CHICAGO STATE UNION OPERA TO BE AN ALL-CAMPUS AFFAIR; JOHNSTON CHOSEN AS DIRECTOR

Board Selects "Squirrel Food," Three-Act Mystery-Comedy Written By Robert Scott, Alumnus; Casting Will Begin in March; Play to be Staged Early in May.

ATTENDING TO MAKE the annual Union Opera, Michigan State's premier dramatic production an all-campus affair, the Union Board yesterday picked a student written vehicle for play, elected the student manager for the opera, chose a city member-director, and secured the assistance of campus departments to aid in producing the show.

Norman Johnston, Dearborn, a senior engineer, was selected by the board as student manager of the opera. His selection is unusual in that he is a member of the Union board, being a representative of the senior class on the board. He is a member of the Scabbard and Blade, was year varsity cross-country manager, and was recently chairman of the Military Ball, is affiliated with Trimoria, a fraternity.

"Squirrel Food," a three act mystery comedy by Robert Scott, alumnus, while he was still a student at Michigan State, was picked as the play to be staged for the Union opera. The play is a fast moving thriller, a type popular on the stage today, has remarkably clever burlesques, a stereotyped "spook" play, a simple opportunity for the introduction of choruses, and is distinctly a comedy, with an unexpected twist to the plot. The libretto was selected by the Union board after a contest among interested students. A play that was entirely student-written.

Norman Johnston, voice instructor with the Music Institute, and assistant to Louis Graveure, has agreed to direct for the show. It will be staged by members of the board and is said to have had experience in the New York musical comedy and is rated as a first class artist at the concert field. His appointment is looked upon as a distinct mark of fortune, since he brings a knowledge of musical stage knowledge and direction of the opera.

Through Lewis Richards, director of the Music Institute, it has been arranged that members of the department staff and personnel will supply the music for the lyrics already appearing in the libretto. It is expected that this move will bring about arranged musical scores, fitting a production of this kind.

The show will probably be staged in March with the expectation that it will be completed shortly after the end of the winter term. The show will be staged in earnest with the beginning of spring term, while the play is expected to be produced some time in May. This is an innovation in that the date of the opera is set behind several months instead of placing it during the winter term.

It was thought that over-enthusiasm of the social season here during term and the subsequent lack of interest in the next term, would make opera more welcome in a period of other affairs.

The idea of an all-campus show is a novel for this campus. In years, an outside director has been produced an outside written drama. With the growth of the musical dramatic departments on this campus in the past few years, it was thought that some when the time could be put on and support its production without outside help. A fortunate opportunity of having a student to direct the opera, and the idea of a spirited student-written play seen by members of the board as the chance to make the plan.

MAURICE HINDUS TO SPEAK HERE

Maurice Hindus, author of "Russia and the World" to be Topic of Lecture on Feb. 10 at Church.

On the Liberal Arts course, the lecture by Maurice Hindus, author of "Russia and the World" will be given at the church, Tuesday, February 10, at 8 o'clock.

Professor W. W. Johnson, head of the department stated that Michigan State was very fortunate in being able to hear Hindus, since he was very well known by numbers of clubs, organizations and as a lecturer. Hindus is intimately acquainted with the situation in Russia and is well qualified to speak on the subject. He was born in Russia. At the age of 17 he came to America and worked his way through Colgate university and Harvard graduate school. Later Hindus traveled about the world seeking material for his books. His travels have taken him to Russia and the East. His books, "Russia and the World" and "Russia's Peasants and the Revolution" are the results of his wide experience and travel. Hindus is a good speaker, witty, lucid, and his fair-mindedness has won the acclaim of many.

Wolverine Sales Shows Progress

Goal Is Nearly Reached After Lon Drive; Announce Picture Appointments.

The more subscriptions we have now the better the Wolverine will be when it goes to press next term," said William Pratt, editor of the 1931 annual, as he announced that the staff still lacks a few subscriptions of reaching the 1400 goal at which the recent drive aimed.

He also called attention to the fact that contracts with the printers have been signed whereby it will be possible to obtain variable numbers of copies above this amount with only a small additional cost. Subscriptions may still be purchased from any member of the staff or at the Union desk.

The Wolverine group picture appointments for Sunday, Feb. 8, as announced by Bernard O'Connor, fraternity editor, are as follows:

CHURCH DRAMA DATE ANNOUNCED

"The Servant in the House," a Five-Act Vehicle to be Given February 22.

SEMI-RELIGIOUS DRAMA

Peoples Church Cooperating With Thespians in Presenting Production.

