Classes Nominate 84 Candidates for College Primary Election

Student Council OK's Green Helmet, New Soph Honorary

Greening, Lifsey, and Kingscott To Serve as Officers; Mitchell Names J. H. Husted Adviser

Green Helmet, new sophomore men's honorary, will assume its place among other campus honoraries as a result of final approval of its constitution by the Student Council Tuesday.

Richard Greening, Ludington Ag student, will serve this year as first president of the organization. Other officers include John Lifsey, Flint liberal arts student, vice president, and Jack Kingscott, East Lansing engineering, secretary-treasurer.

Today's Campus

Asylum Bait

The man seemed slightly nutty. He came bustling into the State News office, both hands full of spattering words.

"Not until noon. Can you imagine that? But tell them to leave their dimes in mid-air when Beaumont hits twelve, for they'll be read then on the dot," he yelled.

"But it's the best one yet," he chattered on. "Full page of pictures of the J. Hop. The winner of the contest, too. Four different colors on the news-first time it was ever used."

Unstoppable, he continued over our protests. "Funniest things you ever saw—the pictures of MSC in his way back when they're there, he."

Finally the man in white jackets came to remove him, and his identity was revealed. "None other but Gerald Winter, slightly enthusiastic about the Spartan which goes on sale today, but fuming because of mechanical delay which prevents copies from arriving on campus until noon."

It's Chess a Game

Gather your knights, queens, and pawns, children, and get into the midst of the all college chess tournament.

The Michigan State college chess club is sponsoring the first campus chess tournament in recent years, and urges all students interested to join in the fun.

Only club members are allowed to participate, but membership may be easily obtained by contacting any active at the official battle grounds in the men's lounge in the Union.

Leo Zakowski, president, and Arthur Sinclair, vice president, are arranging the pairings.

Campbell is Coming

There will be plenty of fun in store for those who attend the Student club party Friday night in the student parlors of the Peoples church.

One of the foremost humorists and entertainers in the YMCA is scheduled to appear at this meeting. He will lead in games, singing, and stunts besides addressing the group.

He is George Campbell who makes it a habit to roam the country and attend YMCA camps and clubs. One of his specialties is song-leading. Every summer he leads a boys' choir of some two hundred voices.

Everyone is welcome to attend the meeting. There will be a lunch served during the program.

Study in Blue

Devising a remedy to offset the current mid-term blues among engineering students, Tau Beta Pi national engineering honorary will hold a free tutoring class from 5:00 to 6:00 p. m. in 105 Olds hall. Any engineering student who wishes aid is urged to attend the sessions.

GM Personnel Worker Interviews Students

Kenneth A. Meade, personnel worker of General Motors Educational Trend department, interviewed 15 applicants from the Engineering and business administration departments for jobs Monday.

The applications are for positions in June on General Motors staff. Engineers are chosen for engineering jobs and business students for administration positions.

Agnew Will Swing For Officers

Military Ball Set For February 21; Will Be Closed

Charlie Agnew and his orchestra will swing out at the annual closed Military Ball, to be held February 21 in the Masonic temple, it was announced today.

The dance, sponsored by the Officers' club, will be open to reserve officers, with preference being given to former members of the college staff. A limited number of tickets will be available to reserve officers not connected with the college. All those wishing to attend are requested to make reservations prior to the party, officials announced.

Agnew and his "Music of the Road" will bring 14 entertainers to State, including three vocalists. A feature of the orchestra is the use of chimes, exactly like those of Westminster tower, to announce the time throughout the evening.

Today, at 25 years of age, Block is known as one of the youngest band leaders to rise to heights in an amazingly short space of time.

Block and his band have been featured weekly over the airwaves of NBC, CBS, and Mutual broadcasting networks.

Tower Guard Will Start Campaign For Scholarship

Tower Guard will open a four-day campaign today to acquire money for its annual scholarship to some freshman girl who is working in an off-campus home.

This year's program will be centered around a candy sale from desks in Ag hall, Morrill hall, and the Home Ec building.

In the past years various ways of obtaining the money for the scholarship have been conceived, such as dances or pledge drives. However, this year they have adopted the slogan—"The way to a lady's heart is through a box of candy" and will concentrate all efforts on this sale, which lasts through Tuesday.

