Lansing, Mary Margaret Murphy, M. Clemens, Bob Edgerton, N. Y., and Gloria of Detroit are planning inter-entertainment.

Governor to Attend
Nova Ackerman, Unionville, Valance, Plymouth, and Joe Wenzel, Detroit, are in charge of publicity.

Patrons for the dance will be Mrs. A. A. Applegate, Prof. and Mrs. Tom King, Prof. and Mrs. I. B. Baccus, and Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Harper. Guests will include Gov. Harry F. Kelly, members of the State Board of Agriculture, Pres. John A. Hand, and administration heads and deans of the six divisions.

Reserved seats for the winter term play, "Guests in the House" are now on sale at the Administration building box office. With the play scheduled to show only two nights, Thursday and Friday, in Fairchild theater, ticket supplies are limited.

Advance tickets sales are in full swing at the Union desk, and cast members are selling tickets also. Theta Alpha Phi members as well as representatives in dormitories and sorority houses have tickets available.

No Refunds
There will be no refunds on tickets if persons fail to pick them up, according to Don Blich, director of the production. Those who have bought tickets in the advance sales may reserve them at the Administration building box office for no further charge. For latecomers, leftovers from the regular sale will be available at the theater box office at 7:30 the night of the performance.

Outside the realm of conventional comedy offered in most term plays, "Guests in the House" centers around a character study of the guest, Evelyn Heath, a psychological case who disrupts the Proctor household. Stepping into the shoes of the villainous Miss Heath will be Margaret Bradbury, Detroit junior, playing her first major role in college productions.

Sculptor Completes First Stages of Work on Spartan Figure

One of the most impressive skeletons ever to be viewed on campus is the 11 1/2 foot armature of the Spartan figure, erected by Leonard Jungwirth, sculptor in the art department, with the assistance of Charles Hellmayer, studio technician.

The Spartan figure, which exemplifies the American male and his participation in sports on campus, has long been contemplated by the college, according to Ralph H. Young, director of athletics.

Site Selected
Upon completion, the project will be about 20 feet high, with the great Spartan figure 11 1/2 feet high standing on a brick base surmounted by three smaller figures, representing baseball, basketball and football, each between 6 and 9 feet high. The elliptical circle just beyond the women's gym is the site for the project.

The massive construction, which all students are invited to see, is placed in the agricultural engineering work room in the basement of Ag hall, which proved to be the only suitable place for the construction of a lofty figure.

Having finished his final model of the figure, Jungwirth, who since last June has built several small scale replicas of the project, is at present preparing to cover the wooden armature with burlap dipped in plaster of paris. This will fill the cracks, give a firm base, and at the same time save clay.

Special Mix Used

Approximately a ton of clay is expected to be used, Jungwirth said. "This is the first time to my knowledge, that anything as pretentious as this has been done in this material, since the clay has to be specially mixed."

The skeleton will be covered with a clay layer, 2 to 2 1/2 inches thick, after the clay

Shortage Increases Leap Year Competition

By MARION HECKEL
Don't look now, but that day is here again, after its customary four-year vacation, and what with the shortage of men and the war, this is the chance for the feminine species to catch a man.

It has become the practice for modern youth to regard the extra day, commonly known as Feb. 29, as the time when unattached men look to both sides and to the rear before venturing out.

Gregory Keeps Extra Day
The original Julian calendar, devised in 46 B.C. by Julius Caesar, was modified in A. D. 1582 by Pope Gregory XIII to form the Gregorian calendar, but maintained the extra day every fourth year.

In 1582 this system of marking time was adopted by Great Britain and her colonies, and is the accepted calendar for the western world.

But enough of the serious side because ancient superstition has had its day and no longer is the extra 24 hours in February thought to hold evil spirits, except, perhaps, for some lone male who is nabbed.

British Sieze Offensive to Win Strong Points on Anzio Beachhead

German High Command Communique Reports Two Allied Battalions Encircled and Wiped Out in Action Near Buon Riposo

ALLIED HDQ., NAPLES, Feb. 28 (AP)—British troops, going over to the offensive on the Anzio beachhead, have stormed and captured two Nazi strongpoints southwest of the German-held village of Carroceto after two days of sharp fighting, the Allies announced today.

Pratt Whitney Corporation to Present Awards

Representatives of the Pratt Whitney Corporation, New Hartford, Conn., will be on campus March 8, 9, and 10, to interview women interested in securing one of the 40 fellowships to be offered by the concern, Dean S. E. Crowe announced.

