The Michigan State college symphony orchestra will con-

Thursday, April 25. This will be the fourth concert by the orchestra which is under the direction of Michael Press.

As in the previous concerts this season, when a member of the partment has appeared as soloist, the forthcoming concert will feature the eminent violinist Michael Schuster, who will step from his orchestra which is under the direction of Michael Press.

MOVEMENT UNDER WAY TO TAX FRATS

General State Legislatures Act
to Abolish Old Custom.

One attempt to tax college fraternity property has failed in Indiana, and in Delaware, a movement is underway to abolish the exemption from taxation of Greek organization real estate.

After considerable protest had been raised by colleges and fraternities in Indiana, the state legislature failed to pass a bill which would have taken colleges, universities and organizations affiliated with them, such as fraternity houses, from the tax exempt list.
At Newark, Delaware, home of the University of Delaware, the town council was urged by the fraternities to take steps to tax fraternity property. At the same time, the mayor denounced as unfair to Newark residents a bill pending before the state legislature which would provide for an increase of the exemption figure for fraternity houses. The Delaware fraternities were originally granted exemption on the grounds that the houses constituted the only dormitory facilities of the school.

Eminent Chemist Speaks Before Club

Wednesday evening, April 10, in the Kedzie laboratory, Dr. W. A.
Noyes, professor emeritus of chemistry at the University of Illinois, spoke on "Electronic Theories."
The lecture was presented by the Michigan State college section of the American Chemical society.

MATH THEORY IS FINISHED HERE

Dr. Kimball Completes Third
Stage of Work on Statistical Mechanics.

Announcement has been made by Dr. Kimball of the mathematics department of Michigan State college of the perfection of the third stage in the development of statistical mechanics. The development of statistical mechanics and the physical concept of entropy may be grouped into three stages. The first postulated that entropy was proportional to the logarithm of the probability, and was developed by Boltzmann. The second, due mainly to Gibbs, measured entropy by extension in phase connection with probability.
The third stage developed by Dr.
Kimball and M. C. Wygant, a graduate student at Michigan State college, disregards probability entirely and relies solely on elasticity theory and Newtonian mechanics as the basis for statistical mechanics. According to this new treatment, entropy is proportional to the old-fashioned dimensionless mechanical strain.

Dr. Kimball, in conjunction with the graduate students of the mathematics department, has been working on the extension of this theory for the past few years. He has had various articles printed on this in the Journal of Physical Chemistry in 1929 and in 1931, the Philosophical Magazine in 1932 and the final perfection of this theory in the Philosophical Magazine of England in February of this year.
Although this theory is barely understood by the ordinary person, it is of great importance and interest to those in the scientific branches of learning.

Dr. Kimball received his first degree from the University of Chicago in 1918 and his doctor's degree from the same school in 1922. He joined the faculty of Michigan State college in 1925 and is now assistant professor of mathematics.

Prof's Start Campaigning For Frosh Class of 1939

College Authorities Begin Annual Activities to Enlist Banner Crop of Yearlings for Next Fall.

By HARVEY HARRINGTON
Now it is April, and next will be May, and then June. And what happens in June? You will say that there will be superfluity of June brides, but I will remind you that June is the time that graduation comes, and it is then that high school students will begin to anticipate going to an institution of higher learning. The faculty of Michigan State realizes this, and have decided that they will get their share of the pupils in the schools in the surrounding country.
On Monday, Prof. A. H. Nelson and Coach Tom King, along with Head Coach Charles Bachman and Secretary J. A. Hannah, went to Flint. While there, they visited Flint Northern and Central.

On Tuesday the road led to Detroit, where Coaches Bachman and King, Prof. C. W. Chapman and Secretary Hannah lectured the students of Redford and Northeastern high schools.
On Wednesday the students of Detroit Southeastern and Northern and the St. Johns high school listened to talks by Dean Dirks, Prof.
H. R. Hunt, Prof. S. E. Crowe, Dr.
W. L. Mallman and Miss Yakeley.

State, will commence on Wednesday, April 24, at 9:30
p. m. in the Union ballroom, according to Milo Rouse, chairman.

THEMES

Water Carnival themes must be turned in to Paul Kindig or to the Union desk no later than Monday, April 22.

The dates for the six dances are April 24 and May 1, 9, 15, 22 and night of that week.

As in past years senior co-eds will be given midnight permission to attend the affair, according to the office of Dean Elizabeth Can-rad.

STATE GRADUATES RECEIVE AWARDS

Forestry Students Appointed to Responsible Positions.

Phillip Minges, who graduated in 1934 as a major in horticulture, and has been in charge of the Wayne County Training school at Northville, has just received word of an appointment to a research fellowship in Iowa State college.
Gordon J. Levenson, a sophomore student, has just received an offer as a keeper of a federal wild life refuge in West Virginia. It is understood that an excellent salary goes with the job.
The National Parks service has been inquiring about students eligible for positions in national parks. At the present time, because of the extensive conservation plan that is going on, there is a shortage in technically trained men.

Students Express Varied Ideas of the State News

Faculty and Prominent Students Offer Suggestions for Improvement of This Paper.

By BARRY REYNOLDS

After receiving a lot of non-too-gentle prodding from the dear editor, your trying reporter has distributed the peace of many a prominent character on this campus by asking them questions as to what they would like to see in the State News during the forthcoming year. Not receiving any too satisfactory answers to this personal question, I changed the subject and asked for their criticism of this paper. Even that brought dire results, but I finally got together enough material for publication.

