 "The rat is dead," was the statement with several English instructors in the English classes Wednesday. When the students were all fully awake, instructors explained that the rat in question was a little four-footed creature who has inhabited the office in Morrill hall since the term began. The English instructors refused to give an opinion whether a trap, or a perfect English of students, was the demise.

Hunters Beware

Down Ann Arbor way, several hunters were arrested last week for scalping on tickets. And now campus coppers are rounding up here too—but for hunting college property.

According to Bert Daniels, police chief, two students were apprehended Sunday by officers while seeking pheasants on the grounds. Their firearms were confiscated and the offenders were remanded to justice.

A fine for such an offense in Michigan is $25.

Where We Come

A full of six months or so, a blind dating craze has reared its ugly head.

Mason hall, precinct 8 to be exact, comes news that 42 men have booked up blind dates for Friday with women from East and West South Williams, and other dorms. The party will be in Pinetum for a winner.

It is reported that 8 in this latest show of blind breaks its previous record of 28, chalked up last spring.

 A conflict marked by referees conspicuously absent, unauthorized use of tear gas, by two student-owned "T's" hordley placed in the middle of the Red Cedar and by 16 cases of injuries demanding hospital treatment, the class of '41 emerged victorious Tuesday afternoon in the 33rd annual frosh-brawl.

According to Hospital Director F. Holland, some of the 16 treated at the health center were serious proportions. The cases were a seriously sprained knee, while others included a sprained ankle, bruises, and cuts of different types.

Water Cut Off By Pipe Break

Women's dormitories were without water for four hours Tuesday night due to breaking of a water main just as it enters Campbell hall, according to W. A. Davenport, superintendent of building and grounds department.

Dirt settling under a four-inch cast iron pipe, and weight of dirt above the pipe caused it to crack at 7:30 p. m., he said.

Immediately upon locating the break, building and grounds men set up floodlights and welded the line. Water was restored to all dorms except Campbell hall by 11:30 p. m. Tuesday. The entire job was completed at 2 a. m. and water was treated with chlorine at once.

Under the Wire

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Hope rose here tonight for an early truce in the nation's "captive coal mine" strike, following a dramatic face talk between President Roosevelt and Union President John L. Lewis. President Roosevelt urged Lewis to call a halt to the strike. Lewis said he would meet with union leaders tomorrow (Thursday) to discuss a possible settlement.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29—Federal agents disclosed tonight that they had foiled a plot to sabotage the Martin bomber plant. The plot was attempted by a 22-year old employe whose parents home in Germany.

SCOW, Oct. 29—The Soviet command admitted early today that the vital industrial city, is endangered, and declared that the capture of Kharkov, in a similar campaign, cost the German armies more than 120,000 men.

GAPORE, Oct. 29—Reports reaching here tonight indicate that the Japanese may be planning a strategic move in the South China Sea. Japanese troops at Hainan, in Indo-China, are being heavily reinforced, and 50 transports, carrying troops and supplies, are steaming through the China sea.

Pep Rally, Parties Will Inject Modern Note in Hallowe'en

By Ed Kitchen

Although most of the goblins won't be around, having been drafted for the spy service, the 6,371 students of Michigan State college are preparing to indulge Friday night in the revelries and witcheries of Hallowe'en, 1941.

Indications are that it probably won't be one of those old-fashioned Hallowe'ens inasmuch as all the best Jack-o'-Lanterns have been turned into pumpkin pies for the army, and the last front gate in East Lansing has long since passed out of existence. But just the same, the Spartan student body isn't going to let the well-known evening for madcaps and mischief pass unnoticed.

State's students will put a more modern note into Hallowe'en. While campus parties will replace the old-time front gate rodeo and buggy embezzling, the evening's proceedings will be highlighted by an all-college pep rally which will light the spark for Saturday's duel between the Michigan State Spartans and the Missouri Tiger on Macklin field.

The rally, which will be managed by Spartan cheerleaders, is slated for 7:30 p. m. at the west entrance to the Union building. Coaches and players of the State squad will give short talks for the crowd.

