Team Out For Homecoming Victory

Travel-Worn Team
Cheered by Showing
At Santa Clara

By SHELDON MOYER

Thirty-six travel weary Spartans return to practice today as they prepare for their homecoming rival, Indiana. The State squad arrived from San Francisco late yesterday and held a brief workout at the first since playing Santa Clara last Saturday.

Squad members returned in excellent physical condition except for Bruce Blackburn, who suffered a fractured leg. Blackburn will be replaced by Lew Smiley, incoming sophomore from Ferrisburgh.

BACHMAN PLEASED

Upon his arrival, Bachman indicated that he was pleased with the team's performance. "We took away in the first half because of the heat," stated the Spartan coach, "but we outplayed them during the remainder of the game. We only the breaks that kept them winning."

Bachman was particularly enthusiastic about the showings of several individuals. Bill Rupp, sophomore guard, has displaced the right guard post, and Frank Karas, another sophomore, has clinched the starting right tackle. Smiley now has the rank of first string left end in place of Blackburn's, and is expected to be better prepared at the latter slot Bachman has ordered Helge Pearson to play the varsity reserves.

LAST ROAD GAME

Indiana comes here Saturday to play the last in a series of six road games. The Hoosiers opened with a win at Ohio State and will close with a game at the week following their game with the Spartans.

Between 12 years since State and Indiana. On that occasion, the Spartans went down before the Hoosiers in a game played at the FOOTBALL—Page 4

Today's Campus

Am You Den-ny It?

Those that are dark and those that are white, some know the answer to this question.

The image incidentally surprised the picture of the portrait of the studio and stole it.

Back Seat

When either a husband or wife takes a "back seat" it's usually the wife.

However, the process was reversed this year when the student victories were made up. Of course it is true that girls' dormitories usually have only house-mothers and not housefathers, but with hall at M. S. C. is an exception.

Mrs. Ray Lamphear is the North Hall's housemother and she and her name in the directory. If Mr. Lamphear wasn't included, he does all the heavy work. Well the North hallites say he plans their meals, keeps the temperature at the right height, transports numerous girls back and forth daily to and from the campus.

Under the Wire

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 15.—With shouts of "For freedom!" approximately 2000 students demonstrated here twice during the day against the Nazi government of former Czechoslovakia. Sixteen were arrested by the German police.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Nov. 15.—Failure of the Dutch-Belgian plea was admitted here following the Nazi rejection of the plan. The mediation attempt with possible backing by the American was hinted at.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 15.—A "European commonwealth" will be established by the German government following the conclusion of the present war, German minister to Turkey Frans Von Papen announced here today.

MOSCOW, No. 15.—That Finland would meet the fate of Poland was suggested today by a significant cartoon in Pravda, official mouthpiece of the Soviet government.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Four merchantmen were added to the total ships sunk by German submarines since the start of the war today. The ships, one was British, one Greek, and two Lithuanian.

APO Schedules Alumni Dance For Saturday

An alumni dance sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega will be held in the Union Ballroom Saturday night, according to Robert Kriejer, APO head.

Sam Yeiter, chairman, stated yesterday that inasmuch as the dance is the only large one on campus tomorrow night, a limited number of tickets will be available. Many special features have been arranged, he said.

The dance is informal. Art Howland's band will play.

Yeiter has selected the following committees: Decorations, Don Farmer, Chuck Peterson, Bob Teller and Garth Oswald; patterns, Albert Gill and Ben McCauley; tickets, Bruce Nash, publicity, John Beale.

Tickets are available at the Union desk and Smoke Shop.

Musicians Hold First Meet In New Building

Meeting for the first time in Michigan State college's new music building, music students attended a convocation Tuesday morning in the auditorium with Prof. Lewis Richards, head of the music department, Lloyd C. Johnson, dean of Liberal Arts, and Ralph Calder, architect for the building, as speakers.

Dean Johnson mentioned the fact that the new music building is the first one ever built for the Liberal Arts division.

In his introduction of Calder, Richards mentioned the fact that Calder, an organist at St. Paul's cathedral in Detroit, had studied music in Rome.

Professor Richards reviewed the events of the music department since its establishment 12 years ago when he left the concert stage to become its head. Official dedication of the building will take place on December 3, he announced.

Student Club to Dance Tomorrow Night

Student club will hold a dance in the Little theater tomorrow night, beginning at 9 p. m. The Bell orchestra will furnish music. Fred Newman will be in charge.

Patrons for the party will be Prof. and Mrs. H. J. Wynkarden, economics, and Asst. Prof. E. D. Devereaux, bacteriology.