One brilliant petite little football player, and I won't mention his name, but he does the regular catching for the Spartan team, asked me if I was trying to hang a goose-egg on him. But then, that is life and life is merely life. However, I did get some opinions that really ought to improve this paper,

and I sincerely hope that they do.
And some of the persons prefer to remain in the background and not have their names mentioned.
President R. S. Shaw. "It seems to me that the first function of a college paper is to obtain news for publication and to distribute this news. This news should concern the student, institutional and faculty activities and accuracy in these reports is quite necessary.
I myself am opposed to censorship of the student press in any shape or form and feel that the faculty of Michigan State college is showing the same feeling with me. The policy of our paper should be to boost both news and activities of

MORTAR BOARD BOOKS PATTON

Singer Will Discuss "Poise and Personality"
Tonight.

The second of the six lectures in the Mortar Board social training course will be given tonight by Prof. Fred Patton of the music department, with "Poise and Personality" as his topic. The lecture will be held in room 101 of the union building, from 7 to 8 p. m.

"Who's Who" gives of his life, Mr.
Patton should be very well experienced in his subject. He has been a concert and opera singer since 1919, has sung with the Cincinnati
Opera company, the Philadelphia Civic Opera company, and the Metropolitan Opera company. The article goes on to say that he has appeared with symphony orchestras in Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Minneapolis, San Francisco and New York, has many festival and oratorio engagements throughout the country, and is a highly successful broadcaster. Since 1932 Mr. Patton has been associate professor of music at State, and has also been head of the voice department and conductor of the college chorus and the men's glee club. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon Mu, honorary music organization, and is dean of the summer music school at Bay View, Mich.

At present Sigma Alpha Iota has 14 active members and three pledges. Georgia Zerner, Mary Larson and Jane Pauli were recently inducted, while Katherine
McKee, Evelyn Hart and Marjorie
Affeldt were initiated in January.

Vanilla Blossom Main Attraction at Garden Show

Monstera Deliciosa, Erythrina
Crista Galli Share
Spotlight.

Do you know what the vanilla blossom looks like, the one that after becoming a mature bean, is pressed for vanilla extract? If you don't or have never seen the blossom and plant, you have your chance. The plant, already has one blossom on it and Mr. Chapman is almost certain that there will be more by next Friday or Saturday. While and if you are at the greenhouse, ask some of the fellows to show you the Erythrina Crista Galli, the Monstera Deliciosa, which has some of its fruits now, and many of the other plants and flowers. No one expects that many students will recognize the plants or understand the names, but if they follow Mr.
Chapman around, they will see blossoms and flowers that many Grand Rapids people will be glad to see at the flower show held there in the near future.

The next time you go strolling in the botanical gardens with your one and only or maybe both of them, notice some of the flowers and plants already out. For instance, have you seen the yellow and blue flowers along the northwest side of the garden, and I suppose that you noticed that the Cornus Mas tree near the pool has some small yellow flowers, or that the Rajah Saifrage on the rock garden is blossoming. It is very doubtful that any of you couples, who were haunting the stone seat by the pool during the past few days, noticed that the Virginia crowslip is budding and almost in bloom. That plant, by the way, is ten inches from the place where some bonnie maiden seems to have stamped her foot.

Economics Faculty Staff To Hear Reviews

Book reviews by the Ph. D.'s of the department will feature the next meeting of the Economics Discussion club. The meeting is to be held next Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of Dr. William Haber.
Dr. Haber, Patton, and Wyngardner will be the reviewers.

MUSICAL GROUP SPONSORS TEA

Sigma Alpha Iota, National Honorary, Presents
Entertainments.

Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional musical society, held its annual MacDowell tea Sunday afternoon, April 14, at 3 o'clock in the women's parlors of People's church.

Members of the Sigma and Delta chapters from Detroit took charge of the program. Mrs. Vernele Pensard, of the Alpha chapter, president of Sigma Alpha Iota, concluded the afternoon program with a group of social selections.

In the evening line, at the reception preceding the musical program, were Betty Richardson, president of the active chapter,
Mrs. Peppard, Mrs. Luther Baker, president of the patroness group,
and Ruth Ryder, group treasurer.

Miss Helen Cone was chairman of the affair, which was given for the purpose of raising money for the Sigma Alpha Iota cottage at the MacDowell colony for creative artists in New Hampshire.

All the music faculty members of Mu Phi Epsilon, Alpha Epsilon Mu, the patronesses and alumnae of these organizations were invited to attend the affair.

At present Sigma Alpha Iota has 14 active members and three
pledges. Georgia Zerner, Mary
Larson and Jane Pauli were recently inducted, while Katherine
McKee, Evelyn Hart and Marjorie
Affeldt were initiated in January.

Sweet Tooth of Mickey Mouse Is Locker Mystery

Mrs. Howell Sets Trap for Mickey But Finds Note Instead of Rodent.

Old fashioned mice may have left cards, but modern ones leave notes. At least that's how the story goes in the locker room of the women's physical education department.

Mrs. R. L. Howell, conscientious caretaker of bathing suits and W.
A. A. cards supplies, was horrified last week to discover evidence of mice near candy boxes stored in a locked steel cage. She decided that something must be done. A trap was produced and carefully set in what seemed a strategic position.
The next morning Mrs. Howell hurried to the cage. From a distance the trap seemed to be sprung.
"Aha," she thought, "I've fixed him." Sure enough, the trap was sprung; but not a sign of the mouse could she see. Closer inspection revealed a tiny cryptic note. "Fooled you that time," signed, Mickey Mouse, with his portrait drawn in pencil.

