

Homecoming Takes On New Meaning This Year for Returning Alums

By LEONE SEASTROM

This is homecoming weekend. Not exactly like the "good ol' homecomings . . . not quite so elaborate" . . . but then, times aren't like they were either. There'll be lots of old faces back . . . those that remember when State was only half the size . . . when the Union or the dormitories were only crazy dreams. But then, too . . . there'll be many more faces not so old . . . that won't be here . . . those that only know that it must be about homecoming time at State . . . but homecoming to them is like a hazy dream in a mad world. They Are Coming Back State will miss them this weekend. Still even these will be back someday. But there are mounting numbers of State men who won't ever come back and it's for them that MSC alums and students and parents will pause a moment before tomorrow's game and thank God for their courage. It's for all these men and all men and women who have come to State, who carry memories with them of classmates, the Red Cedar, Morrill hall and professors as they take their places in this world, that Michigan

State has set aside this weekend for homecoming. Pep Rally Tonight Tonight APO will sponsor a pep rally to get up that never dying spirit. There will be a snake dance, a bonfire, talks from members of the team, a few words from Coach Bachman . . . Like there used to be the night before other games with bigger crowds and lighter-hearted people. Tomorrow morning, a few sororities and even fewer fraternities will bring wire, string, hammer and nails to their front lawns and erect homecoming displays with burly Spartans and lowly Tigers. They won't be as large or elaborate as they once were . . . but materials are going for more necessary things these days. The old spirit hasn't died though. Tomorrow afternoon, State's football team, one of the best in its class, will play ball against Maryland. Students will be selling programs and mums and hot dogs. Alum Get-togethers Old timers will gather in classes afterwards to see who's back and what's happened to their buddies in the class of '31, or '29 or maybe '43. There will even be a homecoming dance. State hasn't lost its homecoming spirit. They're carrying on because Spartans in France and Italy and the Pacific are thinking about MSC these days, hoping and praying that faculty and students have managed to keep their alma mater somewhat as they remember it. They like to know that even if their college is geared for war-time education and planning for progressive peacetime changes they haven't forgotten what it takes to make college life good and clean and American.

Frannie's Fanny

Apparently the fact that she is a human being and might have but something besides her pride, do not register with two coeds when they saw Frances Joyner, Battle Creek sophomore and leading character in the "ouch" term play "Kind Lady", fall in the mud. A car went past her as she was peddling muddy home, and sideswiped her bike into the gutter. But the two coeds didn't bother to help Miss Joyner up, they just wondered out loud "What will Don Buell do?"

Apples for the Class?

The old, old method of browning used by MSC students is giving double dip ice cream cones to instructors. Rachael Houck, Ypsilanti freshman, recently found this method very useful even though the senior vets in pharmacology put up a howl. Next time the Anatomy 306 class will pay full respects to the entire pharmacology class and not specifically Mr. Kean.

Key Note

Lois Bodwin, North Branch freshman, found herself locked out of her room by her roommate the other day. To calm the anger she wrote a muse poem that speaks the thoughts of many women who have been in the same predicament. It is as follows:
 Oh illustrious roommate, of you I sing,
 Some day your pretty little neck,
 I'll hang,
 It hangs morning, noon, and night,
 You ask me out, good and tight,
 But presently, the day will come,
 When you will end your bit of fun,
 And you will find our stately
 Locked against you, for evermore.

Crooks-Sayo Concert Postponed by Throat Illness of Baritone

BOSTON — The noted baritone Richard Crooks, is suffering from laryngitis. The illness has forced him to cancel all singing engagements for 10 days. The Richard Crooks — Bidu Sayo joint recital program which was originally scheduled on the Michigan State college lecture concert series for Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, has been postponed to May 9, 1945, because of the serious illness of Crooks.

Roosevelt Faces Heavy Schedule With Return

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — President Roosevelt returns triumphantly to Washington tomorrow, to a tremendous reception and to tremendous tasks.

