Hand Me Down My Walking Cane

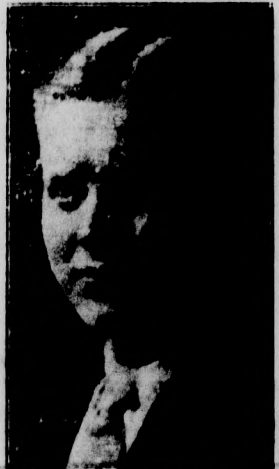

Michigan State is full of fine freshmen who will not think of a terrible hardship to have to walk from Lansing to East Lansing. The three miles should be the proverbial duck soup for them. He is Ernest Graham, the champion long distance walker of the United States.

Graham, who is entering college this week, in the American Olympic team layout last summer he walked to a championship in the 50,000 meter distance over some of the classiest leaders in the country.

In the final Olympics he was the first American to place and came in eighth in competition with the world's best. He has done cross country running as well as walking and hopes to make the Spartan freshman barrier team this fall.

Council President Welcomes Frosh

Milton Dickman, president of the Michigan State University Student Council, welcomed the incoming freshmen to the university on Tuesday evening.

With a hope that Michigan State's new freshman class would become loyal and staunch supporters of their Alma Mater, Milton Dickman, 31, president of the Student Council, student governing body today addressed to a representative of the News the welcome of official M. S. U. to the class of 1936.

State has a background of rich tradition colored by thousands of loyal Spartans in the seventy-five years of college history. As an educational institution in the field of research as well as in athletics and student activity this college is one of which any freshman may be proud to become a supporter. We sincerely hope every member of the class of '36 will become such.

FRESHMEN HAVE CHEERING BLOCK

A cheering section composed of 100 freshmen men is in process of organization according to Carleton Spencer, varsity cheer leader. All those wishing to secure a place in this group are required to sign up with Spencer before Friday night.

Each man will be required to make a deposit of five cents which will cover the cost of his equipment. This opportunity should prove attractive to the first year men as seats on the 35-40 yard line will be reserved for them for each home game this season. In the case of the homecoming and U. of D. games seats will be reserved for each man and in other cases the cheering section will be roped off. These seats will be in the west stand and are in a much better position than the seats ordinarily granted to freshman students.

There will be a meeting of all those who have signed up Saturday morning in the west stand of the stadium in order to make arrangements for the game in the afternoon.

SUCCESS MARKS '32 WATER FETE

Total Attendance of 5,000 Makes Water Carnival Financial Success.

Due to the efforts of Currier Hampton, general chairman, and Clark Chamberlain, president of 1932, the Water Carnival of Michigan State University was a highly successful affair, according to reports from the comptroller's office.

The sum set aside by the State Board of Agriculture for use by the committees was not used as the expenses were easily taken care of by the proceeds from the event.

The cost of producing the carnival this past season was somewhat higher due to the many changes in the staging of it. Prior to this time the floats were propelled down the river by means of human power. This year a large cable was installed the length of the course and the floats were drawn down at proper intervals. Along with the increased number of floats and the elaborate production of the carnival, the expenses mounted higher than in former years.

The campus organizations, fraternities and sororities of the college co-operated very nicely with the carnival committees to make it a success.

Chamberlain states that the senior class in leaving the college turned over more than $900 to be used in the student loan fund. He also stated that this would not have been possible if the Water Carnival had not been as successful as was stated.

Reminiscences—Oldtimer Recalls College in Past

Freshman Reporter Gets Interview With Aged Member of School Faculty.

"Sit down, son. How do you like it here? Quite a place, it's grown up to be this college. First of its kind in America.

Yes, this is a pretty old school. Lots of changes have been made since it opened. I remember Charles Monrose's telling about coming to the dedication of the college in 1857. Just three buildings here then. They sat amongst the trees and stubs and were surrounded by buckberry bushes. Instead of a beautiful landscape, there was nothing to look at but burnt stumps and piles of lumber.

Lansing consisted of three parts at that time: Upper, Middle and Lower. There was a partition of woods between them so they were like distinct towns. The road between the college and Lansing was a mud hole most of the time. No railroad ran into Lansing when the college started. The nearest ones were at Jackson and St. Johns. Students had to ride from those points to Lansing on old stage coaches over plank and corduroy roads.

