Missionary Will Speak Tonight

Dr. R. V. Bingham to Talk On Ethiopia In Union at 5 P. M.

Dr. R. V. Bingham, Canadian statesman and missionary, will lecture Thursday, November 2, at 5:10 p. m., in the main dining room of the Union on "Darkness in Ethiopia."

Doctor Bingham will speak under the auspices of the Spartan Christian Fellowship. He is head of the Sudan Interior Mission, with nearly 300 workers now in the field.

Forty years ago, Bingham and two companions went to the Sudan territory to establish a mission in an untouched field. Lacking his companions to tropical diseases, he was forced to return home.

After several unsuccessful attempts to return, he received financial aid from an American servant girl, and succeeded in founding a mission.

He also established missions in Ethiopia, where he constructed hospitals and made provision for treatment of many leprosy patients. In the Italian invasion of 1935, he was expelled from the country. He will tell his experiences in this field.

Robert Bower, president of the sponsoring association, invites all to attend free of charge.

Huskiness Is Police Ad Standard

Dean R. C. Huston, dean of Applied Science, today outlined the physical requirements which students planning to major in Police Administration must meet.

Because of the four-year military training requirement, Dean Huston explained, it is necessary that the applicant upon entering be qualified to pass the physical examination required of advanced military students. It is necessary, also, he added, in order to be assured of the privilege of continuing beyond the sophomore year that the student meet the following requirements:

First, a 1.5 point credit ratio in basic military science, show a satisfactory academic standing, and pass the standard physical examination of the Michigan State Police (minimum height, 5 feet 10 inches; minimum weight, 150 pounds, etc.).

Dean Huston stated that "this system was placed in effect at the time of the withdrawal of state aid."

Ethier Seis, director of the State Hill players, will present two short playlets, "Abroad at Home" and "Solution," at the Hill extension meeting Sunday, November 5, at 7 p. m., in the Union faculty dining room.

After the plays, Danny Rosenbaum and Bernard Goldsmith will lead group singing. Arnold Taylor, in charge of the musical program, will give a violin solo, and Miss Baylis will sing. Class delegates will be elected.

Theater Group Elects Heads

The organization, which recently had its constitution ratified and accepted by the college, will appoint a student adviser from Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics honorary.

Membership requirements for new members will be based on participation in one major or two minor roles in a production within the year, service on one technical crew, and regular attendance.

Minister to Speak At Lutheran Meet

Rev. Fredrick Schlotz, executive secretary of the Lutheran Student Service department of the American Lutheran Conference and national adviser of the Lutheran Student association of America, will be main speaker at the opening meeting of the three-day Lutheran Student conference of the Ohio Valley region at 8 p. m. in faculty dining room, Union, Friday, Nov. 3.

Alph Phi Omega To Visit U of M

Members of Alpha Phi Omega will go to Ann Arbor tonight to hold a meeting and pledge ceremony at the University Union.

Students of the university, who have been connected with the Boy Scouts and are interested in forming a chapter on their campus will be present at the meeting.

Police 'Do It With Mirrors' In Speedster Checkup

"It's done with mirrors." That was the explanation East Lansing police gave Tuesday of the traffic survey now being conducted on East Grand River avenue.

The check, which officers described as a "diagnosis of the Grand River speeding problem," is being made in an effort to find effective methods of stopping speeding within city limits. The checking apparatus is set up in the 800 block of East Grand River avenue, opposite Mason hall. Speed limit at this point is 35 miles per hour.

"We have two mirrors on tripods 220 feet apart," the officer in charge stated in explaining the system. "Both are set at angles to reflect passing cars. We time each car on the one-eighth mile stretch, starting the watch as the car's reflection flashes across the first mirror, and stopping as the car passes the second mirror. Charts transform the time in seconds into miles per hour."

Results so far have substantiated the police department's belief that more speed limit signs and stricter enforcement are necessary in that vicinity. Speeds up to 60 miles an hour have been recorded, with the greatest number of drivers traveling between 31 and 36 miles per hour.

Several suggestions for the cultivation of bad voices are made by Van Dusen. These exercises should be practiced by everyone who has trouble speaking or in making others understand him, he says. A pleasant voice is a social asset and therefore its culture should go on many people's "must" list, he states.

Van Dusen Has Article In 'Coronet'

"Cup Your Ears and Speak" is the title of an article by Dr. C. R. Van Dusen of the Michigan State college speech department, appearing in the November issue of Coronet magazine.

Doctor Van Dusen stresses that voice should fit the personality of the individual. The tall, broad shouldered, thoroughly masculine man should not speak in a high, weak voice, he says.

That the changing of such a voice is impossible is an erroneous idea, according to Van Dusen. Few persons have physical defects of the vocal cords, the article stresses, but most bad voices are due only to improper training.

