Fine Arts Lecture Series To Present Drama Critics

John Mason Brown, USNR To Speak In Auditorium

Former drama critic of New York World-Telegram, Lt. John Mason Brown, USNR, will speak Friday night at College auditorium, S. E. Crowe, director of the lecture-concert series, has announced.

As first speaker appearing on the series this term, Lieutenant Brown will begin his talk at 8:15 p.m. His topic will be "What We Should Have Learned From the War."

Brown participated in the Normandy and Sicilian invasions, serving both times on the staff of Vice-Admiral Alan G. Kirk. From experiences in these campaigns Brown took material for his books, "Many A Watchful Night" and "To All Hands."

Recently obtaining the position of an associate editor on the Saturday Review of Literature, Brown will do a weekly column orienting from theater and branching out into films and books.

AWS Announces Women's Hours

Group Explains Rules; Tells of New Plans

AWS announced last night the new hours for winter term. Friday night women will have 1 p.m. permission and Saturday night 12:30 a.m. Permissions for other nights remain the same. Sue Merrill, Birmingham senior and president of AWS, added that any woman who returned a day late for registration and failed to notify her housemother has been assessed from any penalty.

Late minutes have also been assessed for the women who were late until 1 a.m. last Friday night due to the misunderstanding in the hour for returning.

Housemother are to be reminded that late minutes do not carry over from one term to another and that penalties do carry over.

Late permission may be used on Sunday night in Lansing or East Lansing but girls returning out-of-town are to use them. See AWS, Page 2

Believe It Or Not

Because of the acute housing shortage, returning veterans have been assigned to live in Jenison houses. There is only one house. All the returning veterans aren't men. Forgetting this, someone instructed an ex-Spar that she was to take up residence in the field-house on her arrival to the campus. She also received an invitation to join the local YMCA.

Credit For Living

Overheard conversation of a veteran: "I like this credit-evaluation system for military experience. Now take this effective living course, for example. If I managed to live through three and a half years of ETO, don't you think I've got some credit coming? That, my friend, is really effective living."

Women's Groups Announce Plans Of Semi-Formal

Plans for the Cinderella Spin, traditional all-college coed bid dance, slated to take place Friday, January 18, in the Union ballroom, were revealed yesterday by co-chairmen Margo Green, East Lansing sophomore, and Wilma Frederick, Detroit senior.

Rosemary Howland's band has been signed to provide music from 9 to midnight for the semi-formal affair. A story-book backdrop will decorate the bandstand.

Tickets will go on sale at the end of this week at the Union desks, dorms and sorority houses, and only a limited number will be available. The dance is sponsored by Spartan Women's League, Mortar Board, Tower Guard and Town Girls.

Programs to Feature MSC Student Talent Over Station WKAR

Spartan Varieties, a program featuring student talent, will begin its 196 season Saturday, Jan. 19 from 4 to 4:30 p.m. over WKAR, according to Larry Frymire, master of ceremonies and program director for the college station.

Any student with talent should contact Frymire at Ext. 600. Singers, musical groups, and solo instrumentalists are needed for the show.

Union board and WKAR will jointly sponsor the program which will be broadcast throughout the term from the Union Ballroom in connection with the Saturday afternoon tea dances. These dances will be from 3 to 5 p.m. featuring Dick Snook and his orchestra.

Last season, Spartan Varieties used over 150 students. A featured part of each broadcast is the playing by Snook of fraternity and sorority songs. All organizations which have not submitted their songs, both words and music, should do so as soon as possible.

Hannah Tells Of Present MSC Needs

Realizing the manifold problems confronting the college, at this time, Pres. John A. Hannah, speaking at the all-college convocation yesterday, voiced the opinion that "if there is a community of understanding and effort between all of us — students and faculty — and if we all co-operate and do the best we can, it will be a pretty good best."

President Hannah discussed in turn the problems of housing, classroom and laboratory facilities, the teaching staff, and financial problems incurred by the extensive building program launched recently.

Introduces Heads

Before proceeding into the principal portion of his address, the president introduced the counselors for women and men, Mrs. Isabelle Gonon and Prof. Tom King, also S. E. Crowe, dean of students, Col. E. B. Egger, professor of military science and tactics, and Dr. Charles F. Holland, director of the health service, each of whom made a few remarks.

"The only way classrooms and laboratories can be provided is through appropriation by the state legislature," President Hannah stated. "The state legislature has made no appropriations for buildings on this campus since 1931."

Vets Presented Gifts Donated By Students During Legion Drive

Sixty-five gifts, averaging from $3 to $5 each, were received by the Red Cedar American Legion Post No. 402 during the "Gift for the Yanks Drive" that ended Dec. 14, according to Bob Blett, chairman of the drive.

