? And What? Do You Think? By TOM GREENE. IT WAS ONLY LAST week that this column considered the problem of the waste of space in football stadiums...

THE FOLLOWING article from the Associated Collegiate Press shows the crux of the matter. Too many people in libraries and not enough in the stadium is the whole weakness. So here's what happened:

"Art is all right in its place, but when the art is a nude statue, its place isn't the library of Denver University. So "Summer," a modern classic nude cast in bronze by the French sculptor, Aristide Maillol, is back in her niche at the Denver art museum.

The trouble started when "Summer" was lent to the university by the museum to assume her stance in the Renaissance room of Mary Reed library. She had been there only a few days when a professor asked at a faculty meeting: "When is that statue going to be moved?"

It wasn't so much what he said as the derogatory tone he used that caused art professors to leap to her defense. "She doesn't belong in a library," one faction contended. "Students go there to study, not to be disturbed—by art or anything else."

To which the art instructors replied: "Of course students go to the Renaissance room to study. Art is a study, too. And we would be shirking our educational duty if we failed to give our students a chance to see and appreciate the great works of art."

The anti-"Summer" faction, charging she attracted too many students to the library—but not to pore over its books—suggested the nude be placed in the university stadium. "She could draw as many people as she wanted down there without disturbing anyone. The stadium needs filling, anyway," they said.

A college columnist took sides with the anti-"Summer" faction. "She should be retired to a quiet corner—where always the obvious appears more subtle and the artistic more comfortable," Lewis Kornfield said in the Clarion. He described "Summer" as "a rather pleasant-looking woman with thick ankles and a fine carriage" who is "standing in the draft."

"Summer" finally was removed to the museum, where she is so highly regarded that she is insured for $30,000.

Of course it is dangerous for anyone who isn't an art critic to mix into the controversy. Personally, I like summer, but then it's nice on the farm too. Anyhow, the last time a lot of people saw the library was as freshmen buried under stacks of long-term note cards. It's a cinch they never had a chance to notice whether that was a bust of Homer or an ad for liver pills ever in the corner. (By the way, do YOU know where the bust of Homer is?)

BUT WITH DEFENSE AND ALL it shows how everyone must pitch in to help eliminate waste. Something should really be done with that empty stadium, even if it is only filling it with hay.

BY THE WAY, WHILE on the subject of waste, don't hide your bread crusts under your plate this week. President Roosevelt has designated Thursday as National Child Health Day, and he wants everyone to consider the topic of nutrition. And above all he "calls upon children to take full advantage of their opportunity to grow in strength and health and to share in protecting the health of other girls and boys."

AND DON'T FORGET TO WASH BEHIND YOUR EARS.

Uncle Sam's Fraternity Plus

Co-operation between the War department and national college fraternities is taking definite form as the result of a conference held in Washington at the invitation of General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U. S. Army. Dr. Alvan E. Duerr and Cecil J. Wilkinson, past chairmen of the National Interfraternity conference, met with representatives of the War Department Advisory committee and the Joint Army and Navy committee for welfare and recreation in Washington to work out a program.

It was the consensus of this meeting that the fraternities should make undergraduates realize that the military authorities feel the need of college men who are well trained for leadership and that they want students to remain in college until actually called into service, both for the good of the individual and the good of the army. The fraternities are urged by army authorities to do all in their power to counteract the tendency of men of draft age to permit their scholastic efforts to slumber.

Military authorities also believe that undergraduate chapters near training camps can be of great service by inviting uniformed men on leave as guests in their homes, thus providing a wholesome environment for these men.

Plans are being made to further interest the 30,000 undergraduate members of the 2,400 chapters established at 220 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada in the national defense program.

And Here's What They Think... Unite for Peace

This is an open letter to all M.S.C. students calling attention to a grave and pressing problem. Michigan State college has gone a long way toward the goal of inter-solidification of campus life. When we saw the need for a more intimate relationship with our faculty, a faculty-student coffee hour was established. When the need for closer understanding between religious groups arose, an Inter-Faith council was formed.

