

Faculty Members To Attend Michigan Academy Conference

Bergquist to Preside At 1938 Meeting In Ann Arbor

Twenty-Eight Members Will Present Papers; Prof. E. C. Prophet Holds Treasury Post. Wyngarden, Economics Section Head

Twenty-eight members of the Michigan State faculty will present papers at the 43rd annual meeting of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters which is to be held in Ann Arbor Thursday through Saturday of this week.

Dr. Stanard G. Bergquist of the geology department is president of the 1938 meeting, and Prof. E. C. Prophet of the geography department is treasurer. Dr. H. Wyngarden is section chairman of the economics and sociology division, while Prof. V. G. Grove is section chairman of the mathematics group.

Michigan State representatives on the council in charge of the conference are Dean E. A. Bessey and Dean Gilmer. Several other members of the faculty are also members of different committees for the meeting. Duncan Stewart is a member of the committee on membership, Dean E. L. Anthony, Prof. L. R. Schenck, and J. O. Veitch are on the committee on conservation. Dean Bessey is on the committee in connection of research, and Dean Gilmer and Doctor Bergquist are members of the committee on public welfare, of which Dr. H. B. Doherty is chairman. Professor Veitch is also a member of the committee on honorary members.

Prof. Stanard Bergquist and Prof. Edward Prophet are members of the reception committee for the annual reception to be held at the University museums Thursday evening.

Michigan State faculty members who have prepared papers to be read in the botany section include R. W. Lewis who will give an illustrated lecture on "Vitamins C in Fungus Extracts"; B. H. Griggly and R. P. Hubbard who will report on "Studies on the Mechanisms of Hollow Formations in Potato Hollow Heart"; H. C. Beskow, who will discuss cytographic detection of certain elements in different parts of green plants with Doctor Hubbard; Dean Bessey, who will read a paper on the flora of Michigan VIII; Ekis Aroia, who will speak on the relationships between nitrate nitrogen and chlorophyll content in wheat in sand cultures; W. D. Hart who will present views on the analysis of variance in testing significance; and also a statistical study of Daucus Carota III.

TO DISCUSS BUILDING

Prof. W. Foster will discuss the distribution of building densities in the Detroit area before the pre-conference session, and J. O. Veitch will report on land use patterns in Michigan and their relation to land planning.

The section of geology and mineralogy will hear Justin Zinn read a paper on the intensive weathering of the Huronian sediments of the Marquette district, and Duncan Stewart, who will speak on recent additions to the University collections of Antarctic rocks.

DESCRIBE CAMPUS

T. Glen Phillips will speak to the landscape architecture group on development of the Michigan State campus, and O. Urey will discuss Michigan farm types, distribution and their economic significance for the economy, and sociology section C. H. Foster will also address the same group on cultural differences between urban-rural areas.

Sanitary and medical group will hear Myrtle Minger on the blood picture in undulant fever, and H. B. Peacock who will present further studies on the virus antigens of the influenza.

Herbert E. Millison will read his notes on the taxonomy and distribution of Michigan Bombidae to the zoology group, while M. D. Perrine will discuss the success of reforesting with Canada geese in southern Michigan.

Mortar Board will meet in the Union porch at 4 p.m. today.

Olivet Dean Addresses Child Study Group on Family Problems

Guest night was observed by the East Lansing Child Study club Tuesday evening, March 15, in the Peoples church. Representatives from both the Lansing clubs, the Lansing Junior Child Study club, and the Marble, Haslet, and Okemos districts were present.

Helen Anderson, dean of women at Olivet college, spoke on "Modern Problems of the Family." She stressed five functions of the family and named the housing problem as most important. She cited the new apartments being erected in some of the larger cities through government projects as a forward step.

Velma Clemens presented several piano selections. Tea was served after the meeting. Decorations were in the St. Patrick's day motif.

Hostesses were Mrs. C. A. Weiser, Mrs. D. H. Brunm, Mrs. A. W. Handy, Mrs. Paul Baker and Mrs. L. L. Taylor.

Cagers to Play Semifinals

Four teams have emerged from a season of hectic play in the Men's league to enter the semifinals which will be run off tonight. The contests will be Black Sheep vs. U. P. Team and Hawk slingers vs. Evergreen Manor.

Playoff games were necessary to decide champions in Blocks 1 and 4. A two-way tie was broken in Block 1 when the Black Sheep defeated the Barnams Tuesday night, 23-8.

In Block 4 three teams tied for top spot—Evergreen Manor, Cutups and Sleeping Beauties. Evergreen Manor clinched the championship when they defeated the Cutups, 19-8, Wednesday night.

Hashbangers and the U. P. Team won their blocks; each team clinched through the season with five wins and no defeats. The final will be played Friday night, and will be the last game of the intramural basketball season of 1938.

College Bulletin

Student clubs' last dance of the term will be held at the gymnasium at 9 p.m. Friday, March 18. Larry Ball, general chairman, has arranged for an added attraction called Famous Findings by three girls, Betty Wagner, Phyllis Quirk and Elaine Moore. Refreshments will be served.

