Stephens T. Mason hall, latest addition to Michigan State college's dormitory system, will be officially dedicated and opened to the public tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

President Robert S. Shaw, Secretary John A. Hannah, and Dean of Men Fred T. Mitchell will speak at the dedication ceremony in front of the hall. A few students living in Mason hall will also take part in the program. Immediately following the program the building will be opened to the public from 3 to 5 p. m.

Previous to the ceremony there will be a dinner in the Union, starting at 12 o'clock, for President Robert S. Shaw, the Board of Agriculture, the dormitory committee, and A. J. Munson, E. H. Press, and H. L. Wilson. Munson is the architect who designed Mason hall, and Shaw and Wilson are representatives of the Ann Arbor Trust company, who helped in the financing of the building.

Members of the dormitory committee are Secretary Hannah, Dean Marie Dye, head of the Home Economics department; Elizabeth Conrad, Dean of Women; and Treasurer C. O. Wilkins.

After the dinner those mentioned will join all other invited guests at Mason hall for the ceremony. These guests include descendants of Stephens T. Mason, for whom the dormitory was named; parents of the 440 students now living at the dormitory; and many others who were instrumental in the construction and opening of the building.

The dormitory, which is located north of the Anatomy building on the extreme east end of the campus, was completed last summer. The project was self-financing.

Probably one of the more interesting features of Stephens T. Mason hall is the fact that it is Above: Stephens T. Mason hall, home of 440 men, will be formally dedicated Sunday afternoon. Following dedication exercises, its doors will be thrown open so that visitors may make tours of inspection.

Home from afternoon classes, students lounge in Mason hall's spacious dormitory for a brief chat. The dormitory's rear porch is the center of campus bridge classes within two minutes' walk.

While awaiting the dinner going men at Mason hall relax in the main lounge. Here they may catch up on a bit of class work, play the piano, or just talk.

Men are served cafeteria style so that they may have a choice of foods. Behind the kitchen is a modern efficient kitchen with many who can enter in the college men's appetite.

After dinner, it is study for those who believe in getting the most out of college. Although the building is new, many study rooms have already been decorated tastefully and in collegiate style.

STATE TO FACE BRONCOS

Today's Campus

Paging Jim Farley

Into the local post office came a camera as ordered by State News photographers. As it was too big for the box, the post office officials sent a card to the State News office.

The card read: "Present this at window to postman, received in East Lansing, Feb. 3, 1937."

Thinking it a hoax, the copy boy didn't bother to call on the post office.

Later investigations seeking the missing camera eventually proved the card to be authentic. Questioned a post office man and a flipped copy of the 1937 State News back to him.

Further investigations have revealed that the post office was an RFD card, and the copy boy didn't know the results of printing the card.

The card was sent to Post Office #110000. Seemed certain that the card was genuine, but names will be withheld from publication.

Last Time's Today

All junior women were requested to drop in at Dean Conrad's office this past week. No class has not committed some great sin, nor are the girls getting acquainted with the administration.

What is just as important, they have been voting for their class AWS representative. The voting continues until noon today, so don't miss your last chance to vote.

Didn't Cheat!

Dick Rogers, campus cop No. 1, substituted for teacher Don Bremer Friday in criminal evidence class. Mr. Rogers administered the test to the students.

He walked up to the front of the room, pulled out his revolver and laid it on the desk, and looked around the class. "We will have no cheating on this test," he commented.

Of All Times

Members of NWS will gather in the State News and Wolverine offices after their Saturday night dates.

"No, it is not to be a 'grapevine' on the relative merits of the collective girl friends, but an honest-to-goodness bee. Not courting, but proof-reading will be the order of the evening."

Editor Bob Boardman, asked at the slowest of completion of the Student directory, has requested that all members report at the familiar quarters as soon after 12:30 as possible.

Large Cast Announced For Play

Elizabeth Yeager to Play Title Role in 'Lady Precious Stream'

One of the largest casts to ever put on an all-college play in the history of the school has just been announced by Dr. W. Fawcett Thompson, director.

The new play, "Lady Precious Stream," is being produced by the Michigan State Dramatic Society. The play is a historical drama set in China.

The cast includes Elizabeth Yeager as the title role, and other notable actors.

