Either Too Good or Too Bad

When Instructor S. E. Crowe had finished explaining the second term Spanish class, the students didn't understand why good doesn't mean good or bad. How bad can mean bad. So How bad can mean the following illustration. When a girl says a dress because it is a good color she really means the color will bring out the color of somebody.

Backstone Way

A laugh or a trick is the usual up-your-sleeve item. Dorothy Cobb, Detroit freshman, had up-her-sleeve in the State News office climbing up on desks, bookcases, and window sills with her own version of what else should go in a sleeve besides an arm. Calmly reaching inside her pocket sleeve as though to smooth the cuff of her blouse, she pulled out a white mouse.

Ghost Story

It seems that Daniel F. Sheehan, instructor in English, is in a class with the spirits. In his American literature class today he said that a number of years ago he had slept with a ghost. Adding to this spectral bit of information he told his class about the New York ghost which sat in a chair by his bed one night. Sheehan didn't see it though because he had opened his eyes and seen it he would have raised a commotion that the ghost would have been scared away.

Light Subject

After a lecture on taboos, traditions, and unwritten laws, Prof. E. M. Banzet asked his sociology class for examples. Dorothy Ann Dye, Birmingham sophomore, referring to the campus rules, said, "Lights out at 11:30." Just after the laugh Prof. Banzet's puzzled look had faded, the lights in the back of the room flickered out. Cooperation, no doubt.

American P-T Boats Sink Four Barges at Madang Base

ADVANCED ALLIED HDQS., New Guinea, Saturday, Jan. 22. (AP)—Spedy little American P-T boats have sunk more Japanese barges and killed about 100 Japanese soldiers in a raid on the Madang shipping base in northern New Guinea.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command today told how the Allied craft roared in on the Madang harbor area, caught the four barges laden with 40 tons each and sank every one, mauling and killing the floundering Japanese troops.

American medium bombers escorted by fighters, bombed and burned the enemy-held Hansa Bay sector northwest of Madang on the New Guinea coast.

Fires were started and 20 more enemy barges were sunk in the raid.

London Faces First Air Raid Since January 15

LONDON, Jan. 21. (AP)—London's anti-aircraft guns roared tonight in their heaviest barrage in months as the capital had its first air raid since Jan. 15.

The drone of a large number of planes could be heard above the puffs. The flash of tracer bullets across the sky and the glow of orange flares apparently dropped by the raiders made a spectacular display.

Allied Planes Raid Coast in Largest Attack from Air

LONDON, Jan. 21. (AP)—Hundreds of Allied planes struck the French invasion coast today following the largest aerial attack ever visited on Berlin and German long wave radio transmitters left the air tonight, possibly for the second consecutive night.

German planes also struck at London tonight in the heaviest attack since October, setting off the thunder of Britain's powerful ring of anti-aircraft guns.

In the new attack cycle with reinforced strength, American heavy and medium bombers and nearly all types of RAF planes raked mysterious Nazi forward defenses during the day in the Pas-de-Calais area.

In a combined bombardment of British air ministry and the U.S. army gave an unusual play-by-play of the day's operations against the Pas-de-Calais area which now has been attacked on 22 of the past 21 days and which popularity is supposed to contain German rocket gun emplacements.

The announcement stated that when the first favorable weather in several days arrived, the bombing was begun by RAF hurricane and typhoon bombers.

Faculty Members to Talk

Three Michigan State faculty members will participate in a panel discussion on economic prospects of the American family for the American Association of University Women on Tuesday at the YWCA, Lansing.

Participants of this panel include Prof. Irma Gross, Bert O. Bernie, and Prof. Orion Uhry, chairman of the panel.

Adventure Series to Feature Film, 'Big Game Hunting in the Back Yard'

"Big Game Hunting in the Back Yard" will be presented tonight at 8:15 in College auditorium. S. E. Crowe, director of the World Adventure series, announced. The film shows insect and small animal life as recorded by Carl Deusing, assistant curator of education at the Milwaukee public museum.

Deusing's annual trip for big game hunting in the Canadian woods was canceled this year because of the war, tire shortages, and gasoline rationing.

