

Union Ballroom Transformed To Appearance of Ocean Liner For SWL Party Held on Friday

The Union ballroom was transformed completely Friday night into the deck of an ocean-going steamer, for the annual spring party of the Spartan Women's League. Vari-colored flags were strung across the ceiling while the balcony was decorated to resemble the captain's cabin with a large smoke stack making the scene more realistic.

STUDIO PERSONALITIES

Robert Coleman, manager-announcer of the station, made his radio debut at Ohio State university over the college station WOSU. This auspicious occasion took place in 1924. Mr. Coleman spent four years at WOSU as an announcer and then came to M. S. C. to become business manager of the music department. He took over the management of our station last fall and has made a decided improvement over the station's old policy. "Bob" as he is known by his friends is a graduate of DePauw university and holds two degrees.

Ron Heath, announcer, takes his work seriously and while talking gazes fondly and with a fascinated air at the mike. You will recognize Ron by his cheery "Good afternoon, folks."

Jim Quello, Spartan news commentator of the air. While Jim is delivering his stuff, he runs his fingers nervously through his hair. He is also a clock-hawk, gazing up every minute or so to watch the slowly dragging hands of the clock wending their way to his ultimate end. If you like your campus news hot, don't miss this program. Thursday, 3:45 p. m.

Prof. Cecil Nickle, WKAR dramatics director and professor in the speech department. When he is on the air either in one of his reading programs or in a dramatic presentation he makes extensive use of gestures and facial expressions. He is to be congratulated on his "Spartan Theater of the Air" Wednesday, 3:15 p. m.

Harry Wismer, Spartan sports announcer. When Harry is at the mike in one of his studio commentary presentations, he talks into said mike very earnestly. Wrapping himself up completely in his broadcast, Harry is the other extreme from Quello. He often forgets the clock and goes wandering into the afternoon with his parade of words, facts and figures. Good program, though.

Julius Stulberg, violinist. Julius plays his violin with a self-satisfied look on his face, holding the violin as if it were more dear to him than life—or a cherry cake.

Stanley Butler, pianist and featured artist plays the piano in a fashion which reminds one of sitting up exercises. However, this does not seem to handicap the lad in the least, for Stan is right there when it comes to fine music.

Professor Swain, Spanish lessons weekly. One of the easiest of all to appear before the college microphones, Professor Swain goes through his broadcasts unhesitatingly and puts his points across well. His program has one of the largest followings of all the features on the station.

Jackson Towne, Library adventures. Mr. Towne receives my vote for the most interesting talker on our programs. His programs are well constructed and delivered well. Mr. Towne faces the microphone as if he were talking to a friend. If you are a book lover you will like this program.

With the current disappearance of Joe College State News inquiring reporter, we find that the engineers working on the construction of the new antenna tower have also pulled a fadeout. The work was put under way approximately three weeks ago and the tower is still the same in appearance as ever. Of course we realize that they have had trouble in the erection of the pipe but after all, the last two days have not been against that sort of work. Will those out in search for the lost Joe College please cast an eye about for the missing engineers? Thanks. Maybe we can get the thing up in time for the commencement day exercises.

Your science news reporter will be at the mike at the usual time, 3:45 p. m. Tuesday, bringing you all the dope as it is dished out by the science news service. This feature is put on every Tuesday at this time and appeals to intellectual and mortal as well. Hit it.

SOCIOLOGISTS PLAN MEETING

Country Life Conference is Unpleasant Odor of Flower is Due to Necessary Plant Process.

A Country Life conference, sponsored by the Michigan State college sociology department and campus agricultural organizations, will be held in the Union building Saturday, May 11.

Delegates at the convention will register in the Union building after arriving on campus. Following this there will be a convocation for the delegates in the Union ballroom. A short talk will be presented upon the convention's general theme which this year will be "What kind of a rural life do young people want in Michigan, and how can it be obtained."