Spartans To Engage In 27-Game Baseball Schedule This Spring

California to Appear Here; Book Nine Tests in South

State to Battle Five Conference Opponents During Season; Home and Home Games Booked With Notre Dame, Western State, Michigan, Normal

By DON ANDERSON

The most difficult schedule ever undertaken by a Spartan baseball team will await the State squad when it returns from its annual southern trip April 5.

Annual nine games to be played in the south the card lists 12 games at home and six on the road, which includes contests with five Big Ten teams. The Spartans open the season here on April 20, facing Wisconsin, a team which last year defeated them twice.

Two days later, State will engage Michigan State Normal college in the first home and home series. On the morning of the game, a Michigan high school baseball clinic will be held, when the college will play host to state high school nines and their coaches.

On April 26, the Spartans will journey to Ann Arbor to do battle with University of Michigan, and continue a rivalry which last year saw the two schools divide a two game series. State will be pointing for this one as well as the return meeting here on May 30.

A new baseball rivalry will be inaugurated on May 26, when the University of California, annually one of the strongest teams on the Pacific coast, plays here.

In addition to Wisconsin and Michigan the other Big Ten teams to be met are Iowa, Indiana and Ohio State. The Spartans played all three last year, breaking even in two games with Iowa and Ohio State and defeating Indiana in a single contest.

The yearly two-game series with Notre Dame has been confirmed. State will also play two games with Western State Teachers college, which in past years has beaten the Spartans with exasperating regularity.

Single games are scheduled with Toledo and Armour Institute of Technology, the latter team a new comer on the card.

The Kalamazoo will start their jaunt into the south on March 26, playing East Kentucky Teachers college in Richmond, Ky., where they journey into Georgia for two games with the University of Georgia.

Wrestlers to Vie In Two Meets

Not to be outdone by Athletic Director Ralph H. Young who is spicing his track team into two sections this weekend, Fendley Collins is following the same procedure with the Spartan wrestlers.

Collins has selected a five-man team to participate in the Interstate tournament at Cleveland starting Friday, and has named nine others to battle in the State A A U championship at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Going to Cleveland are Gordon Purdy, 115-pounder, Dale Bell, 126 pounder, Clifford Friedberger, 145-pounder, Dave Pletz, 155-pounder, and Dale Stevenson, heavy-weight.

In the A A U meet, Bill Martin and Dick Bigelow will vie at 135 pounds, Ken Lay, 145, Tom Brown, 155, Charles Hutson, Eddie Pearce and Jim Mitchell, 165, Steve Slesak, 175, and Art Faggion, heavy-weight.

Track Squad Split Into Two Units

Young to Send 16 Men To Butler; Six to Armour Relays

Divided into two units, Michigan State's track forces today prepared to invade Indianapolis and Chicago to compete in the Butler and Armour Tech relay championships, respectively, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Young has named a squad of 16 men to vie in the Indianapolis event, while five will face the starting mark in Chicago.

Heading the Spartan entry at Butler will be Wilbur Greer, brilliant sprinter, who will be out to end all doubt to his claim of being the outstanding dashman in the mid-west this year.

Heading the Spartan entry at Butler will be Wilbur Greer, brilliant sprinter, who will be out to end all doubt to his claim of being the outstanding dashman in the mid-west this year.

During the last month the netters have drilled several times weekly in Demonstration hall, awaiting a break in the weather to permit regular workouts on the concrete outdoor courts.

Particularly impressive was the doubles team of Leonard Kositchek and Charles Gibbs, who went through the entire campaign with all three last year, breaking even in two games with Iowa and Ohio State and defeating Indiana in a single contest.

Among the most promising candidates is Wendell Foltz, who saw much action during the summer vacation. He was a finalist in the regional tournament sponsored by the Detroit News. Another prospect, Ralph Jennings, also is making a serious bid.

There are several promising men on from the freshman squad. Among them are Herman Struck, the No. 1 yarding, Chester Olson, brother of a former Spartan tennis star, Seymour Rawley, Parker Gray, Al Pratt, James Santorn, Phil Moore and Carl Garner.

Two Foresters Honored On All-Ag Cage Team

Woodhouse Forestry and Aldrich Agronomy were awarded the forward posts; Russ Stroud, forestry, gained center spot, while the guard positions went to Don Anderson, Block and Bridle, and Anton Thompson, vet.

With the Ag league having finished its schedule with the Foresters winning the championship, the State News today presents the all-star team for the Independent Ag basketball league.

Walter Woodhouse, forestry, and Sam Aldrich, agronomy, were awarded the forward posts; Russ Stroud, forestry, gained center spot, while the guard positions went to Don Anderson, Block and Bridle, and Anton Thompson, vet.

The two men who won the forward posts, Woodhouse and Aldrich, were standouts all season. Although Aldrich was a member of a team which finished only in a tie for fifth and sixth place in the eight team league, his play marked him as a definite choice for the all-star team.

