WORK STARTS ON BALL PLANS

Horns Picked to Head Committee; Decorations Embody New Features.

Preliminary preparations for the military ball to be held on Friday, January 23, indicate that it will be one of the most successful and elaborate parties ever sponsored by the Officers Club. An entirely new decorative effect will be carried out that is expected to exceed anything that has ever been attempted before.

M. L. Greer, 31, president of the Officers Club, announced today that the following men would assume the responsibilities of the various committees: Harry Horne, general chairman; Claude Strevens, music; B. H. Schimmel, favors; Garland, floor manager; Herold, finances.

He stated today that he has enlisted Mike Paik, popular 12-piece orchestra, to play for the dance. Plans for the decorations have been worked out entirely as yet. The committee states that the bill for the work alone will be about $150.00. E. B. Crabb is in charge of the work and guests of honor. This list will be ready for publication the early part of next week. Whether or not there will be a reception line depends upon Governor Brucker's presence.

The military ball is an annual affair sponsored by the Officers Club. All advanced students in the local R. O. T. C. are eligible for admittance. Dancing will be from nine to one in Demonstration hall. The tax is $4.00.

Rather, head of the farm crops department will talk in the Farmers' Week program at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis. Feb. 5, on the Crop Improvement Program for Midwestern Farmers.

STEELE SAYS FROSH MUST WEAR TOQUES

Yearlings Are Warned That Disciplinary Action Awaits Violators of Class Creeds; Sophomore President Issues Timely Edict Today.

"We're getting darned sick of warning freshmen who persist in violating traditions. From now on it's going to be action instead of words," stated Rex Steele, president of the sophomore class, today.

The great majority of the frosh class have been good sports and haven't complained about carrying out their obligations. But there are a few that seem to think they're a bit better than the rest of their mates.

They walk around as though they had a first mortgage on the privilege of juniors and seniors. I guess that they look that little bit of a better than the rest of the frosh class and will continue to be so until they have put in a full year.

The second-year class plans to open the war against all freshmen who are not wearing their green toques. Tradition says that toques shall be worn winter term and this does not mean just a green toque, but a green toque with a red top. Steele stated further that the work of changing a hole through the ice of the Red Cedar would not be a great feat. He regretted the fact that the winter weather has made the tradition of river party rather tough on the freshmen victims, but it is the only course left open to curb the violations.

Dennison Debaters Meet State Tonight

First Seasonal Clash in Room 2, H. E. Building, Huberman and Skornia Picked.

The same team will debate Bowling Green State college at Bluffton, Mich., on Jan. 11. During the term State debaters will meet teams from the following Michigan colleges: Albion, Olivet, Western State, Teachers college and Hope. Institutions from out of the state include: Purdue, Notre Dame, Loyola, Chicago, Carroll college, Waukesha, Wis., University of Pittsburg, Monmouth, Illinois, and Boston university.

EXTENSION MEN DISCUSS PLANS

Crowley Makes Strong Appeal Through Talk on Football Principles.

During the last three days of the 18th Annual Extension conference, held here from December 16 to 19, many important addresses were given by leaders in the field of agricultural extension work.

Miss Barbara Van Heulen, recently appointed specialist in home marketing presented plans for the woman's marketing project and farm income to feature the Western morning session. Addressed by Dean J. F. Cox and Robert Brigham of the United States department of agriculture, completed the forenoon program.

The need of research support for an extension program was stressed in address by V. R. Gardner, director of the experiment station. Thursday forenoon following Fred Scott's initial talk after Prof. Scott's second address. After dinner afternoon session E. E. Gardner, director of vocational education, spoke to the delegates on the subject of a unified program of vocational education. County agents were entertained with a banquet at the Union Memorial building Thursday evening.

Dr. Marie Dye, dean of home economics, dominated Friday forenoon session with a review of proceedings of the White House Conference on Child Welfare and Protection, called by President Hoover Nov. 19, 20 and 21. Final sessions of the various groups concluded the morning program.

Coch James H. Crowley, in pointing out to the delegates that football training prepares men to handle situations typical of an extension program, gave typical of the most pertinent talks of the entire conference. The popular coach drove at the principles of team play and aggressiveness.

The concluding address of the meeting was given by Dr. E. L. Austin, acting dean of liberal arts, who stressed the importance of what he termed the "renewals" of 1913. Dr. Austin stressed the need of improved methods in carrying out the extension program of the coming year to insure its success.

Of the 75 delegates who attended, 25 were introduced for the first time at the opening session of the 1930 conference. Director Baldwin, who has served as the leader of extension workers since 1913, and Q. E. Roney, of the agricultural engineering extension department, were recognized as veterans having the longest records of service.

