Spartans Turn To Syracuse Following West Virginia Victory

Diehl Plays Major Role In Triumph

Scores Two Markers As Spartans Win With No Trouble

By GEORGE MASKIN
Michigan State's football team spent the Friday night at a home game at East Lansing, Mich., against West Virginia, and won 24-0.

The Spartans' offensive was the star of the game, scoring all their points in the first half. The defense was equally effective, holding the Mountaineers to a scoreless effort.

Diehl, the Spartans' star player, played a key role in the victory, scoring two touchdowns. His performance was a major factor in the team's success.

The Spartans' defense was also outstanding, with several key plays that kept West Virginia from scoring. The team's overall performance was a testament to their skill and teamwork.

The victory over West Virginia is a significant one for the Spartans, as it marks their first win in a long time. The team is now looking forward to their next game against Syracuse.

Three Spartan Foes Score Victories

Syracuse 18, Cornell 17. The Orange Charge gave State's arch-rival a narrow victory in the final game of the season.

San Diego 27, Arizona 8. The Bruins of the Pacific coast defeated the Sun Devils in a hard-fought battle.

Other games were played in various parts of the country, with many teams showing improvement in their play.

The season has been a challenging one for many teams, but the Spartans have emerged as one of the top performers.

The Spartans' success is a result of their hard work and dedication to the sport. They are now looking forward to a successful season ahead.

Scoop Says Ciolek's Loss Blow

By GEORGE MASKIN
Gene Ciolek came back to East Lansing Saturday to find his college football career ended.

The loss of Ciolek is a significant blow to the Spartans, as he was one of their top players. His departure leaves a void in the team's defense.

Ciolek's performance throughout the season was exceptional, and his loss is a major setback for the team.

The Spartans will have to adjust to life without Ciolek, but they are confident they can still succeed.

The team's coach is optimistic about the future, despite the loss of a key player.

Best Half Combination

By GEORGE MASKIN
The Spartans' offense and defense are the best halves combination in the country.

The team's success is due to the excellent play of both halves, which has made them a formidable opponent.

The Spartans' coaching staff has done a great job of preparing the team for this season.

The team's performance has been a source of pride for the entire school.

The Spartans are looking forward to a successful season ahead.

Battered '11' Set to Face Tough foe

Bachman to Work On Bolstering Running Plays

By DON ANDERSON
A battered and battered Michigan State football team looked ahead today to the contest with two unbeaten eleven's.

The Spartans will face a tough opponent in their next game, and Coach Bachman is working hard to prepare the team.

The team's running game is a key part of their strategy, and Coach Bachman is focusing on improving it.

The Spartans are determined to win their next game and continue their success.

The team's fans are looking forward to a great game.

Make All Breaks Count

By GEORGE MASKIN
In beating West Virginia, the Spartans for the first time this season played their full gaffball.