Cooperating with the Peoples church, Theta Alpha Phi will present a semi-religious five act play, "The Servant in the House" in the church auditorium Sunday night, February 22. This vigorous drama by Charles Rann Kennedy depicting the undercurrents of deep greed, hypocrisy and hate intermingled with an all-powerful hunger for human brotherhood is the first vehicle of this type to be attempted locally in a number of years.

It is one of the famous seven plays for seven players series of which the stagings were received with popular acclaim in the first decade of this century. Utilizing a small cast, every player has had experience in one or two of the parts.

Starring Byron Tate as an avocetous bishop, Prof. E. S. King dramatics coach of thirty years standing at State predicts that here will be one of the most commanding portrayals of the depths to which mortal greed can descend. The leads will be taken by Edward Gibbs and Esther Chivers. Supporting roles will be played by Howard Smith and Ethel McCarty. The most startling character in the whole plot is his personification in Bob Jewell Paul Younger will be casted in the part of Rogers, a page boy.

The setting will be in an study in the vicarage which he designed after old Jacobean styles.

Osmund Beckwith, '32, Successful in Submitting Tales to Magazines.

That a boy may sedately attend his classes at college and at the same time write weird and amazing tales of mystery and intrigue is proven by Osmund Beckwith, sophomore liberal arts student here, who has received a measure of campus fame for a series of four stories printed in popular magazines in the past two years.

Beckwith has had published "The Robot Master" in Wonder Stories magazine in 1929; "The Heat Ray" in Wonder Stories in 1930; "Winged" in Amazing Detective Tales in 1930; and "Men and Machines" to be published in the near future by Wonder Stories. Beck' is a native of Ovid, lives at EDUCATORS TO SPEAK AT M. S. C.

Special Conference for Student Teachers to Be Given by Education Dept.

Special conferences for student teachers will be given here by the Department of Education during the winter term. E. L. Austin, head of the Education department, has arranged to have many prominent educators speak here for the benefit of students.

The first conference will be held Tuesday, February 10, at which time A. A. Rather, superintendent of schools, Ionia, will tell what he expects of beginning teachers in his system. On Tuesday, February 17, C. L. Goodrich of the State Department of Public Instruction will discuss "The State Department of Public Instruction and the Beginning Teacher."

On Tuesday, March 3, Ottila M. Pritchett, county commissioner, Saginaw county, will tell what he expects of beginning teachers in his system. J. H. Edmondson, dean of the school of Education, University of Michigan, will appear here on Tuesday, March 3, with a message of what the teaching profession expects of beginning teachers. The last conference will be held on Tuesday, March 17, with W. R. Clemenson, principal of East Lansing high school, telling what he expects of beginning teachers in his system.

Austin, who is sponsoring these conferences, states: "You are invited to attend any one or all of these conferences. They will be held on the dates indicated in room 3, Liberal Arts building, at 4:30 p. m."

GRANGERS STAGE THREE-ACT PLAY

Drama of Rural Appeal Is Well Received by Farmer Visitors Last Night.

College student Grangers presented a "three-act play, Kindling the Hearth Fire" to guests of Farmers' week on Monday night at 7:30 in the Little theatre. The play, one of the features of entertainment this week, was under the direction of Dorothy Troth, dramatic student.

The staging was well received. It dealt with subjects of interest to farmers, showing how modern improvements will greatly aid in making the farm a more agreeable place in which to live. The plot centered around a romance involving the daughter of a family who leaves home to seek better surroundings, but finally decides that they are not to be found and comes back to her former sweetheart.

All students who wish to be excused from classes Friday afternoon or Saturday morning on account of the J-Hop must apply personally ahead of time to Prof. J. W. Steward, supervisor of attendance.

Noted Author to Lecture at Peoples Church Feb. 19 Under Auspices of Alpha Phi.

Joan Lowell, author of the unusual sea tale "Cradle of the Deep," will lecture February 19 in the Peoples church under the auspices of Alpha Phi, national social sorority. Her subject will be "Twenty Ways to Make a Living—All of Them Hard."

Miss Lowell is said to have one of the most remarkable personalities on the American lecture platform. In turn a sailor girl on a windjammer, waitress, telephone operator, nurse maid, cook, stenographer, wardrobe girl in Hollywood, automobile washer during a strike, and owner of her own theater, she has a wealth of real-life experience that fits her for the task of "putting" across her witty and novel comments on her life.

Immediately on the publication of her amazing book "Cradle of the Deep," Miss Lowell sprang to high fame as a story-teller. Her short stories received acclaim in popular magazines, and a storm of doubt and scepticism about the truth of her stories broke upon her head.

Tickets for the lecture will sell for $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. They will be handled by members of Alpha Phi and also at Grinnell's music store in Lansing and at the Music building on the campus.