An inventory was hurriedly taken of the candy. And nothing was missing, not even a tootie roll. The department is still looking for the mouse!

Old State Graduate Dies in Grand Rapids

State college with the class of 1909, died at Grand Rapids last Friday. At one time Buss coached football at DePauw university, Owensville, Indiana, with Charles Buchman. The latter attended the funeral, held last Saturday.

YW DELEGATES MAKE REPORTS

Co-eds Will Recount Activity at Convention Held at Hillsdale.

The all-membership meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Thursday, April 18, from 7:30 until 8:30 in the social hall of the Peoples church. The dramatic committee in charge of arrangements for the affair has announced that the first portion of the program will be devoted to reports from the delegates who attended the state cabinet training conference, held at Hillsdale last week-end. The girls who attended the conference were Anna May Childs, Virginia Taggart, Mary Ballard, Mary Ellen Grover, Hester Green, Alice Jane Knight and Gretchen Beck, accompanied by Miss Sater. The conference was attended by about 30 delegates, who were cabinet members from the various Y. W. C. A. groups throughout the state. The topics which were discussed at the conference, and which will be recounted upon at the Thursday meeting, were: "What has Y. W. C. A. member the right to expect from the organization?" "What has the Y. W. C. A. and what is expected by the Faculty?" The Michigan State delegates were in charge of the decorations for the banquet at the conference, and received much commendation for the clever scheme carried out in black and white. The favors were miniature sailboats, the theme of the decorative arrangements being "A Day at Lake Geneva." Lake Geneva is the summer meeting place of Y. W. C. A. The Michigan State group also made the arrangements for the Sunday morning services, which were held in the botanical gardens. Following these conference reports a discussion will be held on the area projects for the year.

THE SPARTAN ORACLE

By JIM QUELLO

After the usual check at the Campus Press, Cleary, Kirkpatrick, and coterie find themselves short of copy so we are inflicting the third double-column ordeal! You probably will not like it, but you are reading it!

The debauchery in the Ezema revival of last week's column evoked comments from the "best ever" to "insinuating and obscene." Undoubtedly, one or two innocents might have had a dubious connotation, but, oddly enough, the majority of people find little difficulty in following them (and look how popular "Esquire" is.) In the way of rationalization we say that the "Ezema" of old was, according to its own masthead, "lascivious, lecherous, choleric, inflammatory, vitriolic, slanderous, and repulsive." We were merely getting the genuine atmosphere.

ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATION

The much publicized anti-war demonstration attempted at this college was rather unimpressively inaugurated last Friday when the would-be speakers were drenched in the cold, chocolate, Cedar after being generally splattered with bananas, eggs, and grape fruit from an enthusiastic but unappreciative audience. The speakers had an opportunity to show little else but a rare dexterity in dodging missiles that come only by conscientious practice. The gathering evidently saw "red" when Weisner, local ring leader, who had been asked to postpone the meeting, took the stand. A barrage of fruit was directed at him and found its mark in his laurel and Hardy's jacket. He retired temporarily behind the safety of his few cohorts whose army was as formidable as General Panfili's. While back the floor, a poor psychological move as he is a conservative man, and committed the disastrous mistake of telling the mob it was their prerogative to throw him in the river. The suggestion was tentatively accepted by the gathering and five men in the platform were informally initiated into the matinee drinker's union. Mrs. Eason, public enemy No. 1, sat in the car and hurled vile epithets at the small echelon as they carried her instruments of propaganda to the banks of the Cedar. Morale Echelon ways from summer yet, wait for warm weather before going red.

However, several more serious aspects are: 1. The leader was asked to postpone the meeting before and during the convocation. 2. The crowd gathered did not represent any student organizations. 3. The speakers at the Times suggested. 4. The following A. P. article appearing in the Saturday Iowa Sentinel is inaccurate and ridiculous. "Suddenly the clatter of cavalry hoofs and the rattle of rifles at the ROTC armory across the street lashed and the band of students rushed across the street. There were about 400 in the crowd and they charged on the anti-war demonstrators in open skirmish formation, armed with eggs and vegetables." There were not any military troops or cavalry at the meeting—the only possible explanation would be that the speakers suggested part 4 a horse.

NOTES (punning permitted) TO OMNISCIENT WIESNER

With some apologies to Quillen: Much learning is a dangerous thing. It spoils the snug belief that you know it all. Peace organizations are handy things, they give you "teddy" made beliefs so you don't have to do any thinking. It's all simple. Since reasonable people oppose war, stop filling the world with unreasonable people. Pacemaker's fallacy: Having canned speeches composed specially for mob appeal and action, railing against mob opposition. Conservative defined: The kind of the guy a staunch radical would be if he had $10 or more in the bank.

ZEPHYR

To Joe Pelton: Sorry I never mentioned your name favorably in the columns—but I only needed campus votes and couldn't take the chance. It is very puzzling as well as depressing to me that you like a fraternity brother's column better than "my attempt"—I feel like Caesar being stabbed by his beloved Brutus. However, now that my political days are over, I can afford to be reckless and assume to "the little daisy to you Josie-Wosie."