State Radio Station Broadcasts Talks at New Legislature

Address to the incoming legislature were given by Governor William M. Brucker and Fred W. Brown, retiring governor, from the Michigan State college radio station, WKAR, Thursday at 12:30 o'clock. James H. Houghton, director of publications, was the chief announcer of the day.

The entire program, including the testimony of the state during the session of the legislature, will be broadcast on the radio station.

THEATER STAGE TO BE REPLACED

Permanent Platform to Displace Temporary Structure; Costs $1,250.

TO FINISH THIS MONTH

Modern New Playhouse Will Be Used Extensively by Thespians.

One of the features in the remodeling of the Little Theater in the Home Economics building will be a new permanent stage. The stage which will take the place of the temporary platform now in use will cost approximately $1,250. This will be only one of the many innovations in the remodeling of the theater.

Because of the many productions being given at the campus at present, it has been found advisable to tear down the present stage and put in a new one. The present stage has been used chiefly for practice and is of very simple construction. It is made of boards mounted upon saw-horses and other temporary supports. The new stage, which will be made of permanent material, will be used for all productions.

PRESENT NEXT RECITAL JAN. 15

Kerby and Niles, Singers of Negro Music, to Appear at Church Thursday.

Seven folk songs and ballads from the Kentucky mountains will be sung here by students of Michigan State college, Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Peoples church, when Martin Kerby and John Niles, two of the best Negro vocalists present, will sing a number of their songs.

ALFALFA EXHIBIT TO MARK SHOW

Extensive Interest Shown in Crop Gives it Feature Place on Farmer's Program.

One of the special exhibits of the Farmers' Week program will be the alfalfa exhibit, eight departments in co-operation to make it a success. Those working on the project are the Farm Crops, Soil, Dairy, Animal Husbandry, Agriculture, Horticulture, Entomology, Poultry and Farm Machinery departments. The exhibit will be placed near the entrance on the north side of the ballroom in demonstration hall.

This work is being done because of the state-wide interest in alfalfa growing. At present 36 of the counties of Michigan want alfalfa extension work and as a result the Farm Crops and extension departments are spending 104 days between now and April 1 in these counties holding meetings to increase the farmer's knowledge of alfalfa growing.

During the last 10 years Michigan has risen from a small to the leading alfalfa grower east of the Mississippi. In spite of this increase the price of alfalfa has held up, giving the farmer a crop to fall back on in explaining the interest in the crop at the present time.

Y. M. C. A. Devotees Hold Term Retreat To Plan Program

A term retreat to determine the program for the winter term and the policy regarding fees for membership will be held by the Y. M. C. A. board and faculty advisory board, headed by Dr. H. R. Hunt, of the sociology department, Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, in the student parlors of the Peoples church. The Lincoln birthday banquet in honor of the foreign students of State will also be discussed at this meeting.

A special communion service for Episcopal students will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the chapel of the Peoples church.

FAIR STUDENT RESPONSE GIVEN TEN DAY WOLVERINE CAMPAIGN FOR HIGH SUBSCRIPTION TOTAL

Offer: Reduction in Page Rates to Societies Subscribing 100 Per Cent; Many Campus Organizations Pledge Support; Urge Students to Subscribe Immediately.

SINCE THE OPENING of the ten day Wolverine subscription drive last Wednesday contacts have been made with all groups of the student body, resulting in from 75 to 100 subscriptions for the first two days of the campaign. As initial features to open the drive, blank checks have been distributed to all components of the student body, short talks have been made to various groups of the campus by William Pratt, Wolverine editor, house-to-house campaigns and general personal solicitation have been made by the yearbook staff. With the institution of these preliminary steps, it is expected by Pratt that the influx of subscriptions will grow in amount as the campaign rounds into shape, although the progress so far is only fair.

From contacts made thus far, Earl Steinfeld, business manager, reports that generally the students are interested but hesitate to sign up at this time. Interest is strong among groups of the sort course according to Pratt who made a short talk to them yesterday at their weekly assembly. It is pointed out to the students that subscriptions to books are obtainable at the Union at any time, while the headquarters of the drive are closed.

SENIORS IMPORTANT

There will be a senior class meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8 p. m. in the Physics building. It is important that all seniors attend as announcements will be made relative to caps and gowns, and plans will be made for the winter term senior party.

$100,000 Building of Anatomy and Animal Pathology Now is Completed.

Work on Anatomy and Animal Pathology met for the first time in the new building, completed for the two departments during the fall and winter months, with the opening of the new structure, January 9.

