Thumbing Reporter Surveys Main Topics of Conversation

Drivers Will Not Venture Outside Conventional Cars, Sport, and Depression.

Have you ever noticed that conversation with people whom you have not usually met is not acquainted with almost invariably turns to the same few topics? A thumbing reporter person, conversed with a thumbing reporter between Lansing and East Lansing shows that in 25 trips, the kind-hearted occupants of the various cars were willing to talk on such subjects as football, automobiles and the depression. Outside these fields they did not care to venture any comments. The proportions are like this: Football, 14; automobiles, 14; the most interesting topic and their conversation was characterized by such remarks as "Crowley's a good coach," "State seems to be in the road" to banger and betta teams. This fellow Monnett is

UNION EXHIBITS SET OF CANVAS

Fifteen Paintings by Arthur Colt Are on Display for Two Weeks.

On Sunday Jan. 17, an exhibit of fifteen paintings by Arthur H. Colt, eminent American painter, opens at the Union for a period of two weeks. Mr. Colt is best known for his portraits and paintings very sympathetic. Though decidedly a modernist, he believes firmly that an artist must be a fine craftsman and master of his medium. Mr. Colt handles his medium, which is usually oil, freely and boldly. He has very sensitive perception, not only of the external appearance of things, but also of the character.

to be understood, even though it does prove again that you yourselves don't take enough pains to ascertain the facts. As a matter of fact there is no connection, it is a bit hard on the department to be blamed for our mistakes. While we thought we had obtained the notorious chicken story from a reliable source, we hadn't and are quick to admit our mistake. We were wrong not to check it. Why don't you, an adult metropolitan city editor have the grace to do the same? And, since you admit in your quasi-apology that you obtained the information through this newspaper, why did you not credit us with the story in the first place? Our sins find us out, don't they?

But don't you think Mr. Editor you were just a bit blind, a bit irrational in accusing us of poor journalism in printing an erroneous feature when you yourself were guilty of as grave a fault? If we were wrong in publishing a story unsubstantiated what were you, a professional journalistic organ, run by mature adults? If we boys as you call us follow in the steps of our elders, have the elders any right to scold us? You must admit that even though we only have a staff of six men left, depression raises the chicken with a newspaper, doesn't it? You seemed so far from this campus that you couldn't have checked the story. That is, if you are living up to the high standards of journalism you are so fond of citing.

The Critic By ANDREW BISHOP

The Press. When Napoleon, that little giant of conceit, wished to become emperor, he surmised correctly that first it would be necessary to go away with a spirited group of papers in Paris who had a disconcerting manner of telling the truth. True or not, the printed word has always held a certain sacredness in the public mind. In award, people usually believe what they read, and so little Caesar very quietly removed the press.

Let us see how the press has kept this trust in the last twenty-five years, as with every other business, it has been consolidating and consolidating, usually removing intellectual competition as well as financial. In the last decade over six hundred newspapers have disappeared. That is at the alarming rate of one per week. After eliminating a considerable part of the journalistic competition it finds that business competition still exists and keeps them ever. And so your newspaper goes "big business" with its sole objective profit. It discovers that in order to retail its advertising and circulation it is much better to straddle the fence on all questions. The persuasiveness of advertising to alter and shape the policy of an overwhelmingly large proportion of the press has been strikingly revealed at certain investigations.

Another ridiculous phase of college journalism is that of the college newspaper. In order that it will be entirely ineffective and not step on anyone's toes, it is not allowed to write on matters of any importance. It is taught to be hypocritical and evade the truth. It must take the tone of a high school paper, droop of mouth over nothing, and come forth with a "Why are the young upstarts who have about something that they know nothing about? A taxpayer?" And so the college press is tragically insipid, except for a few cases where as at Harvard it is allowed free rein and is not as a growing ground for the future journalism of the country or for any hopes for its betterment.

MORE ABOUT PICTURE SALE. (Continued from page 1) Lately after her recent European trip were copies of famous works by DeVinci, Botticelli, Bernini, Angelico, and others as representations of the Italian school, and large and small lithographs of such moderns as Cezanne, Pissarro, and Victor Valery.

Michael Press, of the M. S. C. Institute of Music, also contributed to the sale with a number of etchings and chromo drawings from his own collection. The reasonable prices—ranging from 50 cents to $100—evidently were within the reach of the student and faculty purse for more than 30 paintings were sold. The Italians went well since there were several copies of each painting and they could be carried away as soon as bought, but the French works had to be ordered from France and the delay kept off buyers. Otherwise they would have been extremely popular since to the modern eye they were easily the more attractive of the two.