The delegates will then divide into general discussion groups at which time the different phases of the general topic will be discussed.

At 6 p. m. a banquet will be held in the Union, followed by a dance.

A charge of 65 cents will be asked which will cover the registration fee and entitle the visitors to the evening banquet and the dance.

Campus organizations sponsoring this third meeting of the Country Life conference are: Zeta Tau Alpha, honorary agricultural fraternity, the Student Grange, and college 4-H club.

BAND CONCERTS WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

COUNCILMEN BACK FROM CONVENTION

Mollett, Lewis and Wismer Return From Lafayette, Ind.

Elton Mollett, James Lewis and Harry Wismer, Michigan State's delegates to the East-Central N. S. F. A. convention held at Purdue university May 3 and 4 arrived back on the campus Sunday evening after participating in one of the most active conventions of this type in years.

Meetings were held in the Purdue Union Friday afternoon, Saturday morning and afternoon and were handled by C. R. Winstetter, president of the Purdue Student Council who presided in fine fashion and kept the delegates constantly in order.

The State delegates took an active part in the discussions, and aided considerably to the success of the convention, several problems being brought up, discussed and voted on by the members present. Such problems as a program for honorary fraternity investigations, student government, structural set-up, constitution, faculty influence, etc. Also extracurricular activities such as publications, athletics, fraternities and social clubs.

A few of the universities leading authorities gave stirring speeches on student government, and in the form of pleasure the delegates were given free airplane rides at the Purdue airport, a colorful banquet Saturday night, followed by a dance which closed the convention activities for the year.

Some of the institutions represented were University of Wisconsin, Ohio State, Western Reserve, Notre Dame, Butler, Toledo university, Akron university, Lake Forest, Michigan State, Denison university and a number of other leading eastern and mid-western institutions.

MSC LEAGUE MEMBERS ATTEND U. OF M. MEET

The Model League of Nations Assembly in Michigan was begun at Michigan State college eight years ago, and has been held at various colleges in Michigan ever since.

The league grew out of the course "International Organization" taught by E. H. Ryder, head of the history department, and was backed by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Meetings of that first Model League were held in the capitol building at Lansing to create a more governmental atmosphere. Out of that Model League came the present International Relations club, of which Prof. H. B. Fields with the cooperation of the history department has been the advisor for the last five years. The growth and continued activity of that club are in a large measure due to him.

Others may disappoint. I never do. I'm always mild, always fine to taste—because I'm made of fragrant, expensive center leaves, only. Turn your back on top leaves. They're raw, bitter, stinging. Turn your back on bottom leaves. They're coarse, sandy, grimy. Before I consider it worthy, every leaf must be a center leaf, mild, fine-tasting, fragrant. I do not irritate your throat. Above all—I'm your best friend.

State Stopped in Try For Six Straight by Western in Slugfest

Three Pitchers Wild as Hilltoppers Continue Their Hold Over Spartans; Brandt Belted Out as State Gets Ten Hits; Ypsilanti is Next Game.

Coach Kobs will have to send his Spartan nine out to start a new winning streak against Ypsilanti this week. Their previous one of five straight was snapped in Kalamazoo Saturday when the Western State Hilltoppers were tops and ran off with a free hitting battle, 8-6. State's pitchers just weren't there and even though the batters were hitting the opposing hurlers freely, they couldn't hold the Western hitters off the bases.

It took a combination of their own poor pitching, heavy rain and the Normal team's grand break on the hill to beat the Spartans. The Hilltoppers last night had breaks on the ground. In only two starts in the last two times, first in the spring game when they scored their first run. They were tied up in the second half and went behind in the second when Hill left the scene and four runs came over.

In the fifth they were back in the lead with three more runs after scoring one in the third. In the ninth, after Western had again taken the lead, an uprising fell short because of one lonely bad decision in a pitched ball. The bases were entirely populated here with one out and Welch was up. He worked the count to three and two. The next pitch was high—way high—and outside—but it went for a third strike and the second out. The infield had been drawn in but now they went back to their normal positions. Fager hit a liner toward center field and Millsbaugh, at short, ran way over and knocked it down and while still on his knees, forced Womser out at second for the third out.