Without advertising or publicity, 1000 gallons of cider are being sold every week at the Hort building. Three out of every 10 gallons are bought by hotels, restaurants, grocery stores, and parties. At present, the college fruit lab is deluged with orders for about 300 more bushels of cider per week than it can supply.

Believing it was possible to make a more transparent, brilliant, sparkling cider, a staff set out eight years ago to prove its point.

In the process he developed a cider free from decay and worms are used. After an acid bath the fruit is run into a press. Most commercial concerns bottle the juice as it comes from the press after a preliminary filtering. This method tends to produce a muddy juice.

Pan-Hel Alumni To Hold Meeting

Lansing and East Lansing Pan-Hellenic alumni will hold their first joint meeting of the year in the Green room of the Hunt Food Shop, Saturday, Nov. 4.

Two representatives from each of 18 national societies will be present at the luncheon and business meeting starting at 1 p. m.

Table and other decorations will follow the fall motif.

Petroleum Geologist to Address Geogangue

E. A. Newman, state petroleum geologist for the Geological Survey, will be main speaker at the Geogangue meeting tonight at 7:30 in room 11 Morrill hall.

College Fire Brigade Well Organized

What would be done if a fire were to break out on campus? Few students could answer this question, although behind the scenes of ordinary campus life there exists an elaborate and detailed plan which can be whipped into action at the first notice.

Odd as it may first seem there are no fire alarms on the campus. All employees of the college have standing instructions to call central in case of fire and the fire departments of East Lansing and Lansing will be immediately called into action. Assisting the fire departments would be the campus police force which, according to Harold Haun, chief of the East Lansing police force, is well acquainted with the layout of the campus. They would assist firemen in locating the fire and handling crowds.

Prexy Shaw Goes Hollywood—In Signing Name

President Robert Shaw would make a good movie star when it comes to giving out autographs. Tuesday night his patience was tested as well as his ability to withstand writers' camp.

Between 8:30 p. m. and 10:30 p. m. about three dozen Lansing and East Lansing high school students invaded his home to secure his autograph during a scavenger hunt.

And far from becoming vexed the president enjoyed it all, he said. He felt then Snowapple from his orchard and had a nice visit. And incidentally the scavenger hunters got their autographs.

Ag Party Set For Friday

Harvest Ball, annual fall term party sponsored by Ag council, will be held tomorrow night in the Union ballroom beginning at 9 p. m.

First semi-formal affair of the term, the dance has been limited to 200 couples, according to Kurt Weaver, president of Ag council. Decorations will follow a Halloween and harvest theme, Ben Westrate, chairman, announced.

Patrons of the dance will be Prof. and Mrs. V. R. Gardner and Dr. and Mrs. I. Gould.

Apple Juice or Mouse Traps. The World Beats a Path

"If you build a better mousetrap . . .", or if you make a better apple juice, the result is the same, Roy E. Marshall, research associate in horticulture, has discovered.

Without advertising or publicity, 1000 gallons of cider are being sold every week at the Hort building. Three out of every 10 gallons are bought by hotels, restaurants, grocery stores, and parties. Speakers Get Many Calls

Eighteen calls for student speakers for the month of November have been received, according to Prof. Paul Maxwell of the speech department, head of the college speakers' bureau.

Calls have come from Mason Leslie, Portland, and Lake Orion, and have represented such organizations as the Lions club, the School for the Blind, seven P. T. A.'s, two farmers club meetings, and a Boy Scout troop.

Within the next week Jack Ketzke will speak on "Sounding the Bells" at the Presbyterian Baptist church. Gertrude Gilroy will present readings at the school for the Blind, Albert Marjan, national walking champion, in an appearance before the Parliament of Lions club, will discuss "Walking as a Sport," and William Butt will read original and other poetry for the Michigan Poetry society.

Nazi Revolt Probable, Says Vincent Sheean; Speaks Here Tonight

Predicts Downfall in Magazine Article

"Will Germany Have a Revolution?" asks Vincent Sheean, noted war correspondent and novelist who will speak in Peoples church tonight, in the November 4 issue of Liberty.

Sheean answers his own question with a very emphatic "yes." He points out several weaknesses of the present regime that have been more or less apparent but have not been given as much space in the public print as have other news factors.

Dean of Men To Be MSC Spokesman

Dean of Men Fred T. Mitchell will represent Michigan State college Friday at the inauguration of the new president of Central State Teachers college, Mt. Pleasant.

Substituting for President R. S. Shaw, Dean Mitchell will give a short talk on the founding of Michigan State college, its present status, number of students, and other similar points, as well as representative of each of the nearby colleges.