Official Homecoming activities will begin Friday evening with the annual alumni smoker in Hotel Olds. Chester L. Brewer, former Spartan grid coach and athletic director, now with University of Missouri, will be the honored guest.

East Lansing's good townspeople, who have spent many a Hallowe'en in the past being harassed by the Spartans' ancestral Aggies, heaved no pensive sighs for the "good old days" today, and instead stocked up on apples and candy and other goodies to mete out to the grade school handitti who will be off on their annual raids.

On the other end of the scale, State's gray-haired alumni, in town for Saturday's Homecoming festivities including the State-Missouri football game, will spin many a yarn about the pranks of those State lads of other years.

They'll revive the story of the mysterious disappearance of Bob Shaw's buggy, and its subsequent appearance on Administration hall steps next morning, or the ascension of the five local gates to the bell tower, and dozens of others.

In fact since science began pooh-poohing goblins and spooking all the fun for the kids, nobody remembers much what the day is all about.

Avoiding faded copies of old Almanacs and the Encyclopedia Britannica, Hallowe'en business started early in the Christian era in England where Hallow-Even was the name popularly given to the eve or vigil of All Saints, which comes on Nov. 1.

Hallowe'en is the black sheep of the holidays. Unlike Christmas, when everyone hangs tinsel on his tree and sings "Good Will-Toward Men," and Thanksgiving, when most people become jappily stuffed, Hallowe'en gets blamed for all late-October malice.

Mysteriously-ringing doorbells, missing dogs, clattering garbage cans, and even some cases of rheumatism have been linked up, in some manner, with Hallowe'en.

Although rock-oll has been called into play on occasion by some of the overzealous domestic spirit of good, clean fun has always prevailed on Oct. 31. Modern innovations have played havoc with collegiate Hallowe'ens, however. Such a fertile possibility as the old bell tower has been replaced with automatic chimers, streamline autos have replaced buggies, and those iron deer ornaments people always used to find on their roofs have all been melted up for bombs.

But regardless of all modern inhibitions, from Bogue street to burning corner, and Red Cedar to Rosewood, the lid's off—so watch out, East Lansing—it's Hallowe'en.

Dorms Hold No Celebration

Pictured above is one of M. S. C.'s modern dormitories for men. Mason hall, whose third anniversary will go uncelebrated, according to Curtis Beachum, director of Mason-Abbot halls. Just three years ago today the hall, named in honor of Michigan's boy governor, Stevens T. Mason, was formally dedicated. The second anniversary of Abbot hall, dedicated two years ago yesterday in honor of T. C. Abbot, State's second president, was marked yesterday by no celebration.

'Shadows' to Feature Tonight's Meeting Of Student Council

Connelly Invites All to Open Conclave

By Bob Astley

One of the most important campus controversies of recent years, the adoption of "M. S. C. Shadows" as the official Michigan State alma mater, will come to a head today at 7 p. m. when the Student Council will hold an open discussion meeting in room 130 Morrill hall.

The council voted last night at its regular meeting to hold the open session as the result of the present student sentiment in favor of deciding the question.

Student Council Sets Date Of Fall Election

Election of additional divisional representatives to Student Council will take place before Thanksgiving, the council decided last night.

Chairman Fred Quigley, of the election committee, set Monday, Nov. 10 as the date for nominating primaries. Primaries will be held on Nov. 13 and finals will follow on Nov. 18.

One representative each from Applied Science, Agriculture, Home Economics and Engineering divisions and two from Liberal Arts will be chosen.

Juniors and seniors will be eligible to run, the council decided.

CONNELLY ASKS COMMENT

Student Council President Tom Connelly expressly stated that all students who are interested in either the pro or con side of the subject should attend the meeting and explain their views, as a council vote will be taken immediately following the open discussion.

If the council vote tonight favors the adoption of "M. S. C. Shadows" a statement reporting the council's vote probably will be presented to Pres. John A. Hannah.

Three Action Shots Attest to Ardor of Frosh-Soph Brawlers

Give up? One strength-hold, plus a half-nelson, and an arm bar combine to make up a section of the guerrilla warfare frosh and sophs engaged in Tuesday, at the 1941 version of the Frosh-Soph brawl.