THOUGHTS

According to what we see some girls using for escorts they must be early birds. Squirrels are again seen in more numerous droves, which proves that there still must be lots of nuts on campus. Worse bird: "Before expressing your true opinion in your slapstick column of plagiarized expressions." Well, if you dish it out you must eat it! Most atrocious insult: "Did you write the column Friday?" Note to co-eds in a certain math course: There is safety in numbers, but not in figures. Note to ag department: Moisture always helps to enliven the crop—this is especially true of wild oats. Another way to make enemies: Sponsor a beauty contest and consider only 5 per cent of the girls who think they are beautiful. Every campus is filled with chivalrous guys willing to save womanhood from everyone but themselves.

WASTEPAPER MEDLEY

Overlooked punning reports: Carney Bullock, genial Sigma Nu, and Frieda Bronstedter, popular Kappa, an old tentmate, Major Jackson, gives a Southard and Blade pun to another one of those Kappas, Marie Vallee. Director Weber has the S. A. E. emblem on Alpha Xi Lou Kelley and should be seen humming "Down by the River." Heriman Phil Linsborough and Alpha Phi Mary Kidder, George "Carbondale" Patterson is now going steady with Midge Hand, and other famous couples as Jane McClellan and Bart Collins, Don Miller and Benita Cox, Mike Rouse and Dorothy Smith, are also seen together with ominous regularity. The season is beginning. Personal: Max Stiles walks to school while Claudie Ireland

MORE CO-EDS DISCUSS DEFERRED RUSHING

Michael Press and Fergie are now through arguing over the respective virility of their poises. Hamilton, Armstrong, Williamson, Bos, and Brakeman appointed as senior party enforcement committee. Brakeman will act as arbitrating agency. Bob Kelley, interfrat council, still has "My Ypsi Sweetheart" as a theme song and never dates on campus. Duke Zarza, my trusty bodyguard, is now in the penumbral business with Russ Reynolds at the baseball games. Art Rouse and Weir Hurd who handled hot dogs during football season also get a slice of the profits. Twins—Bill Kirkpatrick and Bill Klum. Larry Hutchinson really enjoys his become.

My Dear Campus: I really didn't realize that our pet, VanEasen, had other than athletic talents until you told me about his house-haunting ability. Your description is a bit cruel—I don't think he looks a bit worse than Alice the Gnom—in fact many say he could pass for a twin brother.

POST-MORTEM

A comparatively insignificant issue developed into a major problem last Friday when a small group of "ultra-progressives," convinced that faculty disapproval of their intended anti-war meeting was an indication of capitalistic tyranny, proceeded with their original plans and suffered a ducking in the chilly Red Cedar as a result. Starting as the shapeless project of several youthful reformers, the meeting was given a certain importance by faculty opposition and was climaxed spectacularly when an unorganized band of students took the matter into their own hands and resorted to simple justice to remedy it.

Not was the situation clarified any by the resultant publicity. Hearst newspapers, which are campaigning against Communism in this country, attributed the most radical motives to the group; several conservative sheets were shocked by the minister's connection with the affair and frowned distinctly on "mob violence"; the Associated Press, bound to add color to their stories, forgot their temporarily and fictionalized the incident until it became a miniature war.

In making final comments on the affair, we shall adopt the same stand taken in our previous editorial on the subject. We do not accuse the Social Problems club of communistic policies; we do accuse them of employing rash methods in preparing for their meeting. As for the counter-meeting demonstration, we feel that it was created by the crusading group's failure to make any concessions to their student colleagues. The faculty attitude, we feel, was one of tolerance until lack of cooperation by the Social Problemists changed it to impatience.

The Social Problemists club, in its proposals, apparently overlooked the fact that it is an unrecognized group. When a group of that nature branches the idea of a "peace meeting" without the sanction of the national organization which first conceived the idea, when they engage a speaker who is publicized as a "red" in syndicated news stories, when they fail to reveal the exact nature of their program, they can look for little support on this campus. It is interesting to note that only three members of the society, two freshmen and a sophomore, had the courage of their convictions to attend their own meeting. It is also interesting to note that the local Y. M. C. A. has been presenting speakers on similar topics with a pleasing amount of attention by students and faculty and a remarkable lack of all mob violence.

The crowd which participated in the ducking party are condemned in some quarters for their lack of sportsmanship. They are also scolded of a fairly poor including a minister in their list of victims. None of the matter are that the crowd, part of which had previously warned Weisner that his action might have a damaging effect on appropriations for this college, were disgusted by his failure to divulge his program and by his obstinacy. It is regrettable that the minister suffered unjust consequences, but perhaps he should have chosen his associates more carefully.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

During the recent anti-war conflict, the Michigan State News has been attacked severely, though from but few sources on its alleged evasion of the "constitutional right of freedom of the press." The Social Problems club has labeled this writer a "handmaiden of the administration"—among other things. An independent writer claims that this paper belongs to the students and that if we refuse to be unprejudiced he will find ways and means to depose us.

For the benefit of our suspicious dictators, they pay a low subscription rate to receive the State News and they vote on the candidates for editor, but we maintain that their barnyard oratory would fail to fulfill the requirements of citizenship and thus refuse to turn over the controls. In their criticisms they have made more errors than this paper could be guilty of were we to set the type backwards. We shall be glad to point this out to them personally if they will violate their usual policy of hiding in garrets and drop around. As for their complaint about lack of prejudice in editorials, we might explain as to a babbling child that such work is supposed to be the editor's opinion—bare facts are appropriate only in a news story.

