It Is Appreciated

Thanks to you, campus police. During the meeting of the Farm Bureau on campus, Thursday, an officer watched the student parking lot by the Auditorium to see that visiting cars did not fill it up. Students' rights in their parking lot were properly safeguarded despite an influx of extra traffic. We appreciate that. Thanks again and keep up the good work.

Any Dean Calls Today?

Scholarship reports are just a nice way of saying, "Here are your dean calls, friend." Whether or not you're a recipient of the curt little note, it's a good idea to drop in and see your adviser. There are still three days in which to do it.

And really there's no stigma attached to calling on one's adviser. The faculty member can usually diagnose your trouble, and you'll profit during the next six weeks.

And it is a reason for dropping in and getting to know your adviser better. If your average is right up there, calling on him might be called insurance against the possibility of any future scholastic slip-up.

An Open Letter to Gerald L. K. Smith And the Committee of 1,000,000

EDITOR'S NOTE

Reporter George Herbert was sent Thursday to cover the Smith lecture. He was deliberately kept from interviewing Smith, but he gathered no story—but a good "gripe." Here are his impressions.

Dear Mr. Smith:

Maybe I'm wrong! But I was disappointed in you and your Holy "1,000,000" when you wanted a perfectly good November evening in Lansing's Prudden auditorium Thursday, trying to convince an audience that already agreed with you.

You wouldn't remember me, but I was there. Don't take me wrong, Mr. Smith. I didn't attend your meeting because my heart throbs in response to your 1,000,000. No! The Michigan State News, a college newspaper, asked me to cover your speech. If my remarks, which I jotted down in a notebook as you spoke, sound rather personal, please don't be offended, Mr. Smith, because I remember your remarks regarding our duly-elected president and his wife were certainly personal. I got impatient. (Remember that "What's the matter, Joe?" But first, I'll let you in on a secret. I'm not a Democrat, but I respect the President and his family, because he's my president, and he's yours, too, Mr. Smith.

I was surprised when I saw your audience. It LOOKED like your audience had been distributed to a makeshift group of the "Committee of 1,000,000." Yes, I said "Committee," because I remember you didn't want any one of those young fellows—the ones you're trying to save—to get into Prudden and disagree with you as they did two years ago.

You said he got too because YOU said that you're the only one in your field, but my notebook says that you "sound better on the radio—and look better on the radio."

GIVE ME A HAND—Don't think me too critical, Mr. Smith, but you seemed to doubt that your hand-picked audience would know when to applaud. Remember, on several occasions, after typical rhetorical outbursts, you said, "You can give that a hand," and "There's a place to clap your hands." They do it with the "Applaud" and "Laugh" in radio studios. Maybe I'm wrong, Mr. Smith.

In another session, I doubted YOUR sincerity. Was it necessary to read your committee's seven principles? What's the matter, Mr.

Smith? Can't you remember them from day to day, or was that a blank sheet of paper in your hand?

When you really hit your stride, I was ashamed to be in the same room with a group that applauded you as you declared that "poll-ticians" in Washington "have committed treason and are traitors to the stars and stripes"; that Mr. Roosevelt has "cheapered the office of President and violated his oath of office"; and that Michigan's Senator Prentiss M. Brown has "betrayed the people who elected him." Yes, I was ashamed, Mr. Smith, because all of these national leaders were duly elected by the people—not by you, Mr. Smith.

HOW DO YOU KNOW? Then you began to let us in on your little secrets. Speaking just a few short hours after the House passed the Neutrality amendments by an edge of 18 votes, you confidently told us how the administration had actually purchased ten representatives' votes the previous night, with a judgeship for a Texan and a post office for another. Those are strong statements, Mr. Smith, and you're a remarkable man. How did you discover these sins so quickly?

Your climax was a knock-out! Something like a traveling medicine man—but more subtle. It seemed that the expenses of your "Committee" run into stupendous figures, and I gathered that our contributions would help you save America. By your figures, your radio programs cost $500 a week, your mailing expenses are $600 a week, and your personal and traveling expenses—oh shouldn't we mention them?

Another $200 goes into a long-distance broadcast to Washington, which, according to you, is aimed and addressed to the President, Congress, and the Cabinet—not the public.

SPARE NO EXPENSE Did you ever try the United States' mail, Mr. Smith? I'll bet you could reach more Federal officials with three-cent stamps than you can with your $200 radio program.

That wasn't enough! You had to hold up a little booklet and belittle it. Here's a book you can have for 50 cents. It only costs a quarter to print, but it's worth five dollars. Everything in it is true, because I wrote it. You're definitely super, Mr. Smith.

