"I believe that we're havng the best Farmers' Week n years," is the comment of E. L Anthony, dean of Agriculture and general chairman of the 26th annual M.S.C. Farmers' week, as the third day of the week's activities ended.

Anthony stated that attendance thus far, although not officially estimated, has exceeded all past figures. He predicted that today's attendance should set a new sin-gle-day record, if weather conditions remained favorable.

'She Can Bake a Cherry Pie

In these days of queens and more queens it's pleasantly surprising to find one picked for ability as well as looks.

"Michigan State's most recently named queen, in addition to possessing the no-longer amusual qualities of poise and personality, can, like Billy Boy's girl friend, bake a cherry pie. And a darned good one, according to The words of the contest judges.

It may be a set-back to the militant suffragettes who hope to rescue women from the titchen and set them up in an office, but the State News joins the average male in being thankful that a young woman who isn't afraid to get her hands in the alough is going to receive some recognition for the act

What. No Skaters' Waltz?

Student facilities for recreation in East Lansing have been improved in a large measure by completion of the new college skating rink. Bigger than a regulation football field, the rink is in an excellent location, sheltered from February winds by the bulk of Jenison fieldhouse, the brick wall around the football practice field, and a windbreak of trees.

There is plenty of ice to go around and figure skaters and speed skaters as well as the common, or garden, variety of weakankled amateurs can find room to cavort about in their own peculiar style.

Only one thing is needed to make the setup well-nigh perfect. Many skaters complain that gliding over the ice isn't the real thing unless there is some kind of musical accompaniment. Buildings and Grounds department, Student council, or some service organization on campus has a real chance to do something constructive toward promoting inexpensive and healthful recreation by arranging fer a record player and public address em. It's worth thinking over.

One At A Time, Please

Come around later, Mr. Rawson, much

The proverbial last straw seemed to descend on Michigan State college Tuesday when, at a Farmers' Week meeting, State Representative Audley Rawson of Cass City proposed that the college take over the management of the annual Michigan State fair.

Rawson, who is Republican floor leader in the house, feels that M.S.C. could operate the fair at a saving, ending the losses which have been registered in past years at Detroit. He wants to continue Farmers' Week In the winter and merely add the fair to fall activities at the college.

Thanks, Mr. Rawson, your idea is a tribute to Michigan State and would greatly build up the college's already high prestige in state agricultural matters, but wait a while.

Wait until students and faculty get their farm friends out from underfoot. Wait until they get breath and time enough to think over the suggestion.

header attractions at Olympia in Detroit were eyed with a fair amount of interest by athletic officials here Wednesday.

Detroits on Council.

Ben Van Alstyne, coach of the Sparians, said that "it's pretty far away to talk about, but collegiate doubleheaders ought to catch on quickly in Detroit. If the athletic council sanctioned it, we would be willing to play." Ralph H. Young has pointed out before that doubleheaders would hardly be practical in East Lansing but would undoubtedly prove popular in a metropolitan area.