Parents, Students Agree Mason is 'Just Like Home'

"We never dreamed it was going to be like this," says the comment, made not once, but many times, by parents of "the east and west" about Stephens T. Mason hall the day after the opening.

A well-equipped modern building, comfortable furnished, and equipped with every possible facility is only one reason for the pride that residents have in the hall. Many other improvements add to the comfort of the men living there, and to their parents' satisfaction. Don't that Mason hall is a good thing.

Apple-Lovers Find Mason Hall Good Sub for Orchard

When ecstatic sightseers to Michigan State Club over everything from the flag stone walks in Beal Gardens to the stately lines of the Rodent lab, Mason hall, awe-inspiring in its symmetry, first strikes the vertiginous visitor dumb, and then brings forth a burst of superlatives that would do credit to a Hollywood press agent.

It appears that Stephens T. Mason hall is "architecturally perfect," "impressively situated," "structurally imposing," "meticulously landscaped," and "tastefully furnished." It is the "finest" and "most modern" building at State college in Michigan, or we are led to suspect, in the entire United States, including Alaska and the Canal Zone.

Yes, Mason hall is almost everything that its most ungenerous champions claim it to be, and every man-jack from the house later down is rightfully proud to be associated with the building.

University of Santa Clara's bucking Broncos, undefeated in their last 14 games and termed by many as the best team on the Pacific Coast, arrived in East Lansing this morning for their inter-collegiate clash with Michigan State's Spartans at 2 p. m. today at Macklin field.

The California team, coached by Coach Bob Stoops, is expected to keep its charge away from the scene of the game over Friday, qualifying them in Battle Creek hotel last night. Yesterday afternoon, Stoops and the squad discussed a thousand drill in an effort to shake the kinks of the incoming tide from the Pacific coast.

The giant from the west looks very formidable to the Spartan State pushed an undefeated Syracuse eleven from the national lead yesterday. The Spartans have only one win in their last 14 games, and the Broncos have only one loss in their last 14 games.

The Broncos' line-up will give the Spartans a hard time. The team is still missing the effect of the struggle with the Broncos, and in addition the Spartans are in a hospital bed. There is also a possibility that Steve DeWitt, Spartan quarterback, might be in top shape. The Spartans pulled a leg muscle in practice Tuesday night, and the injury still bothers him.

Contest Won By Beattie, Amsden

By BRUCE MAIR

Three times every day 438 hungry men form a double line and file past two well-equipped steam tables for a complete, well-balanced meal. Each morning 97 gallons of milk and 28½ pounds of butter are delivered at the back door of Mason hall and placed in one of the three huge walk-in refrigerators in the basement.

Such is the routine of the Mason hall kitchen. The kitchen, like all involved organizations, is divided into several individual units. The pastry department, with its own ice box and mechanized mixer, makes all the pies and other bakery products with the exception of the 79 loaves of bread used daily.

In the center of the kitchen, amid clouds of steam and odors of cooking meat, two cooks prepare the main courses of the meal. They have among their equipment a huge three-unit gas stove, steam ovens capable of cooking four bushels of potatoes at one time, a soup boiler holding 45 gallons, and a huge cast iron meat cooker which holds 165 pounds at one time.

After the meal dirty dishes are stacked and sorted before being taken down to the dish washing room in the basement. There they go through an electric dish washing machine and after being dried by machine, are sorted and returned to the pantry upstairs.

All the dishes are of special design to facilitate stacking when not in use.

Curtis Beachum, housefather of Mason hall, takes a daily trip to Lansing to do the buying for the kitchen. Besides the regular staple foods which he buys daily, Beachum purchases other less-used foods. For instance, for a salad which was served this week, 65 pounds of cottage cheese were used.

Forty-five boys, all residents of Mason hall, work for their board in the kitchen. The work is divided up so that each student spends only a few hours daily at the job.

A collection of propaganda periodicals circulated by the allies and the Germans during the world war has been presented to the University of Missouri school of journalism.

The first orchard at Orchard street was established about 1868. The first crop was harvested by the college in 1889. The second and all succeeding crops were harvested by the boys of '70 to '03 in 1903.

REPLACE TREES

Shortly after the Spanish war the original trees were uprooted and replaced by new ones. Some class around 1903 had to buy their apples, but from then on it was a ten-to-one bet that if both the school and the scholars planned to experiment with apples, the school was usually forced to investigate the life cycle of the rhubarb worm instead.