But what's money, Mr. Smith? You're one of the common people—a couple of shirts and suits. But when you went back to the hotel during the intermission, I wonder if the people in the audience

What Other College Students Think on Timely Topics

FRATERNITY COMEBACK Fraternities are on the comeback trail, according to Harry Schuck, instructor in commerce and chairman of the interfraternity councilors group at the University of Wisconsin.

The days of the raccoon-coated, gin-drinking, scatter-brained fraternity men belong to the turbulent twenties when the entire country seemed to be a little off balance, but the pendulum has swung back today, Mr. Schuck says.

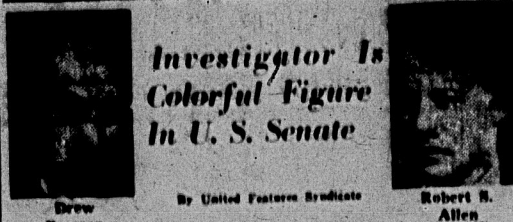

The 1,214 men who are members of the 36 local fraternities on the Wisconsin campus today make up about 21.6 per cent of the men students in the university, and exemplify a new type of fraternity man to whom improved finances and scholarship mean as much as social activities, according to Mr. Schuck, who said he finds the new fraternity man "with his feet on firmer ground than those of his predecessor, his head held a little higher, his purpose and goal a little more clearly defined."

During the last year Wisconsin fraternities have taken a new lease on life. Their membership is climbing. They have adopted a house councilor plan which has aided them in many ways. Their program of activities is on a much sounder footing. Grades and finances are vastly improved.

Contrary to the popular notion, the fraternity men acquit themselves very well in the matter of grades, Mr. Schuck reveals. The all-university average for men last semester was 1.5 and the all-fraternity average was 1.4, he says.

Investigator Is Colorful Figure In U. S. Senate

By United Feature Syndicate Robert H. Allen

WASHINGTON—Early next Monday morning, five United States senators will arrive in Memphis, Tenn., and begin asking embarrassing questions. They will ask why the government should have to pay $15.66 for repairing an automobile tire, $18.64 for rebuilding a $5.00 carburetor, and $1.50 for labor to change the motor oil of a truck.

The answers, if any, will be given by officials of Ferguson-Oman, the contracting company which is building a giant ordinance plant near Memphis to be operated by soap makers Proctor & Gamble.

The senators expect to uncover many other extraordinary things about this defense project. Their sense of smell for making such discoveries has been well developed. They have been asking embarrassing questions since last spring, when the special committee to investigate the national defense program was set up.

CHAIRMAN IS FEATURE From the very start the committee's disclosures have been a series of headline sensations. But one of the most remarkable developments of the committee is its chairman, Senator Harry S. Truman (R-Missouri).

Slightly built, bespectacled, a lover of Chopin and a shunner of the limelight, Truman is one of the last men in Congress who would be considered a hard-boiled rooster. In manner and appearance he is anything but the crusader.

But in the eight months he has been operating he has made investigation history—and he has a long way yet to go.

WAS PENDING MAN Truman came to the Senate in 1935 in the same freshman class with Milton of Indiana, Schwelb of Washington and Burke of Nebraska. Each one of them quickly made a name for himself, but they are no longer in the Senate.

Truman kept in the background was known only as a chairman of the notorious Pendingist machine. During the six years of Truman's first term, so far as the men in the street was concerned there was only one senator from Missouri—Bennett Clark.

Then came the conviction of Boss Pendingist, and many of his associates took to the tall timber. But not Truman. He publicly acknowledged his political debt to Pendingist, and then long friendship.

The wise boys wrote it down that it was all over Truman. He was a courageous man, but he had cooked his goose. They were wrong. In one of the hottest campaigns in Missouri history, where they elections are an old story, Truman, the Pendingist man, was deservingly re-elected.

CAME BACK AGAIN He returned to the Senate as quiet and as inconspicuous as before. Since January he has been on his feet only four times, and his remarks could all be printed on three pages of the Congressional Record.

Each time he talked about one subject—"S. Res. 71," the resolution that authorized his investigating committee. This probe has been his passion ever since friends back home began writing him about waste in the construction of Fort Leonard Wood at Rollo, Mo.

SCARED BY DEAD HORSE While poles apart politically, Truman and Clark are good friends personally. Their friendship dates back to the A.E.F., when on one occasion Clark played a practical joke on Truman that both now recall with smiles.

