Army Forces Increase as Action Nears

Strongest Units Based Against Nazi Troops for Invasion

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The "period of decisive action," Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today, has begun for troops already or poised in combat zones ready fighting against the enemy for new offensives.

Disclosing that 3,657,000 soldiers are now deployed outside continental United States, Stimson told a news conference the overseas strength of air and service forces is virtually at its peak, while the movement of ground troops—more than half of which already are overseas—is increasing at a rate which will lift the overseas deployment total to more than 5,000,000 men by the year's end.

Indicating that the greater part of this huge force is concentrated against Germany, Stimson said developments will make it necessary to shift portions of the overseas strength from one part of the world to another as the Allied grand strategy unfolds.

Minutely detailed plans of the U.S. joint chiefs of staffs have governed the troop movement, he said, beginning with the decision on the size of the army—7,700,000 men—and the order of its use to implement the strategic decisions of the Allies.

Today's Campus

... No Pushing, Please

The worm has turned. A six to one ratio of women to men on campus, coupled with the general modification of chivalry, has brought about a new situation on campus. The plight of the lone male surrounded by six coeds is described by Don Campbell, Houghton Lake freshman. Campbell has announced "I am just going to wait for the right woman to come up and ask me to marry her!" Line forms on the right.

... Wrong Service

... and then there was the air cadet who took his date canoeing. After getting pop, and canoeing ruggedly almost to the bridge, they capsized—the air cadet losing his G.I. shoes. For a He gallantly helped the swim lady out and then paddled back to the canoe shelter. Oh no! Not yet. He and the canoe both soaked up more water the second time they submerged.

AWS Meeting Scheduled to Plan new Handbook

An open meeting of AWS will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Spartan room of the Union, Pres. Jane Cumming, Detroit junior, announced yesterday. The meeting has been called to revise coed regulations for next year prior to the publishing of the annual AWS handbook.

Any woman having suggestions relating to coed regulations is encouraged to attend the meeting, Miss Cumming added.

One Medley for Alpha Chis
The Alpha Chi Omegas will render "Alpha Chi Medley," with Susan Moore, East Lansing, as song leader. "Sweetheart of Alpha Phi" and "Love Come Back to Me" will be sung by the Alpha Phis with Dorothy Horn, East Lansing senior, directing.

The Sigma Kappas will conclude the program with selections "Loyalty Ode" and "The Navy Hymn" with Pat Stone, Chicago, Ill. senior, directing.

Campus Police Enforce Regulations

By JO DELP

Small white tickets occasionally serve to remind student drivers, what few there are left, that the campus police are very much on hand.

Replacing a system of watchmen, the campus police first came on campus in 1928, three men and one patrol car strong. In 1937 they were placed under the East Lansing chief-of-police to help them become better coordinated and informed. Today they boast two patrol cars, four regular men, and four students working part time.

Many Duties Performed

Many are the duties of the campus police. They protect college property, handle traffic on campus, direct traffic at large gatherings, investigate student crimes, and serve the students in many other ways.

Parking Regulated

The largest number of tickets given out are for the offense of parking in restricted areas. Such restrictions became necessary as American troops have invaded Biak Island, putting Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces within 900 miles of the Philippines. Black area is Jap-controlled.

Nazis' Defenses at Velletri Fall in Night Strike

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, June 1 (AP)—American troops in a spectacular, danger-fraught night-time advance have pierced the Germans' powerful defense line before Rome, encircling the enemy stronghold of Velletri and capturing a towering ridge of the Alban hills from which they could see the dome of St. Peter's.

Kenneth Dixon, Associated Press field correspondent who accompanied the Yanks in a moonlit "sneak" onto 3,000-foot heights behind the Nazis' main defenses, said in a delayed dispatch:

"All day long soldiers have been delousing these heights, cleaning out snipers, machine-guns and fluid enemy patrols which already are frantically trying to fight their way out of the trap. Already hundreds of prisoners have been taken and it looks from here like encircled Velletri is soon due to fall to Fifth army troops."