Waiting for him at the end of a parade from Union station to the White house is a hefty array of problems that will cram his schedule from now until his fourth term starts.

They centered around: Another Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference on war and world security, vacancies in the administration, possible cabinet changes, demands for remodeling the Little Steel Wage formula, whipping together annual and budget messages for Congress. And those weren't all.

Hasty Plans Made The national capital hatched spur-of-the-moment plans to turn out the town with bands, bunting and ballyhoo. Vice-president-elect Harry S. Truman flew eastward from Missouri to join the procession.

Just for the record, still incomplete tallies showed Roosevelt and Truman topping challengers Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker by 36 states to 12, 432 electoral votes to 99.

Leading Men The winner had 23,831,460 popular votes to 20,926,079 for Dewey and Bricker, with some 10,000 precincts to go.

Thus their margin in popular ballots was the narrowest since 1916. The electoral lead jumped when tabulation of some of the final Michigan precincts in the Detroit industrial area swung the state into the Democratic column.

Michigan was one of the 10 states that went Republican in 1940. All the other nine were Republican again this year.

Yanks Gain on Leyte Despite Japanese, Bad Weather

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HDQ., PHILIPPINES, Friday, Nov. 10 (AP) — Units of the American 24th division have made extensive gains on a wide front south of Carigara bay, breaking the deadlock imposed by unfavorable weather and Japanese hill positions, a communique reported today.

The Yanks seized commanding terrain on important hills east of the Ormoc road, leading through Ormoc valley, the battlefield for possibly the finale of the Leyte island campaign.

Large fires were raging in Ormoc, last Japanese stronghold on the island, set by concerted bombing and artillery attacks.

Ormoc's usefulness to the enemy as a supply base has been greatly reduced, the communique added.

The original Japanese force on Leyte has been "tactically destroyed," but enemy reinforcements are still being sent from Cebu, Mindanao and other adjacent Philippine islands, the announcement said.

Third Army Threatens Nazi Fort

Fourth Armored Unit Goes Over Moselle; Joins Offensive

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP) — The U.S. third army hurled a crack armored division and three more infantry divisions today into an offensive along a 55-mile front, breaking across the Moselle river at two points north of Metz and threatening to outflank this mightiest fortress left to the Germans short of the Rhine.

For the first time the fourth armored division — veteran of the St. Lo breakthrough that won the battle of France — stormed into the fighting, driving north more than four miles to near Delme and Viviers, 18 miles southeast of Metz.

A front dispatch said nine more towns fell as the drive on Viviers cut across the main highway from Metz to Chateau Salins, 25 miles to the southeast.

More than 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers ripped up enemy positions in the first close support operations on such a big scale since St. Lo.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., thus had committed seven divisions, at the most 105,000 men, to the attacks which are shaping up an assault on some 35 miles from Saarbrücken — heart of the Saar basin with its coal fields, iron works and war plants.

Berlin propagandists called the attacks the opening phase of an Allied winter offensive, and said it was designated to outflank Metz and to crush the big Saar industrial basin — whose borders lie but nine miles east of advanced American positions at Berg.

ELECTION
Nov. 7, 1944 has come and gone. Once more the people of the United States have cast their choice for their leaders to guide them through the crucial years ahead.

Nov. 7, 1944 has come and gone. Once more the people of the United States have cast their choice for their leaders to guide them through the crucial years ahead. For the fourth time Franklin Delano Roosevelt has been returned to the White House as commander-in-chief, this time defeating Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

This a comparison of the 1940 campaign shows Tom Dewey made some gains over Wendell Willkie both in popular vote and electoral college, but not enough to overcome FDI.

A new vice-president of the United States takes office next Jan. 20. He is Harry S. Truman of Missouri. Thus it is Roosevelt and Truman for the next four years.

In the national house and senate, the people swept a large number of Democrats into office and in both houses of congress the Democrats have the edge.