These Christmas gifts were distributed among the patients of the Percy Jones hospital and the Veteran's Administration hospital in Dearborn by members of the post.

The post held a Veteran's "get-together" Friday night in the Union ballroom. Guest speakers were: Pres. John A. Hannah; Prof. Tom King, dean of men; Stanley Crowe, dean of students, and Edwin Oesterreicher, commander of the post.

In expressing the housing situation to the men, Hannah stated, "You do the best you can and we'll do the best we can."

Union Board to Accept Petitions For Vacancies In Committees

Union board will hold its second all-college dance of the term immediately following the John Mason Brown lecture Friday, it was announced at the board's first meeting last night.

Patrons and orchestra arrangements will be announced later in the week, according to Dick Mosher, East Lansing junior, and Bob Butler, Trenton junior.

Board Vacancies

The board also announced that there are now a few vacancies on sub-committees which must be filled this term. Petitions from students interested in being appointed should be left in the Union office, according to Jack Breslin, president.

Petitions should include the applicant's name, address, curriculum, activities, class rank and all-college average, plus reasons why he is interested in serving on the board. Both men and women except freshmen are eligible. The board is the official planning body for all union-sponsored ac-

PanHel Lists 400 Women Registered for Rushing

All Sororities To Entertain Coed Rushees; Preference Dinner To Climax Activities

In comparison to 1,000 women who went through formal rushing fall, 1944, approximately 400 women have registered at the PanHellenic office for deferred rushing.

According to Mary Slack, PanHellenic president, the primary reason for the reduction in the number of women is the failure of many to make an all-college one point.

This is the first term that the deferred rushing system has been used at State and it is working very smoothly, Miss Slack stated. The University of Michigan used this system for the past several years and has found it very satisfactory, she added.

The first part of formal rushing ended last night with the last group of sororities completing their open-house teas.

The second part, beginning tomorrow evening and continuing for a week, consists of invitational parties. Rushees are to stop at Mrs. Gonon's office every day during this period to pick up their invitations to the parties for that evening.

Because of damage from fire the AOPs are unable to use their house, and they will have their parties, except for Sundays, at the Peoples church. Sunday it will be held in the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Preference dinners will be held on Jan. 20. Between the preference dinner and pledging a silence period is enforced. During this time there can be no communication between the sororities and the rushees.

Following the period of formal rushing no rushing will take place for three weeks. After this inactive period informal rushing will begin. Informal rushing, which is completely invitational, is handled by the individual sorority.

John Pingle, former State half-back star who is himself a veteran of five years' army service, has become assistant to veteran counselor Tom King.

Pingle began work Dec. 10 at the Servicemen's Institute now located in Demonstration hall. His reserve commission activated in January of 1941. Pingle held the rank of major and was provost marshal for the 95th infantry division during 20 months' overseas duty.

Fifty quonset houses have been purchased by the college to be set up within the next few weeks on the military drill field adjacent to Harrison road.

For single men, each house will be 48 feet by 20 feet, completely insulated, with toilet and wash-room facilities in each building. A study room with desk for each man and a place for him to hang his clothes will be provided.

Expected to be ready for spring term, the houses will be designed to accommodate 14 men to a building. The college hopes to house 700 men in this manner.

Party-Party

First in a series of Saturday afternoon broadcasts will begin Jan. 19, from the regular Party-Party held from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Union ballroom, according to Larry Frymire, WKAR program director, who is working with Union board. Broadcasts, featuring all-student talent, will be from 3:30 to 4 p.m.

Frymire requested that all Greek organizations, who have not already done so, turn in music today and tomorrow to the Union office so that it may be arranged for orchestra and chorus. Each broadcast will be dedicated to the organization whose music is played that day.

Because of crowded kitchen facilities, student-faculty coffee hours which were inaugurated last term will not start immediately, according to Jane Walcott, Fenton junior who is in charge of faculty-student relations.

Student Council Needs Awakening

At convocation yesterday President Hannah called for a re-activated, re-invigorated student government on our campus. "This term marks the beginning of our post-war period," he stated. "A re-awakening of student government is needed at this time."

Student government should not consist of pressure-grouping individuals, Mr. Hannah cautioned, but a truly representative and progressive-minded assembly could contribute materially to the solving of many college problems.

Last November 3 the State News sounded a call for leadership in student affairs. Since that time neither student council nor any other group has come forth with a program for constructive action.

