Today's Campus

Lock the Barn

Students who run across senior members need feel no alarm. The Engineers have actually had some and haven't been able to find it up to date. They have a 95-horsepower engine in one of their lab classes, and for the last few days have been unable to get only 88 horsepower out of it. Last night they fiddled with the carburetor and picked up three horsepower, but the element escaped them on the next try. Today they look forward to trying again, after turning out of gas in the midst of this yesterday.

She Loves Me

Men departing from North Campbell hall after leaving their Tuesday night were puzzled to see a woman run weeping toward the hall, handkerchief in hand. Her escort, smiling happily followed her to the door. When a crowd asked him what was the matter with his date, he replied, "Nothing. I just found out. She loves me!"

Bad Digestion?

J. A. Foster, instructor in the English department, and 10 of his regular dinner friends don't like to use their meals. They said so at dinner the other day. When they pleas for no music went unheeded, and the juke box ground out tune after tune, it interrupted their meal. So, as a protest against all persons who play juke boxes during meals, they all entered picked a hobo ballad, "The Rattling Cannonball," and began inserting nickels. After they'd played it 18 times successively, everyone in the restaurant was agreed—that music during meals is bad for the digestion.

Want A Date?

"I bought to work spring term" says Ruth Cornell, Howell sophomore, speaking of the date bureau which is to open for business next Tuesday. Miss Cornell is chairman of the bureau which is sponsored by the Independent Men's and Women's council, for the benefit of students who wish blind dates. The bureau registers applicants for dates, and tries to furnish dates according to the specifications of the applications. Office hours are from 3 to 5 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday; and from 7 to 8 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Neck Dirty?

A case of sticking the neck out little too far occurred literally at the Delta Chi house last night. Members were making a good bit of noise dragging five seniors off to the river for dunking ceremonies. When House President Chuck Jarrett, Detroit junior, stuck his head out the door and bawled, "Quiet, you guys!" Upshot of this statement was that Jarrett, though apologizing profusely, also went to the river.

Resident Houses Hold Elections for Term

Dorm Men Choose Representatives

By Dash Wuertel
Continuing the business of elections started in some dormitories and houses on campus last Sunday, six more houses have announced their spring term officers. Mason-Abbot and Wells hall men elected representatives to their councils, instead of new officers. Campbell hall has not elected officers yet.

Churches List Services, Talk By Dickinson

Taft Picks New Heads

At a meeting Monday night Taft house elected Eloise Johnson, Blanchard sophomore, to replace Jean Legg, Detroit sophomore, as president. Other officers elected were house manager, Kay Jackson, junior; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Hookema, senior; and social chairman, Faith Dorrance, freshman. Margaret Wilbur, Home Economics sophomore from Grand Rapids, is the new president of Rochdale house, and June Hudson, freshman, is the new vice-president. The secretary is Betty Snell, freshman, treasurer, Joan Campbell, freshman, social chairman, Martha Kell, sophomore, and fire chief, Eloise Henkel, freshman.

Men Elect Officers

Mason and Abbot re-elected officers for their council. Allan Beeg, Veterinary Science junior from Battle Creek, will be president. Richard Gersch, senior, will be secretary.

Procedure Drill To End Series

Last meeting of a special course in parliamentary procedure under sponsorship of Student Council and A.W.S. is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 in the Union organization rooms. The course, designed as a phase of leadership training for newly elected officers at campus organizations, dormitories, fraternities and societies is conducted with the cooperation of the speech department.

Heller Asks Ruling On Tax Questions

Lawrence E. Heller, chairman of the Lansing board of city assessors, asked for a ruling from the state attorney-general yesterday on the question of whether private state-owned property used for private business purposes in downtown Lansing is exempt from local taxes.

Ida James to Sing At Varsity Dance

Ida James, vocalist, will appear with the band.

Tickets for the Varsity Hop, to be held Friday, April 18, one of the big parties of spring term, will go on general sale Monday, according to Frank Karas, Escanaba senior, ticket chairman. Karas says about 600 tickets will be sold from the Union desk, Smoke shop, administration building, and by Varsity club members.