Mermaids and Davy Jones To be Topic of Lecture

By Marjorie Alkire

Living with the fish, stumbling over coral, and saying boo to the sharks ought to make one a first cousin to Neptune. If it does, Max Gene Nohl must at least be on friendly terms with the God of the Sea.

Max Nohl is a professional diver who has done much marine salvage, undersea exploration, and photographic work. He will be the next speaker on the student lecture course when he appears in the Peoples church next Tuesday night, February 14.

Inventing a self-contained helium diving suit, perhaps the only major development in this field since the introduction of the first diving apparatus in 1937, is one of the important things that Nohl has done. The suit allows for the first time the use of artificial air for high pressure work.

In December, 1937, he broke the world's record by going down 426 feet in Lake Michigan clothed in his invention. He is also the inventor of a diving helmet which is similar to the one invented by Dr. Beebe except that the device is self-contained and uses helium instead of air.

Last April the diver went to the West Indies where he made underwater motion pictures in natural colors. In June he returned to take more. These pictures will compose the basis of his lecture here.

Nohl is 28 years old and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Career of Varsity Ball Maestro Is Success Story

Best Block, who will maestro for the Varsity Ball Friday night, says he believes that he inherited his love for music from his parents.

At the age of five, Best's parents bought him a violin, and his musical education was begun. Four years later he was considered a finished musician.

Upon entering high school, Best had talents by that time well-known in town, was asked to lead the school orchestra.

Upon graduating from Woodmere, a Long Island high school, his one ambition was to have an orchestra of his own. His idol was Rudi Vallee. At every chance he got, Best practiced on his violin, and soon earned himself a set of trap drums.

Area Officer To Inspect

Major General Ford To Review State's ROTC Unit Friday

Major General Ford, who assumed command of the Sixth Corps area, November 5, 1938, will inspect State's ROTC unit tomorrow afternoon.

Commander General Ford, who is now stationed in Chicago, is making his annual tour of inspection of the ROTC units of his area.

Ford is often referred to as the "typical soldier," having attended Ohio State university, and the United States War college. He received the Distinguished Service medal for meritorious work during his services as a second lieutenant in the Spanish-American war, and as a captain in the World War.

The corps area commander has served in the army for some 40 years, and has been cited for valor, as indicated by his rising in the ranks during this period.

Students Told U. S. Lags in Surveys

Talbert Abrams, president of Abrams Aerial Surveys of Lansing, addressed forestry and engineering students on the "Relation of Aerial Survey to Forestry" in the Hort lecture room Tuesday evening.

Due to war scares, the European countries are far ahead of the United States in aerial surveys, according to Abrams who was in Europe during the recent crisis when German troops marched into Czechoslovakia.

Major A. C. Stanford, head of the Michigan State ROTC unit, announced yesterday that Mark H. Doty, field artillery, has received a promotion in rank from captain to major.

The promotion was made January 1, and took effect two weeks ago.

Doty Named Major In ROTC Promotion

Major A. C. Stanford, head of the Michigan State ROTC unit, announced yesterday that Mark H. Doty, field artillery, has received a promotion in rank from captain to major.

The promotion was made January 1, and took effect two weeks ago.

Ag Council Honors Five At Banquet

Yovonovitz, Mitchell Given Scholarship, Activities Plaques

Highest awards given yearly by Ag council for scholarship and activities were presented to Rudolph Yovonovitz, Gary, Ind., forestry senior, and James G. Mitchell, senior Ag engineering major from Holtz, at the All-Ag Achievement banquet in the Union ballroom last night.

Dean E. L. Anthony presented the plaques to the honored men. Yovonovitz won his honor for excellent all scholastic work, while the award to Mitchell was given for participation in student activities.

Frances Elliott, sophomore veterinary student from Columbia, became the first woman in many years to win the award for highest scholarship during her freshman year.

Miles Newell, Durham sophomore, won the Alpha Zeta scholarship cup for highest grades among non-students during his freshman year.

Robert Howard, two-year short course man from Arlington, Ohio, was honored as the outstanding short course student in scholarship and all activities.

Dr. William J. Hale of the Dow Chemical company spoke to the 300 Ag students and faculty members. He was introduced by James G. Hovey, dairy extension specialist, who was moderator.

