Believing that the Michigan State News should always work for the best interests of the students, this paper will actively promote a four-point platform.

1. Keep America out of war.
2. Promote healthful, adequate housing at reasonable costs.
3. Make Michigan State college the best all-around college in the United States.
4. Make the Michigan Legislature cognizant of the growing need for classroom facilities.

Boyer Pitching For France

Why not fight with us?
The French government, after recently announcing the drafting of Charles De Gaulle, has now stated that he will make a tour of the United States, where he will talk to women's clubs on the European war.

What do French men say about all the women's clubs about the war in Europe? It is a girl's job to do all in her power to convince the women that their men should help save European democracy. Allied propaganda will be the result.

During the World War thousands of men went into the war after being guided by their wives or sweethearts. Undoubtedly the French hope De Gaulle's talks will induce the continental women to join the hearts of American women to be transferred to their men.

American neutrality could be furthered if America were to trust to the European propaganda in an absolutely neutral manner.

Why don't they come over to an American service and see how they can help? Let's have the American women's clubs to encourage women to help the men fight for their men.

First war propaganda with neutral propaganda.

Can One Entertain Without Dancing?

The other day I went to a party. "Who certainly we should have at exchange parties. Let's have a group of women who can entertain and who we can't see them entertain with their own hands. We all are around and dance. If we could have dancing on the tables would have been better."

Doesn't that sound like a good idea? Let's have a group of women who can entertain and who we can't see them entertain with their own hands. We all are around and dance. If we could have dancing on the tables would have been better."

When we say "we are all around and dance." This is not the kind of party we are talking about. We are talking about a party where the women can entertain and who we can't see them entertain with their own hands. We all are around and dance. If we could have dancing on the tables would have been better."

Dancing is a very important part of the social life of a college. It is a way of entertaining and who we can't see them entertain with their own hands. We all are around and dance. If we could have dancing on the tables would have been better."

The main reason why we should have dancing is that it is a way of entertaining and who we can't see them entertain with their own hands. We all are around and dance. If we could have dancing on the tables would have been better."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
 TRADE MARK REGISTERED
 BY PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington, Nov. 18.—Some Republican politicians have been worried over the recent political activity of Herbert Hoover. Although his friends say he is not a candidate he exhibits all the earmarks of running in 1940.

He is definitely concentrating on securing control of the California delegation to the Republican national convention, and he has been indefatigable in traveling around the country visiting editors and politicians even in the smallest towns.

All of this was the subject of discussion between two Republican leaders, Alexander Smith of Trenton, N. J., and Ronald Reagan, brother of New Hampshire's Senator. Dr. Hoover is an active Republican candidate.

Ronald Bridges, assistant to Hoover's secretary, who is assisting in the party and the ex-president said it is the other candidates to make clear his position is to run in 1940. It was suggested that Hoover should not run in 1940.

Smith pointed to New York where Mr. Hoover was staying and they saw how they were doing.

NERVOUS BRIDGES
 Ronald Bridges opened up the conversation but was a little nervous about it. After some serious and having heard he had been converted to the other party, Bridges said he would not support Hoover's campaign.

Mr. Hoover, however, said that he would not support Bridges' campaign.

Young men, all you are here to do is to support Hoover's campaign.

Dr. Hoover said in the afternoon that he would support Hoover's campaign.

CHIMING IN
 Over at the University of Michigan they have been swinging out not only in their orchestras, but in their new bell tower. The carillonner has been swinging almost everything that can be swung. Which reminds us that although we have a fine set-up for the playing of the chimes, we don't have any music.

Do the students and visitors have to wait until spring fever gets in to hear these beautiful notes that across the campus? Some freshmen, in fact most of them, don't even know that a tune can come from those things in the top of the tower, except for the banging for the hour.

AUCTION SALE
 One of the biggest events of the term on most campuses of the United States is the auction sale of lost and unclaimed goods from the Lost and Found department.

Has anyone ever heard of such an auction on this campus? And yet we are supposed to have a lost and found department which operates on a modern basis and which disposes of unclaimed goods after a definite length of time. Where do these unclaimed goods go? It is certain that they belong to the students and should return to them.

