

Today's Campus

Lost - One Residence

Michigan State telephone operators are accustomed to being asked unusual questions, but Wednesday afternoon was the first time they had been called upon to tell someone where he lived. It seems that one of the new students on campus arrived at his rooming site, deposited his luggage, and then proceeded to see a little of the town. He intends to make his home for a time.

After wandering around for some time, the man became confused and lost his way home. After searching for the missing address for most of the rest of the afternoon, he called the switchboard in a last desperate effort to locate it.

The operator obliged by telling, as near as he could, from a description of the place and its location, where the lost home could be found. Since for other questions were required, the operator's patience had been severely tested.

Love, Come Back

Birmingham, Michigan, December 30, 1938. President of the Senior Class, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan, I missed you so—why don't you write? You promised you would and now you let me down. Oh, how I miss you! Oh, how I miss you! Oh, how I miss you! Oh, how I miss you! Oh, how I miss you!

and Arithmetic

It is rumored that Prof. J. M. DeHaan, head of the psychology department, is going to be tutored in first grade mathematics for the rest of the term.

Lamb In Shorts

It's not only the Chinese that are clever people. It seems that some of these freshmen pledges are pretty smart too. But Ed (Roadapple) Rhoades has played the trump trick of this year's hand.

Band Names Orchestra; Seniors Launch Party Plans

Out-of-State Band to Play For Formal

Liszt Descendant Known as "Eddie Duchin of Cleveland"

George DuFy, first known as the "Eddie Duchin of Cleveland", will provide the melodies when the Michigan State band holds its annual formal dance from 9 until 12:30 p.m. Friday, January 20, in the Lansing Masonic temple.

Seniors to Give Pix

Hold it . . . That will be the chant of the battery of cameramen who will take a picture of each dancing couple at the Senior ball March 19.

This unusual idea of taking pictures at the prom was hatched by Editor Ray Turner who has made cameras his pet hobby. For Turner it will be the culmination of a four-year ambition—to supervise the pictures of every couple at the biggest party of the year.

By a big margin this is the largest photographic project ever undertaken on any campus. Shutters will click at a rate of three per minute for several hours. A committee has made plans to have the photos ready the following Monday after the formal.

Too, and this is highly important, it will cost you nothing extra for the pix. President Joe Ruhe maintains that his only purpose is to give the class the biggest party possible at the lowest price.

Realizing how picture-conscious the students are, Turner feels that this will afford every dance-goer a permanent individual picture.

Order Your Snow Sports Togs For Winter Fete, Club Urges

Send for your skates and skis. With a busy and varied winter sports program planned for the winter term, the new M.S.C. Outing club suggests that everyone should plan to participate, and should be sure to have proper sports equipment for this term.

Jack Twist, speed skater, and Harold Hecker, Olympic club figure skater from Detroit, emphasize that everyone should have a complete skating outfit of well-sharpened skates, heavy wool sweaters, and mittens in order to attend the Ice Carnival and skating parties to be held by the Outing club on the college rink, and to participate in general skating throughout the winter.

Those who are principally interested in skiing are urged to bring back to school any equipment they have. Joe Gourdie, skier from Pennsylvania, strongly feels that everyone who owns skis, regardless of the kind of skis, should bring them back to school so that the lack of equipment will not hamper the Outing club's program.

Skiers will be offered an alternate program of events with rope to climbing, Cardiol and Brighton already planned, and general skiing closely to Lansing planned for each week.

Other items of equipment such as toboggans, snowshoes, hockey sticks, etc. would also add to the winter sports fun planned for next term.

Hop Features Moon Motif

Formal to be Held In Union Ballroom; Prindle Will Play

Colored lights playing on a huge suspended ball covered with tiny mirrors will create a moonlit scene for the annual formal dance of the M.S.C. Glee club tonight in the Union ballroom.

Patrons for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson, Prof. C. H. Nickle, Prof. and Mrs. A. A. Applebee, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cogan, and glee club director, Fred Patton, and Mrs. Patton.

Patrons will include Prof. and Mrs. R. N. Shaw, the theme of all dances, Prof. and Mrs. L. E. Hastings, and others.

Chairs will be limited to one table couple for each Glee club member.

According to Emerson Olsen, part of the proceeds from the dance will be used for production work on the proposed Glee Club journal which will be held later in the year. Tentative plans are for a review rather than a continuation of the M.S.C. show which was sponsored by the Glee club last spring.