The case about this paper's having certain articles unfairly even less plausible. We carried no stories on peace strikes in the past year because all information was only propaganda furnished post of charge by the promoters of the project. Those of the dissenters who read journals other than the Daily Worker may have noticed that the Associated Press likewise gave it little attention. When the Social Problems club submitted a letter for the Student Pulse column regarding their idea for (rather the syndicate) it was promptly printed—the Student Pulse column is open to such opinion if its writers include their signature. Then the group submitted an unsigned article which they wanted to run as straight news. Our hat refused led to their agonized blessings on "free press." To settle that we have only to repeat that news, from a journalistic if not communistic standpoint, must be devoid of personal opinion, readers must be confident that it is unbiased. Their article was not—instead of announcing a strike it incited a strike.

ing the services of some notable dance band for the time-honored occasion. At the present, C. O. Wilkins, comptroller of the college, is negotiating with four well-known organizations to obtain one of them for the Frolic. The bands are Carlton Coon, Red Nichols and his World Famous Pennies, Barney Rapp and his New Englanders, and Bob Chester and his D. A. C. band from Detroit. All of which are perfectly capable to furnish swell music for the dancers.

The hall will be decorated in a theme which is being a secret at present, but promises to make over Demonstration Hall into a new place. With the public address system that President Bill Vivian is planning on having for the dance, the music will be audible in all parts of the hall and will more than take care of the necessities of the place. It is more than points for a very successful dance which will be the hit of the entire spring term and the wiser ones will know enough to get the tickets in plenty of time for the dance.

COLUMBIA PAPER FORCED TO CLOSE

Faculty and Students' Strike Ends 'Spectators' Publication.

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Culminating a long period of strife between its editors and the university, the Columbia Daily Spectator, New York, undergraduate newspaper of Columbia university, has been forced to suspend publication by a decision of the Columbia College Student board in charge of student publications.

The action was taken after the daily appeared with its columns blank, except for statements protesting changes made in its constitution by the student board.

The board explained its action in an open letter to the student body, which said in part: "Throughout the year individual students and student groups have found it necessary to protest against mangling and misrepresentation of news. The situation has become entirely intolerable in a paper subsidized by students for the purpose of providing a medium for the expression of undergraduate thought."

James A. Wechsler, editor of the paper, announced immediately that he would put out a paper under the auspices of sympathetic friends in the student body and faculty. This publication will not use the official Columbia masthead, however.

Contemporary Campus Comment

No Strike Here

Five so-called peace and religious organizations have called upon the students of American colleges and high schools to strike against war next Friday at 11 a. m. These organizations ask merely that students walk out of classes at the given hour in order to make their stand against war known.

"We call upon the progressive and liberal forces on the American campus to take a stand. Our lives are at stake. Strike against war!" That is the cry.

But what would be accomplished if the students merely walked out of their classes and said: "We are against war?" Not one thing. Nearly everyone who has any common sense is against war. We certainly are, and we are willing to do almost anything to avert another war. We believe in peace at any price.

If these organizations that are sponsoring this strike would encourage teachers to lecture against war at that hour, or send recognized peace leaders out to the colleges and hold orderly assemblies to inform the student of his responsibility they would be doing a great good and we would support them one hundred per cent. But just to have students walk out of their classes at a certain hour of the day is stupid.

This newspaper has over and over again preached the necessity of peace, and urged students to consider the futility of war. We have tried to keep our feet on the ground when writing of such matters. We have tried not to become connected with radical peace organizations, for we believe that they do more harm than good.

Instead of calming the waters, as all peace organizations should do, such groups as these sponsoring the strike are stirring up discord and conflict. That is fighting fire with fire. It is using the same tactics for peace that have been used for war.

State Theater Previews

LAST TIMES TODAY
"Roberta"

Starring—Fred Astaire, Irene Dunne and Ginger Rogers.

R-K-O Radio, which produced "Flying Down to Rio" and "The Gay Divorcee," has outdone itself with "Roberta," the Jerome Kern hit which made recent stage history.

It contains every element of entertainment, and without the delightful musical numbers and superb dancing, it would still hold audience interest.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY
"White the Patient Slept"

Starring—Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee.

Following successful performances in "The Merry Frinks," "Big Hearted Hench" and "Babette," Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee, two fine comedians, carry on their work in this murder mystery titled "White the Patient Slept."

The story is that of the kinfolk of a rich recluse. All hate each other, and the recluse as well. But when they hear he is ill they rush to his home, hoping in some way to get in on the division of the spoils. While the aged man lies dying, two murders occur in the house. How the murders were solved, the slayer apprehended and the theft of a million dollars averted by Nurse Krato, form the basis of the plot, which it would be unfaithful to myrtle's fans to reveal.

Lyle Talbot and Patricia Ellis have the romantic roles, and both give splendid characterizations, as do Allen Jenkins and Eddie Shubert as two petty dumb detectives working on the case with Kibbee. The production is a First National picture.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
"Devil Dances of the Air"

Starring—James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Margaret Lindsay.

COMING SUNDAY
Easter Show—"David Copperfield"

Starring—Frank Lawton, W. C. Fields and Evelyn Venable.

DISCLOSE NEW PLANS FOR SENIOR PARTIES

(Continued from page 1) to try to please the ear by obtaining a local "social security" program originated by Thomas Otley, class president, five able seniors have been appointed to an election board, a new body formed this year for the purpose of seeing that the august seniors enjoy the privacy that is rightly theirs, safe from all nosy undergraduates. The five men, selected because of their recognized ability in mediatory activities, are: Harold Hamilton, Robert Armstrong, Herbert Williamson, Clarence Bos and James Brakeman. A minimum of "crashing" by undergraduates is predicted under the rule of King Otley's henchmen.