Edith Osborn placed electrons on the electric organ and Winifred D. Holley, graduate student from Holt, gave imitations of Bob Burns.

Carl Moore, senior Ag major from Quincy, president of Ag council, had charge of the banquet. He was aided by three other council members and two faculty men. Dean Anthony presented all awards. H. W. Tenney, director of short courses, selected the short course award winner.

Honored guests at the banquet were members of the four college judging teams, who competed in intercollegiate contests last term. The four teams were dairy products, George Buckingham, Bentley Gilbert, Blake Harrison, Duane Moore, George Nielsen, and Duane Stephenson. In Gould, instructor in dairy manufacturing, coached the team.

Dairy husbandry, Martin Bath, Jr., Paul Bryan, Francis Campau, and Kenneth Snee, Coach, was Russell Harwood, assistant professor of dairy husbandry. Farm crops, Wayne Fagg, Clarence Gentry, Layton Nelson, and Tom Thacker. Assistant professor H. R. Pettigrew coached this team.

Animal husbandry, Tom Bust Arden Foster, Blake Knick, John Little, Lattie Littlefield, Ned Marston, Carl Moore, and Curtis Weaver. George J. Propp, animal husbandry instructor, was coach of the team.

There will be two classes, one for advanced and one for beginning students. The advanced class will meet Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 3 to 4 p. m., between February 29 and March 31.

Those interested are requested to notify the cavalry office before February 18. No new members in the beginning class will be accepted after February 25.

Attendance will be limited to 30 members in each class, Griffith stated.

Other speakers were W. C. Dabson, director of horticulture, Dow Chemical company; G. F. Stauder, refrigeration engineer, Wesseler and Campbell company; Max Smith, manager, Milling Fruit exchange, and John Handy, Soda, William Schaeffer, Sparta, and Thomas Mox, Ravenna, fruit growers.

Members of the economics department and their wives will be guests at a party next Saturday evening in the faculty dining room on the third floor of the Union.

Dr. G. N. Motts will show 1,400 feet of film taken during his trip made last summer from New York to New Orleans by boat, by train to San Francisco and the coast, and his return to New York by way of the Panama Canal.

Frolickers to Hold Audition Tonight

Auditions for the Michigan State college Frolic of the Arts will be held tonight in the WKAR radio studio on the fourth floor of the Home Ec building.

The Frolic program will be aired at 2:15 Saturday afternoon in the Union ballroom. A tea dance to the music of Art Howard's orchestra will follow the air presentation from 3 to 4:30 p. m.

Eight Will Appear In Detroit Meet

Eight members of the Agricultural division will be on the program of the first regional meeting of the American Society of Sugar Beet Technologists of Eastern United States and Canada, in the Hotel Statler at Detroit on February 9 and 10.

Those men attending are: Prof. C. E. Miller, H. L. Kohns, J. G. Lill, R. L. Cook, P. M. Harmer, F. W. Werner, F. M. Atchley, and H. A. Berg.

Clerk Goes to Columbus

Lester Brogan, stock room clerk in the chemistry department, has been called to Columbus, Ohio, because of the death of his grandmother.

With diagnosis of only one new undulant fever case Wednesday, authorities believe the backbone of the infection, which resulted in the death of Arthur Goldberger Friday, has been broken.

The new case swells the total confined in the college hospital for the disease to 24. All patients are reported improving and none of them is in danger, hospital attendants report.

"I don't understand modern music, and I don't feel like understanding it." This is the opinion of Efram Zimbalist, world famous violinist, who will appear in joint concert with the college symphony orchestra tonight at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Mr. Zimbalist explained in an interview to the State News that he feels ultra-modern music lacks the main ingredients of music—especially melodic line. His favorite composers are the classicalists, with Brahms and Beethoven leading the list.

The violinist cited Russia as an example of the trend away from this type of music, saying that at the time of the revolution there were musical innovations as well as a political upheaval. Now, however, he says that the Russians are turning back to classical music, realizing its greater depth of expression and feeling.

Oriental audiences, especially the Chinese, the artist found especially interesting. He thinks that there is not nearly so much difference between the repertoire of European and American audiences as between the Oriental and Occidental.