With the completion of construction work on the new structure, beginning in October, when the building was opened for the first time, the department of anatomy and animal pathology has been moved to the new building. The new building, which cost $100,000, was completed during the fall and winter months, with the opening of the new structure, January 9.

RED CEDAR To Have Depth Gauge

The Michigan State college and the United States Geological Survey has just signed a contract for the erection and maintenance of a gauging station on the Red Cedar river above the Perry bridge. This is part of the stream survey project of Michigan in which the college and the U. S. Geological Survey are co-operating.

This station is to be equipped with an automatic recording gauge, the first of its kind to be installed in Michigan. Records of the rise and fall of water level will be kept. This will be of great value to civil engineering students as they will have access to the station.

STATE MEETS MARQUETTE TONIGHT

Tonight, Michigan State students will have their first opportunity to see the 1931 Spartan quintet in action against a major foe on the home court. With an enviable early season record behind them, Marquette will go onto the floor tonight with one of the strongest line-ups the Hilltoppers have boasted in several seasons.

Coach Benjamin Van Alstyne and his squad spent most of the holiday vacation in strenuous drills in order to be primed for the difficult schedule on the books. After a slow start the Spartans showed power in turning back Brigham Young of Utah and Ohio Wesleyan late in the vacation period.

Tonight, the Van Alstyne-coached team will be severely tested. Hard, fast basketball will be necessary if State hopes to turn back the strong Wisconsin five. Every man on the Spartan outfit will be giving all he has for his team. The least students can do is to show their support by turning out en masse to watch the contest.

BAROMETER OF OPINION

The final results of this year's Wolverine campaign will determine, to a degree, the actuality of the student desire for a yearbook. Consensus of opinion seems to be at the present time that such an adjunct to college tradition is desirable.

Perhaps this is more or less of a passive cooperation. The material result should be an accurate barometer of the depth of student feeling toward the true significance of the college annual. There is no doubt that individual leanings toward the book changes in the period of transition of the undergraduate from freshman to senior. A fourth year student has sentimental reasons attached to the annual which are far removed from the mind of the freshman in weighing the financial aspects.

Even so, this drive will give a fair average of opinion as to whether the Wolverine is or is not declining in material worth as a permanent thing.

WHY ROD OFFICIALS?

Each winter there is a small group of basketball fans at Michigan State who seem to delight in making fun of the decisions handed down by officials in charge of the game. This is especially lamentable in view of the fact that often the officials when they leave our campus carry away the wrong impression of our college in general.

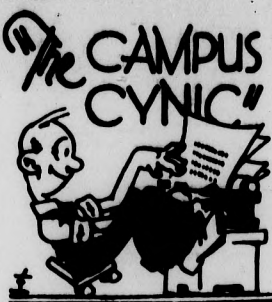

Athletic authorities at Michigan State select referees for all home contests from a group of the most outstanding basketball officials in the midwest. These men are well versed in the sport and are experienced in handling the details of the game.

If the individuals who cause the trouble would stop and think what a liability they are to the college and especially to the team, we believe that difficulties of this nature would not have to be contended with in the future.

TOQUES ARE REQUIRED

Although a truce in hostilities between the freshman and sophomore classes was called late last term, Rex Steele, sophomore president, indicated in a statement today that all yearling men must abide by campus traditions or suffer consequences. In view of the fact that the headgear tradition has been grossly abused during the past week, the announcement by the sophomore head is timely and necessary.

Campus traditions set down for freshmen by the Student Council include the item "that all yearling men shall wear the customary green toque during winter term." These traditions are time-honored and should be preserved. If freshmen do not take heed of the warning issued today, the sophomores will no doubt see to it that the offenders are punished.

By JOHN TATE, Jr.

Instructors have been heard to remark that the brownies row (the first and composed usually entirely of co-eds) is a distraction when they are lecturing. It is probably a source of conjecture at other times.

The editor and business manager of the Wolverine had a terrible time before they decided which one of them was to solicit the sororities and women's dorms in the subscription drive. After much drawing of lots and cutting of cards, they tossed a coin. Pratt called heads but it was tails and he had to cover the co-ed end of the business. Which is only right since he can talk fast and preaches at the Peoples church. He should be able to work on their emotions and sell a few books. They say, in order to sell, you must first sell yourself.

If for no other reason get a Wolverine for that picture of the co-ed who wouldn't give you one. We're chusing Willia for a complimentary copy (Not a portrait). You will get a lot of pictures you don't want, but you might solve that problem, since this is primarily an agricultural college, by using the rest of that section as a catalogue. (Page Chic Sale). We have lost that free copy.