Liberal Arts Council Being Formed

In compliance with the adoption of a new constitution by the Student council last night, a Liberal Arts council is being formed to nominate members for election to the Student council. Under the new constitution, members of the Student council are elected from various divisions, instead of the student body as a whole.

Each division, except Liberal Arts, is to have one person as a representative on the council. The Liberal Arts division, because of its size, is to have two representatives. Wherever division councils exist, they are to name four candidates to run for election.

The new Liberal Arts council will be similar to the Art council. Presidents of 16 organizations active in the Liberal Arts division, comprise the council.

Two committees have been appointed, one to make a tentative constitution, the other to present a synopsis of the types of problems the council might occupy itself with.

U.S. Air Corps Officer Here

Capt. A. R. Springer of Selfridge field arrived at Michigan State college yesterday afternoon for the purpose of giving information on the appointment of flying cadets as a preliminary to the arrival of an air corps board of officers who will make a complete examination of candidates November 27-29, inclusive.

Captain Springer will be at the main office in Administration hall from 8 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 16, to noon Friday, Nov. 17, to give information relative to appointment of flying cadets and to assist in preparation of applications and other data.

The Air Corps Examining board which will be at Michigan State college November 27-29 will examine only candidates who are to graduate during or at the close of the present school year.

WAA to Show Varied Films

Women's Athletic association will feature a film on various sports teams at its second general meeting tonight at 7:30. The film is entitled "Ski East." In addition, college moving pictures of the campus in technicolor will be shown. The meeting will be held in the large lecture room of the gymnasium.

Because fencing has proved to be such a popular sport this term, WAA also is sponsoring a film on fencing.

General meetings of the organization are the only times when members can learn the functions of WAA and its purpose other than through sports.

Geogangue, geologists' club will make a tour of inspection of laboratories of the Abrams Aerial Survey corporation in Lansing tomorrow immediately after a short business meeting.

Talbert Abrams, director of the corporation, will conduct the inspection and will explain the technique of aerial photography.

This type of work is rapidly becoming of great importance in the field of geology because of its application to topographic mapping and interpretation of geologic structure.

If you have a yen to commit suicide and are afraid that the knife will tickle, the rope will break, or that poison will give you a tummy ache, try strolling out onto the center of the campus and with a warwhoop yell out "Smith and Johnson are a couple of dopes!"

The result will be quite certain and effective and you will in a few moments be trying to crash the party at the party gates. For there are now 41 of the Smith and Johnsons in the Michigan State Student body.

Close on the heels of the two aforementioned parties, the Miller and Johnsons, Jones and Campbell, and the Smith and Johnsons, respectively, in order of effectiveness. Surprising is the fact that the Joneses who could only garner a total of 22 to their rank.

And the old feud between the Martins and the McGees seems to have reached an amicable proportion for the Martins have 12 descendants on campus while the McGees have only two posterity.

This year's crop of freshmen has been a disappointment to the faculty.

All S. Women Join Student Council

Ruth Clark, North Campbell, Eunice Decker, off-campus, and Mary Jane Blue, East Lansing, are newly elected A. W. S. non-voting members of Student council.

These girls will join in council discussions, and attempt to give the women's point of view until the new Student Council constitution goes into effect next fall.

'Alma Mater,' 'Fight Song' Stand Time's Test

By JERRY DEWAR

How many Michigan school songs do you know?

In all probability only two. But if one goes back across the years to about the turn of the century and traces development of college spirit as voiced in music, a dozen tunes will be found which were popular in their day but which have fallen by the wayside through disuse.

It was back about the beginning of the twentieth century that the college first became music conscious. What would correspond to the present Alma Mater was then entitled "Hail M. A. C." written by Charles Haigh of the class of '94, and probably the first song ever sung as a definite hymn of praise to the alma mater.

A few years later, students began to see that M. A. C. lacked a fight song to sing with their "Alma Mater" and Irving Gingrich who graduated in 1902 came to the rescue with a stirring march entitled "M. A. C. We Hail Thee."

Frosh Convo To Draw Over 450

Students to Meet

At noon the visitors will be given a tour of the campus by the Secretary, John A. Hannah, will give the official welcome. A second round table composed of William Green, Frances Photocopy, and Walter Chersack will play during the luncheon. Closing remarks and further instructions will be given by Linton, who will invite the visitors to be the college guests at the Indiana M. S. C. football game in the afternoon.

Office hours will be from 7 to 8:30 tonight and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The bureau will be open after Thanksgiving on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights until the end of the term.

Let There Be Action

Six weeks have passed since the Union cafeteria management announced that additional room was to be secured to relieve congested conditions in the cafeteria.