After the lecture there will be a reception for Miss Lowell in the parlors of the Peoples church to which faculty, alumni and student leaders will be invited.

Double Feature Offered By State Theater Thurs.

"Queen High" and "The Matrimonial Bed," Appeal to Theater-goers.

For one day only, Thursday, Feb. 5, the State Theater is offering a double bill in which two productions of the former comedy nature are sure to afford theater-goers plenty of uproarious entertainment.

With a cast composed of Stanley and Ginger Rogers, Charles Ruggies and Frank Morgan, "Queen High" is certain to be filled with breezy, 1929 style and humorous scenes. It will be followed by "The Matrimonial Bed," the other feature on the twin bill. This sophisticated French comedy is built around the amusing experiences of a French gentleman about town who loses his memory, eventually awaking with more than his share of wives, families, and affairs. The smart but ineffective dialogue will appeal to those who like their humor grown up.

PHI LAMBDA TAU TAKES IN EIGHTEEN; SWINGOUT SOON

Freshman grapplers won the initial meet of their schedule Friday night when they conquered the wrestling team of the Grand Rapids V. M. C. A. by a score of 18 to 14. Ten bouts were on the evening card and many close decisions were rendered. P. Jensen, 155 pounder, and Gordon Reasely, heavyweight, were the Spartans who showed promise of future greatness on the mat. Only one fall was scored during the entire program of bouts, that one being scored by Troickowski, Grand Rapids 145 pounder. When the last bout was started, state freshmen held a meagre one-point lead.

SCHEDULE TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Chicago Univ. to Compete With M. S. C.: Two All-American Stars to Oppose Each Other.

State track followers will have the privilege of seeing two all-American track men in action against each other Saturday in the college gymnasium when Clark Chamberlain of State takes their marks in the mile run. The number one of the mile run is that neither of the two men can their national seniors in the event in which they will compete this week-end. Letts ran the half mile last year in 1:06 in a Western Conference meet to win his place in tracks hall of fame, while Chamberlain traveled the two-mile in 9:32 in the Central Intercollegiate to get his.

Chamberlain broke the Michigan state Varsity record in the mile recent Saturday, running the distance in 4:46. Letts has already set a new Chicago gymnasium record of 4:24 in the winter. The difference in these two records is not as great as it would appear, since the Chicago track is twelve laps to the mile, in comparison to State's sixteen. In addition, the Chicago track has the reputation of being one of the fastest indoor tracks in America. In any event, the mile run Saturday is bound to be the biggest thrill that has been seen in spartan track meets in many a day.

SPARTANS BRING BACK TRIUMPHS OVER WESTERN RESERVE, OBERLIN OUTFITS AFTER JAUNT INTO OHIO

State Turns Back Cats, 25 to 24, When Pinneo Sinks Long Shot in Last Minute of Play Friday; Last Half Rally Nets 32 to 22 Win Following Evening.

MICHIGAN STATE'S CAGERS narrowly averted disaster Friday night when they managed to eke out a 25 to 24 victory over an inspired Western Reserve quintet at Cleveland, Ohio. The Spartans made up for the close decision by swarming Oberlin the next night with a score of 33 to 22, at Oberlin, Ohio. Coach Ben Van Alstyne's men have chalked up eleven wins this season with the Michigan game furnishing the only blemish on the record. Saturday night's victory was the tenth successive triumph turned in this year.

The game with Western Reserve proved to be a hectic battle with the result decided by the respective ability at tossing free throws. The Red Cats failed to cash in on charity tosses that would have meant certain victory. The Cleveland team was unable to fathom the Spartan attack to any degree of perfection in the first period and half time saw the Spartans in the lead with a comfortable 18 to 10 advantage.

During the rest period the Red Cats must have received a big inspiration for they came back with a vim to collect 10 points while the Spartans had difficulty in collecting two. Within a few minutes after the second stanza the Cleveland team had tied the score with each team boasting 20 points. Wayne Scott and Roy Grove then collaborated with a free throw and dence respectively to give the Spartans a three point lead. Only a few minutes remained of the contest.

Come From Behind Charlie Western's star forward then sank a long shot from way out in the hinterlands to cut State's lead to one point. With the time fast dwindling a Cleveland cager dribbled in and sunk a shot, but that gave the Red Cats a one-point lead. The score then stood 24 to 24 in favor of Western Reserve. Spartan stock was crashing as States' quarter desperately strove for a last minute coup. With barely a minute to play, Doc Pinneo saved off Spartan sink a long tom that put Coach Van Alstyne's men in front with a one-point lead. The timer was examining his gun when Finnevan, Red Cat guard, was fouled in endeavoring to shoot. With two free throws between him and fame, the Red Cat snuffed both of them and the Spartans came through with a 25 to 24 decision as the same ended.