The new C. S. T. C. president, Charles Leroy Anspach, is filling the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. E. C. Warriner some time ago.

'Big Sisters' To Chat With Charges

All big sisters will meet with their little sisters in family meetings tonight at 5 p. m.

These meetings will take the place of regular freshman orientation meetings and lots of chairman and rooms where meeting will be held are posted in the home, economics, building and women's gymnasium.

All chairmen are requested to get question blanks from Dean Elizabeth Conrad's office before meeting and leave their roll call at the dean's office after the meeting.

Big sisters who were not assigned in any particular group will meet in the horticulture main lecture room at 5 p. m., according to Jean Collar, chairman of the big sister counselor system.

Band Working On Spring Concerts

Michigan State's band has turned its attention to concert music in preparation for the spring concert, which are an annual feature of the band's program. Drilling will be resumed later in the month for the next home game, November 10.

Leonard Falcone, director of the band, announced recently that the band will not play for the game November 25, in order to allow members to enjoy their fall Thanksgiving vacation.

M. S. C. Sociologist Writes Article

In the October issue of the American Sociological Review is an article by Professor C. R. Hoffer on "The Community Situation and Political Action."

This is the publication of the speech which Doctor Hoffer delivered at the American Sociological society meeting in Detroit last year. The article deals with factors in the community which make for effective political relations. Doctor Hoffer is a member of the committee on political sociology of the national organization.

Specialist to Talk At A. V. M. Meet

Dr. Glen L. Ebricht of Hammond, Ind., will be guest speaker at the meeting of Junior American Veterinary Medical association in the clinic auditorium today at 1:30 p. m.

A specialist on cats and a small animal practitioner, Doctor Ebricht was appointed by the National A. V. M. A. to lecture to veterinary students at various colleges.

Following discussion of Doctor Ebricht's lecture, movies of hog disease control measures will be shown the group.

Y. M. Advisers Meet Today

Faculty participation in the Y. M. C. A. activities will be discussed at the end of the year. British and French will be willing only to negotiate with a democratic authority, and this will bring the new democratic democratic forces to the forefront. Such negotiation as this will give Germany back into the hands of the Weimar Republic, which almost was the rising Germany today, until shortly before Hitler stepped in, he says.

Today's Campus

Forgotten

Eleanor Moschur, sophomore foods and nutrition major, has a bad habit of walking off with things.

Recently she hitched a ride back from Lansing, and being loaded down with bundles, she didn't notice an extra package until she got back to the dormitory.

Upon opening it she found a pair of men's socks which were quite new and an unfamiliar-looking

Keepuping the old reputation, she walked out of class on Thursday, with another girl's coat and, since the class doesn't meet until next Tuesday, she's been leaving about rather madly trying to find said coat.

Choice Chaucer

"Embroidered was he as it were a mead," wrote old Mr. Chaucer. "Embroidered was he as it were a mead," translated young Mr. White, not understanding what "mead" a drink had to do with it. There must have been some mistake.

There was Quoted English literature Professor Fulkerson. Did you ever see a drink embroidered? continuing a moment later to say "That stuff on top isn't embroidered—it's foam."

It wasn't long before another would be translated young Mr. Greer was stumped for a definition of "wimples." Prompted the teacher, "Wimples are back now." Ventured the student, "Oh bustles." Roared the class.

He's Young Yet

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," has been the motto of Ed Young, who refers to himself as "the mighty Young."

About a month ago, Ed purchased a somewhat worn motor cycle. He spent time and money for four weeks in an effort to put the vehicle in running shape. Saturday was his big day. The garage man said that it was finally ready. Ed went down to get it.

Coming home he started around a corner. Something went wrong and the motor cycle tipped over, rolling Young along the sidewalk.

He broke his glasses, bruised his body, and dislocated his pro-

Under the Wire

LANSING, Nov. 1—On the request of Governor Luren Dickinson, representatives of both factions in the Chrysler-CIO dispute will meet in Lansing Thursday for further mediation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1—President Roosevelt today made a correspondence which he had with Soviet President Kalinin at the height of his peace appeals to European nations last spring. This time in retaliation to a speech made yesterday by Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov in which he said Roosevelt was a "mediator" in sending his recent notes of sympathy to Finland.

SINKI Finland, Nov. 1—Foreign Minister Elias Erkko, speaking for the Finnish government, today termed Russian demands on Finland and Molotov's recent speech as "wholly incompatible with Finland's neutrality." He reiterated Finland's intention to "firmly resist any Russian penetration."

LONDON, Nov. 1—Government circles announced today that food rationing would begin in England in mid-December. This follows by a month or so a similar, though more extensive, action by Germany.