It was said that within a month table service for students and faculty in the main dining room on the second floor would be set up. This additional space would make it possible for all concerned to receive quicker service.

What has happened to the plan is the question being asked by students who are regular patrons of the Union. So far as can be ascertained nothing constructive has been done regarding the matter.

What the difficulty is which prevents action can not be determined but many feel that they are being made victims of a "stall."

The fact remains that something must be done to alleviate crowded conditions if the Union is to fulfill the purpose with which it was founded. What is the utility of a student Union if one of its features, cafeteria, does not keep pace?

If outsiders who patronize the cafeteria and nearly out-number faculty and students are allowed, it is only logical to have facilities enough to take care of everyone.

Students understand that it builds good-will to have people not connected with Michigan State use the Union but all they ask is to have service capable of handling almost all situations.

Realizing that the Union cafeteria was installed for the use of members of this college, the management owes the students a fair deal.

They desire a little action on the plan which was announced October 5.

Quotable Quotes

"Upon us in America is laid the solemn duty of trusteeship for the old ideals of scholarship, freedom of teaching and of learning, freedom of thought and of speech, not that our institutions shall disintegrate before the sandblast of propaganda from the communist and the totalitarian, but that it shall stand strong and firm and shine our more brilliantly than before." Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of Vassar college, urges the maintenance of the "pure wells of truth."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By NEW FRASER and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Reports on the Dutch crisis which the State department has been laying on the White House desk are that the Nazis want Holland not as an air-raiding base against Britain but as a submarine base.

The Dutch coast is indented with some of the best harbors of northern Europe, strategically located along the bottle-neck of the greatest shipping lane in the world—the English Channel.

Moreover, secret German strategy is to bring new submarines down the river Rhine into Holland. Hitler is reported dicker with the Russians for new submarines, and if the deal goes through, they would probably come from Russia by rail and the Rhine.

QUEEN WILHELMINA
Split between Queen Wilhelmina and her cabinet over whether to resist German invasion has been the part of his service he seems to have enjoyed most was as an army officer.

LATE BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—While the entire country was searching for Al Capone, who has just been taken from Alcatraz, the Washington Merry-Go-Round located him today in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary, where he will be released to his family by the time this appears in print. He is being taken out of the prison carefully disguised and placed in a conveyance of automobiles which will drive him to a sanitarium.

Spirited secretly from Alcatraz, the famous gangster traveled by rail to Lewisburg, where not even the other prisoners knew of his arrival.

Although technically a free man, Al Capone probably never will be absolutely free. In advanced state of paresis, he must be confined to a sanitarium. Also the department of justice plans to watch him because he has developed a phobia against a certain prominent politician in the far west whom he is determined to kill.

A compromise with Hitler, chiefly because she felt sure her country could not withstand the German onslaught and she wanted to save her people from the same fate as Poland.

Dutch cabinet, on the other hand, was emphatically opposed. Sentiment in Holland is running so strong against Hitler that any compromise would have meant the resignation of the cabinet.

Another fear in Queen Wilhelmina's mind, according to diplomatic reports cabled here, is the danger of a Japanese attack upon the Dutch East Indies simultaneous with the German march across the Dutch border.

This always has been the strategy planned by the Japanese war lords, but it has been shaken recently by Roosevelt's sudden transfer of the U. S. fleet to Hawaii and by the straight-from-the-shoulder diplomacy of Ambassador Grew.

Post Story Gives Dope on Dixie Grid Teams

Southern football, and its exalted place in the minds of those Americans who dwell below the Mason-Dixon line, is the subject of an article entitled "Dixie Plays for Blood," written by Tom Meany for the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

The average southern player is not necessarily better than his northern counterpart, states Meany, but the essential difference lies in the fact that the Dixieland boy just naturally puts everything he's got into the game, playing for keeps against all comers.

Meany also describes the backing southern fans give their football teams and relates several incidents in which Dixie tempers have reached the boiling point in sideline riots. These fistful battles not only involve the players, but also the spectators as well.

Meany's article is an interesting, swift moving story of the sudden rise of southern football and the role played by the revival of Civil war feelings in games between teams from the north and south.

Chief guests were not the big politicians, nor the Senators, but his old friends, the army officers. Dawes has seen experience in almost every branch of government, from vice-president and ambassador down to budget director and comptroller of the currency, but of his service he seems to have enjoyed most was as an army officer.

Note—Dawes is reported to be in the political camp of Senator Bob Taft for 1940.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Extreme precautions have been taken to guard the secrecy of the report submitted to the President by the shelved War Industries board. Only four copies were made: one for the President, one for the secretary of war, a third for the acting secretary of the navy, and the fourth for Board Chairman Stettinius.