"The Chinese are very eager to hear the concert," he disclosed, and they accomplish great objects in their attempt to understand, even being their babies. He added that the babies are not old-fashioned to the artist, because they seldom cry. He has found that Oriental people prefer classical music, but they are very polite and never show their displeasure.

The artist's present concert tour includes, including cities and dates, the following: Chicago, Feb. 10; St. Paul, Feb. 11; Minneapolis, Feb. 12; Detroit, Feb. 13; Cleveland, Feb. 14; Columbus, Feb. 15; Cincinnati, Feb. 16; Philadelphia, Feb. 17; New York, Feb. 18; Boston, Feb. 19; Washington, Feb. 20; Baltimore, Feb. 21; Pittsburgh, Feb. 22; Newark, Feb. 23; New Haven, Feb. 24; Hartford, Feb. 25; Springfield, Feb. 26; Worcester, Feb. 27; Providence, Feb. 28; Boston, Feb. 29; New York, Feb. 30; Philadelphia, Feb. 31.

Mr. Zimbalist arrived on the Michigan State campus yesterday morning. He spent the afternoon rehearsing music students and seeing the campus and will spend most of this afternoon rehearsing the Beethoven Concerto in D major which he will play with orchestral accompaniment. During the morning he will visit various music classes.

Honor Group Inducts 31

Swing-Out Party For New Members Stated for March 1

Tau Sigma will hold an induction "swing-out" party and a banquet for new members on March 1 at seven o'clock in the final election to be held next week later. The two men and two women receiving the highest votes will run for positions on the Union board.

Blue Key Plans Presentation

Blue Key, junior men's honorary fraternity, will award a cup to the "outstanding Spartan" of the Temple university-Michigan State basketball game Wednesday night.

Blue Key members held nominations for "outstanding Spartan" at a special meeting Sunday, but the name of the recipient will be withheld until time for the presentation.

It is hoped that Pres. Robert W. Shaw will make the award, although such plans are tentative. The award will be made between halves at the last game of the sport season.

Plans for the closed party in the forestry cabin were also discussed, and the date was set for February 18. Warren Strong, Walter Mack, and Othello Meyer were appointed to the social committee in charge of party arrangements.

Bacty Honorary Elects Mack

Walter Mack, 40 Yet from Sault Ste. Marie, was elected president of Sigma Alpha Beta, bacteriology honorary, at a general meeting last night. Other officers elected were Norm Henderson, vice-president; Kenneth N. V., secretary; and Edell Regan, treasurer.

Frosh Select Five to Run For Prexy

Three Classes Name Primary List to Seek Council, Board Posts

A primary ballot containing 84 names tentatively will face Michigan State students at the all-college primary election, Tuesday, February 21, as a result of nominations at class meetings yesterday.

Freshmen nominated primary candidates for class officers to serve for the rest of the year as well as candidates for next year's Student Council and Union board. Juniors and sophomores nominated candidates for the Student Council and Union board only.

The list is not official, however, since additional candidates may be nominated by petition, and the eligibility of the candidates will not be checked until today.

At the primary election, the six candidates from the junior class for Student Council receiving the highest votes will run in the final election to be held next week later. The two men and two women receiving the highest votes will run for positions on the Union board.

From the freshman class, the two highest men will run for the Student Council, and the two highest women will run for the Union board.

INTRODUCES SPEAKER

Mrs. R. M. Bogie, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker at the evening. Doctor Watson, in addition to her capacity as director of the Detroit Children's center, Doctor Watson is also a special lecturer at the University of Michigan and Wayne university, a nationally known speaker, and a writer on mental hygiene. She chose as her subject, "The Child of Today." Doctor Watson described the present as a time of shifting social standards, fluctuating economic conditions, insecurity and fear of the future, and rushing and hurrying pace of life, in which the business of living together is harder than ever before. This is the background in which our children must live, she stated. She cited "The Citadel" by A. J. Cronin, the play "What a Life" and "The Wilderness" to show how present conditions are being borne upon young people to force them into patterns predetermined by adults.

TO SEE CHANGE
The next ten years should see a big change in the field of education, if we have teachers in our schools who have had training in mental hygiene and if they are allowed to give training in state-manship. Education is no longer

Loading Spots Are Changed

East Lansing residents who use the bus for their travels between Lansing and East Lansing will be further inconvenienced starting Sunday, as a result of action taken by the Lansing city council last Monday night.

