

Grads Plan for Nov. 18 Homecoming; Honor Vandervoort, Taylor

Varsity Club Will Meet With Alumni

Michigan State will turn back the calendar to pay tribute to heroes of former years, when old grads return for the 1939 homecoming football game with Indiana university, November 18. Glen O. Stewart, alumni secretary, stated today. The official Michigan State flag will fly from the flagpole and the campus will be decorated to celebrate the return of alumni.

Short memorial services will be held in honor of Del Vandervoort of Lansing, class of '18, and O. A. Taylor of Detroit, class of '15, in front of the flagpole in Mackin field.

MACKIN INVITED
Before the services the annual alumni Varsity club will meet at a luncheon and business meeting at the forestry cabin with President Blake Miller, class of '16, and Secretary Forest J. Lang, class of '28 presiding. Invitation to the luncheon was issued to John F. Macklin of Philadelphia, former football coach at State for whom Mackin field was named.

There will be an "open house" Friday of Homecoming weekend from 8 to 12 p. m. in the Rathskeller room of Hotel Olds for former varsity lettermen Central Michigan Alumni club of Lansing will be hosts for this meeting. Movies of the fall football games will be shown.

GRADS MEET ON FIELD

Registration will be continued in the lobby of the Union building in front of the grandstand, check-out the campus exit Saturday. Franks, alumni recorder, will be in charge of registration. Campus tours will be made before the game.

Cheerleaders are working on some novel features which will be kept secret until the kickoff at 2 p. m. On the gridiron after the game freshmen will hold placards.

Lutheran Club Picks Staters

Glen Wagner, Detroit sophomore and treasurer of Lutheran Student club, was elected regional secretary of the Ohio valley region of the Lutheran Student Association of America at the three-day conference held here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Edith Schaffnit, Detroit junior, was unanimously elected to act as regional librarian.

Fred Snell of the University of Michigan will succeed Henry Scheidt, Michigan State junior, as head of the region for the coming year.

Officers of vice-president and secretary of the region will be led for the coming year by Leonard Kaiser of Bowling Green State university and Hester Brier of the University of West Virginia.

Conference delegates chose Wittenburg college at Springfield, Ohio, as the site for the 17th annual conference next fall.

Radio Tryouts Set For This Week

Auditions for Independent Men's radio winter term air show, the "Friday afternoon 'Frolic of the Air,'" will be held Wednesday and Thursday at 5 p. m., in WKAR studios.

Trials will be given for master of ceremonies and announcer Tuesday afternoon. Vocalists and instrumental talent will receive auditions Thursday. Marvin Olson is arranging auditions.

Under the Wire

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Nine French planes of American make engaged in battle today with a squadron of 27 German planes. It was reported here today. French sources said the German planes were driven back with heavy losses.

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov referred today in a speech commemorating the 22nd anniversary of the revolution, to the "Sham neutrality of some nations" as a "mask to cover their struggle for profit." It was assumed reliably that he was referring to the United States' recent repeal of the arms embargo.

BERGEN, Norway, Nov. 6.—City of Flint rode at anchor here today while United States Ambassador to Norway, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, conferred with Captain J. A. Gairdner on plans for disposal of the ships' cargo, probably at auction, before sailing to a destination as yet undecided.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—Maritime commission is considering an appeal by an American shipping company to have eight of its ocean-going vessels transferred to Panama registration which would allow them to carry goods to foreign ports if manned by a foreign crew under the new neutrality act.

JACKSON, Nov. 6.—Six convicts who killed a guard in a futile prison break here yesterday were arraigned today on a charge of first degree murder.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Trade agencies for the allied powers will be set up in several major cities of the United States, it was announced here today. Principal locations probably will include New York, Detroit, and Los Angeles.

Howland Is Named Head Of J-Hop

Committees Listed: February 23 Is Set for Party Date
Arthur Howland, hotel administration major from East Lansing, will be general chairman for the class of '41's J-Hop, it was announced today by William Knox, class president, who made public committee appointments for the party.

HELD IN AUDITORIUM
February 23 has been set as the date for the J-hop which will be held in the new auditorium. The building is to be completed February 15, and the dance will be the first student function held in it.

Committee appointments were made by the four class officers, Knox said with each fraternity and sorority represented. A proportional representation of independents was made, he stated.

CAPACITY IS GREATER
Capacity for the party is estimated at 1500 couples, larger than any previous J-Hop. Because of this, ticket prices are expected to be reduced.

Following are the committees: Officers: William Knox, president; Marian Pugsley, vice-president; Dorothy Price, secretary; and Joe Goulette, treasurer.