Postmaster General Farley, one of the best dressed men in public life, always wears double-breasted, subdued but colored suits.

Highest ranking unionite nabbed in Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold monopoly and racketeering cleanup of the building industry is William Hutcheson, president of the carpenters and first vice-president of the AFL. He was indicted.

After thinking about it for a while I afterwards registered not voting for that report test in my grades. Because, although my grade was not high, I did not have a great deal of stake and I could write one test while the another would not hurt me excessively.

Perhaps, this does concern a rather trivial matter, but, what would you do?

Student Tells of Hungary

By John P. Sebestyen

After the outbreak of a revolution, which had established a republic as its object, King Charles of Austria abdicated November 13, 1918.

Three days later Hungary was proclaimed an independent republic, the Hungarian Peoples' Republic, of which Count Michael Karolyi became provisional president. The two houses of legislature were abolished, and a Provisional National council were substituted.

On March 22, 1919, the Karolyi regime was supplanted by a Soviet government, which proclaimed the dictatorship of the proletariat. An opposition government was set up at Arad and Szeged, which with the assistance of the Rumanian army, swept out the Soviet government, and on August 3, 1919, established a national government at the old capital.

Elections were held on the basis of universal suffrage in January and February, 1920. The new parliament decreed that the old monarchical constitution should be continued, and Hungary thus considered a monarchy with vacant throne. Admiral Nicholas Horthy de Nagybanya was elected regent on March 1, 1920.

The legislature now consists of two houses. The representative body is composed half of members who pay highest taxes, and half of members elected for a term of six years.

This Is Yours—

By ELIZABETH YAEGER

To "Hamlet" we did go . . . and according to theater gossip saw a better production than practically the same cast presented during the Broadway run . . . which fact is always gratifying . . . but in technique Maurice Evans was that Shakespearean when you consider the rest of the cast who weren't . . . we wonder if that bothered you also? . . . see like this, and hope that you can . . . the tale of a mid-western repertory company's recently acquired corker mascot—christened—Hamlet.

With we might see Ethel Barrymore's current show, "Farm of Three Echoes," especially since older members of our family would have us believe she is to our time what Bernhardt was to theirs.

Notice in November 6 Time the chance hit concerning the Barrymore performances on the boards and all during the past six months with "My Dear Children" in Chicago . . . delightful copy.

And now let us mention a musical model from the theater coming to our own doorstep, the Gilbert and Sullivan "Mikado" . . . as swung by the very same all-around fact that swung to success in the Chicago run appearing at Prudden auditorium . . . so don't miss . . . remember we've told you . . . that's our job, you know . . . along with private opinions publicly expressed . . . and we'll pass this way again.

What would your reaction be if after a week with a bad cold and a couple of sleepless nights from a headache which you still had, were asked if you would want to repeat a test two days after you had written it?

After thinking about it for a while I afterwards registered not voting for that report test in my grades. Because, although my grade was not high, I did not have a great deal of stake and I could write one test while the another would not hurt me excessively.

Perhaps, this does concern a rather trivial matter, but, what would you do?

ROTC Students Show Little Liking For Service Abroad

Concur With Ideas of English Writer

Opinions revealed in interviews with military students at Michigan State college this week revealed that most of the R. O. T. C. students believe much as does C. E. M. Joad, British civil service official, in his current article in the Atlantic Monthly, "The Duty of a Pacifist."

"There has been altogether too much enthusiasm and sacrifice and zealotry and dying (and killing) in the world. A little less enthusiasm, a little more skepticism, a little more readiness to be able to live."

So says Joad, and so say a representative number of R. O. T. C. students at Michigan State college. At least their sentiments are similar, if not quite so flowery.

Believing in your country and helping to maintain its preservation is my idea of the right theory. I'm a pacifist but not childishly so. It is the sort of opinion which most M.S.C. students give. "I fight for home defense but no expeditionary forces," "As a pacifist, I wouldn't even take part in manufacturing the supplies necessary for war to be carried on," "Let the Atlantic and Pacific oceans be our borders," "I won't have anything to do with conflict except in case of invasion," and further examples of student opinion in regard to war.

Pacifists to lead Joad's theory seems to tie in with this. "It is the business of the pacifist in the next war," he reasons, "to preserve his life, his health, his sanity, his fair-mindedness, and his peace by every method at his disposal, and short of killing or assisting to kill his fellow men, to perform such services as the authorities may require of him."

Only one student interviewed on this matter swayed from the conventional path of answers explained by Joad. "I guess I'd more or less have to go, being in the R.O.T.C.," he said.