How to get up in the world. These three freshmen tried vainly to get far enough up the greased Sappole in front of Dem Hall to capture the flag sophomores guarded.

A wet freshman, with trouser leg torn, clutches one of the bags of leaves to him while a belligerent sophomore tries to dispossess him. In the background another frosh, shoeless, is pushed into the mud.

Football Game or a Funeral?

What is college spirit? One wise teacher replied, "It is making a heap of noise about athletics. In the writer's opinion it does not consist entirely in loud cheering and banquets or on the grand stand in front of a winning game by our team."

There's still a lot of truth in this quotation from Prof. W. J. Beal's History of Michigan—Agricultural College. But there's darn little school spirit around this college.

The State News has in the past week received numerous complaints, mainly from freshmen, that there is no cheering or spirit evidenced on campus. The Wayne game sounded like a funeral, except for Wayne supporters cheering their losing team, and a few Boy Scouts who did their good turn by keeping the stands alive.

The bottled-up freshman spirit overflowed Tuesday and couple of jalopies went into the river. That wasn't necessary, but maybe it seemed a good idea at the time. A vent is needed here for those with spirit, and someone should build a fire under those without it.

Would it be asking too much to have a pep meeting sometime this year? Four hundred students got down to Lansing to welcome the team back from Santa Clara. Couldn't a few more get up for a little action?

If the Shoe Fits

Whenever Michigan State does things, it does it in a big way.

Even the recent larcenies were on a large scale basis.

This is a hectic year. Strikes, defense, Hitler, Tojo, etc., ad infinitum. And it all adds up to this:

Trust everyone, but still keep your personal effects under lock and key. Valuables in open view "for the taking" are a mighty hard temptation for some people.

Who they are we don't always know. Culprits, when caught, are adequately punished; others find that crime pays. However, that isn't the fault of the police.

The time to bellow is after you have taken all precautions to prevent a recurrence of the last week-end's depredations.

News Round-up

Lewis Confers on Strikes Which May be Outlawed

A conference which may mark the end of a chapter in United States' labor history was held in a Washington hotel yesterday. With 53,000 miners on strike in the nation's "captive coal mines," John L. Lewis, president of United Mine Workers, and Myron C. Taylor, former chairman of United States Steel, met in Mayflower hotel, in Washington, to discuss possible settlement of the strike which threatens to tie up steel production. Details of the meeting had not been released yesterday afternoon.

Congressional leaders declared that unless the conference, arranged at President Roosevelt's request, results in a peaceful settlement of the strike, strikers face one of two alternatives—re-opening of the mines by Federal troops or immediate passage of legislation which would require Federal strike mediation and operation of the mines.

President Roosevelt, after condemning the coal strike in his Navy day address, hinted at a press conference, that he was considering a law calling for compulsory arbitration and suspension of the right to strike on defense work.

Crimea Threatened

A break-through on the narrow peninsula leading to the Crimean peninsula, goal of a vigorous Nazi campaign, was announced by the German high command yesterday morning. Without giving details, the German communiqué said that Russian lines guarding the four-mile wide isthmus had been penetrated. The Crimea is the logical route for an attack on the rich Caucasus region. Russian sources only admitted that Rostov, in the Russian Ukraine, was endangered.

IN BRIEF
 Federal troops may take over "captive coal mines."
 Nazi break-through in Crimea threatens Caucasian region.
 U. S. sinkings of Axis U-boats may be kept secret.

Earlier north, however, Soviet sources reported that Moscow's defenses are still intact. Claiming that the German forces west of Moscow have lost 60 per cent of their effectiveness during the last three days, the Soviet command announced that "it is now evident that the invaders will not be able to take Moscow."

Labor Picture Dark
 Despite possible Federal intervention in the coal strike,

If You Ask Me

Know the Alma Mater? Can You Even Pronounce It?
 By Tom Greene

WHILE THE CONTROVERSY revolves about State's Alma Mater and the new challenger for the championship, a common complaint is that students don't know the words to M. S. C. Shadows. Hmmm; could be, but how many know the words to the Ala Mater?