Right!
While History 1011 was discussing the attributes of Peter the Great, his indulgence in the sport of chopping off people's heads was mentioned.

The class, drawing itself up in its civilized pride, scorned Peter as a crude barbarian.

Mr. Mueller, however, said that the severing of the head from the body is an act not to be discredited in any way. He then said that this directed fall in the face of his class.

"I don't if any of you know just what it is to cut someone's head off."

Dean's Office Prepares Winter Term Party List

It's the same old story of where, when, why, and who, with the emphasis on "when," when it comes to making out a social program for 6,662 different persons.

Miss Betty Hatch, secretary to Dean Elisabeth Conrad, has the final responsibility of working out open dates for the "big" parties at State and serves as a social traffic manager, arranging, rearranging, pushing one party ahead and another back so that this winter term party program will be a full one, without last minute difficulties.

REGISTER EARLY
Winter term formal have become a tradition at State, consequently most organizations reserve their major social event for winter term. However, parties must be registered not later than the third week of each term and under an arrangement between faculty and students, and at the request of students, certain large parties may be registered during the closing weeks of the spring term, prior to the fall and winter term in which the party is to occur.

When the organization registers its request for a certain date, an approval slip stating the organization, event, place, date and expenses must be filled out. First, second, and third choice of dates is recorded and sent to the student faculty social committee, which is in charge of making social rules and regulations, for dances and dinners for the groups.

IS ARE SCHEDULED
This winter's term schedule already includes 48 major social events. These parties are scheduled for five different places in East Lansing and Lansing. See—PARTIES—Page 3

Freshmen to Meet In Music Building

Freshman women will hold their orientation lectures in the new music building for the first time today and Thursday at 5 p. m., according to Rosemary Lee, orientation chairman.

Miss Lee has requested that freshman women locate their seat numbers in the dormitory or gymnasium bulletin boards to avoid confusion and save time.

C. H. Nickle, of the speech department, will talk on "Your Voice and Your Personality" at both meetings.

Frank Gets Fast Mail Service To Philippines

Franklin Engstrom, freshman engineering student living at Abbot hall, receives two day mail service to and from the Philippines, through the assistance of amateur radio operators.

Frank's brother is stationed at Riteal, Philippine Islands, with the army air corps and sends his messages to Frank by the spoken word to an amateur "ham" in the United States. The operator relays the message by mail to East Lansing. Frank uses the same method in getting two day service back to the Philippines.

Directories Released Today

Michigan State college campus will take on a brilliant hue this morning when 3,000 orange jacketed student-faculty directories will be released by N.W.S., local journalism fraternity, according to Jack C. Sinclair, business manager.

Sales will begin at 8 a. m. in three main campus buildings—the Union, Merrill hall and Ag hall. The directory is being released two weeks earlier than last year, Sinclair stated.

In addition to being larger than last year, the 144 page directory is new in design and size and contains a class code identification system similar to that used by the college registrar. A complete key index simplifies interpretation of code numbers and figures.

Contained in the book are names of all faculty members, major campus organizations, fraternities and sororities, dormitories, residence homes, and main campus buildings. A calendar for the college year also is included.

YW Observes Birthday

Y. W. Through the Years will be the theme for the anniversary Y. W. A. meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Peoples church.

Miss Emma Sater, Y. W. A. director, announced that this is the 43rd anniversary of the organization at Michigan State college, it being founded here October 3, 1896.

Hostesses for the meeting will be junior cabinet members Jean Agler, Betty Anthony, Betty Applegate, Sophie Byvoick, Juanita Christianson, Jane Clark, Catherine Dennison, Mary Lou Dodge, Peggy Harlow, Grace Nabstoll and Mildred Schoedel.

There will be a large birthday cake to celebrate the anniversary and a short play will be given on "Y. W. Through the Years."

The advisory board members, who will be guests for the afternoon, are Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, Mrs. N. A. McCune, Mrs. H. B. Dirks, Mrs. E. I. Anthony, Mrs. F. T. Mitchell, Mrs. L. C. Enmons, Mrs. H. M. Wills, Mrs. V. R. Gardner and Mrs. W. L. Malimann.

Engineering Directors Meet Friday

The board of directors of the Michigan Engineering society will hold a meeting Friday, Nov. 10, in Dean H. B. Dirks' office.

Who would ever accuse an up-and-coming institution like Michigan State college of being superstitious? It doesn't seem possible that in this modern age college officials and the architects they hire to construct their buildings could have any thought of unlucky omens.

And yet what can one believe? When 20 campus buildings were called and asked what room 213 was being used for, 12 of those questioned reported that their building had no such number. They had 212 and 214, but nary a 213.