LONDON, Nov. 1—The British Admiralty has decided to allow the first submarine to pass through the blockade in the Baltic, it was reported today.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—The sudden burst of speed now ending the neutrality battle is no accident. Behind the abrupt shift in pace was a mounting restlessness among the politicians to get back to their political marbles. The rarefied atmosphere of nonpartisan statesmanship was too much for the boys. They wanted to get back to the familiar levels of domestic issues and electioneering.

This was true of both parties. Republican National committee had worked out an elaborate anti-New Deal publicity drive for this fall, which had to be shelved when Roosevelt called the special session. GOP generalissimo have been chafing at the bit ever since, for the longer their program is held up the less effective it will be.

Also, they are worried about the upsurge in Roosevelt popularity as a result of his international policy. In the Democratic camp, the foreign development cut squarely across Jack Garner's churning boom and the ambitious soundings taken by managers of Paul McNutt. Both were in the midst of peppy drives when Hitler pulled the trigger and pushed them to the front pages.

Garner's camp is all set to start rolling again as soon as neutrality is out of the way. His managers have quietly sent word to state lieutenants to swing into action as soon as they get the signal, while Frank McHale, bulky campaign maestro for McNutt, is all set to resume his delegate-hunting.

Most members of Congress have become hardened to the various pressure groups the neutrality bill has spawned on Capitol Hill. But the latest group is bowling them over.

It's a horse hobby. American Humane association is bombarding the legislators with fervent pleas to amend the neutrality measure so as to prohibit the shipment of horses and mules to the European battlefields.

"We can't burden the bill with any more amendments," quipped Representative John A. Martin of Colorado. "I think every member should vote 'neigh' on this question."

Stalin's next move. Diplomatic messages from Europe indicate that Joe Stalin's next move will be in the Balkans, and that it may go even further than his semi-annexation of the Baltic states in the north.

What he is aiming at is a bloc of small nations, under Soviet influence, which will form a barrier between Russia and the rest of Europe. Bessarabia, which was Russian before the World war, is one step in this direction. Rumania cannot possibly keep it from falling into Russia's lap.

Bulgaria long has been friendly to the Soviet and will be the next to fall.

But Stalin's chief objective, according to diplomatic advisers, is Istanbul and European Turkey. This was his aim during the Turkish negotiations, which broke up two weeks ago because Russia wanted to place three divisions of the Red army on the Dardanelles.

New Stalin tactics are to reach the Dardanelles through Bulgaria and the Balkans. So in the end he may get what he wants—the aged Russian demand for an outlet to the Mediterranean sea.

Notes—Soviet Russia's ambitions are no different from the Czars. The Czar penetrated Siberia with the Trans-Siberian railway to reach the sea at Vladivostok. Now Soviet Russia, still reaching for the sea, has ambitions in Norway, Finland and Turkey.

SHORT WHIRLS
Weikan Chiang, second son of General Chiang Kai-shek, is in Washington preparing for an infantry training course in a U. S. Army school. When a Washington newsmen asked him for an interview, young Chiang shook his head. "Father told me to keep my mouth shut," he said.

Crociety Justice McReynolds has begun the new Supreme Court term by playing hockey whenever he can. Jerome Frank, chairman of SEC, won a gold Phi Beta Kappa key for high scholarship at Chicago university, but doesn't wear it. His explanation, "I lost it in a Park night club fifteen years ago." British ambassador.

Pitt Gridders Ask For Collective Bargaining

Facts behind the disclosure of Pittsburgh's football empire in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post include the discussions between Chancellor Bowman of the university and Coach Jack Sutherland.

Francis Wallace, football writer, reveals the inside story of the freshman demands upon the university.

College authorities had precipitated the bombshell by demanding that the frosh footballers pay their tuition. To this the frosh gave an emphatic negative.

In explaining their stand, the first year men explained that it was their belief that "Pitt was doing business at the same old stand."

Then to top it off the freshmen made fantastic demands such as "shorter working hours, collective bargaining and cancellation of tuition. The university failed to spank the freshmen and one report was circulated that the rebels had won "a major victory."

A Little bit INDEPENDENT

"Be prepared." Borrowing the Boy Scouts' motto, IML council secured the services of Dr. C. F. Holland as adviser. Here's hoping the doctor's professional services won't be needed.

Paul D. Bagwell of the speech department, is also serving as faculty adviser. Judging by the "bull session" that centered around him after the Independent smoker, council meetings hereafter should be worth an admission fee.

Besides seventeen zone chairmen who have been elected this fall, IML council includes these officers elected by last year's council: president, Kelvin Kiebler; vice-president, Dick Crew; treasurer, Don Mellhagen; secretary, Jerry Centilla; intramural sports, Dale Crosey; date bureau, Bernie Costing; publicity, Tom Greene; radio, Lee and Marvin Osborne.