By Their Flagger Footsteps Ye Shall Know Them

All right, some line up. Fifteen freshmen make a ragged line against the wall, present their pledges, and wait anxiously for results. And the results come as sure as the hand of fate. One by one, fifteen pledges are rescued with a vigorous splash, and fifteen freshmen would light across the room.

Fraternity week on State's campus (not Hill-week, kiddies) is an old and time honored custom, carried on to itself in incoming freshmen, men proper respect for their elders. Beginning on mid-night last Wednesday and continuing until midnight Saturday.

Spurway Will Talk To Ohio Convo

Dr. C. H. Spurway, assistant professor in soils, will be guest speaker at the State Floricultural conference at Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio, on Monday, January 9.

Dr. Spurway will also meet with graduate students for discussions. The work of Dr. Spurway, in testing of greenhouse soils to determine plant food levels and diagnosing plant troubles due to soil conditions, has attracted wide attention. His work in treating water for his experiments, in cooperation with Professor Wildon of the horticultural department, has also been of much service to operators of greenhouses.

Illness Fatal To Madam Conrad

Dean's Mother Dies In Lansing Hospital Yesterday Morning

Madam Sara Eugenia Conrad, mother of Dean of Women, Elisabeth Conrad, died yesterday morning at St. Lawrence hospital after an illness of several months.

Following a private service conducted by Dr. N. A. McCann at Woodmere cemetery, Detroit, yesterday afternoon, the body was cremated and the ashes sent to Kansas City, Mo. A memorial service will be held at Peoples church at a later date.

She married Colburn Powell Conrad of Virginia, a professor of chemistry and metallurgy at the State of Michigan, in 1895.

Outing Club Lays Plans

Beale, Townsend, Hansen, and Twist To Be Officers

Continuing and tentative plans for the M.S.C. Outing club were approved today by the officers of the club.

Officers of the club elected Thursday are John Beale, president; Jack Twist, treasurer; and Betty Townsend, secretary.

Corsages to Be Worn at Prom

Corsages will definitely be allowed at the State Prom, it was announced last night by Harold E. Phelan, chairman of the dance.

Due to the fact that we have a better known band than in previous years, we should not include corsages with the tickets, but there will be no charge on them. An act last night at a meeting of an executive committee.

Patrons for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson, Prof. C. H. Nickle, Prof. and Mrs. A. A. Applebee, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cogan, and glee club director, Fred Patton, and Mrs. Patton.

Montague to Be First Of Winter Speakers

Sydney R. Montague, former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will appear as the first speaker of the winter term Monday night, January 9, in Peoples church.

His talk, "Under Northern Lights", will contain descriptions of his two and a half years as a patrolman in frozen Ballinland in the shadow of the North Pole. He will also relate some of his experiences as a navigator and interpreter with the Hudson Strait Arctic Expedition.

Ruhe Names Senior Ball Chairmen

Committee Members Also Appointed; Plan To Have Name Band

Joe Ruhe, president of the class of 1939, largest senior class in the history of M.S.C., made known last night chairmen and members of nine committees to assist Clarence Dennis, general chairman, in planning the annual senior ball slated for March 19.

Favors will be unique. A studio full of State News photographers under the direction of Editor Ray Turner will be on hand to photograph every couple to attend the ball. Two photographs will be given to each couple.

Although committees have not been previously announced, major plans for the ball have been formulated by Joe Ruhe and Clarence Dennis since the beginning of fall term.

Said Ruhe at the senior ball, "We are tending all efforts toward making the biggest name band available to our budget. It is present plans to include the 1939 senior ball will be literally the largest this college has seen."

A list of the chairmen and their committees follows:

Figures Show Enrollment Increase

With winter term enrollment reaching a total of 3,311, an increase of 12 per cent over winter enrollment of last year was announced yesterday by the registrar's office.

Tentative figures showed the percentage of increase was the same as the fall term percentage of increase after the fall term year ago. Peak enrollment in fall term of the current school year was 3,818 regularly enrolled students including extension students.

More than 77 additional non-resident students are expected, boosting the winter term enrollment to approximately 3,337.

In light of this term enrollment, the number of students who enrolled for the fall term but did not return for the winter term was extremely low, officials said, totaling only about seven per cent.