Anti-Prohibition. Definite plans for the formation of the University of Michigan battalion of Crusaders, nation-wide anti-prohibition organization, have been made at that institution. The aims of the society are to bring about the election of a majority in congress pledged to the repeal of the Jones law, the Volstead law and ultimately the Eighteenth amendment. University battalions already have been formed at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Williams, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Amherst and Wesleyan. A membership drive is to be started at Michigan with 1,000 members as the goal for the first month. It is expected that in conjunction with this movement, a group of the Woman's Association for National Prohibition reform will be organized soon on that campus.

Marriage. College students are noted for their broadmindedness and their modern ideas. The typical student is often portrayed as taking nothing seriously. Therefore it seems surprising that the marriage of college graduates, ninety-nine times out of a hundred, succeeds, while the average of all others is one to six. Success in marriage is only understanding. Perhaps colleges provide a means of such understanding by teaching the fundamentals of life, says the University Daily Kansan.

Ducking Steel. Shades of the early seventeenth century are about to descend upon the University of Nevada campus in the form of a ducking stool according to members of the sophomore vigilance committee there. This ancient form of punishment, which consists of a seat at the end of a wooden beam, worked on the principle of the see-saw and the culprit who was bound in the seat, was out of falling off was merged in any convenient pool. The sophomore class is ambitious to obtain the ducking stool in time for spring lakings for crink freshmen.

Graduates. Yale university has reported that of its graduates five years out of college those who are selling bonds are getting the highest salaries. The average for this group is $4,155 a year. Teachers in the class are getting the lowest pay, averaging only $2,080. Is the moral pointed?

Disarmament. An Intercollegiate Disarmament mass meeting was held on the afternoon of December 30 at the Town Hall, New York city by the Intercollegiate Disarmament Council. Speakers were Norman Thomas, Dr. Stephen S. Wise and other prominent leaders in various fields. The results of a nation-wide poll on disarmament was announced at that time.

MORE ABOUT THUMBING REPORTER. (Continued from page 1) Nearly everyone it seems has either lost some money in a failure or has a friend who did, and the topic is a favorite. Incidentally the government comes in for a great deal of criticism whenever the depression or bank failures are mentioned. And each of the drivers encountered had a solution of some sort whereby everything could be straightened out and the country put back on the pre-crash basis, a solution which was pretty well punctuated with "It's."

Math. Lecture at Ann Arbor Heard by State Students

Twenty-five faculty members and majors from the college mathematics department went to Ann Arbor Tuesday night to attend a lecture on "Historical Mathematical Literature." Prof. L. C. Karpinski, University of Michigan expert on this subject, spoke and showed valuable copies of first editions. Michigan State's delegation, eleven professors and thirteen students, was as large as the U. of M. attendance. The University of Michigan has the largest library of historical mathematical literature in the United States, comprising more than 3,500 valuable volumes. Male students at Montral declared that their ideal woman must be a gay pagan and a wild angel.

Give Highlights of Frat Convo Held in New York City Nov. 27

Official report of the 1931-1932 National Interfraternity conference held in New York city Nov. 27 and 28, reveals that Michigan State college not been granted class "A" rating by the Association of American Universities at the last meeting of the organization. Interfraternities here would have been automatically suspended from membership in the conference before the meeting of the next year. Settlement of the controversial eligibility requirement at the assembly of last fall brought about the adoption of the new standard. Bob O'Connor, president of the local council and Stan Oswald, 21, head of the body last year, represented State at New York city. In reporting on the meeting they emphasized the attention given to the future of the fraternity movement. Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and former president of the University of Washington, who delivered the main address, pointed out the present crisis as having its roots in the trend toward preparatory school training for entrance to the larger universities and colleges. Coming from junior institutions, students have already completed half of their college work and have only two or three years more in most cases as undergraduates. At that stage, their interest in fraternity life tends to wane. Solution of the problem seems to rest in one of two policies, either to extend the fraternity system to preparatory schools or to direct it toward meeting the demands of junior and senior college men. The attention of the assembly was called to the fact that the fraternity system is the American method of England provides for in her residential institutions. As the English system gains ground in colleges and universities on this side of the Atlantic, membership in fraternities tends to come at a later stage in the college man's career. Dr. Suzzallo stated: In spite of sentiment-bound alumni who adhere blindly to the old collegiate ideal of fraternity life, a marked trend is seen toward the dominance of intellectual interest with the dignities that attend the movement. Educators welcome the new trend, it was said. Sixty per cent of students sleep through at least three hours of class each week, a survey of an eastern university has revealed.