And that wasn't only in the Michigan State buildings constructed years ago. The new music building and the new veterinary clinic built within the past few months are both without a room 213. Even the most holy places aren't immune, for Peoples church

Plan Send-off For Varsity Tonight

Cheerleaders Have Charge of Program At Gymnasium
Spartan cheerleaders yesterday announced a send-off party for the Michigan State football team at the gymnasium at 9:15 p. m. Tuesday, just before the players entrain for the Santa Clara game in San Francisco. The team will leave at 9:30 p. m.

Head Coach Charles Bachman and members of the M. S. C. coaching staff will speak, and members of the team will also give short talks. This is the first time in two years that team members have given pre-game comments at a student meeting, and the first occasion this season that coaches have appeared on such a program.

Freshmen women desiring late permission for the send-off party should inquire of their house-mothers for arrangements that have been made. Miss Elisabeth Conrad, Dean of Women, announced yesterday. This will be decided at a publishers board meeting at 5 p. m. today.

College to Install New Telephone System

Without any interruption in service, M. S. C.'s phone system will be transferred to a new hookup and location in May of next year, according to Frank H. Mitchell, chief of State's electrical department. Approximately 440 phones are in service at present and this number will be increased by installations in new buildings now under construction.

The nucleus of the system now in use is the main switchboard located in the basement of the library. Chief function of the board is switching of outside calls and making campus connections. The new system to be installed next year will do away with the operator's role in making a connection for the college phone service will be converted to a dial system.

College Is Mecca For Rural Folk, Says Shaw

Michigan State is the Mecca of Michigan agriculturists," President R. S. Shaw said yesterday, in explaining the reason for the number of agriculturists held on campus each year.

"For 50 years the college has been in close contact with the rural people first through the Farmers Institute and then through the county agents."

"The rural people of Michigan consider themselves as much a part of the college as any student does," Shaw added.

Dean to Talk On Teaching

Dr. Ralph Tyler, dean of the school of education at the University of Chicago, and two members of the cooperative study of higher education, will be here today to discuss better teaching and testing methods with the geology, zoology, soils, chemistry and mathematics departments.

In the evening, Dr. Tyler will speak to a meeting of faculty members on defining course objectives and construction of test in the light of these objectives.

College Must Be Superstitious

Rooms Numbered 213 Are Missing From Many Buildings
By MARINAN ALKIRE
Who would ever accuse an up-and-coming institution like Michigan State college of being superstitious? It doesn't seem possible that in this modern age college officials and the architects they hire to construct their buildings could have any thought of unlucky omens.

Architects who planned the new dormitories were trusting souls. They calmly planned for rooms with the number 213 without a single doubt that non-superstitious students could be found who are those fearless colleagues who defy fate and live under the shadow of the fateful 213.

In South Louise Campbell they are Betty Johnson and Greta Lundquist. In Mason hall they are Robert Bogan and Doug Reeve.

And while they do not sleep under the thirteenth figure, there are those who will work beneath its shadow and fear no "toil and trouble." In Merrill hall the desk in 213 is covered with English themes for that room is the office of Miss Eva Vaughan of the English department.

Two thirteen of Home Ec is always neat as a pin for it prides itself on having a textiles and

Glen Cunningham Is Speaker for All Men's Convo

Holds World Track Records, Honors
Glen Cunningham, international track star, will address an all men's convocation Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Peoples church, under sponsorship of Y. M. C. A. "Can You Take It?" will be the topic of his talk.

Holder of several track records and member of the 1936 American Olympic team, Cunningham has also attained scholarly achievements. Securing the A. B. and M. A. degrees from the University of Kansas, he now holds the Ph. D. degree from New York university.

Alums Made Honor Grid Captains

Two former members of State's first football team in 1893 were appointed honorary co-captains for the Santa Clara game by Charles Bachman, head football coach, and Glen O. Stewart, alumni secretary, yesterday. They are J. D. Toman, class of '13, and now president of M.S.C. alumni club at San Francisco, and E. C. Rank, class of '14.

The team and Stewart, alumni chairman, arrived in San Francisco Friday morning at Hotel Empire. M.S.C. headquarters Friday afternoon.

Toman will preside over the banquet and will be assisted by Wilson Nealand, class of '12, secretary of the club. Speakers at this function will be Secretary John Hummel, Ralph Young, director of athletics, Charles Bachman, head football coach, and Stewart.

Approximately 140 alumni, six at the program luncheon in the campus hall on Saturday, arrived at campus Saturday. George W. C. Julian, class of '15, and national alumni president, made the trip east with Secretary Hummel and Alumni Secretary Stewart.