JUST SO YOU WON'T be caught short, here they are, dug up after a hectic hunt around the college. The last time they appeared in print was in last year's commencement program. Here we go, sound your "A."

Close beside the winding Cedar's
 Sloping banks of green,
 Spreads thy campus, Alma Mater,
 Fairest ever seen.

CHORUS:
 Swell the chorus; let it echo
 Over hill and vale;
 Hail to thee, our loving mother,
 M.S.C. all hail!

First of all thy race, fond mother,
 Thus we greet thee now,
 While with loving hands the laurel
 Twine we o'er thy brow.

Backward through the hazy distance
 Troop the days of yore,
 Scenes and faces float before us
 Cherished more and more.

College Hall and Wells and Williams,
 Abbot and the rest,
 Halloway days were those spent with you—
 Days of all the best.

Fold us fondly to your bosom
 Alma Mater dear,
 Sing we now thy endless praises
 Sounding cheer on cheer.

AND THE AUTHOR of the song was Addison Makepeace Brown, who was college secretary for two decades in the 1900's. He penned these words around 1910 or before.

INCIDENTALLY, WHILE getting acquainted with your Alma Mater, how do you pronounce it? The preferred pronunciation is al-ma, "a" as in "Albert"—mat-er, "a" as in "ate." If you want to be Latin in these days of Pan-American solidarity, you can voice both "a's" as in "arm." BUT DON'T COMBINE the two pronunciations. That is the unpardonable sin. Of course, 99 and 44-100 of the students here like to make the compromise.

MUSICIANS, HOWEVER, SAY the correct form should be followed when singing the tune at football games. When singing the revised version to the tune of "Jingle Bells," it really doesn't make much difference whether it is pronounced or hic-coughed.

Men Still Pledge As Hallowe'en Parties Near
 By Dash Wuerfel

Days may come and days may go, but pledging goes on forever. Sororities aren't allowed to pledge any more women until November 11, so fraternities are getting the draw on them.

The Hesperiens, who took the most men in formal rush, are still way ahead with an additional six pledges now. They are Bud Reid of Ferndale, Pen Crane of Pleasant Ridge, Gordon Ruckopp of Mt. Clemens, and Bud Meier from Detroit. Then there are Dick Hallowell and Jim Clark, also of Detroit.

ELECT PLEDGE OFFICERS
 The Alpha Gams—Rho and Delta—have an exchange dinner scheduled for tonight with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Barron as guests. And while were Alpha Gamma Rhoing, here are their newly-elected pledge officers: Don Wallace, president, Dick Schaub, vice-president, Bob Corey, secretary, and Don Hill, parliamentarian.

Since Hallowe'en was thoughtful enough to come on Friday night for once, everyone is grabbing at the chance to celebrate. The Sigma Kappas have a party planned under the chairmanship of Mary-wyn Mathis sophomore from Saginaw.

UP TO THE PLEDGES
 Pledges at the Delta Chi house are cooking up something special in the way of a radio dance Friday, too, assisted by the social chairman, Ken Hathaway, Alma senior.

And all the guests over at the Alpha Chi house will be all dressed up like spooks Friday, for their Hallowe'en shindig.

Here's another initiation list from the AOP's house, saying that Florence Bailey, Wm. Lucas, and Peggy Hazen, all Detroit juniors, received their pins recently, and so did Freddy Wildmiller, Grand Rapids senior, and Dorothy Jean Osgood, St. Johns junior.

GOODBYE NOW
 The SAE's said a fond goodbye to George Hale, grad of '39, who left for Iowa last Tuesday after spending the week end at the house.

Epsilon Chi has hereby announced new pledge officers—Irene Rosenweig, New York junior, is president, and Betty Benson, freshman, is treasurer.

There's one new pledge at the Phi Kappa Phi house, and it's Bill Amoss of Lansing. And the boys really got on the ball, Tuesday when their national treasure stopped in for lunch.

CHECK FOR YOURSELF
 There's a bit of a story circulating around the Theta Chi house about a pledge who was sent to the bank to cash a bad check for an active—and actually got the money. It's true, so ask the men who know about it.