Homecoming Games Prove Expensive

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Homecoming games are expensive luxuries for college alumni. That's the opinion of National Consumer Tax Commission, which has just released a study which says that a fan and his wife or sweetheart spend $22.85 to go back to his alma mater for the homecoming game.

Here's the way the bill for two was figured: Out: T.X., $3.60; flowers, $1.50; lunch, $2.50; cigarettes, 45 cents; train fare, $4; game tickets, $4.40; and dinner, $7.35.

Taxes on all these items amount to $3.95 the commission estimated.

Spartan Sportfolio

Today is homecoming. At exactly 2 p. m. this afternoon, a huge throng of alumni, both young and old, will bank themselves about the confines of Mackin field to watch Spartan do battle with Hoosier.

Forget Present, Look Ahead

Almost to a man, those that are getting their first glimpse of Michigan State in action this fall, will be watching to see just how the present State outfit runs with the teams they used to know. They'll be looking also for coming stars, boys destined to crash the nation's headlines in a year or two.

At least we hope they look into the future a bit. Those that come merely to find out how good State is this year, are destined to disappointment. It's the others that we want to talk to, the ones who are looking at the Spartans with their thoughts centered on 1940, '41 and '42.

For it is pretty generally admitted that Michigan State is not going anywhere in a football way this year. Not with the records showing but three victories as against four losses. But one thing is quite certain, Michigan State is building a football foundation this year that should sprout into the clouds during the next few seasons.

Take a look for yourselves today, you returning Staters. You'll see a squad heavy where coaches like to be heavy—in sophomore material. And these sophomores are not only plentiful, they are good football players.

Bachman Calls the Turn

We can still remember what Coach Charley Bachman told us one day back in September. Said Charley: "The season is going to be over before we're ready for it. This bunch will be a much better football team the next two years than it will this year."

Bachman was right. State hasn't had much success in 1939, but things have been looking up each Saturday. The boys are getting better, you. But they're not getting beaten bad and they're playing some pretty tough football teams.

Looking back over the record in the six years Bachman has been at State, his teams haven't done so bad. They've won 58 while dropping only 11. That's a pretty fair mark, and a depression is bound to come along sometime. They had one down at Ann Arbor and it lasted four years. We don't think it's going to last that long at State.

So remember that, you grads, while you're watching the game today. And take a good look at such boys as the Davis twins, Cusack, White, Kennedy, Kaman, Koras, Pound, Smiley, Friedland, Shell, Sherman, Rupp, and Quisley, to mention only a few. They're the ones, along with some others up from a fine freshman squad, who will be heard from in a big way in the next few years.

A Record to Be Proud of

Although football grabs most of the limelight these days, there's

Spartans to Be Better Next Year

an event coming off next Monday which should be watched closely by every Spartan sport fan.

Coach Lauren P. Brown's cross country team will be in New York on that day to compete in the annual running of the IC-4-A.

Speaking of records to be proud of, here's one for the Spartans. In the ten years that State harrier teams have been entered, Spartans have copped the team championship five times, and have grabbed the individual crown a like number of times. Last year, after a decade of consecutive victories, State was beaten out in Manhattan for team honors.

A record like that deserves a little attention. And it should be a record that swells with pride to realize that their own school is one of the nation's strongholds in the cross country sport.

Michigan State will be one of the teams rated as a strong contender Monday, just as it has been for the past ten years. There may be ups and downs for Spartan teams, but Brown's boys are up there every year, and an accomplishment deserves a little notice, we think.

Hair Trimmers Try Prophet Comeback

By Jerry Dewar

Two weeks ago some of the members of the local hair-trimming trade stuck out their respective necks in making predictions on the major football games, of the week-end and almost got their necks shaved as they wound up with an average of only 58 per cent correct.

But they come back again this week-end in a better mood. They would be glad to give the football sports writers a good time, but they are not so sure about their own predictions. They are now the more modest and they are now the more modest and they are now the more modest.

The hair trimmers were not through with their predictions, but they were not so sure about their own predictions. They are now the more modest and they are now the more modest.

Pledges Plan Tourney

Following in the footsteps of their Michigan brothers, fraternities pledges groups have organized a series of football exhibition tournaments.

All of the fraternities pledges groups have been placed in the tournament, without exception. They are: Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The following games have already been scheduled and will be played November 20-21. They are: Phi Delta Theta vs. Beta Beta Beta, Phi Kappa Phi vs. Alpha Chi Sigma, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi.