Luckily, the Osbornes always agree, because they have only one vote between them.

There is some doubt about Independent fall term party being a barn dance.

Police Ad Grad Finds Mountain Folk in Caves

You can buy a good feed cheap in the West Virginia mountains, according to word received here from Robert Bouck, 29 police administration graduate.

Bouck, employed as a United States secret service agent with headquarters in Washington, D. C., was recently detailed to this coal mining area. There he found the people living in caves in the side of mountains, of the more prosperous ones in one or two-room cabins.

One investigation concerned a descendant of the famous leading Hatfields, a resident of Horsepen Hollow. Here was a two-room cabin lighted by a fireplace. "She had done a neat job of papering the walls with pages from a Sears, Roebuck catalog," Bouck said.

A counterfeiter artist apprehended had been making nearly perfect paper money with the aid of pen and ink.

Gerald Behr, another June police ad graduate working for this department, is guarding parolee offenders in Washington.

Student Critic Explains The Beards' Book

By Russell Kirk
None of us expect an author to write without prejudice or partisanship, to write wholly "objectively," as Beard and others express it. Yet in the historical a certain Olympian air, an attempt to present the aims of either side, is demanded justly. Charles and Mary Beard, though they deplore this lack of objectivity in our newspapers and in the writings of their adversaries, make little effort themselves to attain that goal in the recently-published third volume of their Rise of American Civilization, entitled "America in Midpassage."

BETTER FOR PREJUDICES?
Perhaps this survey of the American puzzle during these last ten busy years is the better for its prejudices (one cannot say "partisanship" for the Beards tally beneath no banner but that of Beardian liberalism, peculiar to them). It is difficult to see how a clear and balanced judgment could be as interesting or as stimulating (for once "stimulating" is the right word) as is this thousand-page book. One cannot accept it as real history, however, but must read it simply as the collected viewpoints of distinguished writers; the Beards are, far less tolerant of the living than of the dead. Those readers who disagree with Charles A. Beard will be guided to make a better defense of their stand, and those who league themselves with him will be encouraged to greater endeavors.

Beard is not a profound scholar. The influence on our thought of his economic interpretations of American history may have been more pernicious than enlightening, and such an interpretation was not of his discovery, of course.

QUESTION BEARDS' TASTE.
Many of us question the Beards' literary taste. They quote with admiration Dos Passos, Kay Boyle,

Both Sides Are Happy

That the theory that bringing a problem out into the open and giving both sides an opportunity to voice their opinions is the best way of solving a problem was shown Tuesday when Wolverine and Interfraternity council reached an agreement following a State News editorial on the question.

The editorial stated that tactics used by Interfraternity council were unbefitting to a student organization, and in the discussion that followed between Interfraternity and Wolverine officials it was decided that both sides, due to hastiness, had become inconsiderate of the other's opinions.

Interfraternity council, not thoroughly familiar with Wolverine financial setups at the beginning of the negotiations, proved entirely amicable after having the issue explained. Members, when shown that the double-page spread costs Wolverine more to print than the yearbook collects on it, were agreeable to paying their share.

Wolverine officials agreed that they accepted too literally the words of Interfraternity representatives, and that they wanted only an opportunity to explain their financial workings.

Final agreement was complete respect and trust in the other's opinions and wishes, and a feeling of mutual satisfaction.

Results of deliberate action of Interfraternity council and Wolverine, plus the unbiased cooperation of a third party, proved to demonstrate the best method of settling a cumbersome problem to mutual satisfaction.

Quotable Quotes

"Our first duty in this time of turmoil and danger is to carry on our normal educational program as effectively as possible and with a minimum of confusion. Whatever course future events may take, the world will need young men versed in science and skilled in the arts of its application to promote human welfare." Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, urges education to follow such policies as will contribute to the maintenance of ideals which are basic to American life.

Blind Pianist Gives Fine Program

Templeton Displays His Genius for Remembering Music

By BRUCE MAIR
There was a touch of genius in Lansing Tuesday night, when Alec Templeton, blind piano impressario, appeared as soloist with the Lansing Symphony orchestra in Eastern high school auditorium. ACCOMPANIES ORCHESTRA
After two numbers by the symphony orchestra, Templeton played the solo parts in Greg's "Concerto in B major," accompanied by the orchestra. There have been pianists who could play the selection better, perhaps, but there never has been one who exhibited such a colossal memory for music who was able to play, perfectly, a piece after having heard it once or twice. This, though it seems unbelievable, is Alec Templeton's ability.

Classical pieces that Templeton played, although perfectly executed, did not serve to show his genius as well as did his own compositions and improvisations.