The awards amount to $1,200 each and will go into effect spring term when the 17 women completing a similar program began last March will start working at the plant. An option on each graduate's services for one year will be taken by the plant.

Women interested in applying for the scholarships should be at least second term juniors now with some basic high school courses in mathematics.

They will take courses in chemistry, physics, engineering drawing, metallurgy, and other similar subjects, Crowe said.

Persons interested in securing interviews should make appointments at Dean Crowe's office on the second floor of the Administration building.

Wife of ex-Professor Dies in East Lansing

Funeral services will be held at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow in Peoples church for Mrs. Clark W. Chamberlain, 73, who died yesterday at her home. She was the wife of retired professor of physics, Clark W. Chamberlain. The body will be taken to Gunville, Ohio, for burial on Friday.

Mrs. Chamberlain, a graduate of Denison University, was born in Norwalk, Ohio. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Chamberlain was president of Denison for 12 years before the couple moved here in 1936 when he became a professor of physics.

Allies Score First Victory in Burma Over Japanese

NEW DELHI, INDIA, Feb. 28—The Allies have scored their first major victory in Burma with the destruction of a task force of 8,000 Japanese in two weeks of confused fighting in the dusty jungles of Arakan north of Akyah, the southeast Asia command announced tonight.

A special summary related the end of an ambitious drive by the force of approximately 8,000 Japanese who set out to isolate and destroy two Indian divisions, the fifth and seventh, and open the way for a "sweeping advance into India."

The drive began auspiciously from the Japanese standpoint. But as the British counterattack developed, the Japanese jungle fighters sent to attack the British real became isolated and were encircled themselves.

Med Bios Hold Election

Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Med Bio club Thursday evening. Rose Mary Kiebler, East Lansing, was elected president; vice president, Betty Grossnickle, Detroit; secretary, Gloria Smith, Posent; and treasurer, Betty Farley, Amont. The new officers are all sophomore women.

Allies Continue Raids on Base at Rabaul

ALLIED HDQ., S. W. PACIFIC, Tuesday, Feb. 29 (AP)—Allied planes made their 12th straight raid on the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, headquarters announced today. More than 200 planes smashed ammunition dumps, buildings, but four jetties, and damaged or sank 14 barges.

Continuing their aerial blows at enemy strongpoints in the Bismarck archipelago, other planes dumped 36 tons of bombs on Lorengau and Momote airbases in the Admiralty islands, northwest of Rabaul.

Allies Encircled

The German high command communique, giving its version of what apparently was the same engagement, said that about two battalions of Allied troops were wiped out after they had been encircled near Buon Riposo, a hamlet situated on the Moletta river approximately a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto and a mile west of the Carroceto-Anzio highway.

The German bulletin claimed 650 Allied prisoners in the fight. Such an encirclement of Allied forces was claimed repeatedly by the enemy last week but never confirmed by Allied sources.

New Weapon Used

It was disclosed that the Nazis are using a new 15-centimeter (6.29 inch) railway gun on the Cassino front that outranges any Allied artillery pieces there. The Allies, however, were said to hold over-all artillery superiority.

Dive-bombing attacks by A-36 Invaders on the Littorio and Guidonia airbases near Rome featured yesterday's Allied air operations. One hangar was destroyed.

Spartans at War

By JOHN HICKEY

FRIENDS of Charlie Fox will be pleased to learn that he was recently promoted to captain in the U. S. army. One of the most popular students in the class of '41, Captain Fox went from train leader, lieutenant colonel of the ROTC infantry to active duty in China. Among his other accomplishments at State were graduate manager of the State News, president of Sigma Delta Chi, member of Phi Kappa Phi, Scabbard and Blade and Officers club.

Lt. Jesse Levin, State graduate of '39, has arrived in Italy according to a letter received by Dean Marie Dye Feb. 2. Lt. Levin served under enemy bombardment with the Allied forces. A graduate of the Home Economics division, Lieutenant Levin is a member of the medical corps. He plans the meals of the French, British, Arabian and American patients at an army base hospital.

A letter from a naval hospital somewhere in Australia from Walter Mick, informs his friends that he is recovering from wounds received at the front. The former track star was hit in the right foot by a machine gun bullet but has lost none of his anticipation of someday returning to State under track. Pharmacist's mate second class Mack left school in March 1941 to enter the service.

At Darlington, 41, has been named master of the deck in the Navy V-10 contingent assigned to Ballou-Wallace college, Brevard, O., and he spent last weekend visiting on campus.

In his most recent bout at Camp Williams, Texas, Bill Dusenewski, MSC's national inter-collegiate boxing champion of last year, tangled with a National Golden Gloves kind Bill drew two broken ribs and a punctured kidney out of the match.