Did you get enrolled all right? They used to do that a lot differently when Mr. Monrose came here. Applicants for admission had to be fourteen years old and have a good primary school education. To enter they had to pass a good examination in arithmetic, geography, grammar, reading, spelling and penmanship. That sounds funny now doesn't it? There was only room for eighty students. All of them had to take instruction in English, mathematics and natural science.

You have three terms now beginning in the fall and finishing in the spring. When Mr. Monrose came here the first term started in April and lasted till October. The second term commenced the first of December and ran till the last of February. During the vacations the students taught at rural schools.

There were no girls here when the college opened. They didn't make the school co-education till 1896. In Lansing there was a girls school called the Michigan Female Society. The boys from the college went there for hunking beer and the girls for hunking beer.

You're going out for football, are you? There has been a great change in athletics since the school began. At first the only sports were one and two-sided ball games, running, leaping and pom-pom pulling. They didn't need a hand or a rule to do it. Well, make yourself at home here.

THIRTY-TWO HELPED

State Board and Alumni Co-operate to Help Needy First Year Students.

Thirty-two freshman students at Michigan State will be aided this year as a result of the awarding of alumni undergraduate scholarships. Glen Stewart, alumni secretary, today made public the complete list of successful applicants for the scholarships. The list includes seven girls and twenty-five boys.

The scholarship consists of the waiving of college fees for the freshman year and amounts to $27.50. The amount of the awards was donated by the State Board of Agriculture.

The scholarships are awarded according to districts into which the state is divided, the number being thirty-two for each senatorial district. In each district there is an alumni committee which carries on the work of choosing the individual to receive the scholarship. Their selection, however, is not final as the final applicant must be approved by a special committee appointed by President Robert S. Shaw and which has final jurisdiction concerning all the scholarships. The committee is composed of Prof. L. C. Platt, Dean K. A. Bossey, and Dean H. B. Drake.

Only active alumni organizations within the state may nominate one or more candidates for the scholarships in cooperation with the high school principals. The students must be nominated from the upper one-fifth of their respective high school classes and their financial circumstances must definitely warrant a scholarship aid. A comprehensive examination is given.

CHURCH GROUP REVEALS PLANS

Freshman Sunday to Open Fall Activities for Men and Women.

The annual Freshman Sunday at the Peoples church has always been one of the biggest days of the year. The morning service at 10:30 is planned with the needs of the new students principally in mind. The minister, Dr. N. A. McGuire, a graduate of Michigan State, his subject as he speaks to the students Sunday morning will be "God Good."

Following the close of the church service at 12 o'clock two student organizations or classes, one for men the other for women are held for forty-five minutes. The Student Citizenship League of the Y. M. C. A. is the men's organization and is under the leadership of the director of student work for men in the church, Norman W. Kunkel, who will speak at the first meeting Sunday morning on the subject "What is the Use of Religion in College?" The Campus Girls Assembly is under the leadership of Miss Emma Safer, the director of student activities for women in the church. Both groups will meet in the gymnasium building with comfortable rooms fronting on the street.

The mixed organization for student men and women is called the Student Christian Union. This young people society meets for a social hour every Sunday at 5 o'clock at which a cost supper is always served, followed by a discussion group and worship period at 6 o'clock. The president of the organization is Veda Wheaton, and the subject for discussion this week will be "Spiritual Values."

A regular mid-week feature which appeals to a host of students is the recreation group known as the Friday Night Fun-Nites. This weekly event held every Friday night from 8 o'clock till 11 o'clock has always been largely attended. Refreshments are always served for which the student pays a dime which also covers the small overhead of the Fun-Nites including decorations and materials used in the programs. A special feature is always presented at each program and free student participation in amateur dramatics and other activities is always encouraged.

Activities of Blue Key honorary service fraternity for junior men began Monday night with the enrollment of its members to the work of directing freshmen at various stages of their enrollment during this week. Instructions were given to the group for each day and members asked to be on hand for the first time Wednesday morning at the gymnasium convocation.