NOVEL VARIATIONS
An interesting trick was taking five notes, as called out at random by the audience, and working over variations on those five notes, in the styles of classical and modern composers. Also fascinating was his trick of fusing the music of famous songs into the mold of totally different arrangements.

Answering to repeated calls of encore, Templeton presented "The Three Little Fiddlers" as Walter Darrroch might present it on his "Child Music Appreciation" hour. Closing his program, he played his musical impressions of "The Fingers of God," a grove of redwood trees in California.

W. A. A. to Hold Roller Skating Party

W. A. A. will hold a roller skating party Saturday, November 4, at 1 p. m. Jean McClive, skating manager, announced. All girls are invited and are requested to bring their own skates. Refreshments will be served. The skaters will meet at the gymnasium.

Kellogg Aids Rural Youth Training

Sixty short course students of Van Buren and Hillsdale counties are attending Michigan State college this term as proteges of the W. K. Kellogg educational foundation which cares for their main expenses, tuition, books, board and room, totaling approximately $100 per person for the eight weeks' course.

According to Ralph W. Tenny, director of short courses, students are chosen on the following basis: They should be between six and 21, possess desirable qualities of leadership, must be interested in all phases of farm life, and must be active in farm organizations as 4-H FFA and Grange.

Committees in charge of appointments are from the Kellogg Foundation and the various county health departments. The State Board of Control for Vocational Education, of which Pres. R. S. Shaw is a member, also cooperates in the choosing and training of these students.

Purpose of the short courses, Tenny explained, is to give farm boys and girls training along lines which will enable them to return to their communities at the end of the course better fitted to serve their community and to operate their farms. This objective was set up by W. K. Kellogg when the fund was begun.

Local Scouts To Broadcast Adventures

Quarter-hour dramatizations of Boy Scout adventures will compose a new series of radio programs to be broadcast over WKAR, East Lansing, beginning November 4, under the sponsorship of the local Scout council and Alpha Phi Omega, Scout service fraternity.

The programs, to be broadcast at 10:30 a. m. each Saturday, are designed primarily for the entertainment of Michigan youth. D. Barnhart of the college speech department, will direct, assisted by John Royick, liberal arts junior.

SIX MONTHS PREPARATION
Preparations for the series have been carried on for the past six months by the radio committee members of Alpha Phi Omega. Thomas Weber, chairman Willard Thomas, and George Wells, a complete library of scripts issued through National Scout headquarters, have arrived here as a result of the committee's plans.

Local Scouts will take part in the programs and adult roles will be played by Alpha Phi Omega members.

'Let Machines Do It,' Is Theme Of Tabulating Department

"Our accounting machine recently section-listed 50,000 class cards in one day; work that would take nearly a week to accomplish by hand," according to Frank Martin, supervisor of the college tabulating department, "and in addition to the speed of recording, it eliminated the possibility of error present in manual listing."

Besides the accounting machine, the tabulating department also possesses several other machines to aid in classifying and recording various college activities. Principal among these are a Suter, two punch machines, a reproducer, and an interpreter.

It is possible to list seven-five lines of a fourteen-inch width in one minute on the accounting machine, which is used primarily to catalogue and register enrollment in various sections of classes. However, it may be employed on other jobs, and for this purpose has seven different plug boards to alter its operation.

Two hand-punch machines are utilized to punch the initial cards. In order to duplicate the desired number of these cards they are run through the reproducer. Cards as they come from the producer have the punches but no numbers, so they are then run through the interpreter, which adds the corresponding numbers.

All cards then are run through the sorting machine, with a capacity of 24,000 cards per hour, which segregates different sections. Class sections are then listed by putting the sorted cards through the accounting machine.

Freshman week of this year 150,000 answers to questions on the Freshman week exams were corrected in forty-eight hours.

Bulletin Output at College Is a Weighty Matter

Sixty tons of paper would cover a lot of ground. Roughly speaking it would supply 60,000 freshman students, providing they kept up with their assignments, with paper to write their English compositions for a year.

Yet, when 1939 is over, that amount of paper will have been used by the bulletin department of the college Experiment and Extension stations.

Between two and three million bulletins worth $30,000 and covering 500 subjects are on file in the bulletin room in the basement of Ag Hall. Most of these are available to the public on request.

During one week, from 200 to 400 written requests are received, in addition to personal calls.

Requests are received from colleges, high schools, libraries, teachers, extension men, county agricultural agents, and farmers. The bulletin bureau textbooks for 51,600 4-H club members in the state.

Shipments are also made to Argentina, South Africa, Japan, China, and India. Through a special concession, the college is allowed to send four pounds free to the Smithsonian Institute, the latter paying the postage abroad. The department can also send up to four pounds free to Canada, Alaska and the possessions.