300 Teachers Hear Counts

Dr. George S. Counts, professor of education at Columbia university and president of the American Federation of Teachers, addressed an audience of more than 300 educators and students Saturday noon, following a luncheon in the Union hall.

Taking as his topic "Education for What?" Dr. Counts told his audience many has not learned how to live in a world that has broken away from its old foundations by the advance of science and economics.

In answering his own question "What does democracy require of education?" Dr. Counts discussed three points: That the education profession must give more attention to the democratic faith; that it must bring about more equalization of educational opportunities; and that students must be committed to a sense of social obligation.

The first portion of the address was broadcast over WKAR. The Ingham County Federation of Teachers sponsored the luncheon. Following Dr. Counts' talk the federation held a business meeting in the Union annex.

New Groups Enter Practice Houses

Another group of senior home economics students has moved into home management houses this week.

In No. 4 under Miss Irma Gross are Betty Faust, Jeanne Curtis, Anne Adams, Ruth Taylor, Betty Loughton, Katherine Howard, Margaret Gay.

Miss Bertha Stockard is directing No. 5. Residents are Lee Coonrod, Ruth Blomgren, Margaret Mance, Jean Richards, Jeanne Bradley, Dolores Bordell, Jeanne Curtis.

No. 6 is directed by Miss Elizabeth Walbert. Residing there are Mary Boer, Elsie McKibbin, Marian Radeloff, Helen Pratt, Shirley Tacon, Margaret Bingham, Alice Gallagher.

Letter Tells Grim Story of War's Effects

Student employees of the Union cafeteria know that although the second world war is being fought on the battlefields and at sea, its effects are more far-reaching. They know because of a story told at the employees' dinner table one day last week.

Relatives of one of the men had received a letter from Germany. The letter passed the censors, even to the last line, which was something like this: "Save the stamp on this letter, it might be valuable some time later on."

But that last sentence meant more to those who received the letter than it did to the censors, so they steamed off the stamp.

Written in small letters, which had been covered by the stamp, were these words: "We are starving."

YWCA to Visit Polish City On Tour

A trip to the Polish community of Detroit will feature the annual world acquaintance tour which the state YWCA is sponsoring Saturday. Miss Emma Sater, YWCA director, has announced that all women who intend to make the trip should contact her or Jane Harvey, chairman of the world affairs group, by tomorrow afternoon.

The group will start from the Peoples church at 10 a. m. Saturday and is scheduled to arrive at the Highland Park YWCA at 12:45. Here Michigan State college members will join students from other colleges of Michigan and tour Detroit's Poland.

Polish guides will show them bakeries, sausage shops, import houses and other points of interest. The Tau Beta community house, Polish center of Detroit, is sponsoring a town meeting in the form of a panel discussion, in which Miss Harvey will take part. A tour through the building will follow the discussion.

A feast of foreign foods, an exhibit of foreign wares, and an exhibition of dances from all nations will begin at 5:45 in the International Center branch of the YWCA. The local group will leave Detroit at 10 p. m.

TRACK STAR

with a time of 4:04.4. In the mile and a half outdoor record, established at Travers Island in 1937, his time was 6:34. This bettered the previous record held by Phayis Norem, the "Phantom Flyer," by eight seconds.

The Sullivan award for the year's outstanding amateur athlete, a recognition made possible through the votes of 690 sports writers and sports authorities, was given to Cunningham last night. That summer he was captain of the American track team touring Europe and in 1934 he led a group of athletes on a tour of the Orient.

WAS COLLEGE HONOR MAN

In 1934 his class at the University of Kansas named him honor man because of his record in scholarship, activity and service to the school. His Olympic teammates selected him as their most popular member.

In addition to his lecture tonight, which is open to all college men, Cunningham will talk today to men majoring in physical education.

One cannot realize the responsibility of this week until examining figures. Next week 19 groups will "swing out" at 10 different ballrooms, while each week-end for the remainder of the term will see as many if not more. Most important week-end of the term thus far has been October 27, when Miss Hartz presided 16 parties.

City Gets $1,353 In Back Taxes

East Lansing became $1,353.49 richer yesterday when that amount, consisting of delinquent city and school taxes, was turned in by the county treasurer.

This tax money was collected during August by the county treasurer, Agatha Ansell, city treasurer, stated.

From Ag Student to Pastor

By JANET HALL

"Why, yes, I graduated from Michigan State college in 1901," said Dr. N. A. McCune, minister at Peoples church, when interviewed this week. "At that time there was one student chosen from each of the three divisions, agriculture, engineering, and home economics, to be a representative at graduation. I was the victim chosen to represent the agriculture course."

