

Ag Students Celebrate At Mixer

Dedicate Judging Pavilion at Year's First Social Event Approximately 500 agricultural students, freshmen being in the majority, participated in the informal christening of the new livestock judging pavilion across the river last night.

College apple cider was the double for the traditional champagne. The occasion was the All-Ag Mixer, annual meeting held by the 11 Ag clubs on campus for the purpose of acquainting new students with activities of each organization.

Highlights of the meeting were presentations of the Forestry Club Symposium, Aggregation and the rough and tumble games led by Ben Hennick, director of the M.S.C. Junior Farm Bureau.

For the school year, further activities of Ag students, announced by Carl Weaver, president of Ag Council, are Fall term, Harvest ball, winter term, All-Ag Achievement day, and spring term, Cornucopia ball and Ag Field day.

Bill Knox, junior class president, conducted the balloting of freshmen, sophomore, and junior representatives to Ag Council by members of the various classes.

Election results were as follows: Junior representative, Kenneth Downing; sophomore representative, Ronald Epplerheimer; freshman representative, Allan Vandike.

Ag Rooms Are Renovated

Rooms on the top floor of the Ag building formerly occupied by the physiology labs are now used by the state-wide WPA museum project, the conservation institute and soil conservation.

WPA museum project supervises the building and maintenance of small museum models built to scale.

Three offices are now located in the rear of the large lab. One of these is occupied by Paul Barrell, state land planner, and the other two are occupied by field soil surveyors for the state.

Geologists Set Up Mineral Display A case of mineral displays of fluorescence has just been installed in the basement corridor of Morrill hall by the geology department.

Minerals have been collected over a period of several years, but the special case in which to show them was completed only a week ago by W. P. A. workers.

Displays should prove very valuable to geology students, according to department officials.

Alumnus' Wife Offer to Cheer Lonely Frosh Humanitarianism still lives! And there still are men and women who stay young enough to remember how they felt as bewildered little freshmen at Michigan State.

Registrar R. S. Linton received an unusual and benevolent offer a few days ago. An M.S.C. alumnus of the class of '23, who is taking graduate work here this year, and his wife have decided to adopt freshmen students for weekend periods.

The alumnus, whose name the registrar declined to mention, and his wife are both teachers and have no children of their own. They live in a town about 30 miles from East Lansing.

Remembering how bewildered and homesick they were during their freshman days, they decided that there were probably a large number of M.S.C. freshmen who felt the same way. So here's their proposal.

Any freshman boy or girl or any two freshmen boys or girls may be guests for a weekend at their home. They will call for the students and bring them back again on Sunday night.

The 38 by 56 foot band room is built directly on the ground in order to deaden vibration. It has been used by the band for rehearsals since the opening of school this fall.

Seats are equipped with folding writing arms. The auditorium is equipped with stage facilities and the back wall is built of a special type of sound-resisting block.

On entering guests were directed to the State News booth where "postcards" were given the "tourists." Spartan and Wolverine workers at the next booth, the ship's cabin, added the passport picture.

Kennedy to Replace Injured Pearce In Marquette Game

Sophomores May Rule Backfield With Eddie Pearce definitely out of the Marquette game Saturday, Bill Kennedy, sophomore right halfback, will be called upon to take the Flint veteran's post, it was announced Wednesday by Coach Charley Bachman.

Pearce injured his right ankle during scrimmage Tuesday. At first it was believed that he had merely wrenched his ankle, but when it failed to respond to treatment, team trainer Jack Heggstad indicated that it would be impossible for the stumpy halfback to play against the Golden Avalanche.

Kennedy has been one of the team's most consistent backfield performers to date. Against Wayne university the rugged DeWalter Starnes took Hawthorn's pass for a touchdown, and last Saturday he snatched a pass from the arm of Wyman Davis that resulted in a 65-yard touchdown.