Give Highlights of Frat Convo Held in New York City Nov. 27

There must be developed an intrinsic interest in intellectual which comes from within, rather than from external compulsion, make fraternities more responsible in the eyes of administrative authorities. Fraternities and clubs must support those experimental colleges which are aimed directly at the vitalization of college education. The danger is that the alumni, steeped in tradition, will resist these changes, not realizing that there are great pushing, shoving social forces at work. Reports showed that for the second year in succession, the percentage average of fraternity men exceeded the all-men's average, more than 50 per cent of the class. Improvement was shown in most without exception in the ranks of larger colleges and universities. Dean J. A. Park of Ohio State university emphasized the need for chapter financial stability and practical method of cooperation between the society and the college to assist in reaching such a goal. The services of a trained auditor, an intrinsic part of the system, are needed in fraternities as an institution received the unqualified sanction of Prof. R. H. Jordan of Cornell university. The system which has gained ground recently in the larger institutions, he held to provide intellectual leadership which coming to the fore as a prime ideal in any plan of housing for college and university men. The possibilities of cooperative fire insurance and cooperative surety bonds were discussed by the chairman of a special committee appointed recently. The findings indicated that the plans had proved workable under special conditions.

But the telephone conversation must not freeze

A sudden cold snap might seriously interfere with long distance telephone service were it not for the studies made by Bell System engineers. They found that temperature variations within 24 hours may make a ten-thousandfold difference in the amount of electrical energy transmitted over a New York-Chicago cable circuit! On such long circuits initial energy is normally maintained by repeaters or amplifiers, installed at regular intervals. So the engineers devised a regulator—operated by weather conditions—which automatically controls these repeaters, keeping current always at exactly the right strength for proper voice transmission. This example is typical of the interesting problems that go to make up telephone work.

Pan-Hellenic Overshadows Many Other Events Scheduled for Coming Friday, Saturday

Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Loop Year Hop Holds Second Place in Column of Social Activities; Fraternity and Sorority Open Houses Planned.

With the staging of the Pan-Hellenic Ball, a formal party of some social importance, which is to be held in the main ballroom of the Hotel Olds tomorrow evening, all other affairs of the week-end assume roles of minor importance.

Bruce Fayerweather's M. S. C. Collegians, have been engaged to furnish music for the Pan-Hellenic formal. President and Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dirks, Mr. and Mrs. H. DeVries, Dr. and Mrs. Huston, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Lenniger have been invited to attend the affair.

Other social events of lesser interest that are scheduled for the week-end include the Leap Year Hop, a dance sponsored by the alumnae chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta which will take place in the main ballroom this evening with the assistance of the M. S. C. Collegians.

Fraternity and sorority open houses are also being held at the same time. The Alpha Phi Omega chapter is also holding an open house at the Hotel Olds.

The A-Theta's will hold an open house tomorrow evening with the assistance of the M. S. C. Collegians. The Phi Kappa Phi open house which is being held tomorrow evening at the main chapter house.

Former Student to Be Honored at Reception

Elizabeth Rarden Is Guest of Mu Phi Epsilon, Music Sorority.

Miss Elizabeth Rarden, a former student of Michigan State is to be the guest of the local chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority at a reception in her honor at the Peoples church this evening. Miss Rarden was once a student of Louis Gravenre, college voice teacher.

Governor and Mrs. Wilbur M. Brucker will head the receiving line for the evening. Others in the line include Pres. and Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Rarden, Mr. and Mrs. Rarden, Secretary and Mrs. Herman Halladay, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas-Stanley, Mr. Archie Black and Miss Beatrice Brody.

Mrs. Chas. Thomas-Stanley, president of the patroness group, is in charge of details for the event. She is being assisted by Mrs. Fred Killen, Mrs. Bruce Anderson, Mrs. Ard Richardson, and Maxine Sturgeon.

Miss Rarden's program for the evening's entertainment consists of the following vocal selections:

Care Selve
Nel Cos Pin Non Mi Sentio
Face Pace Mio Dio From "La Forza del Destino" Verdi

Handel
Crist
Mother Goose Rhymes
Crist
The Old Woman from "Romeo and Juliet" Gocavd

Three hundred guests have been invited by the sorority to the reception. Miss Rarden's program for the evening's entertainment consists of the following vocal selections:

Good Health Week Fostered by W.A.A. Shows Success

"Recreation for Everyone" is Cry of Co-ed Athletic Group in New Idea Here.

