situation can be found.

The proposed change would work hardship upon the students in many ways. In the first place over 2,000 students have contracted with the college by paying a season's athletic fee to see a certain schedule of games in designated places. If the game were taken to Ann Arbor it would undoubtedly cost each student who attended the game at least $4 expense for transportation if the students' passbooks allowed their entrance to the game free. Another disadvantage of importance would be the scheduling of the game on Thanksgiving day, which comes during an official college vacation when school is dismissed so as to allow the students the remainder of the week to spend with their parents at home.

The unusual circumstances under which the Detroit State game was scheduled for this year is another factor that points against any move of changing the scene of the annual battle. After the year just following the game last year, the game was booked only after an agreement was made whereby the two schools would meet under exactly the same conditions as in 1929 to see whether athletic relations between the two institutions should be continued. Taking the contest to Ann Arbor would change the aspect of the game entirely.

This year Michigan State students have been affected considerably by the economic depression. A large percentage of the student body are working part time in order to pay part of their expenses. Is it fair to the students who are really the important factor behind inter-collegiate football to take the Titan-Spartan game to Ann Arbor on a date on which there is an official holiday and thus burden the individual student with extra expense which all students would go to Ann Arbor would approximate well over $10,000 additional expenditure?

We believe that there are several better plans that might be worked out. One in particular that we would favor would be for the college to turn over the Michigan State share of the receipts of the Detroit game and hold the contest at the State stadium on the scheduled date.

BE JOHN LATE II

The patrons of a party Friday night had been unfortunate victims of their car. Unhappily an opportunist knocked so seldom the bus magnanimously proffered the services of the car the other couple were delving. (This was of no gratifying oneself with the faculty.) Leaving the D. R. building, the bus had a momentary of impending disaster. Approaching the car, he peered into the windshield. His worst fears were fulfilled. Reaching the car he desperately rattled the door handle, and knocked with indignation on the window, all to no effect. The couple in the car, made a dash for the door, the mere practicability of the world. They were in touch with the faculty. No ordinary worldly disturbance could possibly disrupt that divine clutch. For once, patrons were on the inside looking out. (Elementary speaking.) Don't ask us the reaction of the dumbfounded duo, we couldn't express it adequately.

The men that live to the maximum in great cities are the men that make history. Judge Carberry, strictly speaking was the only member of the coaching staff to meet President Hoover. He very tactfully avoided discussing the depressing condition of the economic situation while passing the time of day with the nation's leader.

The Georgetown boats is over, but its effects will linger long, and not all in the form of hangovers. The defeat is but one of those things that make football interesting, but it is rough when it happens to you.

The band was also a credit to the school. The recognition they earned made the trip well worth while. The note they have given will now benefit for the future masters of the baton and his cohorts. (It was in the good life.)

THE CAMPUS CYNIC

That most of us are hard to get.
 That words are most popular when they are freshmen.
 That students that are not hard fellows will not be high hat.
 That the members of the faculty are not Christian in their most and ethical standards.
 That all student affairs are run on politics instead of merit.
 That all centers are neglected during winter time.
 That men taking education are efficient.
 That upon receiving a degree a student automatically becomes an educated and cultured person.
 That there is a need in every class that attempts to show his or her condition by having the class and the instructor with direct associates.

That discipline and courtesy are to be.
 That the French are immoral.
 That the majority of a student's mortality is in the grades he gets.
 That some of the studies in the popular magazines possess literary merit.
 That very little good literature has been written since the time, perhaps ago.
 That college engagements mean anything.
 That some instructors couldn't pass their own courses.
 That most poetry is contact, not found.

Chemistry Dept. Boasts Highest Number of Graduate Majors

The enrollment in the chemistry classes this year, totaling 1898, is only three less than that of last year. Out of this group there are twenty-seven graduate students who are majoring in chemistry. This is the highest number of graduate majors in any course of the college new. A new spectrograph has just been ordered for the department, and will be used in the graduate work.

Wells Hall Men Are Heavy Eaters

That Michigan State men students are heavy eaters was indicated in an interview with Miss Marian Robert, food director at Wells Hall, near campus. Thursday, Miss Robert stated that the men well satisfied with the progress that the boarding club has made since it has been in charge and that perhaps a later check of the situation due to the ample quantities of food which the students consume each day.