Patience Necessary

Substituting the trip by stalking caterpillars, moths, and earthworms at home, the photographer found that such scenes required more patience than hunting deer.

This backyard photography in natural color shows a dragon fly emerging from the water at night and shredding its old skin and a toad flicking out its tongue to catch insects.

Film Wildlife

Students Supervise Nursery School Children

By KAY ROEHM
To provide a college laboratory for students in child development courses the Home Economics division in June, 1927, started the nursery school on State's campus.

Until 1938 the school was located in room 203 of the home economics building. At that time because of the need of more room, it was moved to its present location in the large, white building between the Union and the home economics building.

The enrollment of the school is now 25 children. Of this num-

Blue Key Men to Hold Annual Ball Tonight

Union Board Sponsors First Tea Dance of Winter Term

Highlights of this week-end's social activities will be the Blue Key Sweetheart ball tonight in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. Robert S. Shaw, guest of honor and former State president, will present the honorary fraternity's necklace to the Sweetheart whose name will be kept secret until the ceremony, according to Pres. Roger Holmstrom, Lansington senior.

Music will be provided by Gene Devine and orchestra. Music Chairman John Blanchard, Dearborn senior, said.

Deans Invited

Invitations to the junior and senior men's honorary dance have been sent to Pres. John A. Hannah and the deans of all divisions. Prof. and Mrs. Don Buell and Prof. and Mrs. C. V. Millard have been asked to serve as patrons for the annual ball.

Gene Devine's orchestra will also be featured at the Union board tea dance at 3:30 this afternoon in the Union ballroom, according to Marge Graft, publicity head of the board.

New Plan Proposed

This dance will serve as a forerunner to the Spotlight Parade of the women's dorms, which is a new program arranged by the Union board to honor a different residence each week.

Miss Graft stated that only if the attendance at today's dance warrants it will the new arrangement be put into effect by honoring the Louise Campbell dormitories next Saturday.

British Authorities Charge Argentine with Enemy Aid

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 21 (AP)—The office of Pres. Gen. Pedro Ramirez announced tonight that British authorities in Trinidad had arrested Osmar Alberto Helmut, Argentine consul, charging him with being in the service of an enemy spy ring inside Argentina.

The Argentine statement said that Helmut, "whose conduct appears compromising," has been dismissed from government employ.

The announcement said that information submitted by British authorities lent support to the possibility that an enemy spy ring was organized and working inside Argentina.

A full investigation is in progress, the Argentine statement said.

Students Hold Elections

Winter term short course students elected officers at a meeting Thursday evening. Bruce Echardt of Barry county was chosen president, with Harold McJilton of Gratiot county as vice-president. The work of secretary and treasurer will be done by Ralph W. Tenny, director of short courses.

Russians Race to Trap Nazis Heading South

Capture of Mga Paves Way for Greatest German Disaster Since Stalingrad Loss; Other Troops Snap Off Corridor to Sea

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Russians, broadening their front in a wide battle to hurl the Nazis from the huge rail and highway network around Leningrad, reached out 30 miles southeast of the liberated city today and captured the rail junction and military stronghold of Mga.

Campbell Canteen Will Open Tonight With Floorshow

Campbell dormitory will open its doors tonight at 8 and introduce the Campbell canteen, according to Social Co-chairmen Auburna Arnold, Traverse City senior, and Evelyn Moody, Alma junior.

The canteen will be operated similarly to the stage door canteen in New York, and arrerev-men, AST students, ROTCs, Vets and civilians are all welcome, the chairman said.

Hosts, chosen to represent the men on campus, and Campbell hostesses will meet the men at the doors and take them into the lounges and introduce them to the women.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 and continue until 12. For those who do not care to dance, ping pong tables and card tables for bridge will be on both sumporches.

During intermission, at 11 p. m., entertainment will be provided by the women of both North and South Campbell and some of the arrerevmen will put on one of the acts. The star act of the floor show will be kept a secret until tonight.

Italians Complete 'Adolf Hitler' Line

ALLIED HDQS., ALGIERS, Jan. 21. (AP)—Battalions of forced Italian labor are rushing to completion a powerful new "Adolf Hitler" defense line 60 miles below Rome, Nazi prisoners reported today.