"In the past," said Otley, when questioned as to the appointments to the election board, "the entire senior class has taken it upon itself to see that undergraduates were banned from the parties. With the five men I have named, I feel that the same work can be accomplished in a much smoother and more efficient manner, and with a minimum of hard feelings on both sides."

STUDENTS GIVE IDEAS FOR IMPROVING NEWS

(Continued from page 1) The college. I feel that the State News has gained a high standard of journalistic ethics and that these standards are consistently being raised. For that, the present and past editors should be commended and I hope that they will be continued.

Dean W. Gilmer: "The State News in my opinion, pictures the local color very well and in doing that it fulfills its purpose. I have only one small point in my mind as to a slackening in the upholding of this purpose. By this I refer to the recent anti-war demonstration. It seems to me that the group of young men who attempted to hold that meeting were in wrong if they were not organized and had faculty recognition. If they had had this, they would have been perfectly at right to insist upon freedom of the press and the use of State News columns. Until they do this, I feel as the rest of the faculty."

Jackson F. Towne: "The one thing that would appeal to me if I saw it in the State News would be the bringing forth of a set of objectives that would have the students and faculty pulling together in great fashion."

Kay Riggs, Union manager: "The well-rounded paper that we have seen in the State News appeals to me very much. In many ways it approaches the heights of a metropolitan daily. All college newspapers should strive to achieve this. The nearer they come to this, the better the paper will be."

Joe Pelton 35 (Sigma Nu): "The column written by Bob Herrick (Sigma Nu) (The Campus Cynic) appeals very much to me, but I can't see Quellos (S. A. E.) attempt at the same thing. I feel that the sports articles are at present a little inadequate. They seem to be written by staff men who do not know their sports. A correction in this manner would be pleasing to me."

Dick Colina 36: "More and better sports writers have my vote. Also I'd like to see more space devoted to the minor sports and have these reports accurate."

Anonymous 35: "In my opinion, David Cleary is perfectly capable of directing the activities of the State News and I leave it to him to decide as to what goes in a good paper and what does not go in. He should not be concerned with the faculty and some of their conservative ideas. He should instead put forward his own ideas and in that way I am sure he will put out a good paper. To me the last edition was a sample of the good work he can do." (No. Cleary didn't write this. This was written by a senior student council member.)

Tom Otley 35: "The paper's good enough right now for me and I'm no journalist, so I can't offer any suggestions at all."

Steve Seho 37: "Think that sports could be more accurate, but in four words, I think the paper's swell."

RED CEDAR DIP ENDS PEACE DEMONSTRATION

(Continued from page 1) Wise, U. of M. anti-war leader. With more confidence than he seemed to feel, Wilkie protested that he was not a communist or a socialist.

"I am against war and your attitude leads me to believe that war is near," he declared. The crowd shouted, "Back to Moscow."

"I know also," he continued, "that it is your prerogative to throw me into the river."

That was enough. With a mighty boom the students rushed forward and took over the meeting. They grabbed the speaker and headed for the Red Cedar, cheering and yelling "Down with reds," "On to Moscow." The demonstrators offered no resistance as they were patled across the campus.

At the river the five were tossed, separately, into the traditional spot where many fraternities have ducked their pledges for many years past. The State students were dived of their R. O. T. C. coats before being heaved in. The five dejected anti-militarists, after floundering in the shallow water for a short time, fled to security on the opposite bank and were not further molested.

Hillsdale Beaten in First Game as State Rallies in Eighth 10-9

Spartans Score Two Runs in Eighth After Hillsdale Takes Lead in Fourth; Berg Failing to Last, Replaced by Kronbach; Hogan Hurls Full Route.

By AL THEILER

Scoring two runs in the eighth inning rally, the Spartan nine eked out a 10-9 victory over the Hillsdale squad in the season's opener Saturday afternoon. Johnnie Berg started on the hill for the Kobsmen but was replaced in the fourth by Kronbach when the Dales drove him out of the box with an eight-run splurge. Hogan, hurling his first competitive game, went all the way for the visitors and was fairly effective with the poor support given him.

The annual opening day ceremonies were witnessed by a small crowd. The military band started the festivities, marching out to the flagpole and raising the State flag. Professor Clark then threw the first ball, with Secretary J. A. Hannah trying to catch it. The first pitch was wild and the official scorer gave Clark a wild pitch and Hannah a passed ball. Their second attempt was a little better and Hannah was awarded all blame while Clark was given another wild pitch.

The Spartans were unimpressive in their first game and nearly threw the game away in the fourth frame. Lehnhardt was the only outstanding hitter of the day, driving in three runs with his two doubles, both to right. Most of the other State hits were of the scratch variety and would have been stopped by a stronger defense. This is also true of the visitors, who earned most of their runs through the uncertainty of the Spartan inner defense. Two poor plays on ground balls, teamed with a base on balls, filled the bases for the Dales in the fourth and put Berg in a jam he never did get out of. Kronbach went in with the bases full, one out, and three balls on the batter. Two successive hits off his delivery brought in four more runs before he retired the side.

Berg started out strong and fanned the first three batters and retired the first six men in order. The first two men got on in the third but the veteran struck out three in a row to get out of that spot. Then came the fourth and the entry of Kronbach.

State took a four run lead in the first two innings, scoring three times in the first with the help of only one legitimate hit, a double by Lehnhardt. They scored another in the second without getting the ball out of the infield, two errors by Warnstaff, the Dales' shortstop, paving the way.

