

People Have More Fun Than Anybody

Over the Wire

How not to be a lady over the wire was demonstrated yesterday when a State News reporter...

While waiting for his connec- tion, a feminine voice broke in on the reporter with a string of profanity...

That would have turned any truck driver a motley blue in You! She wanted to know what the blarney was going on, anyway...

While trying to talk to her boy- friend, she said, and would the reporter please vacate the line.

Once again, when the reporter made the connection, the strange voice blurted out in astounding language that turned out to be a cordial invitation to a party.

Thanksgiving vacation was on for rejoicing for Lella Sannes, Chicago freshman living at a smart house. Struck by one of her notorious taxi on her way home for Thanksgiving vaca- tion, Lella will remain in a cast at least another month.

Boiled Again

That national defense, of everyone and his dog, even stalked through the Chicago gun industry is contain- ing release from the Wrigley...

After all, Wrigley officials say, "you chew the gum, you swallow the wrapper."

They've also printed the notice enclosed in the boxes of gum on a separate paper to conserve space.

'Kapers' to Be Given Again Over WKAR

'Orie' Is Author Of First Scripts; Edgel to Be M.C.

By BARBARA HAFFORD

Kampus Kapers, WKAR radio variety show, will be broadcast again this year from the stage of Fairchild theater starting Dec. 9, according to L. D. Barnhart, production manager of WKAR and director of the show.

Shows will be given every Saturday from 4 to 4:30 p. m.

Kampus Kapers was formerly held in the Little theater, later moving to the Union ballroom, but this year, after an appropriation from the State Board of Agriculture finally was approved, the show will be held in Fairchild theater to better accommodate audience, Barnhart said yesterday. The theater has better acoustics.

The WKAR staff seldom is bothered by autograph hounds so a request received recently at the station is getting a lot of attention. It came in an envelope with a "V for Victory" stamp and a seal which read: "Opened by Censor, Passed by Censor."

The postmark was Concord, Australia, and the letter said: "I am writing to ask if you would get me the autographs of your announcers, radio personalities and actors on the station's note paper please. I have 700 Australian and a few U. S. A. and New Zealand announcers' autographs on note paper."

"Yours faithfully, HORACE BROWN."

Hearse and Austin Are Among Autos Driven at State

Everything from Model T's to Special Buicks, including an Austin convertible and a used hearse, will be featured among the 932 student cars registered to date, according to Campus Public Chief Albert Daniels.

This is approximately one car to every seven students, and as the number of registered faculty automobiles grows.

The registration figure is no larger than last year's, although registrations increasing 187 equal a 20 percent increase for the same period of 1940. Of these registrations, 300 are student cars, 90 are faculty cars, and 532 are faculty cars.

In this respect, the selling of used cars is a third of the total. Students are interested in used cars because of the possibility of repeated offenses, he said.

Gridders Get Hot, But Too Late

With Only West Virginia Left, State Hits Season's High

By ED KITCHEN
Michigan State's football squad might well turn out to be one of the leading teams in the nation this season--if the Spartans had six more games to play.

For State, with only the West Virginia university battle at Morgantown Saturday left to fill out its 1941 campaign, is just beginning to get in stride. The Spartans' right now are like the youngster who has just eaten Wagon Wheel pie. "They wish they could start right over again."

WARM UP FAST

It's all wishful thinking, but State, in its last three games, has scored 77 points to 7 for the opposition, and has chalked up a tie and two straight victories. Against Purdue, whom State tied 6-6, the Spartan crew was just beginning to get up steam. Coach Charley Bachman's boys began rolling in the 46-0 massacre of Temple and then coasted through Ohio Western 31-7, at Marietta field last Saturday.

Now, as Bachman pointed out Monday, "just as the blocking is beginning to click, our ball carriers and our defense become air tight, the best we can do is get one more win Saturday."

MAY BE TOUGH

And that that with it going to be tough to collect was indicated last Saturday when West Virginia was barely beaten, 7-6, by Army. The Carlets, by the way, are the same group of graders who held Notre Dame's powerful Irish to a 6-0 tie earlier this season.

State's entire squad participated in Monday's drill session and the indications are that the Spartans will probably present an all-senior starting array this week.

TO START SENIORS

That would leave Lew Sinsky, Bob Friedland, Frank Karas, Fred Carter, Bill Bork, Bill Ke-

edy and Tony Arena in the line, with Wil Davis, Wy Davis, Walt Pawlowski and Bob Sherman in the backfield.

Most prominent members of State's senior corps, which made its last appearance before the home folks Saturday in the Wesleyan game, were Tony Arena and Mike Schels. Monday Arena received honorable mention on the NEA All-American eleven, first released this year, while Schels had set some sort of grid record for this season by returning a third consecutive punt for a touchdown Saturday.

Miss Miller Watches Her Pupils Grow Up: Likes Football, Dancing

By Neva Ackerman

Miss Catherine Miller, head of college nursery school, this year is seeing one of her pupils enter M.S.C. for the second time. When Miss Miller came here 14 years ago, Carson "Junior" Symmonds, hotel administration freshman from Lansing, was one of her first pupils in the nursery school which she founded in 1927.

Miss Miller, one of the most popular instructors in the Home Economics division, is a graduate of Buffalo State Teachers college. She received her Master's degree from Columbia and also took graduate work at Merrill Palmer school in Detroit.