The spirit of good health fostered by the Women's Athletic Association is slowly creating a trend that can scarcely fail to work for better health of the students. Almost as inevitably it will spread its benefits at a time when students are most apt to forget rules of hygiene.

This week marks the first attempt of the association to sponsor a health week. Their plan, philanthropy is recreation for everyone. They advocate that no day should pass without some time being devoted to recreation and fun. Each person will have some preference as to the kind of recreation but everyone should devote a part of the time to outdoor activities.

Walking, riding, swimming, rowing, tennis, golf—all offer splendid opportunity for physical development in the winter weather. While skating, skiing and iceboating is the same in winter. The amount of exercise, which must be taken, varies by each individual. It cannot be over-stated that to produce the best results one should experience a moderate amount of fatigue as a result of exercise, but over-indulgence may prove serious results.

Walking is an ideal exercise, but must be brisk in order to be invigorating. Swimming and rowing bring all the big muscles into action and assist greatly to excess are very valuable.

Reorganize Men's Dancing Class at Old Armory On Fall Term Plan

First Meeting Scheduled for 7 p. m. Thursday; Admission is $1.50.

Early last term the members of Spartan Women's League were disappointed that they liked the instruction of the men they met at tea dances didn't dance well. Somebody said something ought to be done about it, so a committee was appointed in the name of the Spartan Women's League that body petitioned for help from the faculty social committee.

At the close of last term there were 80 members in the class. It seems there was a waiting list. Besides, the instructors of the past were enthusiastic. The men were performing a lot better at the tea dances. Perhaps, here and there a romance had germinated.

Meeting of Co-ed Group to Be Called

New Freshman Counselors Will Meet to Discuss Plans for Coming Term.

A meeting of freshmen co-ed counselors will be called by the various group leaders sometime during the next few days according to Adria Beuwkes, chairman of Big Sister Movement. Plans will be discussed for this term and the next year's work.

Since the freshmen counselor system is new in this campus having been begun only this last term, it was thought advisable to discuss the weaknesses and abuses as well as the good features of the plan will be discussed.

At the beginning of next week questionnaires regarding the success of the movement will be given to every freshman in the dormitories. These reports will be compiled and will act as the basis for improvement of the Freshman Counselor plan.

Four colleges have written to Dean Elisabeth Conrad asking for information on the Michigan State Big Sister Movement. At the present time a thorough study is being made throughout the various college of the country in relation to this matter. The plan that Michigan State began has worked quite successfully and with improvements that are being made will probably be one of the best in the part of the country.

SPARTAN QUINTET CONFIDENT OF VICTORY IN GAME TONIGHT WITH XAVIER UNIVERSITY FIVE

Coach Van Alstyne Concentrates on Charity Tosses in Practice Sessions This Week; Cincinnati Team Boasts Strength in Offensive Game.

With six games already played, the Spartans will engage Coach Joe Mayer's Xavier university team in their seventh contest tonight at 7:30 in Demonstration hall. To date, State has beaten Alma, Ohio university, Western Reserve and Cornell, and lost to University of Michigan and Notre Dame. The record, while not as impressive as last year at a corresponding date, is in a measure satisfying considering the lack of material, loss of five men over the holidays, and a tougher schedule than usual.

Last year State trimmed Xavier handily, winning 32 to 19, and the Spartans are fairly confident that last year's van will again be duplicated.

The weakness of the Spartans during the Notre Dame game seemed to be chiefly at the forward posts. McCaslin having difficulty from the foul line, and Pimmo being unable to elude and score from the field.

Coach Van Alstyne has intimated that there might be a change in the Spartan lineup. In an effort to obtain height at forward, Van Alstyne may use Roger Keast, a sophomore. In this event McCaslin will be shifted to the right forward.

Coach Van Alstyne was greatly disatisfied with his team's inability to crash through on the charity shots. Had the team been more efficient on these tosses, Notre Dame would have been on the small end of the score last Saturday night. A total of 18 foul shots were attempted, but the Spartans had to be content with seven counters. To improve his team's shooting eye in game tosses Van Alstyne has had extra baskets installed on the side of the court in Demonstration hall.

The Notre Dame defeat was the second loss the Spartans have ever suffered on their own floor. The first defeat occurred in 1929 when Syracuse

WANTED MANAGERS

The track team is in the market for about 12 good boys who would care to work for a manager's berth. These who would care to do so may report to Coach Ralph H. Young in the gymnasium or see Kenneth Eldred, varsity manager.