RECEIVE BYES

The other fraternities pledges groups will not play in the second round. Sigma Chi and Phi Kappa Phi will receive byes.

The following games will be played: Sigma Chi vs. Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Delta Theta vs. Beta Beta Beta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi.

A second and third round games may be played before the scheduled date if a game is arranged.

McMillin Gives Dope on Team

By HERB BACHMAN

Surprise, Coach talks! And indeed, Coach "B" McMillin of Indiana almost caught us short with his direct answers yesterday, in an interview held on Mackin field.

"Do you favor the beginning of football relations between State and Indiana," we asked of a star.

"I don't believe in it," he answered, "and would like to see them continue." We play State again next year at Bloomington.

Getting down to the more definite details we asked for a listing of Hoosier players we asked of the Hoosier coaching staff.

"What is your opinion of McMillin?" we asked of the Michigan coaching staff.

"Let the game develop," McMillin said. "If the game develops, we will see who is the better team."

To prevent a full safety man on the position from running back kicks 75 and 80 yards at a time, Harris gets plenty of distance on his kicks and when they get out of bounds, we don't lose any of our distance.

Let the game develop, McMillin said. "If the game develops, we will see who is the better team."

Dalers Seek IC-4-A Crown in New York

By Joe Simcik

"On to New York!" The rallying cry for Spartan cross country teams for the past decade, again becomes an actuality this afternoon as Coach Lauren P. Brown and seven harrier runners set out for the I. C. 4-A classic to be run off in the Empire State city Monday afternoon.

Second last year, after making distance running history with five consecutive team championships, the Spartans are keyed up for nothing less than first this time. Practically the same team that was named out by Manhattan is making the trip.

The team's running will bring together the greatest list of competing teams in the history of the track-and-field meet. Defending champion, Manhattan, with four key men back, is rated by the entire State contingent as the team to beat.

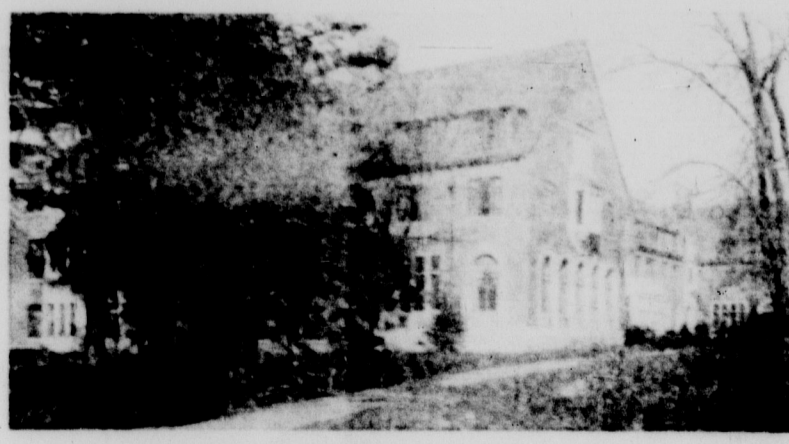

However, a comparison of meet results indicates a wide open struggle. Manhattan edged out a powerful team from Penn State who later lost close contests to Michigan State and Syracuse by about identical scores. Last week Penn State upset Pittsburgh, which is rated in some circles as a favorite, but who had also bowed to Michigan State early in the season.

Syracuse goes into the fray with a perfect slate. A loss to Michigan State is the only blotch against the team, who have been picking up momentum each week with a turn to form of Capt. Dick and better performance by other six men.

With over 200 stars from every nation, team balance tell the story over the course of rugged hills. In these games, and Ed Mills has a preference for rugged hills, the way Roy Felt has shown, the course makes a good term in his last year's hills, while Warren Anderson has been consistent in all years.

Eagles Drop Hard One in Polo

Five goals were scored in the first half of the polo match between the Spartans and the Eagles at the University of Michigan. The Spartans won 13-11.

The Eagles were outclassed from the start by the inspired play of the Spartans, who led at the half by a score of 5-0. Beveridge of the Spartans led the way by scoring 4 goals. McGrath of the Spartans and B. Beveridge of the Eagles followed close behind. A pony again helped by a counter.