The British firmly held the town of Minturno, two miles northwest of the Garigliano river, after Allied planes and artillery smashed on incipient German counterattack on that west coast communications hub.

According to German prisoners the "Adolf Hitler" line extends from 1,700-foot Mt. Cassio, six miles northwest of Cassino, down across the Liri valley in the area of Pontecorvo to the Aurunci mountains near the coast.

Manpower Chairman Calls Peace Seekers 'Allies of the Enemy'

DETROIT, Jan. 21. (AP)—Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt tonight denounced as Allies of the enemy, the worker who wants to leave the production line in order to "land feet first" in peace, and the "hard-boiled" employer "who wants to beat his competitor to the post-war market."

He denied "rumors of tremendous cutbacks" in war production and asked Detroit and the nation to "reject the peace scare that would collapse the manpower front."

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

(This open letter to men in the service is a weekly feature of the Michigan State News, describing the outstanding events on campus. Clip it out and mail it to a friend in the service.)

Jan. 21, 1944

DEAREST Johnny
Our esteemed faculty left its dignity and brief cases behind last night as they made their stage debuts at the College Carrousel. The Carrousel was a huge success and I almost popped a seam watching some of the staid pros cavorting around.

The Blue Key dance tonight has everyone in a dither about the queen to be announced there. Ex-President Shaw, who hasn't been seen around for a while, will be on hand to announce the queen and present the sweetheart necklace. Guess he knows an opportunity when he sees it.

I understand I'm on my pal Rocky's blacklist at this point, Johnny, by all means tell him that he should know I think he and his boys are really fine characters and rate top spot on my heart parade.

Seniors had a meeting the other day and selected 15 campus notables for senior office candidates. Primaries will be held in a couple of weeks so we're all prepared for some hot speeches. Remember when I was treasurer of a club and used all the money to buy you a Christmas present?

Not that I'd ever do a thing like that again. I'd be sensible this time and get something for myself instead.

Campbell women are jumping the gun on the other dorms by entertaining servicemen at the Campbell Canteen, that some of them may leave their hearts at. The coeds are all set to put on a Little Nell act, a conga team, and a chorus besides.

You can see that we're well fixed for entertainment this week so if you don't hear from me next week you'll know that someone has discovered my hidden talent.

With a 100% ration of love,

Six Women in Race for War Stamp Queen

New Entries Expected; Candidate Deadline Set for Monday

Setting the pace for War Stamp Queen, who will sweep over the "Tailspin Ball" squadron G turned in her names yesterday, in competition for the title.

Squadron H with two choices, and squadron E with one, put the number of candidates at six. The other squadrons have not yet selected as candidates.

Representing squadron G are Kaye Drummond, Detroit senior; Anne Frost, New York sophomore; and Shirley Rostow, Birmingham freshman. From squadron H are Chottie Hess, Bay City sophomore, and Sylvie Leathers, East Lansing sophomore. The one candidate so far from squadron E is Jaquie Bullen, Jackson sophomore.

Headline for other selections will be Monday evening, and the field will be narrowed down to one candidate from each squadron. A special committee will then pick the War Stamp queen, with the remaining women as her court, according to Lt. Kenneth Finster, special service officer.

The "Tailspin Ball" is scheduled for Jan. 28 from 8 to 12 in the college auditorium, and the affair will be formal with flowers and music. Her Flivers will furnish the music with Jaquie Bullen as vocalist.

Squadron E Captures Marching Honors in Last Outdoor Review

The review featured some marching in parades last week because of weather conditions. On Saturday morning the review was shifted into Jenison stadium.

The parade was won by squadron E, but was considered uncertain because of the novelty of the equipment and the new uniforms which were presented to the student officers in the review, the detachment within the review.

The presentation of the winners in the last official outdoor parade held before the weather prohibited outdoor reviews.

Faculty, Students Howl Way Through College Carrousel

By PEG MIDDLEMISS

With entertainment which would have left the audience rolling in the aisles—had there been room—the faculty rollicked through a hilarious evening at the first College Carrousel.

By the end of the evening, both groups were roaring together and happily roving at each other in appreciation of the evening's fun.