WAS 20 ADVISEES

Handles her work as head of nursery school, Miss Miller is busy with classes in home management and child development and is advisor to 20 Home Ec students.

Her chief interest lies in the nursery school and taking care of the 24 pre-school children and her greatest joy is the new fence around the school playground.

Miss Miller is a strong advocate of closer contact between student and teacher—a feature of her own classes. She likes smaller classes so that she can get better acquainted with her students, and usually knows the people in her classes personally before mid-term time. She likes to have graduates come back to see her.

LIKES FOOTBALL

Her hobbies are dancing, knitting and cooking and she loves football games. She is an ardent fan of State athletic teams.

Miss Miller is best known for her personal interest in students and their problems and is often consulted by them on off-the-record matters.

Miss Lamphier Has Tough Job In Play

One of the toughest assignments in "Stage Door," fall term play to be presented Dec. 3 and 4, is that of Mildred Lamphier, Lansing junior, who plays the eccentric Russian pianist.

Here is the double task of rendering several difficult classical compositions in addition to presenting a convincing character to the audience.

"The timing is terrific!" says Miss Lamphier, for a couple of extra notes at the wrong time might ruin a whole scene. This production contains much more music than the average stage play.

UNDERWOOD SUPERVISES
Miss Lamphier is a public school music major, and Prof. Roy Underwood of the music department is supervising this part of the play.

The musical numbers in "Stage Door" include Sibelius' "Romance," Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in G Minor," Beethoven's "Für Elise," Chopin's "E-flat Major Nocturne," Brahms' "Waltz Op. 39, No. 2," and "Liebestraum" by Liszt, all of which are popular favorites even with the people who dislike the classics. In addition to these, she does a couple of amusing take-offs on popular favorites of the day.

Miss Lamphier has had special lessons for this performance, and Professor Underwood, who approved the program, is seeking a finished performance of Liebestraum because it is so well-known.

Miss Lamphier started taking lessons when she was about eight years old and, she insists, never objected to practice.

Movies May Decide Final Fate of State In Important Run

Although photo finishes in cross country counting are about as rare as a professional wrestling match on the level, one popped up in the National Intercollegiate cross country meet here yesterday.

Because of some confusion among the judges, it has not yet been ascertained officially whether or not Michigan State and Purdue really tied for fourth place. Officials of the race have held up their final verdict on the pictures of the race and the pictures will unravel the picture. In the meantime, Spartan Coach L. P. Brown is sending out an urgent request for copies of all pictures taken of the race. Persons possessing such pictures are requested to see him immediately.

Managers of the teams who won touch-football league championships last night requested to meet in the mural office in Jensen gymnasium today at 4 p. m. to discuss for the all-college championship playoff positions.

Some Thanksgiving Turkeys Didn't Die: Needed Next Year

There's some mighty fine gobblers and young hens that didn't lose their heads in the Thanksgiving scramble. Out of an estimated crop of 600,000 turkeys in Michigan this year, wise farmers have sorted out some of the most likely looking birds for propagating 1942 flocks.

Michigan has 8,000 farms on which turkeys are grown commercially, according to O. E. Shear of the poultry department. Shear knows many of these turkey growers from his extension work at the college.

Nearly all of these growers have found out by advice and experience that it is wise to save out some of the best birds for use in breeding the next year's birds.

The wrong practice is to get the best ones to market and then save the culls and creaked breed birds for the breeding flock.

Birds saved ought not to be later than the May hatch," says N. L. Smead, "These turkeys should be of good type and have short legs, well fleshed drumsticks and breasts and straight feet. The breeding birds also should be from those that tend to mature quickly."

Another turkey grower's success factor calls for selecting young birds rather than saving those that are two or three years old. The older birds get lazy. The hens seldom lay as many eggs and he strutting gobblers become inactive as they take on age.

but because of special wiring needed to broadcast the shows, the cost there is much higher. No admission is charged for attendance.

STANLEY ASSISTS

Kampus Kapers will be under the direction of Ray Stanley, program supervisor of WKAR. This year the show will feature two campus bands, Bud Bell and Tommy Tabler. Bob Edgell will be master of ceremonies and Paul Ratis announcer.

Earl Brigham, better known under his pseudonym "Owie," has written the first script. Barnhart believes that Brigham's knowledge of campus affairs and personalities and his writing experience should guarantee a lively and entertaining show.

IML ONCE HAD SHOW

Kampus Kapers was originally sponsored by Independent Men's League. During the past two years, Jon Rovick, graduate of 1941, has been M. C. and script-writer for the show. He is now a full-time staff member of radio station WSPD at Toledo. Jack Gallagher, announcer for approximately the same period, is a staff member of station WWJ, Detroit. Forrest Owen and Ted Root, who also worked frequently on the program, are staff members of WXYZ, Detroit, and CJIC, South St. Marie, Ont., respectively.

Announcement will be made in the State News of open auditions for students interested in participation in Kampus Kapers, Barnhart said.

Student Directories For '41 All Sold

The 1941-42 student directory was a complete sell-out. It was announced yesterday by Editor Len Barnes, Cadillac senior. Only 50 copies in reserve remain of the 2,000 copies printed, according to Barnes.

Cost of printing additional copies would be exorbitant and has therefore not been considered, Barnes stated.