Ten members of the Blue Key were present at this first meeting on Monday. The president, Otto Pongrace, was in charge and the chairman of business aside from freshman week instructions consisted of the election of William McCauley to the office of secretary of the organization.

YEARLING REGISTRATION GETS OFF TO START WITH RECORD CONVOCATION ON WEDNESDAY

Results of English Placement Tests Are Announced by Registration Officials; New System Speeds Up Frosh Enrollment Through Use of Coupon Books.

Freshman week activities for the year 1932-1933 were officially opened with nearly 900 of the new students in attendance at the first freshman convocation which was called for eight o'clock yesterday morning at the gymnasium.

According to R. R. Proulx, who has for years been in charge of these first yearling gatherings, it was the largest freshman convocation ever held on this campus. The meeting itself lasted only a little over half an hour and was devoted mainly to short speeches of welcome and remarks by freshman week officials concerning the procedures to be followed in registering, taking tests and attending convocations throughout the week.

Following the general assembly yesterday morning, freshmen were assigned to one of ten groups where the annual placement tests in English were given to each group. These examinations were corrected by 12:30 yesterday. The result announced show that out of this number of freshmen, 127 will be required to classify in English 102d.

The administrative officials of Michigan State college extend to those entering for the college year of 1932-33 a most hearty welcome.

To the freshmen and those coming to the college for the first time we extend greetings and best wishes in the hope that Michigan State college may measure up to their highest expectations and render to them a service of real worth.

We congratulate those who find it possible to enter college this year for there are some who have been forced to defer themselves the opportunity for the present.

May we give our objectives with careful thought as to their adaptability possibilities of attainment or need of revision. May we face the problems of education in a serious thoughtful manner, determined to be guided only by the highest standards that will lead to a standing individual achievement and reflect much credit on Michigan State college.

BULLETIN

Official figures released at 5:00 o'clock today by Edith Yakeley, college registrar, showed a total of 921 freshmen and transfer students had registered and classified. Compared with last year's figures enrollment at this time shows about a 10 per cent decrease from the same period last fall.

The University of Michigan this year has one of the smallest freshman classes in years, with less than 1,000 registered the second day of the orientation week.

It is expected that this year's freshmen will have an even sterner task in this respect.

The remainder of yesterday and of today is being spent by the registrars in classifying with their respective desks and advisors registering at the Union building, paying fees, attending library trips, being photographed, taking medical examinations, and getting military orders.

A new system has been worked out through use of the coupon book, which is given to each freshman entering school, whereby all of these events are included in the program of the individual during the three days. The coupons are numbered in the order in which they are to be used by each group and programs varied in such a way that the two groups will be together at once. To date the success of this system has been very marked. All the confusion associated with freshman week in former years has been practically eliminated and there are none of the long waiting lines which were wont to greet newcomers in the past.

Because of the large number of freshmen and transfer students still in the process of registration today it is impossible to state with accuracy the total enrollment of yearlings which may be expected this term. However, according to Professor L. C. Emonson, who is in charge of the administration of freshman week, there are 1,977 new students enrolled.

STATE THEATER OPENS SATURDAY

Price Changes Are Inaugurated at Opening of Fall Season.

The State Theater under new management will open its doors to the students and townspeople of East Lansing Saturday, September 24, after being closed since the latter part of May.

Paul W. Neippel, graduate of the University of Michigan and formerly employed by the Butterfield interests at the Michigan theater in Ann Arbor, is now managing the local movie house. He succeeds Howard Sweet, who was in charge last season.

Several changes will make the opening this year. Admission prices have been cut to 20¢ for the matinee and 30¢ for the evening performance. There will be matinees daily beginning at 3:15 excepting Sunday when the show will be continuous from 2 o'clock on. There will be no change in prices for the evening and afternoon shows on Sundays. As usual the daily night performances will begin at 7 and 9.

The opening show will feature John Mack Brown, Dorothy Jordan, Philip Holmes and Charles Ruggles in "70,000 Witnesses."

MEN'S DORM OPEN TO FRESHMEN ONLY

Upperclassmen Excluded From Wells Hall in Effort to Promote Unity.