The college waged a losing battle to harvest its orchard without help until late in 1937 when the State Board of Agriculture set the property aside as the site for Mason hall. The college was plainly relieved, but in the breast of the collective student body conflicting emotions of pride in Michigan State's progress and a fondness for Red Astrachians raged a fierce battle. School loyalty finally won out but there was more than one Spartan who made the choice regretfully.

ORCHARD MOVED

Ground was broken for Stevens T. Mason hall during the winter term. The orchard on Orchard street was moved tree by tree to other school property. What had once been two acres of flowering fruitland now became a confusion of steam shovels, construction shanties and hurrying workmen.

Under the guiding hands of master builders the dormitory slowly took shape. Autumn of 1938 found the building complete and the machinery moved eastward to start work on new construction. The orchard of seventy bountiful years had made way for progress in the shape of Mason hall.

Yes, Mason hall is the finest dormitory in the best school in the country. Ask any Masonite and he'll tell you so. And the freshman will mean it; his loyalty and pride is unlimited, for in Mason hall is a symbol of the class of '42.

REMEMBER FRUIT

The upperclassman will mean it, too, but in a different way. Mason hall personifies the spirit of the times, but they still like to linger on the days when the Orchard was more than just a name of a street.

New dormitories are nice to live in, but they don't blossom in the springtime. And even a dormitory can't completely erase the memory of a luscious Red Astrachan stolen at midnight.

Contest Won By Beattie, Amsden

James Amsden and Helen Beattie will represent Michigan State in the state extemporaneous speaking contest at Western State Teachers college, November 22, as a result of winning first places in the local speaking contest Thursday night.

Second place honors went to Kenneth Greer in the men's division and Mary Alice Smith in the women's class.

Amsden took as his topic, "The United States and the Monroe Doctrine." Miss Beattie's subject was "Socialized Medicine and the Taxpayer." A first prize of $10 was awarded in each class while second place winners received $5 each.

The judges of the contest were James A. McMonagle, C. H. Nickle, J. D. Menchhoffer and Paul D. Bagwell of the speech department, and Everett Hagen of the economics department.

McMonagle is the manager of the state contest.

Helen Moody Will Speak In Church

Helen Wills Moody, considered to be America's foremost woman tennis player, will speak Tuesday, November 3, at Peoples church on the subject, "Make Life a Game" under the auspices of W. A. A.

Mrs. Moody has won all important women's tennis titles at some time, and in 1937 she took the English championship for the eighth time. At present she is designing women's clothes for a Paris concern. She is interested in art, and has had several of her paintings exhibited in London and Paris.

Rosemary Fritchie, president of W. A. A., announces that, due to schedule conflicts, several officers of the club have had to be replaced. Margaret Collins was chosen as vice president, Louise Gardner as secretary, Frances Bradford as treasurer, and Frances Hask as the new manager of the hockey and swimming teams.

'State Best Team We've Played To Date' -- Santa Clara Coach

Shaw Calls Spartans First Conservative Rival This Season

Uncertain of Team's Mental Attitude While Watching Charges in Final Workout; Star Center to Play With Shoulder Injury

By GEORGE MASKIN

BATTLE CREEK, Oct. 28—"It will be the best team we have played this season."

It was Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw speaking as he ran his Santa Clara university football team through a final workout in preparation for tomorrow's battle with Michigan State at East Lansing.

"Up to now we have been meeting what might be called crazy football teams," the Bronco pilot revealed.

He had reference to Texas A. and M., Arkansas and Arizona, all of whom play the razzle-dazzle type of football. The Broncos beat each of them, in addition to Stanford, to run their string of consecutive victories to 14 in a row.

"From all reports, we feel we are going up against a well balanced eleven in Michigan State," Shaw continued. "They have everything as far as offense is concerned, and also play a sound defensive game."

HE'S NOT SURE

Shaw wasn't certain of the mental status of his club on the eve of making its long winning streak.

"We have won a lot of games during the last two seasons and it's pretty tough to figure just how the boys will react to this game tomorrow."

"We have been looking forward to this game all season, however, and the fact we'll carry an undefeated record and the reputation of the West Coast onto the field with us may result in our boys playing their usual mentally alert game."