It may seem like a far cry from ag student to minister, but after Doctor McCune had taught at Berea College, Kentucky, for two years he felt that he would like to get into church work. Consequently he attended the University of Michigan and later graduated from Boston university in Massachusetts.

RETURNED TO EAST LANSING

Ten years passed before he returned to East Lansing to stay. Three of those years Doctor McCune held a pastorate in Three Rivers, Michigan, and the other seven were spent in the same field of work at Benton Harbor, Michigan.

Jonathan L. Snyder, a member of the East Lansing church, was the president of the college when Doctor McCune was a student. In 1916 he asked his former ag student to come to the local church and the next year Doctor Snyder passed away.

From that time on the church remained open seven days a week instead of just Sundays. It was made interdenominational, plans were made for a new building, the present site was purchased and the actual construction was started in 1923. The church, as it is now, was completed three years later.

Campus Police Enforce Law Applying Only to State Land

Campus police are active these days enforcing a little-known state law which applies only to state-owned property. Persons arrested for hunting on college land this fall were taken into custody under this statute, passed by the legislature in 1929.

Designed to prevent destruction of property and to maintain order at state institutions, the body of the law is as follows:

"Any person who shall willfully cut, peel, or otherwise injure or destroy any tree or shrub standing on any property dedicated or appropriated to the public use and within the control of the State Board of Agriculture who shall carry, draw, leave or deposit within or upon said property any filth, rubbish or garbage which shall deface any mark or inscription of any kind whatsoever or mutilate or destroy any building, machine, or appliance, fence or hedge of any kind, who shall enter, hunt or trespass upon any part or portion of property or skate upon, or fish in any manner in any pond, brook, or stream the use of which is forbidden to the general public, and relative to which there are signs or notices to that effect, who shall be guilty of any lewdness or disorderly conduct upon the premises hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof may be fined not more than 60 days, or both such term of not less than 10 days nor more than 6 days, or both such term and imprisonment in the discretion of the court."

In inserting names of other institutions in place of "State Board of Agriculture," the law can be applied to other places than the college.

listing respective classes and alumni will gather around their class cards to that with old schoolmates. This method was introduced by Glen O. Stewart, alumni secretary, 10 years ago.

OPEN HOUSES PLANNED

After the game, open house will be held by fraternities and societies on campus and many will have dinners for their former members. A dance sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega will be held in the Union ballroom Saturday evening.

West end of the Union building will be decorated with carnival pennants hanging from 256 feet of clothesline stretched from the flagpole to the top of two corners of the Union. Colored electric lights will frame the top of the display.

Faculty to Make Land Use Study

Representatives from the soil and farm crops departments will hold a committee meeting today with the Cass county agricultural agent, George McIntyre, to make a special study of land use.

The land type map recently completed by J. L. Venable will be used at the meeting.

Sociologist Studies Working Conditions in Beet Fields

By HERB OLSON

Dr. J. F. Thaden of the sociology department is now engaged in study of working conditions among sugar beet workers in Michigan. At present, he is making investigations in 12 sugar beet factories in the state.

His work consists of making trips with field representatives of sugar beet companies, interviewing imported Mexican laborers who have been brought to Michigan from Texas, finding homes for them, and finally studying how these people adjust themselves to life in Michigan.

Mexican laborers are placed with the farmers for whom they are to work. They are housed in any sort of building or shed that happens to be vacant—chicken coops, tool sheds, any place that will give them a roof over their heads. Doctor Thaden says that if two Mexican families are placed in an eight or 10 room house within a week they will all be living in two rooms.

The pay of these transient laborers is determined by the federal government, under the AAA. Because of investigations which have reported deplorable conditions under which these people have been living, considerable improvement has been made in their living conditions in the last 10 or 15 years, Thaden said.

New York college for teachers is sponsoring a weekly "grooving clinic" for all co-eds.

Woodsmen Plan Bunny Chase, Field Day

The department will furnish hot coffee and a truck to cart home the carcasses," Howard Burgess, chairman of the Foresters' first annual rabbit hunt and field day, announced yesterday.

The expedition will leave the forestry building at 8 a. m. Saturday and will arrive at the Kellogg reforestation tract at 9:30. Transportation has been arranged for the first 50 men to report. After a tour of the area, non-numerous will find amusement while their harder brothers hunt, in a series of contests throughout the afternoon.

Two gallons of cider will be awarded the class team which is first to fell, limb, buck, split, and pile a 10-inch oak. Individual chopping contests and inter-class games will follow.