A S Bruce Chapman, 46, was a visitor on campus over the weekend. He is stationed at Dartmouth college and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Also visiting his friends at State for the weekend was A S Jack Allingham, 44, assigned to the navy's contingent at Yale.

Don Bush never attended State, but the news of his death in Italy last week prompts the writer to enter him as a Spartan who went to war and failed to return. If he had lived, Don would surely have added his name to the enrollment list that has seen two other prominent Bush brothers.

Lt. Jack Bush was last year's senior class president, member of Blue Key, Excalibur and Sigma Alpha Epsilon among other activities. His older brother, Capt. Dick Bush, now stationed in Italy, has received numerous decorations for bravery, among them the silver star. A graduate of MSC in 1941, he was also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

— THE — WOMAN'S WORLD

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION
 Dr. Carl Morrison, psychiatrist at the Lansing Children's center, will address the freshman orientation class to be held at 5 p. m. today in Fairchild theater. Dr. Lydia Lightning, women's physical education head, announced yesterday.

Dr. Morrison will base his lecture on questions submitted by the women at last week's lecture.

JUDICIARY BOARD
 Joan Campbell, Rapid City senior, will preside at the regular meeting of Judiciary board to be held at 7 p. m. today in the dean of women's office. Miss Campbell will take the place this week of Chairman Leona Jean Ball Dunn, Mason senior, who was married recently.

FENCING TOURNAMENT
 All women interested in entering the fencing tournament scheduled for Saturday must call Pat Hatheway, Detroit senior, at East Mayo by Thursday.

House Group Works on Tax Simplification

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The promise of a simplified system of reckoning federal income taxes was held out today by the house ways and means committee.

The proposed streamlined system will not apply to the impending March 15 returns. It is intended for the 1944 tax accounting.

1. Eliminating the need for 30,000,000 of the 50,000,000 income taxpayers having to file any returns at all, by making the withholding levy the actual tax for those whose only income is from wages and salaries.

2. Merging the victory, normal and surtaxes into one levy, so as to attain sweeping simplification for persons in high earnings brackets and those with income other than from wages and salaries.

SPEAKING FOR MYSELF

By BARBARA DENNISON

SEVERAL of Michigan State's sunny men were somewhat perturbed by an article appearing in Sunday's Detroit News with the heading "MSC Welcomes End of Army's Program" followed by "No Pretext for Colleges," Says Hannan, Despite Public Sentiment.

Instead of reading the article in its entirety, many of them immediately popped, but even a few who read it were still dissatisfied with the feeling with which it left them.

Without the headline, doubtless the story would have settled favorably with the majority of the men if they had stopped to think about it at all. Although clarification of the article is not deemed necessary, Pres. John A. Hannan said yesterday:

"I regret the way the thing was handled. It is not the attitude of the institution or the officials of the institution. If we are taken to task because of the behavior of the men, our arguments are with the contracting officials. The men have caused no rubble and their disciplinary cases are handled by the army.

It would be rather foolish for anyone to try to make an issue of the affair any more than has been, and inner talk could only reflect either MSC, Hannan or the Detroit News in a bad light and nothing has been done to merit such action.

A LOT has already been said, a lot is being said and a lot more will be said before some definite arrangement is made concerning the soldier vote.

Either Michigan State students consider the matter too far removed from their world to bother concerning themselves with the importance of it, thinking nothing they could say would help anyway, or else they simply don't care whether the soldiers vote or not.

Doubtless many former State men are beginning to wonder if their constitutional right to vote will be denied them merely because they are now members of the armed services and cannot fulfill a few of the standard requirements for some such thing.

Every time some controversial issue arises in congress, local newspapers of the measure suggest that citizens write their congressmen setting forth the public's views on the matter.

Such is the system being put into operation by students of Brooklyn college in New York City, who have erected a giant post card to be signed by students of the college. It will then be sent to their congressman in an attempt to demand that congress enact a federal soldier's ballot bill.

A serviceman stationed on State's campus brought this fact to light recently and also said that he was somewhat embarrassed when he received a letter from a friend asking him what measures were being taken by State students to convince congress that the American people want a federal soldier's ballot bill. He had to reply that nothing was being done.

Attempts have been made in the past to organize the college and its students to take some definite stand on this and similar issues and the result is the usual nothing. State students seem unwilling to take a stand and stick to it and do something about it although individually they may feel very strongly about certain matters.