The system employed is as follows: At the end of the coming spring term, three men will be chosen as assistant managers from the number who report now. At the end of the following year, the varsity and freshman managers will be selected from the assistant managers.

The award given for either of these positions is the same as was given last year. It consists of a green sweater with an M. signifying manager, worked into the lower part of the "S".

Postpone Class Swimming Meet Due to Initiation

The interclass swimming meet which was originally scheduled for tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until a latter date due to confusions caused by Hell Week. The meet will be open to all students who have not previously won their numerals or letter in swimming. Swimmers will be given to the winners of first places and those who win enough other places to total five points. The date will be announced later.

The Cincinnati team has a club which boasts particularly of offensive strength. They displayed this last week by defeating Centre college at Kentucky 31 to 22. Xavier is considered one of the outstanding teams in the Midwest. During the past weeks they have been without the services of their co-captain, Bobbie Sack, who has been ineligible. Coach Mayer states that he will probably use Mercurio and Jordan forwards, Corbett center, Tracey and Hoane guards, Hughes, Coleman and Wetzel will probably also see service.

STATE MATMEN MEET MICHIGAN

Coach Collins' Team to Face Toughest Match on Schedule Tomorrow Evening.

With one victory to their credit, the matmen had the best chance for victory of any team by having reached at Michigan State. Heiner showed up remarkably well against the Toronto wrestlers, Monday evening, winning in every class but the type of wrestlers they will engage tomorrow evening are of a far superior nature. Michigan also won over Toronto by a shutout score.

In the meet last year, held at Ann Arbor, the Spartan grapplers did not fare so well. They won but one bout, this being in the 155 pound class with Captain Tompkins of last year's team representing State. The team should do much better this year as they are strengthened in practically every division. Having the meet on the home floor will also be an advantage.

The starting lineup for State will probably be the same as in the Toronto meet. Austin will wrestle in the 118 pound class, Ball, 126 pound class; Captain Bryan, 135 pound class; Stomer, 145 pound class; Jensen, 155 pound class; Marsa, 165 pound class; Lepard, 175 pound class, and Resaveley, heavyweight division.

A large squad has been working regularly since the opening of school last fall and some promising material has been discovered to fill the vacancies left in last year's squad. The lineup for Saturday's meet has not been definitely decided as yet, but the following men will probably see action: Murphy, Stony Glass, Wells, Beadle, Cash and Caselman.

The schedule as it is at present contains meets only two of which are held at home. The schedule: Saturday, Jan. 16—University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. Friday, Jan. 22—Wittenberg college at Wittenberg, Ohio. Saturday, Jan. 23—Ohio State University at Columbus, Ohio. Saturday, Feb. 6—Cadillac Athletic club at East Lansing. Friday, Feb. 12—University of Detroit at Detroit. Saturday, Feb. 13—Cadillac Athletic club at Detroit. Saturday, Feb. 20—University of Detroit at East Lansing.

Northwestern co-eds are circulating and signing petitions demanding the right to smoke cigarettes when and wherever they please.

Spartan Side-Lines BY VAN

Basketball

Xavier university of Cincinnati with a team that gave Michigan State a terrific battle last year before yielding in a last half drive 32 to 19, returns here tonight to provide Coach Ben Van Alstyne's Spartans with their only game of the week.

It is possible that there will be a change in the Spartan lineup. Roger Keast, lanky sophomore, is being tried out at the right forward position with the thought that if Pimmo continues in the slump that hampered him against Western Reserve and Notre Dame that Keast may be able to jump into the breach. The diminutive Dee continues to lead the Spartan scorers with six games played. Booskoof and Vondette are tied for second scoring honors, while Kircher is third.

The squad's scoring record to date follows:

Player	G	FG	FT	TP
Pimmo, f	6	17	3	37
Booskoof, c	6	10	7	27
Vondette, g	6	10	7	27

Heroes Still

Information garnered at the National Student Federation meeting held recently in Toledo, Ohio, divulged the fact that sixty former college athletic heroes are now presidents of colleges and universities in the United States.

Wrestling

Tomorrow night Coach Fendley Collins' grapplers meet the matmen of the University of Michigan. The meet will be held in State's gymnasium and will start at 7:30. For the first time in many years Michigan State's wrestling team has a chance of giving the Wolverines a real battle. Both mat teams have met the University of Toronto grapplers this season and on comparative showings the Spartans are given an even chance with Michigan. The Wolverines will compete without the services of Carl Dougovito, their star and captain. Dougovito is the holder of several mat titles and is as hard to pin as his name is to pronounce.

