Card Will Be Unopposed In Election Race For Mayor

Card Elected East Lansing Executive

C. G. Card, professor of poultry husbandry, will be the next mayor of East Lansing.

Running unopposed in Tuesday's elections, Professor Card takes with him into office experience he has gained on the city council since 1931. Since being appointed in 1931, Card has been elected three successive times to the council and was nominated this year to take over the duties of mayor.

As a member of the council he has filled such positions as chairman of the depositors committee, chairman of the trunk holiday, chairman of the welfare committee since 1934, chairman of the auditing committee and chairman of the police committee.

Professor Card was graduated from Kalamazoo Normal in 1913 and worked here until 1920. He held positions as school superintendent of the town of Games and Barry, Mich., and in Mecosta county.

Coming here in 1920 to teach in the vocational school for ex-servicemen, Card joined the poultry department in 1923, becoming acting head in 1924 and head a year later when named department head.

Professional affiliations include membership in the Alpha Zeta and Phi Kappa Phi, and he is at present faculty advisor to Alpha Gamma Rho.

He was married in 1914 and has two sons, Dick, a senior at East Lansing, and Warren, a sophomore at Michigan State.

CORRECTION

Paul Nicksie of the English department of Michigan State college, and not L. E. Frooming, is being vice of the fraternities on the campus for the Red Cross.

Come on, East Lansing Voters

The outcome of Tuesday's election is of importance to every citizen in East Lansing. Higher education says that it is an American fallacy to urge everyone to vote, that most people are not capable of voting.

But in a community such as East Lansing this theory is broken down, all voting citizens here are of a type who can and should vote. They owe it to themselves and to their community. They understand the issues at stake, and have definite reasons for thinking as they do politically. Queerly enough, it is districts such as East Lansing where the voting percentage is lowest. Why? No definite reasons can be found.

Consider the situation logically. The outcome of Tuesday's election is important to you. You understand fairly well the issues at stake. You have your mind made up which way you would vote if you did. So, WHY NOT? Let's make it a 100 per cent vote for East Lansing, Tuesday.

Trojans Hold Albion to Tie

By Don Phillips

Trojans staged a fourth quarter surprise scored two touchdowns and completely outplayed Albion in the last period to gain a 13-12 tie here Friday afternoon.

The Trojans looked half killed in the first three quarters, and although they held the strong Albion team to only two touchdowns they were unable to do much scoring during themselves.

WIN IN LAST PERIOD

Linebacker Coach Cuddy Shay will have snapped out of their lethargy and pushed across two touchdowns and kicked a goal in the first five minutes of the last quarter to knot the contest.

The Trojans started their scoring attack from the Albion 49 yard line and advanced on Max Phillips running past to 50 yards, 20 yards, Phillips and Dick Ryan would lead the center of the Albion line and could gain only a couple of yards. Phillips then dropped back and passed a perfect pass to the waiting center of Dick Ryan who was standing in the end zone. Bill Patch's attempted conversion was wide.

Phillips again started the second touchdown drive.ipping a time-consuming pass to Betty McCarthy for a first down on the Albion 18 yard line. Albion was then permitted 12 yards for unexpected progress, and the ball rested on the Albion 100-yard line. Phillips hit the line for the gain, and it was touch-down and three to go for a touchdown and the tying point. Gary Clark Phillips then reached into his bag of tricks and pulled out the old talking play and began to work around over for the touch-down. This time Patch's kick scored squarely between the uprights.

Albion's touchdowns were both scored as a result of a long pass from Ed Brankovitch to Ted McAuliffe and a blocked punt by Bob Earnst who caught the ball and stumbled over the goal line. McAuliffe started right end for the extra point.

The first All-High party was held last Saturday under the patronage of the H. Y. club. Present included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Moore, Mr. E. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kessler, Ed and Gertrude, who is advisor to the club, and Miss Dorothy Stagler.

Fires Keep City Trucks Busy

Two calls in two minutes were received by the East Lansing fire department Thursday afternoon. The firemen had no sooner opened the doors of the truck garage to answer the first call, than they were halted in their tracks and told that there was a second fire.

The first called the department to the city dump, and the second was a report of a grass fire just east of Milford street. A second thought by Fire Chief Gray, and both trucks started for the grass fire. After ten minutes of work with the booster pump, the fire, wide-spread, had been brought under control. Harry Miller then took the big pump down to the city dump to answer that call.

Upon his arrival there, he found that there was no fire. There had been no fire, and no one knowing anything about a fire. Miller

Yearlings Top Frosh Eleven Scores Easy 14-0 Victory Over Hilltoppers

Coming into the last two days of the fall handball meet, the grand fight to see which is the winning class continues with the freshmen row on top.

With three men winning first place, for them the frosh went into the lead in the scoring with 49 points. The seniors were second with 47, sophomores third with 42, and the juniors making up the rear with five points.

Thursday, Steinbacker, freshman, won the pole vault, leaping 12 feet 6 inches. Robinson, the meet's high scorer, won the 230 yard low hurdles in 23.6 seconds, and Graft, senior, tentative winner in the broad jump, with a 20-foot 4-inch jump.

Only two events were held on Friday, the high jump and the 440 yard run. Milne, freshman, won the high jump with a jump of 6 feet 1 inch, and Boehler, also a freshman, came through in the 440. His time was 1.2 seconds, that with a 5 second handicap.

High scores in the meet were: Robinson, senior, with 16 points; Rosenbaum, sophomore, 13; Arlington, sophomore, 11 points; and Jenkins and Graft, seniors, 10 points each.