Personality Is Lecture Topic

Dr. Harold Anderson, of the University of Illinois, will be the speaker at the second in the series of marriage lectures tonight in the music auditorium at 7 p. m. Dr. Anderson will address the meeting on the topic "Personality Factors In A Successful Marriage." According to Kathryn Freeman, senior from Owosso, who is chairman, a slight decrease in attendance is expected from the 800 persons who attended the first lecture Monday night.

Magazine Prints Article by Babb

Appearing in the Huntington Library Quarterly for April, 1941, is a paper by Dr. Lawrence Babb, instructor in English, on "Melancholy and the Elizabethan Man of Letters." Dr. Babb's study traces Elizabethan literature theories of melancholy on melancholy prevailing at that time. Much of his research was done in 1938-1939 through a fellowship at the Folger Shakespeare library in Washington, which contains one of the greatest collections of Elizabethan literature in the world.

Language Meeting Draws State Man

Prof. R. T. Ohl of the Foreign Language department will leave today for Indianapolis, Indiana to attend a three-day conference of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South. He will return here Sunday.

Police Administration Seniors Feel Effects Of Strike At Dearborn Automobile Plant

By SHELDON MOYER
The long arm of labor's power to strike has stretched its nimble fingers to the Michigan State college campus. Although the present strike at the Ford Motor Co., now in its second week at the Dearborn plant, would seem too remote to be connected with student activities at an institution of higher learning which is more than 80 miles away, 22 Michigan State police administration seniors have found themselves grossly affected by the labor situation.

Tryouts Reveal Lots Of New Talent, Says Director Thompson

First tryouts for Othello, spring term dramatic production revealed much new talent, play director W. F. Thompson said yesterday.

Last official try-out period will be tonight from 7 to 10 p. m. in room 130 Morrill hall. Thompson urges any students interested in dramatics to try out. Not only do students with any talent have a good chance to win a part in the play, but capable students not used in "Othello" will be recommended for parts in Studio Theater one-act plays, Thompson says.

The East Central regional conference of the National Student Federation of America will open tomorrow morning with registration and room assignment starting at 9:30 a. m., in the Union building, second floor. Meetings will continue until Sunday afternoon.

Final Registration Figures Show Small Student Decrease

Spring term registration figures are remarkably good in view of the call for men in industry and the army. Registrar R. S. Linton asserted yesterday. Final figures show 6,003 students enrolled, a decrease of only 70 under spring term, last year, he said.

Registration

Sixty-five persons have registered so far for the convention, Jean Hills, chairman, announced late last night. These delegates are from 25 schools throughout the lake states. Delegates registering today and early Friday are expected to swell the total, Miss Hills said.

April 19 Is Last Day for Setting Dance Dates

All spring term parties must be registered by April 19, it was announced by the dean of women's office yesterday. To date, social events scheduled for spring term include 16 parties. These include the Coronation ball, for which no date has been set. Mason and Abbot halls will stage their term party April 24 in the auditorium. May 3, North and South Williams dormitories will hold their joint spring dance. On the 9th of May, North hall will give its spring party, probably in the Little theater. May 17, residents of North and South Campbell halls will dance, while East and West Mary Mayo dormitories will give their dance June 7.

State Nine Invades Ohio State Today For Two Games

Lineup Uncertain for Buckeye Series

Michigan State's regular baseball season will get under way tomorrow when the Dixie-tested Spartans are scheduled to play with an Ohio State university nine in the first contest of a two-game series at Columbus. The Kobsmen, who will leave for the Ohio capital at 3 p. m. tomorrow, will also encounter the Buckeyes on Saturday.

LINEUP IS UNCERTAIN

Secondly, the status of the State lineup is about as certain as spring weather, especially on the right side of the infield. Kobs has been cursed, or blessed, with having two able second basemen in Frank Pellerin and Roy Chlopah, while his first base material is still much of a question mark.

EXPERIMENTS

At that time, however, Kobs, the doctor and experimentalist, has been making full use of his abilities and will have an opportunity to see the outcome of his experiments this week-end.

Seven Stars Desert Key Back Post

Sherman Shifts To Left Half For Practices

By ED KITCHEN

If there's a left halfback in the crowd who's not doing anything for the rest of the week—report to Joe Holsinger at Old College field and you've got a job.