For the first time in the history of the college there is no dormitory open to all men students. Wells Hall, the last of Michigan State's men's dormitories, this year is open to first year men only. It will be strictly a freshman dormitory and it is hoped that a spirit of unity can be aroused in the building which has not been apparent in years past.

Clive Rosenbloom, a former student at State, is in charge of the dormitory.

The various wards in the building are also under the supervision of student proctors who will help in the management of the rooms. They are Harold Phillips, T. E. Arnold, James Claghorn, Miles Peasley, Bernard McNutt and Leonard Sampaia.

STUDENTS MUST RE-REGISTER CARS

Campus Police Will Issue Permits From September 28 to October 5.

Cars driven by M. S. U. students on the campus must be re-registered each year at the campus police department at least by Wednesday, October 5, according to Chief Don Bremer.

Contrary to last year's method of putting stickers on the windshield registration cards this year will be a small green and white tag to be attached to the radiator hose. Increases will be obtained Wednesday, September 28, and thereafter must be on the car a week later.

Bremer states that the campus police are unusually quiet this past year and except for a few parties the grounds were deserted. At the time the college steps were closed by cars owned by East Lansing residents and the cars were forced to take a hard stopping them.

The police force is to remain in line as at the close of last year with "Dick" Rogers and Tom Hill as assisting Chief Bremer.

service are a few of the things a student can interest himself in.

Michigan State freshmen should make it a point to become interested in some activity outside of the classroom. College should mean more than the education acquired from books. It should include more than merely four years devoted to study. Look over the various activities in the next few weeks, inquire of friends, watch the Michigan State News for announcements and then become affiliated with one or more of the activities. You will, by so doing, attain a greater share of education and enjoy your four years at Michigan State as a wide-awake sportman.

SCHOLARSHIPS

With the inauguration of the policy of awarding 32 alumni scholarships each year to deserving students throughout the state the State Board of Agriculture and the Michigan State College Alumni Association have undertaken a project that is highly commendable. It is especially so at this time. What with the financial condition of so many families as it is and the competition for profitable positions in business becoming keener each day it has become at the same time more difficult and yet more imperative to acquire a college education.

The State Board and the Alumni Association have also shown a commendable foresight in the formulation of the rules which should govern the distribution of these awards. They have not only provided that those who are most deserving should receive them but that the individual scholarships should be available to people throughout the state.

Term fees at Michigan State are comparatively low yet they often constitute an impassable barrier for students who are anxious for and worthy of college training. Thus these scholarships have been so arranged that financial condition as well as scholastic standing of the applicant must be considered a part of their qualification.

Although these awards are open to freshmen only, they will undoubtedly provide the incentive in many cases for the student to make a special effort to continue his education.

CHANGES MADE IN NUMEROUS DEPARTMENTS

Personnel Staff of Military Affected by Transfer of Officers.

A number of changes among the teaching staffs in college departments have been made during the past summer by the State Board of Agriculture at its three monthly meetings, and the local military department announces several important replacements made by the national government in its staff of R. O. T. C. instructors.

In the athletic department announcement has been made of the appointment of Frank Leahy as an assistant football coach for the fall term. Leahy with a full time position takes the place of student instructors which were formerly employed in his line of work. The appointment of Arthur Hagan, 31, as freshmen basketball coach was also sanctioned by the board during the summer.

In the department of history Harry Kimber has been named as full time instructor for the fall term to replace Mrs. M. A. Hendrick who is forced to resign on account of illness.

Clive Rosenbrook was appointed to the position of training director for men to succeed Ronald Greives, C. D. House, as an instructor in physics, replaces Professor W. E. Laycock now in the publications department and Miss Geraldine Cooke will take the position formerly held by Mrs. Margaret Barman as instructor in home economics.

Changes in personnel of the military staff will affect all divisions of the local R. O. T. C. and a number of new officers. A. E. (Continued from page 1) students whose credentials have gone through the offices of the registrar. Of this number it is certain that some have dropped out, but it is equally certain that more than the same number of entrants will have been added to the total before Freshman week closes. Total freshmen enrollment for the fall term of 1931 was in excess of 1300 and according to Professor Emmons, it is entirely possible that new enrollments through this week and next may bring the figure of this year close to last year's record.