Giving credit where it's due to the State cross country runners, who, although trailing by 1,000 yards at the mile and a half mark, stuck it out to the finish.

Kaman Scores Both Touchdowns in First Half As Frosh Win Second in Row: Western State Team Never Threatens State's Goal

By Hal Schram

Displaying a brilliant first half of offensive line plunging a fighting Michigan State freshman football team defeated the Western State Teachers frosh, 14 to 0, yesterday afternoon on Macklin field.

Paced by Roman Kaman, a dynamic fullback who started in place of the injured Bill Kennedy, the Spartan yearlings took the ball early in the first quarter and marched 60 yards through a stubborn Hilltop line to score a touchdown before the game was five minutes old.

Kaman was aided in this march by the fine line play of Robert center, Finley and Rupp guards, and Bob tackle. Bob Osborne also starred in the ball carrying department with the sensational Kaman. Nick Scheib converted the extra point from placement.

Capt. Manuel Artega talked 4 points in the third quarter to overtake and pass the Broncos. He scored six goals during the evening for high scoring honors.

State's "B" team led to the Lansing Red Wing "B" by a score of 12-2. Bob Chazy shot both of State's goals, while Dailey led the opposition with five tallies.

Scoop Says:

By George Maskin

A column in short pants: Charley Bachman can't understand what he has done wrong to deserve the tough luck in the nature of an injury jinx which has struck State football teams. Bachman had eight regulars on the hospital list on one occasion this week.

The injury bug doesn't stop at just the varsity. Freshman Coach John Robs lost one of his axes the other day when Chet Kennedy, a hustling fullback, broke a hand in Brick Burhans' boxing class.

It pays to play on a champion. George Ozzer and Glen Rankin, two bright colored jackets these days, the reward for helping Altes of Detroit capture the National Amateur baseball title early in September.

The nation's sport scribes are writing "nice" things about Johnny Pingel these days. Among the best tributes handed Pingel appeared in H. G. Salsinger's Empire column in the Detroit News. Salsinger, who aids Grantland Rice in picking his All American, called the State back "a grand player."

Wasted Efforts

Frankie Colling, State's popular football manager, went to the trouble of getting his sister at Stevens college to line up dates for the Spartan gridlers Saturday night. She obliged. The only hitch is State will entertain for only shortly after the game's conclusion.

Rumor — Michigan State's basketball team takes on Fordham in Madison Square Garden. The Spartans will invade Gotham, providing a couple dates (not with rats) are satisfactory to Promoter Ned Irish. State never has appeared in the Garden.

Long race peking. State's principles should conquer Missouri today, but don't tell us we didn't tell you so if the Tigers wind up on the long end of the count.

At Ann Arbor the Michigan Wolves will roar over Pennsylvania. Back home after a month on the road, University of Detroit will return to the victory column against North Dakota. And in the state's other big game Central State will take Wayne.

It Never Rains

Players like Leslie Bruckner bring smiles to their coach. When Bruckner's around, you're almost certain it won't rain. At least it never has on a game day during his high school and college careers to date.

FOOTBALL

bone has left Eddy Pearce as the only man for the position with any experience. However, Harold Lane, Charlie Hill and Dick Paulow are backs who should be able to give Pearce capable support.

SAME LINEUP

The State lineup will in all probability be the same that has seen most of the service in practice this week. It consists of Diehl and Kinck ends, Gargott and Bremer tackles, Rockenback and Griffith guards, Alling center. In the backfield, Pingel and Peavee halves, Diebold quarter and Hanes fullback.

Art Harris, the Walled Lake senior, is slated to serve as Pingel's alternate. Harris is one of the best passers on the squad, and a shifty runner. Jerry Drake and Casey Kiewicki also should see action.

State Crown Harriers' Aim Today

By Joe Simek

Defense of its state intercollegiate championship at Kalamazoo today will serve as a time-out meet for Michigan's hill and dale men in their drive for their sixth consecutive IC4A championship.

The Spartans will meet improved teams from Western State, Wayne, Michigan Normal, but these schools have as yet not finished all-around power to determine the champions.

All of these schools boast one or two exceptionally outstanding stars that will be gunning for the individual crown held by former Captain Ken Waite.

Gets Day Off Determined to pick the strongest possible lineup for the all-important New York classic, Coach Lauren P. Brown, is giving some of his proven stars a holiday in order to give all those that have a possibility of strengthening the team one more chance to show their stuff.

The two big guns of the Spartan power, Dick Gray and Victor Gibson, will be running along with Captain Harry Butler, Warren Anderson, Ed VanAnten, Ed Mills, and Al Morgan.

Glen Vaughn Paces Frosh Win in Run

Glen Vaughn paced the freshmen cross-country team to an easy 19-47 victory over Western State's yearlings yesterday over the State's three-and-one-half mile course. Vaughn, winning 19:04.9 (19:21.6), has become a regular habit for the State's best. But not as regularly for teammate Darrell Bruce, finished second.

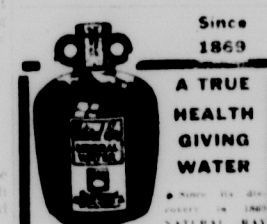

TIGERS

never that the Michigan State maroon can overshadow young Christmas, an 800-pound fight supplement.

Pingel has a strength for his position, throwing a football, and once again, it is in the air where Missouri's expert Pingel and Christmas to explode their shoes.

Michigan State is a definite favorite and will likely win, but it seems a Michigan victory, if it comes, will be a surprise to many.