The other three men on the team, Stroud, Anderson, and Thompson excelled at the center and guard spots. Smoothly executed plays and a knowledge of the value of teamwork characterized the style of these men on the basketball court.

Second team selections include forwards, Dave Diehl, Block and Bridle, and Harold St. John, forestry; center, Clarence Klooster, vet; guard; Solka, short course, and George Keller, ag economics.

SPORT INTERLUDES-Uncwise Move

By GEORGE MASKIN

Mr. William Bell, President, Interfraternity Council, Michigan State college.

News that the I. F. C. almost unanimously rejected a proposal to adopt softball on the spring intramural program in place of baseball, brought considerable dissatisfaction to this department.

There are several reasons, it seems to me, why the "houses" would be doing themselves justice by adopting softball for baseball, which has held a place on your spring list for several years.

Please don't misunderstand us, for we have no hard feelings toward baseball. We go for the game as much as any rabid Tiger fan does, but we don't feel baseball fits in a college's intramural program.

The chief reason for our opposing fraternity baseball is the lack of facilities. At present the college has only two regular diamonds, both of which during the spring are in daily use by the varsity and freshman teams.

Softball can be played on almost any level field, which is 200 feet square, but baseball can not. It takes a vast stretch of land to make a worthwhile baseball diamond.

Without suitable places in which to practice, the majority of the fraternity teams will go into their games, unprepared for play. Many probably will do the same thing they did in football last fall, line up a team around the dinner table.

Speaking of practice brings out the point, that for a baseball team to make a creditable showing, it must engage in at least three or four weeks of practice. And that is impossible in this part of the country as for as fraternity teams are concerned.

Softball teams on the other hand, need less time in which to sound into condition. Besides, the shortage of hardwood diamonds doesn't present most "houses" more than two or three practices before the first game, an occurrence which wouldn't exist with softball in vogue.

Another item to be considered is equipment. To play baseball well a player should have among other things, a good glove, spiked shoes and sliding pads. Few men on campus own all three necessities.

Spiked shoes and pads are out in softball, which almost any type of glove will serve the purpose. In addition, one softball will last longer than a baseball which incidentally costs more.

Then, too, it is our contention, adoption of softball would make for more heated games. Too many of the fraternity baseball teams in recent years have been what are commonly termed "flaps."

The average fraternity baseball game lags because of the loose defensive play. Softball games, for the most part, move along at a rapid pace with less ragged performances.

From conversations with various fraternity men, members of big and small houses alike, we learned a good many prefer softball to baseball on the intramural program.

Following the old proverb "It's never too late," possibly a special meeting of your organization wouldn't be amiss to reconsider the proposition rejected earlier this week.

Sincerely yours, GEORGE MASKIN

Two 'Houses' Battle For Fraternity Track Crown

Sigma Nu's Hold Slight Edge Over Beta Kappa As Meet Enters Into Final Day; Half-Mile And 440-Yard Relay to Decide Team Winner

It's Sigma Nu on top with Beta Kappa a close second as the annual Interfraternity track meet moved into the final day of action today.

Sigma Nu, the defending champion, has piled up 21 3-4 points, 4 1-4 more than the total recorded by the Beta Kappa contingent, with only the half-mile and 440-yard relay remaining on the schedule.

None of the other teams in the meet stand a chance of passing either of the leaders. Eclectic holds down third place with 11 1-2, while Alpha Epsilon Pi fills the fourth spot with 9.

Following A. E. P. come Alpha Gamma Rho with 7, Kappa Sigma, 6 1-6; Phi Delta Theta, 4; Lambda Chi Alpha, 3; Hesperian 2; and Delta Sigma Phi, 1.

The Sigma Nu's scored prominently in the two hurdles as Gerald Drake won both events and Bob Henge took a fourth in the lows.

Dave Barthold and Gene Chole finished fourth in the shot and 440, respectively, and Drake landed in a three-way tie for fourth in the high jump, to account for Sigma Nu points Tuesday and Wednesday.

Beta Kappa will down the sorting list at the beginning of action Tuesday, has been the surprise team of the meet during the last 48 hours. Herbert Lash scored five points Tuesday for the Beta Kappa when he grabbed off a third in the high hurdles and a second in the lows.

Howard Kraft added six points to the Beta total by running third in the low hurdles, fourth in the highs, and taking second in the high jump.

The A. E. P. points were scored by two men, Sander Hillman in the shot put and Henry Merdler in the high jump. Hillman tied Frank Games of Sigma Alpha Epsilon for first, while Merdler won the jump.

The summaries: Hurdles high: Won by Drake (Sigma Nu), second, Lash (Beta Kappa), third, Kraft (Eclectic), fourth, Time, 1:5. Hurdles low: Won by Drake (Sigma Nu), Lash (Beta Kappa), second, Kraft (Eclectic), third, Henge (Sigma Nu), fourth, Time, 1:8.

Shot put: Won by Hillman (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), second, Hillman (Alpha Sigma Phi), third, Merdler (Hesperian), fourth, Barthold (Sigma Nu), fourth, Distance, 35 ft. 2 1/2 inches.