Reg Grove was again the Spartan savior, collecting seven points, closely followed by Art Haza and Doc Pinneo, who were tied for second. Somers with six counters apiece, Wayne Scott and Randy Boeskol each contributed three points.

Saturday night the Spartans kept their record clean when they lumbled Oberlin college 33 to 22. State's stars were held in check by the Ohio outfit throughout the first half and were only able to maintain a one-point lead as the half ended with the score 15 to 14. Oberlin maintained a tight zone defense which the Spartans had difficulty in piercing.

Show Improvement The Spartans showed much improvement of form after the intermission and the Ohio team was unable to cope with the attack that began to click before the second stanza was more than a few minutes old. Scoring practically at will, States' cagers collected 18 points before the final gun barked, giving them a 33 to 22 victory over the Oberlin quintet.

FIRST MATCH FOR MEN'S RIFLE TEAM

Compare Scores With U. of Washington, U. of Idaho, Wofford College.

The Michigan State rifle team participated in its first intercollegiate firing contest of the year last Saturday afternoon against teams firing at the same time at the University of Washington in Seattle, the University of Idaho at Moscow, Idaho, and Wofford college at Sparta, North Carolina.

The score for the Spartan rifle team was 397. Washington and Idaho both bettered this with scores of 3627 and 3511 respectively. To date no report has been available for the Wofford college team.

In intercollegiate rifle firing competition the total of the ten high individual points comprise each team's score. These results are tabulated and sent in as reports for each team participating in the contest.

Members of the local team who composed the top high in Saturday's contest with their respective scores are listed as follows: Slater 364, Smith 351, Gleanon 336, Button 333, Farman 332, Gramm 330, Hammond 316, Selory 310, Kronberg 310.

The next contest in rifle marksmanship for the local team is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 31, with New Mexico A & M, Montana A & M, and Egan college. The season will continue on up to March 1 with the Hearst trophy match coming on March 14.

This year's rifle team has been benefited by the return of several veterans from last year's team and should show up quite favorably during the season. Frequent practices and drills are being held in the rifle room of Demonstration hall under the direction of Lieutenant L. H. Rookstaller.

Yearling Cagers to Meet Jackson Quintet Tonight

Freshman cagers encounter the Consumers Power company quintet of Jackson tonight in the Jackson high school gymnasium.

Coach Rye Brodn announces his starting lineup as Vanderfoest at center, Patchett and Walker forwards, and Keast and Reardon at the guards. Other members of the fresh quintet are Bishop, Newberg, Krick, Bookas, Pierce, Kelly, Manning, Greig, Edgerton, Dekker, Heikkala.

The Wells Hall games will consist of four quarters of six minutes each, with one minute between quarters and five minutes between halves. All of the men in each ward are eligible to compete except those on the Varsity and Freshman squads, or those who have previously won a major letter in basketball.

Later in the season there will probably be an independent team league organized. Following are the results of the Interfraternity Bowling tournament conducted last term.

Team winner, Phi Kappa Phi, 2551, team runner up, Phi Kappa Phi, 2440, high team score for one game, Phi Kappa Phi, 899, high individual score for one game.

Intra-Mural Sports

With the closing of the indoor basketball competition, the first games of the intra-mural basketball schedule have started. To date three major leagues have been scheduled with the possibility of a fourth as soon as sufficient teams have been organized. Of the leagues already scheduled, the players in the interclass league will be the first to action.

The interclass schedule has been organized along the same line it was last year. The four classes are divided into blocks, freshmen, Block 1 sophomores, Block 2 etc. Four teams will play in each block, each team representing one of the departments in its class, namely engineering, agricultural, science, and the literary department. The interclass schedule opened Monday, Feb. 2 when in the Senior Block the Ag team met the Engineers and the Science and Literary quintets clashed. In the Junior Block the Ags met the Engineers and the Science team the Litts.

The fraternity teams start their season Thursday night when the Union Litts meet the Lambda Chi Alpha's. The Ties take on the Alpha Gamma Rho's, the Epsilon Omicron's encounter the AcTheta's and the Olympic and Delta Sigma Phi quintets clash.

The Wells Hall schedule has been completed with a team representing each of the six wards. Their games start Thursday, February 12, at Demonstration hall. Ward C cagers engage Ward E, Ward A, Ward B, and Ward D five take on the Ward E representatives.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB HONOR PAUL BROWN AT SMOKER

About 30 attended the Men's Glee Club smoker which was held at the Union Monday evening, Feb. 2. The smoker was given in honor of Paul Brown, graduate student, who has been outstanding in glee club work for the past four years. Brown was elected to take a position in the glee club for the coming year.