Now we come to the section devoted to sweet romance. And a Hesperian pin, Jack Shields, is safe in Detroit with Margaret Ann Ide.

Kappas Face Zetas In Volleyball Tilt

Kappa Kappa Gamma, defending champion, will play Zeta Tau Alpha tonight in the fourth round of the women's intramural volleyball contest. The Kappas defeated North Campbell in their first game while the Zetas lost to Kappa Alpha Theta.

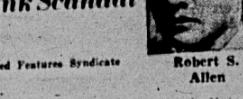

In last night's games, Benson-Robinson House defeated Delta Zeta 40-25. East Mayo beat Sanford House, 41-23. Alpha Phi de-

Congress Indicts Fish's Secretary In Frank Scandal

Drew Pearson

Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—The real inside regarding the indictment of George Hill, secretary to Congressman Ham Fish, makes the grand jury's action much more important than appears on the surface. It may turn out to be the springboard for cleaning up a situation inside Congress whereby a small group has prostituted the use of the Congressional franking privilege and played into the hands of the Nazis—perhaps without knowing it.

Worst of all, this group has besmirched the name of Congress and lessened public confidence in one of our great institutions at a time when we need to preserve one of the few legislative bodies left in the world.

George Hill, Ham Fish's secretary, was indicted for perjury. This, in itself, was significant, because witness after witness has appeared before the grand jury (which is investigating Nazi propaganda) and lied. The grand jury finally decided on action.

RECEIVED SECRET FUNDS
 Ham Fish's secretary admitted receiving $12,000 during the last five months, in addition to his government salary of $2700. But he would not tell where the $12,000 came from.

However, the records of the Government printing office can be examined by any newspaperman, and they reveal that George Hill ordered hundreds of thousands of franked speeches and paid for them in cash. These payments totalled around $12,000.

In other words, Hill received the $12,000 from someone used it to buy reprints of speeches from the Congressional Record. It happened that these speeches all tended to help the Nazi and isolationist cause. They were mailed all over the country at the taxpayers' expense.

Although Hill refused to say where he got the $12,000, the Government printing office records show where he spent it. It has been charged that about one ton of mail bearing Congressman Ham Fish's name was rescued by Hill from the Make Europe Pay War Debts committee.

ALLEGED NAZI RUN
 Since the Justice department charged the Make Europe Pay War Debts committee with being financed by Nazi agents, it would seem that Congressman Fish's office—knowingly or unknowingly—was playing into the hands of Nazi agents.

Tragedy is that instead of wanting to clean up the mess and show who is guilty and not guilty, many Congressmen are crying "Hush! Hush!" and pleading with the Attorney General to call off the dogs. They don't seem to realize that one or two bad apples can spoil a whole barrel, and that the reputation of Congress is at stake.

Note: In Germany it was not until the German people lost confidence in the Reichstag that they got a dictator.

Dalers Miss Opportunity For Revenge

Indiana Scratches Entry in National Junior AAU Run

Contrary to released reports, Indiana will not compete in National Junior A. A. U. cross country championship run this Saturday, it was announced yesterday by the meet committee. However, the Hoosiers may send a pair of freshmen to run unattached. This report nullifies the Spartan dalers' chances of avenging the upset defeat that Indiana accomplished last week.

SCOTT WILL START

In the meanwhile, word comes from the State camp that Bill Scott, who has been on the sidelines with an injured ankle, will start in Saturday's affair. It is improbable that Scott will run the entire distance, however, as he is no in top condition.

Scott took his first workout in two weeks Tuesday, but was hampered by a heavy bandage on his ankle. The ailing junior should be in shape in time for the all important ICIA meet which is over two weeks away.

WORKOUT AT GROESBECK

Detroit's Meadowbrook golf course will be the scene of the National Junior AAU grid. With this knowledge in mind, last Monday Coach Lauren P. Brown sent his Spartan dailers on a speedy 25-minute workout over Lansing's rugged Groesbeck golf course.

Ralph Monroe, Maurice Haski, and Walter Beardslee, all good ball carriers, led the squad down the fairways and around the bunkers in this winding workout.