It should be obvious by this time that our student body of 7,000 will not tolerate leaderless, undirected, student affairs. The war is over, yet student council persists in its policy of drifting along, blissfully unaware of new conditions, trying situations, and pressing problems that are arising to confront us daily. Unless our present setup of student government can prove itself equal to the tasks at hand, what will prevent a sporadic outbreak of dissatisfactions and grumblings that will augur little but ill-will?

Let us take our student government machinery off the shelf and set it into motion. In President Hannah's words: "The first objective of education is training for citizenship." A vigorous student government, proceeding in a democratic medium, can work to this end.

only as a margin of safety. Every woman is expected to be in the dorm at midnight unless she has special permission from the counselor of women's office.

Cooperative houses have been designated as off-campus houses and can receive telephone calls until 11 p.m.

Working permits must be applied for each term as they do not extend from one term to another. For taking care of children women are allowed to work until 12 midnight Sunday through Thursday and 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights.

Hotel Overnights
Women may stay with their mothers overnight in a Lansing hotel if the mother makes arrangements with the housemother. This will constitute her overnight permission in Lansing or East Lansing.

North hall will have a representative to AWS who will be elected next week. Previously they have been under the representatives from Williams but with the increase in women in North Hall, action was taken for the women to have their own representative to AWS.

This weekend Miss Averill, Birmingham senior; Shirley Hamelink, Lansing senior, and Lou Coolman, Detroit sophomore, officers of AWS, will meet with the women's governing boards from Wayne and the University of Michigan in Detroit to discuss problems and activities on their respective campuses.

That Does It

By MARION HECKEL

VISIONS of too much turkey, too much stuffing, and just too much 'holidaying' are beginning to fade, and the campus is smack in the middle of that rosy world called postwar.

Pres. John A. Hannah had a few words to say to the student body yesterday; quite a few, and most of them meant something. He discussed and answered some of the more pertinent questions at State in a cryptic and down-to-earth fashion that should have bunted us down the crammed road to education.

They always tell us that unless an army is griping, it's unhappy, and by that prescription, Michigan State must be one of the happiest places on earth. But something has gone wrong with the doctor's orders, because a great many persons hereabouts do not seem to be appreciating life to its fullest.

Coed complainers have been rated high among the deriders of the housing conditions. After all, three in a room is a sad situation considering the amount of clothes and assorted paraphernalia women carry to college with them. Some have been so perturbed that they have dropped out of school. But, don't forget the Quonset huts those ex-fighters will soon be bunking in, or the cafeteria and restaurant queuing they're doing.

As for the men themselves. We, as the women who have been at Michigan State since you left, are downright sorry about taking all the space. But, for goodness sake, the next guy that makes some crack about kicking women out to make more room might remember that this was built to be a coeducational college, and coeds have a right to be here and be in the clubby atmosphere of cramped quarters too.

You're the ones that made derogatory remarks about women's armed services and said things about keeping the home fires burning. We kept them burning, although, in the case of Sparta, the fires were built with old textbooks and bluebooks studded with red pencil marks.

The administration can't go scot-free in this business of "it's a mess and how to get out of it," either. If, as Dean S. E. Crowe said yesterday, the possibilities for placing students in East Lansing have steadily decreased since 1943, and if some indication of the

G. I.'s Gripe Answered

By DIANA STUART

An American soldier who recently returned to the United States after spending a lot of time in Rome, Paris, and Berlin, came to the conclusion that the fashionable young women of those European capitals could hold a candle in competition with the freshness and attractiveness of clothes worn by American women. However, his gripe upon coming home was that he would have liked to have seen his girl friend in a dress that would bring the mystery and enchantment of the continental night into the daytime, as well as for that dressed-up date in the evening.

Berkeley Juniors of New York, in their "Exclusively Yours" dress of the month, takes care of this gripe with a figure flattering black crepe created to dance from afternoon to evening with equal charming effectiveness. It has that new peek-a-boo keyhole neckline with a self piping bow. The skirt is slim and topped with a crisp, peplum trimmed with the same lace effect piping.

Its an enchanting cocktail and dinner-dance dress that guarantees a second look and is insurance for a second date.

This dress is sold exclusively in Lansing by Mills Dry Goods Co.

Hermie Says —

By TOM KIRKIN

Coaching a college basketball team is a pretty tough job and Ben Van Alstyne, now in his twentieth season at State will certainly attest to that. It's the old story of when you win you're a hero, but if things go bad, you're a bum.

This season Van has come up with a cracker-jack outfit and from their latest accomplishments of three straight wins it would look as if the Owl's job would be an easy one from now on. But sad to relate this is far from true.