We are the only one-half of three and one-half bushels of potatoes were due to feeding the 120 men who eat lunch and are usually large amounts of other food, including 40 pounds of milk, 60 to 70 pounds of meat and 100 pounds of butter and 20 lbs. for oil used in a regular day.

Although the students eat large quantities of meat and potatoes, their diet is balanced by consuming large amounts of vegetables and fruit.

They shut the door on hybrid styles

Quantity production of equipment has long been practiced by the telephone industry. Telephone designers years ago shut the door on many hybrid styles—seeking first to work out instruments which could best transmit the voice, then making these few types in great quantities. This standardization made possible concentrated study of manufacturing processes, and steady improvement of them. For example, the production of 15,000,000 switchboard lamps a year, all of one type, led to the development of a highly special machine which does in a few minutes what once took an hour. Manufacturing engineers, with their eyes start in applying these ideas, have been able to develop methods which in many cases have become industrial models. The opportunity is there.

Forgettown Jaunt Lessens Social Interest Over Week-End; DeMolay Party Draws From State Campus

Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Delta Alpha Stage Fraternity Parties Saturday Evening

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES were considerably dominated by the Kodak to Georgetown over the week-end. Very few societies tried to have parties, and the Union made no attempt what-so-ever. However, enough students remained on campus to make parties highly successful. Those holding parties were Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Delta Alpha. A house warming, DeMolay party at the Lambda Chi Alpha home drew a primarily large crowd of college folk on Friday night. Nate Fry's orchestra played.

The Delta Alpha home was decorated in yellow and gold and house warming parties were given on Saturday evening. Representatives of the various societies and several faculty members were guests. Miss Louise Clark and Mrs. J. D. Hanson were hostesses. The Alpha Gamma Rho held an open house on Saturday evening with the following guests: Miss Louise Clark, Mrs. J. D. Hanson, Mrs. H. B. Halladay, Miss Louise Clark, Mrs. J. D. Hanson, Mrs. H. B. Halladay, Miss Louise Clark, Mrs. J. D. Hanson, Mrs. H. B. Halladay.

Spartans Return After Being Nosed Out by Georgetown

STATE ELEVEN LOSES BY LONE POINT IN NIGHT GRID CONTEST WHEN LATE RALLY FALLS SHORT

Two Long Gains By "Thrill-a-Game" Scalzi, Fleet Hoyas Quarterback Spells 14 to 13 Defeat; Pass Last Minute Nearly Evens Score.

BACK FROM THEIR INVASION into the east where they were forced to take a 41-13 beating at the hands of an inspired Georgetown university eleven in a night game played in Washington, D. C. Friday evening, the Michigan State grid machine is now looking ahead to the coming engagement with the formidable North Dakota State team scheduled for Saturday afternoon in the Spartan stadium. A missed try for extra point after State's first touchdown was the narrow margin of victory for the Hoyas by which the Spartan's unbeaten record was blighted.

FALL TRACK MEET STARTS THIS WEEK

Annual Handicap Competition Due to Get Under Way Thursday

The annual fall track handicap meet has been set for the latter part of this week. Thursday and Friday nights and the first two nights of next week will see the variety and fast-paced competition and fall track competition will have a chance to show the speed and stamina they have developed since the summer of practice.

The annual events will be run with the exception of the mile and the half-mile. The two-mile will be run but will be open only to cross-country candidates.

Late week and the beginning of this week have been taken up with final trials in the various events. In addition the handicap early season will meet in his race. Some outstanding talent has been discovered in a few cases and the contest promises to be hard fought throughout.

Carl Nordberg, veteran halfback was the only Spartan to suffer serious injury in the game. Late in the second quarter the diminutive halfback was removed from the game because of an injury to his forward knee that kept him out of some games last year. Coach Hoyas, veteran who has been out of the game since the Michigan battle, replaced Nordberg at right halfback.

The lineup which starts the game is as follows:

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM BEATEN BY WOLVERINES

Spartan Harriers Drop First Dual Meet in Four Years at Ann Arbor

CHAMBERLAIN COPS RUN

The first race in the fall Michigan State cross-country meet was the 100-yard dash. It was won by Chamberlain, a sophomore from the University of Michigan.

The order of finish in the 100-yard dash was as follows: Chamberlain, Michigan State; ...

Chamberlain, Michigan State; ...

Chamberlain, Michigan State; ...