Had the pitcher been called right one more run would have been in and only one out. The infield would have been playing in close to cut off the run at the plate and Fager's drive would never have been reached. As it was Millsbaugh just managed to get to it and saved two runs from scoring.

State's pitchers were wild with Johnny Berg the wildest. He issued seven passes, most of them when there were already men on the bases. This was the general rule throughout the game and the hitter almost always had an edge on the hurler when he stepped up to the plate. Duke Hill was nervous in the inning he worked with a poor line, delegation of fans from South Haven on hand to watch the pitching. The contest was particularly rough, but by the defeat. He has the best Spartan team in recent years playing for him and knows they have the stuff. Who he will start against Ypsilanti is uncertain, but it is about Kroschick's turn and he may start the game.

Parker held his position as leading hitter on the squad with two out of four, with Fager pressing him with the same count both of Fager's clubs were doubles and both off of Brandt. In addition to this he was robbed of another hit in the manner mentioned above.

The DOPE FIEND

By HARRY WISMER Sports Editor

A great baseball team fell last Saturday in the first contest they have lost since coming out of the southern part. Worst of all, however, was the fact that the Spartans fell to Western State, a club that whipped State twice last year, and incidentally a team that has a habit of knocking off the leaders. Western State is coached by Judy Hyames who at one time played for the Chicago White Sox and has turned out winning combinations over a long span since taking over the reins of the Kalamazoo club.

George Hill, surprising manager of the Spartans, was blasted off the club early in the fray due to some selfish line and a lot of over thinking on the part of the State first pitcher. Berg replaced Hill and later on Hawkins went in for Berg. The contest was a thriller from the first pitch, the score seeing back and forth with neither club showing to advantage until late in the game. On one occasion when the Spartans had the bases loaded, and Harold Welch at the swarming station, Empire "Bill" Green lapped off into a dream about the warm Florida sun calling Welch out on strikes and a high ball that was meant for "Stretch" Murphy, nipping what appeared to be a promising rally right in the bud.

The Spartan track squad which was slated to show in Milwaukee last Saturday did not leave the campus due to the snow storm which swept the Brewery city, and made all track relations with Marquette at least for the time being on the proverbial outs. A large delegation was all set to defend the supremacy of State in track at this dual affair.

Saturday is to be a big day in the world of sport here at this famous land grant institution as the track and football teams swing into action. The football team in the wind-up of the spring practice and the track team taking on Notre Dame. The football game will be run off in the stadium with two evenly matched teams taking the field. Leading sports writers from Detroit and outside newspapers will be on hand to catch a glimpse of the fast traveling Spartan athletes.

From all reports gained thus far the crowd will be a colorful one with several Detroit and state sports writers being on hand to get a glimpse of the men who will carry the State colors into battle on the nation's gridiron next fall. Among them will be Bob Murphy of the Detroit Times, Ted Rockwell of the Free Press, Sam Greene of the News, Heine Martin of the Grand Rapids Herald, and a host of others, including A. P. and E. P. correspondents.

The men have passed through five weeks of practice to date and have absorbed a great deal of valuable tutelage from the coaching staff of Bachman, Casteel, King and Bliss. Fundamentals have been stressed in an effort to build a well organized team for the autumn campaign.

Throughout the entire spring season the average attendance at these daily workouts has hovered close to seventy-five. As many as 110 men checked out equipment according to the efficient Jack Heppner.

In the contest Saturday two powerful teams will take the field in an attempt to demonstrate to the coaches that they should carry the banner for the Green and White this fall. Such performers as Zarza, Colina, Brandstetter, Packowski, Kutchins, Wagner, Dahlgren, Zindel, Schroeder, Beaubien, Allman, Jones, Kuhne, Halbert, Neumann, Games, Don Miller, Bill Biller, Johnny Pingle, Vince Vandenberg, Frank Swartz, Harry Speelman, and a host of others who have been working hard all spring.