Saturday evening there's a plenty tough ball game with Kentucky on tap and following that Notre Dame, Detroit, DePaul, Wisconsin, Great Lakes and Ohio State, among others, will meet Van's cagers.

Keeping a basketball team keyed up for so many big contests is practically impossible. Van knows, as do followers of the game, that a ball club just can't continue hitting game after game. There's got to be a let-down, but hope for is that the sag will occur against a lesser light on the card and not during one of the more important tilts.

Maybe the 1946 edition will be able to slip through just right, hitting their peak against the tough ones. The fans sure hope so because they know their team is a very fine one. Van is keeping his fingers crossed.

In any event Ben Van Alstyne will be down there sweating it out, whether the club is up or down. Van has a lot of good material on hand and it's a rather weighty problem trying to choose a replacement and when to put him in the game.

Against Michigan the first five played throughout the tilt right up until the last couple of minutes. True, the men were pretty worn out and State was ahead.

Sports staff will meet at 5 p.m. today in the State News office, Union annex. All men interested in writing sports should attend.

But still in all if several replacements had been used, the Wolverines might have dumped in a couple of baskets, gotten ahead and maybe won the ballgame. Then Van would be on the "out" list.

So there you are: tutoring a college quintet is a pretty tough racket were inclined to believe.

Coaches Suggest Change In Rules

ST. LOUIS, Jan 8 (AP)—Five minor football rule changes were selected today by the advisory committee on rules of the American Football Coaches' Association from a record list of more than 100 suggestions.

Lou Little, Columbia university head coach, said the recommendations were:

1. More liberal use of the hands or forearms on offense.
2. Penalize a team for an illegal forward pass at the spot from which pass was thrown.
3. Penalize a team 15 yards for a foul on a kicked ball, instead of loss of the ball.
4. One additional charged time-out period each half.
5. Permit a backfield player to line up immediately behind the center instead of one yard back.

Will Face State

Kentucky Freshman Wallace "Wah-Wah" Jones will be in the Wildcats' starting lineup when they meet State this Saturday. In four years of high school basketball, Jones set the national prep scoring record at 2,398 points. He's 6-foot 4-inches and an excellent back-board man.

'S' Varsity Boxing To Be Resumed

Varsity boxing, a wartime casualty, will get back into the intercollegiate picture this term at Michigan State with the announcement by the athletic department of three scheduled meets.

Big gun in getting the ring sport back on its feet is Chuck Calkins, who was a major letter man on the last Spartan squad and national intercollegiate runner-up in the 165-pound class in 1943.

So far Calkins has been able to round up four former State leather slingers and also contacted some promising newcomers. All candidates are welcome and should get in touch with either Calkins or Brick Burhans, who will handle the squad until varsity mentor Al Kawal returns from service with the navy.

Among the veterans is Chuck Clark, heavyweight; Bud Salisbury, 145 pounds; Jim Shimer, 145 pounds, and Harry Hughes, 165 pounds. Also sure to be around are Don Hendricks, 175-pound Spartan footballer, and Lee Dramis, freshman who fought several bouts while serving in the marine corps.

Meets already scheduled are two with Syracuse and one with Wisconsin. There will probably be others arranged at a later date.

Wolverine Editor Chooses Assistant

Announcement of the recent appointment of Margaret Johnson, Lansing junior, as assistant editor for the '46 Wolverine was made by Dorothy Englehardt, Lansing senior, editor of the Wolverine.

Miss Johnson is in the business and public service school and is majoring in journalism. She has pledged Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary, and is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority. She had worked two years on the Wolverine staff.

Kentucky Poses Test For State

High-Flying Vanmen Play Wildcats

One of the season's toughest tests for the high-flying Spartan basketball team will come this Saturday evening when the University of Kentucky's Wildcats visit Jenison fieldhouse to try and even things up for the beating they took from State last winter.

That 66-50 upset the Vanmen hung on the Blue Grass Hoopmen was rated as one of the year's biggest sports upsets. Previously State had absorbed a 67-35 lacing in Lexington and it was a foregone conclusion that the 'Cats, who had lost only one game, would win at East Lansing in a walk.

However, it was the Spartans who took charge of the affair and ended up with a comfortable 16 point winning margin. Saturday there is little doubt that Sam Fortino, who popped in 19 points during the upset, will be watched very closely by Kentucky.

By the same token the Wildcats ace, Jack Parkinson, will get plenty of attention from the Vanmen. A splendid long shot artist, Parkinson scored 40 points in his two appearances against MSC. Reports from the southland say that he's just as potent this year at getting baskets as he was last winter.

Practice sessions for the Spartans this week will be light, with the Vanmen relaxing after their very busy past week of three contests in six days.