92 Percent Of Police Grads Are Placed

Michigan State's police administration course has the record of placing 24 out of the 26 men who have graduated since the course was introduced on this campus in the fall of 1935, according to Don J. Bremer, supervisor.

Among the positions obtained by the 24 are United States secret service work in connection with the "White House detail," consisting of guarding prominent White House officials and in connection with counterfeiting, and the management of the crime laboratory of the Dearborn police.

Other students are connected with the service and personnel departments of General Motors and the Ford Motor and Chevrolet companies. One United States second lieutenant is another M. S. C. police ad graduate.

Several others are working at investigative work for insurance companies and as investigators for finance companies. Two men have been retained by the Michigan state police while one is with the Detroit police.

Bremer stated that this list compares very favorably with that of the few other schools in the country who offer such a course.

Problem Hour Bolsters Low Chem Marks

Introduction this fall of an additional "problem" hour to weekly laboratory, lecture, and recitation hours is making college chemistry less difficult students who have not previously had chemistry in high school, according to Prof. A. J. Clark, head of the chemistry department.

During this hour problems and equations of all types which have occurred in laboratory and recitation periods are explained and worked out. The student is given help in working them at the blackboard, and also is assisted with individual problems.

Clark believes that addition of this problem hour is doing much to facilitate the student's understanding of chemistry and that there will be a decided decrease in failures this term.

Chinese Will Win War, Says Movie Star Grad Student

Japan's invasion of China is a source of no great anxiety to the Chinese people, who are confident of coming out on top in the present far-east struggle. So says Jehim Wong, graduate vet student at M. S. C. and proprietor of his own art shop in Lansing.

"To us it doesn't mean a great deal that Japan has occupied China," he says. "We have no fear at all. This war may not be settled in our lifetime, but life is so short anyway." According to Wong, the Chinese feel no enmity for the Japanese people, being of the same racial origin and background. Rather, he says, blame for the war is not to be placed on the people of Japan but rather the ruling military clique.

Wong was born in the United States but received his high school education in Shanghai, has appeared in some 10 or 12 moving pictures, one of which, "Fifth Avenue Girl," is now appearing at a Lansing theater. Among recent pictures in which he has worked are "Disputed Passage" and "Good Earth." He was technical adviser in the matter of Chinese names and places to Vicki Baum in the writing of her latest novel, "Shanghai Hotel."

Holding a B. S. degree from the University of Southern California, Wong came to State to continue his studies on the recommendation of one of his professors. Here he intends to complete three years of study in veterinary science. He told yesterday of encountering recently, a difficult question on an examination. So that his professor would not think he did not know the answer, Wong says he wrote his answer in Chinese.

He tells of Japanese coming to him with contributions for the Chinese victims of the Sino-Japanese war, while director of the Chinese relief bureau in Los Angeles in 1937 and 1938.

Though he may return to China to carry on his veterinary work, Wong says he probably will remain in this country as research, he points out, requires a peaceful, organized country.

His eight years of residence in China have taught him to appreciate not only the culture and traditions of his fatherland, but also to appreciate the "United States," he reports. Though China is far advanced in some fields of learning, it is very backward in many others. As he puts it, "We have traveled along different roads."

As for Japan's chance of winning the war in Asia, they might as well give up right now, Wong says. The Chinese farmer by day is the Chinese soldier by night, but the Japanese cannot afford to annihilate him as they need his services for supplying food to the army, Wong holds.

State's Homecoming Foe Carries Mediocre Record

Frosh Gridders Snatch Victory in Wild Finish

By Hal Schram

Thrills, glamour and spectacle were all fashioned into a 60-minute football fantasy yesterday afternoon when Michigan State's freshman football team scored a hard fought 6 to 0 victory over the varsity reserves.

All that was lacking in the afternoon's festivities was the movie cameraman who missed a swell chance to shoot what could truly be classified as a gridiron show with a story-book ending.

NU AND TUCK

A crowd of approximately 800 football fans was on hand to witness a conclusion to a nip and tuck battle which could only happen in fiction, but never in reality.

After battling the yearling gridders to a standstill for 59 minutes and five seconds, Coach Al Aggett's second stringers saw their afternoon's efforts blasted in the final 55 seconds of play.

The ball was resting on the reserves 17 yard line in their possession with less than a minute remaining in the final period. On second down, Center Tony Arena got his signals crossed and centered the ball back at a wrong angle and the puskun bounced to the one yard line where Jack Breslin, yearling end, pounced on it.

That proved to be the break of the game.