Then there is the very credit instructor who wears a different suit to class every day and affects a different color scheme in tie and shirt and tops off the appearance with spats. Probably if he had his way he'd make the campus culture really-minded. An almost impossible task, with opposition pregnant everywhere.

Almost all welders of the grade-ax have some peculiarities. The chewing of gum distracts one. He was gassed in the war. During his undergraduate days at Harvard he was a great athlete.

There is another that has ascribed to him almost anything from an anti-social complex to melancomania. He is especially opposed to mustaches, varsity sweaters, and student opposition to his ideas. He also dislikes students who smoke. Modern freedom.

A math instructor teaches the Einstein theory. We thought that only cosmic men in the world understood it. Which is relative to something or other in fact very timely.

There is a prof with a Macaulay memory. He can recite portions of any poem he has ever read. He should be able to recognize typical student antics. But it doesn't take much intelligence to do that. Most sag heeling is so obviously terrible except to the one doing it.

A hobo appraises our fair campus. At some restaurant here, the other day the occupants were astounded by the remarks of a bum concerning this campus to that of Oxford. It reminded him of Oxford. He never studied there nor here, and perhaps that explains how he retained his appreciation of the beautiful. Wonder if he ever straddled the campus round on a spring night in the moon alone.

The new woman's dorm is rising with great rapidity and later will be abandoned, that is, it will be abandoned to the co-eds. Which, after all, is about the extreme in abandonment.

Two assistant Botany instructors went over to a grocery store to purchase some onions for experimental purposes. Probably for their effect on the respiratory organs. They returned to the laboratory with a half dozen lemons. And even an instructor should know better than that.

A junior was calling the roll in a freshman military class. He came upon an irreproachable woman of foreign extraction. The name in vain. "Here," said the dumb freshman.

open Jan. 19 and for one week all seats will be reserved to members of the junior class who are strongly urged to take advantage of the opportunity given them. The reservation will end Jan. 24. After that date the sale of tickets will be opened to the other three classes. Tickets this year have been reduced to $10, another innovation in recent J-Hop history.

The college social committee has announced that co-eds will have 4 o'clock permission that night.

Detailed plans for the 1931 J-Hop promise to make it one of the most unique and novel ever to be given here in recent years. Starting descriptive schemes are already under way, while consideration of favors, patrons, and programs is practically completed.

Co-ed Debate Team to Engage Albion 170 STUDENTS IN ADVANCED MILITARY

Mildred Patterson, Veteran From Last Year, Certain of Place on Team

Enrollment Consists of 70 in Cavalary, 38 in Infantry, and 63 in Artillery Classes.

The women's team of Michigan State college will open their season on debates on Sunday, January 18, at Albion on the proposition "Resolved, that late medicine should be established." State's team will uphold the negative side of the question.

The squad from which the team will be chosen is as follows: Mildred Patterson, 32; Ellen Lyon, 33; Margaret Kecki, 34; Jean Blessing, 35; Marie Legman, 34; Lucille Blomstedt, 34; Hillary Eardley, 34; Miriam Ryan, 34; Ethel Williams, 34; and Dorothy McDonald, 34.

Coach Grinnell Drake is planning to use but two members of each team, employing 10-minute constructive arguments and five-minute rebuttals. Although the teams have not been selected, it is certain that Mildred Patterson has had extensive experience as she was a member of the team which won the national runners-up title in intercollegiate debating circles. Her colleague will be chosen a few days before the first contest and will be selected strictly through open competition. Probably each member of the squad will see service at least once during the term.

According to Mr. Drake the national appears to be as promising as could be expected this early in the term. There on the squad will be open for another week and subsequent members of the personnel can be found at the speech office in room 12, woodlawn.

W. A. A. Gives Party To Freshman Girls Thursday Evening

A party held for freshman girls by the Women's Athletic Association, Thursday evening in room 60 of the Home Economics building attracted more than 25 co-eds.

The first part of the evening was spent dancing, a circle table being used as a ice-breaker and mixer. As the party was held primarily to honor the new girls on campus in the winter sports season by W. A. A. announcements were made by the managers in a unique fashion. Skills were presented including some phase of which of the activities, riding, swimming, hockey, ball, golf, croquet, volleyball, skating and hiking.

Ruth Hanson, Esther Chesser and Charles MacKinnon, announcements delivered, very vividly portrayed the discovery of America and Thomas Cole gave a reading on the trials of getting married. Margaret Lassidy and Hattie Fry, presented three pianists' songs with Hattie Fry at the piano.

At the conclusion of the program, each guest was presented with a chocolate-covered jelly-top and the party closed with a few minutes of dancing.