Former 'S' Grid Star Aiding Service Men

Edmund Pogor, formerly State football star and assistant line coach, recently returned to State after three and one-half years in the navy. With the rank of lieutenant he served as communications officers on General Douglas MacArthur's staff in Tokyo.

For the present, he is working under Tom King in the Office of Veterans Affairs and his duties include counselling and dealing with the housing of student veterans.

Collins Finds Mat Prospects In Servicemen

With four ex-servicemen being added to the Spartan varsity wrestling team the squad is really shaping up. Coach Fendley Collins is happily finding out that he may be able to develop some more national champions as was his pre-war habit.

Heading the quartet is Iggie Knorad from Cleveland, a member of the 1943 varsity. He was recently discharged from the army after serving with the 104th "Timberwolf" Infantry Division. Collins is expecting to have him in the 145 pound bout against Wheaton next Saturday.

Brother Act

The Spartan mentor always seems to turn up with a couple of prospects from Oklahoma and 1946 is no exception. John Dowell at 165 pounds and Charles Monery, 136 pounder, both from Tulsa, are making their bids for jobs. Dowell is a probable for the Wheaton affair.

A pair of brothers, Howard and Gales Mikles, of Skiatook, Oklahoma, are very much in evidence. Gale is the returning NAAP 145 pound champion, but will wrestle in the 155 class this season, while Howard is trying for the heavyweight slot.

Jimmie Pihakis of Pennsylvania enrolled Monday and worked out with the team yesterday afternoon. He has already shown Collins that he will be a strong bidder for the 128 pound position on the squad.

Cole To Meet Frazier

Back again in the 136 bracket is letterman Gordon Cole, one of State's most promising grapplers, who will get a crack at Wheaton's star, Joe Frazier, who twice defeated Cole last season. Collins predicts that this bout will probably be the closest of the meet.

Lost to the squad is Burl Boring of Ponia City, Oklahoma, a two-time varsity letterman in 1942 and '43, who had been heavily counted on by Collins to handle the 165 pound class. Doctor's orders forbid Burl to compete for an indefinite period.

He recently returned to the campus after serving as an air corps navigator in the Pacific fighting. The Spartan matman flew 51 missions with the famous "Jolly Roger" heavy bombardment group over targets in the Philippines, Okinawa and then Jap-held China.

Auto regulations will be enforced starting Monday. All stickers must be on windshields and cars parked in their respective places starting this date, according to acting chief of East Lansing police William Mann.

G. Is Protest At Slowness Of Discharges

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Truman said today demobilization is proceeding as rapidly as a critical, inescapable need for troops overseas will permit.

GIs at spots around the world have been clamoring to come home now. Congressmen are talking of investigating demobilization, particularly a slowdown ordered last week by the army.

Mr. Truman attributed this slowdown to "the critical need for troops overseas." He said in a statement that it was an "inescapable need" because America must help keep peace and destroy the "war-making" potential of the hostile nations that were bent on keeping the world in a state of warfare.

"The future of our country," the President said, "now is as much at stake as it was in the days of the war."

Both the necessity of building a firm foundation for world peace and the enormous size of the demobilization job make it impossible to discharge every member of the armed forces promptly, he asserted.

HANNAH

1929, a period of 16 years, and the college is three times as big now as it was then," he declared.

New Buildings

Mr. Hannah expressed the hope that at its special session January 28, the legislature would make some provisions for the buildings so sorely needed on the campus. These include a classroom building, a science building, an agricultural engineering building, home management practice houses, a major addition to the power plant, an electrical engineering building, an addition to the library, a forest products laboratory building, an addition to the Home Economics building, an addition to the Agricultural building an animal disease building to be added to the Anatomy building.

Other Buildings

A chemical engineering building, an addition to the chemistry building, a meats laboratory and quick-freeze building, a civil engineering building, a building to house the experiment station, and a short course dormitory are also needed.

In regard to student affairs, the president evinced the wish that "we could use a re-awakening in student government. Effective student government can be a great force for good in many ways," he declared. Among its activities might be the perpetuation of campus traditions. He also recommended the sponsoring of a low-cost open party every week-end and the re-establishment of the water carnival.

Liquor Ban

Speaking of the liquor ban as instituted by state law and college regulations, Mr. Hannah informed his listeners that "any student who brings liquor onto the campus, or drinks it on the campus or in any building owned or operated by the college anywhere, is immediately expelled from college."

In conclusion, the president said: "From among you may come the leaders of this state and of the nation in the years ahead. Any hope for a world of enduring peace rests on the shoulders of the young men and women who fought in this war. Yours is a great opportunity."