A great many isolationists were knocked off including Sen. Gerald Nye and Rep. Ham Fish. Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, whom the Democrats tried desperately to beat, won by a small margin and was returned for another two years.

In the 32 races for the governorship, about 20 Republican governors were returned or newly elected, while 12 Democratic governors retained their posts or were just elected.

In Michigan, the incumbent Harry F. Kelly, and his entire ticket, was reelected for a second term, the first time since 1928 that Michigan has given a...

ITALY, GREECE
Fighting in both Italy and Greece was mainly in the field of patrol action and no appreciable gains on either side took place the past seven days.

RUSSIAN FRONT
Budapest, capital of Hungary, is about to fall to the armies of Soviet Russia. Budapest itself is said to be in a chaotic condition, with the Reds on its very outskirts and about to crash in.

PACIFIC
The U. S. 24th division is locked in a critical and final battle in Ormoc valley on Leyte in the central Philippines. The Japs are concentrated in the one area around Carigara bay and it appears that a fight to the death is in the offing.

The Nips are fighting a better defensive battle than in any of their previous engagements with a noticeable improvement in their handling of artillery. However, with American superiority in tanks and planes, it is not the outcome that is uncertain, but when the final crushing of Jap resistance will come.

In cooperation with this land fighting Allied naval and air forces are blasting the entire Philippine zone from Luzon to Mindanao. On the China mainland the situation is still critical and as we said last week, there appears no immediate solution to this problem. In Burma, however, we're advancing slowly, but with a surprising amount of strength.

British Eighth Army Troops Overcome Nazi Resistance Near Forli Airfield

ROME, Nov. 9 (AP)—British eighth army troops, overcoming bitter German resistance, fought across a wide canal forming the eastern boundary of Forli airfield and advanced to within 500 yards of the village of Bussecchio, a mile southeast of Forli, it was announced today.

A German news broadcast declared two British divisions attacked on a narrow front east and southeast of Forli after a heavy artillery barrage, but said there had been no breakthrough.

Heavy fighting was reported in progress for the extreme northern end of the airfield, with British infantry and tanks meeting Nazi infantry supported by 60-ton Tiger tanks.

One enemy strongpoint nearly a mile southwest of the field was overrun.

While the attack around the airfield gained momentum, other Allied troops advanced up a secondary road leading into Forli from the south. Especially heavy fighting took place between Grignano and San Martino before San Martino was captured and Allied infantry pushed on within two miles of Forli's northern outskirts.

State to End Grid Season Tomorrow

Injuries Will Hamper Squad in Impending Maryland Game

An injury-ridden Spartan football team will cap its last week of full practice tonight. With the Maryland game a day off the Spartans will wear the State livery for the last time Saturday.

Fred Anson, Mike Prashaw, and Frank Brogger, three kings of the Spartan juggernaut all season will be doubtful starters. In each case a freshman will step into the first string ranks. Dick Massoch will probably take over Prashaw's tackle slot. Ben Johnson will assume the backfield chores of Anson, and Art Arnt will start his second game at end for the Spartans in place of Brogger who has been declared ineligible.

Maryland Tactics Changed

Coach "Doc" Spears has changed his method of attack considerably after absorbing a first-look from the Spartans game. The game was played in a driving rain, and from the looks of the weather so far this week on the campus the Spartans may very likely encounter their first bad weather for a home contest all season.

No matter how much the wily veteran mentor changes his line-up, it will feel the loss of Jack Love, recently Love broke a leg in the State game, and the Terrapins have not been the same since.

The factors will arrive tomorrow at 10:40 a. m. They are expected to work out at Macklin field later in the day. Maryland's losing factor this year has been the lack of reserves. This has also been a weak spot in the current campaign of the Spartans.

Students Admitted Free

Students will be admitted to the game by presenting their student receipt at gate four on the east side of Macklin field. Admission will also be admitted by presenting their class registration cards.