The fast, hard riding seen in the polo match outplayed the Spartans outplayed the Eagles to run up a 13-11 score. The Spartans led at the half 5-0. Beveridge of the Spartans led the team out of danger when he scored 7 goals. L. Beveridge of the Eagles scored 4 goals and 4 goals respectively. All played excellent polo.

SCOOP SAYS

By GEORGE MASKIN
Editor's Note: George Maskin, 1935 sports editor of the State News, returns to his old haunts.

It's great to be close beside the Winding Cedar again after roaming the high school fields of eastern and central Michigan in search of all-state football players.

For months now we've missed the old campus with its beautiful girls, the State News, and the cracks of Vic Sparfelo, the long hours spent at the Campus Press, the chronicling of State sports results, and, yes, even the bridge games-up at the house.

We came back to town last night to discover once more we're in the "doghouse"—this time not with the athletes or the coach, as frequently was the case in the past, but with our former pal, on the new gathering beat.

They tell us, we broke a trust, our story ran in the Detroit Times, our story ran in the Detroit Times, quoting Charley Bachman as stating the Spartans will not play Wayne next year, because of the presence of eight other tough games on the schedule.

We wrote only what Mr. Bachman told us. And last night Mr. Bachman informed us we didn't do anything wrong—which is just the way we feel about the whole matter.

Views Field House

Back at State, to see the field house now is more than just talk and plans; that the structure will be the greatest of its kind in the country and when completed no school will be better equipped than Michigan State.

To watch Sam Yeater receive the same response cheer leaders have experienced with pep rallies for four years—a small turnout; to see our two cents worth over the P.A. system, and let once not have the audience too few in ways.

To encounter Al Diebold, a football player whom Michigan State certainly could have used this year, and pass along regards from Johnny Pingel, who despite an injury is going great with the Detroit Lions.

To meet again with Nick and Annie and hear Old Geller, our boss on this page two years ago, will be among the Homecoming, along with Medette Hays, the girl who convinced us in our sophomore year that athletic success is a place on the sport page.

Busman's Holiday

We're here today on a business holiday to watch Michigan State for the second time this year. We had even the Spartans at Ann Arbor and we don't have to say anything more about that game.

Since then, through Sheldon Moyer, our local informant, and Lewis H. Walter, we have seen the Spartans improve tremendously. The Spartans, Moyer, Moyer and Walter declare, aren't just some team by a long shot, they played as impressively in the first half against Michigan.

We can be wrong about Michigan, but we're sure Michigan will win this game today. And we were surprised if the Spartans can't run it on the Hoosiers.

Incidentally, the six around Detroit in "Water State" is 40.

Coaches Spill Woes Cry On Each Others Shoulders

By Sheldon Moyer
Coaches Charley Bachman and Bo McMillin, both charter members of the First Order of Football Strategists, were hushing over the prospects of today's game between the Spartans and the Hoosiers.

McMillin, the mentor with silver-thatched hair, leaned back lazily in a chair and kicked-off in the pre-game battle of words which was about to ensue.

"Well," spoke the "Little King," "we haven't played each other since 1923 when I was coaching at Kansas State. We had a scoreless tie that day. Think today's game will settle that old issue?"

"Gosh, I don't know, Bo," replied Bachman. "You know we're not going so hot this year. We really miss Johnny Pingel and Al Diebold in our backfield. Who when we started out this fall Ed die Pearce was our only veteran back."

McMILLIN FEELS BAD
"Yes, we've had a tough season," said McMillin. "Lot of bad breaks, plenty of injuries and six straight games on the road. Yes, I guess things look pretty dark for us today."

With both coaches still doled, looked on the 30-yard line and seeing making the offensive drive along the line of all states. McMillin finally had the initiative to start something constructive, a defensive attack.

"Say, Charley, what kind of cleats are you going to use in the game?"

"Hub," uttered Bachman with a worried look. "Why we're going to use this kind (rubber) cleats and not with the Hoosiers. No objections, are there, Bo?"

Spartan Harriers Rout Two Bearcat Teams

Captain Casimir Rakowski of Central State, marred a perfect day for Michigan State's cross country teams when he finished first as the varsity reserves routed the Bearcat varsity 20-43; the freshmen crushed Central's yearlings with a perfect score, 15-50.