Truman was bringing his battery by train into the Vosges Mountains. Arriving at his destination, he was met by Clark, a lieutenant-colonel. The superior officer pointed dramatically at a dead horse lying near the station platform, and said:

"Captain, you better get your men and guns out of here in a hurry. The Germans are shelling this place and you ought to unload and get under cover as quick as you can."

HURRY UP, MEN Taking Clark at his word, Truman ordered his battery to dismount in a hurry, even pitching in himself to help with the task. After the battery had sweated frantically to get out of the "zone of fire," Clark walked over to Truman and said with a grin, "That's

Dads' Day Leads Menu Listing—A La Greek

By Dash Wuerfel

There's nothing the matter with Father—he's all right, according to the Greeks, who are cooperating on celebrating Dads' day this Saturday.

Alpha Phi, Alpha Chi, A. O. U. Kappa, and Chi Omega have announced that they will go in a party to the game and return for dinner afterwards. The Hesperiads plan the same, with Pres. John Hannah as guest speaker at the banquet.

AT REVELLE A novel bit in the way of a party is being planned by the Epilon Chi pledges. They are giving a cabin tomorrow morning for the active members.

The Alpha Chis have had their pledge officers for quite some time now, so here's the list: Marvyn Shearer of Pontiac, president; Lois Relehard, Detroit, junior, vice-president; Marjorie Jehle, Detroit sophomore, secretary; and Virginia Wilkinson, Royal Oak sophomore, treasurer.

HELLO AND GOODBYE A sad farewell was said by the A.T.O.s to their German police dog, Bobby, who has been returned to Jo Borkowski's home in Grand Rapids. Poor Bobby was unable to adjust to the collegiate whirl, and got homesick. But the house is amply repaid by the addition of four new pledges, Jim Smith, freshman from Davidson; Bud Wilson, Lansing, junior; Mel Buschman, Owasco, junior; and Bill Foss, Detroit, freshman.

The pledges get the prize over at the Pi Kappa Phi house, and even the actives admit it. They say their pledges have more oomph in dreaming up parties—and point to the affair that's coming up this Saturday as evidence. There's to be a sweater swing with a speak-easy setting—no one admitted unless they come in the back door and give the password.

There's a new Delta Sig running around on campus and his name is Jerry Schuster, Monroe sophomore. The pledge president is Tom Ryan of Detroit and the secretary is Hub Gluski, also of Detroit.

Then the Delta Chis crash through with the names of five more new pledges. And looking about names their first pledge sounds interesting—Alexander William James (just call me Butch) Grant, senior from New York. Then there's Leo Bourdon, another New Yorker; Joe Eveland, Mayville sophomore; John Nowak, Hamtramck, junior; and Carl Lund, Jr., senior from Muskegon Heights.

And just a few lines more to add some names to the list of houses that will entertain their fathers. There are the Alpha Gamma Deltas and the Sigma Kappas, also the Delta Chis.

Bud Hicks and his rhumba class has been going strong at the Phi Tau house during the last few weeks—until someone walked off with his recordings. In other words, La Conga is gonga.

LEES-McRAE College students' Banner Elk, N. C., have organized the country's farthest-south skiing club. Members make their own skis in the college woodshop.

FRESHMAN NOTICE Scholarship reports showing grades for the first six weeks are in the hands of freshmen advisers. All freshmen students should therefore contact their advisers between November 13 and 18, according to S. E. Crowe, head of the adviser's committee.

QUARTERBACK Movies of the Temple game will be shown at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening in the Ballroom of the Union, a day earlier because of the Thanksgiving vacation.

News Round-up Eastern Situation Still Dark Strike View No Brighter

By George H. ... Japan's "peace" envoy, Saburo Kurusu, who arrived in the United States yesterday, may be too late to bring peace in the Far East.

President Roosevelt announced yesterday that he had ordered the evacuation of the 970 United States marines in China, but he warned the nation not to draw hasty conclusions from this action. The order does not affect naval gunboats operating on Chinese rivers.

Following with Roosevelt's announcement, the Japanese government broadened the scope of military occupation in Japan, steps raising the total of her standing army. The Japanese Diet will be asked to approve an $874,600,000 military appropriation today.

Labor Picture Dark The question of solving the labor dispute in the nation's captive coal mines still remained at the top of the mediation docket yesterday, as UAW President John L. Lewis walked out of a White House conference declining to make a statement to gathered reporters. The conference was called by President Roosevelt in an attempt to solve the labor problem before the strike deadline, which has been set for midnight tonight.

Lewis left the meeting, which was attended by union delegates, mine executives, and steel company officials, after the conference had been underway for half an hour. Twenty minutes later CIO delegate Philip Murray also left the White House, but all other delegates remained with the President. Lewis said that the "White House is preparing a statement," declaring that "the government proposes to see this thing through." President Roosevelt said that he will keep the mines open.