Green-Splash to Conduct Safety Classes in Pool

At the first meeting of the Green-Splash, necessary swimming lessons will be held at the symposium. Wednesday was decided to open the swimming pool at the natatorium Jan. 27.

All co-eds who are planning to take these examinations are required to attend four practices during the next two weeks. Two of these practices must be completed on the evenings of Jan. 14 and 21; the other two may be taken on any of the free hours. The free periods are 9-10 on Tuesdays and Thursdays 11-12 on any day of the week, and 7-9 on Tuesday evenings.

Plans were also made for the summer party which is to be held in the W. A. A. cabin on Jan. 16.

There will be a meeting of the combined A. A. clubs of the college Wednesday night, January 14, at 7:00 o'clock in the auditorium of the Hort building. Plans for the all-college A. A. banquet will be taken up at the meeting.

FAIR STUDENT RESPONSE GIVEN WOLVERINE CAMPAIGN

$25, and a gift copy of the book, to any fraternity or sorority reaching a 100% total of the actual membership of the society. Several organizations are reported to be working for the goal.

Gain Women's Support Two important co-ed governing bodies have declared their support for the campaign. In a communication last night, Martha Farley, president of A. W. S. said:

Now is the time for students to sign up for their yearbook. No more useful or necessary part of college life exists than the Wolverine and it is a purpose that everyone should support.

Ellen Larson, president of the Pan Hellenic council, made the following statement:

It is to the material benefit of the sororities to take advantage of the special inducement offered to them. Every co-operation should be given the Wolverine to help reach the quota by Jan. 17 to make the yearbook possible.

The procurement of the additional subscriptions runs to the total up to about 900 according to a cursory survey among the members of the campaign staff.

Be sure to sign up for the 1931 Wolverine between Jan. 7-17.

Selection Made by W. A. A. for Sports Choose Manager

The W. A. A. board held a meeting Thursday afternoon in gym. It was decided to offer a concession manager, and Virginia Allen was appointed to take the place of Annie Laurie Becker, president. A. A. Virginia Andrews, volleyball manager will be the Virginia Allen.

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Clipping a second would save 25,000 hours

A second saved here—an unnecessary step cut out there—on such close attention to detail tests the success of modern industry. Nowhere is this more strikingly shown than in the telephone business. Applied throughout the System—handling an average of more than 90,000,000 toll tickets each month—it would effect a monthly saving of 25,000 hours! Such "little" things often are tremendously important in so vast an industry. That is one reason why men find Bell System work so fascinating. The opportunity is there!

Band Party Friday, First Formal of Season, and Wolverine Jitney Dance In Union Tonite, Open Social Season

Union Party and Three Fraternity Dances Saturday are Remainder of Affairs Listed on Quiet Week-end Schedule.

THE FORMAL BAND DANCE and the Wolverine Jitney dance this evening mark the beginning of the new social season, and stand out as highlights of an otherwise quiet week-end. A Union party and three fraternity open houses are the only social affairs on the calendar for Saturday evening.

The Wisteria room of the Hotel Olds, charmingly decorated with a simple line of ferns encircling the orchestra and an unusually designed gateway, the feature of which will be a large golden lyre, will be the scene of the band dance. Novel programs in the shape of bass drums, decorated with the silhouette of a drum major, form clever features and carry out the musical idea. The Playboys will furnish music for the affair and patrons will be Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Clark and Capt. and Mrs. E. B. Crabb. The guests of honor include Pres. and Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Col. and Mrs. Dorsey Rodney, Secy and Mrs. H. H. Halladay, Prof. Lewis Richards, and Mr. Leonard Falcone. Mr. Nicholas Falcone of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkins.

A Jitney dance, sponsored by the Phi Epsilon, will be held in the Union this evening from 9 to 12. Nate Fy's Gold Diggers will furnish music for park plan dancing, and the patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Nelson, Leont and Mrs. R. E. Bates and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. DeVries. Harlow Menn is in charge of the arrangements.

The Gold Diggers will furnish music for the Epimetheus open house, January evening. Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Olin and Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Kobs will act as patrons.

Three Kappa Nu will hold an open house tomorrow evening with Cook's orchestra from Croxso furnishing music for dancing. Patrons for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bergquist and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith.

The Playboys will furnish music for the Alpha Gamma Phi open house Saturday evening. Patrons will be Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Miller and Prof. G. M. Trout.

The January meeting of the Faculty Folk club was held in the faculty club rooms of the Union on the afternoon of January 7. An interesting program on Music Appreciation was presented under the direction of Miss Virginia Weanier and Miss Sylvia Wynn. Following the program tea was served. Mrs. R. S. Shaw presiding.