Minutes of the game and scampered 35 yards to score.

Alpha Gamma Iota completed the list of aspects when they eked out a penalty victory over Phi Kappa Tau, two penalties to one after both had scored a touchdown.

A first quarter touchdown game A.E.D. a 6-0 victory over Farm-House in the final game.

Only one game was played in the independent league last night, the other games being forfeits. Tom Harmon forfeited to E.H.R. and ASME won over the Vikings by the same process.

In the only game played, the powerful D. Z. V's defeated the Mustangs, 20-7.

Lines May Decide Tiger Game

Missouri, Spartan Forward Walls Boast Fine Records

The scoring may all be done by the backs, but the game will probably be decided by those 14 men up front. That was the general consensus today as Michigan State's football forces went on building traps to catch the snarling University of Missouri gridiron Tigers in their Homecoming Day clash here Saturday. It means that the capacity throng which is expected to jam Macklin field may see the most heated battle of lines Spartan crowds have watched in many days.

AVERAGE 20 YARDS
In front of the slashing quartet of backs which Missouri will bring here will be the Tigers' Seven Bastions of Steel. The Missouri line, which looks like a row of houses from end to end, has allowed its opponents an average of only 104 yards from rushing in five games thus far.
Against Nebraska last Saturday, Missouri allowed the Cornhuskers only 32 yards on the ground. Tiger toughness is shown by the fact that no touchdowns have been scored against the No. 1 Bengal line this year. In their first game, against Ohio State, the Buckeyes scored the only two ground touchdowns, and they were against the reserve forward wall. Missouri has two complete lines which head man Don Farout alternates freely.

Suggested Compromises Threaten to Appear In Meeting Tonight

By Bob Astley

With the arising of student sentiment for and against adopting "M. S. C. Shadows," it is only natural that suggestions should come from all sides. Two suggestive measures came into the State News office today, however, that we feel are too important to be ignored.

It seems that both suggestions hover around the fact that the alumni, like death and taxes, are always with us and should be considered in any movement as big as changing the Alma Mater.

This attitude has been the principal stumbling block in the path of securing the unanimous acceptance of "M. S. C. Shadows" by the student body. Some students feel that since the alumni are rumored not to know the words of "M. S. C. Shadows," it would be unfair for the undergraduate body to adopt it as the Alma Mater.

Whether the alumni would be willing to expend enough effort to learn new words and new music in order to give the college one more boost on its way to national fame is debatable, but these two suggestions offer an escape from such a possibility.

The first suggestion advocates the changing of the title of "M. S. C. Shadows" to the "Spartan Alma Mater," and then using it as a radio and publicity alma mater. If this were done, the present alma mater would be preserved as the official Michigan State alma mater.

The authors of the other suggestion would sing the words of the present alma mater to the tune of "M. S. C. Shadows." In order to make this possible, however, a few minor changes in the words would be necessary. Here are the words of the present alma mater with necessary additions to adapt it to the tune of "M. S. C. Shadows":

ALMA MATER
(To "M. S. C. Shadows")
Close beside the winding Cedar;
(Its) sloping banks of green,
Spreads thy campus, Alma Mater,
(The) fairest ever seen,
Swell the chorus; let it echo
Over hill and (over) vale;
Hail to thee, our loving mother,
(Hail) M. S. C., all hail.

You're the student body—the jury in this case. Weigh these proposed compromises well, for it's your alma mater that is concerned. Once the case passes from the hands of your student leaders, its fate is sealed, so select the song (words and melody) that you want for Michigan State's alma mater, and voice your opinion in the open Student Council meeting today at 7 p. m. in room 130, Merrill hall.

State students, Tremblay also announced that special prices have been arranged for advance sale and that transportation plans are now being completed for students who do not have cars.
Working under Tremblay as ticket co-chairman are Harry Butler, Lansing senior, and Garth Snyder, St. Clair Shores sophomore, who revealed yesterday that tickets may be purchased from glee club members and at the Union desk.