Friday morning of this week has been scheduled for completion of the groups and sections of the various entrance activities mentioned above, and the afternoon of that day will be given over to division convocations, psychological tests, the president's convocation and the separate convocations for men and women.

All freshmen will attend the President's convocation in the gymnasium which is scheduled from 1:00 to 2:00. At this event the main feature will be an address of welcome to the new students by President R. S. Shaw. At two o'clock students of the various departments will assemble at designated places for psychology tests.

Separate convocations for men, women members of the class of '36 are listed on Friday's program to occur at three o'clock. The one for men will be in the gymnasium and the women's convocation at the Little Theater in the Home Economics building. The purpose of these meetings is to introduce student leaders who will welcome the members of each organization, which is represented. Among those who will speak at this time are representatives from the State News student committee.

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Social Interest Runs High as Frosh Functions Give Impetuous Start to Fall Season With Dances and Teas

Huge Crowds Attend Mixers at Union and Armory Wednesday Night; Society Looks to Church Mixer, Union Party and Conrad Tea.

A startling succession of social events of every type has plunged the bewildered freshman into a whirl of activity only equalled by that of the upperclassmen helping to entertain. With freshman week comes the traditional pajama parties in the dormitories, the teas, the coffees, the hikes, and the sorority and fraternity rushing parties.

Two mixers given for the freshmen last night, from 8 until 11 o'clock, one in the Union ballroom with the M. S. C. Collegians furnishing the music, and another in a demonstration hall with Nate Fox's Gold Diggers playing, attracted huge mobs of freshmen and upperclassmen, proving a great if somewhat crowded success.

Dean Conrad Gives Tea for Freshmen

One of the most important functions of the week will be the tea at which Dean Elisabeth Conrad will entertain the freshman girls tomorrow afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock in the parlors of the Women's building. In the receiving line will be Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Mrs. H. H. Halliday, Dean Marie Dye, Dr. Lydia L. Lightner, Mrs. Mary S. Waller, Miss Emma Sater, and Athena Andros. Elizabeth Baker, chairman of the freshman counselor committee, Frieda Brief, president of W. A. A., Eva Covert, president of Y. W. C. A., Margaret Heinaman, president of Panhellenic, Alice Bender, president of Sphinx, Dorothy Cummins, president of S. W. L. Jean Blessing, co-editor of Michigan State News, and Helen Carruthers, senior co-ed representative of the Union Board will be the assisting hostesses. Miss Maryanne Uptegrove, housing assistant, and Miss Marian Neidert, dormitory supervisor, will receive at the door. Mrs. Mable Coburn, matron of west Mary Mayo hall, and Mrs. Edith Gilhooley, matron of the Women's building will preside at the tea tables.

Union Stages Dance Saturday Evening

The first Union party of the year will take place in the ballroom Saturday night from 9 until 12 o'clock. Jack DeCamp's orchestra will play for the dancing.

Y. W. Entertained at Informal Coffee

Firelight, candlelight, and fall leaves decorated the woman students' parlors of the Peoples church for the coffee given for freshmen girls by the college Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening from 6:30 until 9:30. Miss Emma Sater, Mrs. N. A. McCune and Elva Covert formed the receiving line while Mrs. C. C. Halligan and Mrs. R. S. Shaw presided. About 250 girls attended. Miss Helen VanDoren, general chairman in charge of the coffee.

Spartan League Honors Freshmen

The Spartan Woman's League is sponsoring a tea for all freshman girls to be held in the parlors of the Women's building on Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30. Dean Elisabeth Conrad and the presidents of the various girls organizations on campus will be in the receiving line. Miss Josephine Garvin and Miss Ann Keith will preside at the tea table. Esther Leiberman is general chairman.

Announce Marriage of Associate Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Luckley announce the marriage of their daughter Barbara Euphemia to Mr. Norman Walter Reeder, on Sunday, August 28, 1932. The bride was a sophomore on this campus while Mr. Reeder was a senior. He was associate editor of Michigan State News and a member of Alpha Chi Omega fraternity.