Rakowski won the three and one-half mile race in 19:18.2, 50 yards ahead of the nearest man, but his inexperienced team mates were sadly outclassed as the entire Spartan team led them to the finish line.

A Wetzel led the Spartans with 19:36 followed in order by Dave Crowder, 19:50; Walt Beardslee, 19:48; Wilson Scates, 20:25; Glenn Smith, 20:32; Clarence Donahue, 20:44; and Eddie Leutenheger.

Spartan Jerry Page, who put a terrific finish, to cap the two and one-half freshmen 12:12, to break the Green and White team of Central State their reds team in front of Bruce Linder, the Bearcat runner.

The other Spartan times were: Bill Scott, 12:16.0; Ralph Moore, 12:16.1; Ed Leonard, 12:34; Lloyd Sparks, 12:53; Howard Malloy, 13:27; and Ken Finlayson, 16:45.

Don Merritt, another State freshman, who was running without a number and did not count in the scoring, finished between the third and fourth men.

PUNTS AND PASSES
The spearhead of the Hoosier deceptive attack, yet completed 27 out of 78 passes for 555 yards gained this fall. Besides being a fair ball carrier, Hursh has a punting average of 31 yards in six games.

Coach Charley Bachman will probably rely on the same lineup that started against Santa Clara last week. The backfield consists of Bill Bachman at quarterback, Wayne Pearce and Eddie Pearce, halfbacks, and Jack Anon, fullback.

In the line Frank Karas, 205-pound sophomore tackle from Escanaba, will make his first start of the season. Karas turned in a very pleasing performance at San Francisco and has earned the praises of the coaching staff for his aggressive play.

At the other line posts will be Lew Smiley and Mike Kink, ends; George Garrett, tackle; Lyle Rosenbath and Paul Griffin, guards; and Bill Batezeler, center.

Campbell Hall to Be Dedicated Sunday

Louise H. Campbell dormitory, for women students, will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon.

These residents of South Campbell dormitory seem quite happy about the whole thing. They are Gerry Hansen, Marge Torrey, Helen Sayers, and Jeannette Sadler. They are probably discussing tomorrow's dedication.

Here is Housemother McDaniels talking with Annette Fairgold and Virginia Riley. Sunday's dedication is undoubtedly the foremost concern to them right now, for that will be the biggest day in the history of the dormitory.

Studios looking, aren't they? Especially when one considers that they are sitting in the recreation room. Norma Lou Arnold, left, is sitting on the arm of Barbara Turner's chair, while Dorothea Schmidt is engrossed with her book.

Dorm Elevens Open Fight for Crown

Capone Changes Jail For Hospital; Free But Under Guard

By Bruce Mair

Technically free for the first time in seven years, Al Capone, former Chicago gangster, was under federal guard today in a Baltimore hospital. Whether agents were to guard Capone against himself or against gangland reprisals was not known.

Capone's entrance into the hospital confirmed rumors that the ex-bootleg king's hand had suffered during his imprisonment for income tax evasion. Capone was released formally at Lewisburg, Pa., after serving time at Atlanta, Alcatraz, and Terminal Island prison in California.

Franklin Roosevelt crowded word news out of the number one spot in the nation's newspapers Thursday with his speech at Washington, hinting that he might retire at the end of his present term of office.

In an off-hand remark just before his speech at the laying of the cornerstone of the Thomas Jefferson memorial, he stated that he hoped to be present at the final dedication of the monument.

POLITICS MEAN BUSINESS

While this was weak evidence indeed, it was pointed out by political experts that men in the President's position don't make remarks carrying any political connotation unless they mean to Roosevelt's present term of office will end just 20 days before the final dedication of the memorial.

Another presidential candidate somewhat more frank in his plans for the next campaign, announced to his opening speech, he spent for the presidency Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney, considered for the Republican nomination, stated Thursday that he will "take off" on his campaign December 8, in a speech before "leading Republicans of the country" before the Minnesota Republican committee in Minneapolis.

RUSSIA INCREASES PRESSURE

But the war in Europe, and the possibility of an increase in the size of that war was still raging with increased Russian pressure on little Finland and a few weeks ago Soviet forces had indicated that Finland would be the next to fall. The United States was reported by the United States.