The contest will be handled by expert officials, men who have been in the game for a number of years, and men who can give a decision and be respected.

THE Sports Menu This Week
By DONALD HITTLE

Wednesday, May 8
Tennis—As all of the matches of last Friday were rained out, the racketeers will meet Albion Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, weather permitting. As Coach Ball's men have had a rather long layoff, it seems as if the Green and White should take this one.
Friday, May 10
Baseball—Michigan Normal, a traditional rival, and one of the outstanding clubs of the state this year, will furnish the proteges of Mr. Kobs with some of the stiffest competition that they will have to face this season. After dropping the Western State contest last week, the local lads will be in there intent on climbing back into the winning column, and incidentally, to protect their record of not having lost a game on the home grounds this year.
Tennis—At 3:30 the tennis team will again go into action, this time against Wayne university.

COACH BALL'S MEN RAINED OUT AGAIN

Engage Albion, Wayne University, Notre Dame This Week.

A dual match with Albion which was cancelled because of last week's rain and which will be played on Wednesday afternoon, boosts the varsity tennis schedule to three matches this week-end. These three, combined with one scheduled freshman tussle, should provide some real opposition for the Spartan netmen.

Besides the match with Albion on Wednesday the Spartans are due to tangle with Wayne university here on Friday, and invade South Bend for a match with the Notre Dame Ramblers on Saturday. The freshmen are scheduled to meet Battle Creek Junior college here Thursday afternoon.

The lineup for the varsity will probably be the same as that of last week's matches. Captain Willoughby appeared in all of the previous matches. He will be the number one man, Ross at number two, followed by Schultz, Sexton, O'Dell and Essler. Klunzinger and Ross will form the number one tandem team with Schultz and Sexton, and O'Dell and Essler pairing up to form the other doubles combination.

Leading sports writers in the east and mid-west have written of Mike's scouting talents.

Michigan State faces Michigan State Normal this Friday in the first game of the season between these two schools. Last spring Ypsilanti broke even with John Kobs and his warriors. At Kroschick will in all probability get the pitching assignment having already won three contests for State.

GOLFERS TAKE TWO MATCHES

Grand Rapids Juniors and Wayne U. Bow to Van-Alstyne's Squad.

Coach Ben VanAlstyne's golf team won a pair of matches over the week-end, defeating Wayne university's squad on Saturday over the Western Golf and Country club, Detroit, 12 1/2 to 5 1/2, and routing out the Grand Rapids Junior college team on Monday by a score of 9 1/2 to 8 1/2 at the Lansing Country club.

Zig Zawadzki, playing in number one position for Wayne, defeated Ed Riordan, 2 1/2 to 1, while Wingerter lost to Herrick, 3-0 in the same forenoon. The best ball in the first forenoon was halved with each team winning one and one-half points.

Scotty Taylor defeated E. Proctor to win 2 1/2 points for State while Cliff Hamlin picked up another two points from R. Armstrong. Hamlin and Taylor defeated the Wayne golfers 3-0 in tandem team with Schultz and Sexton, and O'Dell and Essler pairing up to form the other doubles combination.

The Spartans encountered much tougher opposition from the Grand Rapids Junior college team. Carl Nosal, State's number one man, led a close match to Flowers, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2, and Hendrickson picked up three points for State by defeating Verder 3 to 0. In the best ball match the Grand Rapids team took two and one-half points to one-half for State.

In the second forenoon Taylor defeated Badaluco 3 to 0 and beating to Herrick to win three points. Spruell administered a sound points for the junior college. The State players won the best ball 2 to 1. Taylor and Spruell were tied for medalist honors at 82.

YEARLING NETMEN DEFEAT WESTERN

Western State Frosh Badly Beaten at Ranney Park Saturday.