Except for Al Schuebel, All-American center, candidate for Bronco, he is in good physical condition for the game. A shoulder injury has bothered Schuebel of late, but it hasn't kept him on the sidelines. He will start against the Spartans.

Shaw praised his backfield as one without stars.

"We manage to get by with a group of steady performers rather than depending on one single player to carry the burden of the responsibility."

STARTS REGULARS

The Santa Clara coach rates Barlow and Gilbert, both right halves, and Pellegrini, at left half, as the most consistent ball handlers.

Fearing the Spartan power, Shaw indicated he will send his first team, rather than his second stringers, into the battle at the outset.

The lineup will find Coughlin and Amela at the ends, Locke and Wolff, tackle, Gimesy and Ross, Clark, guards, Schuebel, center, McCarthy, quarter, Pellegrini and Barlow, halves, and Gunther, full.

Shaw was anxious to meet Coach Charles Bachman of State. Although a graduate of Kalamazoo, Coach Bachman, the Santa Clara pilot has never crossed steps with State's coach.

Santa Clara spent the night here and way to reach East Lansing at noon.

Dopester 'Dopes' Harriers Out To Conquer Indiana

Santa Clara 'H' To Win, 21-0

Robert Emery, a junior who has made a hobby of rating football teams and picking winners, predicts Santa Clara to topple Michigan State, 21-0, in Macklin Field today.

Emery rates the Broncos fourth in the country, behind Pittsburgh, Texas Christian, and California. He has State's foe chalked down for 460 points.

The Spartans are ranked twenty-sixth in the nation, while Michigan holds down the seventeenth spot. Temple rates thirty-fourth, Syracuse, thirty-seventh, Missouri is seventy-third, and Marquette, one hundred and eighteenth.

Lead Broncos on Grid

HIGH D WOLFE, giant 225 pound tackle will captain Santa Clara's forces against Michigan State today. DAVE HENRY, (shown) does the coaching. They form a winning combination as the Broncos record shows. Santa Clara has won 14 games in a row.

Handicap Meet Set to Open

The fourteenth annual handicap meet will be held next week, Monday to Friday, at the track. All the men who have been out to full practice will compete.

Men expected to be outstanding in their respective events are: Gale Rains, senior, in the hurdles and jumps; Ryan, junior, in the broad jump; Miller, freshman, in the hurdles and jumps; and Rosenbaum in the dashes. Coach Frantz.

Scoop Says:

Setting is Perfect For State Win

There is no such thing in sports as "it can't be done." That is what brings to football, basketball, baseball, golf, swimming, and the various other games which go to make up the world of sport their everlasting popularity.

The sporting scene continually is changing. Teams and individual stars are being set up and down the road. An underlying tendency tries to conquer a triumph.

So it goes—and the fact that being millions of the last annually.

Bringing the picture closer to home, Michigan State, on paper, does not have a chance of making teams. The Broncos of Santa Clara in today's battle of the century are far, via Macklin field, is engaged.

The "state" Broncos have won

Seek First Victory In Four Years Over Hoosiers Here Today

By JOE SIMEK

National cross country prestige will be at stake when Indiana and Michigan State harriers battle it out on the Spartans' four mile course this morning at 10:30.

State's five-time I. C. A. champion will be pitted against the best in the Big Ten. For the last five years the two have represented the best in intercollegiate running. The meet is a national and is one of the highlights on State's football schedule.

The Hoosiers have been a jinx to State's championship teams. The Spartans have been able to salvage only one win in the four meet series. In the Central Intercollegiate, the same supremacy has prevailed.

POINTS TO TEST

Coach Loren P. Brown has been pointing his team toward this big test and has the squad in fine form to follow a race. Times have been out of a rapid rate.

Only the veterans, Dick Frey and Captain Harry Butler, remain of the team that bowed to the mighty Hoosiers in the treacherous Bloomington Hills last year. Frey, of late, once has looked like the Froe of old. He was slow in starting and his shape, but he has since shown he is ready to run against the best.

Pepping will be the sensational sophomore, Fletcher Gilson. The big fellow has never run a post race here and his long stride and toughness will come in good stead against the speedy Hoosiers.

Three sophomores, Fred Jensen, George Kiefer, Roy Perry, and Bill Marshall, have been training in complete haste in their first year at State.

MANGIN TO RUN

An Oklahoma runner, the Grand and Wild, Mangin, will be in the race. He is a member of the 1938 State Olympic team and is expected to be in the race.