The bitterly-resisting garrison of Velletri was caught between the doughboy raiders holding Monte Artemisi, two miles north and northwest of the town, and the main Allied striking force fighting its way into the tottering bastion from the south and east.

Between Velletri and Valmontone, another principal bulwark of the enemy's defense wall before the eternal city, American troops had plunged almost two miles up the volcanic slopes and seized a point on Mount Peschio ridge, highest feature of the Alban hills. Both Yank spearheads were within 15 miles of Rome's ancient city wall.

Gamma Phi Beta to Go National With Initiation

This weekend will mark the addition of another national sorority on State's campus. The local Gamma Phi Beta will become the Beta Delta chapter of the national organization after initiation services tomorrow morning.

Pledging will take place at the Psi Upsilon house, loaned for the occasion, Friday at 7:30 p. m. A banquet will be held at the Hotel Olds tomorrow evening.

Sunday afternoon the new Gamma Phi Beta will hold a tea in honor of the national officers who will attend the weekend activities. The tea will also serve the purpose of introducing the new chapter to the campus. National officers are: president, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald; secretary, Mrs. L. A. White; and traveling secretary, Miss Evelyn Gooding.

Other guests will come from the Ann Arbor chapter to assist in the initiation. Alumnae from Detroit and Jackson will also be present.

The local chapter first pledged in March of this year.

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—A German military commentator declared today that 15 Allied divisions—150,000 to 200,000 men were massed in North Africa, ready to strike at the French or Italian Riviera when the signal for the invasion from the west is given in Britain.

The Germans were aware of offensives from all sides.

From Britain, the great amphibious movement is not far off said Admiral Sir William M. James, chief of naval information.

From the southeast, Marshal Tito, in an order of the day, called upon the Yugoslavs for an all-out decisive attack, "particularly now when the last blow of the Red army and the Anglo-American Allied troops is approaching."

To the east, the Red army was poised and waiting.

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—A fresh southwesterly wind whipped up white-capped breakers in Dover strait tonight as the weather continued unsettled after a day of occasional showers.

To the south, Americans were in sight of Rome's towers, and the Nazi commander begged for reserves from the ranks of those already guarding the invasion front.

In the near east, Turkey was reported likely to move into the war when the Allies give the signal.

Second General Convocation to Explain Revised College Program

Pres. John A. Hannah will discuss the reorganization of the revised educational program at an all-college convocation to be held in College auditorium at 9 a. m. this morning.

The purpose of this is to give the students a better understanding of their own status and the status of the incoming freshmen. There will be an opportunity for students to ask questions following President Hannah's talk.

At the beginning of the program the music department will provide some brief entertainment.

All civilian classes will be excused so that students may attend this second convocation of the term. President Hannah emphasized that every student is expected to attend.

Fraternities to Lease Houses to Sororities for Coming Year

On expiration of the Army contracts June 30 the fraternity houses which had been leased as quarters for STAs and ASTs will be returned to the householding corporations. Tentative agreements have been made for the use of some of these houses by other groups.

The Lambda Chi Alpha house on Haslett street has been discussed for rental by the Zeta Tau Alphas and Pi Beta Phi, to go national next fall, has a tentative agreement for the Delta Chi house on Woodmere.

The Chi Omegas have bid for the Delta Sigma Phi house on East Grand River and the Psi Upsilon house may be rented by the Gamma Phi Beta group.

The college will continue to use the Kappa Sigma and Theta Chi houses as dormitory annexes for women. The Sigma Nus and Sigma Chis will take possession of their houses July 1, and plan to have their undergraduate groups live in them.

The army is redecorating all of the houses it used. Information on other college buildings will be given at today's convocation.

THIS IS YOUR WORLD

By JOHN HICKEY

ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF TOWN . . . A powerful American and British force tore into the Nazis' new mountain line of defense just outside Rome. The attack marked the Allies' farthest advance in the Italian campaign which has suddenly found the Germans giving in to the might of the oncoming enemy. Velletri, just 16 miles from the Eternal City, is now playing host to the unwelcome street fighting of the American doughboys.