A meeting of the Brides club was held on Tuesday January 6, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Crabb, 410 Albert avenue. Mrs. C. N. Rex assisted. A business meeting was held in the afternoon after which the time was spent in a sweet treat party. To be held some time in the first week of February, at which the husbands of the members are to be entertained. The hostess for this occasion has not yet been decided upon.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Mr. Helen Maurice Alpha Gamma Delta house mother and Helen Hale Wednesday evening at dinner.

Alpha Gamma Delta entertained Josephine Griggs, one of their alumnae over the week-end.

Winter Term Parties Must Meet January 20 Deadline

The deadline for the signing of winter term parties will be January 20, according to Dean Elizabeth Conrad. There are a large number of societies which have not arranged for their dances. It would be advisable for them to do so before this date, for the deadline will be rigidly enforced. It should be noticed that Jitney dances and class parties come under this rule.

Women students who would like to secure places in new houses should contact the Y. W. C. A. office. The Y. W. C. A. office is located in the building on the corner of Washington and State streets. The office is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

Panhell Petitions Late Hours Friday

Sorority Board Asks Social Committee for 1 O'clock Party Permission.

The regular meeting of Panhellenic was held Tuesday evening in the Women's Lounge in the Union to discuss plans for this term. Eileen Larson, president, appointed a committee composed of Eileen Patterson, chairman, Betty Krause and Christine Dines to check rushing expenses for this year in effort to make a limitation of expenses for future years. The council decided to give the Panhellenic ball as an informal party spring term.

A petition will be sent to the college social committee for 1 o'clock permission for co-eds for Friday night formal this term. Jean Whiteley, Katherine Panter and Marian Hawley were appointed to draw up the petition. Panhellenic is stressing low social expenditures this term due to the financial depression. Dea Watkins, Jean Anderson and Hazel Githens were appointed to send out a bulletin to each sorority stressing this fact.

Peoples Church Starts Activities Resuming Fun Nites

Week-end activities at the Peoples church will begin on Friday, Jan. 9, when the first Fun Nite of the term takes place. The group will convene directly after the basketball game at some time in the evening. A flashlight photo will be taken of all those attending.

The final church service of the day is the 9:00 meeting of the Student Christian Union in a three hour session until 6 o'clock when Rev. B. B. Doss of the First Baptist church of Lansing will speak.

Marquette, State To Clash Friday

VAN ALSTYNE'S CAGERS PRIMED FOR INVASION OF FORMIDABLE MILWAUKEE COURT BASKETEERS

Hilltopper Five Holds Victories Over Brigham Young and Wisconsin; Large Crowd Expected to Witness Clash.

TONIGHT at 7:30 in Demonstration Hall Michigan State's cage team will engage in their annual court battle with Marquette university, which this year is represented by one of the fastest traveling outfits in its history. The Milwaukee school of late years has been turning out some of the most formidable quintets in the midwest and Coach Ben Van Alstyne's pupils will have worthy opponents when they attempt to check the rush of the Golden Avalanche tonight.

The Hilltoppers have lost only two games this season; one to Pittsburgh by a score of 24 to 18 and another last Tuesday night to the University of Chicago, 28 to 20. Pittsburgh, one of the classiest teams in the country last year, was able to emerge with a win only after a terrific battle. Marquette was minus the services of its flashy forward, Fitzgerald, Tuesday night when they bowed to the Maroons. The Hilltopper forward quit school last week and will not be in the game tonight.

Marquette Beats Wisconsin

Coach Bill Chandler's quintet holds a victory over Brigham Young university, 35 to 31, a team that the Spartans had difficulty in downing on Dec. 29. State was awarded a hard earned one point decision over the Utah cagers, 29 to 28. Marquette on Dec. 30 subdued Wisconsin for the second time in Badger history, the final count being 16 to 14. About 6000 watched the Badgers go down to their first defeat of the season.

Randy Boeskoel, Coach Van Alstyne's starting choice at center tonight, will find a lot of difficulty in looking over the head of his opponent. The Hilltoppers' center, Whitey Budrunas, is not only just as tall as the Spartan pivot man but outweighs the former

Grand Rapids athlete by some 15 pounds. The Golden Avalanche's attack this season has been built around the lanky Whitey and he has been the most important scoring cog in their machine. In the game against Brigham Young, Budrunas made 20 of his team's total points. The Wisconsin game saw the pivot man garner ten of his team's 16 points.

Roger Grove will be at his regular position at right forward and is sure to give a good account of himself. The versatile Spartan athlete has shown improvement in each succeeding game this year and is beginning to show the form that made him a luminary last year. Dee Pimmo, diminutive Spartan regular, will be at the other forward position.

