into another slough of doubt.

For years the best brains in the world have attempted to solve the riddle of immortality, and if not immortality, at least longevity. They have offered many varied solutions, several of which nave finally been accepted by society. Now their work is undone, their theories in chaos.

Let us examine the case histories. The elderly pair were born in Sweden, but now live in Seattle. They both dance enthusiastically. One has smoked since she was 17, the other leas been indulging for only 40 years, they prefer cigals to cigarets. They have been drinking too long to remember when they began.

There are many applicable theories in this case, a few of which we shall present. In the first place, realize that the girls were born in Sweden where there is an invigorating chimate, a sound imancial system, and a ban on alimony and breach of promise suits—there conditions make for health. In the second place, they both dance the same with a knife in his case, a few of which the intervent of the proposition of a hole.

May Morning Sing Based On Old Oxford Tradition

Local Services Were Started Six Years Ago by Richards and Have Improved Each Year.

By VIRGINIA THOMAS

One of the quainter traditions at Michigan State college which everyone likes to attend, even if no must arise early, is the annual May Morning Sing, whose origin lies in the old world.

Saturday, May 4

Track—State opposes Marquette at Milwaukee for the Spartans first dual affair of the season. Marquette looks like a winner with well-balanced strength.

Golf—The bag-toters meet Wayne U at Detroit for a links set-to that should put the men of Van Alstyne in the winning column again.

Frosh Track—The younglings trade punches with Grand Rapids Junior in their initial track and field venture of the season.

We everyone likes to attend, even if one must arise early, is the annual and searly, is the annual dies in the old world.