Beginning with a schoolroom scene during which C. H. Nickle stuttered his way through a denunciation of migratory birds, J. T. Caswell brilliantly differentiated between geese and ganders, and Stuart Gallacher's singing voice, supplying with volume what it may have lacked in tone quality. Dean Ward Giltner presided over his classroom with appropriate accompanying gestures and sounds from the "pupils."

A period of excellent student talent ensued, by Bob Edgell, Elmira, N. Y., magician and juggler, gave the audience a chance to recover from the shock of not only seeing the faculty men take down their hair, but in the case of Prof. George Trout, take it off altogether.

An all-woman fashion show, showing schoolteacher styles from 100 years back, featured members of the faculty women's club, whom Hollywood must be paying to stay away.

Colonel's Lady Dean Elisabeth Conrad, as the colonel's lady, sashayed down the runway with plumed hat and all, followed soon by Mrs. Lucia Nesom as the dapper of the 20's with a cigarette holder that would do FDR proud.

Dorothy J. Parker galloped down the aisle in a fetching lavender bathing suit of the '20 vintage, preceded by Betty Coughlin in a balloon-like red creation.

Other ensembles, some sublime, some ridiculous, concluded the fashion show and the entertainment of what the audience hopes will be an annual Carrousel.

International Theme Appears in Program for Farmers' Week

Home Economics programs for Farmers' week will include speakers on the family and nutrition in foreign countries. Included among the speakers will be Mrs. D. W. Hunter, a former resident of India who will speak on the home life in that area.

Glimpses of South America will be the topic for discussion by Marjorie Heseltine of the United States labor bureau. In addition there will be Pan-American music presented by Liga Simons, junior from Panama, and Teresa Gdaleto, Lansing junior.

Dr. Shao Chang Lee, professor of foreign studies, will speak on Chinese family customs. This international program will be presented on Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Sororities Unite for PanHellenic Convocation Monday Evening

PanHellenic night Monday will be the sororities' first big affair of the year, with exchange coffees at each sorority house following a speech at a general convocation in Fairchild theater at 7 by Capt. Orin Hall, WAC, announced Jean McKerring, Flushing junior, general chairman.

Captain Hall, AST and ROTC supply officer, was originally scheduled to speak for the fall term program, which was cancelled because of the flu epidemic, according to Linda Weber, Buffalo, N. Y., senior, and Debbie Boyd, Detroit junior, of the speakers committee.

A graduate of the journalism school of Florida State university and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, Captain Hall will speak on sorority relationships.

The coffees, which will have representatives from each sorority according to the number of women in each, will start at 8 p. m., Miss McKerring said.

Faculty wives and members of the Lansing PanHellenic club will attend, and PanHellenic Pres. Doris Johnson, Detroit senior, will present the sorority scholarship cup at the convocation.

Donna Glaeser, Buffalo, N. Y., senior; Scottie McNeal, Grand Rapids junior; Pat Fisher, Evanston, Ill., junior; and Rae Annette Loeffler, Detroit senior, make up the social committee for the program.

Lt. Steve J. Szasz, 40, is in the Aleutian island chain area. He has been there for the last 10 months and says it will be another year before he will be eligible for a leave back to the States.

Spartan of the day... Lt. Dean M. Radtke, 40, member of FarmHouse fraternity.

Lieutenant Radtke brought his Flying Fortress 300 miles back from a raid on Germany Jan. 1 practically one-handed. Beside him in the cockpit was the dead body of his co-pilot. When Lieutenant Radtke landed the big ship he collapsed.

The other members of the crew had to pry his fingers loose from the controls. One hand had been sliced by fragments of the same shell which killed the co-pilot. He also suffered slight fragment wounds on his neck and arms.

The Fortress had been in a battle with 10 Nazi fighters and its broken controls were blood-splattered. One engine had been shot out of the fuselage and the wings were shredded to ribbons.

The fighters met the Forts before the target was reached but determined Radtke brushed the blood from the shattered instrument panel and refused to turn back without dropping his bombs.