But on Thursday, the first news of a political barometer of official attitude, revealed as follows: an attack in its small neighbor, and the Nazis in Poland, and before the outbreak of a world war.

Major flights of Russian planes were reported Friday over Finland territory, and there are reports that Soviet troops were being disembarked on the border. Finland envoy returned to Moscow, and French envoys returned to London, and French envoys returned to London, and French envoys returned to London.

Not only in the Baltic, but in the Scandinavian area, the news was feared. The Red army, it was said, would reach the Baltic coast in six and the Germans would be back in the Baltic. The news was feared.

NAZIS TAKE FOUR MORE

Four more towns in Poland were reported to have fallen to the Nazis. The towns were Bialystok, Lublin, and two others. The news was feared.

The first day of fighting between a light tank and a German tank was reported to have taken place in Poland. The news was feared.

Agitation in the East of Europe and the Middle East is reported to have increased. The news was feared.

Weather bureau reports that the weather will be cloudy and cooler tomorrow. The news was feared.

Lease Signed For Men's Co-op

With the signing of a lease for a nine-room house on Abbot road, the first of a series of men's cooperative houses at Michigan State is under way today. The house will be altered and refurbished during Christmas vacation for occupancy beginning winter term.

Operated and controlled entirely by student residents, the project will house 15 men. Another 10 are expected to be housed there during winter term.

According to Bob Jackson, one of the leaders of the movement since its inception last June, the house will aim to provide healthful living conditions at a reasonable cost. If it proves successful other houses will be established here, he said.

The house will be organized on the original Rockdale idea, with each resident having one vote. Robert Polford, another organizer, stated: "Membership will be open to any student without regard to religious, campus, political or other affiliations."

Officers will be elected. Polford says to carry out the house business. Included among the officers to be elected are manager, secretary, treasurer, purchasing agent, cook, and steward. All officers will be student residents who will have complete charge of the house management.

Under its plan of organization, each resident will contribute monthly to a house fund, half the contribution remaining with the house as a fund. The remainder will be in the nature of a loan to be paid back from the house operation.

From this fund, the lease will be paid and equipment purchased. Surplus funds after needs have been indicated will be passed back to members in proportion to how many they have transferred through of the house.

The college housing regulations have been incorporated into the house rules, but the organization will submit a constitution to the faculty approval.

Students To Get Choice Of Buses

Michigan State students and East Lansing residents apparently will be offered the choice of buses operated by two different companies beginning today for the first time in history.

This choice followed the announcement that the Michigan public Service Commission had issued an emergency order permitting the Lansing city bus company to operate the Green Lansing and Okemos on a seasonal schedule. The schedule (T-1) was effective today.

Both the red and yellow buses will operate through East Lansing on emergency orders. The commission issued an order allowing the Inter-City Lines (red buses) to operate between Lansing and East Lansing before fall term opened.

Commissioner O. T. Shilton, who announced the order, stated that it contained no special provisions relative to picking up and discharging passengers in East Lansing. However, the yellow buses will pass through East Lansing after several months' absence.

Though Harry D. Hubbard, East Lansing city attorney, said he believed that a statement yesterday it is presumed that the yellow buses will pick up and discharge passengers at Abbot and Grand River and parking at other points.

East Lansing city council has approved operation of bus lines through the city on grounds that unnecessary traffic congestion would result.

Need Traffic Precautions Survey Results Show

Approximately 58 per cent of all pedestrian crossings on the busiest block of Grand River avenue in East Lansing are termed improper in execution by Police Chief H. E. Hain of East Lansing, who bases his statement on results of a traffic survey recently completed with the help of campus police.

This survey, taken for the state highway department, is intended to show whether or not further precautionary measures are needed on the portion of Grand River bounded by State and Speed checks show that in the majority of cases, assumed by level of speeds between 23 and 25 miles an hour on parts of Grand River posted for a 35 mile an hour limit. Though Hain declined to make any statement as to how the check is to be taken in the light of the survey's results, Hain said Tuesday he did not believe the town is posted enough to protect its citizens, including the playing of street games on the north edge of the town on Grand River, where there are no posted signs to indicate the driver's view of the street.

According to the state highway department, no definite steps will be taken until the results of the survey have been studied and reported by the department.