Bachman's second choice for the right halfback post is Victor Beardell, another promising sophomore. Fred Ovingly, Grand Rapids soph, is also being groomed as a substitute for the same position.

Pearce's injury is not the only one that has been plaguing the squad. Ralph Bennett is still limping. Paul Griffith is nursing a bruised leg from the Michigan game and Howard Pound, the big blond wingman from Grand Rapids, is suffering from the effects of a twisted ankle in yesterday's practice.

Myron Masny, veteran guard who seriously wrenched his knee during the first week of practice this fall, is back in uniform, but will confine his activities to limbering up exercises for at least another week.

Pass defense and signal drills were particularly stressed by the coach. FOOTBALL—Page 4

Under the Wire

LONDON—More than commercial significance was attributed by the British yesterday to the new barter agreement signed between Britain and the Soviet Union.

MOSCOW—Finnish diplomats were on the way to Moscow last night to consult with Soviet officials on questions of Russian intervention in Finland.

HELSINKI—Compulsory abandonment of frontier towns was announced by the Finnish government last night. Russian troops with tanks and heavy artillery were reported massed along the border.

WASHINGTON—It was announced here last night that unofficial reports that Norway, Sweden and Finland had asked Washington to intervene with Russia in behalf of Finland were unsubstantiated.

DETROIT—The turbulent auto industry was threatened by another strike yesterday with the notification by Richard Frankenstein, UAW union official, of intention to strike against the Chrysler corporation.

Appeal to Reason

...while upon the desert road to Bagdad, a caravan of Pestilence in the form of a blood-stained devil.

"Why," asked the Arab chief, "do you hasten so to Bagdad?"

"I go to take 5,000 lives," was the answer.

Upon the way back from the city the caravan met Pestilence again. "You deceived me," cried the chief. "Instead of 5,000 lives you took 50,000."

"Nay," replied Pestilence. "I took 5,000 and not one more. It was Fear who killed the rest."

We are not living in the Arabian wastes, nor does Pestilence stalk our land, but still Fear takes its toll and strikes from us our prosperity, freedom, and very lives. Across the seas a bitter war is being fought and though our statesmen have assured us that we need not involve ourselves in that holocaust, the knocking of national knees and the chatter of national teeth may be heard from coast to coast. All about us the war-mongers have begun their doleful dirge, while thousands of so-called "thinking Americans" have adopted a strange fatalism; have resigned themselves to war, violence, and death; have washed their feet and said their prayers. They have become the victims of a strange shibboleth: "We don't want to fight, but . . ."

"But what?" you may ask. They cannot answer. They cannot answer because they don't think straight. They don't think straight because they think with their fears and misgivings rather than with their minds. These fatalists spend their time searching for reasons why America cannot avoid being involved. They regard war as inevitable and seek to rationalize it so that their tender minds may be better cushioned when the storm strikes. They are the type who see the hole and not the doughnut.

"Open minded" they call themselves. "We are not lulling ourselves into a sense of false security." But merely having an open mind is nothing. The object of opening the mind, like opening the mouth, is to shut it again on something solid. The fatalists have opened their minds and shut them on a phantasm of fear.

But why have so many been thus duped? Why so many solid citizens sacrificed at the altars of hysteria? The answer lies in the fact that it is easy to be carried away by fear; resignation is the philosophy of weakness. The fatalists are but pilgrims on the path of least resistance. Courage, stamina, faith, intelligence; these are the requisites of those who would combat this tenacious rot that is so viciously undermining America's independence. The situation cries out for citizens who can mould our destiny, not weaklings who can rationalize our fate.

Let us strike back at this strange fatalism. Let us respond in clear, cold shafts of reason. Repudiate hysteria and resignation; arise from the rut. For, remember, the only difference between a rut and a grave is their dimensions.—Daily Trojan.

5,000 Present at Kreisler Concert

Artist Draws Vociferous Applause

Group of Own Works Closes Program

By ROBERTA APPELGATE
When Fritz Kreisler played Tuesday night 5,000 students and townspeople, drawn by the magic of his name, attended. They stayed, held spell-bound by the magic of his violin.