Public inconvenience will be increased greatly by the move, which will allow the buses of the Lansing City lines to stop only at the already over-crowded intersections of Capitol avenue and West Michigan, and Grand street and East Michigan. The new routing completely bars the Lansing City lines from their accustomed loading point at the corner of Washington and Michigan avenues.

College Library Gets New Mag

Readers in East Lansing will now have access to the monthly magazine known as "The Romenian Digest" in the college library. Norman S. Flock of 917 Sunset lane, a local member of the Romenian order, has recently received notification from the organization's headquarters in San Jose, California, that this magazine will be made available each month in the college library.

"The Romenian Digest" is the monthly periodical issued by the Romenian order, an educational, philosophical, non-religious fraternity. The magazine deals with discussions of many philosophical and scientific subjects.

SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scouts

Troop 3, led by Mrs. E. W. Shaver, is working on the hostess badge. At the last meeting the troop worked out birthday party notes. Mrs. H. G. Ferguson is assisting with the badge. The troop will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. E. R. Roberts where they will practice table setting and etiquette.

Troop 16, led by Mrs. Stevens, is learning folk dancing. Next Monday the troop will go to Longfellow at Walnut Hills if the weather permits.

King Winter Ready To Take Another Poke at City

"Here! Who said that East Lansing is located below the arctic circle?" Anyway, if you think that it's cold this morning, just wait until this afternoon or tonight. Another blizzard is raging on its way here from the Alaska-Gadagad. Say so you had better hurry up and get your coats, hats, gloves and old red mittens from the cedar chest.

ELECTION

Arthur Fredrick, Bernard Steinhilber, Margaret Johnson, Jean Sothner, Ronald Noyes, and James Benson. Those nominated for the Student council are Fred Quigley, Robert Page, Fred Hanson, Robert LaDro, Alena Laves, and Robert Fiedling.

All of the above named candidates were nominated at the class meetings yesterday. However, a candidate may have his name placed on the ballot upon the filing of a petition, signed by not less than 30 or more than 75 students of his or her class, with the president of the Student council not later than seven days before the primary election. Those already nominated need not file a petition.

W. B. Carlson of 333 M. A. C. left the city yesterday enroute to Chicago where he will remain a few days on business matters.

Newcomers Club To Hold Meet

Newcomers' club will hold its February meeting at 2 p. m. Friday, February 10, in the Union building.

Bridge and Chinese checkers will be played. Mrs. Ben Eusemia is chairman of the arrangement. Assisting her are Mrs. Raymond Clark, Mrs. D. C. Line, Mrs. J. F. Davis, Mrs. Eucette Hagen, Mrs. C. E. ## YOUR NEWS OF THE WEEK

A silver tea was held yesterday by the Women's society of East Lansing at the Peoples church. The Young Matrons guild acted as hostesses. The hostesses were Mrs. R. R. Bradford, Mrs. E. K. Osborn, Mrs. Herman Wengarden, and Mrs. S. G. Bergquist.

The committee of arrangement consisted of Mrs. Cecil Pearson, chairman, Mrs. J. A. Davidson, Mrs. Stevens Decker, Mrs. D. V. Devereaux, Mrs. I. W. Hall, and Mrs. D. G. Elinger.

Parting tea were Mrs. S. G. Bergquist and Mrs. B. F. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Williams of 563 Park Lane motored to Chicago Sunday where Mr. Williams, representative of the state fuel and petroleum company, attended the Shellane Petroleum convention. They returned home yesterday.

Mrs. C. P. Stiles, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Robertson of 765 Collingwood drive, and her husband who have been residing at the Robertson residence, left the city yesterday to make their home in Chelsea, Michigan. Mr. Stiles is to be instructor at the Cassidy Lake Vocational school campus here.

Mrs. John Kuhn, 425 Ardson, entertained 20 guests at a dinner party Sunday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Candel. The decorations followed a Valentine theme. Mrs. Kuhn also entertained twelve friends Monday at a luncheon at the Hunt Food shop. Pink roses were used as decorations.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Shlager returned from a recent month's visit in Mexico City last week. They lived among the Mexicans to get a better understanding of the people and also saw numerous wonderful sights of the city.