That seems to be one of the major difficulties these days as Michigan State's football squad goes about its spring practice activities. There aren't enough left halfbacks around to have a regular man at the post and the indications are that the Easter Bunny isn't bringing any more.

SHERMAN SWITCHES

Bob Sherman, the Lansing junior who will be in the corps of five fine quarterbacks which the Spartans will have ready for duty next fall, was forced to switch over and operate in that position at Wednesday's drill. Sherman, who shared field generalship with Willie Davis last season, is expected to do a big share of State's punting next season with Walter Ball declared scholastically ineligible.

FOOTBALLERS HOLD POSTS

Wy Davis, passing ace of the Spartans last season, is holding down left field for the State baseball team, while Mike Scheib, who did a great job of running at left half, is working out with the State track team.

State Loses Kaulitz For Purdue Meet

Boilermakers to Run Here Saturday

Minus the services of its star sophomore quarter-miler, Michigan State's track team raises the curtain on its spring track season Saturday against Purdue university. The clash will complete one-half of the Spartans' home dual schedule, being with Notre Dame on May 10.

Admitted to Olin Health center Monday evening, Dale Kaulitz, one of the top 440 men of the Midwest, was declared by Dr. C. F. Holland, college physician, to have a slight case of pneumonia. Holland stated that Kaulitz would not be ready for action until the middle of May and that he would probably have to drop out of quarter mile competition and run in the dashes.

THREE SEEK POSITION

The loss of Kaulitz for the Boilermaker meet will cut considerably into the Spartan point total. Last year Mattie Jean Benton, who scored the highest tally for State was put in the nation-wide class of A archers. Leona McCarthy and Marian Gardner also shot high enough scores to receive ratings of A archers.

ACE GRIDDER PILOTS TEAM

Dave Rankin, all-American football end and Purdue cinder captain, will be back to defend his high and low hurdle laurels which he won handily a year ago. Rankin placed second to Bob Wright, Ohio State hurdler, when he set a new world's record in the 60 yard high hurdles at the Butler Relays this winter.

Big Ed Holderman, winner of the mile and half-mile last year, will match strides with Bill Scott, the Spartans' leading middle-distance runner. The third Boilermaker who can be counted on to cause some trouble for the Spartans is Fred Shackleton, quarter-mile victor last year.

Veterans Vie For Posts On Golf Squad

Record Turnout Faces Playoffs Before Opener

Golf coach Ben Van Alstyne is bewildered, but happily bewildered, for he is faced with the largest golf squad that has ever turned out for the team at State. To top it off, instead of the usual mad scramble to assemble four golfers Van now has at least twenty golfers of more than favorable skill.

TEAM PLACES HIGH

Last year the Van Alstyne coached golf team placed ninth in a field of fifty teams at the National Intercollegiate Golf Tournament in Vermont, which is the highest a State golf team ever placed in the national classic. State's team placed ahead of every team in the Big Ten but one, and also compiled the lowest scoring record ever made by a Spartan golf team with their sparkling 294 in beating Northwestern 164-112.

NEW MEN REPORT

In addition the sophomore replacement material offers George Busch, Grand Rapids; Jim Finston, Detroit; Melvin Hutt, Scharleystown, New York; Chet Kennedy, Detroit; Jack Haslop, Grand Rapids; Bill Zimmerman, New York; Hank Stafeth, East Lansing, and Mike Saurio, Lansing.

Phillips Inspects

T. Glenn Phillips, college landscape architect, inspected new campus buildings yesterday to plan placing of shrubs, trees, and driveways. The work will be completed later this term.

Archers Start Title Defense Workouts

By ROSALIND FRIEDMAN

Preparation for the defense of their mid-west archery championship got under way this week for Michigan State's women archers. In winning the title last year, the Spartans also placed seventh in a national telegraphic meet in which 250 schools were entered.

FRIMODIG ORDERS ENTRIES AGAIN

Confinement of Martin Cohn, independent league sports director, to Olin Memorial Health center, has delayed drawing up of softball schedules for the loop and necessitates the re-entering of all teams.