Other teams of note are George Hamilton, Indiana, Jackson, Jim Johnson, Eastern, and Howard. However, Peppin is the man to watch. He runs, kicks and passes and was the major factor in Santa Clara's last year's bowl victories.

STRESS DEFENSE

The Spartans will stress defense in the game. Coach Bachman has placed the stress on defense this year. He expects to win the game by stopping the Hoosiers' offense.

Whether the Spartans will succeed or not, it will depend on how well they can stop the Hoosiers' offense.

Has Big Job on Hands Today

JOHNNY PINGEL, Michigan State's All-American halfback, has a big job carved out for him today against Santa Clara. With Gene Colek out for the season, Pingel has to do most of the left halving. So far this season his work has been nothing less than sensational. Buck Shaw, Santa Clara's coach, figures Pingel will be the man to stop if his Broncos are to win.

FOOTBALL Three Fires Lead In Pin Leagues

(Continued from page 1) Santa Clara is at full strength. Last week they defeated Akron, 21-6, and beat various other teams and Arizona as well. They will outpace the Spartans head-to-head in the game.

VERSATILE BACKS

In such backs as Bruno Peterson, Bill Gunther, Jim Barrow, and Ed McCarthy, Coach Shaw has only two real and versatile quarter-backs, but he has a lot of other players who will give State plenty of trouble.

The Broncos have a second team that ranks with the first in the state's backfield. The Spartans' top backfield is led by Gene Colek, who is also a great punter and kicker.

Other backs of note are George Hamilton, Eastern, Jackson, Jim Johnson, Eastern, and Howard. However, Peppin is the man to watch. He runs, kicks and passes and was the major factor in Santa Clara's last year's bowl victories.

Missouri and Marquette Picked to Suffer Losses

George Maskin, Sports Editor, Dear Boss: Now look here, boss, last week I followed your orders and picked the results of the games played by our 1938 opponents. I say mostly, or else how could I have called them all without a single reversal?

That was all right, because now I'm pointed out as a "sports scrivener turned gridiron seer." But what I wanted to get at was this: Yesterday you told me to go ahead and pick 'em again. Now, maybe you don't know it, but in every game our opponents score is going to be close, and not even Houdini could figure out the results.

NEBRASKA PICKED For instance, look at the Missouri-Nebraska game. How can anybody know what the score will be? One team is as good as the other, so it should end in a tie. But since you want me to pick a winner, I suppose I'll have to get the breaks and win.

Some of the others are just as tough, and about all I can do is flip a coin. The experts say Marquette over Iowa State, but my Lincoln head indicator turns—balls, and that means Iowa by a touchdown.

Well, boss, you can see how what I'm up against. The games are all going to be close, and my best luck is about to fade. I'll stick to the odds board long enough to get all its information, although I'll probably burn it out right when I see the scores.

So I try some more, and I find that the University of Toledo will run all over Wayne, West Virginia will hold a margin of two touchdowns over Youngstown college, and Temple will just squeeze a touchdown.

That's the last straw. With better cooperation than that, I can't go on and pick results. From now on you'll have to do the easier games to predict, and I'll send me back to report the freshman fencing meet.

Dejectedly yours, Marshall Doss

Forum Plans To Discuss Election

The three proposed amendments to the state constitution, and referendum which will be submitted to the voters of Michigan at the November 8 election, have been selected as the topics for discussion at the Peoples church forum on Sunday, October 30.

The amendments are as follows: Proposal No. 1, "Shall the constitution be amended to provide for a four-year term for county clerk, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, treasurer, and register of deeds?" Proposal No. 2, "Shall non-partisan nomination and appointment for an eight-year term be provided for supreme court justices?" Proposal No. 3, "Shall the constitution be amended to guarantee that all taxes collected from sale of gasoline and motor-vehicle license plates be used only for the construction and upkeep of highways and streets?"

The referendum is proposed on Act No. 257 of the Public Acts of 1937 providing for the transfer of certain state welfare and relief duties to the State Department of Public Assistance created by this act, and the abolition of all boards and commissions whose duties are thus transferred.

Each of the proposed amendments and the referendum will be discussed by qualified speakers from the state capital. The audience will be given opportunity to ask questions at the end of the discussion.