For the first time in three years the State frosh won a tennis match from the yearlings from Western State Normal when the State boys handed them a 6-1 trouncing in a dual match held on the Ranney park courts last Saturday.

Jack Cotton won the number one singles match in a rather easy manner, defeating Dishrooy 61-6-3. The scores: Cotton (S) d. Dishrooy (W) 6-1, 6-3; Storchbroeker (S) d. Blankenberg (W) 6-1, 6-1; Jennings (S) d. Bremer (W) 6-3, 6-2; Dahlberg (S) d. Chandler (W) 6-4, 6-2; Vandenberg (W) d. Brower (S) 6-4 6-4.

Doubles: Cotton and Storchbroeker (S) d. Dishrooy and Blankenberg (W) 6-1, 9-7; Jennings and Dahlberg (S) d. Chandler and Bremer (W) 6-4, 6-1.

YEARLING GAME IS POSTPONED

Weather Sets Battle Creek Diamond Classic Ahead of Thursday.

The baseball game between State Frosh nine and Battle Creek high school scheduled for yesterday was postponed because of rain. The game will be played Thursday, May 9.

The frosh coach welcomed the postponement of the game in that it will give him another chance to find a couple of players to fill the two vacancies in the outfield. Kuk is a certain starter in left, but no one has been definitely assigned to the other two posts. The boys that are battling it out for the jobs are Goldsmith, Bartle-son, Hinz, Weeks, and Fong. The game at third and short were finally filled up at the last practice session. Jelsch will start at short, step, and Paul Moyes will start at the hot-corner. Moyes was a candidate for the position at second base, but when "Harp" Scott won that job Moyes was given a trial at third and fitted in very well. Sines will probably start on the mound for the freshmen, with Horrbach and Walters being held in reserve. Walters is being saved for the Western State game which will take place sometime next week. The exact date has not been agreed on as yet.

Everything that Science really knows about making cigarettes is used in making CHESTERFIELDS

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The cigarette industry could never have been what it is except for these modern cigarette machines...

They make good cigarettes and smokers know each individual cigarette receives the most careful inspection.

You'd hardly believe such attention to detail possible unless you could see it with your own eyes.