Many odd requests are received each week. One person asked for "Coming Through the Rye," but he had to be satisfied with "Coming Through With Rye." Another one wanted "Hot Beds and Cold Springs." It should have been "Hotbeds and Cold Frames."

Payment of War Debt Not Sufficient Cause For Intervention

Finland's payment of her war debts to the United States is no reason for the United States going to war to protect Finnish independence, Michigan State college students believe. Questioned by students in journalism classes, M. S. C., again this week disclosed its unwillingness to American participation in European affairs.

Two weeks ago, students declared against America crossing the Atlantic to help the Allies, and more than 90 per cent indicated they believed the United States should remain neutral in the present European conflict.

DEBTS NO FACTOR
Asked if they believed because Finland paid her war debts that the United States should declare war against Russia if Russia threatens Finnish independence, more than 96 per cent voted "no," while only three per cent voted "yes."

Another question, "Do you believe the United States should use diplomatic pressure to preserve Finnish independence?" brought a negative answer from 57 per cent of those questioned and only 43 per cent believed such a course would be a wise one to follow.

Another question, "Do you believe the United States should use diplomatic pressure to attempt to restore peace in Europe?" showed that 64 per cent of M. S. C. students believe such a gesture might be successful.

NO MEDIATION
President Roosevelt will refuse possible offers to serve as peace mediator, if Michigan State college students have their way. Sixty-five per cent voted against such possible action, while only 35 per cent indicated such a course might be a wise one.

Approximately 700 of Michigan State college's 6,635 students were questioned in the poll, which is conducted each week by students in the journalism department.

Bailey School Notes

Frosh Harriers Meet Western

Michigan State's freshman harriers renew their rivalry with Western State Teachers' yardlings in the Celery City, Friday afternoon, over the three-mile route. The Broncos hold only one decision from the ten previous contests.

Coach Laurence P. Brown has named nine men to make the team.

Orangemen Prime For Spartans

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Bill Orange entertains an old friend here Saturday at Archbold stadium as an up and coming band of Spartans from Michigan State come to town for the sixth meeting between the schools.

Michigan State holds the edge, 3-2, out of the five games played thus far. Thus, it will be the last chance for Syracuse to tie up the series, since the game Saturday is the last scheduled between the teams.

The Orange, like the Spartans, have enjoyed only indifferent success so far this season. Coach Salem's boys have won from Clarkson, 12-6, in the opener, tied Georgetown and Penn State by scores of 13-13 and 6-6, and lost to Cornell 20-, and Duke 33-6.

With Co-Captain Bill Hoffman laid up with injuries, the Syracuse signal calling department is hard hit. However, Cliff Wilson has proved that he can stand into Hoffman's shoes with little difficulty and it is not likely that the Orange offense will be hurt beyond repair due to Hoffman's loss. Wilson is the ace passer on the Syracuse squad.

Chief among Syracuse's hopes for a strong running attack against the Spartans is the return to physical fitness of Harold "Boss" Rath, the 155 pound half-back, whose neat running and nose have been important parts of Orange victories for two years.

Other men whom Syracuse will count on heavily are Bill Shek, speedy punting back; Jerry Courtney, sophomore triple-threat; and Bill Moran, husky soph guard. Walt Zandahl and Gene Hopkins, full back and right half respectively, are other Orange stalwarts. Zandahl has looked great in recent victories.

Syracuse has, in the main, a team which has yet to realize its possibilities. After a terrific buildup at the beginning of the season, the Orange folded badly once the competition began. One of these days, they will hit their stride.

Kappa Sigs Lead Card Tonight

By ED KITCHEN

Kappa Sigma, the team which has been making such short work of everyone in the Inter-fraternity touch football league lately, will get another chance to parade its wares tonight, tangling with Delta Sigma Phi at 8 o'clock on the baseball field.

The game will head a card of three Inter-fraternity tilts tonight under the mazzas. Alpha Gamma Rho and Eclectic will open the program with their meeting at 7 o'clock while Sigma Nu and Farm-House take over the touch football stage at 9 o'clock.

Tuesday's slate saw a dearth of scoring once again in the Inter-fraternity books. Only one game out of three produced a score. Lambda Chi won that contest, 12 to 0, from Delta Chi's gridlers.

Scoring once in the second period and again in the third the Lambdas compiled their two-touchdown victory margin. Christy Blough and Dick Reeves snatched a pair of aerials for the scores. Even at that, however, the Lambdas' first down edge was only 2-1.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon hooked up with Pi Kappa in Tuesday's toughest battle. The two aggregations battled four periods to a scoreless deadlock and Sigma Alpha pulled a technical victory out of the fire by virtue of its single first down.

In the final game Phi Tau and Phi Delta also played 24 minutes of lamine football but a last-minute downfield drive by the Phi Taus settled that aggregation 3 to 1 first down margin and consequent victory.