They got another run in the sixth on two hard hits in succession by Sebo and Fiedler, both to center field. Three more in the seventh brought them within one run of the Dales. Fager beat out an infield hit, Parker walked and Lehnhardt got his second double. After Rouse walked Sebo drove a high one to right and Parker scored after the catch. The rally ran out when Bartling tapped to the second baseman and Kronbach was thrown out by Hogan. Lehnhardt scored while Bartling was being thrown out.

REQUIREMENTS ON FROSH TRACK SET

Young Names Marks That Freshmen Should Set.

With the starting of the outdoor track season, Ralph H. Young has issued a list of the performances that must be made by a freshman to be eligible to wear a frosh track jersey. The conditions are: 1. Candidates equaling or bettering the following marks will be entitled to wear a "State Frosh" track shirt, indicating membership on the freshman team. 2. Records must be equalled or bettered on at least two different days, thus showing consistency of performance. 3. Candidates must report daily for track for at least three weeks before being permitted to try out for a freshman track shirt.

FROSH BASEBALL DRILL PREVENTED

Snow, Rain, Parades Permit But One Practice to Date.

The frosh baseball team took another beating from the elements yesterday, in having their practice session called off. The team may meet some very tough opposition before the season is over, but no one will give them more trouble than they are having right now trying to catch the weather man off second.

The team has had only one practice so far this term, all the others being called off because of snow, rain, military parades, or of what have you.

Coach Framingham had had little opportunity to get a line on his candidates as yet, and is beginning to worry whether or not the nine will be in shape for the opener.

There will be no practice today because of military drill, therefore the next chance the squad will get to work out is tomorrow, providing they can catch the weather man napping.

The Spartans went out to win the ball game in the next frame. Welch walked and went to second as Fager got his second infield hit. Then Parker drove a line single to center, scoring Welch with the tying run, and sending Fager to third. Lehnhardt fled short to left and Fager was held on third by a beautiful throw by Charland. Then the squeeze play worked perfectly as Rouse laid a bunt along the first base line, scoring Fager with the winning run. Kronbach set the Dales down in order in the ninth.

Saturday the Northwestern university nine comes to College field for a single engagement. Then Wisconsin sends their squad here for two games on Friday and Saturday, the week after Easter.

By HARRY WISNER Sports Editor

Baseball is now officially under way at the East Lansing institution, the Spartans, coached by John Kobs, winning their opener by the narrowest of margins, in setting the shade over the ambitious Dales in ninth. The State club was not too a game which was in doubt until the last man out in the first of the impressive, but we still maintain that they will continue to win. The work of Berg was sensational until the fatal fourth when the full Hantracreek youth seemed to lose faith in himself and as result eight Hillsdale men crossed the slab. Kronbach did a nice job of relief work, and received credit for the victory.

Theron Fager led the Spartan attack picking up three hits in four trips to the plate, while Lehnhardt was hitting the apple the hardest coming through with a couple of rining doubles. Following are the batting averages of the team thus far, spring training trip included: Arnold Parker .418, Steve Sebo .425, Eddie Fiedler .381, Art Rouse .379, Milton Lehnhardt .291, Theron Fager .279, Harold Welch .273, Austin Weimer .272, George Bartling .176, Fred Zieger .100, Irving Barling .074. Among the pitchers, we find the following batting averages: Hill .500, Berg .286, Hopkins .000 and Kronbach .000. Team batting average of .288.

Observed at the game Saturday. Small boys running off with valuable baseballs and being encouraged by State students. Take a glance at these facts, and then forget to encourage such action by the youngsters from downtown. First of all these kids are allowed into the ball park free... secondly at the rate the balls are disappearing it will cost the department close to $200 just for baseballs this spring... and last but not least the fact that it is the students who help pay for these balls in the long run. So why not help cut down on your fees by aiding the athletic department in this venture.

An athlete who has solved John Kobs' biggest and most worrisome problem this spring is Steve "the mighty atom" Sebo. Coach Kobs was very much in need of a catcher and Sebo demonstrated to the fans Saturday that he was the man for the job. At present he is hitting .425, has a good throwing arm... a world of pep... loves the game.

Knows how to handle pitchers, and before he is through should prove to be one of the best receivers in Spartan history... besides all this Steve was the class of the right halfbacks last fall, and should prove to be a sensation again this fall. He also led the Spartan gridgers in scoring.

Highlights of spring football... Fred Schroeder and Abe Katz, two Detroit boys and both tackles are back in school. The younger of the Cousins brothers broke his index finger in practice Wednesday. Kurt Warnsen and Don Wiseman ineligible. Bob Murphy, sports writer on the Detroit Times, watched the drill on Wednesday along with Patsy Clark, Tommy Lunnett, wind, rain, snow, hail and demonstrations cutting down on attendance at daily sessions. Bob Terlak back in the harness after his recent serious illness. Lou Zarsa aiding in the instruction. Jim McCrary in a suit again for a few days... and several yearlings displaying promise in the scrimmages.

Polo is rapidly taking a hold on the Spartan sport fans. In fact the State polo team just last week-end defeated Culver Military Academy in two interesting contests. A great deal of the success of the team thus far belongs to Bob Humphrey and Wallace Clark, both of whom have been playing bang up games. Joe (Tommy Hitchcock) Pelton, and Bob (Cecil Smith) Weber are also on the team.