The battle line before Rome is 25 miles in width and the British unit coming along the coastal flank has been slowed down by the thick mine fields south of Pescarelle Nuova. It is evident that the Nazis intend to hold the new line of resistance at all costs. The four key points of the line are being held with great costs.

Valmontone, Velletri, Lanuvio and Campoleone have been under Allied artillery assault for several days and have taken on appearances resembling the corpse of Cassino. The advance of the British eighth from the southeast has been steady and their movement along the Via Casilina has brought them into the outskirts of Frosinone.

WHERE'S THE LUFTWAFFE . . . For the fourth consecutive day, Allied fighters, numbering more than 1,200, flew escort for American bombers over Europe and finding no opposition swooped down to destroy locomotives and aircraft. The heavy transport centers of Hamm, Osnabruck, Schwerte and Soest were hit by American heavies.

Yesterday presented a thunderous finale to a month which saw Allied planes fly a record-breaking 148,000 sorties. Allied airmen have become increasingly curious over the fact the enemy resistance in the air has been reduced to practically nothing. On most of their raids the only planes they see are on the ground.

CHINA ADVANCE BY JAPS . . . Little news of the far off battle for Hunan province in China has been reaching the headlines of late but events of the past week warrant considering the position of the enemy in that sector. The capital of Changsha faced possible Jap penetration from two sides. One force is engaged in severe fighting with the Chinese at Hochiatang after crossing the strategic Milo River. The other force has reached the Milo on the north by pushing along the trackless stretch of the Canton-Hankow railroad.

Behind this fourth Jap attempt to take Changsha, is the enemy plan to split China east and west. They would secure the trunk railway to Canton, seize any newly built airbases and prevent any new American invasion of the south China coast. Children and the aged were being evacuated from the capital and the immediate attack on the city was anticipated by Chinese authorities.

BURMA BULLETIN . . . To the north, Jap bases were under heavy attack. Their troops had yielded slowly under heavy Allied pressure on by-passed Kamalag, on Mogaung and on Myitkynia. These three strongholds fought on depending heavily upon a railway to their rear to bring them the supplies necessary for life and war.

This week those troops faced disaster. Continued Allied air power tore at the railway and may have blocked the flow of materials over the route. The noose felt tighter about the Japanese in Burma.

IRISH NATIONALISM . . . Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and his entire cabinet were re-elected to parliament. De Valera's party, Fianna Fail, appeared almost certain of a clear majority in the general elections. Neutral Eire seemed confident that her leaders expressed the will of the people in keeping her out of the conflict which set all Europe aflame.

WORLD PEACE, A PROPOSAL . . . President Roosevelt announced that forthcoming Washington conversations among the United States, Britain, Russia and China would attempt to effect world peace through a world organization. The meeting will probably take place in the late summer and informed officials believed that little is needed to be argued except the question of how to apply police force. If recent expressions of the big four can be interpreted to be the foreign policies of the Allies in a post-war world, there should be little to discuss. The conference may on the other hand call for . . . See—WORLD—Page 3

Hull Declares Future U. S. Plans

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP) — In a statement of potentially explosive significance for colonial empires such as those of the British and the Dutch, Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared today that the United States is a champion of liberty for everybody and virtually promised recognition to any people who assert their freedom effectively.

At the same time, he expanded his recent declarations on creation of a post-war world organization to give assurance to small nations, such as the Dutch, the Belgians and the Poles that the United States intends they should be treated equally with the great powers on matters of common concern in the organization.

It was, in fact, a question about the rights of small nations which touched off the secretary's statement about liberty at a news conference shortly after noon. He gave permission for the statement to be made public verbatim, specifying only that since it was extemporaneous his aides should edit it so it would read smoothly.

The statement was still in progress of editing, however, in late afternoon and only indirect attribution to the secretary was possible up to that time.