THREE TRIES FAIL

But the yearlings hadn't scored yet. For three downs the reserve line stopped the high geared freshman running attack cold. On fourth down Pete Fornari, fleet footed yearling back, started around right end, ducked through tackle, and plunged the necessary yard for the winning six points. As Fornari crossed the goal line the final gun sounded. Ripmaster's attempt to convert an unneeded point was wide of its mark.

In chalking up their fourth straight victory of the season and thus ending its season undefeated, it must be admitted that Coach John Kobs' men were extremely lucky.

OFFENSE STOPPED

During the entire first quarter, and at various times throughout the rest of the game, Coach Aggett's gridders completely outclassed its opposition. In the first three minutes of play the varsity seconds drove to the two foot line where the yearling line stiffened and the varsity offense was stopped.

At various other stages in the game both squads drove deep into their opponents' territory.

Hoosiers Start Grid Relations

Bachman, McMillin to Renew Rivalry

By Bob Hatton

A band of Indiana Hoosiers with a none-too impressive record invade Macklin field Saturday in an attempt to get back on the credit side of the football ledger.

It will mark the first time the Spartans have met the Hoosiers on the gridiron, but not the first chance that Coach Bo McMillin, of the invaders, and Charley Bachman, of the Spartans, have had to match their football wits.

In 1933, Bachman's first year at State, the little Colonel brought a Kansas State eleven to East Lansing, and the Spartans had a busy time of it in escaping with a scoreless tie.

The Hoosier mentor, who gained All-American fame as a quarterback for Center college, is again set to turn loose his grid charges against a State team.

GRID STRATEGIST

Strategist of the first order, McMillin has developed his own style of play which has become famous for its tricky and deceptive formations.

The Colonel utilizes a single-wing formation as the starting point of his plays but from there on it's mainly a matter of confusion on the part of Hoosier opponents. Variations of every degree occur with the same play often being run from several variations during the course of a game.

With 21 letter-men returning, McMillin had high hopes for a successful season in spite of a tough schedule. But injuries, hard luck, sloppy tackling and poor blocking have punctured these aspirations.

An opening game tie with Nebraska followed by a heart-breaking 32-29 loss to Iowa got the Hoosiers off to a poor start but they recovered sufficiently to beat back Wisconsin, 13-0, and Illinois, 7-6.

Reversion to their early-season play brought a 24-0 crushing at the hands of Ohio State and a 13-0 licking by Fordham.

Independent semi-finals will be played tonight at Old College field, with the first game at 8 p. m. featuring DZV and the Wolverines. Bealton will play the winner of block four at 9 p. m.

A tie for first place resulted in block four, Tuesday night as the Eagles defeated the Badgers, 7-0, in independent play.

The winning touchdown came in the third quarter when Fader threw a long pass to Dingman who stepped over the last stripe.

Eagles are tied with Carr's Kids, each team having won four games and lost one. Playoffs in this tie will be tonight at 7 p. m.

Louise Campbell was defeated by the Forester team by the narrow margin of 2-0. Foresters came into the lead when the Campbell eleven tried a running play in its end zone and was trapped.

Jayree Harriers Run Friday

While the varsity is making ready to entrain for New York city, Michigan State's cross country varsity reserves will inaugurate a series with Central State here tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 over the three and one-half mile course.

Coach Lauren P. Brown has named Walt Beardslee, Dave Cowden, Clarence Donahue, Eddie Lautenschlager, Wilson Scales, Cleon Smith, and Al Wetzel to wear the Spartan colors.

"Hurting Hal" Hurch, see Indiana back, will be much in evidence Saturday as State meets the Indiana Hoosiers.

Wayne Situation Not Definite

Upon his arrival from the west coast with the State grid squad late yesterday, Ralph H. Young, Spartan athletic director, declined to comment on any rumors concerning football relations with Wayne university for 1960.

"At the present time, I am unable to discuss the matter," stated the Spartan boss, "but I believe that a decision will be reached within a day or two."

Coach Charley Bachman, was likewise silent on the subject. "I haven't even started to worry about next year's schedule. What I'm concerned with at the present is our game with Indiana Saturday."

Indications that Wayne is about to sign for a series of games with the University of Detroit have caused many reports which require a severance of grid relations between Michigan State and the Tartars.

The Spartans have played Wayne in a warmup contest for the past four years. All of the games have been captured by State.

Lambda Chi Alpha Battles Sigma Nu In Finals

The semi-final games of the Interfraternity league, played Tuesday night, found Block 1 winners, the Lambda Chi's coming up with a stunning 3-1 upset victory over the heavily favored Block 2 champions, the Kappa Sigs, while Sigma Nu, Block 3 winners, were nosing out Alpha Gamma Rho by a single first down.