The scores by periods of Tuesday's games:

Sigma Alpha Epsilon	0-0-0-0
Pi Kappa	0-0-0-0

Officials: Rickenbach, Ross, Shuler.

Up in the Air

Stan McRae, State's 6-foot 4-inch 221 pound left end, really climbs for the high ones. Here he is shown grabbing one out of the clouds.

Oklahomans Aid Frosh Matmen

State has five ace grapplers in its ranks of 30 freshmen who come from Oklahoma where wrestling is really taken to heart. Three of the boys were State high school champs in Oklahoma.

Berle and Merle Jennings, the team's twins, took medals in the 136 and the 128 pound class. Bill Maxwell, also a medal winner, won in the 145 class. All three of the State champs came from the same city, Tulsa, and are sticking pretty close together.

Berle and Merle have nicknames they go by. Berle prefers the ingenuis "Bo" while his twin brother Merle's is just plain "Cut".

From Bristol comes the other "bone breaker" for State's Oklahoma freshman team. Herbert Thompson and Hamer Higbee wrestled side by side on the same team in high school. Thompson wrestled at 121 and Higbee at 143.

FOOTBALL

There is a possibility that another new sophomore back will be introduced next Saturday. Mike Sheik, a fast running left halfback, has shown considerable ability in his practice sessions this week. He has an excellent passer and kicker.

Spartan Lieman Is Fair Weather Player

Leslie Bruckner, senior tackle on the Michigan State college team, is a fair weather football player for fun. In eight years of football, college and high school, the Spartan lieman has never played a game in the rain. He is from Milan, Mich.

Trojans Out for Third Place Tie in Tilt With Coldwater

By BOB MCCARTHY

East Lansing will put its hopes in finishing in a third place tie in the Twin Valley grid standings on a victory over Coldwater tomorrow afternoon on the Trojan greenwold.

The clash will end league competition for Coach Cuddy Shaver's Trojans for the 1939 season. East Lansing's first in the newly organized conference.

Coldwater brings to East Lansing an aggregation with a record identical to the same as the Trojans, two won and two lost. Both teams have beaten Marshall and Adrian and have fallen to Alton and Sturgis.

East Lansing's biggest worry will be halting the Trojan passing attack. Thus far, the bulk of the visitors' scoring drives have resulted from this powerful aerial thrust. The Coldwater outfit boasts a veteran line to go with its dangerous air-minded backfield.

At Wednesday's drills Shaver put his charges through a routine workout consisting of running plays, signal practice, and a light passing drill. Special emphasis was placed on the passing attack by Shaver in case the running game should fail.

Game time has been moved up to 8:00 to enable the battle to finish before dark.

Demagogues Win In Polo Opener

Polo made its debut in Demonstration hall last night before a small crowd. The opening game of the evening brought together the Shamrocks of Flint and the Demagogues of East Lansing, with the latter winning 11 to 10.

The second game saw the Detroit Ivory Rangers down the Lansing Red Wings 15 to 8.

Steffans of the Rangers was high goal man for the night with six goals. Bayley of the Rangers and Captain Dugan of the Demagogues tied for second place honors with five goals apiece.

The games were the first of the Michigan Polo association tournament to be held during the month of November in Demonstration hall.

Abbot 15 Defeats Mason 2, 7-0

Abbot 15 bounced back into the victory column 7-0, at the expense of Mason 2 last night on the dormitory touch football league. A 40 yard pass from Jack Hislop to Tom Mayhew accounted for the lone touchdown in the hotly contested game.

Hislop was also on the throwing end of the pass to Dick Rousfong, which resulted in the Abbot eleven's added point.

THROUGH THE

INTIMATE LETTERS

of Helen Hayes' mother to Helen Hayes' daughter about

Helen Hayes

Here is a unique story: what the outsider does not see of Helen Hayes, the actress the world hasn't heard. Here, as Helen Hayes' mother says, is "every little thing I can recall about my Helen Hayes" ...In a series of letters called Mary, This Is Your Mother, she reveals to her granddaughter (and to Post readers) the struggles and glamorous career of America's great actress, who has spent thirty-four of her thirty-nine years in the theater and "on the road." First of eight parts—this week.

LILY-WHITE FOOTBALL or PLAY FOR PAY?

Why isn't a student who works on the football field for the profit of his school just as much entitled to pay as janitors or secretaries—particularly since the college gets a bigger return for his labors? Francis Wallace, sports authority, this week in the Post reveals the facts about the tug-of-war at the University of Pittsburgh between simon pure Chancellor Bowman and the rooters for Coach Sutherland, now ex-coach. You'll see what happens when a college tries to back out of the play-for-pay business.