Wayne Scott and Art Haga, veteran Spartan guards, will be at their old positions and the Hilltoppers tonight will find a tight State defense. The Blood Muskogean boy has a slightly lank ankle but it is expected to be in shape for the evening's battle.

The Spartan court mentor has plenty of good reserve material and among those who may see service are Johnny Wolfley, center; A. Krieger, guard; Jab Barnard, forward; and Holcomb forward.

SPARTAN SPORT SHOTS BY HARRIS COATES

Haga Sets Pace
Art Haga, blonde guard who hails from Muskegon and is one of the three captains, holds the lead in individual scoring on Coach Ben Van Alstyne's Spartan basketball squad. Haga has scored 11 field goals and five free throws for 27 points, in addition to his guard duties.

It is worthy of notice that only seven Spartan cagers have broken into the scoring column, due principally to the strong opposition encountered in the first four games. This is unusual for one of Coach Van Alstyne's squads, and is worrying the state court mentor. Although the brunt of the four battles to date has been borne by the five regulars, 11 men have played in the games.

The individual scoring record follows:

Player	G	FG	FT	PF	TP
Haga, g	4	11	5	7	27
Pimmo, f	4	10	3	7	23
Grove, f	4	7	8	4	22

DAUBERT DRILLS STATE TANKMEN

Spartan Splashers Prepare for Meet With Grand Rapids J. C. On Jan. 31.

The Spartan tank team is fast rounding into shape under the tutelage of Coach Russell Daubert, swimming coach, who is pointing the local splashers for the opening meet with Grand Rapids Junior college on Jan. 31. The meet with the Jayvees is considered somewhat of a practice tilt and will decide definitely the personnel of the Spartan swimming team.

The Grand Rapids splashers were established in 1929 and State swimmers are expected to turn in another win this season. Coach Daubert still reports a shortage of candidates for the team, especially in the diving department, and says aspiring Westmuller's are urged to report to the tank mentor.

Capt. H. Gatzke and E. Boucher are the backstroke artists who will most likely be on the year team. In the breast stroke Daubert has D. Vaughan, Huley and G. Spitzer. Free style men will include R. Schaubert, veteran splasher, H. Clark, E. Lovewell, John Late, Cole W. Jackson. The divers will include L. Hauer and H. Clark who will captain on the spring board.

LITTLE THEATER STAGE TO BE REPLACED SOON

however, is of brick and cement, and will be built into the walls of the building. It is of modern design, 20 feet wide and 18 feet deep. It will be used extensively in the production of plays as well as for practice.

The front wall which has been of canvas is also being torn down. A new wall of plaster, painted to match the colors of the room, will replace the canvas.

New curtains for the theater have also been purchased. The background curtain will be of a natural tan, while the stage curtains and window drapes will be of green velvet. The window drapes are being put up to darken the room in case a production is given in the daytime.

The theater is being repainted and redecorated. When finished it will be an entirely modern playhouse and will be used almost entirely for campus productions and for a ballroom, which purpose it has served in the past. The work on the theater is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the interior will be finished before Feb. 1.

STATE PUCKMEN PRIME FOR TILTS WITH ICE, TEAMS

High Grade Sheet of Ice Raises Worries From Brow of Coach Kobs.

MEET MICH. TECH FIRST

"Pop" Warner, Horne, Jones, and Pevic Among Veterans Back.

Coach John Kobs and his puck chasers this week started their annual battle against weather and incidentally are preparing to meet some tough opposition on the ice this year. A good crowd of hockey devotees turned out last Monday night in answer to Coach Kobs' first call for pucksters. Several veterans are back from last year's team and the Spartan hockey coach expects to mold a strong aggregation from the material on hand.

In the past the hardest opponent State's hockey teams have had to subdue has been the weather which ruined the ice and disrupted practice. Albert "Bub" Amiss, Spartan groundskeeper, worked all vacation getting the ice rink near Demonstration hall in shape and was highly successful in getting a good grade of ice. With the exception of Monday night Coach Kobs and his men have not had to delay workouts because of poor ice.

State's hockey team this year opens its schedule on Jan. 17 against Michigan Tech on the Spartan rink. The puck chasers from Houghton always present a fast traveling combination and they are sure to give the Kobsmen plenty of opposition. The ice schedule includes engagements with some powerful college puck teams including University of Michigan.