Dick Reeves as usual, sparked the Lambda Chi offensive, while the whole team played a bang up game to thwart every Kappa Sig scoring threat headed by Everett MacDougal in the passing role.

In the other engagement, Sigma Nu presented its usual strong passing attack but the great defensive work of the AGR's, especially the strong punting of Wood and Lamb, prevented any scoring. Sigma Nu backs Lett and Ballard, picking Northway and "Wogy" Farkas as their receivers, several times moved the ball deep into scoring territory only to lose the ball on downs.

Flint Poloists Whip State Team

Flint Eagles continued undefeated in the Michigan State polo league Wednesday night as they powered over State's trio, 18 to 9, on the Demonstration hall turf.

Flashing plenty of speed and displaying superior play near the enemy goal the Eagles built up a 8-3 lead at halftime and eased to a victory in the last two chukkers. Don Howden led the way for the Flint trio again as he racked up eight goals while Morrie Grant, playing a sterling game at No. 2, racked up seven goals.

The Spartans played the ball well enough at midfield but were obviously weak on goal-line defense. Fred Gibson, popped in four goals for the State team while Emil Larson counted three, and Don Robinson two.

Wednesday's opener, saw the Red Wings "B" aggregation turn aside Pontiac "B" in a game which was featured by slow play until the fourth chukker when the Lansing team notched four goals to win 10 to 7. Pontiac substituted for the Saginaw team in this tilt.

Tied up at 6-6 at the end of the third period, the game turned into a real battle in the final chukker. Jack Krause collected one goal to put the Red Wings into the lead as the period opened and although Curt Weaver opened this one, George Benjamin, Tom Young, and a pony goal clicked for the Wings in quick succession.

Wendell Smith and Krause led the Lansing aggregation, with three goals apiece.

Friday's card lists the Eagles and Grosse Pointe in the feature game at 7:30 p. m. while MSC will tangle with the Demagons at 8:20.

Harriers Eye IC-4A Meet

By JOE SIMER

Swinging into the last stages of intensive training before the all-important IC-4A blue ribbon classic in New York city next Monday, Michigan State's harrier seven is showing new drive and spirit.

Coach Lauren P. Brown has anxiously faced each big dual meet as a matter of course, content to key his men up only for the IC-4A run. And how they have come through!

In ten years of competition in the traditional meet in which only eight complete State teams took part, the Spartans reeled off five consecutive team championships and five individual crowns.

Their reign of championships was shattered last year by powerful Manhattan, which again ranks with the favorites. Before their five-year streak the Spartans had placed second, third and fourth.

Leading the Spartan distance immortal is Tom Ottey, who galloped away with the gold medal in 1933, and came back to repeat on the next trip. Clark Chamberlain, who led the pack in 1930, was the first Spartan winner. Eddie Bechtold was first in the 1937 grid, and the following year Ken Waite was the fourth State man in a row to wear the coveted crown.

FREY IMPROVES

Captain Dick Frey is the only regular on the last championship team on this year's squad. Hampered all season by the after-effects of a tendon operation, the Buffalo veteran's goal is to lead his team to the title. The way the harrier chief zipped through long workouts this week, he appears to have hit the form that placed him among the leaders the last two years.

Frey was the freshman champion in 1936, and before that had seen considerable action on the hilly VanCortlandt course.

Four of the men also made the trip last year. Roy Fehr, who is a much improved runner and who will be a contender for first place, and George Keller, placed ninth and tenth last year. Bill Mansfield who has turned in his best running in the last two starts, also placed high. Al Mangan, an eastern boy who has a liking for rugged hills, should figure much higher in this year's scoring.

MILLS SURPRISES

The surprise of the year is Ed Mills, one of the most consistent runners on the squad. After dropping out of school last spring, the short and stocky Mills, who weighs more like a halfback than a distance ace, was not even counted on in the pre-season drive, but with tireless effort he improved his position in every meet until he led the pack in last Saturday's. The second new member of the squad is lanky Warren Anderson, who has kept a firm hold on the seventh berth.

Mason Fire Wins Close Victory

Mason 5, 27-0 victory in the last appearance, met State competition in Abbot 10 last night in the dormitory touch football league and just managed to edge out a win via the first down rule. The winners reached the 20-yard line only once during the evening but their efforts proved good enough as the Abbot offense bogged-down completely.

Striking through the air as usual, Mason 7 posted a 6-0 victory over Wells F in the opening game. The Mason seven's marker came on a 20 yard pass from Charles Getz to Frank Boyer.

Mason 8 concluded the evening proceedings with a hard-fought decision over Abbot 18. Although both sides failed to dent the back-down column, the Masons counted a pair of first downs to cop the struggle.