Foresters making the trip should register with the departmental secretary by Wednesday.

MRS. McCUNE IS HELPER

In 1938 Mrs. McCune to whom Doctor McCune referred as an "invaluable companion," conducted a group of teachers through Europe on a tourist trip. Mrs. McCune is well known in East Lansing for her active work in church and college circles. When she first came here she taught the "Silver Cross League."

Doctor and Mrs. McCune have a son, John, who is enrolled as a student in the liberal arts course in the University of Michigan. "We have violent arguments on it," she said, "when he comes home."

Debates Start Second Round Of Series

Second round of intramural debates will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., with independent men, independent women, and society women participating.

Each team will participate in four preliminary debates scheduled for October 31, November 8, 14 and 20. Topics for discussion are: Resolved, That the United States should follow a policy of strategic isolation (military and economic) toward all nations outside the western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict.

Society women debating on the affirmative side are Mildred Schaefer and Charlotte Whitten, Ann Hamilton and Ruth Birney, Grace Salsford and Helen Bethel, Mary Lou Sharpe and Ruth Raftery. On the negative are Betty Jean Plater and Carol Lott, Frances Hillier and Mary J. Martin, Ruth Peterson and Mary Jean Blue, Helen Cowan and Marjorie Davis.

Alternative debaters for independent women are Eleanor Shaw and Kate Owen, Leona Algeo and

PHONES CHANGED OFTEN

The new type French dial phone in use here was installed during spring and summer of this year. After installation of phones and systems in new buildings, work will continue just the same.

There's a continual change of phones for professors' classrooms and the like," says Mitchell.

Besides the main switchboard, there are many boards requiring one operator. Most of these are in dormitories. A board of this type will be also located in the new music building. There are in use 10 special wiring plants including the use of a key switchboard and which are used to change operators, such as those located in the administration building.

13 OPERATORS ON STAFF

Sony 13 phones will be used in the new bell house, 25 in the addition, and 18 in the main building, Mitchell reports. A total of 13 operators, including

Talk of the Town

The engagement of Miss Isabel Jane Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Hardy of Lansing, to John Spencer Pingel, son of Mrs. George Pingel of Mt. Clemens, was announced before approximately 200 guests at a tea Saturday afternoon at Hotel Olds.

Beneath the bridal arch stood a long tea table with a miniature bride and groom as the centerpiece, surrounded with tall white flowers. Palm fronds provided the decorative background for the room and an effective setting for the entertaining string trio.

Mrs. Hardy, Miss Hardy and Mrs. Pingel greeted the guests. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Robert Herrmann of Grand Rapids, Mrs. C. A. Tripphaen, Mrs. Louis Simon, Mrs. Maxwell Harryman, Mrs. George Taubert and Mrs. S. C. Jacka, Lansing.

Assisting and entertaining about the room were Mrs. Carl Trager, Mrs. Barbara Trander, Mrs. Granger Stickle, Miss Joy Pingel and Mrs. John Bingham.

Mrs. W. H. Sheldon of 500 Charlie street will entertain alumnae of Mt. Phi Epsilon at her home Thursday at 8 p. m.

Margery Frost, Mary Knoll and Elaine Moore, Jean Melrose and Barbara Watson are the negative teams.

Alternative teams for independent men are William Cady and Robert Kall, Fred Cook and Walter Granding, Ray Gannon and Joe Knoll. Negative team members are Robert Crane, Leon Richards, Bob McLaughlin, Maurice Langstreet and Herbert Kage, Sam Donaldson, Harry Wallis and Van Jones.

Bachman Names Thirty-Six Men to Make Santa Clara Trip

Spartan Sportfolio

By DON ANDERSON

If there is an individual who can be named the one most responsible for Michigan State's football victory over Syracuse last Saturday it is Eddie Pearce, the stock right halfback from Flint.

Here is what Pearce did against the Orange: Intercepted a pass in the second quarter and returned the ball 30 yards into Syracuse territory; passed to W. Davis for State's first touchdown in the third period; bucked over the goal line from five yards out a few moments later only to have his efforts nullified by a penalty.

These were the things that stood out. Besides that, Eddie was playing in his usual fine defensive game and was generally acquitting himself in all-around play.

To this observer, the pass interception was by far the most important. Michigan State lost two games because of pass defense weakness in the right half position. Eddie's return seems to have remedied the situation for Syracuse failed to complete a single pass out of seven tries Saturday. Charlie Bachman knew what he was talking about when he said that State might have won from Marquette and Purdue had Pearce not been injured. Both these details can be traced to long forwards completed over the right halfback.

PEARCE

So, when you're reading the sports list, the information against the Orange, don't forget Eddie Pearce.