Perhaps it is our unwillingness to assume any task which calls for responsibility, but if that is the case, certainly it is not up to the army men on campus (actually our guests), to be embarrassed for us and try to explain our attitudes to someone who will not understand.

IT'S STILL the same old story, same old routine week after week, year in, year out as we slave over a hot type-writer. "Well, that's life," we always say.

Today's first dose of the above mentioned life reveals a transient Kappa Sigma pin. Dave Ryan, who has just received his ensign commission at Columbia, is in town on leave, and is leaving his pin with Lois Rottle, Alpha Chi.

In the same spirit, only even more so, is the news of Maudie Graham, Charlotte junior, who was married Friday to Ensign Hugh Marshall, Jr. They will live in San Diego, where Hugh is stationed.

Less romantic, but equally interesting to at least five women, is news of Kappa Delta's weekend initiation. Those who went through are freshmen Beverly Johnson, Birmingham; Betty Potewach, Sandusky; Virginia Hartwick and Shirley Erickson, both of Lansing; and Dorothy Johnson, Gladstone junior.

Soviets Push Newest Aircraft Carrier Launched Toward Nazi Rail Bastion

Russians Attack Pskov from Key Spearheads in Pincer Movement

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Red army hammered its way to 25 miles forward today within six miles of the great railway bastion of the Baltic region which the Germans are struggling to retain at the Baltic coast against the Soviet advance.

The Russian midnight communique, broadcast from Moscow, announced capture of 450 communities around Pskov, most notable being Toroshtino, railway station six miles northeast of the city on the Luga line, and Kamyshovo, 10 miles east on the Staraya Russa line.

Advance 10 to 25 Miles

Previously announced positions on these railroads had been 10 to 20 miles farther distant, respectively. Although Red army units had been closer at some inland points, the railways were the keys to Pskov.

In advancing along the railroads, the Russians took Molody on the northeast line and Linyo, Podseyev and Lyoski on the eastern line.

Reds Move West

Some 100 miles southeast of Pskov, Russian forces driving east and northwest of Novosokolniki reported capture of 200 populated places in a continuing battle.

A British broadcast telling of the hard Russian push on Pskov said Adolf Hitler had ordered the city held "to the last man," deprecating the importance of the German attack to the city and its railroads.

Engineers to Meet

Commission Asserts Physical Standards Cannot Be Reduced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A White House commission of military and civilian doctors asserted today that military physical standards must not be lowered.

Winding up a study on the question whether class 4-F conscripts, men who actually could serve and thereby cut down the tattered draft, the commission came up with this dual conclusion:

1. The physical requirements cannot be reduced without impairing the efficiency of the services.

2. The manpower required for war can not be obtained except by induction of men living with their families.

Aunt Martha Proctor, taken by Eleanor Chase, Boyne City graduate student, has a hard time explaining to pre-titled Lee, the young Proctor daughter, played by Dorothy Geyer, Saginaw junior, why the mature woman is made hysterical at the sight of a caged bird.

Full dress rehearsals are in progress as the authentic old New England barn set transforms the stage into a room supported by massive beams and posts. The artist's retreat had been constructed by Prof. C. H. Nickle, of speech and dramatics, with the aid of his student crew of 17 members.

Without taking a single first in the individual events, Battle Creek won the 21st annual Michigan high school athletic association class A swimming meet, held Saturday in Jenison pool.

Tied for second place were Saginaw, Arthur Hill and Monroe High.

TAIL SPINNING

BY A. S. C. GELLERMAN

THE WICKIACUM is a square-tailed, G-1 owned, wooden, welded and polished, week-end, by aviation students, F. E. Jeffers, N. Cates, V. P. Haid and R. X. Burwick, obviously retiring characters. After turning green with envy at a few minutes' more, forest-green cater-linics, Burwick wrote his coup d'etat, "You, too, 125-pound ammu boxes that a crew man, unaware of the boat's position, had thrown over apparently missed the boat by inches. The boat made a nasty change in its course, making an upheaval of water which is how the plane crew spotted it.

Enough weight was taken off the ship to enable it to continue its flight over the treacherous mountains.

Funny at the time was the scare the skipper of a cabin cruiser on the lake must have had. By coincidence, the plane was flying in a direct parallel route to the boat. One of the 125-pound ammu boxes that a crew man, unaware of the boat's position, had thrown over apparently missed the boat by inches. The boat made a nasty change in its course, making an upheaval of water which is how the plane crew spotted it.

In room 254 of Mason hall two Charles Ives students Kline and Giza, which is probably not unusual. That both aren't dead, however, is. For in October, 1943, they occurred at Lowry field, Colo., an epidemic of bumper crashes, three B-24s, one A-20 and a B-26, in one week, taking a toll of 23 lives.