SPALDING HEADS PUBLICITY
Other members of the ticket committee appointed by Tremblay include Bryce Clark, Sam Donaldson, Sturgis junior, Bob Frevert, Alma junior, and Herve Hunt, Lansing senior.
Appointed as chairman of the publicity committee was Donald Spalding, East Lansing senior. Serving under him are Everett Ellis, Mt. Hathaway, Wash. graduate student, and Sam Keith, Sawyer junior.
ARRANGE TRANSPORTATION
For co-chairman of the transportation committee, Tremblay has appointed Andrew Fitzmorris, Portland senior, and Ted Hart, Vassar senior. They will be assisted by Ole Sarto, Lansing senior.

PRICE ENTERS IN
Though the women's governing body believes that the present high price of stockings makes any mandatory stipulations impractical, individual house councils still have the right to make of enforce such a law.
However, as A. W. S. feels, "The question of stockings should no longer be a paramount consideration of campus women, rather we should turn our attention to matters of national and international significance," Miss Hillier said.

DORMANTICS
Water, Hair Are Scarce in Dorms This Week
By LOIS QUINN
STRANGE
Maybe it won't seem strange if many more of the fellas on this campus receive an involuntary crew-cut. The latest went to Deacon Ballenger of Ward A, Wells hall, who was left with no hair. Most of Ward A and part of Ward B was in on the affair, including Norm Freeman, Bob Strobbles, Charlie Nickel, Don Mathis, and Ed Gillis.
THE GREAT DROUTH
With a water main broken Tuesday evening, water was turned off in the dormitories for a few hours. Remarks in the dorms were interesting to hear. Some were even fit to print. Dorm women made the best of the situation, however, and went to bed with their faces smeared with cold cream—Save washing.
FOR WOMEN ONLY
Sheila Simons of South Williams hall must like her roommate's artistic abilities, because she has posted a notice that she is holding an art exhibit in their room which will be open to all the coeds who are interested. Her roommate, Jean Barnum, has donated her works of art to the cause.

Portrait Gift To Highlight Dorm Dinner
Presentation of two enlarged portraits of Mrs. Louise Campbell will highlight the fifth annual recognition dinner of Louise Campbell hall, this evening, Vera Deaneer, Sodus junior, said yesterday.
Heading the list of guests invited to the banquet is Dorothy Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Louise Campbell. Other guests who have been invited to the recognition dinner are: Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Dean Marie Dye, Miss Stella N. McDaniel, Mrs. Edna V. Muir, Miss Mabel F. Nelson, Secretary and Mrs. Karl McDonel. Concluding the list will be Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Linton, Miss Margaret Harris, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Viola Walberg, and Miss E. Jones.
As mistress of ceremonies, Miss Deaneer will deliver an opening speech, following it up with the introduction of past president Martha Adams, Norwalk, Connecticut, senior. She will present the new presidents, Alice Hilarides, Grand Rapids senior, of North Campbell, and Betty Bender, Detroit junior, of South Campbell.
Secretary McDonel will present the enlarged portraits of Mrs. Louise Campbell to the respective presidents.
The ceremonies will be concluded with hanging of the portraits in the dormitory libraries.

AWS Letter Advises Optional Hose Rule
Board of Three Formulates Opinion
By Charlotte Whitten
As a result of a letter read last night at A.W.S. meeting, the wearing of silk stockings will probably become optional on Michigan State's campus.
Written by Francis Hillier, S.W.L. representative to the A.W.S. council, and East Lansing junior, the letter is a result of investigation of the stocking problem by Miss Hillier, Carolyn Tunstall, Detroit senior, and Nancy Blue, East Lansing sophomore.
The three women are a committee appointed by A. W. S. President Margaret Jensen, Grosse Pointe senior, at the last meeting of the organization.
Aim of the letter, which will be sent to all dormitories, sororities, and off-campus houses was to state A. W. S.'s interpretation and recommendation for the stocking situation.

day, Yeiser said. The cost is not to exceed $10 and exhibits will display the visiting football team, homecoming and M. S. C. football, he added.
The exhibits, which will be judged on a point system will allot a total of 100 points. Forty points will be given for the theme which includes relation to football, homecoming, visiting team, and pertinence. Ten points will be awarded for continuity, 20 points for originality, 10 points for location and 10 points for cost, Yeiser said.
TWO TO HEAD RULES BODY
Last year the winner of the sorority trophy was Sigma Kappa. Theta Chi was the winner of the fraternity trophy. Sigma Kappa had an exhibit of eleven figures of women students dressed in football uniforms pulling back a Santa Clara bronco.
Lloyd Overman and Miss Phelps will be chairmen of the display rules and judging committee.