Capt. Kenyon Payne Directs Student Flight Training

By A. S. RANDY GLEICHER

Capt. Kenyon T. Payne, director of training for the 310th CTD, is a man who brings to his job two important attributes which fit him for such a position. He has had a wide background in academic matters and has been associated with the airforce for almost three years.

Captain Payne earned his bachelor of science degree at Kansas State in 1939, and earned his master's degree in agriculture at Nebraska State in 1941. While at Kansas he was a member of SAE fraternity and an ROTC officer. Because of his ROTC training, he was awarded a reserve commission as a second lieutenant, and reported for active duty in August, 1941. Since then, he has served in a number of capacities, but always with the air force.

He was commandant of the St. Louis CTD until August, 1942. From there he was transferred as adjutant to the pre-glider training school at Aberdeen, S. D. His last post, before reporting at MSC in the original cadre company last February, was as adjutant in primary flight school.

Amherst, Mass., is the birthplace of the 310th aircrew's director of training. However, he is decidedly midwestern in speech and manner, having lived in Manhattan, Kan., since 1921.

Captain Payne's primary efforts with the aviation students is to impress the importance of honor.

"Not all of the men at MSC will make pilots, bombardiers or navigators, but if we can teach them the fundamentals of honor and integrity their training will have served a definite purpose," he commented.

Four Squadron F Men Take Over Command Posts in 310th CTD

Squadron F boasts of their many student cadet appointments made within the past few days. A S. A. E. Young secured the position of group two supply officer. A. S. J. T. Kennedy was promoted to squadron commandant.

The position of squadron adjutant is now in the hands of A. S. C. C. Benick. And last appointment is A. S. B. C. Middleton, who was appointed flight lieutenant of flight A.

The More Bonds and Sweat —The Less Blood and Tears

A MESSAGE TO EVERY ONE OF YOU

How did you fare at your job today?
Pushed by work and trouble—pressed by prices?
Too few ration points and little gas?
Your lot is bonds and sweat.

*There's a kid Marine over there . . .
Panting his heart out in the thick wet jungle heat,
Watching life run from him in a lacy ooze—
His lot is blood and tears.*

"Blast such dumb help anyway—they burn you up."
"Why . . . strawberries and a cabbage cost a buck today."
"The laundry took two weeks—things are getting awful."
"Jack and I saved only a hundred dollars this month."
How much bonds and sweat is this!

*There's a Sailor up where the sea is bitter—
Waiting for a stretcher, growling in his sleeve.
. . . Sometimes such numb legs walk again.
Good God, they're GOT to!
Blood and tears.*

Bonds and sweat's our lot—yours and mine at home.
Dollars loafing around are blood money—
Don't own slacker dollars—make them fight!
Every bond you buy means less blood and tears.

*Look . . . it's a terrible thing . . . one minute he was laughing and scratching out a fox-hole
Then a kick of dirt in the dirt beside him . . .
Dead! I never saw a man die . . . DIE . . . let's DIE
Blood and tears!*

It's EASY to Buy BONDS

Loaning money to win the war is easy. Any store or bank or other "issuing agent" can take your money and immediately deliver your bond made out to you. You pay $1.75 for a bond you can cash in for $25 in ten years. A $50 bond is $37.50, a $100 bond is $75. The bigger the bond the less it costs the government and you in bookkeeping. If you need your money in less than 10 years, you can get it any time— with earned interest. Buy a big bond today to start this $15,000,000,000 loan off with a bang! And for your future!

The War is Not WON

Our armed forces have a continuous fighting job. And so it is with buying bonds. Buying bonds is a continuing responsibility for everyone who can scrape the price of a bond together at any time. You should buy bonds every month, or every week, if you can. Money you lend for bonds goes into the war at once, keeps out of consumer markets, and therefore helps fight inflation. Bond money is double duty money—fighting the war on foreign fronts and inflation on the home front. Keep buying bonds.

★ Persisting German and Japanese dispatches say Americans are slacking their fight at home— holding and loving their dollars needed to fight the war. "America will have devastating inflation they say, for Americans love their cash more than their country. Let's pay off the Axis by buying bonds— and get our money back with interest. Tomorrow let the news declare that AXIS PAY-DAY was a great success— for AMERICA! Be sure to buy a bond today.