Ark Royal Sunk For the third time in World War II, the British Admiralty announced that one of its aircraft carriers, the Ark Royal, had been sunk. The 22,000-ton Ark Royal was torpedoed in the Mediterranean but sank as it was being towed into Gibraltar, a gaping hole torn in its side. Without announcing exact figures, the Admiralty said that many crew members were saved.

Britain's report on the naval situation had an encouraging note, also. Again, without disclosing exact figures, the Admiralty said that "combined" American and British action in the Atlantic had sunk many Axis submarines.

Amendment Draws Comment Twenty-four hours after the House of Representatives had passed the Senate-approved amendments to the Neutrality act, press and official comments were pouring in from every part of the world.

Although dismayed because the measure passed by such a small majority, the British people greeted the announcement with loud approval. Axis comment naturally voiced an entirely different opinion. The German press countered with

Who? These are Invading Owl Backs

Facing what may easily be its toughest assignment of the season, Michigan State's first job against Temple university this afternoon on Macklin field will be to stop the high-flying eastern backs. The Owls have such capable backs as Joe Papiano, fullback, above; Al Druhis, quarterback; Andy Tomasic, left halfback and captain; and Anrelo Sparagna, right halfback.

Harriers Will Leave For IC-4A Affair By Air Tomorrow

Team Will Tour Van Cortlandt Park

In quest of the most sought-after title in all cross countrydom, Coach Lauren Brown and his seven star pupils will leave by plane tomorrow for the IC-4A championship in New York city.

Capt. Ralph Monroe, Bill Scott, Walter Mack, Colby Thompson, Walter Beardslee, Maurice Horski, and Earl Cady will comprise the harrier team competing for State in this 5-mile race to be held at Van Cortlandt Park at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

LEAVE IN MORNING

Leaving by car from East Lansing for Detroit Sunday morning at 7:10 o'clock, the team will catch the 10 o'clock plane for New York arriving at LaGuardia field at 1:30 p. m. A tour of the hilly Van Cortlandt course will immediately follow their arrival at Manhattan. Before any meet, Brownie always goes over the course with the team to make a careful survey of the footing and surface, and to give the Spartan runners pointers.

From 4 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. the athletes will be free to roam the great metropolis, but they have been urged to do most of their sightseeing from Fifth avenue buses or the tike, so as not to fatigue their legs on the hard pavement.

Following the meet at 3 p. m.

Monday, the weary runners will catch the 5:30 plane back to Detroit. They should arrive back at East Lansing at about 11 p. m. after a two-hour car ride from Detroit.

BEST RUNNERS IN EAST

An entry list of about 150 harriers will include the best collegiate distance runners in the East. Michigan State, defending champion, Rhode Island State, and Pennsylvania, are expected to be the three favorites. Other teams include NYU, Manhattan, Fordham, Moore, Yale, Pittsburgh, Colgate, Columbia, and Pennsylvania.

Since Rhode Island State won the New England championship last week with a record low time, its little institution looks as the favorite to lead. Their number one man, Junior Bob Nichols, has been turning in some sensational performances. This season, he should push Leslie Mac Mitchell, twice individual champion and record holder from NYU, to a new record.

87 Entries Will Go to the Post In State's First Turkey Trot

According to latest reports from Assistant Intramural Director Russell Daubert, 87 entrants, representing 23 organizations, will toe the starting mark Monday in Michigan State's first annual All-College Turkey Trot. The event will begin at 4:30 p. m.

AOPi's Upset Sigma Kappas

Alpha Omicron Pi upset Sigma Kappas last night, 28-25, in the intramural volleyball tournament. This leaves the block three race a tie between Kappa Gamma and Sigma Kappas.

Kappa Gamma Gamma routed Sigma Kappas, 45-12, to step back into first place with Kappa Alpha. The alpha block two, both teams have won four and lost none.

South Williams defeated Alpha Xi Delta, 32-21, to move into the lead of block 1.

In the other games, Alpha Phi beat South Campbell, 42-16; Alpha Chi Omega defeated Alice Cowles, 40-12; North Campbell defeated Delta Zeta, 36-27.

The race will start in Macklin field at the south goal post and end at the 50-yard line. Spectators who wish to watch the race can watch it in its two mile 50 yard entirety from the Macklin field stands.

Team prizes for the race will consist of a turkey, goose, duck and chicken and of a goose egg. Ten medals will be awarded, one individual prize, to the first ten men to finish.