Tennis and golf get under way this week with the State racquet men tying up with the Wolverines from Ann Arbor on Saturday and the golf team taking on Michigan on Saturday. Both engagements will take place in East Lansing while the baseball team takes on Northwestern university Saturday afternoon in a game which should prove to be a thriller. State defeated the Northwestern nine, coached by Paul Stewart, last spring rather decisively.

A gentleman who has done a great deal for Michigan State college athletics the past two years is Tom King, varsity football end

STATE GRIDGERS NEAR OPENING PRACTICE GAME

Varsity Working Hard Preparing for Fall Season With Confidence.

VETERANS SHOW CLASS

First Practice Game Probably to Be Next Week; Several Freshmen In.

Although the elements have been playing havoc with the efforts of the Spartan coaching staff to carry on regular football practice the coaches, nevertheless, have been conducting the daily workouts regardless of old man weather; practice being held each day except Tuesday of last week, and in the gym annex on Monday.

The season has taken on an air of seriousness, and the candidates are doing their very best to shine in these drills. The freshmen on the roster seem to be most regular in their attendance and are really putting on plenty of pep and adding fire to the workouts.

Scrimmages have been the big cause for cheer, as the men are putting all they have into these affairs. In fact they are held daily now following the usual warmup activities of signal drill, passing, etc. In all probability the first big contest of the spring work will be held some time during the latter part of this week. For these games Coach Bachman selects two teams of fairly equal strength and give it all the appearance of a regular contest. Last spring some spirited frays came as a result of this, and it brought out the finer points in the makeup of several individuals being considered for varsity berths. With feeling running even higher this year, it is expected that football will be on display in all its glory.

Practice will not be held on Tuesday due to the weekly parade, but will begin again on Wednesday at 4 p. m.

Men who have looked good thus far are Jerry Behn, Don Miller, Frank Gaines, Fred Schroeder, Sam Ketchman, Johnny Pingle, Lou Zarsa, Bob Ailman, Howard Smith, Art Brandstetter, Sidney Wagner, Red Neumann, Charles Halper, Joe Buzzell, the Cousins brothers, Cal Coolidge, Julius Sluder, George Packowski, Paul Beaudin, Vince Vandenberg and a number of others.

Steve Sebo and Milton Lehnhardt, two fine football players as well as diamond boys, are unable to attend the football drills due to baseball work. These two sophomores appear to be two of the finest prospects for next year's eleven even if they aren't out for the gridiron sport at present. Lehnhardt was handicapped by injuries last fall, but Sebo carried on in fine shape. These two sophomores were practically the class of the right halfbacks.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASEBALL BEGINS

Sigma Nu, S. A. E., Ties Have Outstanding Teams in Series.

With baseball season here again, the inter-fraternity baseball lines are about to go to bat. Under the careful supervision of L. L. Frimodig, the schedule has been arranged and is sure to be another of his smooth-running successes. The Sigma Nu's will defend their championship and are already putting their team through its paces, and if pre-season showing means anything they are going to be hard to beat.

coach and freshman basketball coach Tom King is universally liked with all whom he comes in contact and is a fine coach. King is a graduate of Notre Dame university, having received his L.L.B. degree in law from that institution some 10 years ago. While at the South Bend school Tom captained the football team in his senior year, and made letters in four sports: football, basketball, baseball and track. Was selected on the All Western team in both football and basketball. Has played professional football and basketball and has attended leading colleges in the south and midwest.

START PRACTICE FOR SPRING GOLF

Two Veterans Back on Team; Open With Michigan in Week.

Despite the fact that the athletic department is having a difficult time deciding upon a country club for the golf team to use, the boys are coming around in fine shape and show plenty of evidence of being the best team State has ever had. The boys have been practicing drives and short shots in the field across from the gym and recently at the Glenmoor and Red Cedar clubs, and from the way they place their drives, they can't be beat.

Ed Riordan, a senior, is back with the team again this spring and his past experience should put him right up in front. Bob Herrick, another boy with "goose" of experience, who had to drop out last spring, is back in the lineup showing plenty of sweet form. Some of the other boys from whom great things are expected are Noyal, Henriksen, Bos, Hamlin, Taylor, Clark, Barker and Henderson.

Next Saturday, April 20, State opens against Michigan, which has both Koenig and Fischer in its lineup, and either of those boys could make a team alone that would answer any coach's prayers. But if our boys play as nice a game as their practice indicates, State should end up right at the top, so let's all be out to give them a big hand next Saturday.

SPARTAN TEAM BEATS CULVER

Polo Trio Again Defeats Academy; M. S. C. Squad Wins Three Out of Four.

A strong green and white trio successfully turned back the fighting Culver team to emerge victorious in Saturday's polo match. At the end of the fourth chucker the score stood State 10-3, Culver 3. Thus give the Spartan squad victories in three of the four game series with Culver. The Lakeshore lads have triumphed over State only once and that on their home field.

Saturday's event was characterized by brilliant stick play and hard riding. In the early minutes of play Fager scored two goals, after that Culver led in the scoring but once, when Colt and Holt accounted for two points early in the third period.

Long drives were the order of the day with Clark, the Spartan forward, playing the leading role. The scarcity of fouls committed is proof of the clean fighting on both sides, Clark and Lane being the only offenders in their earnest efforts to carry their teams into the lead.

The high scorers were Clark of M. S. C. with six markers to his credit, and Holt of Culver who garnered three points.

8,271 men and women visited the Chesterfield factories during the past year...

LIGGETT AND MYERS TOBACCO COMPANY

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their spotless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.