Blackout Brings East Lansing A Taste of War
East Lansing suffered its first "black-out" last night, but no air raid sirens wailed, no one ran for bomb shelters, and no airplanes droned overhead—instead electricians searched for a broken circuit in the city's power system.
The "black-out" enveloped portions of the city at 5:45 p. m., but only off-campus students were forced to eat by candle light, because the college operates its own power plant, and campus buildings were not affected.
Giving a short preview of Halloween, three solid blocks of business establishments conducted business by candlelight and lanterns. The faulty circuit was turned on again at 7:45, 90 minutes later, and East Lansing put its candles away—until Christmas or another "black-out."

The shirt that's All-American every year
The one shirt that remains a national favorite year-in, year-out is the white shirt. It's always appropriate, neat, and becoming. Be sure you have enough whites—and be sure they're Arrows. No finer white shirts are made.
We suggest Arrow Hitt, with a non-wilt collar, Arrow Gordon, a sporty oxford, and Arrow Trump with a long-wearing soft collar. Each is $2.

future if the "brawls" continue similar to this one," he added.
POLICE ARE BUSY
So vicious was the struggling between the two groups after the regularly scheduled events were completed that the entire detail of four campus police assigned to the "brawl" was kept busy transporting injured to the college-hospital. This, according to Campus Police Chief Bert Daniels, added to the fact that none of the usual groups present to supervise the contests were in evidence, explains why overzealous freshmen succeeded in transporting the two aged cars into the river for use as a stage in singing the alma mater.
No charges will be brought for the destruction of property unless the owners demand them, Daniels stated yesterday. The cars had been removed to the rear of the short course barracks by the police after they had stood in the student parking lot all summer, he said.
TEAR GAS IS MYSTERY
Daniels stated that campus police officers had nothing to do with release of tear gas which broke up the crowd still milling around the greased flagpole after the contest there was over. "We have turned all our information over to the military department," he said, "since the bomb used probably came from a military summer camp."
The campus police chief also added that in all the time he spent in the vicinity of the "brawl," he did not see a single leader attempting to regulate the activities.
SOPHS DEFEND FLAG
Although few dry sophomores remained on the scene of conflict, the class won the victory on the basis of a win in the tug-of-war, which proved to be the rubber event of the three contests scheduled. Previously they had successfully defended their class pennant, while their fresh rivals had captured the honors in the bag rush.
Aided by a B and G tractor, the sophomores dragged their opponents across the river at the dam, traditional location for the annual tug-of-war. To freshmen charges of foul play the upperclassmen replied with the claim that the fresh had attempted to win by using a block and tackle. The force of the opposite sides was great enough that the rope finally broke.

Don Congdon, Phi Delta Theta; Frank Lizzo, Phi Kappa Tau; Arthur Coulter and Russel Monroe, Pi Kappa Phi; Al Gill, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Richard Simpson, Sigma Nu, and Harlan Pitcher, Theta Chi, will also attend the meeting.
50 SCHOOLS TO SEND MEN
Over 50 schools located in the six states of Region III will be represented at Purdue this week-end, Mitchell said. The 1942 meeting will be held in East Lansing, according to present plans.

Ballroom to Handle Homecoming Mob
In order to facilitate the handling of the overflow Homecoming crowd expected to seek dining service in the Union Saturday, Manager E. G. Foster announced the opening of the Ballroom on the second floor and service between the hours of 12 and 1:30 p. m. and 5:30 and 7 p. m.
According to Foster, this "should relieve the strain on the cafeteria and considerably speed up service through the elimination of long hours of standing in line."