Showers Stop Tiger Polo

State's polo team returned home last night after its scheduled game with Missouri at Columbia was rained out. The Tigers refused Coach Captain Peterson's suggestion of substituting an indoor game in its place.

The Spartan poloists opened their season with a resounding 4-2 triumph over a strong Illinois team Thursday afternoon.

WEATHER IS GOOD

Playing under ideal outdoor conditions State had the Champion boys under complete control after the first chuckers. After preliminary jockeying for position, the Illians scored first with a goal by Gil McKracken. Spatz countered with a long drive to tie the score.

SPATZ SCORES

The third period race, Spatz score again after striking the ball the distance of the field. Just to put the finishing touches on the defeat, number three man, Fred Gibson rode forward and chucked up two goals. McKracken was able to add another goal for Illinois before the final whistle.

OWLS DRILL HERE

The Owls, who arrived in town Friday, held a brief workout in the afternoon on Macklin field. Averaging 265 pounds on the line and approximately 180 in the backfield, the Temple grunts ran through a light workout. They have the same lineup intact which powered through Kansas, Virginia Military Institute, Georgetown, Penn. State, Bucknell, and Villanova, while losing only to Boston college.

Besides Tomasic, captain of the Temple eleven, Quarterback Al Druhis, Right Half Jimmy Woodside, a former center, and Ed George Suten, driving fullback complete the backfield.

Most dangerous pass-catcher on the Temple roster is Cliff Seaver, who scored the two touchdowns that beat Villanova last Saturday. He will team with Frank Mosser at the flank positions while towering Hank Zajkowski and Buck Kurey will be at tackles. Andy

Several thousand Michigan families get their chief support from deep-water commercial fishing. The state's yearly catch is valued at nearly $2,500,000.

Whitefish are still the prime delicacy of the Great Lakes, and command top prices, but their number has declined steadily. Today lake trout and lake herring lead whitefish in total value. Yellow pike, yellow perch and chubs also are commercially important.

Fish must be kept iced from the time they are brought in, and there can be no delay in getting them to market. Fish companies keep track of the demand by telephone, to avoid shipping to places already well supplied.

You can enjoy a supper of fresh-caught fish, straight from the Lakes, by merely calling up the nearest market!

Officers Ball, Greek Term Parties Listed

By HARRIETTE YNBERG

Showing honors with the Officers club party this week-end are a number of semi-formal and informal parties.

Following the installation of the seven corps sponsors in Demonstration hall last night, Coy Eklund played for dancing. Bud Mackichan, president, escorted Jean Barnum, and she wore a roman striped taffeta skirt with a chiffon blouse.

The Union ballroom was the setting of Alpha Chi Omega sorority's term party last night. Carol Deussen, chairman of the party, was wearing a red net skirt with cream lame bodice, and was escorted by Bob Conley.

Also dancing to the music of Bud Bell and his orchestra was Harriet Carpenter, chapter president, and Paul Elliott. Miss Carpenter chose a green crepe dinner dress.

Mark Bochoz, chairman of the Delta Sigma Phi semi-formal, had Jean Ann Johnson as his guest. With Tommy Tabler playing for dancing, Jack Widick, chapter president, escorted Dolie Kinsaid, who wore dusty rose bengaline trimmed with blue velvet. The chapter house was the scene of the dance.

Tonight Kappa Sigma fraternity will hold its fall term dance in the Little theater. Bud Bell will furnish the music, and Richard Reidenbach, chairman of the party, will be with Mayson Shreiner. White chiffon, set-off by black sequins, has been chosen by her. Howard Pound, chapter president, will have Eileen Cross as his guest.

Black velvet trimmed with white lace has been chosen by Gretchen Allen for the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity dance in the Union tonight. She will be the guest of Don Way, president.

Dancing to the music of Tommy Tabler and his orchestra will be Paul Thurston, chairman, and Nancy Murray. She will wear plaid tulle.

candidate Don Diehl, Dancliffe Junior, led the six candidates in this division with 130 votes, and Rodtke, a senior from Morrice, was second with 110.

In the highest race of the day Home Economics students chose Helen Hebblewhite, Lansing junior, and Doris Jean Hoole, Junior from Midland, to compete in the finals. Only three votes separated the second and last place candidates on this ballot. Miss Hebblewhite received 90 tallies and Miss Hoole 80, while Bonnie Lessel, young Ironwood sophomore, gathered 70 votes and Beth Taylor, senior from Highland Park, 78.

Millon Kirkpatrick, New York City Junior, led the Engineering division's candidates with 121 votes, followed by Harry Jackson, senior from Detroit, with 125.

Election booths were handled by members of the committee of each division.