The Interfraternity council was established when such problems as sectarianism, rush week, and others became troublesome. Student council joined the N.S.F.A. when it realized the need for closer cooperation and exchange of experiences with other colleges and universities. Now World War II is staring us in the face, and a new need has arisen—a need which can be solved by the joint participation of our student body.

Briefly there is an urgent need for an all-college group for peace. Naturally opinions vary on the war question. However, since we are all agreed on the need for peace, why can't we come together to discuss and learn our mutual aims and desires.

War At Our Choice

The question of our participation in war cannot be resolved by so simple a statement as that war is a great evil. But in the quiet beauty of our inland spring it is hard for many to realize that the alternative to war is not peace, but evil transcending war itself.

From the vantage point provided by those 3,000 miles of ocean, we can learn from the pattern of events in Europe, the pattern repeated in each fresh tragedy of Nazi victory through the failure of the prospective victims to see their manifest peril and unite against the danger until the time for effective resistance was past and the German war machine upon them. And there is little to choose between the situations of the nations conquered by infiltration and intimidation, and those conquered by force of arms.

While contemplating the effects of war on our economy it is also well to consider the influence an axis world order would have as well as the larger matter of the possibility of maintaining half a continent of democracy in a world of Nazism. Passivity has saved us from Hitler. If we are to preserve our way of life and all that we know to be right and good, the choice is for all-out aid to the democracies in the full knowledge that this may lead to war, but war under conditions of our own choosing, and not at Hitler's convenience.—Margaret Ascher.

Coal Usurps News Stage As Peril to Britain Grows

The Defense Mediation board abandoned all attempts at negotiation in the deadlocked soft coal dispute as the strike entered its fifth week yesterday. William H. Davis, vice-chairman of the board announced.

Davis admitted the failure of negotiations late Sunday evening, following three days of conferences, between representatives of the United Mine Workers (U. M. W.) and the Southern mine operators.

HALTS PRODUCTION The strike which has been in progress since April 1, has completely stopped production in the nation's bituminous coal fields and defense officials claim that the lack of coal will retard steel production 15 per cent next week, seriously endangering national defense production.

Chief barrier standing in the way of negotiations is a dispute over different wage-levels for southern and northern miners, and although satisfactory agreements have been reached in the northern fields, southern operators have refused to arbitrate on the same basis.

In view of the serious coal shortage, congressional leaders are urging President Roosevelt to intervene and operate the mines under federal control.

Although speaking before an audience of English subjects, Churchill's speech was apparently designed for American consumption.

Claiming that the war will be neither won nor lost until the battle of the Atlantic is decided, Churchill lauded the United States' decision to patrol the Atlantic sea.

WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND (Great Story) By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Biggest question mark along Wall Street these days is: "WIN the British hold out?" Accustomed to selling short when disaster seems just around the corner, Wall Street views the fate of England as a cold-blooded investment in the future. And judging by the bungling of certain British leaders, Wall Street pessimism would appear to be justified.

FALL OVER EACH OTHER. It is true that the British could not spare any more Anzacs from North Africa, but there were 2,000,000 men under arms in the British Isles. That the British lacked planes and tanks was not their fault, but the failure to send men from England is inexplicable; for 2,000,000 men simply fall over each other in defending a small area like the British Isles.

CALL BASES FAULTY. The island bases of the United States are now considered our best safeguard against invasion. But Army and Navy brasshats will get a scorching rebuke in a report soon to be made public by the House Appropriations subcommittee that inspected territorial bases.

SPALDING. (Continued from Page 1) music soon reverts to the old rhythm of the dance. Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 1," arranged for violin by Josef Jeachim, was originally written for piano by Brahms and is also played in an orchestral version. Following this, the "Evening Song" of Schubert, composed for the piano, was frequently included in the artist's repertoire because of its sentiment of tone which it demands.