Sigma Kappa Councilor Entertained at House

Miss E. C. Taggart of Indianapolis, district councilor of Sigma Kappa sorority is a guest at the local chapter house Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Miss Taggart was entertained by the house of the organization at a dinner Tuesday evening at Hunt's food shop.

Miss Mary S. Waller is the new matron of East Mary Mayo hall. She has come directly to Michigan State from the University of Chicago where she was assistant director of the French house.

Andros Extends Frosh Welcome

Athena Andros, president of Associated Women Students, an all-campus political and social organization for co-ed students at Michigan State, issued the following statement of welcome to the new class of freshman girls: "We, the women students of M. S. C. are very happy to welcome you to our college. We feel sure that you can find here those things which you desire for your next four years. It is our sincere hope that we may be able to help you make your contribution to our campus life.

"We expect that you have come with the idea of living up to the spirit back of our A. W. S. rules and the ideals to which we are aiming. These rules may at times seem to hinder your personal pleasures or desires, but as a member of a group each one must consider the welfare of that group as a whole and observe its laws in order that all may benefit.

"One of your greatest contributions is to understand the difference between life in your own home and our life here in a large community and assume wholeheartedly your share in the responsibility of making our Associated Women Students a success.

"We challenge you to become interested also in some activity and follow it through your college career. If you need confidential advice in the confusion of these first days you will find not only your A. W. S. Council members but every upperclass girl ready to help you.

"We welcome you as contributing members to our college and to our Association."

Due to the fact that three members of the Associated Women Students council are not returning to school this fall, a special election will be held to replace them.

Nominations of new representatives will take place on October 3 and eliminations on October 6. According to the A. W. W. A. A. Sponsors Hike on Saturday for Frosh Women

The Women's Athletic Association is sponsoring a hike for Freshman girls on Saturday morning from 8:30 until 11:00, according to Frieda Brief, W. A. A. president. The hike will start in front of the gymnasium and proceed to the W. A. A. cabin where a breakfast of hot-dogs, buns, fried cakes, and coffee will be served. Information will be given about fall sports by the various sports managers. Freshmen are asked to sign up on the posters in the dormitories and in the gymnasium before Friday noon and to wear low heeled shoes on the hike. Miss Dorothy Jane Parker, Dr. Lydia Lightner, Miss Elizabeth Daniels, Miss Josephine Garvin and Miss Ann Keith, instructors in the physical education department, will accompany the girls.

FRESHMAN COUNSELORS MAP ADVISOR PROGRAM

A meeting of all freshman counselors was held in the Home Economics building Wednesday evening to distribute counselor ribbons and to receive their instructions. It was decided at this meeting that all counselors should see their charges once every week during the fall term but during winter and spring terms it would be necessary to call only once in two weeks. Counselors are to act as general advisors and promote interest in extra-curricular activities.

According to Betty Baker, chairman of the Freshman Counselor committee, the system that was used last year is to be employed this year.

Union Extends Frosh Welcome

Richard MacDonald

Expressing a desire that Michigan State's new freshman would acquaint themselves with the usefulness of the Union Memorial building as a student clubhouse, Richard MacDonald, 33, president of the Union board, extended to the class of 1936 the welcome of the organization that he heads.

"The Union is a clubhouse for the student body managed for their benefit and entertainment," said MacDonald. "It is our hope that the new students coming to the Michigan State college campus will make use of all the features of the Union building which are at their disposal. We want them to regard the building as their headquarters for all social activities and participate in the privileges which their membership gives them."

Amongst the features offered by the Union are the cafeteria, soda grill, dining rooms for private meals and banquets, cigarette and candy stand, lounge rooms, club rooms and a ballroom where most of State's on-campus parties are given.

Dorm Attendance Drops Far Below Usual High Point

Work for Board and Room Makes Vacancies; 36 More Girls Needed.

At the present time rooms for fifteen girls are yet to be filled in the Women's building according to the report from Dean Conrad's office. Twenty-one more can be accommodated in the two wings of Mary Mayo hall. A year ago at the opening of Freshman Week all the places were taken in both dormitories and eighty-five names were on the waiting list for rooms.