Women Hold Memorial Service

The annual memorial service meeting of the East Lansing Women's society was held in the Peoples church Wednesday afternoon, about 200 members attended.

The meeting, held at 2 o'clock in the social hall, included the memorial services for the six members who had died within the last year. An original play presented by Mrs. Mary Rogers and Mrs. Warren Babcock, the regular business meeting, and a tea served after the program in the women's parlors.

The memorial service was presented by Mrs. Cecil Decker, Mrs. A. W. Kinnaman, Miss Janet Gilchrist and Mrs. H. Wengarden. The ladies gave a life history of each deceased member and their activity in the Women's society. After the history of each woman was given a rose was placed in a vase in her memory.

The ladies represented Melvane Bogie and Babcock at a conference of a national organization in New York here with their models to give a fashion show and to take orders. Mrs. Bogie presented the order more conservative styles worn by older ladies here and abroad. The type of hat was represented as being the persons who wear them. Mrs. Babcock's presentations were of the ultra modern theme and made from paper mache products.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. B. F. Carter, president of the society.

Shavermen Bow to Owosso Indians in Slow Game

By MAX PHILLIPS
A strong tribe of Indians from Owosso handed the Trojans of East Lansing their second straight defeat as they downed the Shavermen, 35-27, Tuesday night in the East Lansing gym.

Back Weavers free throw game the Trojans an early lead but Warren Crosson forward, scored this lead with a pretty one-hander to put his team out in front with a lead they never relinquished. The tempo speeded up some what in the second quarter with the Trojans employing a faster breaking attack and moving the ball down under the basket for shorter inner shots.

Stink Edwards, lanky Owosso center, began to get hot this period and slipped by the Trojan defense to ram home three consecutive field goals before the Trojans called time out to settle themselves and once again get their defense functioning.

East Lansing flashed its best form of the evening in the fourth period when they suddenly came to life and began to flash a little of their first semester passing and shooting. Ronnie Jean and Ronnie Mead banged away at the basket with considerable success in this period, both connecting for long shots a couple of times.

Ronnie Mead led the East Lansing attack, leaping through field goals for eight points, while Edmonds got 10 points for the winners.

The Trojan Mites also had a bad night as they dropped a close decision to the Owosso seconds, 20-24, in the preliminary game.

Holsinger is Reported Choice of Spartan Athletic Council

Final Decision Rests With State Board of Agriculture However; Meeting Two Weeks
From Today Will Decide It Officially

By GEORGE MASKIN

Michigan State's Athletic Council discussed a successor to Mike Castrol last night, and when the meeting ended, the board picked Joseph Holsinger, now at Dayton university, to fill the opening, it was learned.

The council, which acts only as an advisory board, will put Holsinger's name before the Board of Agriculture when the latter body convenes two weeks from today. There the Holsinger choice probably will pass without any trouble.

Selection of Holsinger became almost certain yesterday when the board of agriculture, who formerly served under Charles Robinson at Kansas, put in a personal call to Holsinger.

Holsinger expressed delight at the possibility of leaving the Spartan staff.

"They certainly have a nice set-up here now, and you won't be able to beat it after that field house is completed," Holsinger said.

MEETING TO YOUNG

At a long meeting with Athletics Director, Joseph H. Young, Holsinger expressed at the council session an interview. He was to return home today to take charge of Dayton's basketball team.

Spartans Face Notre Dame Tracksters

Saturday Meet
Opens Season
For Thineclads

By JOE SIMPK

Spartan trackmen are busy preparing for their first test of the season, Notre Dame at South Bend Saturday night. After this acid test the thineclads will compete in at least one major contest each week.

This will be the first time that State has met Notre Dame in an indoor dual meet at South Bend, although they annually compete there along with the Irish in the U. I. C. indoor championships.

STARS GET TEST

This will give a thorough test for the star contenders in almost every event. Their big gun is Captain Greg Rice who can take care of both the one and two-mile runs and turn in top times in both. However, Rice will have considerable support in distance events.

The Blue and Gold are traditionally strong in the field events and this year they have very capable performers in the pole vault, shot-put and high jump. This year they look strong in the hurdles.