State to Send Either Mekules or Skrocki Against Wolverines

Teams to Meet in Sixty-Eighth Game

Michigan State will pit its batting strength against the defensive skill of the University of Michigan today at Ann Arbor as the brother institutions hook up in their 68th diamond renewal.

Coach John Kobs has indicated that he will give either Frank Mekules, giant Detroit right-hander, or Joe Skrocki, sophomore, the starting assignment against the Wolverines.

Skrocki's arm ailment, at first believed to be caused by a chipped bone in his elbow, has responded to treatment enough to rate him as a possible starter. Mekules, however, is favored to take the mound because of his experience.

WOLVES HOLD BIG EDGE

Although Michigan has captured 45 victories to State's 22 in the last 54 years, the two teams have shared alike in the last three seasons, dividing home-and-home series.

The Spartans will leave for Ann Arbor with a 10-3 victory under their belt. Last Saturday in the home opener they defeated Michigan Normal by this score as Paul Derrickson and Don Fleischmann held the Hurons to six hits. Derrickson allowed but one scratch hit for 6 2-3 innings before Normal collected five straight singles for its only runs.

Golfers Drop Wolverine Meet, 12-6

Spartans Win But One Encounter As Zylstra Trips Fife

With the defeat at the hands of Michigan by the score of 12-6 Saturday in the background, Michigan State's golf team is now practicing for its first home meet of the season in which the Spartans will play the University of Detroit, Saturday.

Against the Wolverines Saturday, the Spartans were unable to get their focus adjusted to hit the heavily trapped and lightning fast Ann Arbor greens, and lost to a well-practiced team.

ZYLSTRA WINS FOR STATE

State's lone individual victory came when long Bill Zylstra, although having trouble with the sand traps, blasted a 77 to gain a 2 1/2-1/2 victory over Bob Fife in the No. 2 match.

Zylstra also teamed with Ralph Korte to give two more points in the best ball round against Michigan's Johnny Barr and Bob Fife.

Stan Kowal, Spartan leadoff man, also carded a 77, but could gain but one-half point against Medalist Ben Smith, who posted a 74.

Marquette to Test Spartan Trackmen

Arrington Is Second In Penn Classic

Although a 12-man contingent failed to gain a place at the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, over the week-end, Coach Karl A. Schlademan's track forces will again trek westward this week in quest of their first dual meet victory in two years.

TWO PLACE AT PENN

At the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, Pa., Saturday, both Capt. Walter Arrington and Ted Wench placed high against a crack eastern field. For the third year in a row, Arrington finished runner-up to a gold watch award as he placed second to Don Blount of Dartmouth in the broad jump with an effort of 23 feet 3 1/2 inches. Blount won the event with 24 feet 1/2 inch.

Sophomore pole-vaulter Wench cleared 12 feet 6 inches with seven others, but when all failed to clear 13 feet, Wench gained a four-way tie when the bar was lowered to 12 feet 9 inches.

SCOTT PACES MILERS

At Drake, a leap of 6 feet in the high jump was not good enough for a place at All Milne. The Spartan four-mile relay team, anchored by Bill Scott who turned in a 4:27.8 mile, placed seventh in a field of 11 with a time of 18:26.6. The University of Michigan was first in 17:37.

Mason 8 Ten Clubs Out 22-1 Win

Four lopsided scores and one forfeit were registered in the Mason-Abbot dormitory softball loop, played last night on Old College field. Highest score of the evening was a 22-1 victory of Mason's over Abbot 15.

Mason 9's 8-4 victory over Mason 3 was the closest score of the evening. The winners bunched their runs in the last two innings.

Abbot 16 took the measure of Mason 6, 14-6, as pitcher Leonard LaPonsey held the Mason 6 crew to seven hits.

Mason 7 grabbed a four-run lead in the first inning against Abbot 14 and never relinquished it as they chalked up an 8-1 decision with Howard Butler and Fred Bayer forming the winning battery.