The fullness and richness of the tone, and the masterly interpretation of each number in all the changing moods was one of the most outstanding points of the concert. The mournful, vibrant quality of the Andante Doloroso movement from the Vivaldi-Kreisler C major concerto, especially when contrasted with gay Allegro Molto, was a deeply moving number which will not be easily forgotten. The inherent melodic and rhythmic beauty of the last two movements of Tchaikovsky's Concerto in D major was clouded by the technical display. The composition would have been more effective if some of the scales, arpeggios, and exercises in double stops had been eliminated.

A group of Kreisler's ever-popular compositions, Cavatina, Shepherd's Madrigal, Gypsy Caprice, Malaguena, and Tambourin Chinois—was the official close of the program. Although these numbers had definite racial origin, each had the distinctive Kreisler touch.

The courtesy and friendliness of the artist, as well as his superb tone and technique, made him extremely popular with the audience. Although he appeared tired, Kreisler was generous with his encores, playing "Schoen Rosemarin" and "Lachentried" and took many bows. He finally had to appear without his violin before the audience would leave.

Mason Hall Teams Score Victories

Passes and long runs were the order in the Dorn league Wednesday night, as all three games wound up with identical scores of 6-0. Mason hall teams dominated the play.

Mason 3 and Abbott 12 put on the best show, with Mason winning out, 6-0, after a spectacular battle. Legas Nedeau counted the only touchdown after intercepting a short pass.

The other two contests lacked the thrills of the first game, but the scores were just as close. Mason 1 handed Abbott 10 a 6-0 setback and Mason 2 defeated Wells 11 by the same score.

Hilltoppers Set

Seek Revenge for Previous Defeats By Bachman-Coached Machine

By BOB MATSON

Anxious to avenge a defeat that hurt more than any other last fall, Marquette university's Golden Avalanche invades Macklin field Saturday seeking their first victory of the current campaign.

The Hilltoppers had their homecoming spoiled last year when the fighting Spartans came from behind to take a 20-14 hard fought victory at Milwaukee.

Wolverines Win In Independent Play

Three close games featured Independent league play Tuesday. The Wolverine team defeated Hamilton House 6-0 in the initial game when Whyte received a pass for the only score.

Evergreen Manor drove the Gophers into their holes with a 6-0 defeat when Sloan snaggled a pass for the score.

Bakersburg defeated Louise Campbell by virtue of a decision. The game was a scoreless tie but the Bakersburg team received the win with a single first down.

Wednesday's games featured a win by Carr's Kids over the Eagles 6-0, with Carr scoring.

The Trojans downed the Wildcats 12-0, with touchdowns by Reed and Stienke.

The Panthers bowed to the Seoners 20-0, with Arrington and Lee sharing honors for the Seoners.

That defeat still rankles the Golden Horde and Coach Paddy Driscoll and from all indications State is going to be in for a busy Saturday afternoon.

Definitely stronger this year, Marquette boasts added power both on the first team and in the reserve ranks. Driscoll has more material than he has previously had in his coaching term at Marquette but to date has been unable to get the Hilltop offense clicking.

REVENGE LINEUP

Starting at the end positions against State will probably be two junior veterans, Don Vonberg, speedy pass-snaring flanker, and Gil Thomson, strong defensive end and a good pass grabber.

STRONG AT GUARDS

Least of Line Coach Tarzan Taylor's worries is his guard situation where Kinsey is filling in well for the injured veteran Dave Braden and Bob Kennedy, Green Bay, Wis., powerhouse takes care of the other guard post.

Ray Apolski, Chicago junior, is rated one of the country's finest centers and will well take care of the pivot slot.

Driscoll's backfield material is abundant and promising and once his attack clicks a couple of his backs are going to be heard from.