However, State has a crew of fast hurdlers, which points for close finishes in that event. State's chances for timber-topping victories were somewhat dimmed last night as veteran Gayle Robinson came up with a pulled muscle. The injury is not thought to be serious and it is expected that treatment will have him ready for Saturday.

HASSELL

The quarter-mile was also hit in sophomore Don MacLennan is fighting off a touch of the flu.

State will be the strongest in the events where Wilbur Greer will be the favorite. Greer has shown his old-time form in recent time trials.

State's only encounter with Notre Dame in an indoor dual meet took place here in 1935. Essentially, the star of the Spartan team that year and the holder of numerous varsity records, Deacy Ernst, watched the thineclads work out last night. Against the Irish, Ernst, who is now judge advocate of the M. I. A. A., tied the world record in the 40-yard dash, and also set a record in the hurdles.

Play is Even In Dorm League

Play in the Mason-Weiss Hall Basketball league broken even last Monday night in the gymnasium with two teams from each dormitory winning and two losing.

Ward D. Wells had run up the highest score of the evening in defeating Grand 7 by a score of 25-17. Wells had other victor was Ward B over Grand 3, 14-9.

Cagers Coach Complacently Considers Consoling Camp

By MARSHALL DANN

Ben VanAlstyne is a complacent person these days.

Now for a Michigan State coach to be calm and collected at any time is a unique occurrence which, literally speaking, happens once in a blue moon. But for a Spartan coach to be tranquil and unmoved during the height of his season activities is an occasion unparalleled in history.

And still Ben Van Alstyne, varsity basketball coach, is a complacent person.

Sitting idly at his desk in the athletic office yesterday, he was aimlessly fingering through an advertising folder.

Now, with the Michigan game, top spot on a state-studded schedule, coming in but three days, and Marquette and Temple, two other rather tough contests on the books for early in the week, it would seem that VanAlstyne might rather be scanning reports on shot percentages, or other like subject.

But complacent Ben VanAlstyne continues his listless perusal of the advertising folder.

Calmly he exposed the cover, "Sampson's Health Camp," and complacently he observed, "Oh well, maybe I can finish out the schedule, and then go there for a six month's rest. Then on the other hand, I may really get serious about cutting out paper dolls before the season ends two weeks from now."

VanAlstyne's problems for the next week are enough to cause any coach to worry about his sanity. In Michigan Saturday, he faces a team that has yet to find its equal while at full strength. After a whirlwind start, injuries struck a serious blow to the Wolves' hopes, and knocked them way out of the Big Ten race. However, Coach Benne Costerton's lads have served notice that they

SAE Cagers Beat
Delphic Five

Led by the play of Ron Alling Sigma Alpha Epsilon routed Delphic 11-2, in an interfraternity league basketball game Thursday night. Alling collected six points.

Art Howland saved the Delphics from a complete washout when he registered a basket on a short shot midway in the game.

Bill Batschelet, who like Alling plays center, on State's football team, sparked Sigma Nu to a 16-9 triumph over Hesperian. Batschelet hit the mark three times from the floor for six points.

Despite the brilliant work of Francis Kasky, who registered nine points, Phi Chi Alpha bowed to Lambda Chi Alpha, 49-13. Dick Woodruff played a leading role in the Lambda Chi victory, collecting seven points on three baskets and a foul throw.

THING OF PAST

Shin reels will be a thing of the past after Michigan State's trackmen move into the new field house next year.

Records Fall For Frosh Mermen

Records mean nothing to Michigan State's freshman swimming team. The boys consider them just as many numbers to be gotten out of the way as quickly as possible.

This fact is very much evident here when they swam practice in the pool here when practice is in progress. The picture of Jack Haddock, presently studying a stop-watch while some yearling mermen splash another few rounds off the old time is getting to be a familiar scene.

Out of seven events, only three have recorded the efforts of the new recruits. These are the 50-yard free style, the 100-yard free style, and the 100-yard backstroke. The boys set time style marks here when they swam practice last night.

Records have fallen in the 200-yard free style, the 100-yard backstroke, the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke, and the 440-yard free style. The records may have been taken by the swimmers.

Don Farmer, in addition to being the 100-yard backstroke mark, has swum three other records, including the 440 free style and freestyle. These last two were set when he swam 4:23 a mile and 10:07 a mile on Feb. 7.