The unusual number of vacancies this year is attributed to the fact that many more girls are working for their room and board than ever before. It is expected, however, that these rooms will all be signed up for as soon as the upperclass women return to the campus the end of this week.

So far two hundred ninety girls have taken rooms in Mary Mayo hall, and of this number only one hundred and three are freshmen. In the Women's building one hundred thirty-four have signed up with nearly half of the rooms occupied by first year students.

STATE BEGINS FOOTBALL SEASON AGAINST ALMA SATURDAY; TEAM IN GOOD CONDITION FOR OPENER

1932 Aggregation One of Strongest Squads to Represent State in Years; Coach Crowley Optimistic Over Outlook for Season; Reserve Material Plentiful.

By STEVE ROGIENSKI

Michigan State's 1932 football team will go into action Saturday afternoon in the season's opening football game against Alma college at 2:00 o'clock.

Two weeks of intensive drilling under the watchful eyes of Coaches Crowley, Castel, Carberry, and Leahy, a new arrival from Notre Dame, has rounded into shape one of the best teams ever assembled at Michigan State college.

While coaches were unwilling to make any statements as to prospects this year, Crowley smilingly admitted that "this is the most promising squad of football players I have ever coached at Michigan State college."

When the opening whistle sounds Saturday night veterans, two reserves from last year's squad and one sophomore will probably be in the opening lineup for the Spartans. Though the team will be composed of veterans, it is no sign that they have not had to fight for their jobs, and Crowley promises that at the first sign of letting down on the part of the starters he will substitute some of his capable reserves and he has plenty of them.

The starting lineup to all appearances from practice will comprise McNitt at full, Khowitz and Monnet at halves, Jones quarter, the back will be Keel, Ben and Vandermeer, the tackle positions will be occupied by Ben and Brunette, Terlaak and Hardy will man the guards, Buddy Meyer will most likely be the starting center.

Ready to enter the game at a moment's notice will be Joe Kowatch and Russell Reynolds, halves, Norman and Klesicki, a pair of clean ends from last year's freshman team, Souler and Heavily, tackles, who have shown a great deal of ability, Demarest and Roberts, guards, and Butler center. All these men have shown unusual ability to date and may at any time usurp a position on the regular squad.

Coach Crowley has been watching the fight for the center position with keen interest. Francis Meers, blind Muskeren and who has held down the post position regularly for the past two years, has been having a hard fight to keep his post from Frank Butler, a former Notre Dame player, who appears to be an all-around pivot man with plenty of weight, speed and fight. If Crowley gives Meers the starting call Saturday it will be only because of Meers' experience at the position.

The iron men tradition, which was built around the team of last year, will be just an echo this year. There are enough men of ability this year to give Crowley two teams of almost equal ability and a string of seasoned reserves who can be used for replacements without weakening the team perceptibly.

Although the team is in fine condition and "ready" to go the game with Alma Saturday is not being taken too lightly. Crowley will have his strongest team in for nearly the entire game and will use the second and third string teams only if the score warrants. Alma has always presented the Spartans with a fight and reports from the Michigan state athletic department that this year's team is fully as strong as those in the past, and maybe just a trifle stronger.

Without a question, the game with the University of Michigan, the one that is giving the coaches most concern, is it for that game that Crowley has been pointing his men. He does not think now is the time to beat Michigan and he is waiting for opportunity to see that Michigan gets a trouncing. Because of the fact that the Wolverines will be played next week, the Spartans have been getting several hours of scrimmage each day for the past week. New and old plays have been practiced so that they go off with clock-work precision. Blocking and tackling have been given the players constantly, and complete drilling in fundamentals has been part of the Spartans' work. They are promised more rest work.

Saturday's game will be played before approximately 5,000 Michigan Bay Scouts, who are present annually for the opening game. These boys will parade between the halves. They will be returned by President H. S. Shaw and his staff. It is Rodney of the military department.

The showing of the individual players in Saturday's game will determine if they are to remain in the regular lineup or give way to reserves. Crowley is watching all his men in an effort to determine the strongest possible aggregation to pit against Michigan. It is certain that some flashy ball playing will be shown Saturday since most of the jobs are dependent on the type of football played against Alma.