Caseload's Pounding Withers French Rail Communications

Fog Hinders Daylight Forces from Operating

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—Strong formations of medium bombers and fighters struck out across the English channel toward the French invasion coast late this afternoon after a heavy RAF night assault on three strategic French transportation centers.

Murky weather over the channel held the Allied daylight forces land-bound during the early part of the day but cleared in time for a series of flights against the Nazis' already well-battered tactical targets.

The RAF opened the month of June with an attack which made it clear that the "battle of the airroads" had not ended. A strong force of about 500 night bombers dropped probably more than 2,200 tons of bombs on freight yards in Trappes, Terrier and Saumur, French centers vital to the Germans for routing supplies to their coastal armies.

Light Planes Lost

Unsuspected military objectives along the French coast also were hit in the night's operations, during which the RAF lost eight light planes. The noise of the bombardment got Englishmen up out of their beds. Virtually the entire blow was delivered in 15 minutes.

The British airmen spread out over a 200-mile front of interior France to hit the rail centers, rated as three of the biggest being used for supplying the German invasion front.

Danube Raids Hit

In another night operation the Allied Mediterranean air forces sent out Liberators which bombed the railroad tow tracks along the Danube river's iron gate canal on the Romanian-Yugoslav border.

Detroit Defeats New York 4-3 in 16 Inning Game

DETROIT, June 1 (AP)—Don Ross doubled Jimmy Outlaw home from first base in the 16th inning today to give the Detroit Tigers a 4 to 3 victory and a sweep of the four-game series with the New York Yankees, extending Detroit's winning streak to six games.

Southpaw Hal Newhouser, who blanked the Yankees on five hits the last 7 1/3 innings, gained his eighth victory of the season and third in six days when the Tigers rallied in the seventh extra frame off Atley Donald.

Rudy York and Pinky Higgins popped to open the 16th, but Outlaw singled off Shortstop Mike Milosevich's glove. On a 1-1 count, Outlaw broke for second and Ross hit the pitch into the right field corner. Outlaw scoring easily. It was Ross' only hit in six tries.

The victory tightened Detroit's hold on the American League's third place, a game and a half behind the Yankees who dropped to second.

The Yankees forced the game into extra innings when Pitcher-Outfielder Al Lyons singled with two out and a man on third base in the ninth inning, making the score 3 to 3.

Uniformity Advised for Caps and Gowns

The correct way for seniors to wear the caps is to have the flat top parallel with the ground. Those with pompadour haircuts or women who roll their hair should arrange the hair-do to conform with the foregoing.

Latest standard practice no longer calls for shifting the position of the tassel when the degree is conferred.

Corsages should not be worn by senior women on their commencement robes. There is a certain dignity about commencement which should be followed to make the exercises effective, according to the commencement committee.

1944 Alumni Officers Elected at Swing-out

Alumni officers for the class of 1944 were elected Wednesday night at the Swing-out in the auditorium. The elected persons will hold office until 1949, when the first reunion will take place.

Peter Buth, Comstock Park vet, and Linda Weber, Buffalo, N. Y. music major, were elected alumni directors of men and women.

The nominating committee was made up of Neva Ackerman, Unionville, Charles Mann, Cass City, Jean Gruendler, Clayton, Mo., Otto Siegmund, Detroit, and Betty Ann Wendland, Bay City.

The American advance has now been halted by Jap snipers and artillery spotters and their liquidation is taking place by expert American troops who have taken to the hills in pursuit of the Nips.

Meanwhile, artillery, supported by warships, hammered the enemy defense line around Mokmer airdrome. When this vital spot is secured, our planes will be within bombing range of the Philippines.

CHURCHILL CHASTIZED . . . The discontent over Prime Minister's recent kind words about Gen. Francisco Franco increasing throughout the kingdom. Latest to get on the "why Winston" bandwagon is Brendan Bracken, minister of information.

Bracken called the prime minister inconsistent, comparing his recent speech with his words of the dark days of October, 1940, when Churchill lashed out at the government of Spain.