Kline, then a sergeant, was scheduled to make a photo reconnaissance flight with the second ill-fated B-24, but army officials would not permit him to make the flight without an arm parachute. Strangely enough, the only available chutes that particular morning were civilian jobs.

Practical mission from Nicaragua to Panama, Giza, also a sergeant at the time, was a gunner, member of an embryo Lancaster, the LB-30. Over the De Chathamane mountains, the plane's port outboard motor "conked" and the pilot was "sewing" a starboard engine which was acting up. Seven thousand feet above Lake Managua, the pilot ordered the crew to "jump everything" and to stand by to "hit the silk." The crew threw out all the ammuni-

Finns Decision on Armistice With Russia Expected Soon

Polish Envoy Meets with Exiled Government

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Under pressure of Soviet air night, Finland appeared moving tonight toward an armistice with Russia. This prospect, that yet another ally would desert Hitler was reported to have caused disorders in satellite Bulgaria.

Bulgaria called more men to arms, the Cairo radio said, to stem spreading clashes between police and partisan bands who were excited by the prospect of Finnish-Russian rapprochement.

Germany, meantime, took precautions to meet Finnish capitulation. A war correspondent of the German news agency, DNB, said in a Berlin broadcast after a visit to the Arctic coast that Nazi troops in Finland and Norway were ready to meet any emergency — even an Allied landing. Among the many reports of the Finnish-Russian peace negotiations, still in the unofficial stage, was a Stockholm dispatch saying Juho Kosti Paasakivi, Finnish statesman, who negotiated the 1940 peace with Russia, may return to Stockholm tomorrow to continue negotiations.

Helsinki, at the same time, was engaged in clearing up the debris of a 600-plane Russian attack on the city Saturday night.

Another diplomatic development in London was the arrival of Jan Ciechanowski, Polish ambassador to Washington.

U. S. Bombers Attack Enemy Installations in Northern France

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Heavy bombers of the United States eighth air force spearheaded a series of daylight assaults on enemy installations in northern France today, raising to 18 their record total of operations during February.

Working as four separate teams, two formations of Flying Fortresses and one each of Liberators and medium B-26 Marauders were virtually unopposed as they struck at different places along the coast of France.

RAF medium bombers joined in the day's widespread blows against Nazi military objectives which Prime Minister Churchill has said include long-range rocket guns and radio-controlled planes.

Loss of six heavy bombers was the largest for operations against Pas De Calais since Jan. 21, when a similar number failed to return.

FIGURE

(Continued from Page 3) mould is made. Then a plaster mould will be made from which the completed figure will be pressed. The completed figure will be in a vitrified clay in kilns at Grand Lodge, reddish-yellow color.

The figure will be pressed out of the mould in sections, pieces and will be cemented together upon erection.

Probably 10 to 15 pieces will be required for the whole figure. Jungwirth added that he expects to have this mould completed by the end of summer.

Coeds Help

"An important reason for construction of the figure for educational purposes is that the students have the opportunity to see the work program," Jungwirth stated. Members of his sculpture class, all women, are going to help with the work.

Jungwirth, a member of the faculty since 1940, was graduated from the University of Detroit as an engineer. His father was a sculptor for 60 years in Detroit in church architecture.

Home Ec Division to Offer Four New Bride's Courses Open to All Women

Four new courses under consideration for several months will be offered by the Home Economics division to women in other divisions spring term. The group will be known as the Bride's courses.

The courses will be numbered 345a, b, c and d and will be offered spring term, according to Kathryn Raney, H. Wayne, Indiana. The first 345a (0-3) is a survey course in family relations. It will cover such subjects as the budgeting of family income, keeping of household accounts, and problems in family relations and child care.

Sewing Needs Met

Second in the series, 345b (1-4) is the brides course in sewing. It is planned to be a flexible course depending on the needs of those enrolled. An attempt will be made to cover alterations, repair and construction of draperies, curtains, and other household articles. A practical course in the planning, preparation and service of balanced meals for the family will be numbered 345c (1-4). Food values, fundamentals of cookery and correct table appointments will be included.

No Prerequisites

Last in the series of courses, 345d, also three credits, will be a study of household art and interior decorations.

There are no prerequisites for the courses and as many as desired may be taken at one time. The courses are not available for credit for Home Economics students.

In order to aid the department in making out a schedule for next term, students interested in taking any of the courses are asked to fill out the accompanying blank and turn it in to department desks or Union desk immediately.