Are We Blushing?

Is our face red? Last Saturday several of our predictions on grid results over the nation went awry. To say several is to put it mildly for we missed five out of nine! Not a very hot batting average to say the least.

But there's one thing that gives us considerable consolation. That consolation, expressed in a column on the "Blushing" column, is a good many faces down. And you will find that we picked Michigan to beat Illinois. There is relief in knowing that the "blushing" column is not a record of our blushing. Here is what the "blushing" column says on Friday last:

Bob Zupke of Illinois, one of the best of the coaches, is too badly outmanned. He has no material to ward off Harmon, Eyashevski and Westfall. All Michigan.

It's very comforting to read that if the great Grandland How can go wrong, perhaps there still is hope for us. And who doesn't think Michigan would walk us over this week? Prayers, please.

Tough on Coaches

The game proved another point very noticeable. As each schedule ends, the one Michigan has can be just as dangerous as a road game. With tough assignments every Saturday. It is very difficult to make a team that every game is an easy routine. It is next to impossible for the coaches to get the players up to every game when a victory is in jeopardy. Another point: Since in later a team is going to let down, and then watch out. That's what happened to the Wolverines last Saturday.

It's a bitter pill for the coaches. Wolverines to swallow. They really know what a long fall it is from the top to the bottom. And we would imagine that they hate to see a sign of a smaller size from now on. A fighting Tilt eleven was to that.

Top-Notch Pivot Men to Face Each Other Saturday

Johnny Schiehl, Santa Clara's All-American candidate, will be out to add to his honors Saturday when the Broncos meet the invading Michigan State eleven.

Broncos Make Injuns Bite Grid Dust

A variety of victories and defeats swept down on the second half of Michigan State's football season in another week of 1939. The victories passed in review:

Santa Clara. The bucking Broncos were in trouble again as they bucked the Stanford Indians into the dust of a 27-7 defeat. A geared-up offensive brought Santa Clara their second major football triumph in two weeks and showed clearly that Buck Snow's sophomore machine is clicking in the 1939.

Indiana. Indiana went down before the onslaught of a fine team from the State capital. 14-0. The much-all-around strength in the Ohio ranks spoiled disaster for the Hoosiers.

Temple. Pitt's new amateur football team found a thorn in its side in the form of Temple Saturday. But capitalized on a blocked kick to slide through with a 12-8 win.

Michigan. The mighty have fallen, with Harmon at the bottom of the heap. A fighting Illinois team that evidently hadn't heard of the prowess of Michigan spiked the "Wolverines" championship hopes to the dust of a 16-7 upset.

Purdue. The Boiler-makers and Iowa wound up with a 4-0 score that would sound better at the end of the month in a baseball game. Two victories in two of the last period was the only scoring done in the contest, however.

Marquette. Marquette went down before the driving Dukes of Duke. 21-13. In a red-hot battle that saw the Easterners hold off a hitting threat for the victory.

Wayne. Coach Joe Dembo gained another wrinkle in his mouth, turned now as his Wayne Tartars were bowled over by Michigan Normal, 13-6.

Abbot 17 Beats Wells D; DZV Trips Sooners

By BOB ASTLEY and WARD BOWERS

A single offense penalty proved costly to Wells D in last night's football summary league as the rule infraction handed a 6-0 game to Abbot 17. The winning eleven scored their touchdown pass from Robinson to Sockman.

Marion's look to the air to whip Wells B, 6-0, in the initial game of the evening. Their winning six-pointer was well earned on a 40 yard pass from VanDerbeek to Ludwig who snagged the pigskin in the end zone from the grasping arms of the Wells backer.

Abbot 17 handed Abbot 14 their second straight defeat, scoring in the first two minutes of the game to win 6-0. The precinct 12 lads were given the ball on the loek 15 yard line when "Red" Alridge, punting from behind his own goal line, got off a bad kick. Two plays later, Maekumber shot a short bullet pass to Bond who stepped across the double stripes for the touchdown.

A powerful DZV team was held to a 6-0 score last night by the stubbornly resisting Sooners. The lone DZV score was made in the second quarter when Burrows heaved a long pass to Bosich on a sleeper play. During the remainder of the game the DZV team was practically stopped in its tracks.

The Mustangs defeated Y.M.C.A. by a score of 6-0 in the first game of the evening. The touchdown was completed when Kaine received a pass from Crises and galloped over the last stripe.

Mary Mayo beat Sarah Williams as Bill Ford returned an enemy punt, dodging and twisting his way for 30 yards.