THIS and THAT

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

WELCOME

Now that all the campus "big shots" have officially welcomed the freshman class, we retreat to our little corner to give a big hand to the fresh. Welcome, say we. Welcome. Take off your hat and come in. Make yourself at home, we'll try to entertain you. Welcome to our college and books and sports and gals times and hard work. Again we welcome you. We hope you like it.

ROBS

Coach John Kubs has still a new job—that of acting as an advisor for the freshman physical education students. Because he was so busy advising the students, he didn't get a good look at the book of huskies he is going to coach this fall. They are plenty large and should make a good team. The fresh candidates were given a workout yesterday by Coach Ben VanAlstyne and Jake Foss who has undertaken to lend a hand in tutoring the youngsters.

YELL FROSH YELL

This year a new cheering section is being organized. This section is for the frosh and all freshmen are expected to join. Every new class on the campus is imbued with the Spartan spirit. We hope the class of '36 is no exception. We hope that the frosh are real Spartans and go out to show the upperclassmen and townfolk that they can cheer and in a body. Let's go, frosh. Here's how you can make your own companion right off the bat.

SPORTS WRITERS NEEDED

All of which reminds us that there is at present a dearth of capable sports writers on the State News staff. So if any freshmen has leanings toward sport and feels that he would like to show to what he can do, he's welcome. Come around to the meeting that is going to be held Monday night and let's get acquainted. It's a chance in a lifetime. Don't miss it! Here is a chance to show your Spartan spirit and get a lot of fun and experience.

COACH STEEL

Box Steele, victim of a bad accident last spring, is taking up a new role. He is going to coach fall track. The Coach was an hero last night. He would like to have a lot of men turn out for fall track which starts Monday night. Everyone with track aspirations is asked to report Monday at room 1 in the gym and make those "showings known." Equipment will be loaned and a squad will be organized.

Sophomore song books will be on sale at the Union all day Friday and Saturday morning, according to Freda Brief, in charge of the sale. These books include the Alma Mater, the Fight Song and several other M. S. C. songs, a collection which every student should have.

NEW COACH IS NOW ON STAFF

Frank W. Leahy, Notre Dame Product Assists Carberry With Line Work.

Glenn Carberry, better known as "Judge," will have less opportunity to be "live bait" this year than in former years with the Spartan grid squad. It now appears that Carberry may have a little more rest in his strenuous workout with the college line men. He has an assistant.

Frank W. Leahy, who starred at tackle for Notre Dame in 1928-30, has been given supervision of the tackle and guard. Carberry will continue to have the line under his direct supervision but Leahy will be of great assistance in the individual instructing of the budding linemen. Michigan State grid teams in the past have been noted for their "choked" and at times seemingly impenetrable lines. With two line coaches like Carberry and Leahy to whip into shape the promising material on hand this year promises to be no exception.

Spartan Women's League Tea Sunday

September 25, 3 to 5 p. m. in the parlors of the Women's building. All freshmen girls are invited to attend.

VARSITY AWARD WINNERS IN ATHLETICS ANNOUNCED

Winners of athletic scholarship awards during the spring term at Michigan State college have been announced. Lansing supplied two of the star student-athletes, at Richard F. O'Dell of the freshman tennis team and Donald Jones of the varsity golf squad. Reuben E. Lill of Saginaw, who graduated again, captured the prize for track ball and track during the year he was in college.

Robert T. Terlaak of Cleveland, O., who has made the grade as a regular on the varsity football team, this fall was high point man in the varsity football ranks. Another varsity football player, Archie Olson, Escanaba, Mich., John F. Randall of Plymouth, was high man in freshman track.

2. Each student book entitles purchaser to the right to purchase six extra tickets adjacent to his student reservation.

There were all kinds of smoking tobaccos

... tobaccos made for cigarettes and pipes; granulated tobaccos. But there was plenty of room for a tobacco made solely for pipes.

If you look, you will find that a great many tobacco packages say "for pipe and cigarettes." But the Granger package says:

GRANGER ROUGH CUT

Pipe Tobacco

Granger is made by Wellman's Method and cut right for pipes—rough cut. Burns slower and cooler. Just try it!