The meet tomorrow night will be well worth seeing.

Pugs

A number of college pugilists have been exhibiting their wares in the amateur boxing tournament being held in Lansing this week. Zisman and Borlman turned in good exhibitions and won their respective bouts. Zisman tried hard for a knockout but the other pug kept himself covered and stayed the limit.

We heard a good story in which some Dartmouth athletes were concerned the other day. The town of Hanover, New Hampshire, requires all eligible students to vote in order that it may collect a poll tax from them. In retaliation, the students led by some prominent athletes attended a town meeting where they introduced and passed two bills, proposing the building of a wall around the town eight miles high and the construction of a city hall one foot wide and a mile high. Hanoverians had to take the affair to Washington to get out of building the two structures.

"Bungle Boots"

Here's hoping that a certain Spartan forward doesn't get his feet all tangled up with the ball as he did in the Notre Dame game.

Oxford university of England upholds "That American Civilization is a Greater Menace to the world than that of Russia." This is a contemplated debate with the College of St. Thomas at St. Paul, Minnesota.

DISTANCE MEN PREPARING FOR WINTER MEETS

Expect Team to Have Victorious Season This Year.

TEN ON SQUAD

Coach Lauren Brown has been warming up his distance men daily on the indoor track in preparation for the winter season. The workouts to date have not been strenuous, but they have been enough to convince the coach that his squad of runners are not going to trail behind anyone in the meets of the near future.

Clark Chamberlain is the outstanding performer who needs no proof of his ability to show his heels to any man he may encounter. Chamberlain's ability to run is not accounted for by a pair of nimble legs and a good wind alone. His head works just as fast as his feet. This is his last term with the Spartans and the one and two mile tracks will be left to his judgment and to his tireless stride.

Otto Pongrace is continuing his good work from the past season and is counted on to chalk up some low scores on the Spartan short shot.

Pongrace is a fighter. When it comes to falling to the rear because of exhaustion, Pongrace doesn't fall. He keeps right on going. The one-half and the one mile will be his specialty.

Cobb and Wisner are slated to run the mile with Warren and Wilson on the half. Coach Brown has about ten dependable men altogether forming a squad that is strong and capable for the tough schedule ahead of them.

The freshmen are not to be overlooked when it comes to putting a mile or so behind them in short order. Sonowski doing the mile as all a coach could ask for from a first year man. Hammer, Kamm, and Mayhew are also outstanding. There are about 20 yearling runners who are fighting for a berth on the first year team.

Coach Brown knows the necessity of having his men in first class running order. Not only the legs of a runner must be developed but the stomach and shoulder muscles as well. No strenuous workouts have been on the program for either squad so far. Setting-up exercises are given to start the practice session, then the two milers do about a mile and a half, the milers about a half, and the half milers, 600 yards. Just a jog is used and the clock is set on them to develop the timing and rhythm.

SCOTT CUTS FROSH SQUAD

Yearlings in Preparation for Western State Contest Next Week.

The freshman basketball squad has been cut down to 24 men during the past week, and Coach Wayne Scott indicated that some more pruning will be done during this week. To date ten suits have been passed out, and it is likely that the same number will be distributed during the next ten days.

The squad has been working out nightly from four to six in the dance hall of the armory in preparation for the first game with Western State yearlings at Kalamazoo, January 20.

Some of the outstanding Spartan first year men are Mauth, Ward, Killeen, Green, Fager, Baker, Ten Eyck, Birney, Carp, Rouse, Vadik, Weiting and Norton.

The schedule for the following season is as follows:

Jan. 22—Western State here
Jan. 30—Grand Rapids Jr. college here
Feb. 12—Western State here
Feb. 18—Univ. of Detroit here
Feb. 20—Ferris Institute here
March 5—Univ. of Detroit there

Faculty Bowlers Blocked Off for Annual Tourney

The recently organized Faculty Bowling League, which meets every Saturday evening at the Rainbow alley, has been divided into 12 teams representing different departments in the college. The schedule has been made and is as follows:

Jan. 16—Chemistry vs. Forestry, Accountants vs. Annual Harpading Extension vs. Economics, English vs. Farm Crop, Military vs. Publications, Hort vs. Engineers.

Jan. 23—Engineers vs. Forestry, Economics vs. Hort, Annual Harpading vs. Chemistry, Accountants vs. Military, Extension vs. Forestry, Publications vs. Accountants.