Bronco Center, Batchelor To Vie in Tilt

Football fans who sing the praises of line play will have an excellent opportunity to compare two of the better centers in the country Saturday when Johnny Schiehl, Santa Clara's All-American candidate, and Bill Batchelor, State's brilliant pivot man, meet on the turf of Kezar stadium, San Francisco, in the Spartan-Bronco fracas.

Schiehl, rated as the best center on the Pacific coast, has been honored for All-American for two years by Santa Clara supporters and did receive honorable mention in 1938 in most all-star selections.

A flawless passer and a ball hawk on pass defense, he will however, have trouble outmaneuvering the fast-moving Batchelor.

Without benefit of the publicity that has been Schiehl's, Batchelor has established himself as a great football player. A sharp diagnostician, the Burbank boy is usually at the right place and at the right time.

A junior, Batchelor is a true footballer in that he loves the game when it's tough. Only a few aggressive leaders found Batchelor listed among the centers, but seldom did they see him in action. Roy Ailing and Tom M. Shannock usually got the call over the then inexperienced sophomore.

Rated as Ailing's understudy, Batchelor got his chance at the beginning of the season when Roy was injured in the Wayne game. From the start Bill turned in a long-run job at center and has stood out in the State line.

Batchelor's play will be watched closely Saturday when he goes against the mighty Schiehl.

Quarterback Club Meets Tomorrow

As has been the habit for the last few weeks, the "Wednesday Evening Quarterback Club" will meet Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Union ballroom to view motion pictures of the Syracuse game.

Jack Dahlgren, assistant line coach, will act as commentator in the absence of Charlie Bachman who will be returning westward with his team.

Spartan Captain Dick Frey, the defending champion, placed seventh ahead of teammate George Keller. Al Mangan and Warren Anderson were tenth and eleventh respectively.

Van Alstine Announces Informal Frosh Practice

Although regular freshman basketball practice will not start until next month, Coach Ben Van Alstine announced yesterday that there will be an informal practice for the next two weeks.

There will be a meeting for interested frosh at 4 p. m. Friday on the gym floor. Leo Callahan, co-captain of the 1938 team, will aid Van Alstine with the squad.

Bill Batchelor, junior center, will lead the Spartan line into battle against Santa Clara Saturday and attempt to stop a rising Bronco eleven.

Yearling Gridmen Out To Keep Record Clean

By HAL SCHRAM

Bits from the freshman football camp. The Spartan yearlings are determined to wind up their 1939 campaign with an undisturbed record by training their traditional rival, Western State Teachers college freshmen, this coming Friday afternoon in the Celery City.

In addition to successfully completing its 1939 campaign, the men of '40 will be attempting to break a brief smile from Coach John Kelsie as he and other Spartan followers who witnessed the spirited rivalry of the days of Jimmie's now famous brother.

This caused the question to arise, "Can history repeat itself?" (Who's will make it so.) We hope.

Dennis Economopoulos, public headliner No. 1 to sports writers and announcers and 117-0-1-0 operator, built from Nashua, N. H., home of Detroit's Birdie Tebbel.

When Bill Ball turned in a sparkling play against the Bears on Friday, the head linesman, Walter Geiff, failed to have his assistants hold the line sticks until the play was called dead in the relief. One shouldn't criticize Mr. Geiff too harshly, for Bill Ball was his star back last year.

Ground Attack, Blocking Weak in Orange Game

By Sheldon Moyer

Thirty-six Michigan State gridgers will pack up their equipment and entrain early Wednesday morning for San Francisco where they will tackle Santa Clara next Saturday at Kezar stadium.

The Spartan squad holds its last home practice today. Following this workout there will be no further practice until Friday afternoon when the team arrives at San Francisco.

The Spartan itinerary calls for a non-stop trip from Chicago aboard the "49er" via Omaha, Cheyenne and Ogden. Regular study hours have been scheduled for the trip and a member of the faculty will accompany the squad.

The State gridgers returned from Syracuse late Sunday night after stepping off in Detroit for the Lions-Giant football game. Even though the Spartans had a 14-3 victory to their credit, Coach Charles Bachman was far from satisfied with the team's showing last Saturday.

Bachman was not particularly pleased with the State ground attack which gained a net of 27 yards while the ball was advanced 119 yards through the air.

The 36 players who were named for the trip follow:

Coach: Harold Ailing, Lansing; Bill Batchelor, Buchanan; Bill Christie, Hammett; Ed Cawley, Detroit; Earl Chikara, East Lansing; Alvin, Detroit; Edmond Page, Detroit; N. V. Bill Rupp, Los Angeles; K. Lyle Rockwood, Crystal Lake.