Students who wish to attend the game with their parents are asked to purchase general admission tickets for them, since there will be no distinction between the two types of admission. The two center sections of the west stands will be reserved according to Warren's assistant business manager in the athletic department. All tickets may be purchased at the window in Jenison gymnasium.

Illinois-U. of M. Meet Saturday

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 9 (AP)—Emphasizing the need for speed in both offense and defense against Illinois' "cinder path" backfield here Saturday, Coach H. O. (Fritz) Crisler sent his Michigan football squad through its last hard drill of the week today on a rain-soaked practice field.

Crisler warned the Wolverines that the Illinois ball carriers are the speediest that Michigan will be called on to oppose all season.

"A single slip against an outfit like that and Illinois might score from any place on the field," Crisler declared. "We must be ready to move at top speed every second of the game, both offensively and defensively."

Young, the Big Ten sprint champion, has averaged 12.5 yards in a carry in 51 runs from scrimmage this season.

Freshman Will Sing at American Legion Dance in Armory

An Armistice dance sponsored by the capital city post 416 of the American Legion is being held Saturday at 9-p.m. at the Armory. Russell Glewby, post commander and general chairman, has announced. The dance is to climax a day of military celebration commemorating the close of World War I.

Boyd Rabeurn and his Rhythm Masters, having completed a week's engagement at the Downtown theater in Detroit, will be featured in the dance. Guest soloist will be Margie Wilkin, Haslett freshman, who sang with Jimmy Leroy early last month.

Tickets are on sale at Karel's flower shop, Budd's Music shop and Grinnell's Music store. The dance is open to the public.

Russian Troops Renew Threat To Smash Sturdy Budapest

Reds Aim at Vital Railroad in East Slovakia

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Russian troops, in a new threat to besieged Budapest from the northeast, broke the German's middle Tisza river line on a 40-mile front today and advanced 17 miles beyond to within a mile of the vital Budapest-East Slovakian railway, Moscow announced tonight.

The Soviet bulletin also said that Marshal Rodin Y. Malinovsky's second Ukraine army had killed more than 100,000 Germans and Hungarians and had captured 42,160 for a total of 142,160 since Oct. 6 when the invasion of Hungary began.

Berlin Broadcasts
Berlin implied that the Russians already had cut the Budapest east Slovakian railway, a development which might force the Germans to begin a slow withdrawal into central Czechoslovakia and hasten the expected fall of Budapest.

In a wide encircling move on Budapest other Soviet troops were reported by Berlin to have crossed the Danube river at Dunafoldvar, 43 miles south of the bomb-battered capital whose reinforced defenders still are holding the Russians on the southern rim of the city.

French Report

French radio reports said Russian units attacking in Budapest's outskirts had crossed the Danube and penetrated into the Puda district, but neither Moscow nor Berlin told of any Soviet entry into the prize city on the road to Austria and Germany.

In Yugoslavia another Red army once more was on the move.

Berlin's communique said, without Soviet confirmation, that units of Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's third Ukraine army had crossed the Danube at Apatin, 15 miles south of the Hun-

Heavy Bombers Support Patton's Stiff Offensive

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—More than 1,300 American heavy bombers poured 4,000 tons of explosives and thousands of fragmentation bombs onto German troops near Metz today in close support of Lt. George S. Patton's third army offensive.

More than 2,000 planes, including escorts, patrols and others, joined in the operation, an eighth air force communique announced, and 14 bombers and 19 fighters failed to return.

While Patton's tank riding veterans crouched on the icy west banks of the Moselle, wave after wave of Liberators and Flying Fortresses of Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's eighth airforce roamed the skies ahead, their bombs paving the way for the ground troops.

The bomber fleet was covered by 5,000 long range Mustangs. Opposition from the air was lacking again.

The Luftwaffe has not attacked the eighth airforce since the Germans lost 208 planes last week.