CONVERTED FULLBACK

Leading the parade is Bill Phillips, converted this year from fullback to quarterback by Backfield Coach Red Dunn. Phillips is a fine smasher with power to spare and an excellent blocking back.

At right half is Reggie Collagelli, best of Marquette's halfbacks who is a fine runner and passer. Teaming with him at the other half is Richardson, the sophomore who has pushed veterans Johnny Malloch and Norm Woods out of the picture.

Benzel, the other sophomore starter, will be at the fullback position having ousted Steve Sekowski, veteran line-bucker.

Los Angeles City college students drank 1,500 bottles of pop daily during the recent California heat wave.

Plaster Bill

Bill Kennedy, bruising right half will fill in for the injured Eddie Foster, Nautsday.

coaching staff in yesterday's workout. At the same time the Davis twins, Wyman and Wilford, continue to ride high in the first string backfield. Sideline observers saw the possibility of an all-sophomore ball carrying combination starting against the Hilltoppers.

Kennedy is a sure starter in Pearce's absence and as the work of the Davis twins and Roman Kaman, fullback from Grand Rapids, win the praises of the coaches, it appears more evident that this quartet will get the starting call.

Protecting the right end position are such flankers as Lawrence Meyers, Bob Campbell and Mike Miketane.

Kobs Happy as Frosh Squad Shows Potential Power

There is more than just a casual glance being thrown in the direction of the freshman football camp this fall. And why not?

With Michigan State's entire football machine in the midst of a rebuilding process, Spartan coaches, varsity and freshman alike, have displayed more than just mild interest in the men of '43.

The somewhat unusual smiling countenance of Freshman Coach John Kobs leads one to presume that all is well in the yearling den this fall.

In the first place, an enthusiastic turnout cheered Coach Kobs and his assistants. Secondly the fine physical condition into which the 1939 squad has worked itself has the coach and his assistants taking heart. And thirdly, the great abundance of good material for all positions has brightened all pre-season expectations.

Taking care of the right guard position are five stalwart graders in the persons of Edgar Arnsow, Lee Halstead, John Birchell, Arnold Matthews and Carl Stafford.

Outstanding candidates among some 20 odd right tackles are August Odging, Dick Charon, Willard Cross, Dick Margrum and Tom Johnson.

Protecting the right end position are such flankers as Lawrence Meyers, Bob Campbell and Mike Miketane.

Harriers Open With Penn Saturday

Saturday's cross country race with Penn State at 10:30 a. m. should bring out some interesting developments concerning the present strength and future possibilities of the Spartan gallopers.

With Captain Dick Foster not ready for heavy-duty action, Lauren P. Brown's position as the definite word that the team turned into a two-man hunt for the definite word that the team will be ineligible for the term.

The loss of the sturdy trooper leaves Brownie without the services of his two outstanding teammates of a year ago. Darwin had been declared ineligible at the start of the season. Vaughn, who is a seasoned campaigner, distance running, was a certainty to plug one of the gaps in the varsity team.

The Natany Louns will be led by Billy Smith, the IC-4A champion and a former Spartan team man star. The Lions' score was a 24-31 reversal at the hands of Manhattan, the IC-4A team title holders. The score indicates that both teams will be being contenders for the coveted prize and the Spartans' showing Saturday may indicate their chance for a victory in the eastern six next month.

Do you know the Kaywoodie Flavor?

Some pipes are "in a hurry" - fast and furious - consume tobacco like a four-alarm fire racing through a hay-mow. Kaywoodie takes it easy, as a good pipe should. Coaxes out the flavor of your favorite leaf. Makes it mellow. Smooth. . . Just for fun, we tried to measure this famous but elusive Kaywoodie Flavor in a good tough laboratory exam, and found (1) Kaywoodie's smoke is actually cooler than other pipes, cooler than mouth temperature - never hot or irritating (2) the smoke is what the French call "dry" and free from bitter juices. So get to know the Kaywoodie Flavor - now! Show us above, No. 76B.