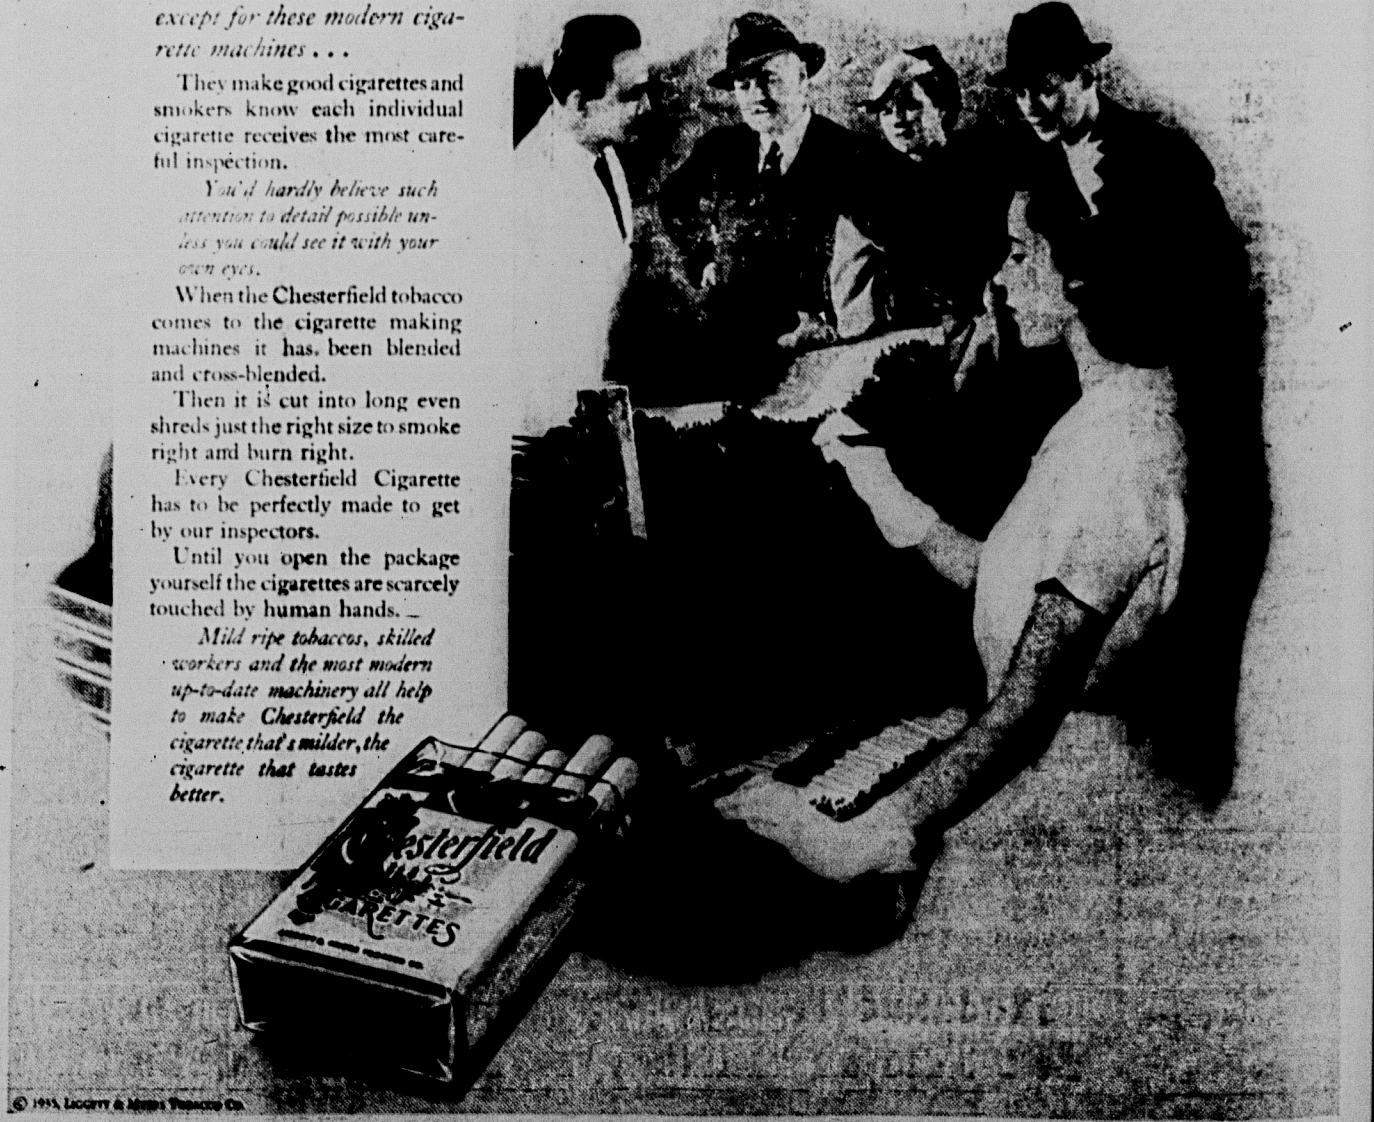

When the Chesterfield tobacco comes to the cigarette making machines it has been blended and cross-blended.

Then it is cut into long even shreds just the right size to smoke right and burn right.

Every Chesterfield Cigarette has to be perfectly made to get by our inspectors.

Until you open the package yourself the cigarettes are scarcely touched by human hands.

Mild ripe tobaccos, skilled workers and the most modern up-to-date machinery all help to make Chesterfield the cigarette that smolder, the cigarette that tastes better.