Among the veterans again on skates this year are Capt. Roy "Pop" Warner, Marvin Horne, Don Jones and Vincent Pevic. Pevic, veteran Spartan goalie, is thinking of changing his moniker to read "Black Eye" Pevic. Last year the Spartan skater had a blackened eye on three separate occasions. This Wednesday he got his first moused eye of the current season when a flying puck crashed through his mask and dealt him a painful blow in the face.

Men trying out for the hockey team this year include Winagen G. Jandren, Don Jones, Don Clark, J. Little, J. Boveas, center; R. A. Chamberlain, defense; F. W. Schaft, Capt. Warner, H. Horne, T. Jacka, goalies; V. Pevic, H. Johnson.

The schedule:

Saturday, Jan. 17—Michigan Tech here.

Wednesday, Jan. 21—Detroit City college at Detroit.

Saturday, Jan. 24—Detroit City college here.

Tuesday, Jan. 27—Univ. of Michigan here.

Saturday, Jan. 31—Marquette Univ. here.

Thursday, Feb. 5—University of Detroit here.

Tuesday, Feb. 10—University of Detroit at Detroit.

Monday, Feb. 16—Univ. of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

HANDLER ENTERS STATE A. A. U. MEET

M. S. C. Heavyweight Champ to Fight at Detroit Olympia Monday.

One of Michigan State's outstanding pugilists, Lewis Handler, is entered in the annual state A. A. U. boxing tournament which is being held in Detroit next week. All bouts are to be held in Olympia, Detroit's mammoth sports building, the first eliminations being run off Monday evening. The tournament will decide the amateur boxing champions of Michigan and some high class talent is expected to be uncovered.

Handler for the past two years has won the heavyweight championship of the college and has engaged in a number of spectacular amateur battles in Michigan rings. In last year's all college fistic tournament the redoubtable Lewis took less than one minute to dispose of his lone opponent in the heavyweight division.

With the exit of Martin Levandoski, Western State's national champion from Michigan amateur circles the state heavyweight division is somewhat in doubt. Michigan State's entry is considered one of the leading candidates for the throne vacated by the terrific punching Mart who has cut quite a swath in the squared ring as a professional.

Intra-Mural Sports

Inter-Fraternity Baseball

The Epsilon Omicrons edged out the Alpha Gamma Rho 7-6, at the college gym Tuesday night, January 6, and won the championship of Block 2. The game was the closest in the night's matches, with the outcome doubtful until the last of the fifth when the Epsilon Omicrons came through with two home runs to win.

In the second game (Block 3) the Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost to the Phi Chi Alpha 7-3. The Phi Chis won their game in the first two innings when they crossed the plate five times while holding the S. A. E.'s scoreless.

In Block 1 the Trimora (11) easily defeated the Theta Kappa Nu (6), scoring five times in the last inning.

The Eclectics started the Wednesday evening's games, January 7, by running away with the Delta Sigma Phi 17-3. The Delta Sigs were held scoreless until the fifth when they managed to score three times. The Hesperians, scheduled to play the Alpha Gamma Rho, forfeited the game. Thursday the Ties, led by Pendergast who pitched a fine game, easily took in the Pi Kappa Phi 20-2.

Any men interested in trying out as assistant managers in baseball should get in touch immediately with Frank Conover, varsity manager, at the Phi Delta house.

Interfraternity Bowling

Closing the Interfraternity tournament at the Rainbow alleys with one of the closest and most exciting games of the fall bowling season the Phylean team (2551), champions of Block 1, won two out of the three final games with the Phi Kappa Phi (2400) champions of Block 2, also winning the 1935 Interfraternity bowling tournament. The Phyleans, who also won the championship last year, lost but one game in 17 starts, giving them the exceptionally high average of .941.

Winning this year's championship in Block 1, they defeated the Phi Kappa Phi champions of Block 2, in the Kappa Plus in the finals. Liberty was high man for the Phyleans, rolling a 231 in his second game while led by Captain Potter, the Pi Kappa Phi had three men break 200. Potter was the highest scorer in the three games, bowling a high 257 in the third and 204 the first game. H. Kahl made 201 and Burr 202 in the second game.

Young Deplores Scarcity of Track Men; Asks For Candidates

Fewer than thirty freshmen have reported for winter track practice, according to Ralph H. Young, head track coach. This number is extremely low in comparison with the turnout in past years. As a usual thing, fifty or sixty first-year men are usually reported for winter track practice, according to Young. He requests that every man report to him as soon as possible, his running season is getting under way, and he notes that the candidate can not be in condition in time for the meet.

There are dozens of men on campus, says Young, who are probably unaware of their own capabilities. Clark Chamberlain, a track star till his sophomore year, has fair co-ordinating ability, and he is a candidate for the enders, if he persists in sticking to it and training seriously.