For the first time in your year "Buck" Shaw, Santa Clara football coach, has been forced to abandon his unit substitution system. Lacking capable material Shaw has returned to individual substitution.

BAD START

An opening game tie with Nebraska followed by a heart-breaking 32-29 loss to Iowa got the Hoosiers off to a poor start but they recovered sufficiently to beat back Wisconsin, 13-0, and Illinois, 7-6.

Reversion to their early-season play brought a 24-0 crushing at the hands of Ohio State and a 13-0 licking by Fordham.

Independent semi-finals will be played tonight at Old College field, with the first game at 8 p. m. featuring DZV and the Wolverines. Bealton will play the winner of block four at 9 p. m.

A tie for first place resulted in block four, Tuesday night as the Eagles defeated the Badgers, 7-0, in independent play.

The winning touchdown came in the third quarter when Fader threw a long pass to Dingman who stepped over the last stripe.

Eagles are tied with Carr's Kids, each team having won four games and lost one. Playoffs in this tie will be tonight at 7 p. m.

Louise Campbell was defeated by the Forester team by the narrow margin of 2-0. Foresters came into the lead when the Campbell eleven tried a running play in its end zone and was trapped.

10 WAYS TO HAVE A GOOD TIME FOR 5¢

Any one good time for a nickel would be a bargain. But in this week's Post, you get at least ten kinds of entertainment, and a lot of timely information, all for 5 cents!

1. FOUR-WAY DRAMA. The leading story in this week's Post is recommended for (1) football fans, (2) engaged couples, (3) girls smitten with gridiron stars, and (4) fathers who have sons in love with the wrong girl. Read Yesterday's Heroes, by a new Post writer, William Brent.

2. INFORMATION PIECE. Are you annoyed by people who know "all about the war"? You can silence them by revealing the important secret clause in the Rome-Berlin axis agreement. You'll find it in Demaree Bess' article, Mussolini Prepares for War. A radio dispatch from Geneva.

3. FUN WITH OUR FOUR-FOOTED PALS. Note to Wives: When you see papa polishing his shotgun, quick—get him Verren Bell's yarn, Brag Dog, to read! He'll end by wanting to own a bird-dog, of course. But you can talk him out of that.

4. HIGH JINKS BETWEEN THE LINES. After the game is over, read Tom Meany's football article, Dixie Plays for Blood. Not that the South fights the Civil War all over again, you understand, but what's a kick in the face if the referee isn't looking? Sizzling football stories retold by a sports writer who's watched the stretchers go by!

5. THE WOMAN IN THE CASE. "His wife doesn't know it, but I hear Professor Lorber has been running around with that good-looking school-teacher." Is there a girl in your neighborhood the men all like and the women all hate? You'll recall her, definitely, when you read the story on page 18 of this week's Post, But Love the Sinner, by Eve Bennett.

6. PLAY GOLF WITHOUT AGONY. Ever play with somebody who keeps quoting rules—in his favor? Read Frank Bunce's story, Fore!, of the sweet young thing in red shirt and shorts who got even with the club's most formidable player by being up on rules we bet most golfers haven't even heard of!

7. SHARE YOUR PLEASURE in the Post with others. Tell them how Father Divine produces thousand-dollar bills with the dexterity of a magician, to feed regiments of negro—and white—"angels." You'll learn how when you read Jack Alexander's rollicking article, All Father's Children Got Heavens—about the half-pint messiah who admits he is God.

8. GAME OF LOVE: (Played by 4.) Is an ambitious wife a spur or a knife in the back to a husband starting in business? Here's the bittersweet story of two husbands whose wives raced for "success." Richard Sherman's Won't You Walk a Little Faster?

9. BE A MAN-ABOUT-TOWN WITHOUT MOVING AN INCH. You can enjoy a personally conducted tour backstage with the First Lady of the Theatre. Read about the time Helen Hayes first met George M. Cohan; the time she played to cowboys; what happened in her first "grown up" part. (It's in the unique story of her life, by her mother, continued in this week's Post. Third part of eight.)

10. FUN IN TAHITI WITH HORDHOFF & HALL. It may be raining or snowing when you take this week's Post home. What do you care? You'll be in Tahiti having a gay time reading Out of Gas, the comic adventures of the Tuttle family. You're in time to catch the second part of the five-part novel, by the authors of those best-sellers, The Hurricane, Mutiny on the Bounty and The Dark River.

ENCORE! Don't miss the editorial on page 22, A Chance to Go to Work. And fourteen swell cartoons. And poems (we direct your special attention to one on page 24 entitled For The Agony Column).
